

The Queen 406

Chapter 406: Unexpected Person

Su Cha smiled gently. “Old sir, don’t hold too much hope for me. I don’t know how far I can go with it.”

“I believe in fate. If fate says that you are destined, I will believe that you are destined,” Shi Wei said solemnly.

Even if it sounded ridiculous.

Su Cha lifted her eyelids slightly.

Taking over the Star Alliance was equivalent to taking over the families behind her. However, Su Cha knew very well that if she took over, not many people would be convinced.

If she wanted to truly control it, she had to prove it with her own strength.

However, she could suppress these martial artists in the past. Why not now?

Of course, she knew her goal very well. She was not a kind person. She definitely had her own agenda for taking over the Star Alliance. She definitely did not want to be their savior.

Shi Wei knew this very well.

It was because he knew that he had to hand the Star Alliance to Su Cha.

He had calculated it several times. No matter what the result was, the final result would always be Su Cha.

He only hoped to contribute to the Star Alliance before his death.

Su Cha lowered her eyes. Although her tone was slow, she sounded very firm. “Okay.”

...

Jin Mou felt much better when she woke up in the morning.

She looked around her room but did not see Su Cha.

She got up and walked around the villa, only to see her brother's master watering the flowers in the courtyard.

Compared to the stern look from a few days ago, the master at present looked much more relaxed and happy. It was as if he had removed the burden in his heart and was feeling happy.

Jin Mou did not find Jin Duan, nor did he find Su Cha. She did not forget what happened last night, so she gestured at Shi Wei to ask him where they went.

Shi Wei said in a relaxed tone, "Jin Mou, you've been living here for so long. There are some things I haven't told you about. Your brother's mission has been completed. Now, it's your turn."

Jin Mou's eyes widened.

What mission?

Why couldn't she understand the master's words?

...

When Su Cha returned to the Lookout Pavilion, she was holding a box in her hand.

In the box was the symbol of the Star Alliance, the jade ring that represented power. Its name was the Star Ring.

It had a unique appearance and was priceless. For hundreds of years, it had been the inheritance of every leader of the Star Alliance.

Moreover, it was a top-notch craft when it was made.

As long as one had the Star Ring, martial artists would instantly know that its owner was the current Alliance Master.

Only the Alliance Master could wear this ring.

Shi Wei also told Su Cha that the old Alliance Master had passed away, but he did not dare to tell anyone about it. He was afraid of causing trouble, so he'd told others that he had disappeared.

Now that the Star Ring had been handed over, he would get rid of all the troubles in his heart. However, he respected Su Cha's opinions. Now, he would only announce that the new Alliance Master of the Star Alliance had been born, but he would not announce to anyone who the new Alliance Master was.

It was just for two months. When the time came, the Martial Alliance had to decide on the Alliance Master Selection. As an Alliance Master, she had to appear.

But that was in the future. Su Cha would not reveal her identity for the time being.

At least before she was exposed, she had to ensure that she was strong enough.

But after returning to the Lookout Pavilion, Su Cha met some people who were surprised.

Chapter 407: Recognition

When she returned to the Lookout Pavilion, a servant came to report to her. The old lady was entertaining guests and hoped that Miss Su could make a trip there.

Although Su Cha did not know why she called her over, she had a good relationship with the old lady. Of course, she would invite her.

Just as she was about to go over, the secret guard's words brought Su Cha back to reality. "Miss Su, the young master is on his way back. He will return to the Imperial Capital at around six o'clock tomorrow."

Su Cha was stunned. “So soon? Has he finished his work overseas?”

She had spoken to Bo Mui before the accident. After the incident last night, she had not told Bo Mui because she did not want him to worry.

But now that he was coming back, he also did not inform Su Cha. Instead, he used the secret guard’s mouth. Su Cha knew that Bo Mui was probably scared.

She had thought that it would take some time before Bo Mui returned.

There was a warning in Su Cha’s heart. Why did he come back?

The secret guard glanced at her. This person was not one of the two people who followed her yesterday. But now, all the secret guards around Bo Mui knew that the Miss Su they were protecting under the young master’s orders was better than them...

“Young Master knows about what happened last night and is worried about you.”

Su Cha expected it.

She rubbed her temples, which were aching. “Did you tell him about what happened to me last night?”

The secret guard remained silent.

Of course.

How could they not report such a big matter to the young master?

Naturally, they reported Su Cha’s every move.

She did not know what the young master’s reaction was, but she immediately got up and came back, knowing that this might affect her.

Su Cha knew that they were following orders. She bit her lips and thought about how to explain this matter.

She'd thought that she could keep it a secret for a while, but now she could not.

She was probably a weak little white flower in Bo Muyi's eyes. Now that the little white flower had suddenly turned into a tyrannic flower, how should she explain it?

There was no explanation that could sound more ridiculous than her being reborn twice.

It was rare for Su Cha to feel irritated. She had been thinking about it even before.

When she reached the old lady's courtyard, she saw a few unfamiliar people.

One of them was a familiar face.

The old lady's granddaughter, Ye Jingwen.

