

The Savior 151

Chapter 151: I guarantee your head will land on the ground

(1)

“Do you hate him?”

are you resenting the old lady for causing trouble and taking your life?

resenting Madam Wen for not keeping you alive? resenting the heavens for giving you ten months of pregnancy but not giving you the chance to be born? ”

Jiang huailu didn't know why he asked this.

Ah Yin frowned as he looked at her.

“Don't even think about pinching me.” Jiang huailu cupped his face with both hands. Look at me, you've loosened my meat. I've gained weight.” Ah Yin couldn't explain in a few words.

“Yes, yes, yes. We loosened it and squeezed it until it became fat.”

“If you ask me if I have any complaints? If I don't blame him, then wouldn't I be a Saint? But what I hate is the ruthlessness of some people!” Ah Yin's expression darkened, and even became a little fierce.

“Some debts will have to be settled sooner or later.” Ah Yin's tone was mocking.

After her mother had given birth, the old lady had abstained from meat and prayed to Buddha for three years. This old lady wasn't so easy to get along with in the past.

He was probably feeling guilty.

As for his mother, how could he not understand that she had already tried her best?

But he was more grateful that he, who should have disappeared from the world, had lived a little longer with his sister. He only hated himself for not being able to protect his sister and mother!

Jiang huailu sighed faintly, “if you were alive, I wouldn't be able to control you.” When you have nowhere to go one day, you can come to me. Follow me, and I promise that one day, I will make sure your head falls on the ground.” Jiang huailu made a solemn vow.

Ah Yin's eyelids were twitching.

“If he follows you, his head will fall to the ground. What's the point of him following you?” Yang pinfeng said sourly. Another person was going to compete with him for his favor.

“Be, be outstanding?” Jiang huailu touched her head. She remembered a lot, but the problem was that she didn't understand what he meant.

Ah Yin smiled as he stroked her dog head, as if he didn't take her offer to stay to heart.

"Alright, I'll come to you when I'm at my wit's end. Little Lulu, you have to take me in."

Ah Yin's tone was light, but the space between his brows was pressed down.

He had lost his life since birth and should have been considered a vengeful soul.

However, he had been living together with his sister all these years. If he was really expelled, he was afraid that there would be no place for him in this world.

When his soul left his body, Lulu would not be able to find him.

Little Huai Lu grinned. 'I can't control you if you're alive, but I'm in charge of the dead.'

"Oh no, it's getting dark. Let's go home quickly. Otherwise, my mother is going to spank my butt." Little Huai Lu patted the mud off her body. brother Feng, if my mother asks where I went, I will say that you ran away from home and I went to look for you.

After he finished speaking, he pulled ah Yin and ran home.

Sure enough, when he returned home, his mother was already standing guard at the door with a broom.

Little Huai Lu's big eyes rolled around, and her eyes were teary.

Why didn't the heavens let her grow up before they teased her? Such a big Savior, and his mother still had to take off his pants and spank his butt. She was so hateful.

Ah Yin found it funny and took her hand as he walked forward.

"Greetings, aunt Xia. Zhu Zhu and Lulu played for half a day more today, so please don't punish Lulu. Zhuzhu apologizes to you." Ah Yin's smile was dignified, which surprised Madam Xia.

She had seen this girl that day. But why was he so eloquent that he was no different from a normal person?

Little huailu hid behind invisibility and said, 'today, the peak-level brother next door left home, and Lulu went to help find him. Sister zhuzhu wanted to stay at our house, so Lulu picked her up. Lulu isn't playful at all ...'

Only then did Madam Xia put away the broom and raised her hand to scare her daughter.

"Sorry for disturbing aunt." He knew that Madam Xia and master Jiang had separated, so he addressed her as aunt, which made Madam Xia feel more at

"You don't have to be so polite, child. Just treat it as your home. You're Lulu's classmate, so I'll need you to take care of him." He shouted after he finished speaking.

"Huai 'an, quickly go and prepare a guest room." Madam Xia still had to go into the room to prepare some snacks for the guests..

Chapter 152: Teasing him (1)

Jiang Huai 'an looked at Wen ruzhu with an inquisitive look.

His thick eyebrows furrowed slightly, and his eyes were filled with suspicion.

When he first saw Wen ruzhu in the alley that day, she was so afraid of meeting people that she couldn't even lift her head. What happened today?

The young girl was currently dressed in men's clothes. In the past, she always had her head lowered and her eyes drooped, making her presence extremely weak.

But now, she was bright and flamboyant, with a calm smile on her face. His eyes were filled with a threatening aura, and even the tenacity between his brows could hardly be concealed.

The change was too great.

Just as he was thinking, the girl in male clothing standing in the courtyard suddenly laughed. "You don't have to be so polite. I'll just squeeze in with brother Huai 'an. Just treat it like family, there's no need to be polite."

