

The Queen 306

Chapter 306: Hide Slowly

Not many people could make an analysis during such a situation. Ordinary people would be scared out of their wits upon seeing a ferocious beast pouncing on them.

Ah Chen did not stop Blue Sky because he knew Blue Sky was joking.

Under normal circumstances, he should have protected Su Cha well following Bo Muye's orders. Even in such a situation, he should have stopped the beast without hesitation.

But he did not.

Other than to probe, there was no other explanation for why he didn't.

When he heard Su Cha's words, Ah Chen's usually expressionless face seemed to twitch. He lowered his eyes and said in a cold voice, "Miss Su, you're wrong. It's my fault for not being able to react in time. If you want to, Miss Su, you can deal with it by meting out punishment."

He was being very respectful, as if nothing had happened.

The coldness in Su Cha's eyes intensified, and her voice became stern. The aura that she used to have as the Empress Dowager was completely displayed, sweeping towards Ah Chen.

"You are Muye's most trusted secret guard, but while he trusts you, I don't. Just a casual sentence from me and you can imagine what will happen to you. Just fulfill your duty and protect him. Stop trying to set traps for me. If this happens again, I will not let you off. I have a bad temper, so remember this clearly."

Her sharp gaze swept across Ah Chen's body. The strong pressure made Ah Chen's hair stand on end.

He was under immense pressure. He did not know why this girl in front of him suddenly had such a strong aura. It would not pale in comparison even against that of the young master.

Her words were crisp and clear. Upon landing on one's heart, they sent chills down one's spine.

Su Cha stopped looking at Ah Chen and walked around him before entering the house.

After she left, Ah Chen straightened his back and looked in Su Cha's direction. He could not hide his shock.

What exactly happened? Why did Miss Su change so much?

She was completely different from the documents!

The young master had been exceptionally talented since he was young, and the feelings he elicited were even more terrifying. He thought that the young master knew everything.

Ah Chen suddenly felt a chill down his spine.

It was not that the young master did not know this time, he just did not care.

As long as this person was still Miss Su, it did not matter how difficult the changes were to explain because no explanation was necessary to the young master.

Ah Chen thought about what Su Cha had said just now. Thinking of the young master's methods, he felt his scalp tingle.

Indeed, Miss Su was right. He was getting too carried away.

But...

It could not calm his doubts.

He looked in Su Cha's direction with a complicated expression.

He did not need to know what had happened to Miss Su. All he needed to know was that Miss Su had no ill intentions towards the young master.

Throughout this period of observation, Ah Chen could tell that much.

While entering the house, Su Cha was still a little angry at Ah Chen's actions. She did not like such disrespectful and unruly behavior, but since she knew that that person was doing it for Bo Muye's own good, she let things slide.

She changed into a sports suit and entered the basement to exercise.

At the end of the day, Ah Chen's distrust was towards her own transformation. She was not worried about this. She just had to treat Bo Muye well.

After what had happened with Tang Keruo, she knew that it would not be easy for her to stay by Bo Muye's side.

Even if she had someone to protect her, she could not simply rely on others.

If she wanted to find out anything, she had to strengthen herself first. When she no longer had anything to fear, no one would be able to restrain her.

Right now, she would just stay in the shadows and pretend that she did not know anything.

Chapter 307: A Call Every Day

After Bo Muye returned that night, Su Cha told him about her needing to move into the group dormitory.

The man's reaction was as she had expected.

"I don't want that!"

If it were any other boyfriend, he would have hugged her firmly and said no.

Bo Mui knew that being stubborn was useless against Su Cha. As he spoke, he hugged her and frowned.

It felt like he was angry but did not dare to lose his temper at Su Cha.

Having known that Bo Mui would not agree so easily, Su Cha changed her posture and hugged his arm. This made her appear to be in a weaker position. She looked at Bo Mui and said softly, “But Mui, it’s not that I want to live with anyone else, I just have to. I am participating in an entertainment show because I want to be famous. If I don’t go join them, it won’t benefit me much.”

“Besides, I can come back often.”

She placed her palm on Bo Mui’s palm and continued, “And it seems that that show will be broadcasted 24 hours a day. As long as there are cameras around, you can see me. You can also see what I am doing.”

Bo Mui was conflicted.

He looked at Su Cha with a deep gaze and lowered his eyes. The emotions in them were surging, but it was hard to tell what he was thinking.

Su Cha knew that Bo Mui wanted to know what she was doing, but Bo Mui did not know that she often stayed at home.

Now that she had entered the show, the advantage was that she would be exposed to the camera wherever she went for 24 hours. At least this man would know what she was doing.

“I... I have to go overseas next week.”

Bo Mui suddenly spoke.

Su Cha was a little surprised. “How long?”

Bo Mui looked at her with his deep eyes. “There’s something I have to deal with. I was planning to tell you later. If you stay for now... you can go after I leave.”

Su Cha heaved a sigh of relief. "Okay!"

She thought that if Bo Muyi had pushed for his way a little further, she would have decided not to go to the dormitory. But luckily, it seemed that this big shot had something on, because he would not have agreed otherwise.

