

The Queen 941

Chapter 941: Dragging

Zuo Zhici was furious when she found out that her sister suddenly had another younger sister.

If it were any other relative of the Zong family, she would definitely not have been able to do anything about it.

But last night, she'd received a call from her brother-in-law's assistant.

Her sister did not like that girl, who even had ulterior motives towards her brother-in-law.

These two points were enough to make Zuo Zhici jump.

When she arrived at school today, she'd heard this newly transferred girl saying that Su Cha was her sister.

Bullshit. Where did that put her, the real sister?

Although their parents had a thorny past, her sister was really her sister.

She did not even make herself known to everyone, so what did this outsider think she was doing?

Hence, Zuo Zhici had come straight to the Zong family residence tonight.

The moment she saw Sheng Manru, the rich missy who had always been taught how to behave appropriately rolled her eyes.

This Sheng Manru didn't look like a good person. Why was she pretending to be a good girl?

People like Zuo Zhici were naturally hostile towards these "obedient" types.

What was impressive about Zuo Zhici was that she did not feel awkward in front of Zong Yanxiu and Zong Bingyi...

So when she came, Sheng Manru was a little surprised to see her. "Uncle, who's this?"

Zong Yanxiu smiled in embarrassment. "She's also Xiao Cha's younger sister."

Zuo Zhici emphasized, "Her biological sister."

She'd put a heavy emphasis.

Sheng Manru was stunned.

Biological sister?

Then why was her surname Zuo?

Zong Bingyi was a little angry over Zuo Zhici's words. He did not know how to explain it, so he decided not to say anything.

Sheng Manru didn't understand. She could only sit down and eat this dinner that smelled of gunpowder.

Although she was as obedient as ever, this newcomer was not only disobedient but also picky, unlike her. Even if she didn't like it, she still ate it up.

Occasionally, when she talked to her grandfather and uncle about something, Zuo Zhici would also interrupt them. One couldn't help but note, though, that her uncle and grandfather did not seem to have anything to say about such rude behavior.

Grandpa Zong would occasionally roll his eyes and look dissatisfied with Zuo Zhici. However, he felt more helpless than anything.

Helplessness often meant indulgence.

Sheng Manru felt threatened.

This girl was clearly here because of her.

However, Sheng Manru was not afraid. This girl did not seem to be a threat. She did not feel as dangerous as Su Cha.

Of course, Zuo Zhici did not sleep here that night. She ran off after eating.

After she left, Sheng Manru went to ask Zong Yanxiu how Zuo Zhici could be Su Cha's sister.

But Zong Yanxiu only said that it was complicated and dismissed her.

She felt indignant and prepared to investigate it herself.

Since she wanted to get close to the man beside Su Cha, she had to investigate the Zong family thoroughly. If she did not find out anything, it would mean that she'd have no way to deal with them. She felt that this was a challenge.

The man beside Su Cha could only be hers.

Just like that, Sheng Manru's beautiful dream was dashed. Her plan to build a good relationship with Su Cha was thwarted by Zuo Zhici.

Since Su Cha became busy with filming for a long time after that, she had not seen her since the last time they met. Usually, when they were on WeChat, the other party would reply perfunctorily. Occasionally, she would even be informed formally that it was her manager reading the WeChat.

Although she did not believe it, there was nothing she could do about it. Hence, she could only be dragged along by Zuo Zhici for the time being.

Chapter 942: Who Is the Real Sister?

Su Cha was busy with a new job. She had received a new script, which was for a movie.

Tan Jinsui felt that the role was good, so he picked it up for her.

Recently, while she was busy studying the script, Su Cha would always feel that someone was watching her.

Occasionally, when she looked around, she would see a fleeting shadow of a bug.

It was Greya watching her.

She wasn't sure of Greya's intentions, but she kept her guard up.

At the same time, she also knew that Qi He, who was lying in the hospital, had not woken up. It was as if he had become a vegetable, just like Zong Yanxiu used to be.

