

The Queen 991

Chapter 991: Inferiority

They officially started filming the kissing scene.

This was the scene in the script where Joshua was leaving and Su Cha kissed him goodbye.

Initially, they were just talking nicely. In the script, Su Cha's character could not control her emotions and gave this foreign guest a deep kiss.

This scene was mainly aimed at Su Cha. Bo Mui only revealed his back.

The camera carefully only showed Bo Mui's side profile, ensuring that the angle was similar to Joshua's. However, just the back view was completely different from when Joshua had filmed it.

When Su Cha's eyes revealed her reluctance and sadness, Bo Mui could not bear it. He could not help but kiss her.

The director shouted, "Cut!"

Su Cha quickly patted Bo Mui. "I told you not to do anything. You're filming right now."

Bo Mui's eyes darkened. "I can't bear to see you look like this."

It made his heart ache.

Su Cha quickly coaxed, "It's just acting. It's fake. Remember this."

After a few words, the director announced that they would start again. On the one hand, Joshua judged that Bo Mui's acting skills from the back were not passable, but on the other hand, he could not help but be jealous of this match made in heaven.

This kissing scene...

Sigh, why would he care about a kissing scene?

It was just a kissing scene with a Chinese woman!

On the other hand, Su Cha gradually fell into character. She looked at the person who was about to leave, and the intense sadness in her eyes could not be concealed. Perhaps it was because of the scene, but she subconsciously closed her eyes and left a kiss on his face. Bo Mui could not control himself. His fingers trembled, and he restrained himself with all his strength from making any other physical movements. He only leaned closer to Su Cha and deepened the kiss.

He had already failed, but Su Cha felt his sudden movement and could not help but open her eyes. At this moment, the emotions in her eyes changed very naturally and she suddenly smiled. However, her smile was watery and filled with a strong sense of helplessness and despair.

Bo Mui's lips had not left hers.

As the camera zoomed in, one could clearly see the joy in the girl's despair.

The director had wanted to shout "cut," but when he saw this scene, he did not. He suddenly felt that this change was alright. It was natural enough, and it also showed the inner thoughts of this character. This crying smile was even more sincere and touching.

It fully displayed her helplessness.

Click!

With a click, everyone came back to their senses. Su Cha quickly stopped her tears. Watching from the side, Joshua could not help but wonder what kind of demon this woman was...

If one had the talent to transform one's emotions, wouldn't that be too terrifying?

Joshua didn't dare to admit that he was actually a little moved by that impromptu performance.

He even started to feel jealous of Su Cha's kissing partner.

Oh my god, he must be crazy!

How could he, Joshua Gordon, be jealous of another man? Furthermore, it was caused by a Chinese woman he didn't like!

He must be crazy!

It was probably because he had been greatly agitated in China recently that he started to have a strange feeling. It was probably an illusion...

Otherwise, Joshua felt that it was impossible to explain the changes that had happened to him. It had only been a short day.

From the moment he met this man, he had probably been feeling jealous and having an inferiority complex.

Inferior?

How ridiculous. This was the first time he'd experienced such an emotion.

Chapter 992: Guessing

"It's just a scene. Why are you looking so serious?"

Su Cha reacted quickly after the scene ended just now. Otherwise, Bo Muyi would have kissed her again.

She'd taken advantage of the situation and adjusted her acting. She'd also had an idea. At that moment, she remembered the Bo Muyi she had faced in her previous life.

Her heart suddenly ached, and she revealed a smile that was close to sorrow.

Both the director and Ji Shu exclaimed in admiration.

They did not expect Su Cha to have such strong acting skills when facing Bo Mui.

It was really easy to act well. What was rare was to completely immerse yourself in such emotions. Only by doing so could you allow others to immerse themselves in it.

This was a rare moment of talent.

“I can’t bear to see that look on your face.”

After the shoot, Bo Mui still held on to Su Cha and did not let go. Such indulgence made others feel jealous and full.

Really, the dog food[1] was making them so full.

Seeing that her foreign friend’s expression had changed after eating this treat, she reckoned that he must have been deeply poisoned.

The man’s slender fingers caressed Su Cha’s face as he asked in a low voice, “Were you serious, or did you remember something?”

Why did she reveal such emotions when facing him?

Su Cha shook her head and smiled. Her smile was purer than before. “No.”

Emotions from the past would occasionally appear, but now, it was more of a moment of happiness.

