

Chapter 3: Ashton (⚠️ mature content⚠️)

"Oh yeah fuck me just like that! , please don't stop Ash" some random slut yelled. I pounded her harder and harder. "Uhhhh my god". She screamed. A er a few more strokes I finished o . "Oh Ash that was amazing." What's her face sighed.

I gave her a bored look 😞. Shaking her o I head to the shower. "Be gone by the time I get out" I said. "What? You want me to leave a er making love to me?" She said confused. "I don't love, I fuck. That's all you are, a quick fuck. Get your shit and get the fuck out of my house slut!" I yelled. She scrambled to get her things with tears rolling down her face. She then turned towards me with a look of pain and said, "screw you, you fucking bastard! I hope you never find love because you don't deserve it!" I rolled my eyes.. 😞

' Whatever

A er my shower I headed to the pack house. I headed up to my fathers o ice to discuss pack business. Ive trained for years to become alpha. My father thought it was important for me to become strong and fearsome, so he sent me to hell. The training school I went to was complete hell! I was isolated from my friends, my family and anything that was dear to me . But I did learn how to be a ruthless leader and when I become alpha I will rule with an iron fist. People will fear me and bow down to me, I'll be the greatest leader of them all. Even the moon goddess will shiver with fear of the thought of me. 'We will be feared by All' my wolf Xavier said. I smile as I walk into my fathers o ice.

"What's with the creepy smile son?" Asked my dad. "I was just thinking about becoming alpha" I replied. "In time son, you will make a great alpha. Now let's get down to business, rogues have been spotted near our border. They appear to be a er something on our lands. I'm placing you in charge of finding out what they want " he said. "I'm on it dad. You can count on it" I replied. " So about the party your throwing, there is a big chance you will finally find your mate. When you do I'll pass the alpha title down to you." I nodded my head. 'Our mate will be strong and sexy' my wolf said

A er the meeting with the father, I met up with my future beta and best friend Jordan. I told him about the rogue problem and we decided to investigate. Changing into our wolves and taking o towards the border. When we reached our destination, I was instantly hit with the nasty stench of rogue . The smell is horrid. ' Follow the smell and see where it leads' mind link Jordan. ' Yes alphá We traced the stench to the back of the Hampton's residence. 'Why would a rogue be outside of the Hampton house, directly under Serenity's window' I wondered out loud. ' That's very strange, you don't suppose she is working with them do you'asked Jordan. ' Definitely not, she is too sweet and weak to associate with a rogue' I growled 'they must want something with her' Xavier commented. We shi ed back to our human forms to take a better look. While checking things out, I walked towards the window. Looking inside I saw her, serenity. She was sleeping with her hair sprawled across her pillow and her so looking lips in a pout. She was beautiful and innocent. Perfect. I felt my wolf stir with just looking at her. I frowned. ' She is too good for me. I hate her for that, she has it too easy! Her life is so easy while mine went to shit the minute I was cast away to the school of hell! I fucking hate everything about her because I envy her'"Hey man I don't see anything here, we should go home and call it a night " Jordan said. "Yeah lets go" I said taking one last look into the window. We ran home and went our separate ways. We will look for more information tomorrow.

Walking into my house, I sighed. It was so quiet, so lonely. Lately I've been yearning for my mate. I just know that she will be bad ass, sexy, and strong. Climbing into bed with my mate on my mind. I gave one last sigh and went to bed.

'One day I'll find her'
