

The Queen 451

Chapter 451: Cooking Is Painful

The prices in the supermarket were relatively expensive. No matter how good the food was, they could not afford it. Su Cha picked and chose and used guessing techniques to buy a piece of beef. Some side dishes, some shiitake mushrooms, and special sauces cost about 100 yuan.

The production crew almost broke down when they saw Su Cha buying groceries.

While picking the beef, Su Cha asked Li Miyi, “Do you want to eat beef, chicken, duck, or fish?”

Li Miyi: “Fish!”

Su Cha: “I don’t know how to cook fish. If I can’t cook it well, there will be a fishy smell. Besides, I like to eat beef.”

Li Miyi ignored her last sentence. “What about chicken or duck?”

Su Cha: “I like beef.”

Li Miyi: “...”

The production crew: “...”

Then why did you ask others in the first place!

After picking, Su Cha smiled at Li Miyi. “I was just asking out of courtesy. Don’t take it seriously.”

Li Miyi: “...”

He had never seen such a scary woman before.

On the way to pay the bill, she had been carrying Li Miyi. Due to how few they're buying, they did get a push cart.

Su Cha hugged Li Miyi and asked him to carry these things...

The director of the production crew found it strange. "Did you notice something strange?"

The others were puzzled. "What?"

The director pointed at the screen. "It has been almost half an hour since she entered the supermarket. She has been carrying Li Miyi with one hand the whole time. She hasn't switched sides at all and is still picking things. Li Miyi is already six years old. F*ck, isn't she too strong?"

After the director said that, the others reacted and were shocked. "Ah, that's true!"

"Oh my god, she really did not have to adjust him the whole time. I think Li Miyi even moved around sometimes. How could she be so steady?"

"One-handed hug... My god, she's really a tough girl. Awesome!"

It was not their fault that they were shocked. Under the situation where one was carrying a child with one hand, ordinary people would definitely feel their arms aching and becoming numb in less than a few minutes. Only adult men who often exercised could hold a child with one hand for a long time. If they were tired of carrying something, they had to switch sides. Su Cha held the child with one hand and did not switch him around. She did not feel anything even after half an hour. Thinking about it carefully, they found it was abnormal.

She looked tall and slender. How could she have so much strength?

While they were puzzled, the director asked Su Cha through the earpiece, "Su Cha, aren't you tired of carrying him?"

"I'm not tired."

Su Cha paused.

She seemed to be carrying Li Miyi with one hand.

She was indeed not tired. She circulated her inner force to relieve the soreness in her body. It was not a big deal to carry a child like this.

However, it seemed a little unusual for others?

She quickly thought of this, but she did not say anything. She walked out of the supermarket and placed Li Miyi in the car. She did not deliberately tell the production crew about this.

As long as she was calm enough, the production crew would not be able to catch up with her!

Li Miyi did not know about this. Anyway, he was too lazy to panic. It was great for him that he did not need to walk when he went out.

On the way home in the car, Su Cha started to check the information on her phone on how to make beef.

Su Cha felt a headache coming on when she saw the whole screen full of beef cooking methods.

Cooking was a very painful thing.

Chapter 452: Quite Effective

After returning home, Li Miyi played with his toys. Su Cha was not shy about directly checking her phone on how to cook beef.

To be honest, if it were not for her lack of talent, she would not have been so stupid. After looking at the recipe, she had a basic idea. It was just that she could not control her fear.

For example, she was afraid of oil splattering when she put something in.

Su Cha had made some simple dishes in the past. She knew basic dishes, but she did not know any complicated dishes.

There were not many dishes in the first place. Su Cha used the sauce she bought to compare with what the recipe was calling for. She used her amazing control after practicing martial arts to make beef with stir-fried mushrooms.

It smelled good.

At least Su Cha could guarantee that the condiments were not overcooked, so the taste was definitely there.

After stir-frying it, she tasted it and found it especially fragrant.

She had handled the beef and shiitake mushroom according to the standard method. It seemed that the cooking this time was perfect.

Although she was satisfied, Su Cha did not want to do it again.

She took the utensils and scooped rice from the rice cooker. She called Li Miyi, “Li Miyi, time to eat.”

Li Miyi threw away the toy and ran over. He glanced at it and went to the kitchen to wash his hands before climbing onto the stool.

It seemed that he was still passionate about eating.

He took a sniff and nodded calmly. “Hmm... the smell is not bad.”

As he spoke, he picked up his chopsticks and started eating.

Probably because he thought it was not bad, he took a second bite.

The two of them did not speak much. Su Cha also scooped a big bowl of rice. Although the bowl was not big to begin with, after Su Cha finished the first bowl and scooped a second one, the production crew felt that it was too much.

When female celebrities like Xian Zi ate, they would never eat more than a little fist, okay?

Su Cha, isn't it too much for you to eat two bowls?

Li Miyi was also stunned. "Why do you eat so much as a woman?"

Su Cha: "As a man, why are you so talkative?"

Li Miyi: "..."

Angry, hmph!

After the meal, Li Miyi wanted to take an afternoon nap.

