

The Savior 761

Chapter 761: Mutually restraining destiny_1

Lu huaijiang turned his head and looked at him.

“I’m sure you can sense her identity. She’s the one chosen by the heavens, how could she be in trouble?” Lulu was the Savior of the world, and since she had come to save the world, the heavenly Dao would definitely protect her.

Master yixu chanted the name of Buddha.

“What if she loses her original heart?” Master yixu said softly.

“The mark on her forehead is a warning from the heavens. As long as she doesn’t lose her heart, everything will pass smoothly.”

Yi Xu suddenly looked at Lu huaijiang, his expression changing slightly.

Suddenly, he knelt down in front of Lu huaijiang.

He was a master, so he was not supposed to kneel.

“I have never asked for anything in my life, but I would like to ask Your Majesty for her once.”

“Your Majesty, if you’ve promised her something, you must keep your promise. If you go back on your word, everything will backfire on her. Although I don’t know what she did, I can sense her aura on Your Majesty. She must have done something.”

“Your Majesty, please think twice before you act.”

“You’re saying that when I do things, I will bite back at her? What’s the meaning of this? What kind of backlash?” Lu huaijiang’s mind went blank for a moment. Lulu had a fever twice in a row, and both times were when he had killed someone.

“I’ve killed many people in the past, but Lulu was unable to recover from the high fever several times. The Imperial physician couldn’t find the cause no matter how hard he tried. In the end, her fever subsided by herself. Is it really because of me?” Lu huaijiang’s heart ached, and the uneasiness in his heart grew stronger.

“Are those people innocent or people who should be killed?” Yi Xu asked.

Lu huaijiang thought for a moment, and his eyes darkened.

That day, he had fused more than half of his body with the evil. It was also that day that the late Emperor died.

The late Emperor had died at his hands.

He had killed the Emperor for Lulu.

It was only later that he found out that Lulu had a high fever and it did not go down. Lu huaijiang was even more certain that Lulu had really done something.

“Not innocent, but I really shouldn’t.” Killing the Emperor. The Emperor was the Emperor, but the Emperor was also the father.

“That’s it. She must have done something. However, this penniless monk still needs to investigate the details. I hope that Your Majesty will think twice before doing anything. If not for himself, then for her. ”

Master yixu’s gaze made him a little unhappy. He felt that there was something hidden behind those eyes.

“If I really do something big, will Lulu be implicated as well?” Lu huaijiang pinched the corner of his shirt and took a deep breath.

“You will be implicated. However, he did not know how much he would have to endure. It also depends on how serious the crime Your Majesty has committed.”

No matter what, it would at least restrict some of Lu huaijiang.

Master yixu left, while Lu huaijiang stood quietly in the temple.

The evil god in his mind seemed to dislike the National temple.”I smelled that old monk’s scent again. I hate monks to death. He claimed to be on the righteous path and killed evil spirits everywhere. Who the hell is he?”

“Kill them all. Just kill them!”

“Kill that little girl who schemed against you as well!”

“Who are you? you’re the incarnation of an evil god, the Emperor of the human world. Yet, you were restricted by a seven-year-old girl. She told you not to kill, and you stopped? Who was she to actually dare to be so audacious! Just kill her!”

“If you don’t kill her, you’ll definitely leave behind future trouble!” The voice became more and more bewitching. Lu huaijiang had merged with most of his memory and strength. At this moment, his eyes were dazed as he touched the space between his eyebrows.

His eyes were bloodshot.

Chapter 762: Yixu is about to cry from anger (1)

she’s always doing whatever she wants by your side. Can you tolerate her? ”

“She schemed against you all day long, even taking advantage of your pampering when you weren’t paying attention. I even placed a restriction on you, are you willing to do so?”

“That woman, the God of creation, has the incense of heaven and earth, and is worshipped by the gods, humans, and Devils. And you, you were born for destruction. You and the God of creation are of the same origin, why are you so different?”

“You don’t hate, you don’t blame?”

“She’s even trying to control you and destroy you. You are an evil god, an evil god, how can you be controlled by a child!” His voice had already collapsed, and there was even a hint of urgency.

“You’re too noisy!”

The veins on Lu huaijiang’s forehead bulged.

“Why must your vision be trapped by her? you are the king of the nine Heavens, you should not fall into the abyss. Kill her, only by killing her can you return to your original position and leave this damned place!”

Lu huaijiang bit the tip of his tongue.

In his description, he saw the nine Heavens above, the world, and the worship and fear of the people toward him.

He also saw everything in the tens of thousands of dark places and respected him as the king.

He also saw the woman in the sky.

Lu huaijiang was vaguely familiar with that face.

