

The Queen 251

Chapter 251: Go to Another Studio to Practice from Now on

Dai Xiaofu shook her head. She did not want to waste any more time on this matter. “Let’s continue the class. Your competition is about to begin. Let’s hurry.”

Su Cha did not care. She was just asking casually. She could guess that it was not easy to deal with what happened yesterday.

After all, those students did not seem to have an ordinary background.

Dai Xiaofu was in a bad mood today.

Su Cha could tell that she was looking at her with a hesitant expression. It did not seem like it had something to do with yesterday’s events.

While practicing a new song recommended by Dai Xiaofu, Su Cha took off her earphones halfway. “Do you have something to tell me today?”

“Oh? No.”

Dai Xiaofu quickly denied it, but because she denied it too quickly, she then looked embarrassed, as if she had been caught red-handed. “I just keep thinking about something when I see you.”

Her eyes flickered as she realized that she could easily expose herself. She stood up and walked out. “I’ll go out to take a look at the students in class. You can practice for now.”

Su Cha watched her leave silently.

The change in Dai Xiaofu's demeanor was very subtle. In the past, Su Cha might not have been able to tell, but now, she was very sensitive and could detect anything wrong with her. Right now, Su Cha felt that Dai Xiaofu was hiding something from her.

She seemed to want to say it but also did not seem to want to.

Dai Xiaofu, who was walking out, met the teacher who came to see her. "Teacher Dai, there is a call from the hospital. Zuo Nanfan, the child, found out about the person who saved him. He said that he wanted to meet that big sister. It was the student who just arrived, right? I just wanted to ask you, doesn't Zuo Nanfan's sister resemble that student a little...?"

Dai Xiaofu's expression changed. "Teacher Wu, you must have seen wrongly. You should tell Nanfan that that big sister came here by chance and will not come here again. I will thank her on his behalf."

Teacher Wu hesitated, but after some thought, she nodded and said, "I'll go back to him."

After she left, Dai Xiaofu touched her forehead and smiled bitterly. As if she was talking to herself, she said, "I don't know if I'm right or wrong, but I at least have raised you for a while... Sigh."

After Su Cha had been practicing alone for a while, Dai Xiaofu walked back in. Her expression had become much more natural as she said to Su Cha with a smile, "Su Cha, my friend has a studio. You can practice in that studio from now on. Their recording studios and equipment are specialized. I will also go over there to teach you. I have already told my friend to give the address. I will send it to you later. After you go home at noon today, take a breather and go over there tomorrow."

Su Cha took off her earphones and asked curiously, "Is today's class over? I want to practice a little more."

"You can practice for now, then come out for lunch with me. I have something to do in the afternoon. Anyway, it's the same whether you practice here or go home. I do have something to ask you though. We've been meeting for two days and we haven't talked much."

With Dai Xiaofu's words, Su Cha could not refuse anymore.

She could tell that Dai Xiaofu was avoiding something.

But since she had said that much and Su Cha was here to learn, she would not express her opinions.

“Okay.”

Chapter 252: Meeting a Pervert

At noon, Dai Xiaofu did not say anything.

She only told Su Cha what she'd been doing in the Imperial Capital these many years.

After she divorced Su Mingzhe, she went to the Imperial Capital to work hard. She used to study singing and had some basic skills. First, she found a place where she could teach others. Later, when her voice was no longer good enough, she learned music.

She met her current husband, a local in the Imperial Capital, and had a son. He was already 11 years old.

She had a child with Su Mingzhe before, but she had a miscarriage and did not manage to keep it—the main reason for her divorce with Su Mingzhe.

The current Dai Xiaofu could be described as happy and satisfied with her life. This tutorial class was run under a partnership, with years of financial aid and the Fu family's help. Dai Xiaofu had even said that if Su Cha had any difficulties, she could look for her.

Others might not know it, but Su Cha was still the daughter of Dai Xiaofu.

“If you have time, you can come to my house as a guest. My husband and his family are very nice.”

Su Cha smiled. “Does he know that you have a daughter?”

Unexpectedly, Dai Xiaofu nodded. “I said I had a daughter, but I never said that you were adopted by Su Mingzhe and me. At that time, I thought of myself as your mother. Su Mingzhe also told me not to tell anyone about this. I was divorced, so what’s so strange about having a daughter? I just didn’t expect you to find out the truth so quickly.”

Dai Xiaofu’s act had saved Su Cha some trouble. At least no one else knew that she was not her biological daughter.

After Su Cha and Dai Xiaofu finished talking, she did not go to her class in the afternoon.

She wanted to go home, but the production crew suddenly sent a message saying that they wanted to take group photos of the contestants, which they would post on the official website. They asked Su Cha to come.

It was three o’clock in the afternoon. They would be able to make it there by taking the subway.

She met Le Anqi halfway and they went to join the production team together.

“Didn’t you say that you would be busy with many things after the competition? Why are you taking photos now?”

Le Anqi could not stop complaining when she saw Su Cha. “I was too anxious so I went out. Last night, I thought about that drama until midnight and did not sleep well. Look, I didn’t even put on any makeup. Is my skin very sallow?”

