

The Savior 771

Chapter 771: The Savior is petty (1)

During the banquet, the Emperor indeed asked the Ambassador of the Allied country to stay for dinner.

Lulu loved to eat, so Lu huaijiang naturally invited her along.

However, she was sitting in front of the Empress Dowager. With the Empress Dowager taking care of her, Lu huaijiang was at ease.

During the banquet, the sound of silk and bamboo was endless.

Everything was so beautiful.

Fusang was both a country of in-laws and also the country that the great Zhou was most guarded against.

Dongli was a defeated general, but all the people in the country were good at martial arts. If they had not bowed to Lu huaijiang, perhaps the great Zhou today would not be the great Zhou.

On the left side of Prince Xian sat the main consort, Zheng Shi, and on the right side sat the secondary consort Ying.

The left was the most respected, so naturally, the main consort would be on the left.

Originally, a secondary consort wasn't fit to appear here, but that didn't change the fact that her maiden family was the royal family of Dongli.

The person who had come today was her older brother, the Emperor of Dongli.

The current leader of Dongli.

The siblings had once firmly held the royal family of Dongli in their hands. If they had not lost that battle, she would probably have a place in this banquet today.

the new emperor is indeed young and handsome. He became the Emperor at the age of sixteen. We brothers can't compare to him.

last time, I saw that the late Emperor was in good health. I didn't expect that he was killed by an evil god. What a pity. The Prince of fusang was full of sighs. He picked up the wine and poured a cup in front of the table.

To show respect to the late Emperor.

“Since the evil God's incarnation is in the capital, may I ask Your Majesty if you have any clues?”

it's said that the evil god controls all the evil spirits in the world. I'm afraid that the chaos in the world is caused by him. The Emperor of Dongli was a middle-aged man. He looked like a burly general.

However, he was able to stop the internal strife in Dongli and hold power in his hands. He was also a ruthless person.

But now that he had lost his sister, he was lacking.

In the past, Princess Dongli and the Crown Prince were brave and good at fighting. They were known as the two eagles of the desert. Who knew that the fourteen-year-old Lu huaijiang would break into the city?

Princess Dongli married the sage King of great Zhou, and the legend of the desert Eagles was no longer seen.

“I’ve been investigating.” Lu huaijiang said lightly.

“Could there be a hidden meaning behind the evil god appearing in the great Zhou Dynasty? Otherwise, why would he keep a close eye on the capital of the great Zhou despite how vast the world was? The Imperial advisor of my dynasty once did a divination, and the divination pointed to the southeast. The southeast corner is the direction of the great Zhou.”

The Emperor of Dongli looked in the direction of his younger sister. A hint of heartache flashed in his eyes.

Lu huaijiang did not even blink.

“The world is so big, why does the hall of salvation only appear in the great Zhou? According to this, perhaps the Emperor of Dongli should reflect on himself.”

“Did the years of war anger the heavens? Won’t you incur the wrath of the heavens and the resentment of the people, and won’t the heavens bless you?” Lu huaijiang asked a series of questions, but the Emperor of Dongli did not respond for a long time.

Lulu laughed as he leaned on the table.

Her small shoulders trembled. Lu huaijiang glanced at her from the corner of his eyes, his gaze slightly gentle.

The Emperor of Dongli stood up. I was too narrow-minded. Your Majesty, please don’t hurt our relationship.

Lu huaijiang waved his hand.

“But ... The hall of salvation could expel evil things. This was a good thing for the country and the people. Why didn’t His Majesty keep it in his pocket? It wouldn’t be good if we raised a Tiger and brought disaster upon ourselves.”

Dongli and fusang had come to save the hall of world this time.

Lu huaijiang looked at them coldly and said, “since the king and the Crown Prince have already said this, you must not go to the hall of salvation.” Legend has it that the Savior is a stingy person. If you say something like this, you’ll be offending her. ” My waist is swollen!

If you want to provoke the little ancestor, don’t implicate me.

The smile on the Emperor of Dong Li's face froze.

He was here to save the hall of the world?

Chapter 772: He's not worthy _1

"Your Majesty, your words ..."

Dongli's King's heart trembled. He couldn't have really offended her with just this one sentence, right?

"It's up to you to believe it or not." Lu huaijiang's face was full of meaning.

The Emperor of Dongli and the Prince of fusang looked at each other and saw the solemnity in each other's eyes.

After this sentence, the atmosphere quickly calmed down.

Lu huaijiang pretended not to understand. These people wanted to seek help from the hall of salvation, but they also wanted to sow discord between him and the hall of salvation.