Jiang Huai 'an's inquisitive expression froze. His entire body trembled, and his face suddenly turned red.

"Nonsense! I'll go make the bed for you." With that said, she no longer had any suspicions and immediately ran away in panic.

The corners of ah Yin's lips curled up slightly as he laughed crisply.

Jiang huailu had never seen her brother's face turn red before, and she also laughed softly.

The Jiang family members had already eaten dinner and were only accompanying ah Yin for some snacks.

Ah Yin had eaten a lot in the restaurant, but the Xia family's desserts were all made by themselves and were quite thoughtful, so she had also used a lot.

When she found out that the Wen family had helped her to expel evil spirits and that her stepmother had asked the Taoist priest to splash Black dog's blood on her, her face immediately darkened.

"Zhu Zhu, you can stay here for as long as you want. It was not troublesome to add another pair of chopsticks. You can rest in peace." Mrs Xia was also a mother. Mrs Wen had passed away early and left a child behind, but she was treated like this. She was afraid that she would be bitterly disappointed in the netherworld.

Jiang Huai 'an paused for a moment, then silently took a green bean cake and handed it to her.

He was still blushing, and the words "I'll squeeze with you" were in his mind. He was famous for his talent, and he was so calm that he did not dare to look at zhuzhu.

“Thank you, brother Huai ‘an. Oh right, brother Huai ‘an, can you lend me one of your inner clothes ...” Jiang Huaian’s face turned red as soon as ah Yin finished his sentence.

She was so angry that she turned around and left.

“Your brother’s temper is really big, he’s so stingy even when wearing his clothes. Are we still brothers?” Ah Yin was still complaining to Jiang huailu, but Jiang huailu didn’t say anything. She reached out a finger and poked at her heart.

It was soft and strange to the touch.

“Uh ...” Ah Yin?

She had forgotten that she was a girl now!

She even teased the man until his face and ears turned red! She wanted to sleep in the same bed as him, squeeze in with him, and even borrow his inner clothes?

Even if he was thick-skinned, he couldn’t help but blush at this moment.

Just then, Jiang Huai ‘an returned with a long face and threw a piece of undershirt that the Xia family had never worn before. Seeing her lower her head slightly and blush, he went out uncomfortably.

Jiang huailu saw ah Yin rushing in and muttered in her heart.

It’s fine if my brother is blushing, but what’s with your face?

Jiang huailu saw that it was getting late and his little face was scrunched up.

I can’t hide from what’s coming, or ... Go to sleep.” Could brother Lu Jiang still be angry?

Oh right, there was a phrase called asking for forgiveness. But she didn’t have that much money, so let’s just forget about it.

Jiang huailu lay on the bed, sighed, and fell into a deep sleep.

When he opened his eyes ?ain, he was already standing in the middle of the hall of salvation.

What surprised her was that on the waists of the densely packed Yin soldiers, there were many menstrual belts.

Lu huaijiang’s face darkened, “I’ve been here for so long, and the only thing I’ve done was to force those spirits to do something last month.”

Really, hell!

Chapter 153: His Highness’s little ancestor (1)

Lu huaijiang’s face darkened.

Jiang huailu took small steps and walked over with a bitter face. She lowered her head and said in a low voice.

“I really didn’t mean to make you angry and embarrass you. I, I don’t know what that is ...”

“My mother thought you were a girl ... This, this, I’ve brought you new clothes.” Jiang huailu even took some time to buy a few clothes from the clothing store today, knowing that she had made brother Lu Jiang angry again.

He had lost so much face.

Lu huaijiang glanced at her and saw that she was listless with her head drooped. She was not as lively as before.

The little girl even looked at him carefully, as if she was a little afraid. Lu huaijiang was immediately unhappy.

“I’m not some dreadful monster. Do you think I’m going to eat you?”

“Am I that petty? Such a narrow-minded person?” Lu huaijiang seemed to have forgotten that three months ago, he had beheaded himself for the slightest disagreement.

“I, the Prime Minister, have a belly that can hold a boat. I’ll spare you.” Lu huaijiang raised his eyebrows arrogantly, his thick eyebrows slanted to his temples, making him look high-spirited.

Jiang huailu peeked at his stomach.

It looks so powerful that even its stomach can take a boat.

“Brother Lu Jiang, I knew that you’re the best and most magnanimous brother.

You have a big belly, you’re the most tolerant.” Little huailu was like a Lackey. When she saw Lu Jiang sitting on the chair in the middle of the hall of salvation, the little girl skillfully grabbed the leg of his pants and climbed up.

After Lu huaijiang forgave her, she climbed up her pants and sat on her knees, her short legs swaying.

The two little buns on her head were trembling, making her look a little naive.

