

The Return 301

Chapter 301

Joanna went to the company early in the morning on Tuesday.

After the meeting with the higher-ups, it was already past ten o'clock.

Joanna looked at the time. If she set off now, she should be able to reach Greene Town by noon.

"Cora, do you have all the samples and documents?"

"Yes, I've brought them all."

"Alright then! We have to rush to Greene Town now."

"Will do."

"Call Michael. Tell him and Nicholas to pick us up at the port."

"I've already called Mr. Lawrence."

When Joanna heard this, she smiled. She admired Cora's ability to handle things and work.

"Miss Haynes, the number of fans has increased by several hundred thousand in the past two days. At this rate, the number of fans will soon exceed 10 million."

Joanna frowned and said in surprise, "No way?"

"Brother Trumpet has more than 50 million fans. With his help, it won't be a problem for you to have ten million fans."

"Ha-ha, let's go!"

Joanna brought Cora to Porash.

After they arrived at Porash, Michael and Nicholas would wait for them there. This time, there was a female bodyguard,

Tatiana,

Tatiana was newly hired and was the national boxing champion. Dealing with eight to ten strong men would not be a problem.

It was not safe for Joanna to enter and leave a place without the protection of the bodyguards.

Therefore, Joanna paid a high price to hire another female bodyguard.

Three hours later.

Greene Town!

Joanna's group had arrived at Greene Town.

Brother Trumpet was already waiting downstairs. When he saw Joanna get out of the car, he came to welcome her personally.

“Brother Trumpet!”

“Ms. Haynes, you’re here.” There was a warm smile on Brother Trumpet’s face as he stepped forward to shake hands with Joanna.

Joanna politely shook hands with Brother Trumpet. “You can call me Joanna from now on! Calling me Ms. Haynes sounds strange.”

“Oh, I misread the price!

“What should we do? We've already sold 100 thousand products!” Brother Trumpet pretended to be anxious.

When Joanna heard this, her head hurt even more.

“How about this? In order to make up for the loss of Miss Haynes, I'll pay the price difference! Did everyone see that? This is really not a script. I really misread the price.”

Joanna was at a loss.

After all, she had never done a live broadcast before and had never encountered such a thing!

When the fans heard this, they placed their orders crazily.

In less than three minutes, all the products were sold out.

“Miss Haynes, can we add more products? There are still fans who haven't bought it!”

“Sure, but you have to make a reservation!”

“Keep placing orders, everyone!”

At night, the live broadcast room was very popular!

While Brother Trumpet went out for the bathroom, Joanna quickly chased after him.

“Brother Trumpet, I didn't prepare those freebies! What about the difference in price?”

Brother Trumpet took a sip of water and smiled. “Don't worry. I said it wrong on purpose!”

“Huh?” Joanna was confused!

On second thought, it made sense. How could an experienced streamer like Brother Trumpet misread the price?

“The hand sanitizers and tissues were developed by my company to give benefits to fans!”

When Joanna heard this, she felt even more apologetic. “But I can’t make you pay for it. Tell me how much it is and I’ll give you the money!”

“It’s fine. These costs are very low. I’ll make up for the difference in price. It’s also a benefit I’m giving to my fans.”

Joanna was even more shocked when she heard this. She looked at Brother Trumpet in a daze!

Her nose twitched a little, and she was even more touched.

“No, no, I can’t let you lose money!”

Brother Trumpet chuckled. “It’s fine. It’s nothing! You really don’t have to be so conflicted!”

In a short while, 200 thousand cleaning robots had been sold. Moreover, 100 thousand cleaning robots had been reserved.

“This is the chairman of the Haynes Group. Everyone, follow her...”

After the live broadcast, Joanna found Brother Trumpet.

“Brother Trumpet, I’ll pay you the benefits you gave the fans. You didn’t charge me much for selling my products. I can’t let you lose money.” Joanna insisted on making up for Brother Trumpet’s loss.

She had no choice but to use the power of public opinion to establish a relationship with Bruce.

Jennie pouted unhappily. "Bruce..."

Bruce coldly withdrew his arm. "Let's leave it at that! I'm going back first!"

"Oh, alright then!" Although Jennie wore a disappointed expression, she had already achieved her goal!

