

The Queen 851

Chapter 851: Am I Right?

“If I didn’t come out, what did you intend to do with the Killing Alliance?”

After Lian Chi said this, he looked at Lady Seventeen behind him. Lady Seventeen felt a chill down her spine and silently closed the door and walked out.

Greya snorted. “I don’t intend to do anything.”

Lian Chi walked over and squatted in front of Greya. He suddenly picked up a doll that she had thrown aside and handed it to her.

Greya looked at Lian Chi and suddenly smiled innocently. “Lian Chi, do you think I don’t know what you’re thinking? You must be jealous that she’s so happy with someone else, right? What a pity, you don’t have a chance.”

As she spoke, Lian Chi tightened his grip on the doll.

It was as if he could see the doll being squeezed into a small ball in his hand. His knuckles were white. It was obvious how much strength he had used.

It also showed that he was not very happy to hear this.

“I don’t know what you’re talking about. I’ve said it before. I don’t have any thoughts about her. The past is in the past.”

“If you don’t, then why did you go see her?”

Greya’s clear eyes stared at Lian Chi. Although she had a cute and innocent face, her eyes were sometimes so empty that it made one’s heart tighten.

Especially when she was staring at Lian Chi without blinking.

Lian Chi smiled and threw the doll away. “She has questions about me. Can’t I explain things to her face? Do you care about this?”

As he spoke, his fingers seemed to want to tease Greya’s cheek, but he suddenly felt a pain on his arm. He frowned quickly and raised his arm to reveal a tolerant expression. He saw a centipede quickly slide across his arm.

His pupils constricted as he looked at Greya. Greya jumped off the chair and walked to the side. “Lian Chi, you disgust me.”

“Put away your tricks. I’m not interested in you.”

She picked up the doll and held it in her arms. She had just thrown it away casually, but now she seemed to like it very much. She could not bear to let go and looked at Lian Chi like this. “What I want to do has nothing to do with you. I don’t care what you want to do with the Killing Alliance. Don’t forget that I’m the Alliance Master and you are the Vice Alliance Master. Now that the Hall Master of Tree Hall, who is under you, has been captured, you’ve become just a bunch of trash. You can’t beat someone with the surname Bo at all. Besides, maybe the person in your eyes already knows your identity?”

Lian Chi’s expression changed. “What did you do?”

Greya smiled sweetly. “You should know what I did.”

Her words were clearly that of a little girl, but they exuded a sinister aura.

“You think you can beat him because he had a soft spot in the past? Now, this soft spot has become an existence without any scruples. What else do you think you can do? If I were you, I would first use the power of the Killing Alliance to kill the Lian family and break away from the Killing Alliance. It would no longer matter, and no one would ever suspect me.”

She hugged the doll in her arms and kissed it before looking at Lian Chi again. “Isn’t that right?”

Lian Chi looked at Greya. His gentle expression had completely turned cold. It turned into an extremely cold face with a hint of gloominess.

Chapter 852: Birthday Gift

Perhaps this was his true appearance. He became gloomy and fell into the darkness.

He had worn the mask for too long and forgot to take it off. He almost thought that he was really like that.

He had never been happy since he returned to the Lian family.

No one knew how he had lived for so many years.

To become an illegitimate child who was mocked and despised by everyone was worse than death.

Greya was even happier. "Look, this is what you should be like. You can do whatever you want. You could have helped me kill that old thing back then. If you don't dare to attack now, why don't I help you? I can guarantee that everything in the Lian family will be yours. No one can hinder you. As a repayment..."

Greya's face darkened. "Don't interfere with the Killing Alliance. You don't have to worry about what I want to do."

She did have the ability.

She could do it.

He closed his eyes and seemed to be thinking about something. After a long time, he opened his eyes and said slowly, "We can't do anything right now. I haven't gotten hold of some important documents from the old man. I will inform you when I find out where they are."

After saying this, Lian Chi turned and walked out of the door.