“I’m done filming. Shall we go back to the hotel to rest first?”

Su Cha asked for his opinion and Bo Mui nodded. Su Cha took him to remove his makeup and change his clothes.

Halfway through, she told the director and the rest that she would go back first. She did not have any more scenes. Usually, before Bo Mui came, she would stay to watch other people’s performances. The director could understand; as her boyfriend came today, of course he agreed readily.

After Su Cha left, the discussion among the crew finally started.

“What’s her boyfriend’s background? Why does he look so capable?”

“Did you see the expression on Joshua’s face when he saw Mr. Bo? He looked like he was constipated...”

“Also, Mr. Bo seems to despise Joshua. Oh my god, this is the first time I’ve seen a godly man being despised...”

“Is he really a godly man? Look at Mr. Bo’s face. To be honest, if his partner wasn’t Su Cha, I would really have rushed up and asked for his phone number. What if I have a chance...?”

“Look at how you treat Su Cha. What chance do you have? My God, Su Cha is so lucky. She is a little princess and has a rich boyfriend who dotes on her so much.”

“I’m not sure if he is rich or not. What if he is being kept by Su Cha...?”

Amid the endless discussion, Ji Shu pondered for a long time and finally seemed to have recalled something. “Ah!” She grabbed Mu Jiandong’s arm again.

Mu Jiandong had suffered a few unexpected disasters today, and the director was still by his side. He couldn’t help but ask, “What are you thinking about now? Don’t you know it hurts when you pinch me?”

“I remember, I remember!”

Ji Shu’s expression showed that she was rather shocked. She rarely revealed such an expression, which meant that she must have recalled something shocking indeed.

“Isn’t Su Cha’s boyfriend’s surname Bo? There’s a Bo family that has always been famous in the circle, but do you know that the leader of the Mu Group also has the surname Bo?”

[1] Slang for public display of affection

Chapter 993: Yu Wan

“Cough cough cough cough cough...”

The director was drinking water when he suddenly heard this. He spat out a mouthful of water and almost choked himself.

It attracted the attention of the people nearby.

The director hid his embarrassment. “Ji Shu, are you serious?”

Mu Jiandong looked enlightened. “It seems that the rumors are true!”

The director was confused. “Really?”

The director was too focused on his work to pay attention to the news in the industry, so he did not know much about Su Cha.

Mu Jiandong looked at him and then at Ji Shu, who had understood. He said meaningfully, “There was this rumor from out of nowhere that Su Cha’s boyfriend was the leader of the Imperial Mu Group. However, not many people believed it. They only thought it was a rumor. If Ji Shu is telling the truth and this Mr. Bo is really the Mr. Bo from the Imperial Mu Group, then it can’t be wrong. That news was not fake. Su Cha’s boyfriend is really the CEO of the Imperial Mu Group.”

Even Mu Jiandong couldn’t help but take a deep breath.

If it’s someone with such a shocking identity, not to mention Su Cha but any female celebrity would be able to hold their head high.

With the backing of the Imperial Mu Group, there was nothing in the circle that she wouldn’t dare to provoke.

She would get whatever resources she wanted.

Every year, every leading celebrity under the Imperial Mu Group benefited greatly from just a little bit of its influence.

Even a Heavenly Queen like Ji Shu could not help but be moved. “Su Cha is really lucky.”

There was no jealousy, only envy.

After all, given Bo Mui’s identity, anyone would be envious.

And anyone with eyes could see that Bo Mui’s performance just now was clearly just him liking someone very much. If he did not like someone, with his status, he would definitely not be a kissing substitute for his girlfriend.

This feeling was also because they had deduced his identity. Many people in the crew did not know about it and thought that he was Su Cha’s gigolo...

The three of them had complicated expressions on their faces. They could already imagine how big of a shock the entertainment industry would feel when the news was made public.

After returning to the hotel, Su Cha took a shower in the bathroom and removed her makeup. Then, she changed into her pajamas and lay down on the bed. Bo Mui’s interest was piqued. He hugged Su Cha on the bed and watched “The Legend of the Crane” with her.

There were only four episodes on the internet. The two of them had been busy recently and did not have the time to watch it.

Besides, it was not dark outside yet. Bai Kun would arrange for dinner later. It did not seem to be the right time yet to do anything else.

Bo Muyi did not like to talk when he was watching television. But then he saw the old emperor, who'd die not long after the fourth episode was over. Before he died, he looked at Yu Wan lustfully. Bo Muyi snorted. "What a lousy emperor."