The paparazzi should have taken photos of them together.

As expected, the news about Bruce and Jennie broke out online the next day.

"Mr. Everett allegedly starts a new romance, seen kissing the daughter of a gambling tycoon at the airport."

"Miss Garcia may become Mr. Everett's new girlfriend."

"Mr. Everett and Miss Garcia's relationship nearing the next level, the two seen together in Docan."

Gossip about Bruce and Jennie being in a romantic relationship flooded the internet!

However, Bruce had always been indifferent to such gossip.

After all, this was not the truth! There was no need to pay attention to things not based on the facts.

In the conference room of the Haynes Group.

Joanna held a regular meeting with the higher-ups as usual.

“Miss Haynes, our inventory has been completely cleared out!”

“Yes! Who would have thought that online live streaming would be so successful? We managed to clear out the inventory backlog in just two days”

“What’s better is that customers have also placed orders for over a hundred thousand units. Now the factory needs to speed up production”

“Clap, clap, clap.” The higher-ups applauded one after another.

This time, Joanna not only cleared out the inventory but also obtained several major orders.

The stock prices also began to rise.

The Haynes Group successfully overcame the current challenges.

Joanna said, “Yes, next, I’m going to shift my focus to Mossbourne.”

“We have no objections Go ahead and do it boldly!”

Mr. Roger and Mr. Paul also began to look at Joanna in a different light and began to support her entry into the Mossbourne

Chapter 304

Joanna accompanied the children and played at the amusement park for an entire morning.

At lunchtime, she bought fried chicken and fries for the children.

Time passed quickly, and three hours had gone by!

One o'clock in the afternoon, the nanny looked at her watch and reminded, "Miss Haynes, it has been three hours. It's time for us to take them home."

"Okay, stay safe on the way!"

"Bye, Mommy!"

"Goodbye, darlings!" Joanna was a little down.

No mother wanted their children to no longer be attached to them.

But now, she could clearly feel that her children were not as attached to her anymore!

She had to quicken her pace, swiftly develop her career, and regain custody of the children.

After the children left, Joanna looked at the time. It was only one in the afternoon.

She realized she hadn't visited Jaydon in Venturas for almost half a month!

Taking advantage of the free time today, she decided it was time to go see him.

Three o'clock in the afternoon, in Venturas.

Joanna arrived at Marhall Hospital!

Today, she had come directly to the hospital without calling Jaydon beforehand.

"Crash!"

"Bang!"

Just as Joanna reached the entrance of the ward, she heard the sound of things being thrown inside the ward!

Joanna was taken aback and instinctively froze, standing at the door of the ward.

“Get out, all of you! Get out!”

Jaydon’s roaring voice could be heard from inside the room,

“Mr. Grimm, please don’t lose hope. Your leg hasn’t fully recovered yet.

“If you rest for a while, you will be able to stand up again.”

Upon hearing this, Joanna felt her heart tighten instantly!

Jaydon had always been gentle and composed. He rarely lost his temper!

Even when he did get angry, he would never be this aggressive!

The door of the ward creaked open.

The two nurses were chased out!

Joanna held Jaydon tightly, feeling heartbroken. "Jay, you must stay strong! "Doctor, please come quickly! We need help!"

Soon enough, the doctor and nurses arrived.

The doctor administered a sedative to Jaydon and then tended to his wounds.

The nurses quickly cleaned up the ward!

After receiving the sedative, Jaydon quickly fell asleep.

"Mr. Grimm's legs must not sustain further damage. He needs to be well taken care of."

"Yes, I understand," Joanna replied with a heavy heart.

She anxiously asked the doctor, "Doctor, will Jay's legs be able to recover?"

The chief orthopedist looked solemn. "At the moment, it's uncertain. Mr. Grimm's central nervous system has suffered severe damage. In the medical field, the nervous system is the most difficult to heal."

Joanna felt like she had been plunged into an icy abyss upon hearing this.

"What are the chances of a cure?"

"It's hard to say. The likelihood of a full recovery is only 10%.

"The patient also needs to actively cooperate with the treatment and subsequent rehabilitation, which will be a lengthy process.