He had to leave next week, and it was impossible for him to take Su Cha along. At that time, there wouldn't be much difference whether Su Cha stayed in the dormitory or in the Lookout Pavilion. Moreover, if she lived in the dormitory, he would be able to see her every move through the cameras, as Su Cha had said, because she would almost always be on display.

In contrast, when she's staying at home, Bo Muyi never knew what Su Cha was doing. Therefore, it would be better for her to stay in the dormitory.

At least he'd know exactly what Su Cha was doing!

Su Cha smiled and sat on his lap, looking up at him. "Why are you going abroad next week? Is it a business trip for the company?"

"Yes, almost."

The man's slender fingers caressed her smooth face gently. His voice was tender and pampering. "I have a few business matters to discuss and have to deal with other matters. I can't estimate the exact time I'll finish, but I will rush back as soon as possible."

As he spoke, he moved closer to Su Cha's face, his breath hot and intimate. "But Cha Cha, you have to call me every day during this period. Video call me."

"Sure."

Su Cha smiled as she agreed readily. "I will tell you everything."

Chapter 308: I Am Just Afraid That You Will Forget Me Someday

"Yes," he responded softly.

As the atmosphere gradually heated up, even Su Cha thought he was going to do something. As she closed her eyes quietly, she suddenly heard the man say in her ear, “Cha Cha, do you think about your parents sometimes?”

“Oh?”

She opened her eyes in confusion. “Why did you suddenly ask me this question?”

“Sometimes I don’t want to tell you, but sometimes, I’m not sure if you even want to know.”

He lifted Su Cha up and rested his face on her neck. “Do you think I’m selfish sometimes?”

He did not want to tell her anything.

He hoped that she could remember, but he also hoped that she could not.

“No. Why would you think so?”

Su Cha touched Bo Mui’s hair and said gently, “I wasn’t thinking about that.”

She had a casual attitude regarding her parents.

She thought that if they could give her to the Su family back then, it didn’t matter if it was because they had some difficulties since they did not look for her again after so many years.

Until now, she was still using Su Mingzhe’s family name. It was easy for her parents to come back to look for her, but they did not.

Before she returned to her past life, no one had said that there was something wrong with her family background.

Therefore, she thought that there were probably people who did not want her to find her biological parents.

“Actually...”

Bo Mui was looking puzzled. “Cha Cha, I don’t know how you lost your memory.”

Su Cha was stunned.

“I was in the Imperial Capital when I received the news that something had happened.”

He recalled what had happened back then. He seemed to be a little reluctant, and his face turned pale. “I saw you, but you didn’t remember me anymore.”

At the thought of this, a trace of pain flashed in his deep and dark eyes. At that time, he was also going through something very difficult. Su Cha’s memory loss was undoubtedly a huge blow to him.

After that, he returned to the Imperial Capital and followed that person’s wishes. He did not disturb her and just watched silently.

But his grandfather’s death had left a deep scar on his already battered heart.

He could not take it anymore, so he went to Yonggu City to find Su Cha.

The result of finding Su Cha was not so good, which was why certain things happened later.

Su Cha could not help but feel sorry for Bo Mui. She hugged his head and said, “Don’t think about it. Let bygones be bygones.”

She did not want this to happen. It was just that people sometimes made mistakes. Bo Mui said that she had lost her memory, but it was not her intention.

At that time, she never dared to dream of Bo Mui. That was why she chose to run away and was willing to let Zhai Yao control her life.

She pressed her cheek against his and said softly, “Muyi, what happened in the past was not good. Let’s both forget about it. If you don’t want me to remember, I won’t think about it anymore. It’s enough that we’re like this now.”

To her, the past had already happened.

The only thing she needed to change now was her fate. As long as she did not end up in a tragic state, as long as Bo Muyi was still around, everything else was no longer important.

He sighed softly, and one could only hear a faint sadness and helplessness. “I’m just afraid that you will forget me someday.”

Everything was like a dream. If something like that really happened one day, Bo Muyi would probably not be able to accept it.

Chapter 309: The Guitar Has Been Switched

“No.”

Hearing those words, Su Cha’s heart ached. “It really won’t happen. Even if I forget the whole world, I won’t forget you.”

Bo Muyi had been insecure for a long time. After all, he had already experienced it once.

Su Cha had lost her memory of him.

What if she forgot him again?

Even such beautiful memories could be forgotten in an instant. During such a time, who could bear it?

“Yes!”

He reached out and hugged Su Cha tightly.

He hugged her too tightly.

However, this was the only way he could feel a sense of security.

He lowered his eyes. In the end, he did not say anything important and hesitated.

He could not accept Su Cha's accident, so he pretended that nothing had happened before.

He and Su Cha now had a brand new future.

...

Bo Muyi agreed to Su Cha staying in the dormitory, but she had to wait until Bo Muyi had left for a business trip next week.

She told the production crew about the delay and they were fine with it. Anyway, the current stage of the competition would not end until next week.

