

The Savior 411

Chapter 411: The aura of incense (1)

His two sons were reporting on their work outside, and although it was good to gain experience, his two daughter-in-law were not willing to let it go.

He had already sent a few urgent letters and had to think of a way to recall them back to the capital.

Master Xia returned to the mansion and went to the study with his eldest son.

He even called Jiang Huaian, who had just returned.

Jiang Huai 'an was interested in the Imperial examinations after the new year. He came back today to visit his grandfather's old friend.

The current Grand tutor Xie.

Even now, Grand tutor Xie was still managing the Directorate and guiding His Highness in his studies.

“Are you used to today? Why did Lulu fall asleep?”

why does he reek of alcohol ... The first mistress, lady Yun, was looking at the account books in the courtyard. She came out to welcome them when she heard the voice.

“This Naughty Monkey is drinking the flower Hawk again.” Xia Yurong was helpless.

“It's better for a girl to be more naughty. Look at my family's calm and steady, where is the vitality of a girl.” Madam Yun pointed to the gentle and demure young girl standing beside her.

The young girl pouted and looked at her mother, her face blushing.

“Mother ...”

Holding Lulu, Madam Xia felt her arms go limp, and the young girl hurriedly came forward to help.

“This is mother Zhen, right? It was actually this big. Have you said anything about marriage?” Madam Xia put Lulu on the bed. When she saw mother Zhen and sister-in-law, she asked someone to make tea.

“I reached marriageable age last year, and I'm sixteen now. She's always shirking the marriage proposal and her father doesn't care about anything, so I'm too lazy to talk to her.” Madam Yun glared at her daughter. Her two sons already had children, but her daughter's marriage had always been a worry.

However, mother Zhen had always been sensible and obedient, and many families had inquired about her. At this moment, she had a smile on her face.

“The children and grandchildren have their own fortune. Eldest sister-in-law, your life is good. Mother Zhen is the eldest daughter of the Xia family's legal wife, so you have to take good care of her in the future. Once this daughter is married, she usually does not return to her mother's home. Now that she wants to be filial in front of you, her filial piety is also commendable." Xia Shi picked up some good words to say.

The smile on lady Yun's face became more sincere.

The second branch had a daughter who was already fifteen. Even if mother Zhen didn't talk about marriage, the second branch had to suppress it. In fact, Madam Yun was a little anxious.

Mother Zhen's face turned slightly red.

But Madam Xia's nose moved slightly, and there seemed to be a strange smell in the air. "Our Xia family worships the memorial tablets of our ancestors? Why do I smell like incense from the temple?" It smelled like incense wax and paper money.

Mother Zhen slightly clenched her handkerchief, lowered her head, and looked at her toes.

"Our residence was newly built in these few years, and the ancestral tablets are still temporarily placed in the temple. We'll only invite him back when the ancestral Hall is rebuilt in the future, where's the smell of wax and paper money?"

"Besides, it's not even the fifteenth day of the month yet. I haven't even gone to offer incense."

Madam Yun replied with a smile. Seeing that the sky was already dark, and the master was about to finish his discussion, she had to hurry back to the sea-listening Pavilion with mother Zhen.

Xia Shi was startled, "strange, the smell is gone again." I can clearly smell the fragrance of incense ..."

She had smelled this smell in huangdu, half of July of the first year, and half of July of the second year.

They all smelled it.

Mrs. Xia didn't have time to think about it. Perhaps it was because her clothes had touched the incense. She only had hot water prepared and gave Lulu a simple wash.

Lulu was in a deep sleep and didn't even wake up after being fiddled with by the Xia family several times.

The night gradually spread.

The night was as deep as water. Everything was quiet and there was no movement.

In the courtyard of the sea-listening Pavilion, a certain room creaked and opened..

Chapter 412 - 412: His Highness gave her a pig (1)

Mother Zhen carefully lifted the hem of her dress and looked behind her.

The maidservant was sleeping outside. It was already late at night, and the maidservant was already fast asleep.

Mother Zhen lifted the hem of her dress and gently closed the door.

As the night deepened, the cold air grew heavier and there was a faint chill.

It made her tighten the cloak around her neck. It was still drizzling outside the door, and mother Zhen was holding an oil-paper umbrella. After avoiding the patrolling guards, he walked towards the bamboo forest behind the mountain with a hint of shyness and anticipation.

Drip, drip, drip. Raindrops fell.

Mother Zhen walked in the rain, her shoes getting wet as she headed toward the mountain forest.

Seeing the young man in white in the forest, mother Zhen's eyebrows were filled with joy, and she quickly walked up.

The man seemed to have heard her footsteps, and when he turned around, he actually had a delicate appearance. It was also mixed with traces of mottled Yin

“Mother Zhen, you've come?”