Su Cha was not interested in the relationship between Qi He and Greya, but she knew that it was not ordinary. Otherwise, Greya would not be so angry over what happened to Qi He.

She started to monitor her. Could it be that she suspected that Qi He's fate was not done by Lian Chi but by Bo Mui?

Of course, Bo Mui seemed to be staying out of it. It was difficult for ordinary people to suspect him.

"Su Cha, there will be an award ceremony this October for the second half of this year. 'The Legend of the Crane' will be participating. If you are lucky, you will win this year's Best Supporting Actress award."

Fu Mo read the new notice to Su Cha on her phone. Su Cha smiled and said, "I've only acted in one drama and it hasn't even been broadcasted. It's impossible."

"That might not be the case. Although it hasn't been broadcasted, didn't the director mention several times that your performance was very good? There aren't any better television dramas this year, so your chances of winning an award are very high. This award is rather prestigious. If you can win it, your position in the industry will be even more stable.”

“You’ll get the best supporting actress award this year and the best female lead award next year.”

Fu Mo was dreaming. Su Cha smiled and did not interrupt her. Suddenly, she received a call from Zuo Zhici.

The moment the call connected, Zuo Zhici shouted excitedly, “Sister, Sheng Manru confronted me. She came after me when there was no one else around during the physical education class!”

Su Cha frowned. She did not expect such a thing. She said directly, “Go ahead and get back at her.”

“How can I get back at her? How can a lady like me do such a thing!”

Su Cha: “...”

“How could she tell me off? Only my dad has ever been able to do that!”

Zuo Zhici sounded very angry, but Su Cha felt like laughing when she heard that. She resisted the urge to twitch the corner of her lips. “So you’re calling me because you want me to stand up for you? Do you think I can help you hit her?”

“Sis, do you believe that she told me off?”

Su Cha replied, “Yes.”

Zuo Zhici snorted. “But others don’t believe it. This woman has put on the mask of a perfect goddess during this period of time. At school, she’s kind-hearted and treats everyone well. I’m really about to vomit. You didn’t even see her telling me off just now! I want to tell Uncle and Grandpa Zong, but I don’t think they will believe me...”

Su Cha rubbed her forehead. “Well? Do you want to do something to vent your anger?”

“Of course not. A lady would never do such things—just wait, I’ll definitely find a chance to get her to scam overseas.”

Su Cha: “...”

She immediately understood Zuo Zhici’s intentions. “So you only called to tell on her for confronting you?”

“That’s right,” Zuo Zhici said smugly. “I can complain to you. Although others don’t believe that she confronted me, you do. If she told you that she didn’t do it, you definitely shouldn’t believe her. Who do you think is your biological sister?”

Su Cha: “...”

Chapter 943: To the Hospital

Su Cha had no choice but to agree with Zuo Zhici.

It would be great if she could stop Sheng Manru for her.

Sheng Manru was staying with the Zong family and Su Cha didn’t go home there herself, so she couldn’t do anything.

Meanwhile, Su Cha felt that Greya might have attempted to kill her.

Because the next day, when she was returning to the Lookout Pavilion, she was almost ambushed by a bug.

The bug was very small. It was only the size of a mosquito and was not unusual at all. It was like an ordinary weird bug that suddenly attacked Su Cha.

Su Cha’s quick reaction caused her to feel the hair on her body stand up, and she used her internal energy to block the attack. If not for that, the insect’s antennae would have reached into her legs.

As she had been to a magazine shoot, Su Cha wore only a short skirt and stockings.

The worm was affected by her inner force and died after twitching a few times. It was small and nothing special. Fu Mo thought it was just a bug from somewhere. “Aiya, why is there a bug here?”

After saying that, she wrapped the corpse with a tissue and threw it into the trash can.

However, Su Cha could not describe how she felt at that time.

She knew very well that that bug was abnormal.