This short fellow, wasn’t he giving too much face?

There was actually someone who dared to climb onto His Highness the Crown Prince’s leg?

Using him as a cushion?

The maidservants and servants who could get close to him were all beaten to death.

“Do you want to say something?” Lu huaijiangs face was gloomy. Lu huaijiang looked straight at her, watching her sit on his lap.

Jiang huailu tilted his head and rubbed Lu huaijiang's face with his two little hands, making him a little itchy.

"Big brother also knows that there's no meat on your legs, so it's a little uncomfortable, right? Don't worry, Lulu doesn't mind you." After he finished speaking, he even nodded his head seriously.

Lu huaijiang facepalmed,"he finally understood now. He hoped that the little girl would be self-conscious. Don't even think about it."

However, he had to pull her down. Lu huaijiang thought of her tear-filled face and frowned.

She's so angry that she's crying, and I have to personally coax her!

Forget it, I'll just be kind and let her sit for a while. Anyway, there won't be a next time.

There definitely won't be a next time.

His Royal Highness Lu huaijiang's reputation was not just for show.

She was really a little ancestor, a little ancestor sent by the heavens to deal with him!

Not long after, Zhu Yan came in and took Jiang huailu out for an inspection. He glanced at Lu Jiang faintly. The last time he saw him using a period cloth to make a belt, he thought he was a pervert.

Damn, after a day, the entire city was abnormal.

"Let's go out and inspect the territory we've conquered for Lulu." Ever since Zhu Yan led the yin soldiers, she was afraid that she couldn't control the yin souls, so she didn't smile as much. Now that she saw Jiang huailu, she seemed to have a backbone and immediately smiled.

Lu huaijiang's face darkened. This country should have been his!

But .

Rivers and mountains were short, but if they were short, then wouldn't the rivers and mountains still be his?

A thought flashed through Lu huaijiang's mind, but he couldn't help but roll his eyes when he saw the short and round appearance.

If he had taken a fancy to the short fellow, he would have dug out his eyes and fed them to the dogs!

Chapter 154: Soul out of body for a hundred days (1) in the past three months, not a single evil has stepped within a hundred miles of the hall of salvation.

however, the price of land in the surrounding area has soared. Look at the surroundings. Construction is going on everywhere. Some are planning to build houses, and some are even planning to build shops.

"I'm afraid that the future prosperity of huangdu will depend on this place."

Zhu Yan led Jiang huailu out of the palace. Now that Jiang huailu knew some spells, they arrived at the foot of the mountain very quickly.

“I’ve also bought quite a bit of land here.” Jiang huailu said in a low voice, but it was yang pingfeng who bought it for her.

we’ve conquered these lands. One day, we’ll be able to drive out all the evil spirits in this city! Zhu Yan’s face was full of joy. She now had six thousand Yin souls under her command, and they had been probing outside the city from time to time.

“But something’s not right recently. Those evil spirits seem to have a backbone.

They’ve all left the barren capital and seem to be planning something.” Zhu Yan was a little uneasy. Those evil spirits were usually scattered and rarely had consciousness.

But recently, there seemed to be a pattern, as if they were planning something big.

“Before the hall of salvation appeared, I heard that they were going to attack huangdu during the Zhongyuan Festival. It’s probably because the sudden appearance of the hall of salvation has disrupted their rhythm, and I’m afraid they haven’t given up on the idea.”

Jiang huailu stood under the dark night sky. “So what if he’s coming? I don’t believe it,”

The little girl’s brows were somewhat haughty.

Lu huaijiang took another look at her. Although this little girl looked lazy, she had some backbone.

“Brother Lu Jiang, do you want to have something to do?” Jiang huailu grabbed the hem of his clothes and shook it gently.

The corners of Lu huaijiang’s lips curled up slightly as he lazily leaned against the ancient tree.”I can’t even leave the hall of salvation, what else can I do? I only hope that my soul can return to my body as soon as possible.” Lu huaijiang’s eyes deepened. He had probably been unconscious for more than three months. The Imperial court was probably in chaos.

“Lulu has a way.” Jiang huailu smiled mysteriously and immediately stepped forward to hold Lu huaijiang’s hand.

“Brother Lu Jiang, do you know what the consequences are if the three souls of a living person are separated from their body for too long?” Jiang huailu grabbed one of his fingers and looked at him with eager eyes.

“After leaving the body for a hundred days, he will never return to his position, like a dead person. Unless ...” Jiang huailu mumbled, but she didn’t hear the last part clearly.

Unless he sacrificed the three souls.

However, this was a forbidden technique. If the soul left the body for too long, it would become true death.

However, there was a way to bring the dead back to life, but it was extremely vicious.

If he saw such a person, Jiang huailu would definitely kill him.