Under the moonlight, they were whispering in the middle of the night. If not for the occasional cold air, it could be considered a beautiful scene.

On the morning of the second day, he heard that mother Zhen was sick.

His illness was like a mountain collapsing, and it left him like silk. This illness had lingered in bed for more than half a month without getting better.

The next day, Lulu woke up and sat on the bed in a daze.

She seemed to have seen brother Lu last night?

However, he also seemed to have heard everyone calling him his Highness.

The little Lulu's face was pale, as if she was scared.

Just as Tao Zhi was about to carry her to wash up, she heard a servant girl outside the door reporting, “His Highness the Crown Prince has given you a pet. Quite a few people were watching at the entrance of the residence. Would young lady like to take a look?”

“His Highness the Crown Prince is actually giving a gift to miss. This is the first time.”

The maidservant's face was full of surprise, but she saw her Little Miss sigh with a bit of resentment.

Taozhi was extremely excited. She picked Lulu up and ran to the front yard.

At this moment, the three uncles of the Xia family were still at home. Master Xia's expression was dark. “I'm afraid this is mocking our Lulu statue ... It's like ...” He couldn't say it after a long time.

“But this is the first time Your Highness has given me a gift. Moreover, Lulu had emptied his fish pond yesterday. Could it be that he's really mocking Lulu and using this to ruin her reputation?”

When Lulu walked in, he heard two familiar sounds.

“Otherwise, why would he give a little girl a pig?”

Lord Xia muttered.

The women in the residence were red with anger. His Highness was going too far. Lulu was short and chubby, wasn't he teasing Lulu for being as greedy as a pig?

The gatekeeper stood in the corner carefully. but eunuch Lu said that it's a little pig, the kind that won't grow up. Miss huailu will definitely love it as a pet.

The crowd didn't care.

Little fragrant pig is not a pig, His Highness is just looking for a good name.

His Highness had given someone a gift, a pig.

Originally, it was already too conspicuous to give a gift for the first time, but it seemed like his style to give a pig! It didn't arouse any suspicion.

Everyone guessed that His Highness probably loathed that five-year-old child.

"Let's keep it for the time being, it's not good to reject Your Highness" good intentions." Master Xia's face was livid. He felt that His Highness was mocking his granddaughter.

The faces of the people in the manor were extremely ugly.

The young ladies of the residence are bound together for good or bad, His Highness really has a vicious mind.

And because he was his Highness, he didn't dare to go back and could only swallow his anger.

Just like that, Lulu received his first gift from the Crown Prince.

There was a rope in his hand, and on the other end of the rope was a little pig.

It said that it wouldn't grow up, but it was getting fatter day by day. It was originally the size of a palm, but it quickly grew to half of Jiang huailu's size..

Chapter 413 - 413: His Highness is looking forward to it (1)

Everyone in the Xia family sympathized with her.

She was the first person in the entire capital to be ridiculed by His Highness.

Moreover, because His Highness touched her gift, she had to choose a gift in return.

Jiang huailu lowered her head and mumbled, thinking that she still had to see his Highness.

How could he be her brother Lu?

She felt so aggrieved that she wanted to cry, but she held back her tears.

"Lulu, do you have any gifts for His Highness? Although His Highness did not have good intentions, there was a difference between a ruler and his subjects. A ruler was always a ruler. Lulu, don't get angry over this ..." Madam Xia felt wronged for her daughter, but she didn't know how to comfort her.

Lulu didn't feel wronged. Pigs, humans, cows, and sheep were all things of the mortal world. There was nothing noble or lowly about them.

Besides, pork was so delicious, how could it be considered mockery?

"Then I'll return the favor." Lulu ran back to her room with her head down and came out with a small box. It was even locked with a copper lock the size of a finger.

"Take it, you can return it to him."

Mrs. Xia looked at the box suspiciously and felt that the pattern on it was very strange.

"Can mother take a look? After all, His Highness is different from ordinary people. If we offend him, Lulu, we can't implicate maternal grandfather's family." Madam Xia was a little helpless. Seeing her daughter's eyes, she knew that she seemed to be angry.

Lulu hung her head low, looking very pitiful.

"Mother, you can just give it to him." He was muffled and his entire person was listless.

Xia Shi didn't dare to ask again, and only hugged Lulu to comfort him. "Lulu, don't be angry. Be good. His Highness treats all his courtiers like this. After a while, this matter will be over."

"Tomorrow, mother will bring you to the National temple to burn incense, okay? I heard that you hit it off with master yixu and even discussed Dao with him. My Lulu is so powerful. I'll have a Dao discussion with master yixu tomorrow." Mrs. Xia coaxed him, her heart aching.