He wasn't such an idiot.

After the banquet, everyone got up and left the palace.

Secondary consort Ying looked at the carriage that was parked at the corner and bowed to the Xian King, "'Your Highness, this concubine's brother has come from far away. Ying 'er would like to meet him.'" Secondary consort Ying was born with a slightly heroic spirit, but the combination of gentleness and heroic spirit made her surprisingly pitiful.

She had been in the Wang family for two years and had not given birth to a single child.

She was once pregnant with a child, but lost the child because of a fall.

Fortunately, he was in a good mood. Every time he saw Madam Zheng, he would obediently pay his respects. However, the wise King had never despised her.

"Go, you haven't seen the king for a long time. You can return tomorrow." Xianwang looked at the carriage and nodded. He gently raised his hand to wipe the makeup on her face, then left with Madam Zheng with a smile.

When secondary consort Ying got into the carriage of the king of Dongli, the woman's face suddenly sank.

"A handkerchief!" His voice was bone-chilling.

The maidservant carefully handed over a handkerchief that was soaked with water. She watched helplessly as the concubine wiped her face until the skin broke.

"Little sister, it's big brother who has let you down. How can big brother be at ease with you like this?" The king's face was full of heartache. His sister was a Princess on a horse.

He would accompany her in eradicating dissidents and attacking various countries.

But now, she was trapped in that house, being a concubine that people liked.

“That virtuous King was born weak and a man who doesn’t even have the strength to truss a chicken. If he didn’t lose to Lu huaijiang, how could he be worthy of marrying you? I’m not even fit to carry your shoes! I’ve been wronged and humiliated!” The king of Dongli was extremely heartbroken. It was an insult to her that her younger sister had committed herself to such a man.

In the past, she would not even spare a glance at a man like Lu yuanxiu.

But now, she had to make love with such a man and even bear him a child.

No, he was not worthy!

A man like that was not worthy of having his child.

“It’s really too easy on him. I’ve implicated you.” Princess Dongli was only 16 when she was married, and she was only 18 now.

“As long as Dongli is well, I will have a chance to turn things around.” Princess Dongli wiped the blood off her face indifferently. Every time she consummated her marriage with Lu yuanxiu, she would wipe until her skin bled.

Yet, Lu yuanxiu was still proud of himself for being able to conquer the desert Princess.

Lu yuanxiu had never been the one to conquer her.

Princess Dongli looked in the direction of the palace gate and lowered her eyes slightly.

How could the monarch not know that when his 16-year-old sister knelt in front of Lu huaijiang, she could no longer look at him directly and could only look up to him in her life?

only when Dongli becomes stronger will my younger sister have a chance to return home.

The monarch glanced at her and suddenly asked the servants in front of him to leave.

“Without my order, no one is allowed to approach.”

“Yes.”

When the carriage quieted down, the monarch lowered his voice and said, “Do you know that the hall of salvation is controlled by mortals? And that person is currently in the capital.”

“Brother, where did you get the news?” secondary consort Ying was shocked.

if humans could control such a mysterious and powerful force, wouldn’t the world be under their control? ”

“Brother, you have a master to guide you,” the monarch curled his lips.

the expert once instructed me that as long as I do as he says, the world saving Hall will belong to me! The monarch’s eyes were filled with greed.

Chapter 773: The Wind Rises and the clouds surge (1)

“Brother, do you know what you’re saying?”

“For the sake of the hall of salvation, the great Zhou imperial court has investigated countless times. I don’t have any clue.”

“The world saving Hall ...” Princess Dongli’s eyes flashed as she murmured softly.

if that day really comes, I will kill Lu yuanxiu and help my brother conquer the world again. Princess Dongli chuckled. Her chuckling was very unrestrained.

“Don’t worry, big brother has the guidance of an expert, I won’t let little sister down. Younger sister only needs to wait patiently.”

“However, there will be no peace soon.” The Emperor of Dongli sighed.

Two years ago, Dongli had been defeated, and they had been recuperating.

Lu huaijiang was really ruthless. Wherever he went, there was almost no life.

They killed anyone they saw, slaughtered anyone they saw in the city, and every patch of grass was stained with blood. Blood flowed like a river, and the heads of the soldiers who had slaughtered the great Zhou’s border were all cut off and hung on the city walls.

The people of Dongli were good at fighting, but that battle had directly broken through the psychological defense of the people.

It had been two years, and he still hadn’t gotten over it.

The two cities where the blood had once flowed were barren. It directly withered to death.

This also caused Lu huaijiang’s name to be like a heavy shadow on Dongli’s body, and everyone was unable to move.