A few elegant and noble people were chatting in the main hall. Other than Ye Jingwen, there were also middle-aged men and women who were older than her.

As soon as Su Cha entered, her attention was attracted by someone before her gaze could land on anyone else.

She paused when she saw the elegant woman sitting next to a few middle-aged men and women.

Tang Keruo.

Tang Keruo also saw Su Cha. Her eyes darkened a little at that moment, and her pupils seemed to be sizing her up. At that moment, Su Cha let her original self's attitude resurface and looked at the old lady. As if she was afraid, she cautiously called out, "Hello, Grandma."

The old lady: "..."

She gave Su Cha a serious look. For a moment, she could not tell if Su Cha was pretending or not.

She decided that Su Cha simply could not compose herself in time and waved at her with a smile. "There are a few uncles and aunties here today. They are all Muyi's uncles and aunties, so I asked you to come and acknowledge them."

Su Cha obediently walked to the old lady's side. Seeing her, Ye Jingwen smiled. "Hello, Su Cha."

Chapter 408: Change of Face

Su Cha was like a startled quail. "Hello, Miss Ye."

Ye Jingwen: "..."

For a moment, she thought that she had somehow bullied Su Cha.

The last time they met, this girl gave off a cold and imposing aura. Why did she become so...

White lotus?

Ye Jingwen controlled herself to not complain.

The old lady glanced at Su Cha in surprise. Su Cha was still timid.

The people who were originally looking at Su Cha frowned slightly.

How could such a petty existence appear in the Lookout Pavilion?

The old lady seemed to have understood something. Without asking, she held Su Cha's hand and patted it. "This child just came back. She's a little afraid of strangers."

The audience looked at each other.

No matter how afraid she was of strangers, it shouldn't be hard for her to present herself well.

Someone smiled and said, "Old Madam, may I know who this is?"

"Muyi's little girlfriend."

Her words were filled with adoration.

Everyone was dumbfounded.

The old lady ignored their expressions and said to Su Cha, "Come, these are Muyi's uncles and aunties. You can acknowledge them."

Her attitude was quite good. She held Su Cha's hand and led her over, causing the others to look at her with slight disdain.

They came from wealthy families and were born to be high and mighty. Naturally, they could not bear to see such timid behavior. However, due to their good upbringing, they would not say anything openly. They pretended to smile politely at Su Cha.

What a waste of a good-looking face. How could such a person be liked by Bo Muyi?

It was already incredible that the King of Hell had a girlfriend. How could she be so... difficult to explain?

The old lady introduced them one by one, and Su Cha greeted them one by one. When it was Tang Keruo's turn, it was not the old lady who introduced them but a middle-aged woman, her distant niece.

Su Cha looked at Tang Keruo and lowered her eyes as if she did not dare to look at her. Ye Jingwen found it strange.

It was as if Tang Keruo had bullied her.

Su Cha's attitude was easily misunderstood by others. Tang Keruo forced a smile. "Miss Su, we just met. Don't tell me you don't remember?"

"Of course I remember."

Su Cha's soft voice sounded pitiful.

Tang Keruo felt that something was wrong, but she could not tell what.

The middle-aged woman looked at Tang Keruo with a slight change in expression. "Keruo, how do you know Miss Su?"

She sounded a little reproachful and worried.

After all, this person was Bo Mui's girlfriend. Why did it seem like Tang Keruo had bullied her?

Tang Keruo's smile froze. "I met her briefly last time."

Su Cha did not explain further.

After seeing her, the old lady said, "Just say hello for now. If you have something on, go back first."

Su Cha nodded and bade everyone farewell cautiously. Although those people smiled at her, no one responded.

They were obviously looking down on her.

After waiting for Su Cha to leave, Ye Jingwen glanced at her and said directly, "Grandma, I'll go out for a while."

The old lady's expression changed. Before she could stop her, Ye Jingwen had already stood up and left.

When Ye Jingwen arrived outside the door, she saw Su Cha walking ahead of her. She was no longer as timid as before. Her walking aura was extraordinary.

She paused and called, "Su Cha."

Su Cha turned her head and asked, "Miss Ye, what's the matter?"

Ye Jingwen: "..."

Chapter 409: Why Are You Always Making Me Worry?

Ye Jingwen was dumbfounded.

She was clearly a submissive girl in the room. How did she change so quickly?

Ye Jingwen blinked. Thinking back to the last time she saw her, she thought about how she had changed.

She thought of something and smiled. "You... were inside just now?"

"What's wrong with me being inside?"

There was a smile on the girl's face. She was indifferent and pure, looking no different.

There was a hint of dominance in her current state.

Ye Jingwen did not know what to say.

Actually, she was not familiar with Su Cha, so it was not a big deal. The two of them greeted each other at the door.

Besides, Grandma's opinion was very clear. She did not want her to have any interaction with this girl in front of her.

Ye Jingwen did not understand. If she was Bo Mui's girlfriend, the news should have spread throughout the Imperial Capital. Besides their family though, not many people knew.

