

The Savior 731

Chapter 731: He let himself loose (1)

“I’m raising you for nothing? He dared to be careless and delay such a big matter! Why don’t you chop off your heads to redeem yourselves for the people of Jiangnan!” Lu huaijiang’s expression was gloomy.

Lu huaijiang’s expression was cold. if we can’t find anyone to take responsibility today, all the officials along the way will be beheaded. Don’t leave a single one!”

Lu huaijiang’s words really scared the Wits out of the officials on that line.

His hair was almost standing on end.

The officials saw that he was really angry, and all of them knelt on the ground.

“Your Majesty, please calm your anger.”

“Your Majesty, you can’t do that. Your Majesty. This lowly subject is the furthest away from Jiangnan. Every year and every month, I request the officials of the land I belong to to to deliver recent major events. I’m innocent.”

Lu huaijiang’s hand moved, and he was about to wave his hand to drag the officials out and behead them.

Suddenly, there was a rustling sound behind him ...

His anger stopped abruptly.

Lu huaijiang suppressed his anger.

One of the officials saw that the emperor’s expression had suddenly improved. His body went soft and he immediately began to cry.

Every year, I go to Jiangnan to inspect. It must be that the officials under me hid this matter in order to cover up the truth. A few courtiers started arguing again. They all said that they didn’t receive any news of the flood.

Everything pointed to the Lord in the corner.

It was the local county magistrate who had ordered people to escort him to the capital overnight.

At this moment, the eyes of the county magistrate, who was wearing wrinkled clothes that had not been changed for many days, were red.

“Your Majesty, they are lying! They were slandering him! When this lowly subject discovered that there was a flood in Jiangnan, I reported it, but no one from above has dealt with it. ”

“Although this lowly official is a small county official under Jiangnan and is not as powerful as all of you Daren. However, this lowly subject has always been cautious and did not dare to be the slightest bit careless. Jiangnan was an important part of the great Zhou. Any abnormality would be recorded in the county Journal. When we found out that it had rained for twelve days, I sent three letters.”

“On the 15th and 16th, some dams had already exceeded the water level. That night, I brought more than half of the bailiffs to wake up every household. Carry your things and take turns to monitor the dam.”

“That night, this lowly subject sent three urgent letters to the government office. The three letters were sent in succession, all within two hours. At that time, the storm did not stop, and the dam was in danger of bursting.”

“This lowly subject braved the rain and knocked on every house. During those three days, everyone was moved to the higher ground.”

“But after three days, no one from above came.”

“Now ... The river burst its banks, and the entire County was finished. It's all over.” Even though they managed to save some of their belongings, the houses and crops were all gone. Nowadays, who had so much money on them? they all relied on crops.

And because the news of the flood had not spread, countless people downstream had died or been injured.

It took a month for the refugees to disperse before the news spread.

That small county magistrate had never seen any high-ranking officials or nobles, and was originally trembling in fear.

However, at this moment, he was crying as he spoke. In an instant, his whimpering sound rang out in front of the hall.

“Everything in this lowly official's County Office has been washed away, not even a change of clothes. It was the commoners who saw that the clothes I was wearing had a sour smell and sent me a few sets of clothes to change into. Before coming to the capital, the common people were worried that this lowly official would lose his manners in front of the palace, so they mended this lowly official's torn official robes overnight and washed them clean.” The little county magistrate revealed the places on his body where there were needles and threads. The ministers looked at him and didn't know what to say.

They were far away in the capital, the most prosperous place in the world, but they did not expect the small county official under Jiangnan to live like this.

“Push it. Look at how you've forced the people under you.”

Lord Xia rolled his eyes.

The ministers looked at him in confusion.

She felt that ever since his father retired and returned to his hometown, Lord Xia had been letting himself go.

It was a casual push!

Chapter 732: 732-beheading Li Jue (1)

Lu huaijiang looked at Lord Xia.

The ministers looked at Lord Xia in silence.

Lord Xia grinned flatteringly, his smile so wide that his eyes could not be seen.

The Emperor, who always hated the courtiers 'flattery, looked away after a glance.

Oh my God, His Majesty actually didn't act up and didn't punish him?

[Your Majesty, does he have something that can be used against you?]

Lord Xia coughed lightly, "if you shirk responsibility, the county magistrate under you will not be able to live." Look at all of you eating until your brains are full of fat, and look at others, they are all skin and bones."

It was true. The small county magistrate looked like he had not slept well for a long time. He was yellow-skinned and thin.

If he wasn't wearing his official uniform, who would believe that he was a county magistrate?

"Do you have anything to say? His superior is the magistrate, and since he has sent several letters asking for help, what do you say? Could it be that the messenger ate it?" Lu huaijiang's expression was already bad.

"And you, as the provincial governor, such a huge flood has lasted for nearly a month. I think you are blind, and your heart is blind!" Lu huaijiang looked at the expressions of the officials and knew that the magistrate was probably telling the truth.

