

The Savior 461

Chapter 461 - 461: Stunned (1)

“The he’s jade pendant was used to make the heirloom seal. How could it be made into a jade pendant for a child? Even the scraps are worth cities.”

“Not to mention, the Pearl made from blood essence is extremely precious. I’m afraid that your eyesight is ...” Yun Zhi pursed her lips and her eyes were filled with suspicion.

The shopkeeper’s face darkened.

On the other hand, the young lady at the side covered her mouth and laughed softly. She looked at the two sisters with a hint of ridicule in her eyes.

“Miss Yun, I’m afraid you don’t know that the manager of the heavenly clothes Pavilion is retired from the clothing Bureau. It was the heavenly clothes Pavilion that was specially customized for the royal family and only came after they retired. If he doesn’t understand, then there aren’t many people in the world who do.”

Yun Zhi’s face paled.

The shopkeeper unhappily swept his gaze over the two sisters.

The shopkeeper lowered his head and picked up the beads of hair that were scattered on the ground. Each bead was round and smooth, emitting a lustrous luster.

Under the night sky, it was actually emitting a faint light.

“This ... It’s a night Pearl, a flower made of night pearls?” The shopkeeper took a deep breath. This girl was only dressed in simple clothes, but each one was more valuable than the last. Lulu blinked. It seemed so.

He nodded silently.

Outside the crowd, the uncle who had high hopes for him ran back with his people. The guards who were in charge of the security of the capital followed behind him. what’s going on? just now, someone reported a group of people to cause trouble! An armored guard led his men to the entrance of the heavenly clothes Pavilion.

When he entered, he found many women from aristocratic families, who were all wearing veils.

“They were the ones who broke Lulu’s things and refused to compensate. He even threatened Lulu and didn’t want Lulu to go home.” The little girl’s voice was childish. She raised her small hand and pointed at miss Ming and her group with accusation.

Yun Zhi and Yun Lan’s expressions turned ugly. How could they have known that she was such a precious companion?

Their monthly salary was only 20 silver, and this was the treatment that only the Yun family's legitimate women received.

If it was a concubine's child, three to five taels a month would not even be enough to raise maids and servants.

At this moment, Miss Ming's eyes were filled with anxiety and hot tears. "It is Ming su's fault for not being strict and let young lady suffer. Shopkeeper, please take a look and give a number. No matter how much it is, the Ming family is not a person without a backbone." Miss Ming sighed lightly to the shopkeeper, her eyes filled with tears. Many people's hearts softened.

The guards didn't make things difficult for him and just waited for the shopkeeper to verify the two statements.

He then stood at the side and waited.

The capital was filled with wangye and rich people, so no one wanted to offend them.

"Shopkeeper, please help me to appraise it. You're in charge of jewelry, so everyone trusts you." All these years, the heavenly clothes Pavilion had also been in charge of appraising things.

The shopkeeper didn't dare to be arrogant and invited a few experts to appraise the jewelry together. After a while.

The three of them heaved a sigh of relief and wiped the sweat from their foreheads.

"This head Pearl is undoubtedly a night Pearl." As soon as he said this, everyone was shocked and looked at the soft baby with some fear.

The maidservant behind Miss Ming was on the verge of collapse as she knelt in front of Miss Ming with a pleading look.

"This is a night-luminescent Pearl, and it's no ordinary night-luminescent Pearl. Every single one of them is a treasure. I've worked for the palace for many years, and these are all comparable to the gifts from the Emperor.

Furthermore, the luminous Pearl is intricately carved with the word 'Buddha'.

It is an object that has been worshipped."

"Even without carving them, each one is worth nearly a thousand taels. Moreover, the word 'Buddha' contains the principles of Buddha. To be able to use such a luminous Pearl as a Pearl Flower, I'm afraid that the person who carved the word 'Buddha' must be a person with profound Dharma." The shopkeeper's words made everyone gasp in shock..

Chapter 462 - 462: Sell everything you have (1)

Not counting the Buddha character, each pill was worth a thousand taels.

The broken Pearl Flower was at least eight thousand taels.

She was even wearing two strings on her head.

There was also a jade pendant made from the corner of the he clan's bi hanging on his waist, and a spirit Jade bead on his shoe. How could he be a human?

This was a walking gold vault.

"Little girl, do you know who carved this Buddha character? It seems to contain Buddhist intent, and the handwriting is also slightly familiar." The shopkeeper looked at the luminous Pearl and frowned. The more he looked at it, the more familiar it looked. One thing was clear, it must be someone with profound Buddhist Dharma.

Everyone looked at jingbae in shock.