It was Greya.

It was not in Su Cha’s character to just sit still and wait for death. She had never understood Greya, but since she was not being polite, Su Cha had nothing left to say. She found out where Greya was.

Greya was in the hospital.

At night, there was still some filming work to be done. Su Cha took leave and said that she had something on. She did not let Fu Mo follow her and went to the hospital alone.

The hospital Qi He was staying in was in the city center. People came and went there like normal. With Qi He’s status, he should be in a separate VIP ward, but he was only on an ordinary floor of the inpatient department.

When Su Cha arrived, there were many people in the hospital.

She was wearing a pair of sunglasses and a trench coat, which attracted a lot of attention.

Some people recognized her immediately and secretly took out their phones to take photos of her.

With so many people, it would be troublesome to do things.

When she walked to Qi He’s ward, Su Cha saw a few members of the Killing Alliance guarding the door.

Although she was disguised as an ordinary person, when they saw Su Cha, the bodyguards from the Killing Alliance became nervous.

They immediately recognized Su Cha as the leader of the Star Alliance.

Su Cha stood at the door. One of them braced himself and asked, “What are you doing here?”

They were enemies, and right now, they’re openly at war. Su Cha’s sudden arrival was enough to make them nervous, and one of the leaders of the Killing Alliance was inside.

But Su Cha’s identity was not ordinary, so he’d spoken politely.

Su Cha smiled. “Is your boss inside?”

He nodded. Suddenly, a crisp and tender voice came from inside. “Let her in.”

After receiving their boss’s order, they looked at each other awkwardly and could only move aside.

Su Cha pushed the door open and walked in.

The family members who were watching her were curious. They did not know why a celebrity like Su Cha would come to the hospital, but since there were no crazy fans among them, they did not crowd around her. After all, this was the hospital.

From the look on her face, she was probably looking for someone.

Celebrities also had their families, so it was not strange for them to visit.

Very soon, though not many people noticed her, those who did casually made a Weibo post to express their excitement at meeting a celebrity in the hospital.

Chapter 944: But I Still Want to Try

When Su Cha entered the ward, only Greya and Qi He were inside.

Qi He was lying unconscious on the bed, of course.

Greya sat in a recliner on one side. She still looked so young, with the innocent light of a little girl.

Although the ward was ordinary, Qi He was the only one there.

When Greya saw Su Cha, she was not surprised at all. She seemed to have expected her to come to the hospital.

As she sat on the recliner, it began to sway slightly, as if to show how relaxed she was feeling even now. But if one took a closer look, they would see that her innocent eyes were now filled with resentment.

“You shouldn’t have come here. It would implicate a lot of people.”

The little girl’s tender voice sounded threatening. Even with her small body, no one could look down on her.

“I wouldn’t let that happen.”

Su Cha took off her sunglasses, revealing eyes that shone coldly. “Was it you who did that earlier?”

Greya giggled, her chair rocking even more. “If you weren’t sure, why come here?”

Looking at that innocent face, Su Cha was emotionless. She said lightly, “Do you want to start a war with me?”

All this time, she couldn’t understand Greya, so she didn’t kill her. But sooner or later, one of them would have to disappear.

“I am the leader of the Killing Alliance, and you are the leader of the Star Alliance. Our fates are predestined. Don’t you think that this question is unnecessary?”

What Greya said was also what Su Cha was thinking. She smiled innocently and harmlessly, but the resentment in her eyes became stronger. “If you want to fight with me here, I don’t mind.”

Su Cha lowered her body slightly and looked at her with a pair of cold eyes. “You know that if I started a fight, you won’t be able to resist.”

Greya had always known this, so she did not confront Su Cha directly.

“Ah... maybe so.”

The young girl did not look flustered at all. She suddenly giggled. “But I... still want to try.”

The moment she finished speaking, many black marks appeared on the originally white walls. A closer look would make one’s scalp tingle.