Whether the county magistrate was lying or not, they would know once they sent someone to investigate.

These idiots probably thought that the flood wasn't big at first and didn't pay much attention to it.

Later, when they realized that the situation had gone out of control, they did not dare to report it for fear of taking responsibility.

That was how he had come to this point.

Among them, Lord Li was the sage King's man. Ever since the Crown Prince became the Emperor, the sage King had claimed to be sick and had not come to court.

Everyone knew that he was avoiding the sharp edge.

behead the Jiangnan provincial governor and the jiangzhou magistrate. Send their heads back to Jiangnan overnight to comfort the people. Lu huaijiang's eyes were slightly cold, and the officials were so scared that they sat on the ground.

And the Jiangnan Governor was promoted after the Xian King returned to the capital.

He looked at old master Zheng, but old master Zheng didn't even look at him. His son had just been released, so he didn't dare to speak.

"Your Majesty, Your Majesty, please spare my life. Your Majesty, please spare my life ..." The Jiangnan provincial governor's dereliction of duty and his confession were not reported by the Jiang Prefecture magistrate.

"Behead the Jiang Prefecture's magistrate for three generations." Lu huaijiang's expression was cold, and the Jiang Prefecture magistrate was so scared that he peed his pants.

Ever since the flood in Jiangnan broke out, he knew he would die. But if his wife and children, as well as his descendants, were implicated, he would be a sinner.

"I know I was wrong. I deserve to die, but my family doesn't know anything. I know I'm wrong." The Jiang Prefecture magistrate wailed.

"This official had a hard time becoming a magistrate, this official has failed in his duty, this official has implicated the common people. However, the young and old in my family are innocent. I beg Your Majesty to have mercy." The Jiang Prefecture's magistrate knelt on the ground and kowtowed continuously. His head made a banging sound, and after a few kowtows, his head was bleeding.

The civil and military officials looked at each other. They had all been officials for many years. If one day, they implicated the old and young in their families, how miserable would they be?

The magistrate deserved to die, but the third generation was innocent.

A few ministers secretly nodded their heads. They had just taken a step forward and had yet to speak.

Lord Xia started talking again.

"You're innocent. The people were homeless and their crops were gone. They lost their homes. Many people lost their parents and children in the flood. They were not innocent? They didn't participate when you and your clansmen were having fun?"

"They rely on you to rise step by step, and if they make a mistake, you alone can compensate for a thousand lives! If he could use his family's descendants to restrain the court officials, although it would be cruel, it would be beneficial to the common people. Since you know that you will bring disaster to your family, you should always be on guard. Otherwise, why would it be so easy to take the court's money?" Lord yang rolled his eyes.

Chapter 733: Waiting for Lord Xia to lose his head (1)

How could he not know that these ministers wanted to intercede?

That was not being kind.

He was just thinking about his future.

His Majesty might not know, but he knew who was corrupt and accepted bribes in the court.

Sir Yang's words made the officials turn ashen.

"By relying on the Imperial court, it's fine if you become an official and your chickens and dogs rise to the heavens. He might even be corrupt and take bribes. He was discovered when he turned his head, and then he was gone after his head was chopped off? How can it be so easy?"

"It's always good for the world to be able to restrain the court officials."

"Aiyoo, this lowly subject was just speaking casually, please forgive me, Sirs." Lord Xia waved his hand affectionately, and everyone's faces twitched.

That was f * cking strange.

Had he been possessed by an evil spirit?

He actually dared to publicly say that the courtiers had accepted bribes?

Do you still want to live?

The problem was that when his father was still alive, he had relied on his father and his own honest and simple abilities to survive until now. After his father retired, he actually ... Was he crazy?

In the past, he was a good man who didn't offend anyone.

Lord Xia squinted his eyes. The new emperor had ascended to the throne, and he had to kill the chicken to warn the monkeys. If he did not kill the governor and zhizhou, he would not be able to appease the anger of the people. Although it sounded terrifying to be able to sit for three generations, it was enough to intimidate some of the younger generation.

No one could change the emperor's decision. He was just following the emperor's words and hugging onto his thigh.

"Behead him. Those who plead for mercy shall be punished as well." Lu huaijiang's expression was indifferent, and none of the officials dared to make a sound.

The old officials silently extended their arms.

So many people had died in the flood, and no one could bear the responsibility. It would not be a pity even if the Jiang Prefecture magistrate died ten thousand times. No one dared to provoke the new emperor at this time.

When the news of the execution of the third generation spread, the entire city was shocked.

It caused the people to be a little frightened.

However, a few days later, when they heard that the flood in Jiangnan had killed and injured more than ten thousand people, the local people were stirred up and all rushed into the Jiangzhou prefect's office to fight, smash, and Rob. It was as if they had gone crazy.