Yes, he had seen it in Lulu’s notebook. It was exactly the same as this face.

However, when he searched through his memories, she looked like a high and mighty goddess with an ice-cold expression. He was also looking at her with an indifferent expression.

However, Lulu’s drawing was gentle and kind, with a faint smile in his eyes.

“Did you see that? We were supposed to be on the same level as the God of creation, but what about you now? You’re still suffering in the mortal world, what are you doing? She has a deep connection with that evil woman, the divine Lord. She must have come to kill you!”

“She’s in charge of the hall of salvation, and that explains everything.”

“All you need to do is wave your arm and all the evil in the world will rise for you. They’re only loyal to you, and they can’t be accepted by the world. You’re their King!”

“You two are not from the same world. You are an evil god. If you die in her hands, it will be a great merit. The heavenly Dao will allow her to do anything!”

Lu huaijiang sealed off his consciousness and closed his eyes.

“I promised her that I would believe her this once. She won’t plot against me, she won’t kill me.” Lu huaijiang murmured in a low voice. When he opened his eyes again, he had already regained his clarity.

However, his forehead and sideburns were covered in sweat.

Lu huaijiang’s body was drenched. Eunuch Lu stood outside the door and was shocked to see the Emperor coming out.

“Hot water has already been prepared in the temple, and miss Lulu is having a vegetarian meal. Your Majesty, please change your clothes before you go.”

Lu huaijiang made a sound of agreement. Eunuch Lu was thorough in his work and had already taken care of everything.

After Lu huaijiang finished washing up, he went to look for Lulu.

Sure enough, the little girl was eating vegetarian food, and ...

He was surrounded by several young Masters.

“You’re serious? The treatment and welfare of the Savior Hall next door are so good?”

“You have four days of leave every month to visit your family, and you get three taels of silver every month. We don’t have any silver here, only food and shelter. If you become a master’s father in the future, you will have incense money from the visitors.” Now, they would occasionally answer questions for people at the guoguo temple, but it was also very little money.

After all, most people would pick the famous Masters.

“Then you guys are having a hard time. The hall of salvation pays three taels of silver every month. If it was to solve someone’s doubts, those would be charged separately. It’s not a problem to get five taels and above a month. Even if it’s the gatekeeper of the hall of salvation, it’s still seven or eight taels a month.”

Chapter 763: Coaxing the Masters to jump ship (1) and they don’t even want to leave. They’re preparing to pass it on to their son to guard the door when they’re old.

“The requirements for the hall of salvation are high, and ordinary people can’t enter. You’re all monks of the National temple and have been influenced by Buddhism. You guys will definitely take it.”

“Don’t just think that they patrol outside every day. It’s too dangerous to kill Yin souls everywhere. You’re all monks, and you can drive away evil ghosts by chanting Scriptures. The more you banish, the more you ferry, and the more you earn.”

“Last time, I heard that if you introduce a monk from the National temple, you will be rewarded with three taels of silver.”

“If you want to go, why don’t you find someone from the hall of salvation to introduce you to him? we’ll split the money equally.”

“You’re definitely worth five taels.”

“You’re definitely worth three taels.”

you, you’re still a young monk. You’re worth at least one tael. Lulu pointed at a young monk.

“It’s too vulgar to talk about money.” One of the Masters put his hands together and said, “Amitabha.”

“Of course it’s cliché, but you’re not doing this for the money. You’re doing this to save the world!” How many mortals can you save by ferrying the souls? how many souls can you let reincarnate? That’s all proper merit!”

There were at least five or six monks around him. Among them were two masters who had just been hired by the National temple to cook delicious vegetarian dishes.

“Miss Lulu’s visit must have made master yixu cry again, right?” eunuch Lu stood behind the Emperor.

It was like a robbery.

There would always be fewer monks in the temple.

This time, there would probably be seven or eight less.

Lu huaijiang chuckled, and the monks put their hands together and retreated. Each and every one of them seemed to be tempted.

“No wonder yixu always says you’re ruining their Dao hearts.”

Who could withstand this Cannonball?

He became a monk and was indifferent to fame and fortune.

However, he could get both fame and fortune by subduing demons and also get money to help his family. No one was born from a rock. No wonder this little girl would cry every time.

“When did I break their Dao hearts? when did I not save the world? Am I right? In the scope of saving the world, giving them better treatment is only an additional benefit.”

“You’re so sharp-tongued, yixu won’t let you come next time.” Lu huaijiang could not help but laugh, and Yi Xu would probably cry.

If she came and went twice, there would be a gap in the National temple.

Lulu shook his little head and jumped up and down. She picked up some vegetarian food with her chopsticks and brought it to his mouth. “Quickly try it. This dish is delicious.”