Life and death were determined by the heavens. If one wanted to go against the heavens and bring the dead back to life, one had to hide it from the heavenly Dao.

Only in times of chaos, when there were great casualties, would the heavenly Dao be dazed for a moment when blood soared to the sky.

All of them were filled with killing intent.

But brother Lu Jiang ...

“What are the consequences of going over a hundred days?” Lu huaijiang’s expression did not change and his tone was indifferent.

“If the soul leaves the body for some reason, after a hundred days, it will be true death.” Zhu Yan added. This was common knowledge among ghosts.

Jiang huailu looked at Zhu Yan and smiled, “Sister Zhu Yan, I have something to say to brother Lu Jiang. You can leave first.”

Zhu Yan glanced at her with a little worry in her eyes, but she backed down under Jiang huailu’s serious expression..

Chapter 155: falling out (1)

Lu huaijiang could feel that something was not right with him during this period of time.

When he first came to the hall of salvation, he could clearly distinguish himself from the dead spirits.

Yin souls were afraid of sunlight, righteousness, and all gods.

But he did not.

The only thing that could restrain him was this four-year-old girl. If she was closer, he could move freely. If she was far away, he could only be locked in this Hall of salvation.

He had a faint feeling that his current situation was probably related to Jiang huailu.

However, they could not find any evidence.

Three months ago, he wasn’t afraid of any sunlight, and he clearly understood that he was still human.

However, in recent days, he began to feel the discomfort of the strong light in the day. He could faintly feel the heat on his skin, but at night, he felt cool and comfortable.

Only Yin souls had these habits.

He was losing his vitality bit by bit.

“Brother Lu Jiang, are you a good person? Can you guarantee that you will always be a good person? You won’t kill innocents, you won’t wantonly take other people’s lives, you won’t be brutal and merciless, will you be a good person?” Jiang huailu was rarely serious, and his usually smiling eyes were a little more solemn.

Lu huaijiang looked at her with a fixed gaze, his eyes faintly probing.

The night was dark and there were crows cawing everywhere, which was even more terrifying.

Lu huaijiang was not afraid of heaven and earth, nor of life and death. At this moment, under that pair of eyes full of trust, he actually had some fear.

She believed in him.

However, he could only do half of what she had said.

However, he could remove the word ‘no’ in that sentence.

Killing innocents, brutal and unkind, these were the words that the world used to condemn him.

And at this moment, the little guy actually asked him to love the world and to have light and justice in his heart. She wanted him to uphold justice and become an open and aboveboard hypocrite.

Lu huaijiang laughed in a low voice, but his eyes were filled with coldness.

“A good person? I disdain it!” He disdained to be a good person!

It was obvious that everyone in the world was selfish to the bone. It was obvious that everyone in the world cared about themselves the most, yet they had to say such righteous and hypocritical words.

Lu huaijiang’s tone was slightly raised. He disdained to deceive this little thing.

However, the little thing’s eyes suddenly dimmed.

“If you’re not a good person, Lulu can’t help you,” she looked at him helplessly. There was even a pleading look in little Huai Lu’s eyes, as if she couldn’t bear to see him become a real ghost.

Lu huaijiang’s lips moved.

At this moment, he should have coaxed the little girl and coaxed her to help him, but he couldn’t say a single word of deception.

Lu huaijiang’s face suddenly darkened. He flicked his long sleeves and turned around angrily.

The little girl had not hesitated at all when she had bestowed it to him. Now that she was hesitating, it seemed that helping him would definitely hurt herself.

“Aren’t you thinking too highly of yourself? are you trying to coerce me into returning the favor? If you help me, you want me to listen to you for the rest of my life and be a good person?” Lu huaijiang flicked his sleeves and left. Jiang huailu was so angry that he stood in place with tears in his eyes.

“You don’t know what’s good for you, you idiot. You don’t know what’s good for you, you don’t know what’s good for you!” The chubby boy stomped his feet.

“If you don’t want it, I don’t want to give it to you either. You don’t know what a good person is like!” Little Huai Lu snorted heavily, “11 let you be a ghost and let you die early so that you can reincarnate early. Hmph.”

The two of them fell out just like that.

But at this moment, the capital was in an uproar.

His Highness huaijiang had been unconscious for three months, and everyone was still intimidated by His Highness’s remaining power, so there was no chaos.

However, recently, His Highness huaijiang was not doing well..

Chapter 156: Turbulent undercurrents (1)

In the past three months, the weather in Beijing had changed.

The Emperor, who had ignored the state affairs for a long time, came to court again.

Since the Crown Prince had fallen unconscious, noble consort Lin had left the bedchamber and served the Emperor every day. For the past three months, she had taken care of him almost without wearing any clothes.

Back then, Imperial consort Lin had the eldest Prince and was in the limelight.