After learning that the new emperor had killed three generations of Jiang Prefecture prefects, the people gradually calmed down.

Only then did there be no complaints between the court and the common people.

However, at this moment, the officials were all trembling in fear after seeing several officials being killed in the court.

The new emperor really didn't look like the previous Emperor at all. The previous Emperor had a gentle temperament and had offended the new emperor several times at the border. However, the new emperor was a battle maniac who couldn't be stopped.

It was the same in the Imperial court.

But in the end, he was less ruthless and murderous.

There was a moment of silence in the Imperial court. Just as eunuch Lu announced three times that he would submit a Memorial if he had something to do and leave the court if he had nothing to do, the atmosphere became warm again.

This time, it was the Ministry of revenue's turn to allocate money.

Unfortunately, Lord Xia was in the Ministry of revenue.

The previous Minister of revenue, when he was allocating funds for the natural disaster last year, had been exploited layer by layer, and did not even have two taels of silver in the hands of the people. The Minister of revenue was directly removed from his post. Fortunately, the previous Emperor had not died. If he had fallen into the hands of the new emperor, he would have been crippled if not dead.

The new Minister of revenue did not dare to speak.

At this moment, all the officials were looking at him. The Minister of revenue secretly touched his neck and felt a cold chill.

The Minister of revenue's eyes rolled around and he turned to look at Lord Xia.

She always felt that Lord Xia seemed to be shrouded in destiny, and today was particularly extraordinary.

She secretly poked Lord Xia.

The ministers sighed helplessly. Coward.

Xia Daren was an invisible official who often walked on the edge of the court, and he still dared to ask the Emperor for money? He was tired of living.

Lord Xia saw his boss looking at him with a kind face, and then saw his boss pointing to the person above.

The officials sneered. Lord Xia was an idiot.

Just wait for your head to fall!

Chapter 734: The sleeping babies in the throne room (1)

The Ministry of revenue had no money, and anyone who asked the Emperor for money would be scolded and reprimanded. From time to time, old accounts would be dug up where the money had gone.

If he couldn't answer, he would lose his hat and even his head.

The Ministry of revenue was a lucrative job, but when it came to money, the Ministry of revenue had the most heads.

The crowd watched as he stepped forward.

Lord Xia was in danger.

It's over, he's dead for sure.

Even the Minister of revenue didn't dare to show his face, so if you did, wouldn't you be courting death?

Lord Xia stood in front of the hall, and the new emperor looked at him faintly, but his expression was strangely suppressing some anger. It even looked a little twisted and kind.

Your Majesty, the flood in Jiangnan has caused the people to lose their homes and live in poverty. I implore Your Majesty to start disaster relief measures to reduce the loss ... Lord Xia read it out slowly.

A few courtiers covered their faces with their hands when they heard this.

This was how the Minister of revenue had asked for money yesterday, and in the end, his head had been smashed by the inkstone.

Lu huaijiang looked at Lord Xia silently and clenched his fists. The Ministry of revenue, this old demon.

You only know how to take advantage of my Treasury.

Before I ascended the throne, the Treasury of the eastern Palace was not enough for Lulu to eat and play. Now, I have inherited a large Foundation. The Treasury was even poorer than his.

He cut a penny into two petals.

Those old fogeys from the Ministry of revenue, they're holding money and asking me for money.

Whoever opened their mouth would have their house confiscated and turned into the National Treasury. It would save these old farts from asking for money all day.

Lu huaijiang had already planned it out ...

Then, he saw his little ancestor's uncle step forward.

Lu huaijiang opened his eyes lazily. He muttered in his heart, " what's the possibility of Lulu crying to me after I ransack the Xia family? "

After some thought, he understood.

The water would probably flood the eastern Palace.

Your Majesty, please allocate 100 ... The new emperor's face darkened before he could even say "million." Lord Xia was a little apprehensive. He pondered over the silver in the lower household accounts. Your Majesty, please allocate 500000, the Ministry of revenue 200000, and the civil and military officials to donate. Together, we will make plans for the Jiangnan flood.

Lord Xia smiled again. the top ten donors can erect a monument for him. He will be praised and commended by the world.

"Your Majesty, you can also write horizontal plaques for them as a form of encouragement,"

Lu huaijiang waved his hand and agreed.

A million or 500000, even a fool would know which to choose.

The Minister of revenue's face was filled with joy. Although it was also 200000, compared to the gap of a million, even if he sold himself, it would not be enough. The Ministry of revenue could afford two hundred thousand.

But this time, Lord Xia wanted the officials to donate at least 300000 Yuan. The officials 'faces all turned black.

Why did he have to eat the melon?

Lord Xia calmly retreated. He did not care if the courtiers were happy with him or not. Both ways ...

His ability was only up to this point. Without his father's care, he had no chance of rising.

It was better to focus on hugging Lulu's thigh. If he did, there might be other opportunities.