Only now did he realize that the girl was extremely delicate, her eyebrows and eyes were like a painting. He didn't know what kind of beauty she would have when she grew up.

"My brother and master yixu are friends. I wonder if it was master yixu who carved it." Lulu replied honestly. Brother Lu only knew yixu.

At the mention of yixu, the crowd fell silent.

Who didn't know that Yi Xu was the abbot of the National Guard temple and had always only prayed for the royal family?

The innkeeper suddenly smacked his head. "Yes, it's the work of master yixu. He remembered. I have a handwritten copy of Master Yi Xu's Buddhist scriptures in my house, and the handwriting is exactly the same as Master Yi

Xu's!"

He turned around and called the servant boy to get it.

Fortunately, the shopkeeper lived in the backyard of the heavenly clothes Pavilion, so he quickly brought it over.

This comparison was really not the slightest bit different.

At this moment, miss Ming broke out in a cold sweat, and the hairpin in her hand was full of wrinkles. His palms were covered in sweat.

She glanced at the little girl who was only as tall as her waist and felt a little displeased for the first time.

There were also madams and young ladies who had stayed in the National temple before. There were also people who had come to see it in person and recognized master yixu's handwriting.

The shopkeeper picked up the abacus and started calculating again. Everyone felt their legs tremble.

These two sounds made it look very expensive.

"Everyone understands what master yixu has prayed for. At the very least, there were hundreds and thousands of taels, and that was not including the Buddha character that he had personally carved. This one is worth at least 1500 taels. If it were to be auctioned, it would probably be worth 2000 taels."

"Even the lowest price for this string of pearl flowers would be twelve thousand taels."

"Twelve thousand taels!"

"Hiss, whose family's precious treasure is this? a string of pearls costs twelve thousand taels. Just those two little tunnels cost twenty-four thousand taels. And that's not even including the things on her shoes and waist."

Everyone was shocked speechless. They were afraid that even the Empress was not as extravagant as her.

The Empress ...

The shopkeeper shook his head. these things can't be measured with money. They're usually kept in the vault for collection purposes. To be allowed to wear it, it must have grown on the tip of that person's heart.

If one looked closely at these things, they would be able to find a slight difference.

They must have been in a collection for many years, gathering them one by one.

To be able to spend all her heart and soul on making her child happy, she must be the existence of her lifeblood.

Miss Ming's figure couldn't help but sway. Twelve thousand, twelve thousand taels!

She gritted her teeth and a hint of struggle flashed in her eyes.

The two girls from the Yun family stared at Jiang huailu in shock. They swallowed hard and stood behind miss Ming with their heads lowered. He didn't dare to say another word.

Twelve thousand taels, what kind of concept was that?

All of the Yun family's shops added together were probably not even as expensive as her clothes.

Even if you had money, you wouldn't be able to buy it.

Lulu looked at miss Ming and then at the trembling servant girl behind her.

The maidservant was still indignant just now, but now her face was completely pale. Her eyes were full of fear, and she looked at Jiang huailu with a bit of resentment and death..

Chapter 463: The treasure of the eastern Palace (1)

The maidservant's eyes flashed with a hint of struggle.

Her eyes were high, but it was not because she was a Ming family servant girl.

She was the young lady of the Ming family!

She was the young lady of the Ming family.

At that time, the mistress of the Ming family had just given birth to Ming su and her body was weak.

One day, the old master went into the wrong room and recognized the dowry of the mistress as the mistress. He had her in one night, but it was a disgrace to the Ming family.

In the Ming family, a daughter was far more important than a son.

Not to mention Ming su, who was born smart and had the limelight. Her existence was a thorn in the mistress's heart, so she was placed by the young lady's side as a maidservant.

Ming su didn't argue with her. The Ming family sometimes didn't care about her pursuit among the servant girls.

But if she really posed a threat to the Ming family, then she would be the first to be abandoned.

The Ming family's hope was on Ming su. If she shamed the Ming family, she would not be able to live.

The maidservant's knees went weak. That maidservant was young, but she was a poor maidservant.

If he knelt on the ground, he would die in front of everyone.

Everyone had to stop her. That girl could carry ten thousand taels of silver on her, so why should they bother about this?

The maidservant was just about to step out.

The little girl waved her hands and said, "I don't need that much, I don't need that much. Lulu wouldn't dare to accept it."

"Even though the money in the family doesn't come from the wind, even though the servant girl sister deliberately broke Lulu's pearl flowers. But Lulu doesn't dare to ask for money."

"What if the servant girl begged Lulu to let her go, but Lulu refused and she killed herself in front of Lulu? Lulu is still a child, so I'm scared." Lulu shook his hands, looking terrified.