From the shadows, Qi He walked out. He looked at Greya with a rare look of worry. "You know that he will burn the bridge after crossing it. He wants the entire Killing Alliance."

“I know.”

Greya said softly, “I won’t let him have his way.”

On the surface, the world was peaceful.

As the New Year approached, people started to prepare the goods. Large red lanterns were hung around the Lookout Pavilion.

This was the first time in so many years that Su Cha truly experienced the feeling of the new year.

She used to live like an outsider in her so-called father’s house. Now that everything had improved, she felt much happier.

This year, she and Bo Muiyi planned to spend the New Year with the Zong family while the old lady would return to the Ye family.

In the past, it was said that Bo Muiyi was always alone at home during the New Year.

Perhaps that was what he meant when he said that he would not celebrate the New Year. He was still very busy, but everything was different this year.

While Su Cha was busy with embroidery, she did not forget anything else. The New Year was not just the new year. Soon after it, it was Bo Muiyi’s birthday.

Yes, it was so strange.

However, there were thousands of people in the world. Some would celebrate their birthdays on such a special occasion.

However, when he was born, the fortune-teller said that this was a good day. They would be together forever and have a happy family. In the end, after his parents' accident, he became quite conflicted about birthdays.

Even if it was not his birthday, it was the Lantern Festival. He found it ironic.

Hence, after he grew up, his birthday became no different from usual. He had never invited anyone else.

He had always been a loner.

When Su Cha first found out about this, her heart ached.

However, it would be different with her by his side in the future.

She wanted to officially give Bo Muye a gift. Since she was good at embroidery, she naturally wanted to start from this aspect.

However, after thinking about it, she did not find anything suitable. The crafts were very big, and it was not appropriate to wear it for a long time. Other than that, the only thing she could do was to modify the clothes.

She was very good at this, but Bo Muye's habit regarding clothes was that he would not wear anything a second time. It was not appropriate to give such to him.

It was hard to imagine that he would hesitate to change his obsession with cleanliness for the sake of her gift.

Chapter 853: It's Her Again, Again!

But soon, Su Cha thought of a way.

She would just make a simple tie for him.

The tie was very convenient and an everyday item. If the pattern was similar to modern designs, Bo Muye could also match it with suitable clothes. It was the best of both worlds.

As long as it was her birthday gift, he would be happy no matter what. No matter what, Su Cha wanted to make it more detailed.

However, the most important thing now was to prepare the embroidery works.

Ever since she announced that she had a boyfriend last time, she had been very quiet. The media could not get an interview for more news. Now, she was busy with embroidery at home all day, but the trending searches did not let her off.

Actually, this matter was also very unexpected. There were rumors that Su Cha was Zong Bingyi's granddaughter. Zong Bingyi had said it himself at a banquet.

Who was Zong Bingyi?

Zong Bingyi's family was a red family[1]. It was just that he began doing business on his own later on. He did not have much to do with the Imperial Court, but he still had connections. After being in business for so many years, he also became a famous tycoon. He had always lived in the Imperial Capital. Compared to others, he was much more low-key.

Many people said that he once had a son, but later on, something suddenly happened to his son. Zong Bingyi started to become depressed. All these years, other than the matters in the company, people had never heard any news about the Zong family.

But recently, someone said that the eldest son of the Zong family had now almost recovered. Old Master Zong was drinking happily at an important dinner. After saying a few more words, he revealed that Su Cha was his granddaughter. There were also a few celebrities present who had finally made it into the entertainment industry. When they heard this, they were shocked. When they returned, they talked to their friends, and the news was exposed.

Some who heard the news took this information and submitted it anonymously to a marketing account. This matter was then made public.

When the celebrities who had participated in the banquet saw the news, they panicked for a while. In the end, they saw that the Zong family did not react. They clearly tacitly agreed to this matter, so the celebrities heaved a sigh of relief.

In contrast, the rest of the entertainment industry was dumbfounded.

Wasn't it said that she was with someone from the Imperial Mu Group? Why did she now become the Zong family's little princess?