“It’s master’s signature dish, but it’s very cumbersome to make. The grandmasters of the National temple have never eaten it before, not even master yixu.”

Eunuch Lu chuckled. is this the special treatment that the great master has given you? ”

“That’s true. We’re so close.” Actually, Lulu wasn’t trying to make his Masters happy.

She didn’t know why, but she actually felt a sense of familiarity when she saw the monk.

Her Masters also said that they could not help but treat her better and pay more attention to her.

The little shamis were afraid that she would spoil their Dao hearts, but they couldn’t help but get close to her.

She thought that it was probably because of the Buddha’s father.

“Lulu saved this for you. Eat more.” Lulu gave him quite a bit, and Lu huaijiang ate it all.

Lu huaijiang studied Lulu’s face. Her little face gradually lost its round and chubby look, leaving only a little baby fat.

The exquisiteness that had once been covered up was gradually revealed.

That face was really good.

Lu huaijiang was a little dazed. He had always treated Lulu as his younger sister. But yixu said she ...

Hitting a wall for Lulu Qianqian?

It was, it was very bizarre.

But in his heart, he didn’t resist.

Chapter 764: Snatching the hall of salvation (1)

Lu huaijiang stayed at the guguo temple for a day.

When she left, the Empress Dowager actually became more mellow.

That’s right, she had maintained her figure for the past few years. Although she did not fight for favor, not many people in the palace had a big appetite.

However, after the late Emperor passed away, the Empress Dowager actually ate so much that she became fat.

“Niangniang is overly worried and her body is swollen. It’ll be fine when we return to the palace.” The nanny in front of her wiped the tears from the corner of her eyes and helped the Empress Dowager into the carriage.

Summer had arrived and the Empress Dowager would lose a bit of weight at that time every year.

Lu huaijiang held his forehead slightly. Mother, you’re too inattentive.

Harm.

Lulu sat in the carriage and looked around.

There were believers going to the hall of salvation everywhere, and there were even people who bowed every three steps.

He did not know when the hall of salvation had developed so rapidly.

“Did you hear the crying? I heard many people crying just now. It’s getting higher and higher.” Lulu covered her ears from time to time, and the noise hurt her ears.

“Where did the crying come from? I didn’t hear it, but did you hear it, eunuch Lu?” Lu huaijiang put down the book in his hand. There was clearly only the sound of the carriage creaking around them.

“Your Majesty, I didn’t hear you,” eunuch Lu replied after a moment of hesitation.

After that, he asked a few attendants, but they all said they didn’t hear him.

“Then where did the crying come from?” Lulu paused. Perhaps it wasn’t a mortal’s voice?

maybe I heard it wrong. The cicadas outside are chirping very loudly. I think I heard the chirping of cicadas. Eunuch Lu explained with a smile.

Although it was almost the seventh month, the hall of salvation had made great contributions in killing the evil.

There were almost no evil spirits that dared to set foot within a few hundred miles of the capital.

There were even commoners who came for a pilgrimage every day.

“Oh,” Lulu replied, but there was no crying at the moment. It really did seem like an illusion.

After returning to the palace, the Empress Dowager went to recuperate.

Lu huaijiang met with many ministers.

What surprised him was that the courtiers had come to the hall of salvation today.

“The hall of salvation now protects nearly half of the great Zhou Dynasty’s territory, right?” Lu huaijiang looked at the book in his hand.

“Yes, sir.” More than half of them.”

“More than half of it is involved, but it’s actually more than that. They can intimidate the evil spirits around them. I heard that many of them have already escaped from great Zhou and are hiding in the surrounding countries.”

The Imperial court had always been wary of the hall of salvation, but they were also dependent on it and had some doubts about it.

But sometimes, he also felt fortunate for the existence of the hall of salvation in the great Zhou Dynasty.

The group of Lords who had returned from the barren capital were extremely grateful to the hall of salvation.

However, for the people of the Imperial court, even though the hall of salvation had brought peace, they had also touched the Imperial court's cake. Now, he was very defensive.

this time, fusang and Dongli have formed an alliance. I'm afraid it's for the evil and for the great Zhou.

Fusang, Dongli, and great Zhou were evenly matched.

"Originally, all the countries in the world were suffering from the chaos of the evil spirits. Now, the great Zhou is gradually regaining its peace. The other countries will definitely be wary of him."

"I'm afraid that they've come with ill intentions." Lord Yang's tone was somewhat worried.

"If they come, then so be it. Our great Zhou will not be afraid of them. The evil ran over on its own, we didn't release it." Lord Xia rolled his eyes.

Grand tutor Xie and old Lord Zheng did not speak.