The maidservant who had just taken a step forward stopped in her tracks.

"I'm rich and I'm guilty, it's all my fault. Big sister is poor, big sister doesn't want to compensate, big sister only has one life, what should I do?" Lulu's tears came pouring out, startling everyone.

Following her gaze, she saw the unconcealable shock in the Ming family servant girl's eyes. She had probably guessed correctly.

The heavenly clothes Pavilion was not a place for ordinary people, and those who came here were either rich or noble.

When he heard Lulu's fearful words, 'I'm rich, I'm guilty, and she's poor, I'm in the right', his sympathy disappeared.

“It’s really funny. The servant girls sold their bodies to their Masters. If the servant girls were guilty, their Masters would naturally punish them.

Otherwise, there’s no law in the world.”

“Which family doesn’t have a few maids and servants? If he made a mistake outside and broke other people’s things, he would die to atone for his sins.

Then could his lowly life be offset? Was that cheap life really worth so much?

It’ll be a joke if I tell you.”

“Compensate what you need to compensate, if you don’t have money, then discipline the servant girls. Don’t get into trouble and be too afraid to bear the consequences, scaring the little girl into tears.” The one who spoke was an old lady. Her hair was neatly combed, and she looked at Lu Lu indifferently.

The two maidservants behind her supported her and directly passed by her.

The madams and young ladies beside him laughed contemptuously.

Miss Ming had probably never been so wronged before, and her shoulders were trembling.

The grievance in her eyes could be seen. In a trembling voice, she said, ” the Ming family would not dare to do this. Don’t worry, miss. The Ming family would definitely send the 12000 Liang of silver to the manor. May I ask miss where to send it?” She wanted to see whose precious treasure it was!

Lulu took out two pieces of silver and handed them to the waiter, then took them all while gesturing to brother Lu’s figure.

“Then send it to the eastern Palace. I live in the eastern Palace.” As soon as she finished speaking, the little girl disappeared into the crowd.

The eastern Palace?

Ming su suddenly raised her head and vaguely saw a handsome figure flash past the crowd, seemingly chasing after the chubby girl.

His heart sank..

Chapter 464: Lulu’s gift to him (1)

Ming su stood at the door and looked at the figure that flashed past in the distance.

He clenched his fist and took a deep breath.

“Sister su, it’s all this servant’s fault. This servant didn’t know that she was so overbearing and didn’t know that she was actually wearing such expensive jewelry.” The servant girl’s voice was trembling as she watched the shopkeeper wrap up the beaded flower and hand it to her.

“This thing is slightly damaged, but we can find a few craftsmen to repair it. Even though it can’t be sold for a high price, it’s still a rare treasure.” The shopkeeper looked at the woman, handed her the money, and then turned to leave.

The maidservant’s hands were trembling as she held the small box.

“Go back and ask for father’s forgiveness.” Ming su’s voice was cold, which was rare. She had always been a virtuous and polite woman. When she thought of the figure that had flashed past her just now, she felt a little anxious.

When the maidservant heard the word “father,” she could not help but cry.

At this moment, the little Lulu was touching the chirping on her head.

“It’s too expensive, brother Lu. This is too expensive.” Lulu pouted. She knew that she was rich, but the jewelry she casually wore was so precious that Lulu’s heart ached.

Every day, the palace maid would bring a tray for her to choose, and she had already chosen the most simple thing.

“Jewelry is meant to be worn, and that’s the meaning of their existence. If they were placed in the Treasury, it would instead obliterate their light. Lulu will look good with it.” Lu huaijiang held her hand and saw that she had bought a set of clothes for herself. Her happy eyebrows were soft.

“It’s too expensive. Twelve thousand for a Pearl Flower. 1,200 Lulu is enough to eat a lot of things.” Jiang huailu sighed in a low voice.

Lu huaijiang couldn’t help but laugh. As expected, the jewelry that was worth thousands of gold to her couldn’t be compared to a pig Trotter with soy sauce.

“Then give Lulu some cheap stuff tomorrow.” Lu huaijiang didn’t want her to frown and immediately coaxed the little girl.

Seeing the little guy’s smile again, the young man was a little happier.

“Let’s go back today. Tomorrow, we still have to go to the National Guard temple. Didn’t you have an appointment with master yixu to discuss the Dao? We can go together.”

“I heard that you met Grandmaster on your way back to the capital, and even asked him to chase after the carriage and discuss the Dao with you. I didn’t expect our Lulu to have the root of wisdom.” Lu huaijiang was a little surprised, but he didn’t ask much when he saw the little girl’s Red face.

The two of them returned to the East Palace. Lu huaijiang had someone wash his new clothes overnight.