And wasn't there a mention of the Zuo family before that?

However, everyone knew that the Zuo family and the Zong family had been enemies for many years.

Although the business operations of the two families were different, businessmen more or less got involved with one another. However, they had never seen the Zong family having any connection with the Zuo family. There was also news from the higher-ups that the Zong family and the Zuo family had a long-standing conflict. Old Master Zong disliked the Zuo family.

That's not right. How could the little princess of the Zong family have a sugar daddy?

Could she not use the Zong family's resources?

However, it was acknowledged that she indeed had a background.

Huayu Entertainment Official: "There has been a mysterious dinner recently. It is said that Old Master Zong personally said that Su Cha is his granddaughter? The authenticity of the news has not been confirmed yet. The Zong family has not publicly responded to this matter."

"It's her again, it's her again!"

"What a joke. If she was really the little princess of the Zong family, how could she have gotten to this point?"

"I believe that her aura is not from an ordinary family..."

"But she is indeed the provincial champion from Tianyang. Her surname is Su. That was her name used during the college entrance examination. It can't be that she changed her name very early, right? How did she become a member of the Zong family?"

“Those people must have drunk too much during a meal. How can a meal involve a celebrity from the entertainment industry? Why would a banquet full of business people have a low-profile topic?”

[1] Descended from the working class and communist party members

Chapter 854: Spoken

Not many people believed it.

Su Cha was the real champion of Tianyang Province. Many reporters had dug up everything.

And Zhai Yao's ex-boyfriend.

Yes, Zhai Yao, who had sunk low.

Which rich girl would do something like that?

It couldn't be some melodramatic story about her being acknowledged later by her parents, right?

After the news broke, many people felt that this matter was purely nonsense.

The Zong family did not clarify at the first moment. Perhaps they felt that there was no need to clarify. A small celebrity wanted to pull these wealthy families into the water to clear her name. The Zong family would not lower themselves to her level.

There were many such people in the industry. Some people would even say that they were descended from certain lineages. It had been a long time since people were convinced by anything. The things celebrities did became progressively worse, but the people from those distinguished lineages did not deny it.

Hence, everyone felt that this was fake and unbelievable.

Anyone could tell that Old Master Zong did not look like Su Cha at all.

[The biggest joke of the year is that someone is the Zong family's granddaughter.]

OP: "I thought she hadn't done anything recently, but in the end, she still did. She just debuted this year. How many times has she been on the trending searches? Seriously. Why did she have to do this to clear her name? Now, she even dragged the Zong family into it. The old master of the Zong family doesn't care about the entertainment industry. If a small celebrity who was being kept by someone said that she was his granddaughter, wouldn't he be angry?"

1L: "This matter... Hmm, there are currently doubts. The main issue is that the marketing account that exposed it at the beginning is quite credible. Ordinary people would not dare to say anything about this..."

2L: "Isn't it more sudden that we're talking about the Zong family? Why do I feel that this matter is quite credible?"

3L: "If she really grew up in an ordinary family, it's hard to explain why she has such a good temperament. She must really be a rich person."

4L: "Nowadays, the entertainment industry is whitewashing people and changing tactics, right? Isn't it common for people in the entertainment industry to vaguely say that they have a noble background or some other powerful family background? If they peel off their skin off, their faces will still be swollen. An aristocrat's friends would all be in the upper-class circle. The reason why they don't clarify is that they don't want to lower themselves to the level of these small celebrities. They want to crush these people like they're crushing ants. Would a lion bother with a toad?"

5L: "You are getting out of hand. Even bringing a toad into this. Why don't you f*cking find a toad that looks like Su Cha for me to see?"

6L: "It's indeed amazing to be rich. You can't belittle others like this. No matter what, this matter was spread by others. Why are they mocking Su Cha?"

When Su Cha saw this news, the first thing she thought of was that Zong Bingyi must have been drunk.

The main reason was that this matter was rather awkward. Outsiders were just watching the show, and the upper-class society was purely watching a joke.