Su Cha raised her head and looked at Bo Muyi with her bright eyes. She smiled and scratched his chin. "Don't say that. I'm just too seductive."

She was just being an actor. She was supposed to give such a performance.

Only then could she show Yu Wan's beauty. Even when the old emperor was on his deathbed, she was still unforgettable to him.

She was even conferred the title of Empress Dowager, which would leave her alone forever.

But the old emperor had actually wanted Yu Wan to accompany him. However, Yu Wan played a trick and escaped this calamity.

Chapter 994: Public Display of Affection

Yu Wan's character had been introduced only after four episodes and it had already caused a huge discussion online.

If it was in the past, such a devastating character would definitely not be popular.

People wanted to see a female protagonist like Mu Jiao, who was full of righteousness and followed the male protagonist to conquer the world.

But Su Cha... her performance was so captivating that no one could control themselves.

Although in these few episodes, other than when she was snuggling up to the old emperor once, there were no scenes showing intimacy between Yu Wan and the old emperor, everyone could tell from the performance of the actors that Yu Wan was a seductive demoness.

In this day and age, white lotuses were not loved and respected. Yu Wan was ambitious and seductive. That was what the audience liked.

Many people expressed on the Internet that every time Yu Wan appeared, they were just like the old emperor with the same lecherous expression.

Yu Wan was obviously evil. She had never concealed her ambition from the beginning, and this was especially so after the death of the old emperor.

Someone who liked her was also by her side, and she was ruthless enough to make use of him. The pitiful character played by Hua Nie made many audience members sympathize with him, but at the same time, they were immersed in the drama and entanglement of Yu Wan abusing his heart.

In an instant, the male and female leads' limelight was stolen.

The more people on the Internet acknowledged Yu Wan's role, the more it proved Su Cha's acting skills.

And the viewership ratings were also rising steadily. By the fourth episode, it had already reached four.

This increase was rather shocking.

After they'd watched the drama, Bai Kun pressed the doorbell on time.

After receiving Bo Muyi's answer, he walked in, followed by a waiter pushing the dinner cart.

When Bai Kun saw their state, his expression did not change. "Young Master, dinner is ready."

"Bring it over. I'm hungry too."

Su Cha got off the bed. As she was in a hurry, she kicked off a pair of slippers. She did not care and walked over to set up the cutlery before sitting at the dining table.

Bo Muyi walked over and picked up her slippers. He naturally bent down and put them on for her.

This scene stunned Bai Kun for a moment, but he quickly returned to normal.

As long as one had gotten used to it, there was nothing to be surprised about.

The waiter was shocked. Why did this man, who looked like an emperor, do such a thing for this girl?

With just a glance, he could tell that he really liked this girl.

Otherwise, he would not have done such a thing.

Su Cha was a little embarrassed to be served by Bo Mui, mainly because she did not notice it. She pulled Bo Mui to sit beside her and said softly and coquettishly, "It's summer, it's not cold."

"Even so."

Bo Mui covered her wrist. "The soles of your feet will still feel cold if you step on the floor."

Watching such blatant PDA was really uncomfortable. Bai Kun felt pain in his balls and soon left with the staff.

When he was about to close the door, Bai Kun saw that Su Cha had naturally started to feed Bo Mui with a spoon.

Every time the two of them were alone, Young Master would definitely always be waiting to be fed. It was as if his hands were just decorations.

Bai Kun: "..."

He was really worried about the future children of the two masters. He was also glad that he'd retreated quickly so that he would not have to see more uncomfortable scenes.

Chapter 995: Nomination

Bo Mui stayed with Su Cha for a day. After doing his part, he disappeared without a trace.

Even when the director wanted to invite him to a small gathering at night, he was politely rejected.

Although he was here as a kissing substitute, it did not mean that Bo Mui had to go to these social events that were not suited to him.

Those few people obviously knew Bo Mui's identity. They expected this reaction and did not feel disappointed or think that Bo Mui was rude.

To be honest, it was already an honor for someone of his status to be seen here, let alone for him to be polite.

Of course, only a few people knew that there was such a powerful person behind Su Cha. The few key personnel's attitude towards her became even more subtle. Although they were good people, they paid too much attention when she spoke.

About half a month later, Su Cha received another notification for an award ceremony.

After "The Legend of the Crane" was broadcasted, its popularity rose steadily, and every character in the show more or less raised discussions. But as expected, Yu Wan, whom Su Cha had played, started to shine.