Lulu had bought new clothes.

“Your Highness, the weather is still cold and I’m afraid that these clothes will not dry tomorrow. This was a spring outfit, so it was a little too thin. It would be better to wait. It’s just nice to wear it in spring ...” Eunuch Lu saw His Highness’s burning gaze and stopped talking.

He hurriedly got someone to wash his clothes and dried them with charcoal overnight.

As expected .

The next day, her clothes were still a little wet.

Although it wouldn’t drip, it was still cool and moist on her body.

Eunuch Lu looked on helplessly as His Royal Highness, who was usually magnanimous and steady, put on the wet clothes. Eunuch Lu shivered from the cold.

“This is the dress Lulu gave bengong, do you think it looks good? Lulu picked it out from heavenly clothing Pavilion. I bought it with the money I spent on the sauce pork shoulder.” Majesty Lu asked with great interest. He had been looking forward to it the whole night.

This was the true gift his sister had given him.

Eunuch Lu’s eyelids kept twitching.

How should he put it? his sleeves were a little short, and his clothes were a little too big?

However, His Highness was so happy that he didn’t dare to speak..

Chapter 465: Shivering in the cold wind (1)

Eunuch Lu’s voice was shrill, and he was currently flattering the Crown Prince.

Lu huaijiang nodded, suppressing the joy between his brows. He nodded lightly, “”It’s just average,” After saying that, his eyebrows rose.

Eunuch Lu saw that His Highness had tidied up and glanced at his own cotton clothes.

He sighed faintly.

A qualified and favored inner servant had to follow the master’s preferences. While His Highness was having his meal, eunuch Lu silently returned to his room, took Ott ms coat, and cnanged Into ms sprmg c10tnes.

When he put it on, he shivered. It was really f * cking cold.

Lulu sat in front of the dining table in a daze. He was dressed like a round ball. There was even a circle of white fox fur around his neck, making him look extremely cute.

“Brother Lu, aren’t you cold?” she asked. Lulu looked at him in confusion.

The Crown Prince coughed lightly and replied, “not cold.” Just nice.” He pinched the corner of his shirt. It was still a little cold and not dry.

“Yixu is already waiting at the nation protecting temple. Let’s go and see him first. I heard that many ministers are going to pray for blessings today. You should get to know people of the same age.” Lu huaijiang was a little upset. Lulu didn’t have any companions.

He couldn’t really keep those ghosts company.

“Then Lulu will go and make friends with them later. If master yixu knows that Lulu is coming, he will be very happy.” Lulu jumped up and down happily. The moment he opened the door, a cool breeze came out.

The Crown Prince and eunuch Lu both shuddered.

Outside the door, His Highness had yet to board the carriage. He stood in front of the carriage for a long time.

The coachman broke out in a cold sweat, wondering if he had angered His Highness in any way. With his life in danger, he saw eunuch Lu, who was behind the Crown Prince, gently pinching the corner of his clothes.

“Your Highness, the clothes you’re wearing today really suit your temperament,” the coachman said in fear.

His Highness raised his head slightly and glanced at him indifferently, as if he was impatient.

“You’re noisy.” After he finished speaking, he stepped on the eunuch’s back and got into the carriage.

When His Highness got on the carriage, the coachman suddenly heaved a sigh of relief.

Eunuch Lu also nimbly climbed into the carriage at the back. There was charcoal burning inside, and it was very warm.

“Sigh, Your Highness doesn’t even want me to serve you anymore.” Eunuch Lu was a little disappointed.

Ever since Lulu had arrived, His Highness had not allowed him to follow the carriage.

Thinking that all the servants were Palace maids, he was afraid that His Highness disliked his gender. But he ... However, he was a father-in-law, so how could he be considered a man?

Moreover, Lulu was only six years old. It was too early for His Highness to worry.

Besides, wasn’t he a man?

Eunuch Lu cursed silently in the carriage, but he didn’t dare to let any of it out. She could only wrap herself in a blanket and sigh at the fact that she was still freezing at her age.

“Brother Lu, are you really not cold?” Lulu sipped a cup of warm tea.

It was a little sweet and sour, and a sip warmed her heart.

“I’m not cold,” Lu huaijiang silently moved closer to the charcoal stove.

“Then I’ll buy you some shoes and clothes when I’m free,” Lulu nodded. The little fellow even knew how to make empty promises.

Little did she know that the big picture she had drawn up had made the big evil’s eyes light up.

There were many people on the way to the National Guard temple, but when they saw the eastern Palace’s carriage, they all made way for it.

Even the family of merits did not dare to attract the attention of His Highness.

He could only avoid it.

Finally, the Crown Prince’s clothes were dry when they reached the foot of the National temple.