"Your Majesty, it's said that the world salvation Hall has an owner. Your Majesty, have you ever thought of making use of the hall of salvation?"

"The hall of salvation's power is greater than the heavens, and it's truly too terrifying. Who can guarantee that they will be loyal to the great Zhou forever if such a force takes root in the great Zhou? Why don't we let the Imperial court take over?"

"The Alliance must be up to no good by coming to the great Zhou. What if the hall of salvation changed sides? The hall of salvation belongs to the great Zhou!" Old Lord Zheng's eyes shone with a bright light, and his words received the response of many officials.

Chapter 765: The identity of the Savior (1)

"Your Majesty, Sir Zheng is right."

"In just four years, the hall of salvation has grown from a small, barren land in the barren capital to a place that has blossomed all over the country. They have walked through the great Zhou Dynasty and occupied nearly half of the places."

"And wherever they go, there are many people and believers. It has even surpassed the status of the nation protecting temple in the hearts of the people."

"The National temple is still the imperial family's ancestral temple. Even if it is the will of the people, it still belongs to the Imperial court. However, the Imperial court was unable to control the massive power of the hall of salvation. It's not a good thing for the great Zhou."

"And those people are so mysterious. That Chu Liang is actually a self-proclaimed sun wandering God. Who was he to travel the world in the day? He actually dared to call himself a God. Was it just because his title of God was in the hall of salvation? Who knows if it's a human seal or a God seal." Lord Zheng's face was full of ridicule.

Lord Yang's face was red with anger.

"How could you do this? you're plotting against the hall of salvation."

"It's been four years, and the hall of salvation has only given you a few days of peace, and you're already plotting against them? When the entire great Zhou was harmed by evil spirits, they had to guard against them even during the day, let alone going out at night. Now, you don't even dare to come here at night without closing your doors. Has your conscience been eaten by dogs?" Lord Yang's eyes were red with anger. The barren capital was like this now, just like how it was in the past.

It was the hall of salvation that had revived the barren capital.

To be Frank, the hall of salvation was much more useful than the Imperial court.

However, he was loyal to the king, so it wasn't his place to say that. He could only keep his mouth shut.

"Lord yang, what's the rush? Could it be that you're related to the hall of salvation?" Lord Zheng chuckled.

"Haven't you heard of the great reputation of the hall of salvation? There were even rumors among outsiders that the Savior Hall was the one who saved the world and had great merit. It was more useful than the Imperial court. If the hall of salvation continued to lose control, the great Zhou Dynasty would be in danger. The Imperial court is in danger."

"The past was the past, and the present is the present."

"It should now submit to the Imperial court."

the hall of salvation is a foreign land. We never intended to compete with the Imperial court. If we really had selfish motives, why would we only have a reputation for four years while we have to drive out evil spirits day and night in secret? " Lord yang was very dissatisfied.

These people had no conscience.

"Your Majesty, the Imperial court is the most important."

All the officials spoke in unison, clearly afraid of the hall of salvation.

Lu huaijiang sat in the Royal study in silence. Where was Lulu?

She dug out a pile of mud from somewhere and placed it on the table where she was reviewing the memorials, smashing it loudly. Her little face was frighteningly dark.

The little girl had already made a pile of puppets with yellow mud, among which was the God of creation that Lu huaijiang had seen in his memory.

Lu huaijiang's head was in a mess. His own subject had tried to bring down his little ancestor, what should he do?

"Your Majesty, I still have something to report." Seeing that His Majesty was unmoved, Sir Zheng suddenly reported in a loud voice.

Old man Zheng took a deep breath and knelt on the ground.

"Your Majesty, I'm afraid that the hall of salvation is plotting a rebellion, so I've often sent people to gather information as pilgrims."

Lulu raised his head.

"This lowly subject has found something. This is also the reason why we can't let the hall of salvation continue to expand as it pleases."

"If the hall of world salvation's master was a spirit or a God, it would be fine. However, I've found out that the Savior is still in the human world."

"I don't know where he's hiding in the human world to secretly spy on the people. Your Majesty, the person in charge of the hall of salvation is most likely a mortal!" Everyone in the Imperial study was in an uproar.

He didn't even have the last bit of worry.

Chapter 766: Lu huaijiang feels wronged (1)

The officials were shocked.

If the hall of salvation was controlled by a mortal, and the Savior was a mortal!

If such a huge power was obtained by a mortal, what would the great Zhou Dynasty do?

Wouldn't he be able to overthrow a country with a lift of his hand?

"Your Majesty, if this is true, the most important thing now is to find the Savior. Make him ..." Old Sir Zheng did not finish his sentence, but everyone understood the meaning behind it.