They were well-informed. Everyone knew that Su Cha was the daughter of the Zuo family, but she did not return to the Zuo family. Instead, she stayed with the Zong family.

Although the young master of the Zong family had woken up, it was rumored that he had a relationship with the current Zuo family's wife. Their relationship was simply chaotic.

Of course, because there was still Bo Mui, no one dared to say anything in front of others. They only dared to discuss privately.

Now that Zong Bingyi had said that, the matter had blown up.

The Zuo family did not look good either.

Su Cha called Zong Yanxiu immediately. When he received the call, Zong Yanxiu smiled awkwardly. "You saw the news, Xiao Cha."

Chapter 855: Zong Family's Little Princess

Su Cha raised her eyebrows. "Father, I'm a celebrity. Do you think I won't know about this?"

Zong Yanxiu sounded a little guilty. "I've already told your grandfather. He just happened to mention this topic when he went to attend a banquet. Your grandfather drank a little too much and let it slip."

In fact, Su Cha did not blame him.

His slip of the tongue proved that Zong Bingyi thought of Su Cha as his granddaughter.

She was touched, but she was also helpless.

Su Cha continued, "It's fine. Don't worry about it. Let others think that it's a rumor. If no one cares, it will pass quickly."

The main reason was that this kind of anonymous revelation did not seem credible to outsiders. As long as they did not deal with it, it would pass quickly.

After hanging up, Zong Yanxiu returned to the hall. He saw Zong Bingyi in a suit walking out. He pulled his jacket in high spirits. "I'm going out for a while. There's a company meeting today. There's a product launch that has to be held. I have to watch it. Come and help me when you have time."

"It's not convenient for me to go like this. Let's decide on the time."

Zong Yanxiu had no choice. He was still going to be in a wheelchair for a long time to come and wanted to wait until he had fully recovered before going out.

Just as he was about to enter, he suddenly thought of something. "There's a product launch. Wouldn't there be reporters? Dad, remember not to say anything you shouldn't."

Zong Bingyi immediately understood what he was referring to. He straightened his neck and glared. "Little bastard, what did I say? It's not your place to teach me a lesson!"

Then, he walked out.

Seeing his reaction, Zong Yanxiu shook his head with a smile and pushed the wheelchair back to his room.

At the company's product launch, Zong Bingyi was hale and hearty. He had a strong aura, and it was hard to tell that he was not at home.

He was just here to give a public speech for the press conference. After he finished speaking, the meeting was over. Just as it was about to end, a reporter suddenly asked an irrelevant question, "Chairman Zong, now everyone knows about a topic online that involves you. Someone said that the recently popular female celebrity, Su Cha, is your granddaughter. I want to know, is this true? Don't you need to clarify it here?"

Everyone fell silent.

The employees of Zong Bingyi's company were stunned. No one knew why this reporter suddenly asked this question. Wasn't he just here to mess things up?

The host quickly wanted to change the topic and ask someone to chase this reporter out. Unexpectedly, at that moment, Zong Bingyi answered very naturally, "What should I clarify? She is indeed my granddaughter. She likes to sing and act, so we let her be. Anyway, I can't control her. It's all her father's fault. But this matter has nothing to do with the product launch. Don't ask irrelevant questions next time."

Boom!

Everyone exploded at his words. No one remembered the product launch. Even if they asked the next question, their hearts were already flying towards the center of the gossip.

Su Cha was really Zong Bingyi's granddaughter!!!

Her background was so shocking. Why were there rumors in the industry that Su Cha had a sugar daddy?

It seemed that this was purely a slap in the face. So she was the Zong family's little princess!

Chapter 856: Shock

Even though the reporters were in charge of different channels, gossip was part of human nature. Soon, someone posted the interview on the Internet and it officially exploded.

[Shocking! Su Cha is the daughter of the Zong Corporation!]

[Zong Bingyi, the Chairman of the Zong Group, has personally acknowledged Su Cha as his granddaughter.]

