

The Queen 436

Chapter 436: Rich People Can Do Whatever They Want

“You’ll just register an agency for me and sign me up?”

Su Cha raised her eyebrows. She recalled Bo Mui mentioning this before.

Ever since Dayu Entertainment, there had been other agencies who’d tried to sign with Su Cha. However, Su Cha felt that the conditions they offered were not feasible.

It was mainly because of her current status. After all, she was a talent show singer, so the treatment she received was not high.

However, Su Cha’s popularity would get higher and higher. She was not in a hurry to sign with an agency before the competition ended.

The benefits she could get could still be maximized.

However, Bo Mui had suggested registering a management agency for her. To be honest, Su Cha did not want to reject him.

“If you sign with me, who will my manager be?”

“Bai Kun will be responsible...”

At this point, Bo Mui paused and suddenly smiled ambiguously. “I don’t mind being your manager.”

“You?”

Su Cha laughed in disbelief. “Let’s find someone else. I don’t have high expectations for my manager. You can just be my boss.”

“I’ll be your boss?”

Bo Mui was quite happy when he thought about this. He suddenly pinched Su Cha’s chin and asked, “What would happen if I become your boss?”

Su Cha glanced at Bo Mui. Seeing the man’s ambiguous and meaningful smile, she said directly, “If there’s no benefit, you can choose not to sign with me.”

“Naughty.”

Bo Mui rubbed the tip of Su Cha’s nose and said in a pampering voice, “I will leave this matter to Bai Kun. I will also ask him to pick a suitable manager for you.”

If Bo Mui had anything to say about it, that person would be the best.

Bo Mui said that he would deal with the management agency, and Su Cha would be contacted soon.

The next day, Su Cha received a call from Bai Kun, who said that the agency had been established. It was called “Chayi Entertainment.”

Su Cha: “...”

Bai Kun could deeply understand the helplessness in Su Cha’s heart. “That’s what the young master instructed us to do. We can’t do anything about it. Miss Su, you don’t have to sign any other contracts. When the time comes, all the company’s resources will be yours. You can film whatever you want. You can sing whatever you want, and we will provide you with the best resources. What do you think?”

Su Cha: “...”

She pondered for a moment. “I’ll consider this after participating in the competition, okay?”

Bai Kun: “Alright, I’ll take care of the rest. The public relations team will hire the best talent in the industry. Assistants and other things will be found within three days, makeup artists and stylists...”

Su Cha had a headache. “I know, but let nature take its course. I’m just a contestant at the moment, I don’t need these for now. Let’s talk about it in the future. I will look for you if anything happens.”

“Yes, Miss Su. Regarding your manager, we are currently contacting each other. If nothing goes wrong, we should be able to get it finalized soon...”

Su Cha frowned slightly. “Who are you seeking out as manager?”

Su Cha had an indescribable feeling when she heard that there was a back and forth going on.

“Tan Jinsui, the personal manager of the top star, Zou Manni.”

Su Cha: “...I remember this Tan Jinsui said that he only serves Zou Manni.”

Even Su Cha, who had not heard much about the industry before, knew who Zou Manni and Tan Jinsui were.

They were at the top of the entertainment circle in China.

Bai Kun smiled and said, “You can do whatever you want with money.”

Su Cha: “...”

It was awesome.

Chapter 437: The Zuo Family

Tan Jinsui and Zou Manni were the best in the entertainment industry.

Zou Manni was now the number one sister of the Chinese entertainment industry. She was once famous in the country. Even though she had disappeared from the entertainment industry, as long as there was news about her, she would definitely be the number one headline of the entertainment industry.

She lived a carefree life. She married her current husband at the height of her popularity. Occasionally, she would come out to film a movie or come on a show. Basically, wherever she went, she would become the hottest topic.

Her national status in China was hard to replicate.

Tan Jinsui was similar to Zou Manni. He was half in the shadows.