If it wasn’t for noble consort Yun back then, the current Empress would have given birth to Lu huaijiang, and she would be the Empress now.

From the eldest Prince, noble consort Lin had been sent to a foreign place to be an idle Prince. After Lu Huai and Jiang RI came to power, she rarely took care of chores.

Now, he was more diligent.

At this moment, the palace lanterns were already lit, but it was still a little eerie in the middle of the night.

“Your Majesty, you look much better recently. Quickly drink this bowl of ginseng soup.” Noble consort Lin was over 30 years old, but she took good care of herself, and now she had a bit more charm.

Under the palace lantern, noble consort Lin’s figure was graceful, and her gentle words made the emperor’s brows bring some joy.

“Ah, you, these three months, I’ve been serving you every day, it must have been hard on you. I haven’t seen you for a long time.” The Emperor was over 50 years old and had handed over more than half of the Imperial power to Lu huaijiang. He was already rarely in charge.

As Lu huaijiang grew up, the power in the emperor’s hands decreased.

Although he didn't pass the throne, Lu huaijiang had almost made the Emperor a mere figurehead.

The Emperor was satisfied with Lu huaijiang, but he was also a little afraid.

Who wouldn't like such a son? However, he was no more than 50 years old and was at the age where he yearned for power. The Crown Prince had taken all the power away because of his age.

Noble consort Lin stroked her hair and said in a soft tone, "Although I don't see your Majesty often, I pray for Your Majesty every day, hoping that Your Majesty will be in good health and bring prosperity to the world."

The emperor's smile deepened.

"With this body of mine, how can I even talk about making contributions?" But his smile was deep.

"Your body is just right." Noble consort Lin gave the Emperor a reproachful look, which made the Emperor even more satisfied.

In fact, the Emperor had doted on noble consort Lin back then. Otherwise, there would not have been rumors of noble consort Lin becoming arrogant because of his favor.

Noble consort Yun had a gentle temperament, but she had given birth to an intelligent son.

Born with the emperor's decree.

In the beginning, when Lu huaijiang was made the Crown Prince, noble consort Lin was extremely dissatisfied and made a fuss twice. However, Lu huaijiang was a petty person and would always return the favor to the great prince a hundred times after the incident. After a long time, noble consort Lin did not dare to make a scene in front of him.

Later on, the first Prince was made a Prince on the surface, but he was secretly banished from the capital.

Imperial concubine Lin sealed off the bedchamber to avoid the brunt of the attack.

He had been hiding for six to seven years.

"How's the situation at huaijiang? Has the Imperial physician come to report?" The Emperor rubbed the space between his brows, and Noble consort Lin obediently stood by his side, helping him massage his brows.

Imperial concubine Lin's brows were slightly furrowed.

"Not yet, but last night, the few Imperial physicians from the Imperial physician Bureau with some skills went over. These days, his son had been writing letters and running around, hoping to find a good doctor for the Crown Prince. Speaking of which, this brat is already twenty years old. Chenqie originally wanted him to say a girl in the fief. He insisted that His Highness had not woken up and that he did not have any intentions. A son can't be controlled by his mother."

Imperial concubine Lin chuckled.

The Emperor frowned.

“How can he search for a wife? he is the Prince of great Zhou. Nonsense. There are many women of the right age in the capital’s aristocratic families, so we’ll definitely be able to find someone suitable.”

Imperial concubine Lin didn’t say anything, only smiling. “His fief is in the northernmost land, and the girls of the aristocratic families are all pampered by their parents. Which girl would be willing to leave home for thousands of miles? It would be better to find someone with a lower status. If one’s status is too high, they are all juniors of the old official’s residence and it would make things difficult for Your Majesty.” Noble consort Lin was still as well-behaved as before.

The Emperor muttered to himself for a moment.

It wasn’t that he didn’t understand noble consort Lin’s meaning..

Chapter 157: May he never wake up (1)

The Emperor had favored the first Prince, but he had never told anyone.

At that time, the first Prince had been by his side every day and had even asked the Grand tutor to guide him. At that time, he had been raised as the Crown Prince.

Later, noble consort Yun gave birth to Lu huaijiang.

Lu huaijiang had displayed extraordinary intelligence when he was only one or two years old. The intelligence he possessed made the first Prince’s hard work pale in comparison.

For a moment, it blocked all of the first Prince’s light.

Noble consort Lin’s maiden family was a family with great achievements and had deep roots in the capital. In the past few years, the great Zhou had been peaceful and prosperous, but the Emperor had begun to fear the power of the aristocratic families.

Noble consort Yun’s family background was low, and everything she had came from Lu huaijiang.

The Emperor knew his priorities.

He made Lu huaijiang the Crown Prince.

As Lu huaijiang grew, his violent Qi began to show. But his ability to rule the country made the Emperor feel ashamed.

