

The Queen 286

Chapter 286: Meeting

Su Cha did not reject him. She nodded and said, "Okay, Uncle. I will come by more often."

Dai Xiaofu smiled as she sent her downstairs. "Your Uncle Qu is a nice person. He knows that you will be very happy in the future. Besides, our son is not very outstanding. Your uncle has a group of friends that often gather together to talk about their children. He doesn't say much each time. Now that you are here, he can at least brag about you to give his family some clout."

Su Cha: "..."

She did not expect that she would one day become the pride of others.

In the past, she could never dream of hearing any praise from Su Mingzhe.

But that could not all be blamed on him. At that time, Su Cha's grades were only average. Su Mingzhe probably found it hard to boast about her and could only feel indifferent.

After sending her to the gate of the neighborhood, Dai Xiaofu waved at her. "Goodbye, Su Cha. Come whenever you want."

Su Cha also waved. "Goodbye, Mom."

Dai Xiaofu nodded and smiled as Su Cha left.

However, she did not watch her go for long. After Su Cha disappeared, Dai Xiaofu went back. Naturally, she did not see Su Cha turn around and get into a low-key luxury car.

On the way back, Dai Xiaofu made a phone call with a solemn expression. "Yes, Teacher Wu, it's me. Is the parent register with you? Didn't Zuo Nanfan's parents not come last time? Has it always been his sister who came? I plan to talk to their parents personally to express our apologies for what happened in class. I won't make any trouble. Yes, you don't have to tell the child's sister. Just contact her parents directly."

After she hung up, Dai Xiaofu's frown deepened.

She hoped that she was not making the wrong move. There were some things that she had to confirm before she could think about what to do next.

She'd seen that Su Cha was living well, but she no longer had any father-daughter relationship with Su Mingzhe. Dai Xiaofu felt that she should not hide these things from her. Otherwise, she would be too pitiful.

She just hoped that the child would not be too agitated. After all, when she was young...

Dai Xiaofu frowned. She was already so old. The past should be behind her, shouldn't it?

When Su Cha returned to the Lookout Pavilion in the Bo family car, she bumped into the old lady.

The old lady was in a low-key car that looked relatively ordinary. It was hard to imagine that the Bo family would keep such a car.

Su Cha was surprised when she saw it. After a closer look, she realized that inside it was the old lady.

The old lady just got out of the car in front of her. Su Cha got out of the car and saw the old lady walking out elegantly after the driver opened the car door. She was about to greet the old lady when she heard a girl's tinkling laughter. "Grandma, I've sent you all the way here."

At the same time, a girl who was equally elegant and graceful came down from the other side of the car. She was wearing a lady-like dress, and her entire body was filled with the noble aura of someone from high society. She was so shiny that it could make people not dare to look at her directly.

The old lady instantly felt Su Cha's gaze.

As the girl got out of the car, she seemed to have sensed something and looked over.

She was stunned when she saw Su Cha.

Su Cha glanced at them and looked at the old lady. “Grandma.”

“Grandma?”

Before the old lady could answer, the girl looked at Su Cha in surprise.

Chapter 287: Returning to the Ye Family

Su Cha immediately knew that this was the old lady’s granddaughter.

But then, was the person who said such things to her before also a granddaughter?

Su Cha did not know how many granddaughters the old lady had.

When the girl saw Su Cha, she did not show much malice, but there was a faint wariness in her eyes.

She looked at Su Cha in confusion.

The girl’s clothes were not as formal as theirs. She looked casual.

However, even though she was wearing an ordinary outfit, she stood straight and had a different aura. Her face was exquisite and beautiful, and she had the kind of beauty that gets deeply engraved in one’s memory. It was impossible for anyone to take their eyes off of her.

Even in front of Miss Ye, she was not cowed at all. Instead, it was the other girl who felt suppressed.

When Ye Jingwen heard her say the word “Grandma,” she had a bad feeling.

She had seen her grandma’s granddaughters before. Where did this one come from?

The old lady nodded at Su Cha. At the same time, she turned around and said to Ye Jingwen, "I'll take it from here and go in first."

Ye Jingwen bit her lips. Seeing that Grandma had no intention of introducing the girl to her, she smiled and asked, "Grandma, aren't you going to introduce her to me?"

The old lady glanced at her, then at Su Cha who was standing by the side indifferently. She said straightforwardly, "Meet Muye's girlfriend. She's younger than you."

Ye Jingwen's expression changed instantly. "Girlfriend?"

Su Cha felt that she was better than Tong Ran, even if she was too surprised.

She was worthy of being the old lady's granddaughter.

Ye Jingwen looked at Su Cha in disbelief. Su Cha nodded slightly and said, "Hello. I'm Su Cha."

Ye Jingwen's eyes flickered and her lips twitched. She forced a smile and said, "Hello. I'm Ye Jingwen."

How could Bo Muye have a girlfriend?!

This was something that would drive the entire Imperial Capital crazy!

Ye Jingwen was completely shocked.

Despite having greeted each other, they were still just strangers. Of course, they could not say anything too warmly. The old lady brought Su Cha in. Ye Jingwen was already shocked that she was Bo Muye's girlfriend, but now that she saw Su Cha enter the Lookout Pavilion, her gaze became indescribable.