[So it was all a joke. Zong Bingyi's words broke all the rumors in the industry.]

The netizens were shocked. Everyone had been mocking Su Cha and did not believe the rumor.

In the end, Su Cha was really Zong Bingyi's granddaughter?

Granddaughter!

The daughter of the Zong Corporation!

Shao Tianwen and Mu Jiao were shocked.

Wait a minute. Didn't they all think that Su Cha had a deep relationship with the Imperial Mu Group? In the end, she was the daughter of the Zong Corporation. What was going on?

What was the relationship between Tan Yeluo and Su Cha?

"What relationship? It's okay!"

Tan Jinsui kept receiving calls from the reporters. Everyone wanted to know the truth about this matter. They also wanted to give Su Cha an exclusive interview to investigate how she had managed to hide her identity as the daughter of the Zong Corporation from the entertainment industry until now.

There were also people who went to ask the Zong Corporation's employees. They were also puzzled. At least during this period of time, they had never heard of the Chairman having a granddaughter. They only knew that he had a son.

However, perhaps it was because others hid it well, it was normal for them not to know, right?

"Sorry, this is their private secret. We can't tell you."

"No, no, no. Su Cha has nothing to do with her grandfather's career. Please contact the Zong Corporation directly."

"Yes, no, we refuse."

Seeing Tan Jinsui, who was busy answering the phone, Su Cha sat in the office with her chin on her hand, thinking about something.

After hanging up, Tan Jinsui finally rested for a while. He stopped to take a sip of water. "Why couldn't your grandfather consider other people's feelings, including yours, when he does things?"

Su Cha glanced up at him. "He doesn't care about my feelings, let alone yours."

She did not know that Zong Bingyi had admitted it directly.

It was not enough that he had been exposed at the banquet. Now that he had admitted it to the reporter, it was equivalent to putting Su Cha at the center of attention. However, it also had many benefits.

She took a washed apple and took a bite. "Finally, no one will say that Bo Muyi is my sugar daddy."

Tan Jinsui rolled his eyes. Just then, a call came.

When he ended the call, he continued to deal with people outside.

There were both good and bad things about Su Cha announcing her identity. Even if someone saw her as a joke, she was still part of high society. They would not take the initiative to leak the news.

As for outsiders, they would simply think that Su Cha was the little princess of the Zong Corporation.

There were also many people who wanted to suck up to Su Cha. There would definitely be more people who wanted to give her resources.

The disadvantage was that Hiberia would soon announce her identity as the Asian region's spokesperson. Originally, she had relied on her own face to become the spokesperson. Now that this matter had been exposed, many people would probably think that she had relied on her status as the daughter of the Zong Corporation to become the spokesperson.

However, to a certain extent, the Zong Corporation was inferior to the Hiberia Group.

After all, one was world-class while the other was just a wealthy Chinese businessman. The real competitor was the Imperial Mu Group.

If the netizens found out that the president of the Imperial Mu Group was her boyfriend, they would really blow up, right?

Chapter 857: This Is the Truth

The New Year's drama releases came out one after the other. Su Cha's drama had not officially been broadcasted, but her popularity was almost comparable to that of an A-list celebrity.

The main reason was that the news about her kept coming.

Previously, people did not understand her resources, but now they understood.

Her spot at Chanel and as the second female lead of "The Legend of the Crane" seemed to have been won by the Zong Corporation.

Then came the question of the industry insiders. Didn't they say that Su Cha had a deep relationship with the Imperial Mu Group?

The Imperial Mu Group had targeted Zhang Sen Media directly. Then, what role did the Imperial Mu Group play in Su Cha's life?

They thought about how Su Cha had admitted that she had a boyfriend. As the daughter of the Zong Corporation, she could not possibly be the mistress of some higher-ups. It was very likely that her partner was an unmarried higher-up of the Imperial Mu Group.

However, when the media pulled up the information about the upper echelons of the Imperial Mu Group, they found that those who were qualified to influence the implementation of some measures of the Imperial Mu Group, well... basically all of them were in their fifties or sixties. Their sons and daughters were almost all older than Su Cha.