At the foot of the mountain, Lulu even met the old lady who had spoken up for her at the heavenly clothing Pavilion last night.

“Who’s that lady?” Lulu pulled on His Highness’s sleeve, completely ignoring the gasps around them.

No one knew who the little girl beside His Highness was. They only knew that His Highness held her hand as they walked up the steps, feeling very sorry for her.

“That lady. It’s lady Zhen.” Lu huaijiang was stunned when he saw the old lady..

Chapter 466: The endless wait (1)

“Lady Zhen?” Lulu looked at him in confusion.

Lu huaijiang didn’t sit in the palanquin, but pulled Lulu up the mountain step by step.

Those who recognized His Highness did not dare to sit in the palanquin and could only walk not far away from His Highness with their heads lowered.

However, there were many civilians in the temple. At this moment, the two of them walked in the crowd like ordinary siblings.

“Madam Zhen is Grand tutor Xie’s younger sister. Grand tutor Xie’s younger sister had been a rare talent when she was young, and hundreds of families had sought after her. The threshold was almost broken by someone.”

“Her original name is Xie Zi Xu, and she is a very talented woman. Back then, Lord Xie had not been the Grand tutor. In order to change the situation of the poor students, Lord Xie had accepted many poor students. One of them is called Lin Xun.” As the two of them climbed up the stairs, eunuch Lu was so tired that he was sweating profusely.

Sigh, it’s so troublesome to bring a little girl out.

Food, snacks, change of clothes, His Highness does not allow others to do it.

“What happened after that?” Lulu was extremely curious.

“Lin Xun doesn't have much talent, but he's extremely hardworking. He is also willing to do practical work and not as ambitious as others. This made Grand tutor Xie appreciate him and praise him.”

“When Xie zixu was of marriageable age, she even betrothed her sister to Lin Xun,”

“Lin Xun has never married because of the Imperial examinations, but he lived up to expectations and became the top scorer at the age of twenty. At that time, Xie Zi Xu was 15 years old, so the marriage was arranged.”

“Lin Xun is an ambitious person who is willing to do things, and the top scholar usually has to enter the Hanlin Academy. However, he was willing to do practical work, so Lord Xie recommended him.”

“At that time, the aristocratic families rose in the court, and the palace wanted to promote the poor students. He then released the top scorer, second place, and third place, and let them recruit poor students from all over the country. They want to gather the power of the humble class.”

“Ranking second, tanhua, they've all returned after three years. Lin Xun didn't.”

“Some say that Lin Xun is dead, while others say that Lin Xun went to the border and was taken away by a foreigner to marry the princess.”

“Xie zixu was ridiculed by everyone for three years, but she didn't want to give up on the marriage. He had been waiting at the Xie family. This wait was thirty-two years.”

“It's already thank you, Auntie. The daughter of the Xie family who has never married nnt ”

“There are even rumors that Lin Xun has seen through the world and is living in seclusion outside. Whether the rumors were true or false, they could not be trusted. However, it was a fact that aunt Xie had never married. The old lady who helped you that day was aunt Xie.” Although she was an old lady, she had the hairstyle of an unmarried woman, so most people in the capital recognized her.

After the Emperor ascended the throne and heard her story, he gave her a Memorial Arch.

They were loyal.

Later on, people rarely called her aunt Xie, but instead called her lady Zhen.

“You’ve waited for thirty-two years? Thirty-two ...” Lulu mumbled. Thirty-two years, thirty-two. This number sounded familiar to her.

But when he thought of his godmother’s sigh, Lulu felt the same way.

Her mother had waited for a thousand years for her father to turn around.

When the two of them arrived at the National temple, the little monk was already waiting at the door.

“Grandmaster has postponed his lecture and is already waiting for you in the meditation room. Almsgiver, please enter.” The young monk was a little scared when he saw His Highness, but when he saw Jiang huailu, he was so shocked that he took a few steps back and almost hit the door.

Ah, he remembered.

Wasn’t this young female benefactor the one who had angered Grandmaster so much on the way back to the capital?

She was here again!

Chapter 467 - 467: The master’s two nemesis (1)

The little Shami staggered as he looked at the big fiend holding the little fiend’s hand.

Her legs and stomach were trembling.

The little Shami was young, only a little older than Lulu. He turned around and ran to the backyard.

One could still hear the faint sound of terrified wails.

master, master, your great nemesis is here with your little nemesis ...

“Master, master, they’ve come to harm you again.”

Lu huaijiang ...

But seeing Lulu’s smiling face, he didn’t get angry. He led Lulu to the meditation room in the backyard.