Previously, they only needed to rope him in, but if he was really controlled by a mortal, he definitely couldn't be kept alive.

As courtiers, they would definitely not have a good time if the dynasty was overturned.

“You want to harm him? You want to harm the hall of salvation? No matter if he’s a human, a ghost, or a God, he’s never harmed anyone in the world.” Lord yang was so shocked that he almost couldn’t stand.

“Lord Zheng, how can you do this? We came from the barren capital together, but the Savior Palace has never gained anything. They are only trying to save the world.”

you’re afraid of him and want to win him over. I have nothing to say, but as you speak, you actually want to ... Sir yang looked at his father-in-law and felt as if he was in a trance.

He had married the daughter of the Zheng family, and the Zheng family had sought refuge with the first Prince.

In name, they had broken off all ties, but the Zheng family was still his wife’s family. Sir yang still respected him.

They had different standpoints and different political views, but they were still his father-in-law.

But at this moment, Sir Yang’s faith crumbled.

“My Lords, do you think so too? Even if the hall of salvation is controlled by someone, he has never shown any dissatisfaction with the Imperial court.” Lord yang looked at the other Lords in panic.

All the Lords looked at each other. Not to mention them, even the world had received the grace of the hall of salvation.

“However, if the person in power is really a human, then the great Zhou will be in danger.”

“In the past, the hall of salvation has never shown any interest in the world, but what if the people know that the person in power is a human?”

“What if the world reveres it?”

“No matter what, the fact that the world has been indebted to the hall of world salvation is an irrefutable fact. But it’s also true that he can bring hidden danger to the Imperial court!” The courtiers were all tempted.

Everyone had witnessed the ability of the hall of salvation, and it would be a lie if they were not envious.

The power of the hall of salvation was in the hands of an unknown person, so of course, it was safer to have it in one’s own hands.

“How can I allow others to sleep beside my bed? Your Majesty, you are the new emperor, so you must not let anyone pose a threat to you. We can’t let anyone harm the Imperial court.”

“Your Majesty, that person has been planning for four years. He must be plotting something big.” The few adults, led by Lord Zheng, tried to persuade him.

Lulu grabbed a handful of mud and suddenly said, “What’s the point? I’m just thinking that the Imperial food in your Palace is delicious.” Lulu’s face was tense. I saved the world, so why would I scheme against your dynasty?

He had only eaten a few Imperial meals and had not obtained anything!

Old Lord Zheng was stunned for a moment, but he knew that this was the little ancestor of the new emperor.

“Eunuch Lu, miss Lulu is hungry,” he said to eunuch Lu. Go and prepare some Imperial food.”

Lu huaijiang held his forehead and sighed.

He held Lulu’s little hand and comforted her.

Enraged, Lulu turned to him and slapped his hand away.

“If you do this, the hall of salvation will be enraged even if they don’t have such intentions.” Sir yang looked at the Emperor with eager eyes.

Grand tutor Xie sighed softly. How could he not see through the thoughts of these courtiers?

When the hall of salvation appeared in the martial world from the barren capital, the courtiers already had such thoughts. But at that time, he didn’t seem to put it in his eyes and put it aside.

In just four short years, the hall of salvation had already reached a level that could not be ignored.

Everyone couldn’t help but have some thoughts.

They just wanted to seize that great opportunity and use it for the Imperial court.

Chapter 767: The wrong person _1

Your Majesty, you are the ruler of the people. If the hall of salvation was sensible, they would have handed everything over.

that’s right. All the lands under the heavens belong to the king. The hall of salvation can not be an exception.

Your Majesty, why don’t you summon the Savior in the name of the royal family? if he doesn’t see you, he’ll be disrespecting the Royal grace.

“If he sees it, then you can be on guard. As long as the person enters the palace and appears, it would be much easier to control.”

Lu huaijiang,”hiss ...” Lu huaijiang suddenly gasped.

The ministers all looked over.

Lulu silently retracted her hand from his waist, and Lu huaijiang’s face paled in pain.

“I’m fine. It’s just a sudden toothache.” He raised his hand and gently touched his waist. It was probably swollen from pinching.

However, he did not dare to say that his back hurt, for fear that the people would spread rumors that he could not make it.

“Your Majesty, you have to take care of your Dragon body.” The ministers all spoke up.

Lu huaijiang nodded, indicating that he understood.

As long as you old farts say less, I’ll be fine.

I’m innocent, I’m so innocent.

Lu huaijiang’s expression was getting worse.

The courtiers thought that the Emperor was afraid of the Savior Palace and had designs on it.

The discussion immediately became more and more heated. Lu huaijiang’s face was almost like a color palette.