The only young executive was overseas. He was in his thirties and had a steady girlfriend.

The answer was too obvious.

If it was someone at the highest position, 25 years old, an outstanding young man, mysterious, unmarried, and powerful...

But at the thought of this person, everyone eliminated him uniformly.

Impossible.

Such a god-like existence, even if Su Cha was the daughter of the Zong Corporation, she did not seem to match up to him at all.

Besides, the man had admitted to having a wife in a magazine interview.

Wife.

Su Cha only had a boyfriend. The way he addressed his partner was different. Soon, the people who were investigating heaved a sigh of relief and quickly dismissed the possibility between these two people who were not equal.

Just the thought of that person gave them a magical feeling.

It was not that they were not allowed to think about it, but that they were not able to think about it!

Just like that, the most likely person was eliminated because of such an unbelievable reason. As a result, when the truth was exposed in the future, it really caused a century of sensation.

However, even if Zong Bingyi had revealed Su Cha's identity as the daughter of the Zong Corporation, it did not affect Su Cha generally. Instead, some people came to apologize, including the program director of Dreams in Progress.

People were all like this. They praised the high and stepped on the low.

Back then, Su Cha did not have any status. Even if someone had helped her take revenge, they still looked down on her.

Now that they had confirmed Su Cha's identity, they suddenly felt that things were now different. They came to apologize in fear and trepidation, afraid that Su Cha would bear a grudge for a long time.

Su Cha did not know whether to laugh or cry.

Of course, during this period of time, she would occasionally see people asking about Jin Jiayu and Qin Bei. Why did it feel like they had not heard from them for a long time?

Someone who had received the news said that Qin Bei had gone overseas. As she did not have the face to stay in the country, Jin Jiayu also went overseas to relax for some reason.

Perhaps no one would ever know that they were forever buried in a valley on the outskirts of the Imperial Capital. They had paid an eternal price for what they had done.

Not long after, they, who had not appeared for a long time, would be completely replaced by the entertainment industry, where information exchange flowed rapidly. Perhaps after a long time, someone would say, "Does anyone remember that there were once female celebrities called Jin Jiayu and Qin Bei?"

Perhaps someone would ask, who are they?

This was the truth.

Chapter 858: The Announcement of the Hiberia Endorsement

Hiberia's announcement was direct and fierce.

On the day before the Chinese New Year, Hiberia's official Weibo account suddenly posted a message.

Official Weibo account of Hiberia China: “On this special day, we would like to present a piece of good news to the vast majority of Hiberia’s consumers. From now on, Hiberia will set up an Asian brand ambassador. @Su Cha will become the first brand ambassador in Asia. We will work together with @Su Cha to offer better Hiberia products to the world. She is the Muse in the heart of Hiberia’s chief designer, Augusta Fraser. Next, we look forward to drawing a superb piece of inspiration with this Muse!”

“Wow, I’m looking forward to it!!!! I’m looking forward to it!!!”

“They actually set up an Asian brand ambassadorship for Su Cha...”

“What’s going on? Am I blind? Why did I see such a bolt from the blue!”

“Hehe, I didn’t expect your brand to be so vulgar. I won’t buy from you from now on!”

“Don’t make me laugh to death when you say that you don’t want to buy from them. Take out the list of what you’ve bought before and let me see which products you bought are from Hiberia. If you say that you don’t want to buy skincare products that cost tens of thousands, will it affect the entire corporation? Hahahahahaha, there are really so many people with secretly impressive backgrounds on Weibo! How dare they say it’s vulgar when the young lady of the Zong Corporation endorsed it?”

“It has already been announced that she is an authentic heiress, yet people still mock her. But I want to know, did the brand know her identity beforehand or only found out later?”

“The designer was amazed by her, so they directly set up an Asian region endorsement deal for her?”

“Those who said that Su Cha did not have a luxury endorsement deal can basically go to the dogs. How is this not luxury? Someone was just holding back to make a bigger splash!”