If this matter was not resolved, Dongli would be destroyed.

How could he not be anxious?

“In at most two years, Dongli will have finished recuperating and recovered its strength. I’m afraid there will be countless conflicts between the countries. Younger sister must take good care of herself these few years.

“As for the capital of the great Zhou Dynasty, I will still need my sister’s cooperation.” The monarch lowered his voice and whispered something in his sister’s ear.

Secondary consort Ying’s expression turned serious after she heard this. After a long while, she softly agreed.

“Where’s fusang?”

The Emperor of Dongli’s eyes flashed with a smile. “Don’t worry. Compared to Dongli, he’s more afraid of the great Zhou.”

This also meant that the two countries had truly formed an alliance.

Not only was it an Alliance on the surface, but it was also an Alliance in private to take over the hall of salvation.

In fact, the great Zhou Dynasty was also within his calculations.

“Then younger sister will wish elder brother’s wishes come true and only wait for elder brother to come and take younger sister home.” The princess smiled, and the gloominess between her brows was swept away.

When they got off the carriage, the people from the Ministry of rites had already tidied up the place.

“Younger sister will not disturb older brother. Older brother should have a good rest and younger sister will come again tomorrow.” Secondary consort Ying sent the monarch to the door and happened to meet the fusang Crown Prince and the Crown Princess.

Now that they were both envoys, their residences were naturally adjacent to each other.

“Greetings to the Crown Princess. The Crown Prince Consort has returned to the capital, so why isn’t she staying in the palace?” Although secondary consort Ying’s family was from Dongli, she was now married to Lu yuanxiu and was his concubine. Naturally, she had to pay her respects to the Crown Prince Consort.

The Crown Princess’s expression was slightly serious, “I’m pregnant and it’s inconvenient to live in the palace.” His Highness insisted that I would only be at ease if I followed him, so I can only do this.”

Secondary consort Ying’s gaze suddenly landed on her abdomen. It was still not round.

But there was a child inside.

“Then the Crown Prince Consort has to raise the child well. The child’s fate is of utmost importance.” After she finished speaking, she gracefully bowed and left on the carriage.

After the monarch entered.

The Prince of fusang couldn’t help but sigh, “it’s a pity that Princess Dongli is such a good person. Her looks and abilities are outstanding.” Lu yuanxiu, on the other hand, is not worthy.” Her tone was filled with contempt for Lu yuanxiu.

Even though Lu yuanxiu had tried to form an alliance with him, the Crown Prince did not give him any face.

Lu Jinghong’s eyes darkened when he saw him praising another woman.

He gently stroked his abdomen.

It was unknown what he was thinking.

Chapter 774: I’ve laid my cards on the table _1

The Midsummer weather was extremely hot.

This year, there was a flood in Jiangnan. Lulu's birthday wasn't even held on a grand scale, and instead, the hall of salvation was given porridge for charity.

He only returned to his yuanfu to celebrate.

During dinner, Lu huaijiang took the time to go to the zhuiyuan mansion after he was done with everything. The people in the zhuiyuan mansion were simple, so Xia Shi and Jiang Huaian came to welcome them personally.

Instead, he had a simple meal.

Lulu was seven years old, and in another year, he would have to move out of the palace and return to the zhunyuan Manor.

At night, Lu huaijiang could not hide his disappointment.

"It's not like I'm not coming back. I'll come to the palace to see you often." At seven years old, Lulu was already a half-grown girl.

Ordinary families would not hold hands with the young man anymore, but Lulu did not seem to have this awareness.

The girl from an aristocratic family was engaged when she was thirteen or fourteen years old and married when she was fifteen.

At the age of seven, many of them were already sensible.

But Lulu did not.

Perhaps, she had never been on guard against Lu huaijiang, or perhaps, she was just used to it.

"My brother is going to discuss marriage. I'm going to have a sister-in-law soon." Lulu held onto Lu huaijiang's hand and swung it back and forth.

Lu huaijiang knew that Jiang Huaian and miss Wen had been looking at each other these days.

Lu huaijiang's brows furrowed slightly. He knew that miss Wen had two souls in one body.

Now that Wen ruyin was in his body, he didn't know if Jiang Huai 'an could accept it.

"Do you think I should tell my brother?"

"Why don't I give him a big surprise? Let him see brother ru Yin's real body on the wedding night? Knowing the truth on our wedding night will definitely be a good memory in the future?" Lulu probed.

Lu huaijiang looked at her in horror.

"Stop your thoughts. This could become his lifelong nightmare." Whether he accepted it or not, he should let Wen ruyin say it herself.