“Water can carry a boat, but it can also capsize a boat. The hall of salvation has not done anything yet, at least for now. He couldn’t lose the hearts of the people. We don’t need to be worthy of our conscience, but we must be worthy of our official robes and the People’s noble titles.” Grand tutor Xie’s eyes drooped slightly. He was the Grand tutor, and also a high official of the court.

But most of the time, he also had a righteous and kind heart.

This was the only thing he could do as the Grand tutor.

The Royal study fell silent.

Lu huaijiang sat on top and thought about the way back from the National temple. Along the way, he saw many commoners kowtowing three times and nine times. They were all going to the hall of salvation for a pilgrimage.

It was probably because of this that the officials were tempted.

If they really had the hall of salvation, it would be a powerful weapon for the country.

Lu huaijiang chuckled, but he was a little surprised.

When he first met Lulu, he also had the same thoughts.

“Don’t mention this matter again.” Lu huaijiang stood up and held the awkward Lulu’s hand.

“The Saviors of the world have always been devoted to the country and its people, and have never done anything out of line. I’ll bring it up again if there’s a day.” Lu huaijiang knew that they were ready to make a move, so he couldn’t help but warn them.

Lulu wasn’t a Saint-like Savior. She was protective and had her own temper.

If he fell into her hands, he wouldn’t even have a chance to live in the next life.

The courtiers felt suffocated. Old Sir Zheng shook his head lightly, and the few of them stopped talking.

However, in his heart, he still remembered the hall of salvation.

As long as he could find the Savior, everything would be clear.

The courtier left and Lulu angrily shook off Lu huaijiang's hand and walked in front.

"Yeah, yeah, what am I after? Do you think I'm after your damn Empire to live a life where I get up earlier than chickens and sleep later than dogs?"

Lulu cursed as he walked.

She was so angry that her face turned red.

How dare she plot against her Savior's Hall?

"I've made a mistake ..." Lu huaijiang followed behind her with his head lowered.

what mistake are you making? the whole world belongs to the king. Who would dare to make you admit your mistake? "

Lulu snorted as she walked. Lu huaijiang wanted to pull her back, but she dodged again.

"Their fault is also this one's fault, this one will admit their mistake. It's their wild ambitions, they don't know what's good for them ..." Lu huaijiang's face was full of flattery. The little girl heard that the group of old officials were plotting against her. If he had not held her back, she probably ...

The group of old officials had already fallen to the ground.

Chapter 768: Disguise (1)

"With me here, they won't dare to do anything."

"Besides, if Lulu really wants the throne, I'll give it to you." However, there was a condition, and that was to make him stay.

A gentle breeze blew across the lake.

The Willow leaf drooped in the water.

Under the willow tree, Lu huaijiang pulled her back, seeing that she was angry and not looking at him. He reached out and turned her head so that it was facing him.

He reached out and took out a small red string from her neck.

"Look, this is the key to the Crown Prince's Treasury."

"This is the key to the Treasury."

"This is the key to the private vault."

“All my belongings are hanging on you. Even if you really want to be the Emperor, Jiang Jiang can carry you up.”

and the heirloom seal. You used to smash walnuts with it when you were young. Jiang Jiang will give it to you if you want it.

“The world is foolish, but Jiang Jiang is not stupid.” The corners of Jiang Jiang’s mouth curled up into a faint smile. She found her child’s heart a little funny.

He reached out to hug her and pinched the soft flesh on both sides of her cheeks. The little girl then became happy again.

“They’re too greedy.” Lulu lay on the young Emperor’s shoulder.

“In the past, when there was no Hall of salvation, they would close their doors at night and would not dare to go out in the day. I often hear their prayers, hoping that one day, they won’t have to close their doors at night and can walk freely on the streets.”

“I’m coming. But they didn’t keep their promise and suspected that I had ill intentions. He even tried to take over my Hall of salvation.”

“They’re burning the bridge after crossing it.”

Lulu felt wronged. Godmother had told her this a long time ago.

People were greedy, suspicious, and fickle, but Lulu was still a little sad when he actually met them. She had clearly saved them, but they actually tried to take her power.

“Yes, yes, yes, they’re not good, they’re wrong. Jiang Jiang won’t let them have their way.” Lu huaijiang saw that her anger had subsided, so he held her hand and walked towards the Imperial Garden.

tomorrow, fusang and Dongli’s envoys will enter the palace. Lu Jinghong will also be returning. You have to be careful. Lu huaijiang actually couldn’t see through Lu Jinghong.

She was clearly just an orphan, even if she was only his little aunt in name.

But Lu huaijiang had hated her since young.

He felt that her eyes were very strange.

Lulu nodded in agreement. Then, in front of Lu huaijiang, he fished up many of his favorite koi fish from the pond.