He had made Zou Manni famous with one hand. He had also said that she was the only person he wanted to protect in his life, so it was basically impossible for him to bring up other newcomers.

Not to mention a newbie like Su Cha. To put it bluntly, Su Cha was completely different from Zou Manni.

Even if Su Cha had a promising future, she would not be able to withstand the current difficulties.

Although Bai Kun had said that he wanted to contact Tan Jinsui, Su Cha did not believe that he would agree. She just said casually, "It's fine if he doesn't agree. There's no need to force others. I don't care who becomes my manager."

Otherwise, with Bo Muye's personality, he might have used some method to force Tan Jinsui to agree. Su Cha did not want him to be forced to become her manager.

Bai Kun said righteously, "Miss Su, we will never use such a method. Don't you understand the young master? The young master is not such a person!"

Su Cha: "..."

Bai Kun had said it without blushing.

Do you really not know who your young master is?

However, he was her boyfriend after all. Su Cha had given him enough face as she complained in her heart.

The management company's matters were in full swing. When Su Cha went to continue participating in the competition, the program's director asked which company Su Cha had found so they could deal with them quickly.

Su Cha thought about it and said directly, "I have an agency."

The director was a little surprised. "You signed with an agency?"

Last time, Su Cha did not sign with Dayu Entertainment. Why did Su Cha suddenly sign with an agency?

Most importantly, Xinhua Entertainment, which was backing the production crew, had long taken a fancy to Su Cha. If nothing went wrong, they would officially sign with Su Cha and the rest if she entered the Top 10. Now that Su Cha had directly said that she had signed a contract, the director found it unexpected.

Well...

Su Cha thought for a while. "I've signed a contract."

In fact, the company had been registered for her. It did not matter if she signed or not.

The director was shocked. "Which company did you sign with?"

It could be seen that Su Cha was quite a proud person. If it was just an ordinary agency, she might not be willing to sign with them. To have been able to move Su Cha's heart, what conditions did they set?

"Chayi Entertainment."

Su Cha only mentioned the name of the company and did not elaborate on the details. "It's a new company."

The director was a little surprised. Why was the name Chayi Entertainment so strange?

He immediately thought of Su Cha's words.

Her name was similar to theirs, and it was a new company. The director suddenly recalled that Su Cha was related to the Zuo family in the upper-class society.

Could it be that the Zuo family had given Su Cha an agency?

Oh, the people of the big families were indeed different. If they could simply open a management company, they did not need to sign other contracts.

Chapter 438: Really?

The beautiful misunderstanding formed without Su Cha's detailed explanation.

When it came to the Top 10, almost all the production crew knew that Su Cha had signed with an agency, but it was not Xinhua Entertainment.

Of course, the news spread that this agency was registered by the Zuo family for Su Cha.

After all, they had looked up the information. It was true that Chayi had only been established for less than two days, but they had gathered all the information. Although the legal representative was unknown, its Wiki page was still very impressive. There was only one signed artist written on it, and that was Su Cha.

Other contestants were green with envy, but without Su Cha's qualities, they could only sigh and think, how rich and willful.

However, there was also a problem with the new company. Its resources were definitely not as good as the big companies' resources. People had to take care of their connections. Su Cha might have gained a higher profit, but without the care of professionals, she might not be better off than the artists signed by Xinhua Entertainment.

Unless she could become popular.

Everything depends on fate.

The manager's matter was still in discussion. On Su Cha's side, Yu Chuai's matter was almost settled.

Su Cha did not show mercy at all. The Imperial Mu's legal team was not to be trifled with. In order to not attract anyone's attention, Bo Muyi had especially arranged for an intern group under the legal team to enter Chayi Entertainment. After all, the Imperial Mu's legal team was more powerful than the others. Just to deal with a bully, hiring them to fight a reputation infringement lawsuit for Su Cha would easily attract the attention of others.

Even the intern lawyers who studied under them were not simple characters. They were elites who graduated from world-class universities.

