

The Queen 466

Chapter 466: Why Are You Willing to Take Me On?

He hummed as if he had nothing more to say. Su Cha did not say anything and got into the car with him.

In fact, Su Cha had a question the moment she saw this man. Tan Jinsui was a mature man who was a draw to girls.

Why would a jealous person be willing to let Tan Jinsui be around her?

Bai Kun would definitely not seek death like this. Since he said that he was looking for Tan Jinsui, he must have received Bo Muyi's approval from the beginning.

Bo Muyi agreed to it. Su Cha felt that there might be a reason.

There were reasons she did not know.

“Su Cha, before I came, I'd already looked through all your current information.”

As soon as the car started, Tan Jinsui did not seem to want to say anything unnecessary. “You are currently participating in Dreams in Progress. I know this show very well. Back then, Manni went to be a judge. It was an established show, and its popularity was very strong. It would be beneficial for you to become the champion. Their so-called group plan is not suitable for you to participate in, so you have to reject it. Also, you even auditioned for a role in ‘The Legend of the Crane.’ Are you planning to both sing and act?”

As he spoke, he took off his sunglasses and looked at Su Cha.

His eyes were just like his appearance, full of a serious aura. When facing him, one could feel as if they were facing a schoolmaster.

They'd be nervous and uneasy.

But Su Cha would not feel this way.

She answered, “Yes. I planned to try other things after participating in the show. That role I auditioned for was coincidentally recommended by my mother. It’s a big production, so I naturally have to go after it.”

Su Cha did not hide it from him.

Tan Jinsui frowned. “If I were the one who led you, with my plan, you would have a better starting point. This role will not benefit you much. Your scenes will not attract the audience. Besides... forgive me for being blunt, but I don’t know your acting skills.”

Su Cha thought for a while. “I think it’s okay.”

She felt good about herself.

“...” Tan Jinsui looked at her deeply. “Are you planning to go ahead with it?”

Su Cha nodded. “Yes, Mr. Tan. Even if I could have a better starting point by going with what you say, I don’t think it’s a big deal to accumulate experience.”

Tan Jinsui: “...”

Tan Jinsui was surprised by Su Cha’s attitude.

Although ordinary people were respectful and careful in front of him, even if Su Cha’s attitude was different from that of ordinary people, Tan Jinsui would not care about it. He thought for a while and said directly, “After you become the champion of Dreams in Progress, you will begin to follow my arrangements. If you want to go and film ‘The Legend of the Crane,’ go. School will start soon. My suggestion is that you better be worthy of your scholarly persona. As long as the people who know that you are participating in the show know that you are the provincial champion, you must not fall behind in your studies after you enter university. A top student’s character setup can make you look better.”

Tan Jinsui's words were always swift and decisive. Moreover, it was a direct order. Su Cha did not take it seriously. After all, Tan Jinsui was a professional manager. His arrangement was at least for Su Cha's own good. Otherwise, he would not have taken on Su Cha's management.

With Zou Manni in the lead, Su Cha did not believe that Tan Jinsui would let his reputation as a legendary manager fall while handling Su Cha. Hence, he would definitely think of ways to make Su Cha better.

However, Su Cha said slowly, "Mr. Tan, I don't understand why you are willing to take on my management. You have to know that the person you led before was the only Heavenly Queen in the entertainment industry, Zou Manni."

Chapter 467: Reason

Tan Jinsui glanced at her. Although he did not seem to want to talk about it, he still answered, "Manni has reached the top. It will be hard for her career to improve further. I took you on because I think you are the person who has the best chance to get close to Manni's status in this era."

"Oh?"

Su Cha raised her eyebrows and did not object to Tan Jinsui's words.

Tan Jinsui was right. In this era, it was impossible to become someone like Zou Manni.

The reason why Zou Manni could become a goddess back then was that there was no competition.

In this fast-paced era, it was basically impossible to produce a real superstar.