They were all small black bugs. They were very tiny, like ants, but they appeared in clusters and attacked Su Cha instantly.

Such a horrifying scene was enough to make other people tremble in fear. However, Su Cha’s expression did not change. In an instant, the black bugs that attacked seemed to have hit an invisible wall and fell down. They landed on the ground. They were not corpses for long before they were quickly vaporized, leaving only black traces that seemed to have turned into dust.

This scene seemed to stretch for a long time, but in fact, it had taken only two seconds. Su Cha had blocked all the bugs that were attacking her. Her slender and fair hand was already around the girl’s soft and fragile throat.

The warmth in her hand was so obvious. With just a gentle push, the little girl in front of her would instantly die and become a senseless corpse.

Though the girl was at her mercy, Su Cha did not see any fear in her big black eyes. They seemed hollow and numb. The strong resentment could not be stopped.

Chapter 945: Now She’d Know

Su Cha paused and did not make a move immediately.

Her fingers slid across Greya's pale cheeks, and the smile on her lips gave off a creepy vibe.

"Why bother?"

Muttering to herself, Su Cha looked at her face and felt pity for her. "If you had the ability back then, why didn't you run away? Why did you join the Killing Alliance?"

Su Cha did not think that Greya was someone who'd be willing to participate in the cruel games of the Killing Alliance.

A crack finally appeared on the innocent girl's face. Her pupils constricted and soon, she said with hatred, "You know that there are some things that we can't choose."

She was actually in her twenties.

All these years, things had been circling around in her heart. Her current state was caused by the previous leader of the Killing Alliance.

Even Qi He, whom she trusted the most, had become a vegetable. Greya's hatred for the Killing Alliance had reached its peak.

But that did not mean that she liked Su Cha.

In fact, she also hated Su Cha a little, but underneath that hatred was a hidden envy.

"It was your choice to join the Star Alliance, but there are some people who can't make a choice."

Feeling the pressure on her neck, Greya began to breathe heavily. "How good it is for you, to have the life you want."

"Ha..."

When Su Cha heard Greya's words, she suddenly laughed softly, as if she was mocking something. She looked at Greya and said before her slightly stunned gaze, "Do you know how much I have paid for everything that I have done today? Of course, you are right. Not everyone has the right to choose..."

She whispered into Greya's ear, "Not everyone has a second chance."

Greya's pupils constricted as she did not understand what Su Cha meant.

The pressure on her neck was getting heavier. She was having difficulty breathing and her expression was changing.

Just as she closed her eyes, thinking that Su Cha would kill her, she suddenly felt that her neck had been released from her grip. "This is a hospital, I can't kill you here."

Su Cha smiled. "If I killed you, I would be the prime suspect."

It was easier said than done for her to kill Greya.

There were still members of the Killing Alliance waiting outside. Greya would be found dead the moment Su Cha left. Even a fool would know that she was the one who did it.

Greya smiled. "You'll regret it."

Su Cha's expression remained unchanged as she chuckled. "I won't let myself regret it."

As she said this, Greya suddenly grabbed her clothes.

She looked steadily at Greya, who stared back at her. After a long moment, Greya let go.

The people outside heaved a sigh of relief when they saw that their boss was safe and sound.

Meanwhile, Su Cha reached into her coat pocket after leaving the hospital.

She'd felt Greya stuffing something inside.

The reason she was circumspect about it was probably because there were surveillance cameras in the ward.

Su Cha had sensed them the moment she entered.

Greya had been trying to lure her to the hospital. She didn't know why, but now that Su Cha saw the note Greya had given her, she let out a sigh of relief.

Maybe now she'd know.

Chapter 946: Disappeared

It seemed to be an online address and a string of account codes.

It was a little complicated since Su Cha could not understand it. When she returned home, she handed the note to Bo Mui.

"When I went to the hospital, Greya gave me this. Do you know what this is?"