Su Cha looked at her pretty face.

Alright, as long as she is happy.

“Hey, let me tell you some gossip. All the contestants have to come for today’s shoot. I’ve basically found out who the contestants are from the hot areas...”

Le Anqi had done her homework before she came. Just as she was about to take out her notebook to discuss with Su Cha, her smile froze.

When they passed a subway station, a large group of people came in.

The train was very crowded. Su Cha looked out of the train window and listened to Le Anqi's casual speech. Suddenly, she felt that the other had stopped talking. She turned around and saw a scene that could not be ignored.

Le Anqi's expression was stiff. She looked at Su Cha with tears in her eyes.

Behind her was a plump man.

There was originally a crowd in the subway. Su Cha was leaning on a seat, so there was no space for her to squeeze in. Le Anqi was originally standing next to her, and a strange man was squeezing closely behind her. His fingers seemed to be moving, and the people around him were all looking at their phones in another direction. No one noticed.

She met a pervert, and Le Anqi dared not make a sound.

The man was tall and strong, and his tall and fat body was very intimidating. When he saw Su Cha turning her gaze over, he smiled at her, his smile extremely wretched.

He even made a fierce gesture.

Su Cha also revealed a smile. The difference was that her smile was much brighter and purer, like that of an obedient girl.

Amid the loud noises of the train, a man's scream rose within the quiet car.

Chapter 253: Solve

During this peaceful moment, everyone was suddenly shocked.

Even the people in the nearby carriages looked over.

Everyone was stunned.

The beautiful and delicate girl had extended a hand expressionlessly and grabbed the fat man's wrist tightly, almost twisting it into a 180-degree spin. While her eyes showed no emotion, she exerted force on her hand and there was a crack. Almost everyone had sensed that terrifying sound that made their hair stand on end.

“Ahhh!!!”

The fat man screamed miserably. Le Anqi was scared out of her wits and rushed over.

“Let go! Let go!”

As the man screamed, sweat broke out on his forehead due to the intense pain. His face turned red.

Su Cha's eyes remained calm the entire time. Because she was too calm, it was also too scary.

“Su... Su Cha...”

Le Anqi curled up next to her. Just now, when she'd felt something strange, she was scared.

This was the first time she had encountered something like this, and the other party's height was especially too oppressive. She'd panicked immediately.

She did not expect Su Cha to teach him a lesson so decisively.

“The train has arrived...”

When the train reached a stop, some panicked people started to get out of the car. The fat man's hand was hurting so much that he almost lost consciousness. He endured the pain and wanted to follow the crowd.

Su Cha squinted her eyes and grabbed the man's wrist tightly. The moment she saw a gap, she flung her hand and raised her leg to give him a heavy kick. In an instant, the tall man was kicked out, and with a “bang,” he crashed into a pillar that was right in front of her.

The train doors closed when the stop was over. By the time the man could react, the train had already left.

The surrounding passengers looked at Su Cha in shock and admiration. No one expected that this refined young girl would have such strength.

Some people did not know why they suddenly started fighting, but they could roughly guess the reason.

A few others quietly put away their phones.

Now that videos and many apps were popular, people would often take pictures of others with their phones.

Su Cha was pretty. A few boys in the subway had already raised their phones to take photos of her. They did not expect her to show them such a scene.

As one man looked at the girl's calm face from beginning to end, his heart raced.

Le Anqi could not help but say in admiration, "Su Cha, you are amazing!"

She was so anxious that she was about to cry. While she had been trying to think of a solution, Su Cha had already made a decisive move. Le Anqi did not think about whether or not Su Cha did the right thing. If not for the fact that she could not make it in time, she would have gone out to deliver two kicks herself.

"Are you alright?"

Su Cha glanced at Le Anqi and ignored everyone else's expressions.

Le Anqi shook her head. "I'm fine."

In just a few seconds, Su Cha had made a move. She did not feel that anything she did was wrong and was in a good mood.

However, Le Anqi was now afraid of the subway. When she saw men approaching her, she subconsciously squeezed towards Su Cha.

Le Anqi heaved a sigh of relief when she got off the train.

She felt that it would be better to take a taxi wherever she went in the future. Or if that's not possible, she should not take the subway when there were too many people...

Chapter 254: Is It That Disgusting?

The train incident was considered a minor one. Other than Le Anqi's fear, nothing unexpected happened.

When the train staff found out about it, the two of them had already arrived where the production team was.

Le Anqi did not intend to tell anyone about this. When she joined the production crew, she realized that there were already many people present.

Most of the popular contestants from the other districts had gathered.

Among the crowd, Su Cha took a glance at the contestants and found where Jin Mou and the rest were.

Jin Mou remained alone and did not seem to have many friends. Mona and the others were not far from her.

Most of these contestants were fashionable and stylish, but when Su Cha entered, she attracted a lot of attention.

The competition district of Yonggu City might not be a popular one, but as long as Su Cha appeared, the crowd's attention would inevitably be drawn to her.

Many girls saw Su Cha's face and knew that she was a threat.

After all, the audience was very honest these days. The first thing they did was to look at the contestants' faces.