[I don’t dare to mock her now, really...]

OP: “It was already too much that her identity as the Zong Corporation’s young lady had been announced. I didn’t expect that on top of it, Hiberia would have held back a big move for this moment. She is also the first person in history who has ever had an Asian regional brand ambassadorship made for her. OP, you are also considered half an industry insider. Let’s not even talk about her getting it with her status. The value of the Hiberia Group and the Zong Corporation are completely incomparable. There’s no need for Hiberia to give the daughter of that organization so much face. The chief designer has really taken a fancy to her. They revealed an even crazier piece of news to everyone. Originally, I heard that the chief designer wanted to directly give her the identity of the global ambassador, but the previous endorsement deal has not yet expired. It’s still for two more years. Moreover, the higher-ups did not agree with it. The Asian region was only given to her after as a compromise. However, if Su Cha doesn’t become a demon these next two years and the chief designer still likes her then, I reckon that she will become the global ambassador in two years...”

“My friends posted on their Moments that everything about Su Cha was faked. She did not have a luxury endorsement because the big brands did not like her. I just went to take a look and my friends had deleted these posts...”

“Hahahahahahaha, Hiberia is a fatal blow.”

“I feel that many people have yet to recover from the fact that she is the daughter of the Zong Corporation when another bomb has been set off.”

“Hey, I feel that this matter is not over yet. There must still be explosive news waiting for us on her, right?”

“Why is she so awesome? She’s the daughter of the Zong Corporation and is so beautiful. Her grades at the end of the semester were still better than others, and now... Sigh, it’s really infuriating to compare oneself with others.”

Chapter 859: Sister, Come and See Her Once

Many people thought that what was happening with Su Cha was exactly how it looked.

Money could really do anything.

There was nothing to ridicule about the matter of the Asian brand endorsement deal. Su Cha did not have a luxury brand endorsement deal nor a medium endorsement deal before, but Hiberia had completely made up for her vacancy, not to mention that she was directly made into the brand's spokesperson.

Even if people wanted to mock her, how could they?

Should they say that Hiberia was not good enough?

They would soon be criticized by thousands of Hiberia's consumers.

A brand that sold a set of skincare products worth tens of thousands of yuan could not be provoked.

After Su Cha became the spokesperson, many people in the industry called her to congratulate her.

Even Mu Jiao expressed her envy. "With my status, I don't know when I can get such an endorsement in this lifetime. Su Cha, I'm really envious of you."

Su Cha smiled lightly. "You will, Sister Mu Jiao."

"I know my own worth."

She sighed. "People take different paths."

She was not jealous of Su Cha, but she was a little emotional. She knew that she was different.

"You have such a good starting point. I know that you also follow a principle in your heart. If you want to continue being in the entertainment industry from now on, don't accept scripts that are obviously problematic. Not only do you have to look at the script, but you also have to look at the team. These days, if you don't end up with a good team, it's also harmful."

Actually, it was easy to come across a good script. The key was whether a team could do it.

Nowadays, many good scripts had fallen because of the team. There were also many people who caused trouble. Many such things happened, and others would only push the blame on the actors.

After all, people could only see the actors and not what was happening behind them.

Mu Jiao was also reminding Su Cha out of goodwill so that she would not be cheated in the future that could cause a change in her reputation.

For example, The Legend of the Crane was a good starting point. They just had to see how the viewership ratings would turn out.

“Okay, I understand. Thank you, Sister Mu Jiao.”

After hanging up, Su Cha felt much more relaxed. Now that the endorsement for Hiberia had been confirmed, she would participate in the advertisement shoot after the New Year. For now, she just had to manage the embroidery work for the banquet.

As embroidery was very precious, there could not be any mistakes. At present, Bo Muyi had remodeled a room for her to do embroidery.