Su Cha handed the note to Bo Mui. Bo Mui took it. When he heard that it was from Greya, his eyes froze for a moment. He took it and looked at it. After thinking for a few seconds, he said, "It's an encrypted website."

As he spoke, he used the laptop in front of him to enter the website address.

When Su Cha heard that it was an encrypted website, she was a little worried even if she did not know much about it. "Aren't you afraid of being hacked? Are you going to enter it using your work computer?"

Bo Mui looked at her and rubbed her face. "If you didn't believe Greya, you wouldn't have brought this back to me."

Su Cha smiled.

He entered the website and found it strange. It was an English website.

Bo Mui looked at it and supported his chin with his fingers. He roughly browsed through it and said, "It's just an ordinary news website."

Su Cha frowned. "Greya won't just give us a news website, right?"

Bo Mui shook his head, as if he was thinking about something. He held the mouse and looked at the entire website interface carefully for a few minutes. Soon, he realized that something was wrong. He seemed to have clicked on the news on several websites consecutively. The news interface that was originally ejected individually actually paused after he clicked on it continuously.

Bo Mui's computer would never encounter such a situation.

About five seconds later, the webpage finally reacted. A login page popped up.

Bo Mui entered the account and password on the slip of paper. Su Cha took a look and realized that it was a long string of rather complicated data records. There were even countless bank accounts, probably showing their balance.

If the hundreds of millions of yuan unit was not a joke, that was.

After Bo Mui finished browsing, a rare smile appeared on his lips. "It seems like Greya really wants to destroy the Alliance."

Su Cha paused for a moment and quickly understood. "Is this the data about the Killing Alliance?"

Bo Mui nodded. "It's not just the distribution of the Killing Alliance's forces. It also includes the people related to the Killing Alliance that we have yet to find out about, as well as the members of the Killing Alliance that are currently hidden in various parts of the world. All the cooperation information and business transactions in the world are on this. With this, it will be easy for us to deal with the Killing Alliance."

To put it simply, the item Greya gave them would completely destroy the Killing Alliance.

For the three alliance leaders to be able to stand for so long, other than the sects, there were also all sorts of complicated family relationships.

Nowadays, aristocratic families would have to bear the brunt of power and money transactions. If they could not accurately grasp the other party's fate, based on the current dispute between the Star Alliance, the Martial Alliance, and the Killing Alliance, they would probably have to spend more than ten years dealing with each other.

Besides, Greya was not the only one with power. Apart from Lian Chi, the other leaders had their own interests as well. They would not allow Greya to cause trouble.

The reason why Greya gave this to Su Cha was that she really wanted to destroy the Killing Alliance.

Not only on the surface, but she also wanted to wipe out the Alliance completely.

Hence, she lured Su Cha to the hospital and gave her this information.

Only Bo Muyi could understand all these pieces of information. Su Cha was about to tell Tan Yeluo when she received a message from the surveillance personnel of the Star Alliance.

Greya had disappeared with Qi He.

Chapter 947: Mo Clan City

Su Cha had sent people to monitor Greya, but if Greya wanted to disappear, she could do it.

Even so, Su Cha did not understand how she could lower her presence in a crowd if she was only raising Gu.

Even when she sneaked into the production team, no one had noticed her.

And this time, it included Qi He.

Of course, they had to find her. However, since Greya had already given her the core data of their organization, there was no need for her to investigate further.

The Killing Alliance was a malignant tumor. As the leader of the Star Alliance, Su Cha had to eliminate them.

All the data was handled by Bo Muyi. Su Cha also asked Tan Yeluo to instruct the Star Alliance members to cooperate with Bo Muyi.

After Bai Kun got the data, the first thing he did was to express his admiration for Su Cha. When he saw her, he could not help but give her a thumbs up. “Our boss is awesome. She can even instigate the opposition’s boss?”

They were all core members, so it wasn’t strange that they knew where this data came from.