It was because it was impossible that Tan Jinsui said that Su Cha only had "the best chance" to get close to Zou Manni's status.

This was already worthy of supreme praise.

Su Cha did not agree with him, but she did not object to Tan Jinsui's words. She smiled and looked like an ordinary 18-year-old girl.

If one ignored the occasional sharpness in her eyes.

The driver intended to send Tan Jinsui home.

Since he had become Su Cha's manager, Bai Kun had taken care of everything for him. However, Tan Jinsui was wealthy and had a huge fortune, so he might not be interested in Bai Kun's arrangements.

Hence, it was strange that he agreed to it.

After returning home, Su Cha found that Bo Muyi was already back.

It was rare for him to stand in the courtyard. Blue Sky was lying lazily beside him. Occasionally, it would shake its tail or rub its head against Bo Muyi's pants.

It really looked like a pet.

However, it stood up when it saw Su Cha.

Blue Sky gritted its teeth and growled at Su Cha, probably because it still remembered what happened last time.

Bo Muyi saw Su Cha and smiled gently. "Cha Cha, you're back?"

Su Cha skipped over and hugged Bo Muyi's arm. "Why are you back so early?"

Su Cha's appearance made Bo Muyi very happy. He lowered his head and rubbed his smooth chin on Su Cha's head. "I came back after the meeting today. What did Cha Cha do today?"

Su Cha did not mention anything else and told him about her meeting with Tan Jinsui. "I met Tan Jinsui today, but I'm curious. Why are you willing to let Tan Jinsui manage me?"

She tilted her head and looked at him. Bo Muyi smiled meaningfully. "Cha Cha, are you worried that Tan Jinsui will be bewitched by you?"

Su Cha coughed. “Why don’t you say that I might be bewitched by him?”

“Is Cha Cha not confident in me?”

Bo Muyi held her hand and said directly, “I know Tan Jinsui. He doesn’t like women.”

“It’s actually true?”

Su Cha was surprised. “Didn’t people say that he hasn’t gotten married yet because of Zou Manni? Does he really like men?”

Why was there no hint of it?

Bo Muyi suddenly sighed. “Cha Cha, there are some people who, even if you don’t like them back, will definitely keep liking you. Just like how I treated you back then...”

As he spoke, he lowered his voice. Su Cha hurriedly said, “Don’t compare others with you. It’s different now. You mean that the man Tan Jinsui likes doesn’t like him, so he hasn’t gotten married yet? How do you know about this?”

Su Cha was a little suspicious. Bo Muyi did not seem to be a gossipy person.

Chapter 468: He Has Decided

“Strictly speaking, Tan Jinsui used to be related to the Bo family through his family. However, they are very distant relatives. I called him Uncle. Back then, it was because of the person he liked that he was expelled by the Tan family and became a manager in the entertainment industry. For so many years, the Tan family had wanted him to go back, but he was unwilling to.”

Bo Muyi kept looking at Su Cha as he spoke.

He seemed to be recalling something. Su Cha looked into his deep eyes and suddenly shuddered.

She had a feeling that this matter would eventually involve her.

But she did not know Tan Jinsui, and Muyi did not say that she knew him. Could it be that he liked him?

As she was deep in thought, Bo Muyi interrupted her. "Alright, Cha Cha, Tan Jinsui is a professional. With him around, I can rest assured. If anything happens in the future, apart from him, you can also look for Bai Kun."

Su Cha nodded and entered the room with Bo Muyi.

Late at night, Su Cha entered the room to practice her singing. The old lady called Bo Muyi over.

Under the bright light, the old lady's face was still as elegant as before. She quietly looked at the outstanding and handsome man in front of her. She could vaguely see the appearance of his grandfather when he was young. All the men in the Bo family were like this. They were long-lost, loving, and heartless.

"Aren't you going to tell her about the Zong family?"

The servant had brewed a cup of calming tea for him. He was elegantly surrounded by hot steam. When facing others, his expression was cold and gloomy.

"I went to see him today."