The ministers looked at Lord Xia in shock.

This thing was definitely possessed by an evil spirit.

Very quickly, Grand tutor Xie came forward to report on the Imperial examination.

Lu huaijiang paused for a moment, remembering that Jiang Huaian was also in the exam. If the other party had passed the exam earlier, he would have been able to move out of the Xia family, Lu Huai, and Jiang Yun.

When the court was dismissed, the ministers secretly rolled their eyes and glanced at him.

A chubby little paw emerged from the furry ball that His Highness was holding. Its little paws looked small and soft, and there were even little bumps on the back of its hand.

He was actually quite cute.

However, it was only a glance before he was carried out by the new emperor.

Chapter 735: The world is big, she is the biggest (1)

The ministers stood rooted to the ground,"did you see anything?" His Majesty went to court and hugged someone? Sleeping on the Dragon throne?"

“Was that person sleeping just now a human?”

“I can see your hand.” The courtiers were all shocked and could see the shock in each other’s eyes.

This was no different from making the officials faint. Who could trouble the Emperor to carry them to the throne room to sleep?

They could actually sleep in a place where they discussed national affairs?

Everyone was in a state of confusion, feeling that this was too unrealistic.

It was like stepping on cotton.

Only a few old ministers who had watched Jiang huailu in the Imperial study last time suddenly looked at Lord Xia.

“Could it be that some Vixen has bewitched His Majesty? Is it also because of this that His Majesty is not even willing to establish a harem?” Old Zheng took a deep breath. He had bet on the wrong treasure. He had originally planned to help the wise King ascend the throne.

Now that the sage King had been defeated, the Zheng family was in danger, not to mention whether he would give up in the future.

After all, the Zheng family was one of the people who opposed the new emperor.

However, what if the Zheng family still had a daughter who could enter the palace?

First uncle Xia sneered, “which Vixen would be so short?” The new emperor observed filial piety for the late Emperor. This was a rule that had existed for generations. Besides, the late Emperor has only been gone for a few days, and his bones are still warm. The new emperor is not this kind of person!”

After that, he left without looking back.

Old master Zheng thought for a moment, and his face turned slightly red. That was true.

To be able to sleep on the Dragon chair, a child of at most a few years old, not even ten years old, what was he in a hurry for?

If he didn’t select a talent show, then no one would have a chance.

It wasn’t until everyone had left the court that Lord Xia returned to his residence leisurely.

She turned around and asked Madam Xia to send Lulu many of her favorite appetizers. The East Palace had everything, but not her mother’s cooking.

The appetizers were brought into the palace, and Lulu had just woken up from his sleep. He ate a bowl of porridge with the appetizers.

Lu huaijiang saw that she was getting better and invited the Imperial physician into the palace.

“Lady Jiang is fine now. You just need to be careful of your happiness and sadness in the future.” The old Imperial physician prescribed some medicine, and eunuch Lu personally sent the person out.

Lu Lu was sleeping on the Dragon bed, and Lu huaijiang had put a pillow around her waist.

“Where is this place?” The little girl’s chin became a little sharper.

Lu huaijiang’s heart ached when he saw this.

“This is Jiang Jiang’s new home. You’ll be living here from now on,” However, the little girl was already seven years old this year, and she would be fifteen next year. Lulu would have to move out then.

Lu huaijiang’s face darkened.

The palace servant wanted to dress Lulu, but the Emperor took it personally. The palace servant was shocked, but he didn’t dare to show it.

Lulu was already used to it. When she was three years old in huangdu, she often couldn’t even button her clothes properly, and it was always Jiang Jiang who wore them.

In the eyes of others, he was the Emperor, but in Lulu’s eyes, he was only Jiang Jiang.

“By the way, young master Zheng came to bid Lulu farewell the day before yesterday. He said that he was going to a faraway place and asked me to wait for him. Where was he going? What is he making me wait for? He also said he would write to me.” Lulu looked up at him, who was serving the food.

Lu huaijiang raised his eyebrows and said seriously, “Do you still remember what Jiang Jiang told you before? If a man asked a woman to wait for him, he must have a scheme. If I let you reply, I might be trying to imitate your handwriting and plot against you in the future. In the future, if he writes to you, don’t accept or read it in case he’s trying to deceive you. Just burn it.”

“Don’t you think so?” Lu huaijiang pointed at a Palace servant.

The palace servant replied, “her childhood sweetheart also said he was waiting for him.”

He clearly had someone in his heart.

At this moment, he replied with a trembling voice, “yes.” These people have evil intentions, they are definitely not good people.”

“Oh,” Lulu said, convinced.

Lu huaijiang thought, “it seems that Lord Zheng hasn’t been sent far enough!”

Chapter 736: Hold her hand and attend the Ascension ceremony together (1)

The new emperor ascended the throne, and everything was busy.