Even the 11-year-old Lu huaijiang slowly made him a figurehead.

The Emperor felt a faint sense of danger.

Now that Lu huaijiang was unconscious, he actually had a moment to catch his breath.

“My son, you’ve been in the northernmost land for seven years. right?” The Emperor suddenly asked. Noble consort Lin lowered her eyes slightly, her hands under her sleeves tightly pinching her flesh, which was slightly pale.

“Yes. It had been seven years. He had grown up from a teenager. This child had a kind heart and had subdued the bandits in Thule. Now, he was governing them well. A few days ago, he was thick-skinned and let Chenqie find a group of scholars for him, saying that he would let them study and understand the reason.”

“In the future, it will be easier for me to get a good name and work for Great Zhou.”

The Emperor was overjoyed to hear this.

The Raiders in the extreme north brought a lot of hidden dangers to the Great Zhou Dynasty. The poor and remote villages produced unruly people, and most of the people in the extreme north were foreigners.

If they were willing to receive education, then they could be assimilated into the culture bit by bit.

“Great,” The Emperor clapped his hands and laughed.

“The first Prince has done a great job in governing the northernmost area. He’s pregnant with Jiang’s serious illness, so let him return to the capital for the time being.” The Emperor waved his hand, and Noble Consort Lin immediately wept with joy as she knelt on the ground and kowtowed to thank the Emperor.

When he raised his head, the Emperor had already walked far away.

The elderly lady behind her quickly helped the Imperial consort up. “Empress, you’ve finally managed to keep the clouds open and see the moon.” The nanny’s face was full of joy.

Noble Consort Lin raised her head and looked in the direction of the Empress’s bedchamber, the gentleness and carefulness on her face gone. “Where is she? Are you still guarding Lu Huaijiang these few days?”

“Yes,” the old woman nodded gently. However, that person’s condition isn’t good.”

Only then did Imperial Consort Lin’s face reveal a smile. “Idiot, if it wasn’t for her son, would she be in her current position?”

A hint of jealousy flashed in her eyes.

“Without that son, she can’t do anything. The Crown Prince was conferred by His Majesty. Everything will be fine as long as Her Majesty is fine.” Noble Consort Lin touched the bright red color on her nails. Who would have thought that all the civil and military officials in the court would be afraid of an eleven-year-old youth?

If he were to die, the capital would change.

She could only hope that he would really not wake up in these hundred days.

At this moment, the capital was in turmoil, but the barren city was peaceful and beautiful because of the appearance of the hall of salvation.

When Jiang Huailu opened her eyes, ah Yin had already returned to the Wen family.

“Brother, why didn’t you stop her?” Jiang huailu’s hair was a mess, and even her chirpy hair drooped down.

“Why should I stop her? She had made old Mrs. Wen and her stepmother faint from anger. Now that there was no one in charge in the Wen family, old master Wen came to pick her up personally early in the morning. By the way, why does old master Wen call her ah Yin?” Jiang Huai ‘an asked in confusion. Jiang huailu’s face stiffened.. Did old master Wen know that he was ah Yin?

Chapter 158: Lulu got rich overnight (1)

“Ah Yin, that’s her nickname.” Jiang huailu made up a story.

“Oh,” Jiang Huaian replied.

Jiang huailu was still thinking about the conflict between her and Lu Jiang last night, so he was listless even when he was eating.

“That’s right, someone came to the old estate yesterday. The old lady said that the Jiang family’s fortune was not good, so she wanted to use the family’s eight characters to determine their fortune. I’ve written it long ago, you can hand it over to the person who comes later.” Jiang Huaian took out a folded piece of red paper.

Jiang huailu responded and put it in his arms.

“There has been a storm in the capital recently, and there are rumors in the barren capital that if His Majesty were to appoint the first Prince as the Crown Prince. Many people from the barren capital would probably be able to return to the capital. The Academy has been suspended for the past few days, so you should stay at home. Mother will be back soon.” Jiang Huai ‘an’s brows furrowed.

Many people in the barren capital were punished because of Prince Huai Jiang.

If the Crown Prince was changed, many people in the city would be pardoned and return to the capital.

The old lady was probably there to beg His Highness to die.

Jiang huailu’s eyes lit up. If only the evil did not become the Crown Prince.

Jiang Huai ‘an rushed out the door after giving his instructions. He had to admit that if something really happened to the Crown Prince, the Jiang family might really have a chance of returning to the capital.

Jiang huailu leaned on the table. it’s all Lu Jiang’s fault. She’s so bad. I’m so angry.

“A dog biting a deer, you don’t know what a good person is like.”

As she scolded, the little girl sat up straight again.

“But, if he dies, then no one will help me kill the evil? My stomach is so big that it can hold a boat. At most, I’ll give him another chance?” The little girl touched her round stomach. Lu Jiang’s stomach was not even as big as mine.