It was rare to see such a queen-like seductress on the screen. Every move she made was alluring and captivating. Compared to her usual cold and aloof image, this was very different. The viewership ratings were even more outstanding. Currently, it had stabilized at four on average, even if there had only been a few episodes.

The TV station was grinning from ear to ear. The most direct data was that after Su Cha's drama aired, her Weibo fans had increased by almost a million. This was the number of fans that the company had not tampered with.

Su Cha's company was opened by Bo Mui, and he did not bother to fake her popularity, unlike other contestants who had tens of millions of fans as soon as they debuted. Su Cha's current number of fans was only a few million, and her reposting popularity was also in the tens of thousands. Compared to the current figures of hundreds of thousands, it was not so exaggerated.

But because she wasn't exaggerating, it showed how exaggerated the other contestants' numbers were...

Their popularity was not even as high as Su Cha's, but a Weibo post of theirs would easily have hundreds of thousands of reposts and comments. Who were they kidding?

It was not a new thing to falsify data nowadays. Everyone could understand that they just wanted to gain popularity, but it seemed that Su Cha was a pure person.

She had no objections to buying popularity, but of course, she did not need to do such a thing. Anyone could tell at a glance how real her data was.

The Weibo statistics that showed her fans had increased by nearly a million also proved the huge popularity that this drama had brought her. Unexpectedly, Su Cha, who had received news of the award ceremony this year, really received a nomination.

She was up for this year's Best Newcomer Award as a Supporting Female Lead.

If there were no other troublemakers, based on the popularity of Su Cha's drama, she had a high chance of winning the nomination.

This was a rather prestigious award. If Su Cha got the title of Best Newcomer as a Supporting Female Lead as soon as she debuted in a television drama, it would at least have a nice ring to it.

Up until now, not many people had criticized her acting skills. In terms of reputation, she was practically beaten up.

Of course, the awards body had only nominated her and the winners had not been announced yet. Not many people had received this news, and she was still with her current production team.

Chapter 996: Comparison

"The Best Newcomer as a Supporting Female Lead award is not bad."

Tan Jinsui wasn't surprised when he received the news. He didn't even comment. "Back then, Manni became the Best Actress the moment she debuted."

Su Cha: "..."

She sneered. “Sister Manni took on the female lead’s role in a film as soon as she debuted. Of course, I can’t compare.”

Before she won the award, Zou Manni had been playing minor characters for some time.

Not everyone was so lucky, but Su Cha’s starting point could be described as outstanding.

Tan Jinsui naturally understood that as well. He smiled and said, “I don’t want you to be too proud and complacent. You’re up for only the best supporting actress award right now. When you win the grand slam of the domestic award, we can really be proud. I think there’s hope before you turn 25.”

Su Cha: “...It’s not that ridiculous.”

Were there any actors who’d won a Grand Slam Best Actress award before the age of 25?

None.

The youngest was in her thirties.

Especially in this era where acting skills were getting worse with each generation, it would be a miracle if they were to find someone with good acting skills.

Su Cha was still only on the rise; she was not an A-list actress. Naturally, she would not think that her acting skills measured up.

However, there were already posts that attracted hatred.

Sometimes, when you’re in the circle, even if you don’t look for trouble, it will look for you.

While Su Cha’s Yu Wan was getting popular, another similar type of period drama was also broadcasting. The difference was that though the other drama was also considered excellent, it had picked the wrong actors. With a popular story as a foundation, they’d hired A-list celebrities. They were popular enough, but their acting skills...

Although Su Cha was only a supporting actress, the female lead's age was close to Su Cha's, so she could not be compared to Mu Jiao. Hence, Su Cha was implicated.

The female lead of this drama, Fang Yumo, was also in her twenties. Other than some "facial paralysis" acting skills, no one knew what she was acting as.

Su Cha was also a young actress in "The Legend of the Crane."

This was how the matter started. In the beginning, it was indeed a thread posted by a passerby, but it got blown up.

Everyone could tell that Su Cha's acting skills were not bad. They were not blind. In Fang Yumo's post, everyone was mocking her. Apart from her face, she was useless. Yet she could still earn tens of millions of yuan.

Su Cha had experienced this kind of weird situation before. When she had just debuted as a singer, she was greeted by such posts every day.

However, Fang Yumo was indeed not good at her job. No wonder the audience found fault with her.