Su Cha smiled gently. “There was no instigation. From the beginning, Greya was the instigator.”

Bai Kun was enlightened. “She doesn’t want the Killing Alliance to have an easy time?”

Su Cha nodded. “It was the previous leader who’d caused her to become like that.”

In fact, Greya had her own strengths as well. Su Cha did not believe that the previous leader would not have brainwashed Greya. It was just that Greya had not taken the bait.

It could be seen how terrifying her mind was. From the beginning to the end, she’d remembered her goal of destroying the alliance.

And Su Cha was her best helper.

This could be seen as Greya using Su Cha for revenge, but Su Cha was a willing participant.

Bai Kun nodded his head in understanding. It was understandable that she felt resentment.

The operation to eliminate the Killing Alliance was now officially underway. Since Greya had escaped with Qi He, the Alliance was now without a leader.

Although the other hall masters could manage the overall situation, now that the Vice Alliance Master had been captured and the Alliance Master had run away, the entire Killing Alliance was still in a state of panic. The factions working with the Killing Alliance might not be too flustered, but the small fries that were under them had started to panic.

It was not that they did not think of attacking Su Cha, but they had seen in a few videos that this alliance master had inhuman strength. If they attacked her or Bo Muye, they could directly seek revenge for the members of Tree Hall. But if they exposed themselves, they might be the next targets.

Therefore, they chose their battles. No one dared to cause trouble for Su Cha unless they were determined to die.

It was better to find trouble with the Martial Alliance Master than with Su Cha.

She never even brought a bodyguard with her when she went out. She only brought an assistant. Couldn't she see that there was a problem?

Meanwhile, Su Cha had also received Master Yun Zu's notice that her work had been sent to the World Art Exhibition for display. The exhibition would begin in June, and those who could attend were of high status. Of course, she had also received a ticket from the officials.

At the same time, in order to report her contribution, the official media channel had recently invested in a big movie. There was a second female role in it, and the higher-ups had decided to give it to her.

This was a movie with a lot of investments. It was a joint production both internationally and externally. Although this kind of collaboration model would definitely produce lousy films, the people behind this production team were very confident.

Chapter 948: But There Is a Kissing Scene

"The second female lead role of 'Mo Clan City' was given to you?"

Tan Jinsui was surprised when he received the news.

Actually, he was also paying attention to the project called “Mo Clan City.” However, the investors behind this production team were from the official network. There were also some large foreign organizations that had difficulty getting the role. Basically, even the male and female leads had to be screened through auditions. This movie had been announced since last year but had yet to announce who the main lead was. The industry knew that this was because the audition had not even been held.

What more the role of the second female lead.

“Yeah...”

Su Cha touched her chin. “Elder Yun told me.”

Tan Jinsui: “...”

He instantly knew what identity Su Cha had used to get this role.

The so-called official reason was that the entire production process was open to the public. Even if one wanted to get in through the back door, one would still have to go through the motions of the process. Moreover, one wouldn’t necessarily be able to get the role, including the male and female leads. Several extremely wealthy Best Actors and Best Actresses were fighting for them. It was obvious.

Su Cha did not even go through the process. She was directly selected as the second female lead. No one else could do that.

“This is the reward for my embroidering that picture last time. I didn’t expect them to give me resources directly.”

Su Cha casually searched for information about “Mo Clan City” on the Internet. Although it was only a few words, it was obvious that the movie was a big deal based on the fact that the investment amount was more than one billion.

Even a few Best Actors and Best Actresses were vying for it, which proved that this movie was not too exaggerated and was unlikely to be used to launder money.

“You haven’t gotten the script yet?”

Su Cha shook her head. “He hasn’t given me the script yet. Elder Yun said that this character should not be too different from me, but it’s not a normal character either.”

Tan Jinsui was silent for a moment. “He’s just a master from the embroidery association. How could he get involved in such matters?”