There were many palanquins parked in the front yard. Some of them recognized His Highness and wanted to approach to pay their respects. Eunuch Lu breathlessly waved his hand, and the crowd retreated.

Lulu saw Madam Zhen again when she came up.

“Every 15th day of the new year, Madam Zhen would come to the National temple to offer incense and pray for her fiancé who had not returned home for 32 years.” The monk at the side explained.

Lulu nodded. He couldn’t help but think when he saw lady Zhen kneeling in front of the hall.

Had her mother also waited for so many years helplessly and bitterly?

How did she survive the days and nights of a thousand years?

Did anyone help her?

Yes, her godmother had helped her before. He had given her a long but short life.

It was long because she had spent the endless years waiting, but it was short because her father had only turned around to see her before he died.

The two of them went all the way to the meditation room, and a young girl quickly walked out of the main hall.

The young girl quickly ran towards the backyard to chase after him, but she was stopped by the young monk.

“Female almsgiver, the meditation room is an important place and can not be crossed.” The young monk stretched out his hand to stop him.

However, Jiang huaijin frowned and asked, “was there a little girl just now? That’s my six-year-old little sister. Can little master make an exception and come out after I find my little sister?”

Jiang huaijin would be of marriageable age this year and had already grown up, gradually revealing his figure.

But to her disappointment, she had mentioned several times that she was about to reach marriageable age, but the first Prince had not accepted her into his room.

Now that he had secondary consort Ying, he did not even spare her a single glance.

“Female benefactor, please return. The meditation room was an important place, and no one could step inside. The little girl just now is an important guest.” The little monk put his palms together. Seeing that everyone was looking at him, Jiang huaijin didn’t dare to overstep his boundaries.

A trace of annoyance flashed across his brows.

What distinguished guest? Jiang huailu was only a six-year-old child. How could he be a distinguished guest?

“Young master, I’m afraid you’ve got it wrong. Lulu is my little sister. If my sister is lost, will your temple be responsible?” Jiang huaijin’s face was filled with worry.

“She is a guest of the Crown Prince, please go back.” After he finished speaking, a monk blocked his way.

Jiang huaijin’s expression changed drastically when he heard the words “guests of the Crown Prince.”

How did she know the Crown Prince?

Her grandfather had died in huangdu, and her eldest uncle had been reprimanded by His Highness, so he had to serve her grandmother. The Jiang family was about to fall, how could they associate themselves with the Crown Prince?

Jiang huaijin felt that something was out of his plan, so he retreated uneasily.

At this moment, Lulu was joyfully pushing open the door of the meditation room.

“Master yixu, I’m here again. Did you miss Lulu? I heard that you were so happy that you didn’t sleep the whole night after Lulu discussed the Dao with you.” Lulu looked at master yixu in surprise.

The Buddha beads in master yixu’s hand paused.

Under Lu huaijiang’s indifferent and threatening eyes, she sighed in her heart.

As promised, monks don’t lie.

He helplessly nodded his head.

“Yes, I’m deeply moved and have benefited a lot.” After all, he had been cursing his nemesis all night.

Amitabha.

These two nemesis were really his nemesis..

Chapter 468 - 468: Lulu’s biological father (1)

“I didn’t know Lulu was so intelligent.” Lulu was pleasantly surprised.

Master yixu replied, “smiling and not saying anything is my last insistence.” Lu huaijiang sat opposite master yixu and reached out to pour himself a cup of tea.

Lulu also squeezed in and sat directly beside him, looking very intimate and dependent.

“I came here today to accompany Lulu to take a look at the ancient books of the National temple. Second, I’m here to ask for your help.”

“I met a Rascal monk on the street yesterday. The monk gave me a blank lot and gave Lulu another. They were both the worst lot.” Lu huaijiang took a sip of tea, and there was a bit of bitterness in his mouth.

“I remember that Your Highness doesn’t believe in drawing lots.” Yi Xu still remembered what he said a year ago.

He boasted shamelessly, refused to believe it no matter what, and even called him a bald donkey.

Oh, he also said that when he found the person who had ruined his seven lives, he would cut off her head first.

At this moment, he looked down and saw that the little girl was hiding behind the boy and braiding his hair.

The young man helplessly stopped her. The little girl pouted and immediately shook her head, giving up.

“Bengong did not say.” Lu huaijiang glanced at him indifferently.

That look was threatening, and he made a look behind him.

Yixu understood. He didn't keep what he said in the past.

The people in the secular world were good, they could go back on their word whenever they wanted to.

“Your Highness's signature is blank. This penniless monk has said this before. Her Highness's fate is not bound by any power in the world, but you were born entangled with her. She has to bear your karma.”