There was once when she saw Blue Sky sneaking around outside the door. If she had not moved quickly that time, Blue Sky’s tongue would have licked her embroidery. She was quite frightened. If Blue Sky had licked it, her work would have been ruined. Later on, it was dragged out and beaten up. Blue Sky was so angry that it ignored her for a few days. Now, it no longer came over.

The woman who’d hit a lion was also heroic.

However, not everyone was doing well. At this moment, Su Cha received a call from Zuo Zhici. She was flustered on the other end of the phone, and her voice was filled with despair and sadness.

“Sister, can you come to the hospital once? Just once. Mom can’t take it anymore...”

She could not take it anymore.

Su Cha did not expect this at all.

She was just hospitalized at that time. Why did she suddenly deteriorate?

She immediately suspected that Zuo Zhici was lying to her, but on the other end of the phone, she was crying so hard that she could not breathe. She was almost speechless. "She can't even eat now."

Su Cha kept silent when she heard her crying.

She knew that Zuo Zhici did not have such good acting skills.

Chapter 860: She Is Innocent

"Why did she suddenly get worse?"

She did not hang up. She just listened to Zuo Zhici crying on the other end of the phone. "I don't know either. She has been hospitalized this entire time, but now, she can't even eat. The doctor said that everything in her body is normal. She just doesn't have any spirit or strong motivation. If this continues, her body will naturally decline. Something will happen. The doctor might..."

Zuo Zhici tried her best to speak while sobbing.

She really regretted it.

Actually, she felt sorry for her sister, but if she had to choose now, she would rather not have gone to the Zong family and not know about those things. She would not have brought it back to ask her mother. Her mother would not have fainted from the shock, and such a thing would not be happening now.

She was really afraid. Nanfan was still so young. Nanfan had not grown up yet. He could not lose his mother!

Besides, Daddy, what should I do without Mommy?

During the time she was in the hospital, she could see that her father was also haggard.

He looked stronger than anyone else, but in fact, he was in more pain than anyone else.

If something really happened to her mother, Zuo Zhici did not dare to think about her future.

She knew where Ruan Yin's knot was. If Su Cha was willing to meet her, just one meeting would do. Perhaps there was still hope for this matter.

Su Cha remained silent.

There was silence in her ears. It was so quiet that other than Zuo Zhici's cries, she could only hear her heart beating slowly.

Plop. Plop.

It was very quiet and normal.

It meant that she was not strongly affected by this matter.

But wasn't this too far of a leap?

It shouldn't be like this. The person lying on the bed shouldn't be her but Zuo Shaoxin.

Su Cha clenched her fists.

It was up to her to decide whether to go or not.

"Let me think about it."

She did not reject Zuo Zhici directly, but she could not get over the barrier in her heart. Although she said that she was considering it, there was a high chance that she would not go.

When Bo Muyi returned, she looked at his cold and beautiful face and asked, "You know about the Zuo family, right?"

Bo Muyi looked at her with deep eyes. He touched her cheek. "Yes."

Because he knew, he did not tell Su Cha.

Su Cha looked at Bo Mui and exhaled slowly. "Do you think I should see her?"

Bo Mui shook his head. "This has nothing to do with you."

It meant that Su Cha did not have to go.

She looked at Bo Mui and saw him sit down. He hugged her and said in his clear voice, "I don't object to you going to see her. You just have to remember that you didn't let anyone down in this matter. No matter what happens to her, whether she lives or dies, it has nothing to do with you. You didn't cause everything today. You are innocent."

She rested her forehead in Bo Mui's arms. Of course she knew what Bo Mui said was correct. Yes, she was innocent.

Hence, after thinking about it, she chuckled and called Zong Yanxiu.

Actually, it seemed that he was more suited to meet Ruan Yin than her.

If Ruan Yin could figure it out, she might be able to recover. If the knot in her heart was not removed, no one could do anything about it.

Of course, she was worried about letting Zong Yanxiu go alone, so she secretly sent someone to protect him.

Zong Yanxiu did not expect Su Cha to ask him to go over. When he received the news, he was surprised and became worried about Ruan Yin.