But others were unhappy about that.

Soon, a lot of comparisons between Fang Yumo and Su Cha were published. The reason touted was that Su Cha had fewer works as she had just debuted while Fang Yumo was busy with her schedule. Naturally, she would not be as good as Su Cha, who specialized in certain aspects.

But in terms of career, Fang Yumo was stronger.

This was also a warning to Su Cha. No matter what, Fang Yumo was a senior. Hence, Su Cha had to know what she should do.

Su Cha had no idea.

If not for this post, how would she even know who Fang Yumo was?

It was obvious that someone only made the post casually. She wouldn't even have seen it ordinarily, so of course, she didn't need to respond. But when the netizens saw the post, they became even more sarcastic.

After being in the industry for so long, someone's acting skills were not as good as those of someone who had acted for the first time. They really did not know what that person should be proud of...

Chapter 997: Going Too Far

It was very common for female celebrities to take veiled shots at each other.

And when it came to acting, people had differing views.

However, Fang Yumo was known in the circle to be petty and calculative. Even if Su Cha could see that the netizens' spontaneous comparisons had nothing to do with her, Fang Yumo probably would not take it as such.

The fact that she started throwing subtle jabs at Su Cha proved that she blamed it on her.

However, what use was there?

She knew what Su Cha's power and status were, so she was only making secretive statements.

Su Cha did not respond. The netizens became even more sarcastic. This made Fang Yumo even more exasperated.

Thereafter, there was a post admitting that the previous one was fake, hinting that the post was actually made by Su Cha's fake reviewers.

Their goal was to step on Fang Yumo and show off.

Tan Jinsui was furious.

He took matters seriously, and to him, Su Cha could not be compared to any other artist except for his own artist. What more Fang Yumo, who's had plastic surgery on her face?

In the past, because of Fang Yumo's status in the circle, no one dared to argue with her, even if they were facing her directly.

Su Cha had yet to say anything, but because of a TV drama, Fang Yumo began issuing veiled threats. Now, she was even blaming Su Cha. As Su Cha's manager, how could Tan Jinsui tolerate it?

Not only could he not bear to see her like this, but he also found evidence of Fang Yumo's fake reviewers. While he sent people to attack her online, he made a call to Fang Yumo's management company. "Do you think that you can do whatever you want to Su Cha without anyone saying anything? Do you think that I am dead now?"

If it was a normal person, they would have swallowed their anger after such a post was made. However, Fang Yumo's manager had interacted with Tan Jinsui before. According to seniority, Tan Jinsui was a senior. So Tan Jinsui was not being polite at all.

"I'm sure you're aware of what kind of connections your Fang Yumo has. Since we are still friends, I'll give you this warning. Don't provoke Su Cha if you don't want problems. Don't even dream that Fang Yumo can soar into the sky. No matter how powerful she is, she is still in the circle, right?"

Fang Yumo's manager's face turned stiff. He couldn't refute Tan Jinsui's words, so he could only say, "Yes, yes, yes, I'm sorry, Brother Tan... But you don't have any evidence to prove that the post..."

"Don't you guys know what I'm talking about? Do you really think that after not being in the country for so many years, I wouldn't know what kind of connections you guys have?"

Speaking of this, Tan Jinsui even mocked Fang Yumo. "If one can earn money with their looks, so be it. But they shouldn't expect too much. Are they expecting to get a grand slam or something?"

These words hurt the heart.

When she heard this, Fang Yumo couldn't help but clench her fists.

Indeed, her acting skills had always been criticized in the industry, as well as by the audience. But to have it said to her face was simply too much.

Of course, Fang Yumo was also a thick-skinned person. However, being thick-skinned and being told something directly by others were two different concepts.

After the call was hung up, Fang Yumo could not help but grit her teeth. “Isn’t he going too far?”

He could even call the company directly to talk about it. More importantly, they could not refute it!

Chapter 998: Explosion

“What else can we say?”

How could the manager’s expression look good after they’d been criticized?

“Brother Tan has always had a bad temper.”

“But we can’t let him ride on our heads!”

Fang Yumo, who had exquisite makeup on, threw away the cup in her hand angrily. The tea splashed onto the assistant beside her. Luckily, it was already cold and not hot. The assistant did not even lift her eyelids. She was obviously used to it.

Silently, she knelt down and cleaned up the remnants of the cup.