"For now, we need to find a way to help the patient overcome their emotional barriers and actively cooperate with the treatment."

Alright, I understand!" Joanna replied.

After the doctor finished speaking, they went straight into their office without saying anything else.

In the corridor, Joanna sat absentmindedly in a chair with her mind blanked.

It was really it was truly an unexpected turn of events!

She never imagined that Jaydon would encounter such a tragedy.

It wouldn't be easy to help him overcome his emotional barriers.

Lost in her thoughts, Joanna was startled by a stern and composed voice.

"Ms. Haynes!"

Hearing this, Joanna looked up.

She did not know when Tim had arrived. At this moment, he was standing before her with a grave expression.

Joanna felt a pang in her heart and quickly stood up, "Mr. Grimm, hello!"

Tim furrowed his brow and said with a sorrowful tone, "During this period, Jay's mood has been extremely low, and no matter how much we try to console him, it doesn't seem to work."

“Fool, if it were me who became disabled, would you abandon me?”

After hearing Joanna’s question, Jaydon fell silent once again,

If it were Joanna who had an accident, he would probably do everything to take care of her for the rest of her life.

“We have been through so much together. Don’t you believe in me?”

As Joanna spoke, she leaned down and planted a deep kiss on Jaydon’s lips.

There was a hint of sweetness on her soft lips.

Jaydon’s entire body trembled as if he had been electrocuted.

It turned out that kissing the person he loved felt so wonderful.

“Joann...”

Joanna smiled gently and said earnestly, “Jay, I love you!”

Jaydon stared at Joanna, his eyes filled with astonishment.

The words “I love you” seemed to contain infinite energy.

It instantly pierced through his gloomy and despondent heart, shining a beam of warm sunlight upon it.

Really? Jaydon asked in disbelief.

Joanna said solemnly, “I can swear to the heavens!

“I didn’t accept your love before because you’re too outstanding, and I felt unworthy of you.”

When Jaydon heard this, a trace of hope was completely ignited in his heart.

Joanna asked, “So, do you still love me?”

Jaydon’s face was filled with sincerity as he said, “Of course, I have always loved you, and I will continue to love you in the future!”

Joanna smiled tenderly and pressed his hand against her cheek. “Then, when you’re discharged from the hospital, let’s get married!”

Upon hearing this, Jaydon subconsciously swallowed, and his throat tightened. “Joann, have you really thought it through?”

“Yes, I’ve thought it through. I’ve always loved you and want to be with you for the rest of my life.”

“Really?”

“I swear to God, I love you!”

Happiness came too suddenly. Jaydon felt like he was in a dream..

“Joann, do you really not regret it?”

“I may not be able to walk for the rest of my life. I will be a burden to you forever.”

Joanna gently rubbed her cheek against his palm and said, “Being able to take care of the person you love is also a kind of happiness.

“No matter if you can stand up or not, I will never leave you in my lifetime. Unless you don’t want me anymore.”

"Let's forget about Greyport for now. It would be better for us to meet abroad after I finish my current work," Bruce patiently persuaded in Antlenish.

Upon hearing this, Princess Martha's voice carried a hint of disappointment as she said in Antlenish, "Bruce, are you afraid of being caught by the media?"

"Mmm," Bruce ambiguously responded.

"After all, you are a princess. If we were caught by the media, it would affect your reputation," he explained.

Princess Martha instantly felt relieved and joyfully said, "Bruce, don't worry. Even if we are caught, I can marry you!"

Upon hearing this, Bruce's head started to ache even more.

The pace of this relationship development is too fast!

Deep down, he was still a traditional man. When it came to marriage, he wanted to carefully consider it.

Moreover, he still could not let go of Joanna! Being with Princess Martha was just seeking novelty!

Bruce remained silent.

Princess Martha asked again, "What's wrong? Aren't you happy?"

"Haha, of course, I'm happy!"

Princess Martha happily said, "Then it's settled. I'll come to see you next week!"

"Sure, let's do that! Once I finish my busy week, I'll come to see you!"

"It's more convenient for me to come to your place!" Bruce quickly reassured Princess Martha.

For some reason, he just didn't want his relationship with Princess Martha to be exposed.

Princess Martha replied, "That's fine too!"