However, the Emperor would take some time to give Lulu lessons every day.

What was he talking about? he just said that there were many heartless people in the world.

For example, a wife from a poor family had to support the elderly and raise children. In the middle, she even supported her husband who was studying to take the Imperial examinations. After taking the examinations, he became famous all over the world.

As a result, the scholar divorced his wife and married a girl from an aristocratic family.

This showed that scholars had no hearts.

Take a general as an example, a certain general and his wife were of equal social status, and they sang together. But one day, the general saved a weak girl who sold herself to bury her father. Later, he despised his wife's jealousy.

He had divorced the wife he had supported for many years and married a little white flower.

This meant that the general had well-developed limbs but a simple mind.

Every day, he would tell her two bedtime stories, one about books, one about generals, or one that was trying to please her for no reason. None of them were good.

Lu huaijiang was taking preventive measures.

The surrounding Palace servants didn't dare to say it out loud, but their shoulders were twitching uncontrollably, afraid that they would lose their heads in front of the hall.

In the Imperial study.

Just as they were discussing, a servant of the earth Palace came in with red eyes.

All the officials were silent as they waited for the palace servants to report. Now that the late Emperor had passed away, the concubines were all enjoying their old age in the palace.

"Your Majesty, the kun Yi Palace just reported that the previous Emperor had passed away. The Empress Dowager's mind was heavily injured. She didn't look strange in the day, but at night, she would laugh in her sleep every day. But there's no problem at all during the day."

"Momo invited an Imperial physician to treat her. The Imperial physician said that niangniang and the late Emperor's love was as deep as the sea, and this is a psychological problem. If you stay in the palace for a long time and see things to think of people, I'm afraid it's not suitable for the Empress Dowager's body." A servant of the palace of earth and rites reported while crying.

How could he have known that the Empress was so deeply in love?

Even the courtiers couldn't help but wipe their tears.

He sighed at how deep the relationship between the Emperor and Empress was. In contrast, noble consort Lin, who cried out that she loved His Majesty every day, actually didn't move at all.

This was interesting.

Previously, when noble consort Lin entered the palace because of Ming su, she still looked like she was about to die. Now that the late Emperor had passed away, there was no movement at all.

In the end, the Empress Dowager was the main wife.

Everyone couldn't help but sigh.

Lu huaijiang's eyelids twitched, laughing after sleeping?

Are you sure it's not because she had a hard time holding it in during the day and couldn't hold it in in her sleep, so she woke up laughing?

But he also knew that this would strengthen his relationship with the officials.

"The Empress Dowager is not feeling well, so send mother to the country protecting temple for a few days. Didn't she like to listen to master yixu's preaching? He could go and relax. Zhen understands her thoughts as Imperial father." I understand that she can't hold it in anymore.

If he didn't send him off, he would probably laugh out loud during the day.

He thought about the rumors that the late Emperor had passed away and the Empress Dowager had been so agitated that she could laugh out loud even when she was sitting down ...

Lu huaijiang hurriedly issued a decree and sent the Empress Dowager to the National temple.

As for the Imperial concubines, the former Imperial consort Lin had been living in seclusion ever since her son failed to seize the throne and rarely left the palace. As for Ming su, her body had long been occupied by the evil, and she died a few days after entering the palace.

Of course, the Empress Dowager agreed to stay at the National Guard temple.

After waiting for a few days, he personally watched over the new emperor's Ascension. He then packed his things and moved into the National temple.

However, there was an interlude in the new emperor's Ascension.

The new emperor was holding the hand of a round, seven-year-old girl, who looked charmingly naïve, as they ascended the red carpet to the throne.

In the past, Lu huaijiang was only the Crown Prince and had to temporarily avoid the emperor's sharp edge.

Now that he was the Emperor, he no longer hid it.

The seven-year-old Savior had officially entered the public's view.

Chapter 737: Turning the tables against the wind (1)

Jiang huailu, only seven years old, was walking hand in hand with the new emperor on the red carpet.

The entire capital was in an uproar.

However, the new emperor had always had his own ideas and was a decisive and Swift master, so no one dared to stop him.

All the courtiers could only watch her helplessly. When the new emperor was being canonized, she would just stand by and watch.

All the glory would be enough to bring glory to their ancestors.

Even if she was the Empress, she did not deserve to have the same honor as the Emperor.

When the new emperor ascended the throne, if he already had a wife, she would also be half a step behind the new emperor and would not dare to travel together with him.

But now?

For the first time, all the officials looked at the child in the eye. Perhaps, this child was more important than they had imagined. Everyone had underestimated her importance in the new emperor's heart.

Suppress the soul. Perhaps it was not only suppressing the soul.

However, she was only seven years old, and master yixu had said it himself. She was responsible for the life of the new emperor. If she didn't enter the palace, what would happen to the Emperor?