Although they were confused about being transferred to Chayi Entertainment, they had to obey the boss's order.

Once they made a move, Yu Chuai had to pay the price she deserved.

Although she was still in the trial, the results were already determined. At the very least, Yu Chuai would have to apologize, and she would have to bring this reputation along her entire life. Her personal file would be tainted forever, and all her personal credit records would be greatly affected. Although she could not see any impact now, she would know in the future that she had been hindered in all aspects.

This matter seemed to have taken place over a long time, but it had only been two days, and the competition for the Top 10 was still ongoing. Su Cha's popularity had almost dropped.

After this incident, Su Cha's mentality was not affected and she continued to perform steadily.

And despite this matter, Su Cha's popularity was not affected. In the live competition, Su Cha was still number one in the national Top 10.

Getting into the top 10 in the country was no longer a hypothetical.

She was quite famous now, and the production crew would also let the Top 10 in the country participate in various variety shows to promote the competition.

As soon as the episode shoot ended, the production crew said that the contestants were going to participate in the recording of a variety show this weekend. They did not reveal which variety show it was, but said that it had something to do with children.

Su Cha planned to go back and check on the variety shows related to children.

But at this time, Bai Kun told her that Tan Jinsui had agreed.

Su Cha was completely dumbfounded.

She never thought that Tan Jinsui would agree to it. She'd almost forgotten about her manager issue.

Now that Bai Kun had told her that Tan Jinsui had agreed, Su Cha asked subconsciously, "Is he sincere?"

Chapter 439: Variety Show

"Miss Su, of course he is sincere!"

Bai Kun said directly, "When we talked to him, we did not use any means to threaten him. He made the decision after reading your information. However, he has some matters in the United Kingdom right now. He will come back in two days. He will discuss your future plans with you. Of course, he only needs to be in charge of your daily needs. I will be in charge of all the entertainment industry and fashion industry resources. Young Master said that the choosing of all the big brands' shows and film resources will be taken care of by Miss Su. You can choose whatever you like."

What was this?

Even Su Cha felt like laughing.

It was like a fairytale on television was now happening in reality. Bo Muyi was clearly telling her that as long as she liked it, she could do whatever she wanted.

Although going through the back door was giving her pause, Su Cha was clearly pleased.

Who didn't like to be spoiled by her boyfriend like this?

It would be a lie if she said that she did not like it. Su Cha was happy and satisfied that she did not do anything against her conscience, but it did not mean that she wouldn't agree to it. "It's fine. I like things that are difficult. If Tan Jinsui is willing to be my manager, that would be a success. I will fight for the resources on my own. It's good to take it step by step."

A manager would affect Su Cha's activities in the entertainment industry. Naturally, the more capable the person was, the better. Su Cha would not reject what's given, but even if the resources were given to her, she still had to have the ability to hold them. Although Su Cha was confident in herself, she did not want others to think too much about it. As long as Tan Jinsui was willing to be her manager, the entertainment industry would probably be bombarded with news about it for a long time.

Bai Kun paused for a moment before saying, "Okay, it's up to you, Miss Su."

Actually, he could probably understand her thoughts. She did not seem to be willing to rely on the young master for the rest of her life.

After that, Bai Kun gave Su Cha the contact details of Tan Jinsui's agency. Nowadays, people liked WeChat, and Tan Jinsui was no exception. Since Su Cha had taken the initiative to send him a WeChat message, he naturally did not accept her invite at once. After all, he was likely not monitoring his messages at all. Su Cha did not care and started to check on the variety show the production crew had mentioned.

The competition had just ended and they had to start recording this weekend. It showed that they were in a hurry. If they wanted to be popular, the variety show would definitely have to be a popular one. In the end, Su Cha found a variety show about children.

"Who Will Be the Parent Today?"