Lu huaijiang only dared to rush back to the Imperial study to discuss matters after she was happy.

On the second day.

Before Lulu even got up, he heard that the Allied country had entered the capital.

She was once Princess Jing Hong, and now, she was the fusang Crown Princess.

Just now, news came from outside the palace that the restoration of the zhunyuan Manor had been completed and everything was in place. The scholar's Lord looked at the date and said that it would be a good day in three days. He invited miss Lulu back home for a meal." The little Palace maid said as she combed her hair.

"We can move? On the day you move, remember to bring back some congratulatory gifts."

Lulu's eyes curved into crescents as he smiled. He finally had a home.

His Majesty is also meeting the Ambassador of the Allied country today. He will only be able to see you after he is done with his work. His Majesty had ordered him to report his whereabouts to miss Lulu every day.

The palace servant in front of Lulu sighed with emotion.

His Majesty treated Lulu so well. If he married a wife in the future, he would probably be a domineering and meticulous man who loved women very much.

It had to be said that because of this, many people were less afraid of the Emperor.

Everyone had forgotten the ruthlessness he had displayed before he had ascended the throne and met Lulu.

He had even forgotten how elder Jiang had chided him for being a tyrant.

He had never changed.

However, in front of Lulu, he had learned to disguise himself.

Chapter 769: The Empress Dowager is a disgruntled person (1)

After Lulu finished her breakfast, the Empress Dowager invited her to kun ning Palace.

Yes, the Empress Dowager had moved from the palace of kun Yi to the palace of kun ning.

As for the Imperial concubines who had once competed with her for favor, they were all hiding in the palace and refused to come out.

She didn't know how to fight for love, but her son was born well and had a good life.

Since the sage King's failure to seize the throne, noble consort Lin had been living in seclusion, only caring about the little princess who was only a few years old.

When Lulu entered the palace of kun ning, she happened to hear Lu Jinghong say, ""Jinghong had just left the capital when brother Emperor passed away. Younger sister is really guilty and did not come back to send Emperor older brother off."

"You're newly married, what are you doing back here? The late Emperor didn't want to give you any trouble." The Empress Dowager took a sip of tea and thought to herself,"he won't be able to stand it if you come back."

Seeing Lulu enter, Lu Jinghong's lips curled into a slight smile.

She was like the little invisible Princess of the past, who had finally parted the clouds and seen the clear sky. Her entire person was a little brighter.

But when she spoke ...

“Little sister originally wanted to advise elder sister Empress Dowager to be more open-minded, but seeing that elder sister Empress Dowager has become more plump after the late Emperor left, Jing Hong’s heart feels better.” Lu Jinghong sighed.

The Empress Dowager’s expression froze. This sister-in-law, she used to think that she was gloomy all day. She didn’t expect that she would speak in such a strange way.

In the past, she had not been married and did not dare to offend him.

Now that he had fusang’s support, he seemed to be quite loved.

Otherwise, he wouldn’t have dared to speak like this.

“Jinghong is right, this widow should die with the late Emperor, that’s good. It’s this widow who should not have lived in this world.” The Empress Dowager immediately wiped her tears.

Lulu couldn’t help but sigh. The Empress Dowager’s acting skills were getting better, and her skin was getting thicker.

“The late Emperor thought of aijia and his heart ached for aijia. Before he died, he told aijia to live well. How could this widow dare to disobey?”

Lulu silently gave her a thumbs up in his heart.

The Empress Dowager’s skin is thicker than the heavens, I admire you.

Lu Jinghong felt like he was on pins and needles. The nanny behind him chuckled and stepped forward to bow, “I’ve let the Empress Dowager see a joke. The Crown Princess is just joking with you. The late Emperor and the Empress Dowager’s love is stronger than gold. The late Emperor can only close his eyes if the Empress Dowager is well.” The wet nurse looked at Lu Jinghong. This was the wet nurse of the Prince of fusang.

Lu Jinghong couldn’t help but sit up straight, but he clenched his handkerchief tightly.

Is this the reason why you didn’t lose weight after your husband died, but instead gained weight and health?

“Empress Dowager.” Lulu came in and went straight for the Empress Dowager’s knees. The Empress Dowager immediately cried out in pain.

The way he looked like a precious baby, it was obvious that he had been doted on.

“Lulu, why aren’t you bowing to the Empress Dowager? If an outsider were to see this, I’m afraid they would say that Lulu is being rude.” Lu Jinghong’s brows furrowed slightly. He looked at Lulu with a smile in his eyes, but Lulu knew that she didn’t like him.

“What’s with the bow, we’re all family. Lulu never salutes.” The Empress Dowager was the first to speak. This was a child of fortune.