However, since the recording of the television program was not a live broadcast, everyone still had to be present. Even if Su Cha had already passed, she had to sit in the contestants' seats to watch.

The competition became more and more exciting as the competition progressed. Many contestants who were not good at stage performances had become more adept at it, which meant that sitting here was not boring. It was just as if she was attending a small stage concert.

Right now, the contestants in the holding area were all still competing. As there were already 10 contestants who had passed, the remaining ones had to compete for the rest of the 20 spots.

By then, Su Cha's group would have had an additional advantage.

However, halfway through the competition, Su Cha saw a contestant going on stage with an ugly expression.

She was carrying a huge guitar. Su Cha had an impression of who this contestant was. She was a talented contestant with a calm voice, but her creativeness was more notable. The lyrics and melodies she wrote were very suited to her strengths, so the judges were quite impressed by her. After all, she was a talented and creative person, which was a very popular type among producers.

However, she did not perform well today. Su Cha, who was a layman, could tell that her sound was off, and thus, her singing had failed.

Following this performance, the contestants' expressions became increasingly ugly.

Su Cha was not the only one who could tell. Many contestants below the stage had noticed it and they were whispering to each other. Could it be that she became nervous after reaching this stage?

But that did not seem to be the case.

Su Cha narrowed her eyes and finally noticed something different. The guitar in the contestant's hand was not the one she used to use.

Because there were many contestants in the competition, Su Cha did not know everyone, but she had at least seen this one before and was familiar with her. However, it took her a while to confirm that the guitar in her hand was not the one she had brought.

Su Cha remembered that this girl had always taken care of her guitar. Why did she change her guitar after entering such a crucial stage of the competition?

She did not seem to be familiar with the new guitar.

When the day's competition ended, Su Cha heard a contestant whispering, "Hey, why did Fu Bin switch guitars? Didn't she always treasure the original one?"

Obviously, Su Cha was not the only one who noticed that her guitar had changed.

Chapter 310: Despicable Method

To people who played instruments, as long as they have already mastered it, one instrument would not be much different from another.

Even so, a new instrument would still take some getting used to.

And in a competition like this, anyone would definitely use the one they're already familiar with.

Now was not a good time to switch her guitar...

Something must have happened.

As Su Cha thought about this, the judges on stage started to comment on the contestant who played the guitar.

As expected, the judges' comments and the subject of the contestants' discussions were the same. They did not think highly of her performance today and asked her if there was something wrong.

The contestant named Fu Bin looked like she was about to cry. She looked extremely aggrieved as she sobbed on the stage while saying, "I don't know what happened. When I picked up my guitar, I found that the strings have been cut off. I was used to that guitar. It was my father's 18th birthday gift to me. I don't know who did it, and I could only ask the production crew if there's another guitar I could borrow. But I'm not used to this one..."

The judges were stunned.

The contestants, along with the audience, exploded.

"Someone cut off her guitar strings?"

"Wow... Who's so wicked? Seriously."

"Oh my god, it's just a competition, how could anyone do such a shameless thing..."

"Ha, how typical. That person would do anything to advance. Fu Bin is very good, after all. But after being sabotaged, she would be easily eliminated. Once she is eliminated, that person would lose a competitor..."

“We’re participating in a competition, right? It’s not a scheming contest!”

Su Cha squinted as she listened to their discussion.

She knew that the competition might not go along peacefully, but she did not expect the drama to happen in real life.

Some people would do anything to advance.

As the audience broke out in discussions, the host realized that something was wrong and immediately started to say a few high-sounding words to attract the audience’s attention. The judges quickly commented on Fu Bin’s performance.

Although she had told them the truth, she still indeed performed poorly. If she had a good head on her shoulders, she could have overcome the crisis in time. If she had a better mentality, even if the guitar she played was the wrong one, she could have still sung the song correctly and there would not be such a big problem.

Although it was not her fault, this was a competition. There were no ifs.

Right now, the contestants sitting among the audience were the ones who had already advanced to the next round, excluding the ones who were already in the waiting area. There were more than ten contestants backstage, and it would be hard to tell who had done it.

Le Anqi was also backstage. Su Cha could ask her about it.

It was unlikely that a contestant who had already advanced would do such a troublesome thing. Hence, it was highly possible that the person who cut the strings was among the contestants in the waiting area. Of course, it could not be said for certain that other methods had been used, such as the contestant bribing a staff member to do it...

Su Cha kept her guard up. Now that they knew someone could do such a thing, the more they advanced in the competition, the more likely things like this would happen.

She was the type of person who had great skills. Even if she was not very high-profile, as long as she had the use of her strengths, one could not guarantee that no one would want to do anything to make her perform poorly.

Sometimes, to achieve a certain goal, envy would drive some people to do all kinds of outrageous things.

Su Cha had experienced this in the palace before.

In the end, after the live audience cast their votes for Fu Bin, although her votes were on par with the contestants in front of her, she was ranked last due to the three judges who gave her failing marks. Hence, she was eliminated.