Bo Muyi looked at the old lady, his eyes deep and indifferent. "He said that this is good. The past is over. As long as she is happy, it doesn't matter if she's lost her memory."

The old lady: "So you plan to keep her in the dark forever?"

Bo Muyi: "No. She's smarter than you think."

He remained silent for a long time.

Then, the old lady sighed silently. "Since this is his idea, let's do it."

“I just can’t help wondering, was what happened to him back then really an accident?”

The man suddenly curved his lips slowly. That smile made her heart shudder for no reason. The old lady’s heart skipped a beat. “Who do you suspect?”

He looked at the old lady with a hint of mockery. “Who do you think it is, Grandma?”

“They don’t dare to do such a thing. That is a declaration of war against the aristocratic families. You should know what Su Cha has done. I don’t believe that woman can do such a heartless thing.”

Bo Muyi’s smile deepened. “Even if she can’t do it, can’t Zuo Shaoxin?”

The old lady’s lips twitched.

As if she thought of something, the old lady’s eyes flickered.

“It has always been strange that Cha Cha lost her memory. What exactly happened back then to make her lose her memory to this extent? She keeps saying that she can’t remember anything that happened to her, but I think she does.”

After Bo Muyi finished speaking, he stood up and looked at the old lady respectfully. “Grandma, if there’s nothing else, I’ll leave first.”

After he left, the old lady closed her eyes and tried to calm herself down.

The butler who was waiting on her said worriedly, “Is Young Master suspecting the Zuo family?”

“He’s not suspicious.”

The old lady opened her eyes and said sharply, “He has already determined it!”

Chapter 469: You Want to Bring Up a Newbie?

When Bo Muyi returned, Su Cha was still practicing her songs.

She felt it the moment he came back.

The man leaned against the door and looked at her. The scene was beautiful and peaceful.

Su Cha could not help but smile when she saw him.

Her smile made his eyes flicker.

Cha Cha, there's something I am hiding from you, so I also won't ask about what you are hiding. Let's call it even.

After everything is settled, I will stay and spend the rest of my life with you, okay?

Tan Jinsui's return attracted the attention of some people. The photo of him coming down from the airport was taken and posted online.

Today's entertainment gossip headline: "Netizens have filmed a famous ace manager, Tan Jinsui, returning to the country from the airport. However, there has been no news of the Heavenly Queen Zou Manni's schedule recently. So, is Manager Tan returning to the country ahead of schedule?"

"Ahhhhh, our Uncle Tan is so handsome!! So handsome that I can't close my legs!"

"Uncle Tan, I beg you to debut on your own, okay?! With your looks, you can beat the so-called middle generation."

"His looks and figure are simply going to waste because he's not in the entertainment industry!"

"If he's returned to the country, does that mean that he has a schedule to follow? Is Manni coming back?"

“I haven’t heard anything about my Manni’s new album in years. Can Uncle Tan give me a confirmation...”

“Sigh, if other managers have such good looks, how can the fresh meat celebrities bear it?”

Tan Jinsui’s popularity in the country was not lower than that of ordinary celebrities. He had the label of a legendary manager on him. Together with Zou Manni, the legendary queen, and his own mysterious charm, he was one of the top ten unsolved mysteries in the entertainment industry.

His return to the country had caused a small stir. Of course, most people thought that he returned to the country because of Zou Manni’s itinerary. Many of Zou Manni’s fans started to wonder if Zou Manni would reveal any new information in the near future.

Ever since the child of the Heavenly Queen went to middle school, she had been sitting at home for several years and had not given her fans any confirmation.

Occasionally, someone would capture her face in a photo or she’d be photographed playing somewhere, which made the fans vomit blood.

The news of Tan Jinsui’s return was not leaked to anyone, so many people were surprised when they saw it.

Some people who had Tan Jinsui’s contact details asked him if he came back for something.

After all, if it concerned Zou Manni, no matter what happened, there would be a lot of traffic. Many advertisers and media companies would take action.