It wasn't until the evening that the box was sent to Lord Xia.

Lord Xia thought that his sister had checked it and did not force it open. He only had someone wrap it up and send it back to the eastern Palace.

By the time the return gift reached His Highness, it was already time for dinner.

"Your Highness, it's time to enter the palace and have a meal with the Empress." Eunuch Lu reported in a low voice.

Every few days, His Highness would have a meal with the Empress, but he had not entered the palace today.

Lu huaijiang sat in front of the window, his eyes on the book.

Eunuch Lu couldn't help but purse his lips. His Highness had been reading a book ever since he sent the pet to the Xia family during breakfast.

The problem was that it had been an entire day, and not a single page had been turned. The book was still upside down.

A Palace servant hurried over.

Pa da.

The Crown Prince immediately placed the book on the table.

“Your Highness, the Xia family has sent a gift in return. Should we keep it in the warehouse as usual?” The young eunuch asked in a low voice. His Highness had collected countless rare treasures every year, but he had never taken a second look.

They were all kept in the warehouse.

At this moment, His Highness strode over. “Give it to bengong.”

Eunuch Lu hurriedly took it from the young eunuch’s hand and weighed it in his hand. It seemed to be wrapped in a box.

“Your Highness, I’ve heard that the little fragrant pig has its own fragrance and is highly sought after in foreign countries. It seems like the Xia family knows their stuff, they even sent a gift in return.”

His Highness hurriedly opened the gift.

A small case was revealed.

The small box was carved with exquisite patterns and locked with a small copper lock. Lu huaijiang gestured. The copper lock was only the size of his fingernail at most. It was obvious that this was a gift from Jiang huailu..

Chapter 414 - 414: She gave his Highness the ashes box (1)

Lu huaijiang’s smile widened.

Eunuch Lu was shocked and at a loss.

“I don’t know what’s inside, but I’m afraid it’s something carefully selected by the person. It’s clear how much you value Your Highness.” Eunuch Lu said a few good words, and then he saw His Highness carefully pick and open the lock.

There was a thud.

The copper lock was unlocked.

In the box .

He seemed to be showing off and turned his body slightly, which was seen by eunuch Lu.

It was probably because of those two sentences about how Lulu valued him.

However, the moment the lock was opened ...

The smile on Lu huaijiang’s face froze.

Eunuch Lu was shocked. He quickly stepped forward and shouted, “”Why is it empty? Where’s the stuff? It’s clearly locked, damn thing, could it be that some insensible Palace servant touched His Highness “return gift?”

Lu huaijiang sat there silently.

“Such an exquisite small box probably contains many precious items, how could it be empty?” Eunuch Lu could not understand.

He even sent people from the palace to investigate.

Lu huaijiang took a light breath, biting the tip of his tongue until it almost broke.

“No need. This is the return gift.” This was Lulu’s return gift to him after knowing that he was Lu huaijiang, the Crown Prince.

“Why did the Xia family send an empty box over ... What is the meaning of this?” Eunuch Lu’s fingers curled up slightly, his brows furrowed in confusion.

He only felt that His Highness seemed to have many more secrets after he woke up this time.

People couldn’t guess and figure it out.

Lu huaijiang closed the box with a click and locked it carefully with a small lock.

“This is a bone ash box. It needs to be filled with ashes.”

Yes, there was no mistake.

Lulu’s first gift to him was a box of ashes.

Furthermore, he needed to fill it up with his bone ash box.

At this moment, Lu huaijiang knew that he should be furious and should be punished. However, his heart that had not changed for the past ten years was not right.

His heart was filled with a sharp pain.

He knew that Lulu would probably not forgive him and would probably be extremely resistant.

However, knowing her thoughts, Lu huaijiang felt very uncomfortable.

“Impudent, the Xia family is too impudent!” Eunuch Lu’s expression changed.

“His Highness is the Crown Prince of the country, how can he be slandered by the Xia family? We must submit a Memorial to His Majesty to punish the Xia family!” Eunuch Lu’s expression changed. The Xia family had really rebelled. They were actually so audacious.

The Crown Prince was the heir to the throne of the great Zhou and would inherit the throne in the future. How could he be cursed by the Xia family?

Just as eunuch Lu was making a fuss to punish him, the bloodthirsty and murderous Prince sighed in a pampering and helpless manner. “Place it in bengong’s study.” Even though it was a box of ashes, it was still a gift from Lulu.

He just didn't care what it was.

Eunuch Lu's face was full of confusion,"so I'm the only one who's the bad guy?"

At this moment, he still had to hold the box with both hands and respectfully bring it to the center of the bookshelf. It was so conspicuous and glaring. He just didn't know if the advisors would feel afraid when they were discussing.