"Alright then! I'll hang up first!" Bruce heaved a sigh of relief.

"Okay, love you!"

After hanging up the phone, Bruce let out a long sigh, feeling a mix of emotions.

Princess Martha was a legitimate royal princess, and if their relationship were to be exposed...

To be honest, it would undoubtedly satisfy the vanity of many men to a great extent. However, Bruce inexplicably felt troubled by it.

In the Marshall Hospital of Venturas.

Joanna had already contacted a surgeon in Gaprington, and she had explained Jaydon's condition and scheduled an appointment.

"Jay, this Doctor Carl is the most authoritative surgeon in Gaprington. Lilia has also made an appointment with him to discuss the surgery.

"I've already talked to Doctor Carl about your situation, and he said there's a fifty percent chance of a cure. If things don't work out here, we can go to Gaprington."

Jaydon listened absentmindedly and suddenly interjected, "Joann, are you really willing to marry me?"

Joanna paused, looking somewhat surprised at Jaydon!

In the past, she had closed off her heart and refused to accept anyone's feelings.

But now, once her heart opened, she suddenly felt that marrying Jaydon wouldn't be a bad idea.

“Mommy, I miss you so much. Why haven’t you come to see me for so long?” Lilia asked.

“I’m sorry, I’ve been very busy lately,” Joanna apologized. She quickly stepped forward to try and pick up Lilia.

Bruce scoffed and muttered sarcastically, “Even if you’re busy, you should make time to be with the children.

“How could you be such an irresponsible mother?”

Joanna paused for a moment, not wanting to argue with him. She then picked up Lilia in her arms.

The moment she reached out, she accidentally revealed the diamond ring on her finger.

Suddenly, Bruce’s gaze fell upon the diamond ring on Joanna’s hand.

His lips twitched involuntarily.

Joanna had never liked wearing jewelry, so it was naturally impossible for her to spend money to buy a diamond ring.

Moreover, this diamond ring was a pink diamond in the shape of a heart. It was worth at least a few hundreds of thousands of dollars. The Haynes Group was currently in trouble now, and Joanna would never spend such a large sum of money on a diamond ring.

“What is that you’re wearing on your hand, Joanna?” Bruce asked abruptly.

Joanna felt a sinking feeling in her heart upon hearing his question.

She had come in a hurry and forgot to take off the ring on her finger.

Bruce’s face paled. “Show it to me.”

“Bruce, can you please stop meddling in my affairs?”

“Give me your hand!” Bruce demanded, gripping Joanna’s wrist and forcefully bringing her hand closer to his eyes.

This diamond ring was a heart-shaped pink diamond. It must be incredibly expensive.

Bruce's eyebrows raised, feeling an inexplicable wave of jealousy washed over him. "Who gave you this?"

"What do you mean who gave it to me? Can't I buy a ring for myself?" Joanna snapped, pulling her hand back angrily.

Bruce paused for a moment.

"Did you really buy it yourself?"

Joanna replied coldly, "Bruce, my personal affairs are none of your concern."

"Hmph!" Faced with Joanna's indifference, Bruce let out a cold snort and suppressed his anger.

He didn't need to be so fixated on her.

Since she didn't love him anymore, he did not have to lower his dignity and cling to her. It would make him look like a fool.

He was too arrogant to continue chasing after someone who clearly didn't want him.

Joanna didn't want to engage in further conversation with Bruce. Instead, she lovingly looked at her three children and asked, "Do you miss Mommy, my darlings?"

"Of course, we do!" the three children replied in unison.

Joanna smiled affectionately and took out three folded paper stars from her bag. "Mommy brought you some gifts!"

Each of the children received one, and they looked at the beautiful paper stars in their hands with curiosity. "Wow, Mommy, what is this?"

They held a big spoon and ate the dumplings eagerly.

The enticing aroma made Bruce's stomach growl, and he involuntarily swallowed, thinking, "Where is my spaghetti?"

Even though he had a discerning and picky appetite, ever since he tasted the spaghetti made by Joanna, his taste buds could never forget that flavor.

Joanna didn't say a word and turned back into the kitchen!

After a short while, Joanna came out holding a plate of spaghetti!