“No.”

Tan Jinsui had just returned to the country and had a jet lag. When he woke up, he saw hundreds of missed calls. With a headache, he picked a friend he was familiar with and replied. The other party directly asked if Zou Manni had an activity, but he denied it.

After pouring himself a cup of water, Tan Jinsui took a sip. “Manni will not have any activity plans for the next few years. Unless she is willing, I will not help her. I have to shift my focus here. I came back to bring up a newbie.”

“What? A newbie? Am I deaf or are you crazy?”

The person on the other end of the phone did not dare to believe it. The roar made Tan Jinsui’s head ache even more. He said coldly, “I will hang up if you speak louder.”

The friend quickly shut his mouth, but he could not help but be shocked. “But... am I really deaf? You just said that you want to bring up a newbie?”

Chapter 470: That Is Convenience

Bringing up newcomers was such a scary thing.

Tan Jinsui was famous in the industry because he had only brought up Zou Manni, who did not used to be very famous in the industry.

They also had an agency.

At that time, Zou Manni’s reputation had been rising. The company thought that Tan Jinsui was very capable and planned to let him take care of Zou Manni while he took care of others.

But Tan Jinsui did not agree, even if the newcomer was the child of the company’s leader.

Because of this matter, Tan Jinsui offended the company’s leader. The other party even said ruthlessly to ban Zou Manni.

In the end, this guy was too stubborn. He directly brought Zou Manni out of the company and betrayed them. He did not even blink when faced with the sky-high compensation. Even though he suffered a lot because of the previous company’s ban, it turned out that talents were everywhere. He and Zou Manni were independent studios, and with luck, Zou Manni’s album became popular.

The high price of the breach of contract was just a spokesperson fee for Zou Manni.

She had been in the industry with Tan Jinsui for more than ten years. They had a deep relationship. Even when Zou Manni got married and had children, they did not change.

For so many years, many people had wanted to give Tan Jinsui the newbie they had. They even offered a sky-high contract fee to poach Tan Jinsui over. Tan Jinsui did not agree to it, not even when shares were on offer.

After that, Zou Manni gradually stopped filming and focused on her family. Tan Jinsui also gradually quietened down. He did not mention taking on a newbie. Also, the famous “I will protect Manni forever” made many people believe that Tan Jinsui would not take anyone else on.

As a manager, he abided by his duty. Even though his appearance was outstanding and his popularity was comparable to some celebrities, he had never done anything that was unbecoming of a manager.

Now, many years had passed, and he had become a legend. Just when everyone thought that he would never be able to return to the world like Zou Manni, he suddenly came back without warning. The first thing he said to his friends was, “I’m going to take care of a newbie.”

Friend: “Go to hell.”

Tan Jinsui took out a cigarette and lit it up. He took a deep breath and said, “I’ve been idling overseas recently. Someone recommended a newbie, and I thought it was okay, so I agreed.”

Friend: “?????? When you had nothing to do, did you ask the people in the country? Brother, do you know how many people want to place newcomers in your hands?! You actually told me that you agreed because you had nothing to do? You think it’s okay? How many of the top heavenly kings and heavenly queens nowadays wanted to be led by you? Did you agree? Do you think they are not qualified enough? That’s right. After all, no one can match up to your Manni. So is this newbie from the heavens? You think it’s okay! ”

He had sent him so many messages in the past to urge him to return to work, but he had sent them all to the dogs?

Tan Jinsui narrowed his eyes. After taking in smoke, he put out the rest of the cigarette in the ashtray. “This is different. It’s completely different from Manni’s situation. As for who it is, you will know soon. When the time comes, I will promote her. It will definitely be announced. It’s getting late. It will be next week. If you are willing, you can spread the news first.”

His friend was stunned. “Don’t you hate hype?”

Tan Jinsui: “This is not a publicity stunt. This is a reasonable use of my fame.”

Friend: “...”

Bullshit, that’s just hype!