Would they think that His Highness was threatening them?

It ...

Today was the first time Lu huaijiang had received a gift from Lulu, and his heart was filled with both bitterness and joy.

"Push back the dinner at Imperial mother's place. Let's not do it today, we will enter the palace tomorrow to accompany her." Lu huaijiang seemed to be at ease. Now, how could he coax the little girl to forgive him? He would also enter the eastern Palace and be raised by his side..

Chapter 415: Eating two big bowls with tears in her eyes 1

No one had expected Jiang huailu to like Little Pigs so much.

The outside world despised the Xia family.

He was even more disdainful of the Xia family's little niece who had come back from the deserted city and received a little pig as a gift from the Crown Prince.

However, the little girl was only five years old, so no one had the face to mock her.

Only occasionally, there were invitations to go out for a gathering, but Xia declined all of them.

In the past, she was the daughter-in-law of Jiang GE's hometown. When people saw her, even if they looked down on her, they would still flatter her. But now that she had separated from Jiang yubai, and even brought a pair of children to stay at her maiden home, she was afraid that those people would mock her.

Naturally, she wouldn't bring Lulu along to be wronged.

However, no one had expected the accident to happen so quickly.

It was already the end of the year when Jiang huailu came back from the barren capital, and the new year was coming soon. They ate, drank, and played happily every day. She slept very soundly that night.

It was not until the morning of New Year's Eve that she realized she had crushed the little pig that the Crown Prince had given her.

Within the Xia Manor.

The sound of crying shook the sky.

The little Lulu's face was covered in snot and tears. She pulled the little pig with all her might, only to find that the little pig had stopped breathing. He didn't move at all.

“Mother, I crushed the little pig to death.” Lulu’s eyes were wide open as he cried pitifully.

Tonight was the palace banquet.

Perhaps the Emperor felt that the palace was too cold, so he asked the officials to bring the children from the manor, who were above five years old and below the age of 10, into the palace to have fun.

Although Lulu was staying with the Xia family, he was still on the list.

While Madam Xia was busy preparing, she heard Lulu’s tragic cries.

“Don’t cry, we’ve done our best to raise this thing. It’s not our fault if there’s an accident. His Highness will not punish you.” Madam Xia comforted her softly.

Lulu cried pitifully on Xia Shi’s shoulder.

Her small shoulders were twitching.

“Wuwuwu ...”

“I’m going to bury it, wuwuwu ...”

Lulu shed tears of sadness. The Xia family couldn’t bear to see her so aggrieved. Jiang Huai ‘an happened to be in the manor, so she hurriedly asked him to come to the perfume Pavilion.

He asked her to dig a hole with his men.

However, after digging a hole, she pitied the little pig, who was full of fragrance and was about to be bitten by mosquitoes. He decided to cremate it.

Lanterns were hung everywhere in the Xia family’s house, and window flowers were pasted on the windows.

Lulu felt more and more miserable.

He asked everyone to hold a farewell ceremony for the little pig and prayed that it would be a human in its next life.

Everyone in the perfume Pavilion was busy cremating a little pig.

Everyone accompanied the little Miss and watched her mourn.

At first, everything was normal.

Halfway through, something seemed to be wrong.

Everyone knew that the little fragrant pig had its own unique fragrance. However, no one had ever said that this thing would be so fragrant when it was cooked.

Lulu’s eyes were swollen from all the crying. At this moment, his nose was twitching as he looked at the little pig in the pit with a burning gaze and fell into deep thought.

Until the flames were completely burned out.

It revealed the little fragrant pig’s charred yellow meat ...

The maidservants watched as she swallowed her saliva and picked up a piece of meat with her fingers. It was crispy on the outside and tender on the inside.

She quickly turned her head and said, “go get some chili powder, incense powder, and salt.”

No one had ever told her that the little pig would smell so good when it was cremated!

She had never eaten such delicious and fragrant meat in her life!

Lulu ate two big bowls of rice with tears in his eyes as the little pig was sent off and cremated.

During the banquet at the palace, there were still burping sounds .

Chapter 416: New Year’s Eve Palace banquet (1)

In the past, His Highness would leave the palace after going through the motions.

This year, eunuch Lu’s guess might not be true.

His Highness is now the Regent and handles the affairs of the country on his behalf.

It was fine that he was busy, but he had actually found the time to find the menu from the Imperial kitchen today.

After personally giving some instructions to the Imperial kitchen’s manager, the Imperial kitchen’s manager left with a red face, as if he had gotten a good job.

His Highness had never cared about the dishes before.

Eunuch Lu pondered in his heart. His Highness was really different.

“Your Highness, the Empress has arrived.” Eunuch Lu saw that His Highness was writing something in a flamboyant manner. When he heard that the Empress had come over, His Highness put down the brush. He covered the paper that he had written on.