The manager took a glance at her and said unhappily, “Then what do you want? Didn’t he make it clear enough? Su Cha is not someone we can mess with. I already said that you would be in trouble if you made such a post.”

“Why don’t you take a look at what the internet is saying!”

Fang Yumo stood up, her face red as she argued, “They keep praising her to mock me. Do you really think she didn’t do it? Would the netizens be so free to make comparisons between her and me?”

The manager: “...”

Indeed, netizens had nothing better to do.

Su Cha did not even lose to Shao Tianwen, let alone Mu Jiao.

But Mu Jiao was different from Su Cha and was the female protagonist. Meanwhile, Fang Yumo and Su Cha were similar in age. Wouldn’t they become live targets?

Most importantly, Su Cha’s acting skills were obvious, and so was Fang Yumo’s lack of it.

Fang Yumo might not be unaware of this fact, but how could she admit it?

When Fang Yumo said this, she could not help but feel jealous.

Everyone knew that Su Cha was the little princess of the Zong family. With her family background, no matter what she did, there would be a bunch of people helping her to clear her name.

Fang Yumo, on the other hand, was different. She had gone from being a minor character to being here. She had once carried plates and washed the dishes. She had done everything. It was not easy for her to get plastic surgery and turn over a new leaf. Naturally, she had suffered a lot.

She looked down on Su Cha, who was born with good resources.

The manager wanted to say, “Sister, she has a strong background, but she’s still willing to work hard. Look at you!”

Fang Yumo's status was something that many people couldn't even ask for. But she didn't know how to cherish it and even spent all her time thinking about what she didn't have.

However, Fang Yumo was his money tree, so the manager did not say much.

"Let's forget about this topic. Since Brother Tan has said as much, he must have evidence of our marketing account in his hands. If it's not necessary, let's not get into a conflict with Su Cha. Don't forget that we have to borrow clothes from Hiberia for the next award ceremony. Do you know who the Asian spokesperson is now?"

Fang Yumo's face turned green. "Do you mean that I have to look at her face when I borrow a piece of clothing? Can't I change the brand?"

"Hiberia has agreed to lend us their limited edition high-quality ones. Why don't you ask the other brands if they're willing to lend any to you?"

Fang Yumo was young and did not have many fashion resources. It was already good enough that Hiberia had agreed to lend her some clothes. Now, she was thinking of changing brands?

As soon as she heard that she had no choice but to borrow clothing, she remembered that Su Cha was now the spokesperson for the entire Asian Hiberia line. Her heart was surging with acid.

However, what else could Fang Yumo do now? Other than secretly having some fake reviewers post on Weibo, there was nothing she could do.

What was even more infuriating was that the viewership ratings of "The Legend of the Crane" were getting more and more terrifying. Accompanied by a reasonable plot and exquisite production, it was almost indisputably popular and became this year's hottest drama.

Chapter 999: Personally Designed

Employees say to each other, "Did you catch today's episode? Yes, yes, yes... Yu Wan just transferred Emperor He back. It's too exciting. It's a direct confrontation. I like it!"

"Ah... Sometimes, I feel that Yu Wan is quite vicious. Sometimes, I feel that she is very cute. I'm probably done for..."

“Which episode are you at?”

Everyone had seen how popular the drama was, so it was natural that it exploded.

Shao Tianwen and Mu Jiao relied on this series to stabilize their status once again. It was almost unbreakable.

Su Cha had also emerged from the crowd of newbies. Her singing and acting career were in full bloom, and she had countless fashion resources.

The endorsement deal for Hiberia was officially launched. Many malls had changed their brand advertisements to photos of Su Cha.

Her natural noble and natural aura was so compatible with Hiberia. Even if she was just hanging around in a mall, she could still look down on everyone.

Such a spokesperson could represent the power and nobility of a luxury brand.

Instead of looking petty.

The popularity of Su Cha’s Weibo rose again and again. In the end, with her real popularity, she received almost 100,000 likes even if she posted any posts. These were all real data, and it was not a scary one.

Even though there was an increase in popularity now, many fans were posting photos of her as Yu Wan. The drama was popular too. It was a win-win situation.

Accompanied by all sorts of attention, there was naturally some curiosity about her love life.

She had already said that she had a boyfriend, so even though many media outlets did not dare to dig too deep into her, they still hoped to capture some important news about her.

Of course, Su Cha was not secretive about certain things. Others might have captured something, but they did not dare to broadcast it.