Lu huaijiang remained silent.

That person was Lulu.

“Lulu's signature says that a Dragon Slayer will eventually become an evil Dragon. What do you mean by this?” Lu huaijiang's heart thumped, thinking of this sentence made his heart numb with pain.

The Buddha beads in Yi Xu's hand paused.

“Didn't Lulu want to go to the library Pavilion to read the books? It would be better to read the books first and then discuss the Dao later. After that, let's go eat the fast food at the guoguo temple. The fast food here is very good, and many people will bring a table back to the residence.” Lu huaijiang's bright eyes looked at her.

Lulu had already made many braids for him, and was still having a lot of fun.

When he heard this, his eyes immediately lit up.

“Then you must come and call Lulu when it's time to eat. I'll go to the library Pavilion to read first.” The little guy ran very quickly and followed the little monk out of the door.

The library was not far from the meditation room. The little monk had a detailed discussion with the master who was in charge of the pavilion before allowing Lulu to go upstairs.

“The guguo temple has existed for many generations, and the earliest one can be traced back to a thousand years ago. However, there were very few ancient books that were passed down from a thousand years ago. The Dharma was profound and extremely precious. Even the abbot should keep it. ’

“There is only one wordless heavenly book left in the library Pavilion

“The wordless heavenly book was left behind by the son of Buddha. The son of Buddha was born with an exquisite heart and was born for the great love of the world in his life. He had even given up on inheriting the throne and entered the void sect. However, after that, I don't know why I forcefully returned to normal." The little monk was full of admiration when he spoke of fozi. He brought Lulu to the top floor.

"Every book left behind by the Arhat is precious, but the wordless heavenly book is different. It's waiting for the fated one."

"That book has been passed down for a thousand years, but it has never been written."

"It is said that if you meet the fated one, you will be able to see the profound Dharma. And that book will only wait for the fated person to read it before it will be destroyed in the world." Not to mention the National temple, even all the monks in the world had come to see this book.

There were many mortals who came to try their luck, but even after a thousand years, they had never met the legendary person..

Chapter 469: The embrace that transmigrated for a thousand years

The library Pavilion was huge.

The third floor was filled with books.

Her nose was filled with the fragrance of brush and ink, as well as the thick scent of sandalwood.

Lulu quickly walked up to the young monk.

He directly jumped over the little Shami and walked towards the window on the left.

"Hey, young benefactor, how did you know that the wordless heavenly book was here?" The little Shami was still a little surprised, but when he saw the little girl who was still smiling just now, she was now pulling a long face, and her expression was extremely ugly.

He shut his mouth and did not say anything more.

He was only three steps away from Lulu.

He watched as she moved a small stool over, stepped on it, and accurately pulled out the wordless book hidden among the bookshelves.

The little Shami couldn't help but recall his master's words: Those who were truly fated would receive guidance. As long as it appeared, it would find it. At this moment, when he thought of this sentence, his heart was beating fast.

He almost jumped out of his chest.

Lulu's hands were trembling.

From the moment she entered the temple, she felt something calling out to her.

It was the voice she had been longing for.

Lulu put down the book and sniffed with her back to the small monk.

Unknowingly, her face was already covered in tears.

He sat down on a small stool.

She took a deep breath and pursed her delicate lips. He seemed to be prepared before he flipped to the heavy page.

The Scripture that he had been waiting for a thousand years.

It had never been a Scripture.

It was a selfish intention of the son of Buddha's great love for his newborn child.

Drops of tears fell on the yellowed paper.

The wordless heavenly book suddenly emitted a bright radiance. On the empty paper, its true appearance quickly appeared.

Page after page, page after page, word after word, sentence after sentence, they all appeared in front of her.

To my son!

Jiang huilu burst into tears. It was her father, her father.

The little Shami was so scared that he sat down on the ground, "The fated person of the wordless heavenly book has appeared. The fated person has appeared." The young novice monk was so shocked that he scrambled down the stairs. He wanted to find his master and the elder.

The fated person of the wordless heavenly book had arrived.

Everyone thought that it was just a legend and that it was fake.

He didn't expect it to be true.

The fated person that the wordless heavenly book had been waiting for for a thousand years was actually that child.

Lulu hugged the heavenly book, tears blurring her vision. It was as if a pair of warm hands were wiping away her tears.

In the Golden light, she seemed to see her father.

The father, who had been bald for thousands of years, had grown black hair for his dying mother. There was a lingering sense of compassion between his brows, but when he looked at her, his eyes were full of tenderness.

The heavenly book flipped quickly.

The scenes inside were left behind by his parents in a place with beautiful mountains and clear waters.