Fuwa, what did you ask for?

The first time noble consort Lin gave birth to a daughter, if she said it was a daughter, it was a daughter.

The second time, she was said to have a widow’s life. Alas, it didn’t take long for this to come true.

As the old saying goes, when you get promoted, your wife will die.

Her promotion, wealth, and death of her husband would also benefit her.

Lu Jinghong’s face was a little dark. Seeing the Empress Dowager struggling to put her on her knees, he couldn’t help but smile. “Lulu is a little too fat. It’s not good for a woman to be too plump.”

“Lulu doesn’t need to use his looks to serve people.” The Empress Dowager rolled her eyes.

Lu Jinghong.

Chapter 770: Pregnant (1)

Lu Jinghong could barely maintain the smile on his face.

“You don’t say, Jinghong. Look at you, you look bloated and greasy just because you’ve put on a bit of meat. It was different from Lulu’s. Lulu’s ego was inflated from how cute he was, right? Aijia’s little cutie ...” The more the Empress Dowager looked, the happier she was. If this child could recognize a goddaughter, how good would that be?

“The Crown Princess isn’t fat. This was only discovered two days ago. The Crown Prince Consort is actually two months pregnant.” The wet nurse replied with a smile.

The Empress Dowager looked at her in surprise.

“You can’t publicize your pregnancy before three months. Jinghong, you have to be careful. This fetus is not stable yet, you should be more careful.”

you have to take responsibility for this child after it’s born ... The Empress Dowager seemed to be sighing. Lu Jinghong’s eyes narrowed. He felt that the Empress Dowager was secretly talking about her.

He felt a little strange.

Why did the Empress Dowager’s temperament change so much after the late Emperor died?

He would start a fight at the slightest disagreement.

“Yes, Jinghong’s child is the Crown Prince’s only son, and he is also the son of the first wife. Jinghong is paying attention.” Lu Jinghong held his stomach, but before he could fall, he held his waist.

Lulu had come to watch a good show, and he couldn’t help but sigh. The Empress Dowager’s temperament had really changed.

After the late Emperor died, she was so happy that she couldn’t stop laughing. She had no choice but to move to the National temple. She really could do this.

“Jinghong has not returned to the capital for a long time, and now that he has returned to the palace, there is a sense of familiarity. AI, only after getting married do I know that my family is good and that my brother and sister-in-law are good.” Lu Jinghong seemed to be homesick, and the Empress Dowager glanced at him.

“If you didn’t say it, aijia wouldn’t be able to see that you love your family.” The Empress Dowager said teasingly.

She always had a gloomy look on her face, as if someone owed her money. It would be strange if she missed home.

This time, she came back with a proud look. The Empress Dowager didn’t believe her.

“It is a pity that you are pregnant now. If you are not pregnant, aijia will let you stay for a few days. But this royal family descendant is a matter of national importance, aijia does not dare to make a decision. You, ah, now is the time when you’re precious, the most important thing is to stay by the side of the Prince of fusang.” The Empress Dowager’s words stopped her from continuing.

Yes, her next sentence was that she wanted to return to the palace for a short stay.

But the Empress Dowager’s words were reasonable, and Lu Jinghong was too embarrassed to say anything.

After having lunch in the palace, the Empress Dowager personally asked someone to send her out of the palace.

The moment she left, the Empress Dowager’s face fell.

“You really gave me face, but still want to step on this widow’s face. If the late Emperor dies, do you think aijia will be afraid of you? To be bullied by you, I’m really thinking too much.” The Empress Dowager immediately cursed.

“Empress Dowager, aunty, don’t be angry, don’t be angry.” Lulu hugged her and gave her a kiss on the cheek.

Oh my, the Empress Dowager grinned happily.

“Lulu, don’t come into contact with her too much. That girl has always been sinister since she was young, and now that she’s gained power, she’s even more incredible. That thing in her stomach can’t be touched. Don’t get close to her. ”

Lulu agreed without hesitation.

What the Empress Dowager didn’t say was that she had once seen Lu Jinghong crush a parrot to death when he was only a few years old.

At that time, one of the concubines in the harem was favored and raised a colorful parrot.

It was a gift from the Emperor. The parrot was good at talking and coaxing people.

Every time he saw the Crown Prince, he would call tyrant over.

When he saw Lu Jinghong, he called the demon over.

Later on, someone broke Parro’s neck. Lu Jinghong was the one who did it.

One day, when the concubine was sleeping, she was actually sleepwalking. She squinted her eyes and walked blindly outside, falling into a well in the palace. He drowned to death, and when he was fished up, his mouth was full of mud.

It filled his entire mouth.