He started to make unreasonable demands again. "I'm going to sleep. Sing a lullaby for me."

Su Cha was faster than him and lay on Xian Zi's bed. "I'm going to sleep. Tell me a fairytale."

Li Miyi: "..."

This person is too much!!

Su Cha ignored him and lay on the bed. No matter what Li Miyi did, Su Cha fell asleep first.

Actually, she was not asleep, but she was a little sleepy, so she closed her eyes.

Although Li Miyi was throwing a tantrum, he had no choice in the end. He was exhausted and fell asleep.

The production crew looked at this rare scene and felt a little worried.

It was too much. Su Cha had been here for so long, but she did not follow Li Miyi's wishes. He looked very angry, but his usual behavior was much more honest.

If Xian Zi had not satisfied him with anything today, Li Miyi would have turned the world upside down.

The production crew was surprised.

Li Miyi had been recording the show for so many episodes. It had been an entire morning, but he seemed to be the most honest right now. It was good other than the intense quarrel with Su Cha at the beginning.

Could it be that Su Cha did it on purpose? She did it on purpose, which was why she was always against Li Miyi.

It looked quite effective.

Chapter 453: Dispute

After an afternoon nap, Su Cha woke up first.

She did not need to sleep because she was mentally exhausted. An hour's sleep was enough.

After waking up, she went to wash her face.

Li Miyi would not wake up unless he slept for two or three hours.

Looking at the schedule, she saw that Li Miyi had a Taekwondo class in the afternoon. Of course, Su Cha had to take him there.

Li Miyi was almost awake.

Su Cha washed his face to wake him up and took him to Taekwondo in the afternoon.

Many children nowadays would learn such courses. Although their parents' goal was to strengthen their bodies or something, Taekwondo was not really useful.

In the eyes of ancient martial artists like Su Cha, it was ridiculous.

She did not mean to belittle it. It was not just Taekwondo. Many real combat skills would not be passed down. Real combat skills were often very lethal. The country would not let such moves spread to the public. Many of the methods that they learned now focused on strengthening their bodies.

In terms of moves, it was simply full of flaws. If they happened to come across a real combat expert, they would instantly die.

Of course, in the world of ordinary people, there would be no such thing as experts.

Children found it interesting to learn.

But they must learn it from a young age and must always be serious about it. It would not be too useful if they learned just some of its essence.

Li Miyi mixed among the children and mimicked Taekwondo. His soft legs and tricks made Su Cha sleepy.

After all, it was an hour-long class.

However, Li Miyi was very studious. Su Cha could tell that he was quite strong. No wonder it hurt when he hit someone. Even celebrities could not stand it.

Su Cha was recording a show, so she watched quietly from the side the whole time. In the latter half of the time, a girl came to send her brother to learn Taekwondo. When she noticed that a photographer was following Su Cha, she took a few glances.

This was normal attention. Su Cha did not take it to heart and yawned.

The next thing suddenly cheered Su Cha up.

Because the girl had quarreled with the coach.

“This movement is completely irregular and erratic. In actual combat, it is completely flawed. To hit the opponent with a rotating force, you have to be sure that the other party is not stupid enough to just stand there and let you attack. At the very least, you have to do it when the other party has no strength to fight back. Moreover, this movement is too redundant. If you want to use more strength, you should directly punch...”

The coach felt a headache coming on. He did not expect to meet such a serious parent. He'd been teaching for so long, but no one had ever questioned these moves, even if they weren't real.

But this was Taekwondo, and it's a place for children to learn Taekwondo!

“Miss, you are being unreasonable. I've been teaching this to children for so long, but you suddenly say out of nowhere that this action is irregular. Are you a Taekwondo coach?”

The girl was a little angry and arrogant. “I'm just correcting you.”

The coach: “...”

You are here to f*cking mess things up.

The production crew saw the dispute and instructed Su Cha, “Don't go over.”

After all, it was someone else's matter. If Su Cha got involved while she was recording a show, it would not look good if something unexpected happened.

Chapter 454: Standing Out

Of course, Su Cha would not bother herself about this matter. She just watched.

Actually, it was a little ridiculous.

Everyone knew that this kind of martial arts training place was full of tricks, but it was their territory after all. Who would especially come to correct this?

The coach did not want to bother with the girl anymore.

She looked pretty, but why was she so unreasonable?

However, the girl refused to give up. "If you don't believe me, will you fight me?"

The coach was dumbfounded.

Not to mention that he was a man. More importantly, there was a child recording a show here. It would look bad if it was recorded.

Besides, he was a Taekwondo coach. This girl was so confident. If he did not beat her, wouldn't it be embarrassing?

There were so many students around.

The girl looked at the coach's sudden expression and raised her chin. "Do you not dare?"

As soon as she finished speaking, a child's cry was heard.

She looked for the source of the voice and her expression changed. She immediately ran over.

Su Cha also saw it. It was Li Miyi.

