

Chapter 27: Subterfuge

Kealan POV:

To say I'm annoyed is a complete fucking understatement! This bitch is driving me insane, she is a complete idiot. I'll never know how she graduated from school. "Keke baby I want to go shopping, can you give me some money?" Stephanie asked. "the fuck I look like? NO!" I replied. "Why not? You're my man and you're supposed to take care of me. We never spend time together, all we talk about is Ashton bitch ass!" She yelled. I looked at her like she'd lost her mind. Kill the bitch. I shook my head trying to clear my thoughts. "So you rather me give you money to go shopping, rather than spend actual time with you?" I asked annoyed. "Yes" she said pouting. I le out a sigh and pinched my nerves between my eyes. Being with her is becoming difficult. "I'm not gonna give you any money. Your acting like a spoiled gold digger." I told her. She frowned. "You aren't deserving of a treat anyway, everything you've told he hasn't helped me at all with killing the stupid boy" i told her. Maybe I will kill her. Actually I decided to do something nice for you, you see Ashton does have a weakness. Serenity is his weakness, I bet you didn't even know that they were mates" she said smirking. What the hell. I already knew that shit."And?" I asked. " well. Serenity is the weakest link in the pack. The best way to get under Ass holes skin is to get under her skin. Sooooo I sent out your second command to kidnap her companion." She said with a smile.

I couldn't believe my ears. What the hell! Is she mad?!!! I felt my claws extend and my eyes change. "Have you lost your fucking mind?! Do you understand what the hell you've just done?!! This bitch could've just started an apocalypse!!

" what's wrong? I'm helping you" she said confused. "Who the hell do you think you are to tell any of my men what to do?! Do you realize that my second command could be dead? He is my brother so you better pray to whoever it is that you pray to that he comes back. If he doesn't well... let's just say that I'll deliver your severed body parts to your mother every morning." I said with a smirk. She knew I meant business. She began to grow nervous. I watched her reaction very closely. Sweat began to gather at her brow and she swallowed her spit. She became unbalanced and bounced from foot to foot. "Get the hell out of my face and find my damn brother now!!" I yelled. She scrambled away from me.

Everyone has serenity underestimated. She could wipe out an entire town with a flick of her finger and this bitch has the nerve to send one of my men out to fuck with her emotions?!! And emotional females are a force to be reckoned with. She doesn't even know what she is yet! She's completely unstable and I've made a mistake by dealing with that stupid whore.... I have to somehow use this to my advantage because heaven forbids she finds out I betrayed her.... fix it dummy I don't want to die because of you.

I have to think of something and something quick...

Ashton's POV:
I've been pacing back and forth around my o ice all day. What the hell is she? A fucking God! Shut up let's be serious for a second. I just know that she's special, like nothing I've ever seen before. I think it's time to talk to my father and her parents. They know something I'm sure of it! slowly walked out of my o ice pondering on what's going on with my mate. Waking to my dads study, I respectfully knocked on the door and waited for a response. "Come in son" he replied. I walked in and gave him a man hug. "Have a seat son and tell me what's on your mind, I could hear your pacing." He said "dad something is going on and it's got me on edge." I replied. He nodded his head and appeared to be deep in thought. His forehead wrinkled with what looked like frustration. "What exactly is going on son?" He asked. "It's about my mate... Serenity as you know she hates me and" I started but was interrupted. "Oh son she'll come around, there isn't anything to be worried about. She is your mate and she'll naturally want to be with you just give it time" he said relieved. Hell no he knows something! That's not what I was talking about dad." I said aggravated. "Something is up with her, she can do things... things that normal wolves can't do. Powers of some sort. I think she may be a witch" I told him in all seriousness. I watched her reaction carefully. Soon all of the color drained from his face and he became sickly. He let out a breath. "Oh no.." was all I got from him. "What the hell does that mean!" I shouted. "Son please there are something's that even I can't explain to you. I'm sorry but I cannot tell you. I've been sworn under an oath, and it's physically impossible for me to tell you. But I do know that your mate is in danger. She isn't like any other wolf in the world" he said. A god. I told you. Shut up? Please dad you have to tell me something. Why is she in danger?" I asked concerned. "I can't tell you son, just keep her close and never let her out of your site. The Hampton's bloodline goes back into ancient times and they hold a lot of power and wealth." He said. I was speechless. My little mate was powerful? Duh fucktard. Shit. I nod my head at my father and le his o ice. I need to process this shit....