The fragrant scent of meat sauce and meatballs filled the whole room.

Although the preparation was simple, the taste was incredibly delicious and appetizing!

With a cold expression, Joanna placed the dish of spaghetti on the table and walked away.

Bruce didn't say much either and picked up his tableware to eat it.

The father and his three children gathered around the dining table and enjoyed their meal..

Soon, Davian finished a bowl of dumplings and asked, "Mommy, is there more?"

Joanna quickly smiled and replied, "Yes! There's plenty more!"

Davian licked his lips and contentedly said, "Mommy, I want another bowl! Please add more shrimp for me!"

“Alright!” Joanna took Davian’s bowl and filled it with more than half a bowl.

“Mommy, I want some too!” Irvin was afraid there wouldn’t be any left in the pot, so he hurriedly finished his portion.

Joanna smiled again and served Irvin a bowl.

As she watched the children devour their food, she felt immense joy and tenderness in her heart.

If possible, she wished she could cook for her children every day.

The two little boys devoured two big bowls of small dumplings.

Lilia had a small appetite and only ate a small bowl.

Bruce also finished his spaghetti.

He had never experienced such a satisfying and enjoyable eating experience before. Only the spaghetti made by Joanna could satisfy his discerning taste buds.

After finishing dinner, it was already 7 p.m.

Joanna chatted with the children, completely ignoring Bruce.

Watching the warm and lively conversation between the mother and her three children, Bruce felt increasingly left out. Jealousy crept up in his heart.

“Cough, cough!” Bruce intentionally coughed heavily, trying to draw attention.

Unfortunately, Joanna and the children were engrossed in their reunion, and no one paid him any mind.

Bruce touched his nose in annoyance and spoke in a cold tone, “Davian, Irvin, Lilia, it’s time for us to go back!”

Bruce hurriedly arrived at the airport.

Princess Martha was wearing sunglasses and a baseball cap, dressed in casual attire that made her look like an ordinary foreign girl. She didn't bring any servants or bodyguards.

As soon as Princess Martha saw Bruce, she excitedly ran toward him and jumped right into his arms! She tightly wrapped her arms around his neck, hanging onto him.

"Bruce, you're finally here? I've been waiting for you for so long!"

Bruce instinctively looked around to make sure they weren't being secretly photographed by the paparazzi.

"Get in the car quickly. I'll take you to the hotel first."

"Bruce, I don't want to go to the hotel. I want to go to your home."

Bruce was taken aback by her request.

Currently, he hadn't planned on publicly announcing his relationship with Princess Martha.

"I don't think it's a good idea. It would be more convenient to stay at a hotel."

Princess Martha stared at Bruce and said earnestly, "Bruce, I want to meet your family."

"Martha, my home... It's not convenient, and I'm afraid you wouldn't feel comfortable."

Princess Martha smiled confidently. "What's not convenient? I can adapt well."

Princess Martha knew that Bruce was the wealthiest man in Greyport. Even in the global rich list, he ranked within the top twenty.

Marrying him, she would not lose out at all.

His house must also be quite luxurious.

Princess Martha, being a princess, had seen a lot of the world and had experienced several romantic relationships. She had no shortage of suitors pursuing her.

However, she fell in love with Bruce at first sight. She had already made up her mind to marry him.

Bruce frowned and said, "I'll still take you to the hotel first. My home is really not convenient.

"Let's go! Get in the car quickly!" Bruce placed Princess Martha's luggage in the trunk of the car.

Princess Martha pouted but obediently got into the car.

Inside the car, Bruce asked with concern, "Why did you come to Greyport alone? What if you encounter any danger?"

Princess Martha leaned against his chest with a sweet smile, "It's okay. I often travel alone around the world."

Princess Martha had strong social skills and often hid her identity. She usually traveled without any assistants or bodyguards.

Bruce listened and didn't ask any further questions..

Bruce's mind was filled with anxiety, thinking about how to make her leave Greyport as soon as possible.

"Bruce, don't you plan to propose to me?" Princess Martha asked.

"Martha, we've only known each other for less than two months. I don't want to rush things."

Princess Martha immediately interrupted him and said, "No! I love you and want to marry you!"

She intimately hooked her arms around Bruce's neck.
