

The Rejected Luna

Chapter 18

THE REJECTED LUNA.

THE GIRL WITHOUT A WOLF.

CHAPTER 18.

Jane's Point of View

"Oh my goddess, it's you, Amira." "You scared the shit out of me." "What are you doing here?"

"I'm here to surprise you, darling," she muttered. I have been waiting for you. "Where have you been? I missed you.

"I have been training with Vishal," I replied.

"Oh yes, you have been training so hard. I think we should have a girls' time. What do you think? She inquires.

"Amira, you know, I've got no time to have fun. I've got a lot to do. I should never slack in my training. You know the one I'm facing in the fight? I respond. I'm sorry.

"It's okay, take your time," she whispered. Let's go in.

I feel guilty for turning her down. It's not her fault and her suggestion isn't bad, but I've got no time to be happy or have any fun. I'm only living for my revenge. Amira and I walked in, and she started to discuss the guy she met.

"Is he your mate? I asked the blushing Amira. I can see she's in love already.

"I don't think he's. I feel no mate bond or the pull between us. "He's a really nice guy," she said. I hope he's my fated mate.

"I hope so, darling. I'll support you. I utter.

She finally left after hours of talking about the guy. I hope he won't hurt her.

It's time to have my bath. I strip and walk into the bathroom, but something amazing happens. Something I never expected or hoped to experience again in my life has occurred once more.

"I'm sorry for making you feel worried," the voice says. I remember who that voice belongs to. It belongs to my wolf, Amber.

"Oh my god. Is that you, Amber? I scream. "Are you real? Tell me, this is not a delusion, right!"

"It's me, Jane. "I'm back," she whispers softly.

"Amber!" I scream. Amber is back. My wolf is back.

I was jumping and screaming. Happiness filled my heart. My once dead soul was lifted with joy once more. I can't believe this. I can't believe my wolf is back and stronger.

"What happened to you, Amber? I ask. "Why did you stay silent all this time? I miss you a lot.

"I'm sorry! I can feel all your pain and sadness. "I can hear you calling my name, but I'm too weak to respond to your call," she denoted.

"Thank you for fighting to stay alive." "Thank you for saving me," I cried. I'm only alive because you saved me.

"Cry no longer, darling," she said, "he saved my life."

"Who! Who is the person that saved your life? I'm confused by what she told me

"Parker. He saved my life. I don't know how he knew I was in danger, but he rescued me in time," she said.

I'm more confused. Who is Parker? I have no idea who he was.

I told her, "I have no idea who Parker is." Who is he?

"He's the Alpha king wolf. Our ex-mate

"What?!?"

I was shocked by what Amber told me. His human form was trying to get us killed, while his demon wolf form saved us. What the hell is happening?

THE NEXT DAY.

The first people I met the next day were Amira and Ella.

"Open up, Jane," they said, as they kept knocking on my door.

It is early in the morning. I was still sleeping in my bed. I struggle out of bed to open the door for them.

"Is something wrong? I ask. It's too early in the morning.

"Are you still sleeping?" "I thought you were already up and ready to go train," Ella said.

"Yes, we thought of joining you in training today instead of watching you train," Amira articulated.

"Train with me? I was surprised. "Why are you not training with the rest of the pack members?"

"We ditch them, honey." "No more training with them," they whisper.

"I need to rest. I don't want to disturb Amber " i announced.

"Amber? Is that not your wolf name? Amira asked. "Wait, is she back? Tell me fast. "Have you got your wolf back?"

I smile happily. My face lifted at the thought of having my wolf back.

"Oh yes. I got Amber back. She's back.

"Oh my goddess," they screamed. This is good news. Congratulations, darling. We are so happy for you.

I'm no longer unhappy again; but my thirst for revenge never dries. I must have him pay for what he did even if his wolf saves us. He will regret hurting us. I sincerely joke and laugh with the girls.