It was rare for her to lose her composure. The sudden encounter today had completely surpassed her imagination as a Miss Ye.

Bo Muyi had been in the Imperial Capital for more than twenty years. Who had ever heard of him having a good relationship with any woman?

Many people thought that Bo Muyi was just fooling around, but Ye Jingwen knew that her brother in name, the leader of the Bo family, was a cold and ruthless person. With his iron-blooded methods, even the families backing him could be suppressed by him. One could only imagine his capabilities.

So many years had passed and Bo Muyi had already turned 25. Many people wanted to marry into the Bo family and live in the Lookout Pavilion, but they could not even meet Bo Muyi.

He had a bad temper; if anything made him unhappy, he was capable of doing anything.

Who would believe that he had a girlfriend?!

With his personality, wouldn't women shudder when they saw him?

And her grandma...

Ye Jingwen's lips quivered. She got into the car and instructed the driver, "Go back to the Ye family, quick!"

She needed to digest this matter. She also wanted to know who this girl was!

Chapter 288: Ah Chen Said It Himself, Not Me

After entering the Lookout Pavilion, Su Cha did not ask about Miss Ye.

The old lady did not say anything to her either and just said, "I don't think you two have a common language. You didn't have to introduce yourself."

Su Cha smiled. "Do you think so, Grandma?"

The old lady gave her a meaningful look before returning to her courtyard.

Su Cha returned to Bo Mui's courtyard. He was not back yet.

Taking advantage of this time, Su Cha returned to her bedroom and started to cultivate.

Recently, she had had to change from meditation to actual combat practice. After all, she had to exercise her body before she could achieve any results.

Her inner-force mental cultivation technique was currently improving. She was aware of her progress, and she also gradually became clear about the division of strength in this world.

From the moment she entered the Lookout Pavilion, Su Cha could already sense where the secret guards were stationed.

These secret guards were secretly protecting Bo Mui and the entire Lookout Pavilion.

Su Cha had a rough idea of their strength. She could probably fight with them only one at a time.

Other people had been cultivating for decades, but she had relied on her past life's advantage to practice martial arts that did not belong to this era.

When she could fight against a hundred people at once, Su Cha would be around Bo Mui, so she basically did not have to worry about his safety.

However, she could also feel that these secret guards had particularly strong external forces, and the aura of their inner force was not very obvious.

In real martial arts, the support of the inner force was very important. Take the lightness skill as an example. With external force, a person could instantly reach the third floor. But with Su Cha's inner force, she could easily fly up.

This was beyond the imagination of science.

However, martial arts itself did not make sense.

Even the Martial Union and a legendary martial arts school like the Tang Sect existed. What science was there to talk about?

It was easy to detect someone's inner force. She needed to touch the person's meridians, but it was a pity that she could not touch anyone under Bo Muye's nose.

She had only come into contact with ordinary people. She could not judge the other party's strength with her naked eyes, so she had to train harder.

But now that she was about to start the actual combat, even though it was not appropriate to be indoors, it was also not realistic to be outside for a long time. After thinking for a while, Su Cha walked out and called out, "Ah Chen?"

Ah Chen suddenly appeared, as if he came from the shadows. "Yes."

But Su Cha felt him.

He had jumped down from upstairs...

The silent Ah Chen was indeed capable.

She said with a calm expression, "I need a training room. I want to exercise and practice singing. I don't like people looking at me through surveillance cameras, do you?"

Ah Chen's eyes flickered as he nodded. "I understand. When do you need it?"

"From tomorrow onwards."

After saying this, Su Cha went back into the room.

Ah Chen felt that her request was a little strange, but after thinking about it, he felt that there was nothing wrong with it and went to do it.

After Bo Mui came back, he asked her directly, “You need a place to exercise? We have one right here. If you still need to practice songs, I will get someone to prepare the equipment for you.”

Su Cha hummed and looked at Bo Mui. She wanted to tell him about what had happened this morning, but Bo Mui thought that Su Cha wanted to say something else. He snorted and said, “Ah Chen told me himself. I didn’t ask him. I didn’t monitor you!”

Su Cha: “...”

Chapter 289: Explosion

Seeing Bo Mui’s awkward expression, Su Cha could not help but laugh. “I didn’t say anything.”

Bo Mui frowned slightly. “I...”

Seeing his expression, Su Cha found it amusing. She went forward and grabbed Bo Mui’s wrist. “You will know about these things just by thinking about it. You are too nervous.”

The man looked at her with a deep gaze. “You said that I can’t monitor you. I don’t want you to misunderstand...”

“I can differentiate between a misunderstanding and an unreasonable behavior.”

Su Cha sighed softly. “Mui, you don’t have to be too nervous all the time. I don’t care about these things.”

Well...

He nodded and held Su Cha’s palm. Suddenly, he smiled. “You went to eat at your mother’s house. Were you happy?”

Su Cha knew that he would also ask about that, so she nodded and said, “It’s great. I was happy to see her current husband.”