Su Cha laughed. “He’s a Master. It’s easy for him to do things with this identity. Although I’m also called Master by them, I don’t hang around the place. I don’t have his clout.”

Tan Jin Sui nodded. He thought for a while and said, “Since they’ve already decided to give you the second female lead role, it means that the higher-ups will soon decide on the audition for this movie. Since that’s the case, I reckon that it won’t be long before you leave for the filming location. Counting the time, I wonder if it will clash with the time of your current movie.”

“Since that’s the case, let’s just reject that one. We haven’t signed the contract yet, right?”

Su Cha had indeed taken on the role of a second female lead recently, but the other party had already chosen several candidates. Since Su Cha had other resources and did not sign a contract, she could naturally reject that role.

Tan Jinsui clicked his tongue. He was impressed by Su Cha’s swiftness and decisiveness, but he still did as she said.

As Tan Jinnian had expected, the audition news of “Mo Clan City” started appearing all over the Internet the next day. Many celebrities in the industry who had been watching received the news. At the same time, Su Cha also received a small piece of script information about her character.

As the contract had not been signed yet, the confidentiality level was very high. Basically, only one part of the plot was revealed.

But when Su Cha saw the storyline, she was troubled.

Although she did not reveal her standards when she took on the role, she still felt a little depressed when she saw this.

The script was in place, the production budget was in place, and the roles were good.

But there was a kissing scene.

Chapter 949: Kiss Replacement

To be honest, Bo Muyi had already said that he would not accept any kissing scenes.

But after reading the script, Su Cha could not say no.

This movie and production were both top-notch, and the role was given to her directly by the officials. If she rejected it because of the kissing scene, it would seem too pretentious.

However, she really couldn't stand kissing someone else.

Unexpectedly, Su Cha recalled what Bo Muyi had said. If there was a kissing scene, he would do it himself.

Su Cha: "..."

She just didn't know if the crew would be willing to go with it.

Tan Jinsui also sent a message. "How is it? You've received the script. What do you think about that role in 'Mo Clan City'?"

Su Cha said directly, "It's good, I don't have any objections, but... this character has kissing scenes."

Tan Jinsui understood what she meant.

He was silent for a moment before he suggested sincerely, “If you want to change careers and reject this resource, there’d be no doubt that your brain is damaged.”

If it were any other actor, he would definitely tell them that if they wanted to act, they had to make sacrifices. Kissing scenes were also a type of acting, and it wasn’t something that one could just reject.

To a certain extent, this was disrespectful to the profession of an actor.

But facing Su Cha, he could not bring himself to say it.

He knew that the problem was not with Su Cha but with Bo Muye.

If that man found out that Su Cha was filming a kissing scene, Tan Jinsui could just imagine his reaction.

The kissing scene wouldn’t live past tomorrow...

Therefore, this was an extremely complicated matter.

“Yeah...”

Su Cha was also in a dilemma. “We’d already talked about this subject. I’d told him that as long as I’m an actor, there would be kissing scenes. He’d replied that whoever the character opposite me was, he would be willing to be a substitute...”

Tan Jinsui: “????? What is this? Substitute?”

He widened his eyes and felt that his worldview had been shaken. “Are you saying that Bo Muye is willing to be a kiss substitute?”

“Something like that.”

Tan Jinsui: “...”

He almost did not know if there was something wrong with these two people’s brains. After a while, he said in an indescribable manner, “So what you mean is that you want to take it and let Bo Muyi be a substitute for a kissing scene?”

“From what I saw in the script, it would just be a light peck. If this scene were to be shot from the side or the back, no one would be able to tell, right?”

“No one would be able to tell? Don’t you know what kind of talent your boyfriend has? Are you insulting the intelligence of the audience?”

Su Cha was in a difficult position. “The main thing is that I don’t know who I’ll play the kissing scene with in the end. If their figure is similar to Bo Muyi’s, I can try.”

“Fine, let’s not even mention his face. Just look at how many people in the circle have the same body and aura as Bo Muyi.”