"I have not reached the age of a crown yet and have no children. This Emperor, is it for you? Or make it for you?" The Emperor, who had just ascended the throne, raised his eyebrows and asked a few questions that made the courtiers not dare to say a word.

This was a matter of great importance, not to mention that the child was only seven years old. Even if he moved into the harem, it would not be out of line.

Jiang huailu then moved in openly.

Coincidentally, it was Jiang Huai 'an's Palace examination.

Lu huaijiang paid special attention to him.

Even without Lulu, he was still a dazzling and talented person.

What was even more commendable was that Jiang Huai 'an's gaze towards him was neither humble nor arrogant.

Of course, Lu huaijiang didn't notice that he was looking at his brother-in-law ...

Oh no, she looked at Lulu's brother, who always had a smile on his face.

It was reasonable to love the house and its Crow.

The paper was sealed.

Lu huaijiang didn't deliberately take sides, and Jiang Huaian's paper was chosen by Grand tutor Xie and the others in the first round. After marking each other, the paper that they had taken a good look at was sent to Lu huaijiang.

Without a doubt.

Jiang Huai 'an won three aeons in a row, and he reached the top of the three aeons, the top scholar.

The second place was the Xie family's descendant.

Tan Hua was Lord Zheng's favorite student, a man surnamed Xue.

Jiang Huaian was the only one who was exiled when he was thirteen. Just when everyone thought that the Jiang family's curtain would fall, the Jiang family actually encountered a general amnesty, and it just so happened to be one of them.

Luck did not always come. The Jiang family's only pillar of support must have passed away before they returned to the capital. The two brothers, Jiang yubai and Jiang Yuqing, had mediocre aptitudes. How could they support the Jiang family?

In just half a year, he had killed his own mother and caused his two brothers to be beheaded.

Everyone sighed. Now, the Xia family was left with a widow, with a son who had yet to reach the crown, and a young daughter.

Even though they had sought refuge with the Xia family, the Xia family, which had once been praised by everyone, was ultimately abandoned by the Imperial concubines in the capital.

Furthermore, Madam Xia also had her difficulties in the Xia family. She could only pretend that she didn't understand Madam Yu's dissatisfaction and try her best to be filial in front of old Madam and old master. Only then could she barely support her self-esteem.

But no one had expected that!

The Jiang family was such a mess.

The Xia family was an orphan and a widow.

He had actually relied on his son and daughter to turn the tables and bounce back! This flick was bizarrely high.

First of all, that thin and weak-looking young man of hers had actually won three Yuan in a row at the age of sixteen. He had been invincible all the way and won her the top scholar's place.

Her daughter, who was only a few years old, suddenly found out that the Crown Prince had suppressed her soul and entered the eastern Palace, becoming half the master of the eastern Palace.

Now that the new emperor had ascended the throne, he held her hand and ascended the throne, becoming the only little girl who had been doted on in history.

Even the princess of the royal family could not compare.

Chapter 738: Jiang Jiang's wife (1)

Jiang huailu was the first to know when Jiang Huaian became the top scorer.

After all, she was doing her homework on the table when Jiang Jiang selected the top scorer.

In the large Royal study, there was a large red sandalwood desk. It was filled with her homework, and the Emperor had been forced to a corner by her, so he could only sit on this stool in grievance.

Lulu was now seven years old, and Lu huaijiang did not dare to indulge her. At least he left her some homework for her to do.

Now that she knew that her brother had become the top scorer, Lulu jumped in joy.

“I’ll be the top scorer’s sister in the future? Then wouldn’t it be like what the storybook says, that the top scholar’s family has a girl that hundreds of families want?” Lulu stood on the Dragon throne and looked at him with excitement.

Some time ago, Jiang Jiang had told her a lot of stories, one of which was that the scholar’s family had a younger sister who was praised by the world.

The young Masters of the aristocratic families had broken through the threshold in order to marry. The smile on Lu huaijiang’s face slowly froze.

He turned around and looked at eunuch Lu with a serious expression. “Has the decree been issued? Is it too late for me to withdraw now?”

Eunuch Lu was shocked. it’s too late, Your Majesty. You can’t change your words.

Lu huaijiang’s face flashed with disappointment.

He could only pinch the small hair on her head. “That’s not the same. The top scorer is the top scorer, and you are you. The sister of the top scholar in the story was talented and could compose poems. First, you should learn yang pinfeng’s name.”

Lulu’s eyelids drooped and he snorted.

“Don’t pull me, I’m pulling, I’m going bald!” She hit his hand off.

Yang pinfeng had suffered so many beatings for that cowardly word. He fought until he was eight years old, and his hand was already broken.

After that, he had always dreamed of changing his name to yang yidian.

Lulu put his hands on his hips and stuck out his round belly. “I want the fatty.”

Eunuch Lu smiled. I’ve already prepared a sedan for you. The congratulatory gift has also been prepared.