At that time, her mother had gently stroked her belly. The two of them looked at each other and smiled, as if they were looking forward to her birth.

Her mother softly called her name, Lulu ... Lulu.

It was the gentleness and warmth she had imagined.

In the Golden light, the two of them looked in Lulu's direction with a satisfied smile on their faces. It was as if he could see the crying Lulu through time, and he wanted to hug her.

The young monk brought master yixu and a group of elders up the stairs in a hurry.

Standing by the stairs, he could only see a little girl crying while hugging her knees in the hazy golden light.

Suddenly ...

The wordless heavenly book turned into specks of Starlight and scattered between heaven and earth.

The Starlight gently surrounded the little girl, as if it was holding her in its arms, giving her all the warmth.

The Starlight shone on her cheeks, and she wanted to kiss her tears dry. Lulu watched helplessly as the Starlight dissipated, his heart feeling empty..

Chapter 470: Mother has committed a serious crime (1)

The son of Buddha was born with great love.

In his heart, there was only the world, only the people, and no personal feelings.

If he wanted to influence the Arhat, he would need to spend endless time and effort.

It was also a great sin to pull the son of Buddha down from the altar and sink into oblivion.

Lulu's mother had committed a grave crime.

Lulu fell to the ground and sobbed helplessly.

It turned out that godmother's love was the love between father and mother.

It was different.

She reached out her small hand and tried to hold the scattered Starlight, trying to keep the warmth, but the Starlight slipped away from her fingertips, leaving nothing behind. Lulu broke down helplessly and couldn't stop his tears from flowing.

the wordless heavenly book has collapsed. How could it have collapsed? our nation protecting temple has protected it for a thousand years. It's time for us to take a look. The elder sighed and put his hands together.

Yixu shook his head. everything is illusory. What's yours is yours. If it's not yours, then you shouldn't be delusional."

"It has been waiting for a thousand years for that one person. It's not something outsiders can spy on. "

"The Arhat has merit to protect him, how can he be missed by others?" Yi Xu looked at the Golden light and closed his eyes.

This was the son of Buddha's only obsession in the world.

Everyone laughed when they heard the false and true legends of the son of Buddha and the demoness. No one knew that this was true.

She even left a child behind.

The elders put their hands together and chanted Amitabha.

Lu huaijiang's heart ached when he saw the helpless Lulu and her teary eyes.

Her heart ached.

When had he ever seen Lulu so helpless and so devastated?

Even when she was only three and a half years old, she had not been so desperate.

She couldn't wait any longer, so she went up and picked up Lulu, who seemed to have been forgotten by the world.

When he picked her up, he realized that she was trembling badly, and the sobbing in her ear made Lu huaijiang's heart hurt.

"Don't cry, brother Lu is here. Brother Lu will always be by our Lulu's side." Lu huaijiang saw her hands unconsciously grabbing onto her clothes, so he hugged her and coaxed her softly.

The group of monks left, but master yixu stared at the two of them.

She lowered her eyes and only left after a while.

The gears of fate had already begun to turn.

This time, are you going to be like the seventh Generation?

Lulu laid on Lu huaijiang's shoulder, her eyes dazed and a little lost.

"Lulu, what's wrong?" Lu huaijiang looked at her carefully and did not dare to speak too loudly, afraid of scaring the little guy.

Lulu seemed to have been jolted awake as he stared at Lu huaijiang in a daze.

Without a word, she lay on Lu huaijiang's shoulder and fell asleep.

Her soft hair covered her face. Lu huaijiang hugged her with one hand and raised his hand to gently wipe her tears.

"Don't cry. If you want stars, big brother will pick them for you." The young man muttered.

When Lulu woke up, he felt his entire body was at ease. He must have had a long sleep.

When she moved, she realized that she was in someone's arms.

Seeing that she had woken up, eunuch Lu 's heart ached as he shouted, ""You're finally awake, my little ancestor. Your Highness hugged me for four hours, and your arms are almost broken." This fellow was heavy and heavy, but His Highness wanted to put it down, so she held on to his clothes and did not let go.

Eunuch Lu wanted to take it, but His Highness's eyes were not very friendly.

Eunuch Lu heaved a sigh of relief when he saw that Lulu had finally woken up.

This child, didn't he know how fat he was?

"Is Lulu too fat?" Lulu rubbed his nose, his eyes clear from crying. He looked at Lu huaijiang seriously.

Lu huaijiang's throat was slightly hoarse, probably due to the cold wind.

"I'm not." He replied in a low voice.

"But Lulu can eat less meat and fish, it's good for the body." Lu huaijiang saw that she didn't mention the crying just now, so he naturally didn't want to mention it, afraid that she would cry again..