Eunuch Lu thought to himself, “it’s probably some National affair that can’t be divulged. ”

Eunuch Lu held his breath and focused his attention, not even daring to look at the desk.

The Empress was dressed in a Phoenix robe. She rarely wore extremely Grand and delicate colors. Back then, she had been a noble consort like noble consort Lin, but she had always been lower than noble consort Lin.

At that time, she was gentle and lovely, petite and dainty, and was the emperor’s flower of understanding.

Imperial consort Lin was pampered, arrogant, and spoiled. Many times, she had an endless amount of small temper in front of His Majesty. This was probably because of her mother’s clan’s influence, which gave her confidence.

For so many years, the Lin family had wanted her to coax the Emperor, but she couldn't change it. Now, she was flexible. Even if the Emperor was not feeling well in the middle of the night, she had to come forward and serve him.

The Empress, however, seemed to have lost the desire to fight for favor. The obviously gentle and pleasant woman put on the cold Phoenix robe, and there was a bit more pressure between her brows. It also gradually lost the emperor's thoughts.

She probably understood.

In this world, Lu huaijiang was the only one she could rely on.

Only those that came out of her stomach could be trusted.

"This is the soup that mother had someone make for you, drink a few mouthfuls to fill your stomach. The palace banquet is noisy and you don't have the mood to eat and drink." The Empress looked at the young man in front of the table. At some point, the childishness on the young man's face had faded, and his face revealed a sharp edge.

While Lu huaijiang was drinking the soup, the Empress took her seat.

"Tomorrow is the first day of the new year, the day your big brother will marry Princess Dongli. You should be thirteen years old, have you thought about getting engaged?" The Empress couldn't help but frown.

"Princess Dongli will be the secondary consort. Yesterday, I heard your Imperial father say that he has also decided to marry the daughter of the Zheng family. The Zheng family had been a scholarly family for generations and had set an example for the poor students. Now, they had been reinstated. He would be able to win over all the poor families in the world. Reputation and benefits."

"Although you're not of age yet, you're already thirteen, so we'll get engaged first. She would enter the palace in two years and have a warm and cold person by her side. His mother was also at ease. Your father ..." The Empress saw that his eyes were slightly cold and could not help but shut her mouth.

Recently, the Emperor seemed to be unwilling to be lonely and was unwilling to return to the harem to enjoy his retirement.

Now, he often summoned the ministers and even rested in noble consort Lin's bedroom from time to time.

"Mother. Who have you taken a fancy to?" Lu huaijiang didn't even lift his eyes and only said lightly.

A look of embarrassment flashed across Empress Yun's face.

He sat up slightly.

“Mother’s family is weak and not as powerful as the Lin family. Mother also knows that you don’t like those useless people. However, there are a few intelligent and lovely children in my mother’s clan ...”

“Those children are exquisite and will definitely be extraordinary when they grow up. If they stay by your side, they can help the Yun family. Mother will also be at ease if they serve you.”

The Empress clenched her handkerchief tightly.

The Yun family was not a famous family.

Back then, he had sent her into the palace to select consorts because he was relying on his gentleness and understanding to make the Emperor miss her. He was already the Yun family’s greatest support..

Chapter 417: The princess’s adoration _1

No one had ever thought that her son would become the Crown Prince.

She would be the mother of the world.

Her father and brothers were both useless, and her son obviously had no feelings for the Yun family. The two uncles of the Yun family had repeatedly asked to see Lu huaijiang, but they couldn’t even enter the eastern Palace.

Now that the Crown Prince was already thirteen, he would be married in two years.

The Empress was somewhat afraid of Lu huaijiang, but she had no choice but to rely on him.

“If you don’t like it, then I can just keep it by my side to coax you to play with it.” The Empress continued.

Lu huaijiang touched a peony by the desk and sighed softly, ““Mother, do you think that this peony is not blooming beautifully enough?”

There was no smile in his eyes.

The Empress’s back trembled. She knew that the Crown Prince loved to water fresh flowers with blood. It was rumored that the flowers in the eastern Palace bloomed beautifully because of the blood.

When she heard these words, the Empress felt a chill down her spine.

“Mother, your son can give you all the glory. To be able to give your mother the honor of the world, I ask mother to do her part.”

“Bengong does not lack any young ladies by my side.” Lu huaijiang flicked his sleeve. Eunuch Lu saw that he was angry and actually knelt on the ground.

The palace servants were trembling in fear and did not dare to get up.

The Empress’s face was ashen as she looked at him with a dark expression.

However, she was intimidated by his strong gaze and avoided it.

“You, you ...” The Empress’s Phoenix eyes wrinkled slightly as she took a deep breath.