Lulu shook his head. you used to be the Crown Prince. It was appropriate for you to give me a gift. But now, you’re the Emperor. If he sent any more gifts, it would probably cause the officials to overthink.

“Don’t worry, it’s a gift under your name.” Lu huaijiang tapped her forehead.

“What’s mine is yours.” Then, in front of eunuch Lu, he took out a small key and hung it around Lulu’s neck.

Eunuch Lu’s eyelids were trembling. The new emperor glanced at him, and he immediately lowered his head and shrank back, not daring to make a sound.

“What is this? Why did you change the key? I already have one.” Lulu took out a small key.

“This was originally from the eastern Palace Treasury, and this is from the National Treasury. This is all my wife’s money, and everyone in the court has their eyes on Jiang Jiang’s money. You keep watch.”

Lulu pouted, "of course I'll give my wife the book." Then, when you find a wife, you can come to me for it. Let your wife keep it. "

Lulu waved his chubby little hand and left the Imperial study.

Lu huaijiang laughed and sat down again.

Eunuch Lu wanted to say something, but he didn't. Lu huaijiang didn't even raise his head as he held the Imperial brush. "When you should be blind, you should be blind. When you should be deaf, you should be deaf."

Eunuch Lu did not dare to say anything more. He was the only eunuch favored by the Emperor.

He was the only one who understood the Emperor.

Lulu sat in the sedan and hurried back to the Xia Manor.

"I want to see the scene of brother getting the top scorer." Lulu was leaning against the window.

The old woman smiled with her eyes narrowed, "don't worry, His Majesty has already guessed it." They were waiting for you to come and announce the Imperial edict."

Lulu was delighted again.

Chapter 739: San Yuan and No. 1

There were many servants standing in front of the Xia family's door.

Last time, the gatekeeper reported that the young master had taken the Huiyuan examination and received a reward. Everyone was waiting for it.

This time, the entire Xia family was watching young master Jiang's court examinations.

The old Madam had already sent her maidservants to ask several times, but when they learned that the news had not come out yet, they all returned in disappointment.

Every family and Manor had sent people to guard the palace gates. It just so happened that the new emperor had ascended the throne, so the students who graduated this year would probably be put in an important position by the new emperor.

This was a huge stroke of luck.

"Are there any results? Any news?"

"Not yet. I've sent people to stand guard in front of the Imperial Palace. It was said that the eunuch from the palace had come out, but the top three had not been announced to the public." The gatekeeper waited anxiously until a low-key carriage arrived in front of the gate.

She stretched out a white arm and lifted the curtain.

A woman in a Palace dress gently got off the carriage. She turned around and bowed respectfully, helping a seven-year-old girl get off the carriage.

“Lady Jiang is back. Quickly report to the old Madam.”

The gatekeeper was overjoyed. The new emperor had ascended the throne, and this miss Jiang was the new emperor’s darling.

When the Jiang family returned to the mansion and came to the Xia family to seek refuge, who would have thought that this day would come?

Lulu followed the servant into the Xia family’s residence. Jiang Huai ‘an happened to be in the residence today.

“It’s good if brother Huai ‘an can get into the top three, he can finally bring honor to the family. It’ll be a good marriage.”

His second aunt sighed.

“The results are not out yet, second aunt.” Jiang Huaian said with a smile.

“With your talent, you’ll definitely be able to get into high school.” Second aunt was full of certainty. No matter if it could be successful or not, it was a happy thing to have a good ending.

Madam Xia’s heart relaxed slightly, and she looked in Huai ‘an’s direction with a little guilt.

Jiang Huaian was already sixteen.

Most of the sons of the noble families in the capital would be engaged at the age of fifteen.

In fact, she had visited them a few times last year, and she had befriended the Jiang family and the ladies with her handkerchief. Now, they were all smiling and not saying anything.

Even so, she didn’t dare to ask for a legitimate daughter, and only wanted to ask for a concubine’s daughter who knew her background.

It would be a lie if the Xia Corporation said they weren’t disappointed.

Many madams and families had their own problems, and she had helped the Jiang family a lot back then.

Now that the Jiang family had collapsed, the only child left seemed to have lost all of their past sentiments with time.

The Xia family didn’t say these words to the two children, for fear of hurting their self-esteem.

“Why is the result not out yet? I heard that the sky has not brightened yet, so the various manors have sent people to guard the palace gates.” The old lady held the Buddha beads in her hand and kept saying ‘Amitabha’.

As Lulu entered the house, the carriages of gifts he was pulling also arrived.

“Big brother, Lulu is here to give you a gift.” The little girl smiled as soon as she entered the door.

Today, she was wearing a peach-red dress, and the corners of her dress fluttered as she walked. She didn't know if it was because she was spasming, but her body actually seemed to have grown a little.