Not to mention, some contestants had also gone out of their way to learn about the strong competitors in other divisions. They knew that Su Cha's face was not only good-looking, but her singing ability was also very strong. Naturally, she could not be underestimated.

Moreover, Su Cha had entered the waiting area and was slated to become the runner-up. It was obvious how big a threat she was.

"Sister Su Cha, Sister Anqi, you're here."

Dong Yishan was wearing a red sports dress, showing off her beautiful figure. She skipped over and greeted Su Cha and the others in a lively and cute manner.

For a moment, it was as if no one could remember that she had targeted Su Cha in Yonggu City's competition area. She even led Su Cha by the nose.

Le Anqi and Dong Yishan's fans had even fought online.

Su Cha was surprised. Some people could really be so shameless, huh?

If they changed places, could she also pretend that nothing had happened?

Le Anqi was also disgusted. She would rather deal with a straightforward hatred than to deal with Dong Yishan, who pretended to be innocent.

However, with so many people around, Dong Yishan came forward to greet them. If they ignored her...

Le Anqi hesitated, but Su Cha did not give her face.

It was as if she did not see Dong Yishan. With a smile on her lips, she looked straight at Jin Mou and nodded at her.

Dong Yishan's smile froze.

There were already many people who were paying attention to Su Cha. Su Cha's current behavior was undoubtedly a slap to Dong Yishan's face in front of everyone. All of a sudden, the contestants from other divisions started to whisper among themselves.

Dong Yishan did not know what they were discussing, but she could tell that some contestants were mocking her.

They did not think that Su Cha was arrogant because she just looked that way.

And given Su Cha's strength, these people could only think that Dong Yishan had been seeking humiliation.

Dong Yishan thought Su Cha was going to greet her, but instead, Su Cha did not give her any face.

Jin Mou, who was being watched by her, was alone when she arrived. She did not care about anyone. When she saw Su Cha smiling at her, she was stunned for a moment. Then, she smiled back.

No one needed to explain to her why Su Cha had suddenly done that.

Dong Yishan's expression turned even uglier. She had not paid any attention to how many people had greeted Jin Mou just now.

How could she treat Su Cha differently now?

Chapter 255: A Servant Girl

Most of the contestants were not familiar with each other, but there were already undercurrents.

The Yonggu City's competition district was probably the one that had the worst relationship between contestants. An example was Su Cha and Jin Mou. The two of them did not seem to like to talk to others.

The other contestants would at least pretend.

However, the production crew could not be bothered about it at the moment. The shoot needed time, so they'd asked some contestants who had finished dressing up to start filming the solo covers first. As for the rest, they asked the makeup artist to touch up their makeup.

The difference was obvious now.

Some contestants had already participated in many shows and had an advantage. They had a unique sense of fashion and style when it came to taking pictures. The feeling they gave off when their pictures were being taken was not bad. Some of them were sweet and cute, and the others who were not good at it gave off a sense of homeliness.

There were also a few popular contestants in the Imperial Capital's competition district. They were strong, and their style when taking photos was very distinct. When they started taking pictures, almost all the girls ended up looking at them.

Le Anqi was a little envious. "Look at this scene. The hot spots are really different."

She was a small-time internet celebrity herself, so she was used to this kind of shooting. However, an internet celebrity like her needed only casual photos, and the style of filming was sweet. Naturally, the atmosphere was much lighter.

There was almost no advantage to be found in shooting the cover with the competition.

It was easy to be overshadowed by these other contestants.

Su Cha did not care much about the shoot. She distractedly let the makeup artist put on her makeup and thought about the filming process.

After the solo cover was done, the cover photos for each competition district were next. Everyone from the same competition area had to be photographed together.

This kind of shooting was similar to asking a contestant to pose. It was like a photo for a magazine. Su Cha had never learned to do it before, but hers was different from the other people's photos. The other contestants noticed that the photographer took only a single photo of Su Cha before giving her a pass.

In the photo, Su Cha's black hair was simply draped over her shoulders. The long hair on her right was lowered, and her body was slightly tilted. When she looked at the camera, there was an indescribable sense of dominance. It directly appeared in the camera and occupied the entire frame.

It was hard to ignore.

The photographic effect was good, so the photographer let Su Cha pass.

One might not be able to see anything from a single photo, but with this comparison, Su Cha immediately became outstanding.

When everyone from each competition district had been photographed, the photographer thought that the individual results were good.

When it was the group from Yonggu City's turn, there was a problem.

First, he asked the contestants to sit on the chairs and relax their postures as much as possible.

Su Cha simply crossed her legs and leaned lazily against the back of the chair. When she lifted her eyelids slightly, she then looked at the camera without saying a word. Her strong aura was unleashed.

The photographer looked at the camera several times before looking at them.

His expression was conflicted, and he hesitated.

And though the shoot went smoothly, the photographer's performance was a little strange. The other contestants seemed to have realized something.

Su Cha was a runner-up, so she sat in the middle with Mona. It was the C position, which was the most outstanding.

Even if Mona tried her best to act cool and fashionable, with Su Cha there for comparison...

It was not just her. Su Cha sat there and expressed her intention.

She made everyone around her look like a group of maids.