Su Cha did not post much about her relationship status on Weibo. Naturally, she did not say much about Bo Muyi. Many fans still came just for her and did not pay much attention to her love life.

The media refused to let it go. There were several questions regarding Su Cha's relationship.

Su Cha did not beat around the bush and told them that she and her boyfriend were in a good state. Both of them were happy, but her boyfriend was an outsider and she did not want him to be disturbed.

Her directness was understandable. In the blink of an eye, the award ceremony officially began.

Su Cha was nominated for this year's Best Supporting Female Lead Award. Mu Jiao and Shao Tianwen were also nominated.

Around three nominees were shortlisted per category. Of course, there was also Fang Yumo, who'd acted in a drama.

Fang Yumo for the Best Female Lead was rather awkward in front of Mu Jiao.

On the night of the awards ceremony, it was naturally dazzling. Su Cha did not neglect it. She was wearing clothes personally designed by the chief designer of Hiberia. It was said that it had just been designed. Even Tan Jinsui did not know about it. When the chief designer learned that Su Cha had an event, they immediately sent it over.

Even Tan Jinsui was in disbelief. "You haven't seen this chief designer yet, right? How can they treat you so well?"

If anyone had any ideas, the chief designer was already old.

Furthermore, designing clothes for a spokesperson was unheard of. The chief designer had never even met with a global spokesperson before.

Chapter 1000: Hard to Say

“I don’t know either...”

Su Cha was baffled, but she accepted the good intentions of the brand.

She was now wearing a white starry evening gown decorated with small diamonds. Its slightly exaggerated style was balanced with the perfect design. The hem of her dress was a fishtail, showing Su Cha’s perfect devilish body.

The designer was well aware of her style. They’d added a retro-style design to the top, which added to Su Cha’s classical charm.

The stylist was carefully weaving Su Cha’s hair. Her outfit was suitable for a decent bun.

Tan Jinsui looked at the time and urged the stylist a little. The stylist quickly said, “Alright, alright. We can set off immediately.”

Fu Mo had already prepared what needed to be prepared. She whispered, “I’ve checked on the nominees for tonight. None of them are competitive.”

She was trying to hide the fact that the result was already out.

Su Cha laughed helplessly, “Are you trying to surprise me?”

Fu Mo smiled innocently. “Am I giving you a surprise?”

“What are you dreaming about? There’s no surprise yet.”

Tan Jinsui walked over and flicked Fu Mo’s forehead. He did not dare to flick Su Cha.

“Doesn’t Uncle Tan feel that tonight’s opponents are not competitive?”

Fu Mo smiled mischievously. Tan Jinsui shook his head. “Don’t say that out loud. It’s offensive.”

No matter how confident he was, before the results were out, it was naturally inappropriate for him to tell others about it.

Otherwise, wouldn’t it mean that he didn’t care about others?

Fu Mo didn’t continue. She knew that Tan Jinsui didn’t know about the results, but he should have heard something about it.

Otherwise, it wouldn’t be like this.

When Su Cha got into the car, she sighed. “Now that I’ve won the Best Female Lead Award, can I win the Best Female Lead Award next year?”

“You can get it, but it depends on which award you’d qualify for. There are some Best Female Lead awards that are just nice-sounding. Compared to those, the one tonight is very valuable. But with your qualifications, there’s not much hope of you getting the Best Female Lead Award next year. Let’s just aim for the Best Actress Award.”

Although Tan Jinsui did not speak fully, he had high expectations for Su Cha.

If it were any other artiste, they wouldn’t be so ambitious as to get the Best Actress Award.

Su Cha and Fu Mo looked at each other and laughed. The car started and they rushed to the venue of the award ceremony. Fu Mo took out her phone and fiddled with it. Soon, she sent Su Cha a picture, “Did she wear the same outfit as you?”

Su Cha looked down. It was Fang Yumo.

She was also wearing Hiberia’s Haute Couture. Su Cha said lightly, “Not really. At most, it’s the same color.”

Fang Yumo was wearing pure white, so she looked good in it, while Su Cha's was starry white. The dress was personally designed by the chief designer and had not been displayed so far. Not many people knew what Su Cha was wearing.

Tan Jinsui took a glance and suddenly said meaningfully, "When she sees your clothes, there won't be any weird posts, right?"

Su Cha glanced at him. "What post?"

Tan Jinsui shook his head and sneered. "It's hard to say. I've heard of Fang Yumo before. She doesn't play nice."
