Leaving.

New Start. New Life.

Jane's point of view.

"Mother, I told you he hates me. I sob.

"It's OK, honey. Everything will be fine. Always remember that I love you, you are my life, Jane.

The next day.

Mom, call her sister Karen to tell her about me as well as my situation and she welcomes me to come and live with her.

I was packing my bag when my mother walked inside my room.

"Hi, baby are you through with what you are doing? She asks.

"Yes, mother. Everything is set. I am ready to leave this pack. I can't wait to leave and start a new life somewhere else, I told her.

"Good, your aunt, my sister will be probably waiting for your arrival, " she said.

We both walk out of the room.

I saw my father sitting on the couch and slipping on his morning coffee. Good for him.

"Where are you going? He asked. Eyeing the bag I am holding. "Where do you think you are going? "Did you ask for my permission before leaving this house?

"Father, I think you never want me, so I don't think you are in the right position to be asking me where I am going. Please, father, let me go. I am fed up living with people that hate me.

My father went silent. He was staring at me, and without uttering a single word. He stands up and heads to his bedroom.

"Father, I called after him.

"Come back here. Jane. Let him be", my mother said. Let's go. I don't want you to miss your bus.

"OK, mom. I followed her.

She drives me to where I will take the bus to her sister's place. Since I have no wolf, I have no choice but to go to her place by bus.

"Mom, I am going to miss you. Jane let out.

"I will miss you more, my darling daughter, Mum replies, smiling. I hope you'll be fine. I hope you will find someone who will love and accept you for who you are.

"No. Mom, I don't need anyone in my life. No one is going to accept a girl like me. Don't you get it, mother? I have no wolf. I am wolfless.

"Don't be sad. I know you will be fine. I am sure you are going to be happy one day.

"I hope so, but I don't want to place my hope on people who will never cherish me" I let out.

"You'll be fine. She assured me.

My mum waits till the bus arrives. I hate to part ways with her, but I have no choice. I will never be happy as long as I live in that horrible pack. I hate my mate and I wish to never meet him again. "That bastard".

"Who the hell did he think he is? I don't need a mate like him. He did not deserve me. I'm going to prove to everyone that I am not clumsy or weak. I will come back to this pack when I become stronger.

I say goodbye to my mother. She waits till my bus is no longer in sight. I finally arrive at my aunt, husband's Pack, where everyone is waiting for my arrival.

"Welcome to my pack, Alpha Tommy said.

"Thank you, Alpha, I replied.

I have never felt honored like this in my whole life.

"We are family. You can call me Uncle. He said.

"OK, Sir, I replied.

"Call me uncle, " he said again.

"OK, uncle, I let out.

"Welcome Home, baby girl. My aunt hugged me, giving me a motherly warmth.

"Thank you, Aunt," I said, returning her warm hug.

I feel love. I feel I am really at home. I feel familiar with this place, even if it is my first time coming here. I was shown my room. Aunt Karen has three children, two boys, and a girl. Amira, the last born of the Alpha family, is the same age as mine. She is also in search of her mate. She's a kind girl. She talks all day about finding her mate, and how sweet they say mates are.

Well, I think she's wrong, mates are the worst and your life will be a living hell if you are mated with a monster like my bastard mate.

"Well, I don't think mates are good, " I told her.

"Jane, have you found your mate? Amira asked.

"No. I have never met my mate and I don't think he is something special. I will rather be mateless than to be a victim to a bastard mate", I spit out.

"What is wrong? Why did I feel something was wrong? Why did I feel you already met your mate and got rejected.

"Tell me, is that the truth? We require it.

What. "Did I already give myself out? It is no longer a secret.

"Yes, I already met my mate, but he rejected me as his mate. He even went as far as to humiliate me in front of everyone. Everything happens in the pack celebration, I told her.

What. She slammed the table. "Who the hell did he think he is? Did he tell you the reason why he rejects you? She asks, again.

"Yes because he thinks I am useless. I have no wolf. I respond.

"Just because of that?" That jerk is a bastard. He doesn't deserve you, I promise to help you get your revenge when I get to meet that asshole", she promised.

"Thank you. I smile at her innocence.

Amira has been nothing but a great friend to me. I was loved and cherished by all the pack members in this pack. I feel love despite them knowing I had no wolf.

They never treat me badly. Everything is going on smoothly in my life. This place is my home. This place is what I call my home.