Nowadays, reality shows and variety shows were everywhere. All kinds of reality shows were everywhere. In order to produce a good-looking and innovative show, all the major television stations were willing to tear out their hair. Among what they came up with, children's reality shows were considered to have opened a whole new world.

And “Who Will Be the Parent Today” was also very popular.

The main concept of this show was to select a few children from ordinary families. However, they were actually all famous online celebrities. They had to be cute and obedient. Otherwise, if the children were not good-looking, it would affect the audience’s minds. The important thing to be considered was that the audience nowadays had a lot of malicious intent. Sometimes, they would speak ill of children. If the children were not good-looking, they would be attacked even before the broadcast.

And this show was about inviting a few celebrities to take care of these children and film their daily interactions to show the audience.

Chapter 440: The Most Difficult Child

The show was currently popular, and the seven children involved were also very famous.

It took a lot of time to hire celebrities, so most celebrities had to record a few episodes of them taking care of the children. As guests, Su Cha and the others would only record one episode, so of course they could not directly take care of the children. They would follow the hired celebrities to help out and show their faces.

The seven children were taken care of separately. The recordings were held in their own homes. Only their parents had become celebrities, but they themselves were basically small-time internet celebrities. Despite their young age, most of them had a certain degree of performance ability in front of the camera. Some of them even performed better than celebrities.

Su Cha felt a headache coming on as she was not very enthusiastic about children.

Should she try to be as amiable as possible?

Unexpectedly, her guess came true the next day.

The variety show announced by the production crew was indeed “Who Will Be the Parent Today?”

As for the ten contestants, they would be divided into groups to take care of the children with the respective celebrities. Some of the contestants would definitely be alone. Not only was Su Cha alone, but she also got assigned the most difficult child.

Li Miyi's nickname was Q Ball. He was six years old and had a bad temper. He liked to lose his temper and was disobedient.

He was also very good-looking. Anyone who saw him would want to take him home.

But because he was good-looking, he had been doted on since he was young. His family background was good, and he had always been spoiled when being raised by others. His temper was very bad, and he'd lose his temper whenever he was unhappy.

The celebrities who had him would often have a headache. Li Miyi was still the most popular celebrity, but there were many people who disliked him.

Due to his bad temper, he had suffered a lot of attacks on the Internet. Many viewers said that Li Miyi's personality would become hopeless when he grew up.

Whether the audience was a parenting expert or not, they thought it was not easy to take care of Li Miyi. Although he was popular and had a lot of cameras on him, it was hard for celebrities to take care of him at the same time. They could beat him up or scold him, but Li Miyi might not listen.

Su Cha had watched two episodes of the show last night. It was obvious that the celebrities who had taken care of Li Miyi were badly battered.

When she picked Li Miyi, she could clearly see the sympathy in everyone's eyes.

The director consoled her, "Just take care of him for one episode. It will only take two days. Also, there's still Xian Zi helping you. It won't be that troublesome..."

When Su Cha looked at him with a faint smile, he felt a little guilty.

Xian Zi was the female celebrity who had been taking care of Li Miyi for the past few episodes. She had a soft personality. Whether it was an act or not, she was often aggrieved by Li Miyi. She had cried a few times in the show, and she often wiped her tears in secret. People with discerning eyes could tell that she was very tired of taking care of this child, but there were many netizens who scolded her for putting on an act. Li Miyi's fans even said that she treated Li Miyi poorly.

Xian Zi was as unlucky as Su Cha. She got Li Miyi, but it did not mean that she liked to take care of him.

However, Su Cha had already thought it through. If the kid dared to provoke her, she would beat him up.

After all, she saw that Li Miyi was so hot-tempered that he even knew how to hit people. Although children usually pretended to hit people, these were six-year-olds. Sometimes, it was very painful when they hit people when they were angry.

Some of the celebrities whom he had beaten up in the show frowned.

Could Su Cha stand it?

She would not be able to take it.

Li Miyi would be the only one who would feel wronged.