“I heard that after Princess Dongli entered the capital, she sent two letters to the eastern Palace. Is that true?” The Empress bit her lower lip. There were rumors in the capital these days.

Princess Dongli was sixteen years old and had a beautiful face that could cause the downfall of a city.

Before she had even proposed marriage to the first Prince, she had her eyes on top of her head and declared that she would marry the hero of this world.

If it was before, she wouldn’t have taken a liking to the first Prince. Even those who wanted to marry her were all stronger than Lu yuanxiu.

When Lu huaijiang attacked Dongli, there were rumors that the princess had once asked to see his Highness naked.

However, His Highness had beaten him out without giving him any face.

Lu huaijiang only looked at her when he heard the news. The Empress’s heart skipped a beat. This matter was probably true.

“So what if I send a letter?” Lu huaijiang’s eyes were cold, without any friendship.

He knew what the princess was thinking.

But Lu huaijiang’s heart did not waver at all.

“It’s just that bengong defeated Dongli, making her hate me, but also intimidating bengong and making her admire me. So what? Just based on her, is she worthy of thinking about bengong? If she still doesn’t want to give up, I’ll hang her father and mother’s heads on her bed. She’ll eventually give up.”

Lu huaijiang sneered. and the short round face inexplicably appeared in front of his eyes again.

Lu huaijiang’s eyes were slightly dazed.

There was something wrong with him.

She had seen the princess’s appearance from afar when she came to see the Emperor the day she entered the palace.

Even the Emperor, who had great restraint, took a few more glances.

At this moment, seeing the Crown Prince’s face full of disdain, the Empress looked at him in a daze, but then remembered that he had never had empathy since he was born. It seemed normal.

If he fell in love with someone, he would cry for that person, smile for that person, and she would be shocked by who he was trying to please.

The Empress was slightly relieved.

“Tomorrow is the first day of the new year, which is her big day. He would just avoid it in the future. If noble consort Lin knows about this, I’m afraid it will only cause more trouble.” The Empress stood up after she finished speaking.

“It’s fine if you don’t have such thoughts. Mother can’t control you anymore.” The Empress sighed. The Crown Prince had never been someone she could control.

“Alright, let’s go to the palace banquet first.”

Lu huaijiang was deep in thought behind her.

He didn’t feel right about the short fellow!

Chapter 418: Chapter 418 -who can be caught?

Lu huaijiang’s heart was beating wildly.

When he suddenly realized that something was wrong, Lu huaijiang’s heart beat out of rhythm for the first time. It was as if he was about to jump out of his chest.

Eunuch Lu saw the two of them heading toward the palace banquet and hurriedly folded the rice paper on his desk.

The moment he opened it .

It was filled with Jiang huailu’s name.

Eunuch Lu’s hands trembled in fear and he almost fell to the ground.

Jiang! Huai! Deer!

Eunuch Lu had experienced countless things in front of him, and he had dealt with countless people in his hands. However, at this moment, he was truly terrified and astonished.

Your Highness has someone in your heart.

Eunuch Lu folded the paper with trembling hands and placed it solemnly at the highest position on the bookshelf.

He was still nervous and terrified.

He caught up to His Highness.

At this moment, they were just outside the palace banquet.

Eunuch Lu seemed to have sensed something and looked up, just in time to see his Highness looking in the direction of the Xia family. The little doll, who was wearing a red winter dress, looked like a little girl. She was sitting obediently in front of the elders beside her.

At that moment, the coldness in His Highness’s eyes dissipated.

It was unbelievably soft.

Eunuch Lu hurriedly lowered his head, not daring to look at it again.

His hands were clenched tightly.

No wonder His Highness didn't like Princess Dongli or the Empress. This, this meant that there was a dwarf living in his heart. Moreover, that little fellow was chubby and occupied a rather wide space, so he was afraid that it would not be able to accommodate others.

After all, His Highness's heart was so small.

Eunuch Lu thought to himself as he followed His Highness to the main seat.

Noble consort Lin and the Emperor had also come today. Noble consort Lin was seven or eight months pregnant and was sitting in front of the Emperor in a pink Palace dress. When the Crown Prince and Empress entered, the two of them who were talking and laughing fell silent for a moment.

The Empress's expression did not change.

She had always known that she had not become the Empress because the Emperor valued her. It was all because of her son. As long as her son was alive, whether the Emperor liked her or not, she would be able to sit firmly as the Empress.

At this moment, he greeted the Emperor with a smile, and then smiled at noble consort Lin sitting beside the Emperor.

Noble consort Lin suddenly laughed, "look at chenqie, the little fellow in my stomach kicked chenqie just now." Chenqie will sit down for a while, older sister would not mind right?"