Could it be that Bo Mui did not want to announce it?

Ye Jingwen was deep in thought. She opened her mouth, but before she could say anything, Su Cha asked first, "Miss Ye, if there's nothing else, shall I leave first?"

Ye Jingwen was not a fool. She could tell the indifference hidden beneath her words.

She was not afraid or intimidated.

Ye Jingwen could tell that the other party seemed to be dismissive of her.

As the Eldest Young Lady of the Ye family, she had never been treated like this before. For a moment, Ye Jingwen felt embarrassed and stopped talking.

Su Cha could roughly understand the young lady's thoughts. She chuckled in her heart. Indeed, she had no intention of talking to Ye Jingwen and left directly.

The old lady was right. There was nothing in common between them.

Returning to the bedroom, she entered the basement and continued her cultivation.

Now that she had promised the old man that she would become the Alliance Master, she had to bear the responsibility.

However, she still had to participate in the competition and was destined to enter the entertainment industry. Who knew what the people from the Star Alliance would think when they saw their Alliance Master being in the spotlight?

Su Cha was woken up by a touch at midnight.

It was as if she was deeply attached to him. The touch brushed gently on her face, bringing with it a numbing itch, which made Su Cha unable to sleep well. She opened her eyes in confusion.

The bedroom was dark. Su Cha's good eyesight could only see the blurry outline in the darkness.

Even though his face could not be seen clearly, she could feel a trace of gloomy aura exuding from the other party. However, it carried a different kind of clear and ethereal aura, as if it could enchant people.

Because of this familiar feeling, even if Su Cha had woken up, she did not move.

In the darkness, she could only feel the person's fingers gently caressing her face. It was slightly cold.

Touching her trembling eyelashes, the man said elegantly, "You're awake?"

His voice was usually clean, but now it sounded hoarse, as if he was exhausted.

Su Cha's heart ached as she listened. She held his cold fingertips and asked, "You haven't rested yet?"

He could have rested on the plane, but it sounded like he had not slept for a long time.

His slender fingers held her warm palm and pinched it gently. "Why do you keep making me worry?"

Chapter 410: Will You Accompany Me?

Su Cha was speechless.

She wanted to say that she was fine, but that kind of thing could not be explained easily.

The silence spread between the two of them. Su Cha did not know how to speak, and Bo Muyi did not seem to be in a hurry, so he too did not speak.

After a while, Su Cha asked in a hoarse voice, “Did your secret guards tell you?”

“What do you think I care about?”

There was no emotion in the man’s tone, which could make one worried for no reason.

Su Cha pondered. Oh no, he was really angry now.

In the past, even if he was angry, he would at least expose himself.

Unlike now, his calm tone could make one shudder.

How should she coax such a boyfriend?

She had no experience, and the situation was too urgent for her to search online.

But since Su Cha had expected it, she asked back, “What do you care about? It’s probably a matter of life and death.”

What does Bo Muyi care about?

Su Cha could guess it. She tried to speak. “Are you worried about me?”

“Cha Cha.”

He said tiredly, “Of course. I don’t care whatever you’re hiding from me.”

He moved closer to her ear and said in a seductive voice, “You shouldn’t be concerned about others and put yourself in danger.”

Su Cha’s heart skipped a beat, but she immediately felt a little helpless. “No one expected this to happen. I saw it at that time. I can’t just leave, right?”

Jin Mou was her friend, after all.

Su Cha was not a person who could abandon her.

“And I am confident...”

If it really did not work, Su Cha would have left. She would not joke about her safety.

Besides, she had two secret guards by her side.

Bo Mui did not speak.

Even though Su Cha had good eyesight in the darkness, she could not see his expression clearly. She touched Bo Mui's face with one hand and caressed it for a while before saying, “I promise there won't be a next time.”

The man approached her and suddenly opened his thin lips to bite Su Cha's ear. Although it was not hard, it was itchy. Su Cha subconsciously shrank her neck and fell into his arms.

She heard a sigh.

Bo Mui hugged her. His fingers were cold, but his arms were hot. Su Cha could hear the beating of his heart in his chest. It was gentle and strong.

She asked softly, “Are you going back again?”

“No, I'm done.”

He did not tell her how, when he received the news, he had not rested for two days. In the end, he could not fall asleep after receiving the news.

He had always known that Su Cha had many things to hide from him. He was so smart, how could he not know many things?

He just did not want to ask. He was afraid that if he asked too much, the person in front of him would have a knot in her heart.

After all, he still did not know what Su Cha was thinking and what she was hiding...

It was not that he did not want to know, but he just did not dare to.

Su Cha touched his earlobe. "My competition is not over yet."

"I know. Do you still live there?"

Su Cha hesitated.

Although she needed to stay with the production team, Bo Muye was already back. Besides, with Jin Mou gone, it was better for her to stay in the Lookout Pavilion.

Thinking of this, Su Cha said calmly, "I'm not going back to stay. I'll stay here. I'll call the production crew later. Are you tired? If you're tired, go to bed."

She heard him say, "Will you accompany me?"