Ex Alpha Jake POV:

This is bad. Really bad. I wish that I could tell my son the severity of this situation but I can't. Serenity isn't an average werewolf. She is a queen, the only queen to rule other than the moon goddess... she is her great daughter a er all... exactly!! Do you know how many people would love to have that type of power?!! Yes of course. History has a way of repeating itself.

*FLASHBACK ****

6000 years in the past.

During these times there were different rules to this world. There was a king or queen for each being of the supernatural world. Werewolves were ruled by Aphrodite (queen) also known as the moon goddess. Vampires were ruled by Hades (King) ruler of the under world. Mermaids and sirens were ruled by Poseidon (King) god of the sea. Witches were ruled by Ares (King) god of war. And last but not least the ruler of man (King) Zeus. Each ruled side by side at harmony. That was until a ruler fell in love with one of their subjects.... Aphrodite had a big heart and loved all of her people. She wasn't expecting to fall in love with a human. Zeus would be furious if he found out, so she kept her secret to herself.

Things went south when the lovers were caught together. This angered one of the Gods, Ares to be specific. He didn't agree with what was happening. How dare she disgrace their bloodline. At that moment in a blazing rage Ares set out to do something unforgivable. He kills the lover of Aphrodite and blames Hades for his horrible act. The goddess was hurt immensely by what was done. Why would anyone hurt someone she loved so dearly? She didn't understand, but what she did understand was revenge. She wanted it badly. But she didn't want to injure any of her subjects by starting a war. She then came up with a plan. She decided that she'd get even with Hades. Everyone knows how much Hades loves his children (vampires). Aphrodite tricked Persephone who is Hades beloved into drinking a poison that would prevent them from having children.

There would be no more naturally born vampires. She was so angered that she wasn't seeing things clearly. She'd purposely hurt someone. Soon guilt began to eat at her heart. A er Hades and Persephone su ered 100 miscarriages she decided to come clean and tell him what she had done.

Hades was at lost for words. Why would she do this to him?! Hurt and angered by her actions Hades confides in Ares. Ares is very amused by his brothers suffering but he wasn't pleased. He's only happy when he is at war. With that in thought he decided to give Hades some advice. He convinced Hades to get revenge on their sister. Hades lets his emotions get the better of him and agrees to Ares' evil plan. Ares has some of his subjects put a hex on Aphrodite to prevent her from ever being with anything she loved even her subjects. She was banished to the moon forever. Hades was pleased but in return he was cursed. For acting out of anger Ares cursed him and his subjects, his freedom to roam the world as he pleased was taken away. Only when the sun was down was when he and his people were able to live life normally.

To say Ares started trouble is an understatement. When Zeus found out about Ares's evil doings he punished him. Ares was sentenced to a lifetime of torture and pain. Upon the brink of death Zeus decided that Ares should be put under a sleeping spell never to be awakened. That le Ares subjects without a leader which lead to more chaos. A er a few decades Zeus tried to right the wrongs that had been done to his siblings but there was only so much he could do. He granted Hades's subjects the ability to create new beings and granted Aphrodite the ability to visit earth 4 times a year.

Although Aphrodite's lover was killed and she was overjoyed. She was with child. She was also fearful of her child. She'd let revenge get the best of her and now she didn't know what to do to protect her little one. As soon as she was able to go back to earth she delivered her baby there. It was a girl. She was beautiful. She was born with white hair and silver eyes as big as the moon. Aphrodite knew she had to leave her child on earth. Her people needed a ruler a er all. She le her new born princess with her most trust worthy subjects to raise her as their queen. Every year she would visit her until she'd grow up to be the most powerful beings in the world. Her name is hope. May she reign and bring peace to her people as the moon goddess....

Every new millennia a new goddess is born, she is unlike any creature to walk the earth. She is unstoppable and to be feared by all who stand in her way.

* END OF FLASHBACK*

Jake cringed just with the thought. Serenity's great great great grandmother was the queen before her because she had unbelievable power. A er she found a mate and had kids who seemed like normal wolves, the world thought that the moon goddess was dead. A spirit if you will... No one else in the Hampton bloodline showed any sign of powers to the point that everyone thought it died with Goddess hope.

It looks like it just skipped a few generations. If I'm correct about serenity she is in grave danger. Revenge is a terrible thing and could drive people to do bad things. As I said history has a way of repeating itself. I'm just hoping that there is a way to stop it.... serenity's grandma gave her life to prevent it from happening, I guess she just delayed what was to come. I have to do something.