The Empress nodded, "what's there to care about?" It will still stand up, won't it?" After he finished speaking, he sat down beside the Emperor.

The Imperial consort could only sit down.

Noble consort Lin looked at the Emperor with an aggrieved expression, but the Emperor did not see her as he lowered his head to drink his tea.

"Your Majesty, tomorrow is the Elementalist's wedding and he is our eldest son. His Majesty must personally witness his marriage. Otherwise, chenqie will not comply. Now that chenqie is pregnant and is about to give birth, I'm afraid she will be exhausted. I can only trouble Your Majesty.

As his elders, we have to send someone to make him feel at ease." Noble consort Lin pouted and looked at His Majesty with adoration.

If the Emperor personally officiated the first Prince's marriage, wouldn't that prove that His Majesty valued him?

Before the Emperor could speak.

Lu huaijiang picked up the teacup and said lightly, "Imperial consort niangniang, please do not make things difficult for Imperial father. A secondary consort was merely a concubine. Who had the face to be worthy of father to preside over the marriage? In the future, how will Imperial brother's main consort live?"

"In addition, Princess Dongli only sent a marriage Alliance and asked for peace.

Was he worthy of such an honor? I'm really giving her face."

“I killed her clansmen and slaughtered her people. My Imperial father is Huai Jiang’s father. It’s good that she doesn’t assassinate Imperial father, she still wants to host the wedding.” Lu huaijiang chuckled, and Noble consort Lin’s face turned pale.

He stood up straight and knelt in front of the Emperor.

As it turned out, His Highness could do nothing except to deal with the dwarves..

Chapter 419 - 419: His Little Lulu (1)

“Get up, a joyous day is just a few jokes.” The Emperor gently waved his hand. “It’s chenqie’s stupidity that has brought shame to Your Majesty.” Noble consort Lin wiped her tears, looking like a crying Xi Zi. The Emperor sighed and gently pulled her to sit beside him.

The Empress’s seat was extremely wide, with a table in between.

The Emperor moved a little to the side, and Noble consort Lin could barely sit down.

The Empress’s eyelids twitched, but she did not turn her head to look.

“Imperial noble consort niangniang need not undervalue yourself. This pregnancy has made you stupid for three years, Imperial noble consort niangniang can forgive this.” Lu huaijiang smiled and nodded at her, causing noble consort Lin’s breathing to quicken.

Princess Dongli, who was sitting at the bottom, was wearing a veil and clenching her handkerchief tightly.

He looked at the young man with a burning gaze.

He bit the corner of his mouth lightly, and a trace of blood appeared.

He hated her, but he couldn’t help but be attracted to the strong.

Those words were clearly filled with disdain, and they slapped her face again and again. She couldn’t lift her head.

At this moment, he knelt down along with Imperial concubine Lin. “My daughter wouldn’t dare.” The voice was slightly low, like the crisp cry of an Oriole.

The Emperor still waved his hand, and the great prince took the opportunity to pull her up.

The first Prince glanced at Lu huaijiang with dark eyes. Thinking of the rumors in the city these past few days, he only felt that there was an extra hat on his head.

However, he still suppressed his anger. When noble consort Lin heard his light cough, her expression became a little gentler.

At this moment, there were beauties singing and dancing in front of the hall, but Lu huaijiang was staring at his own little girl without blinking.

“The Crown Prince’s mood is very good today. Could it be that there is a happy event? Just now, I saw the Crown Prince looking at that corner without blinking. Is there anything different?” Lu yuanxiu glanced at the Crown Prince and noticed that his lips were slightly curled up and his eyes were curved. There was probably some happy news.

Following his gaze, he only saw a group of old men drinking.

The Crown Prince retracted his gaze and took a sip of wine.

“It’s nothing. When I think of drinking, I think of the interesting matter that eldest brother had made a fuss over drinking a few days ago. It was a pity that Huai Jiang had missed it because she was unconscious. It’s just that when I think of that scene, I find it a little interesting.” Lu huaijiang’s slow words made the first Prince’s expression slightly serious.

He would never have thought that he would actually mention this!

How did he know about this?

The first Prince’s face darkened.

The Empress smiled gently, “you two brothers haven’t seen each other for many years. Mother is satisfied that you can talk and laugh now.” I wonder what you two brothers are talking about, to let father and mother have some fun?” The first Prince thought, “I’ll be happy with your whole family!”

“This son heard it from my subordinates. It was said that his big brother had gone to the barren capital a few days ago, and everyone had bid him farewell. That day, a child suddenly fell down while drinking, and the eldest brother was so frightened that his expression changed drastically. He vomited in public with many guests. It was said that some people had waited for a long time for a doctor and drank the filthy water in a hurry. In the end, when the doctor came, that little girl actually drank too much and fell asleep.”