"You're too early to bow. The results haven't even come out yet." Jiang Huai 'an couldn't help but laugh. He couldn't help but feel emotional when he saw his sister's expression.

This girl was really made of gold, silver, and precious stones.

"They left earlier because they didn't dare to announce the decree before Lulu," Lulu grinned.

"It was Lulu who held the Jade archive and stamped it." Lulu's words silenced the room.

"You said ... What?" The old lady did not hear it clearly and was shocked.

"Lulu's home, so the one announcing the Imperial decree must be here soon. Big brother, hurry up and go to the front yard." Lulu waved her hand nonchalantly and climbed onto a chair. The palace maid then poured her some tea.

As soon as he finished speaking.

Clang.

The gatekeeper rushed in.

"Old Madam, first Madam, young master Jiang, the person to announce the Imperial decree is here. Quickly go to the front yard to receive the decree."

Everyone looked at Jiang huailu.

She, stamped it?

Chapter 740: The new top scorer (1)

The group of people hurried to the front yard.

Lord Xia happened to be resting today, and it was already extremely well-behaved for him to kneel in front of her.

Old Lord Xia was too embarrassed to face anyone. you're too arrogant. You better restrain yourself.

After being chided by his father, Lord Xia immediately let out an aggrieved "Oh."

These days, old Lord Xia had been fishing with his colleagues and had heard about his silly son several times.

He was already so old, and he was already a grandfather.

After looking at it for decades, why did it suddenly become crooked?

Old Lord Xia sighed with emotion. He had just retired and returned to his hometown, and his eldest son was already crooked.

“Old Sir, there’s no need to be so polite. Before leaving the palace, His Majesty even asked eunuch Gong to comfort you.” The eunuch was very polite to the Xia family. Everyone in the palace knew the name of Jiang huailu.

Angering His Majesty meant certain death.

If they angered lady Jiang, it would be good enough if they could protect the third generation.

It was a good thing that lady Jiang was naïve by nature and did not act spoiled, so everyone was extremely grateful to her.

When everyone had arrived, Jiang Huai ‘an was pushed to the front.

“Today is supposed to be the day the bailiffs come to deliver the good news, but this is the first year of the new emperor’s Ascension, and his Majesty places great importance on it. He had specially announced a decree to encourage the top three. I hope that young master Jiang can serve the Imperial court and bring glory to our country.” The eunuch said to Jiang Huai ‘an with a smile.

After he finished speaking, he took out the Imperial edict and said loudly, “By the will of the heavens, the Emperor decrees ...” President Yunyun recited it for a while before the eunuch said, “the eldest son of the Jiang family, Jiang Huai ‘an, has been appointed as the new top scorer ... Accept the decree. Young master Jiang.”

The eunuch’s expression was very good. He couldn’t help it when he saw Jiang huailu standing in the corner behind him.

Lord Xia was so happy that his hands were trembling, and he hurriedly got someone to give him the wedding money.

“No need, no need. You’re too polite. We still have to go to other houses to announce the Imperial edict. Lord Xia is too polite. Young master Jiang is a man of outstanding talent and knowledge, and he truly deserves his reputation.” The eunuch saw the red packet and waved his hand. His face was pale with fear, and he didn’t dare to accept it.

In the palace, the little ancestor did not eat, so His Majesty had to coax her after the court session. He fed her mouth by mouth.

How could they dare to provoke such a little ancestor?

She was hiding in a corner and looking at him.

“Alright, just keep it,” Lulu popped his head out. After saying that, he turned around and left.

Without another word, her father-in-law received it with both hands and bowed humbly. He did not care whether Lulu could see it or not.

After the eunuch had left, Jiang Huai 'an held the Imperial edict in his hands and muttered.

The Jade cover of the Imperial edict was crooked, and there were only a few words written by the new emperor.

The surroundings were filled with childish paintings.

Jiang Huaian kept the Imperial edict in silence and didn't show it to anyone.

well done, well done. Huai 'an, you've done well for the Jiang family and your mother.

"Outsiders all say that the Jiang family is in dire straits, that the Jiang family has withdrawn from the Imperial court. Today, you've earned back all your face."

"Tomorrow, I'll send you back to the Jiang family to pay your respects to your ancestors. Although you ... He's not a good person, but your grandfather was a scholar. His son was unfilial, but your grandson can finally inherit his mantle and have a future." Old Lord Xia was a little emotional.

Yurong had been wronged by the Jiang family, and he had done it to let outsiders see that the daughter of the Xia family was not a disgrace to her maternal family.

Her son and daughter were extremely outstanding.

The lion dance team, which was beating gongs and drums, arrived in front of the Xia family's house. Old Madam Xia was so happy that she had people scatter a few handfuls of money.

The moment the Imperial edict was sent out, the Xia family's Gate became lively again.

Immediately, a familiar Madam asked the Xia family out for a walk.

With one move, he had seen everyone clearly.