These people were all favored by God. There were only a few like them in the world, let alone in the entertainment industry. Tan Jinsui heard out Su Cha’s intention and did not stop her.

When the time came for her to take the job, she would see what she should do.

With Bo Muyi’s identity, it would not be difficult for him to become a kissing substitute. After all, the higher-ups still had to give face to the president of the Mu Group. However, his identity would not be hidden anymore.

Moreover, Su Cha was the second female lead.

The production team did not have any objections, but for the second female lead to be announced first left one unable to determine what would happen when the time came.

After Su Cha gave her confirmation, she immediately told Bo Muyi.

Chapter 950: Are You That Shameless?

As expected, when the man heard those words, his face darkened visibly.

Su Cha had expected this response. “You are not allowed to agree.”

His words were straightforward and his meaning was clear.

It was not his way to force or forbid Su Cha to do anything, but there were some things that he could not tolerate.

Su Cha was silent for a while. She sat in front of his desk and looked at him with one hand on her cheek. “This role is very good. It won’t end well for me if I don’t take it.”

Bo Mui’s face was dark. “If you reject it, I can compensate you with ten movies like this.”

He could give Su Cha so much that it was eye-popping, but Su Cha wanted to start from scratch.

“Is that what I’m after?”

Su Cha snorted. “Didn’t you say that if I took on a kissing role, you would be willing to be a substitute? Wouldn’t it be enough if I just kissed you, then?”

Bo Mui fell into deep thought.

He remembered that he had indeed said that.

However, compared to the kissing scene, he did not want to see Su Cha having any romantic scenes with other people. He was also unhappy with the affection shown on the screen.

Back then, when he said that he could be a substitute, it was just a casual remark.

But now that Su Cha had mentioned it, it proved that she was serious.

Bo Mui squinted his dark eyes and looked at Su Cha. “Do you really want to take it?”

Su Cha covered her face with her hands and stared at Bo Mui. She blinked and nodded quickly. “Yes.”

Bo Mui lowered his head and pondered. “Let me think.”

A second later, he said, “I can get them to remove this kissing scene.”

This was his concession.

Su Cha frowned. “I’ve seen the role. This kissing scene is indispensable. If not, the script would not have specially labeled it. Besides, I’m only the second female lead. It’s just a kissing scene. I haven’t even signed the contract yet and I already have opinions. What do you want others to think? I don’t want others to think that I’m using your identity to bully others.”

Bo Mui: “I’d rather you use my identity to bully others.”

Wasn’t this the responsibility of a boyfriend?

Su Cha: “...”

However, he could not dissuade Su Cha. After seeing her “pitiful” eyes, Bo Mui surrendered helplessly.

He agreed.

As soon as he agreed with Su Cha, she was happy. Of course, Su Cha would not be the one to tell others about the kissing substitute. After all, she was only the second female lead. Su Cha casually asked Tan Yeluo, only to discover that she was among the investors.

Now, a suitable candidate was out.

It would be more convenient to talk about it with Tan Yeluo.

Tan Yeluo almost went crazy laughing when she found out.

Tan Yeluo: “Hahahahahaha, awesome. He even needs to do the kissing scene personally. Why don’t we just let him play this role? I do have this bit of authority.”

Cha Yi: “... It’s not convenient for him to show his face due to his identity. It’s already good enough that he can act as a kiss substitute.”

Tan Yeluo: “If it’s me, I’ll go with the kissing scene and anger him to death!”

Cha Yi: “????? Are you sure he won’t kill you first?”

Tan Yeluo: “What are you afraid of? He won’t be your match if you fight him one-on-one.”

Cha Yi: “But he can beat you.”

Tan Yeluo: “???? Alliance Master? Are you that shameless?”

Seeing Tan Yeluo’s reply, Su Cha burst into laughter.

After everything was decided, the audition for the role of “Mo Clan City” was over.