After he finished speaking, he immediately locked the door and strode out with his short little legs.

However, when he remembered that the Jiang family was about to send someone, he waited for a long time, but they still didn’t come, so he went directly to the Jiang family’s old mansion.

It was still the same alley, crowded and noisy. When he walked to the door, he could still hear the old lady scolding angrily, ““You’ve been there for two hours and they didn’t open the door for you?””

Jiang huailu wondered how to wrong people. He didn’t even come.

However, he had forgotten to tell the old residence that he was moving.

Not to mention Jiang huailu, even Jiang Huaian didn’t remember this.

“The birth date is already at the door. Father, take it yourself.” Jiang huailu threw it at the door and turned to leave. If he had the time, he might as well go and coax brother Lu Jiang.

At least, brother Lu Jiang was good-looking.

Jiang yubai seemed to want to say something, but he could only sigh when he saw Jiang huailu running so fast that he couldn’t catch up with her.

When Jiang huailu arrived outside the hall of salvation, it was already noon.

But fortunately, the area within a hundred miles of the hall of salvation was under construction. There were even many stalls along the way, so the little girl took an ox-cart along the way.

Since her mother was not back yet and her stomach could hold a boat, she should go and see brother Lu Jiang first.

“There’s actually someone with the surname Lu. She has bought most of the mountains outside the hall of salvation.” The old man pulling the Ox-cart muttered as he smoked a pipe.

“I heard that boss Lu bought a lot of good people.

Deer?

Jiang huailu turned around.

The money she had in the hall of salvation and the money the city Lord had given her were all bought by yang Feng.

Even the gold mines that had been secretly excavated during this period had been transported out of the barren capital. They had started to secretly buy properties outside.

A few days ago, when yang pinfeng came, he said that she was rich.

She didn’t care.

At this moment, she looked at the place where the long line was drawn. It was so far that she couldn't see the end.

“Deer garden ...”

For the first time, Jiang huailu had a clear understanding of his assets!

She had really become rich overnight!

As for the old mansion, they were still thinking about how to earn a few more taels of silver.

They didn't know that the treasure basin had already been driven out of the house by them!

Chapter 159: She is on fire (1)

Jiang huailu had become rich.

The little girl was happy even though the Ox-cart had been bumpy all the way and her butt was about to fall apart.

Damn, thinking about the mountain of silver, why should she be in a bad mood?

It was an insult to the wealth.

The little girl stood at the foot of the Savior mountain, which was already filled with stalls. The commoners in the commoner's District were able to catch their breath here.

Setting up a stall in the inner city required one to pay an extremely high fee, and they couldn't be sold in the outer city.

It was only at the foot of Mount Savior that there were no restrictions on one's status. Regardless of wealth or poverty, Mount Savior accommodated everything.

“Little girl, did you come alone? Where are your father and mother? Do you need me to take you to your family?” A middle-aged woman in ordinary clothes, who didn't stand out in the crowd, said with a smile.

He even tried to pull Jiang huailu.

This child looked delicate and had a pleasant appearance. There was no one to look after her, so the woman had been paying attention to her for a long time.

However, this child seemed to be different from the others. He only stood with his hands by his side and raised his clear black and white eyes to look at her quietly.

“Auntie, I was abducted three months ago.” Her voice was clear and sweet, and her tone was calm.

The woman's eyelids twitched when she heard the word “trafficking.”

The woman laughed drily, her eyes wandering. “Then why are you still running around? Auntie will send you home later, okay?”

Jiang huailu smiled, “Auntie, I sold the kidnapper to the upper house.” I've sold the upper house to the government. Haven't you heard about this?”

“Dao BA clearly said that my portrait has been spread all over huangdu’s crippled hands. Just to avoid me? haven’t you seen it before?” Jiang huailu’s thick eyelashes drooped slightly, and her tone was innocent and pure. The middle-aged woman was stunned and staggered a step back.

She had heard of this before.

This matter had spread throughout the kidnappers’ world, causing many people to not dare to rashly attack the four-year-old girl.

The woman touched her hair guiltily and laughed dryly. “You child, this aunt is just afraid that you’ll get into an accident, so I’m sending you off out of goodwill. Since you don’t appreciate it, then forget it.” He waved his sleeve after he finished speaking, as if he was extremely afraid of this little girl.

Jiang huailu turned his head and stared at her deeply, “Auntie, you must continue to be kind. Only then will you be able to achieve what you seek.” With that, the little girl climbed up the stairs to the top of the hall of salvation.

The middle-aged woman was slightly stunned and felt a little uneasy.