A strange light flashed past Bo Mui’s eyes when he heard that. It was so fast that it was almost undetectable.

“That’s good.”

It was unknown if what he said was meant for Su Cha or if he meant something else.

There seemed to be a deeper meaning in it.

Su Cha had eaten, but Bo Muyi had just returned from the company. She accompanied Bo Muyi for supper. On the way, Su Cha looked at the news on Weibo.

Although Zi You’s matter had nothing to do with her, Su Cha wanted to see how far he had fallen.

As Su Cha predicted, Zi You’s incident had made a huge impact.

On Weibo, he was the most popular trending topic. The top three most popular searches had something to do with him, although the titles did not look good.

In particular, those who had something to do with Zi You, especially the members of his group, were also one of the top ten trending searches.

Sometimes, the trending searches represented a celebrity’s popularity and the attention he or she was receiving. The more famous a celebrity was, the more they liked to stay on the trending searches. Moreover, it was an insider secret that the trending searches could be bought. Many celebrities often became number one on the trending searches because of a trivial matter. The netizens would speculate that they were year-round users on Weibo. Otherwise, all kinds of lousy things would not have gone trending.

Celebrities were proud of getting into the hot searches. In order to gain attention, they did not care about the reason at all.

But no one would want to see their artists’ names on a trending list like Zi You’s.

However, the news continued to spread. No matter how much money they spent, they could not stop it.

Not to mention that this matter was done by Bo Muyi. Who could suppress it?

Zi You had been exposed for having a sugar daddy in the past, and both men and women were involved. Not only that, but he was also often caught flirting with female actors and actresses. There were also some long-silenced issues, including the abandonment of his first girlfriend.

All sorts of scandals were being thrown at him, almost causing his fans to become dizzy and certainly catching his company off guard.

No celebrity could turn this kind of tide.

Zi You's agency did not dare to clarify this matter. What was there to clarify? Was it a rumor?

Don't be ridiculous. The video had already been exposed all over the internet. Even if people were just spreading rumors, the agency would not have the confidence to refute them.

Zi You disappeared without a trace. That night, his apartment was surrounded by angry fans.

For the whole day, every trending topic had something to do with Zi You.

The production crew that did not seem to have much to do with Zi You had also become a hot topic because he was a judge in Dreams in Progress.

Chapter 290: He Is Finished

However, this matter did not seem to have much to do with Zi You's incident. Even if a person had a discerning eye, how could anyone guess that Zi You's present situation was all because he had called a female contestant in the middle of the night and was then dealt with?

Su Cha was scrolling through Weibo messages when a photo of Zi You suddenly appeared. Bo Muyi's pupils constricted when he saw it. He took Su Cha's phone and said, "Don't look at things that could affect your appetite during dinner."

"No."

The girl smiled happily, looking rather malicious. "I'm quite happy that something happened to him."

After all, if this person were not dealt with, who knew how he would continue harassing her?

Bo Mui's method was thorough.

As soon as Bo Mui saw Su Cha's smiling face, he could not help but take a deep breath right by her cheek. He squinted his eyes happily and said, "This actually makes you happy? It seems like I did something right."

Su Cha glanced at him. The man's expression was obvious. There were three words written all over his face, "Please praise me."

Su Cha rubbed Bo Mui's hair and praised him directly, "Mui, you are amazing!"

Bo Mui was elated. "I will be happy if Cha Cha is happy."

If Zi You heard their conversation, he would have vomited blood.

However, he was already exhausted and desperate.

He could not figure out who did it.

Usually, before a celebrity met with an incident, unless it was an enemy attack, the media would first approach the agency of a celebrity. They would either extort them or lay out conditions, or people who had heard about it could warn them.

It was not like now, wherein something suddenly happened without warning.

When the trending topic appeared, Zi You had been in his apartment and he did not dare to leave.

His manager and a few fellow members called him to scold him. This was no longer his problem. He was a member of the group. Once something happened, everyone would be implicated.

Their IOK had finally attained fame on the national level. Now that it was all ruined by Zi You, the company's efforts had been completely destroyed. Who would not treat Zi You as a thorn in their side now?

If he had not done such a lousy thing, no one would have been able to make trouble for him.

"Let me ask you again. Do you really not know whom you have offended?"

The manager was questioning him desperately over the phone. Zi You thought for a long time but did not know whom he had offended. He could only cry, "I don't know. I have offended too many people..."

The manager was so angry that he almost vomited blood.

Zi You was already in his twenties, yet when something like this happened, he could only hide in his house and cry, unable to do anything.

And there was truly nothing he could do.

"Zi You, take care of yourself. You won't be able to survive in the industry after such a big incident. You'd better listen to the company at this time. A clarification meeting will show that you have nothing to do with your group members. Otherwise, do you know the consequences?"

The company could only protect the other members as much as possible. Zi You could only give up.

"Why?"

A person like him would not agree immediately. The manager said harshly, "Why? You actually have the cheek to ask. What right do you have to negotiate with us? Just you wait!"

With that, the manager hung up the phone angrily.

Zi You was at a loss. He cried even louder. For a moment, Su Cha's face flashed in his mind, but it was insignificant.

He was finished!