“Bengong sympathizes with the person who drank the manure water and really wronged him. It’s a good thing big brother didn’t drink it, I’m so glad.” Lu huaijiang raised his wine cup and toasted the first Prince.

The first Prince’s hand trembled, and he looked at the wine with a shadow in his eyes.

He could only put on a fake smile and swallow it.

The Empress’s eyes curved into crescents as she smiled, and Noble consort Lin and the Emperor couldn’t help but purse their lips. The two of them probably didn’t know about this.

“Alright, Your Highness, please don’t say anymore. Chenqie can’t stand it. Chenqie’s stomach is big and her stomach is shallow. Don’t talk about such disgusting things anymore.” Noble consort Lin’s words made the first Prince’s face turn pale..

Chapter 420: The famous dish in Dongli (1)

The banquet was already halfway through.

There was a strange fragrance in the air.

The fragrance made people drool and eat. The entire air was filled with the fragrance of the food, causing the Imperial meal on the table to lose its taste.

Little Lulu had eaten a lot of roasted pig meat today and had been dozing off during the palace banquet.

She was hiding behind a group of old ministers, huddling her body and nodding her head. She was extremely cute.

Anyway, Lu huaijiang had been watching it the whole night!

The moment he smelled the strange fragrance, Jiang huailu suddenly straightened his body.

She even raised her hand to wipe off the sparkling saliva at the corner of her mouth.

She looked around sneakily, afraid of being seen.

Seeing this scene, Lu huaijiang's smile overflowed uncontrollably. The first Prince's face darkened. He thought that the man was mocking him, so he stopped asking.

"What kind of smell is so good?" Noble consort Lin had severe morning sickness and vomited whatever she ate, but she had taken two more puffs.

Princess Dongli's expression changed slightly as she looked at the young man in black.

"It's a dish that's not shared with outsiders in Dongli. It has been passed down since the founding of Dongli. Seven people are required to guard it all night, and it takes three days and three nights to open the jar." Princess Dongli took a deep breath. Her eyes were filled with doubt and jealousy. Who was it that made him give up his wealth just for that recipe?

She actually needed him to make her happy.

At this moment, the little boy was already drooling. He saw the palace servants enter in a line, each of them holding a small porcelain clay pot.

The claypot was still steaming.

The strange fragrance was coming from there.

"This is also Your Highness's spoils of war. His Highness has given up a great deal of power and wealth in exchange for this recipe." Princess Dongli's words seemed to have confirmed the rumors.

They all looked at Lu huaijiang.

The older that youth grew, the more difficult it was to see through him.

“Then chenqie would like to take a good look. I’ve heard that Dongli was once willing to give up the city and beg the Crown Prince to withdraw his troops.

Who would have thought that His Highness would really only ask for a recipe for delicious food? Could it be that His Highness has secretly accepted something?” Imperial concubine Lin covered her mouth and laughed.

“Your brain is not good, bengong will forgive you. However, I have enough for this recipe.” Lu huaijiang casually glanced at Imperial concubine Lin.

Princess Dongli had once again confirmed that the Crown Prince had indeed conquered ten cities and only asked for a recipe.

He also heard that it was to coax people.

Thinking about it, one could not help but feel jealous.

A table and a cup were placed in front of the table.

Jiang huailu’s small face was wrinkled. She glanced at Lu huaijiang, who was high up in the air, and seemed to be able to see the faint pleading in his eyes.

The little girl snorted.

“Lulu doesn’t eat food from a beggar! Great evil! Lulu won’t eat it!” The little girl pursed her lips and tried to control herself.

She had a backbone.

He was lying! He was lying! He’s the great evil and he said he would help me kill the evil!

Could he cut his neck?

Lulu’s eyes were red with anger.

However, her mouth was constantly drooling, causing her to swallow her saliva a few times.

“The name of this dish is extremely simple and tacky. It’s called the returning to secular dish. There is a story behind this dish.”

“It’s said that a thousand years ago, there was a son of Buddha who was respected by tens of thousands of people. At that time, the Arhat was loved by a demon race woman. The woman had pursued him for thousands of years and had no choice but to give up everything for him. She even used a thousand years of cultivation to save the Arhat. Before he died, he made a dish for fozi. It was heated for three days and three nights in the pot. After eating it, the Arhat returned to asceticism.”

“And have a daughter with her. In the end, the demon race woman dissipated all her cultivation for him and died. The Arhat also gave up all his merit and dissipated his cultivation to accompany his beloved. The two of them returned to the ethereal chaos.”

“This is the dish. It’s said that the Buddha jumps over the wall is already the limit, but it can make the Arhat return to the secular world. This dish is even better..”