As soon as she went down the mountain, a sneaky-looking man with a pointed mouth and monkey-like cheeks secretly whispered in her ear, “Sister Li, the girl you brought back hasn’t eaten a single grain of rice for three days. He’s already beaten and scolded, so he probably can’t go to the brothel. Look for another buyer. In any case, his looks are ordinary.”

The middle-aged woman kept thinking of the little girl’s words, causing her to frown.

“Sister Li, what are you thinking about? Now that the city is getting stricter on trafficking, one can not keep it in one’s hands for too long.” The man pushed Sister Li paused for a moment. Then, she calmed down. alright, I’ll do it the hard way. I’ll cripple him first and throw him to the foot of this mountain to beg. After he finished speaking, he turned around and left.

At this moment, Jiang huailu was wiping his sweat as he climbed to the peak of the mountain of salvation.

In the barren capital, which was known for its chaos, there were many incense offerings and visitors, which was extremely rare.

The moment she descended, the difference of yin and yang was instantly felt.

Grandma Zhu took the lead to welcome her, but when she saw the little girl’s posture of staying away from her father, she immediately waved her hand discreetly.

The messengers of yin and yang who had rushed over all retreated..

Chapter 160:

“Hello ...”

Hello, Lu Jiang. Brother Lu Jiang ...

Jiang huailu entered the inner hall and looked around in a low voice. There were still many visitors in the hall, all dressed in luxurious clothes. It seemed to be very extravagant.

The madam with a golden hairpin in her hair wiped her tears and frowned when she saw the little girl making a ruckus in the inner hall.

“Where did this little girl come from? Hurry up and get out!” The madam’s tone was clearly gentle, but it was filled with disdain and inferiority.

The maidservant behind her immediately stepped forward.

“My wife is here to light incense, so don’t make any noise.” As he spoke, he was about to pull Jiang huailu.

This pull gave granny Zhu a huge shock. It was fine if you begged her, but you even pulled her. Do you want to die?

“No, no, no. The Bodhisattva is the Bodhisattva of the world, and the Bodhisattva has all living beings. You must not be indifferent to what is more important.”

Granny Zhu stopped him.

“Add another ten thousand taels of incense money,” the madam said without a change in her expression.

Granny Zhu’s heart was still trembling. If you were someone else, I would have opened the back door for you.

You’re truly the Savior of the world. If I’m soft-hearted, I’ll be harming you.

When she first found out about this, she almost fainted.

Who would have thought that the person who could solve the world’s crisis would be that four-year-old child?

“You can’t. Madam, what you’re asking for is already against human ethics. If you don’t have good intentions, I’m afraid ...” Granny Zhu’s expression was slightly troubled, but the madam’s face suddenly sank.

I’m just asking you to form your eight characters together. If you refuse like this, I’m afraid that the world saving Hall has an undeserved reputation!

“My poor son is only seven years old and he has to be buried in the yellow soil.

If the Saviour has a spirit, he should give my son a home.”

“My son’s life is already bitter, why would the Savior make things difficult for a child? Since that’s the case, I won’t ask for it! If you don’t get along, there will always be someone else! Three days later will be the night of my son’s return to his soul. My son will definitely appear. My son’s life is bitter.” The madam stood up angrily and glared at the God in the Savior’s Palace.

Granny Zhu's expression changed drastically as she stole a glance at Lulu, who was in a white dress.

"Don't talk nonsense, don't talk nonsense." He immediately knelt on the ground.

"Humans and ghosts can not get married. If you want to have a netherworld marriage, then find a child who died early. You're using a living person for a shady marriage, which is against the rules of heaven and earth." "If the Savior knows about this, I'm afraid he'll have to bear the wrath of heaven and earth. I can't, I can't."

Granny Zhu threw the red paper back without even looking at it.

A gust of wind blew, and the red paper was lifted slightly, revealing the word

"Jiang."

The lady stood up with red eyes. The servant girl glared at Jiang huailu and came back to help the lady up.

"I can't? What's wrong with that? If that family was willing, why couldn't they do things that were mutually willing? Even the Savior couldn't care about other people's family background. This is the birth date that the child's grandmother personally sent over, so it's reasonable to say anything."

"Since you don't believe me, then let's go." After saying that, the maidservant supported the young lady and left arrogantly.

Granny Zhu frowned in worry as she mumbled, "what should I do? what should I do?"

Jiang huailu listened and lowered his eyes."Granny. The marriage of a living person and a ghost will implicate the third generation." Grandma Zhu was startled. She looked at her carefully, and seeing that no one was around, she immediately kowtowed.

you said that the Emperor was unreasonable, but I don't see you being more reasonable, short one. Lu huaijiang, who was sitting on the beam, sneered.

"Also, if you're looking for me, just look for me. What's the meaning of lying on the ground? Do you think I know how to crawl through a dog hole?" Lu huaijiang's face darkened..