"Oh my god. Our Jane is back. They screamed. I laugh at their silly words.

A WEEK LATER.

I never stop training. I work so hard and push myself to train harder.

"Go girl, we can do this," Amber speaks.

She has been helping me train. I train in my human wolf form, and she makes me train in my wolf form as well. With her instructions, I can say I'm a great fighter now. I'm ready to kill that bastard.

"Goddess! Jane, when will you stop pushing yourself? "You have your wolf back and you can slowly plan your revenge on him," Amira enunciated.

I looked up and saw both girls walking towards me.

"You need a break, darling. Take things easy. Let's go shopping and then hit the club. Or what do you think" Ella suggested.

"I'm not interested. I prefer training in the pack than being in the club.

"Come on, girl." "You need this," Amira says.

"It's true. You need this," Amber said. I can hear her voice at the back of my mind.

"Anything you say, Amber."

"Okay, let's hit the shopping mall," I mutter. I need to have my bath and change my dress.

"I'm driving us to where you are going to see hot dresses," Amira said as she drove out of the pack.

We soon reach the mall. It's different from the one we visited last time.

"Welcome, my ladies," the shop attendant welcomed us.

"Keereh, show us the latest dress you have got," Amira said as we walked into the mall.

It's so big and luxurious. I'm sure the clothes here will be super expensive. How can we afford this?

I dragged Amira's hand before whispering into her ear, "How are we supposed to afford the clothes here? The clothes here will be very expensive. Let's check the other store.

"Jane, don't worry yourself about the bills. The bills will be paid by my brother. The owner of the shop is my brother's mate, but he's yet to introduce her to us. I found out by mistake. Let's shop, baby girl. He will pay the bills. That is what he gets for hiding her from us.

We chose a lot of dresses. Sexy, hot, short bum.

"It's time to go," she announces.

"Good bye, my ladies.

We gist, and chatted. Amira parks the car when we reach the pack.

"I need to go change my dress," Ella utters. See you, girls.

She walks away, leaving both i and Amira.

"I need to go, Jane. "See you soon," she said as she walked away leaving me.

"Why are you still standing there?" " We need to change as well! " Amber yells.

"Oh yes." I enter my room to change into the clothes I bought at the mall.

It's a red crop top and a short bum.

Wow! I look like a goddess, but it's too short. "What do you think, Amber?"

"I have no word to describe your beauty! She complimented me, "You are so beautiful, sweetheart."

I didn't bother to roll my hair. I dropped it down, making me look like a real goddess.

"Are you ready? I can hear Amira's voice coming from downstairs.

I respond, "Almost." I quickly did my make-over before heading downstairs, where I met the girls already waiting for me.

"Wow! "You look so hot. "I can't believe I'm drooling on you," Amira said.

"You girls are not bad! You both look good and hot," I say to them.

"Are we ready? Let's hit the club.

THE CLUB.

The club is not far from the pack. We drive to a nearby club. I hope I won't come across that piece of trash. Well, he won't come here since his pack is far from here. even if I come across him. I'm going to kill him. I'll show him no mercy.

We soon reach the club. We pack the car before hitting the bar for a drink.

I'm happy and ready to have fun.

"Hello! Can I get a drink? I needed strong alcohol, I told the barman.

"What do you care for as well?" he asked Amira and Ella.

"Same as her!"

I shoved the drink down my throat. It's so strong. Amira and Ella were already dancing.

"I need another drink!"

"Can you allow me to pay for your drink, pretty lady? A stranger asked.

I turned my back and came face to-face with the stranger. He was a tall guy with blonde hair. He looks so handsome. He's exactly my type. I almost drooled.

The stranger seemed shocked when he saw my face.

"You..." he stutters.

"What!" Do you know me? I ask. I'm confused by the look on his face. It's as if he knows who I am.

"I know who you are," he utters. Are you not the Alpha King, Richard's rejected mate, Jane?"

"Whattttt?"