When she saw it, she realized that Li Miyi, who had a bad temper, was still throwing a small boxing glove on the ground at the other party. The moment she saw the girl rushing over, Su Cha realized that something was wrong. She stood up, but because she was far away, she did not move too fast. The girl rushed to the crying boy's side and pushed Li Miyi away. She glared at him. "Why did you hit my brother?"

Li Miyi was pushed to the ground. He looked at her, probably because she was fierce. The girl looked intimidating when she glared at him. Li Miyi pouted and felt wronged.

The crying boy collapsed in the girl's arms and pointed at Li Miyi. "Sister, he hit me, he hit me!"

Su Cha walked over and pulled Li Miyi up. "Stand properly."

Her voice was clear and cold. After Li Miyi heard it, he felt that it was unfair that an adult suddenly joined the children's quarrel. Li Miyi had just been attacked and pushed down. When he heard Su Cha's voice, he thought that she was angry at him. He felt wronged and tears welled up in his eyes.

The production crew explained for Li Miyi through the earpiece, "Su Cha, Li Miyi didn't hit anyone. It was the child who rushed over to hit him first."

Li Miyi had a short temper. How could he bear it? Of course, he hit him back. In the end, he cried and things became like this.

Su Cha did not say anything. She had seen it.

But she did not manage to stop him.

The girl in front of her reached out to Su Cha and said coldly, "What are you recording videos for? Do you want me to sue you?"

The cameraman shivered in fear and subconsciously put down the camera. The production crew quickly sent people to the Taekwondo room and took out the camera, ending the recording.

The boy was still crying. The girl glared at Su Cha and said to Li Miyi, "Why did you hit my brother? Didn't your parents teach you?"

She thought that Su Cha was Li Miyi's parent. She was obviously scolding her.

Su Cha chuckled. Li Miyi's eyes turned red and he did not speak. Su Cha said lightly, "Miss, you are mistaken. The person who hit him is not my child, but your brother. Your brother hit him, and that child cried when he retaliated. How can you blame my child?"

Chapter 455: How Dare You Say That?

The girl was stunned. The boy cried even louder, “I didn’t hit him, I didn’t hit him!”

He refused to admit it. Su Cha said calmly, “We are recording a show. There are videos as evidence. Do you want to watch it again?”

The girl frowned. “Even if my brother hit someone first, is it right for that kid to hit him? He even made him cry!”

Li Miyi could not take it anymore. “He hit me first! He’s useless. He cried first!”

“You...”

The girl glared at him and Li Miyi shrank into Su Cha’s arms in fear.

Su Cha covered Li Miyi’s face without a trace, revealing only his big eyes. “Miss, your brother hit someone first, so why can’t this child hit him back? There’s no such logic in this world. It’s all children’s business, they should settle it themselves. As adults, it’s best for us not to interfere.”

“But my brother was beaten to tears!”

Cheng Xisha was a little angry, and she felt an inexplicable hatred for Su Cha’s casual attitude.

She did not like such a woman. She was just pretending.

Many children were watching. The Taekwondo coach also came up to mediate awkwardly. “It wasn’t intentional. Let’s take a step back and apologize to each other. They are all children, there’s no need to get involved.”

The production crew also came up. Li Miyi’s director apologized to the other party without saying anything. “I’m sorry, Miss. Our Li Miyi didn’t do it on purpose. Let us apologize to you. If anything happens to your brother, our production crew will pay all the medical fees. What do you think?”

Su Cha frowned slightly.

Why does the production crew seem to be admitting defeat?

The director was also sweating profusely. He did not want this matter to blow up. If this matter were to blow up, he did not know how the netizens who fanned the flames would make it spread.

Li Miyi pried open Su Cha's palm and shouted, "I didn't do anything wrong! I didn't hit you first!"

Usually, it was fine if he hit someone first, but this matter was clearly not his fault. Why did it seem like he had to apologize?

Children only cared about right and wrong. They would not think so much. He felt that if he did not do anything wrong, he should not apologize.

The director looked at him helplessly. He lowered his head and coaxed, "Q Ball, it's wrong of you to hit someone. Let's not talk about it. Can we go home first?"

Li Miyi felt even more wronged, especially at this time. He subconsciously looked up at Su Cha.

Su Cha lowered her head and looked at him. There was a flash of light in her cold eyes. Cheng Xisha, who was opposite her, said with amusement, "Can children who beat people up go on shows now? Just because he's good-looking? The people of your television station don't pick people well. If the children are like this, how good can their parents be?"

"Miss!"

Su Cha frowned. "It's not good for adults to intervene in a child's matter. It's wrong for Q Ball to hit someone, but it's even more wrong for your brother to hit someone first. Let them apologize to each other and take a step back. But this matter aside, why are you talking about the child's parents? Look at your brother, are you even worthy of saying this?"

Her scornful tone and harsh words stunned the production crew.

Cheng Xisha was furious. "What do you mean? Are you criticizing my parents?"

Su Cha smiled. This person... had an IQ problem.

Li Miyi could not help but point at her and say, “You were the one who criticized my parents first. Your brother also hit someone. Did your parents not teach you well?”

At the critical moment, Li Miyi was quite smart.