On their wedding night, the bride had turned into a brother. Even if he could accept it, he would have fainted from shock.

“Oh,” Lulu said in disappointment.

The two of them strolled leisurely in the Imperial Garden. After today, Lulu would be eight years old.

It was almost midnight.

He was about to step into the first day of his eighth birthday.

That night, Lulu ate eight eggs.

Lu huaijiang, 14. He ate 14!

Even though he had picked the smaller ones, he still felt like he was choking.

“Why do you have to eat as many eggs as you are old? Zhen doesn’t want to eat it again in this life.” Lu huaijiang almost choked on the egg yolk and thought he had died at the age of fourteen.

“My godmother said that even if she’s not by my side, I should still remember to eat a few eggs on my birthday. I don’t know how many I’ll eat, so I’ll eat a few when I’m a few years old.” Lulu rubbed his stomach.

He burped.

“I’ll eat quail eggs next year.” Lu huaijiang immediately made the decision.

Otherwise, when he was 70 or 80 years old, his annual birthday would probably be a nightmare.

It was scary just thinking about it. Yu Sheng had no expectations at all.

Lulu thought about it and agreed.

The next morning, the palace gates opened.

“Miss Lulu, miss Wen wishes to see you.” A Palace servant came in to report.

Lady Wen was an Imperial merchant, but the token to enter the palace was in the hands of the Wen family’s Grand elder. If Wen ruyin wanted to enter the palace, she would have to wait for Lulu’s permission.

Lulu’s eyes lit up.

“Quickly announce it.” He quickly finished his meal and put down his chopsticks.

The light of gossip flickered in her eyes, and her eyes were bright and resplendent, revealing the beauty of a goddess.

She lifted her skirt and ran towards the living room.

When she went over, Wen ruyin had just arrived. She was usually in a rush, but at this moment, she was a little panicked.

“Lulu, I’ve laid my cards on the table with your brother.”

Wen ruyin’s eyes had a rare hint of red.

Chapter 775: Jiang Huaian cried to death (1)

Lulu's face was full of excitement. There was a big melon to eat early in the morning.

Even if that melon was her brother!

It was still sweet!

Think about it, if someone says in front of you, "I've laid my cards on the table with your brother.

Actually, your sweetheart is a man, and his thing is bigger than yours.

It would be a wonder if you weren't excited.

Lulu immediately ordered the servants to serve melon seeds as desserts, fruit tea, and even a few dark spirits in the four corners of the hall to cool them down.

He thought about it and felt that he had gone a little too far.

He turned around and ordered a set of cards. The few of them were just enough to fit at the table.

They also burned some incense wax and paper money, and gave him two fruits and snacks. Their days were quite beautiful.

Lulu saw Wen ruyin staring at her with a burning gaze as soon as she entered the room. She even grabbed a handful of melon seeds.

Everything was ready except for gossip.

Wen ruyin's eyes were red. She had planned to pour out her heart to Lulu.

F * ck, he raised his head.

"Give me a handful of melon seeds." She reached out and grabbed two handfuls of plum-flavored melon seeds, then poured herself a glass of sour plum juice.

"Don't just focus on eating. How did you tell my brother? Did my brother cry? Was he seeking death? Kacha Kacha ..." It was the sound of melon seeds being peeled.

Wen ruyin took a sip of the sour plum juice. It was so refreshing that it chilled her heart.

"She didn't cry, but I felt that something wasn't right."

"Then how did you lay your cards on the table?" Lulu was curious.

Wen ruyin's hand that was peeling melon seeds paused, her expression slightly stiff.

Unknowingly, the tips of her ears had turned red.

"Actually, you have to get married in this life. Instead of marrying someone else, why don't you harm my brother?" Lulu cupped his face and sighed. It was a serious matter not to get married in this day and age.

Wen ruyin coughed lightly, "then if you don't mind, your future sister-in-law's wife is a ..." A man?" Wen ruyin looked at her with eager eyes.

Lulu put the melon seeds on the table and looked at her sternly. "What are you saying? we're brothers first, then we're sisters-in-law."

"Pfft." Wen ruyin burst out laughing.

"Don't let your brother know about this. If he knows, he'll definitely explode." Wen ruyin pinched her cheek.

So cute.

"Actually, actually, your brother is a very good person."

"Are you going to give him the good guy card? Is the next sentence, "but we're not suitable"?" Lulu looked at her with wide eyes.

Wen ruyin's face darkened. She didn't know if she was lucky or unlucky to have such a sister-in-law!

"It's nothing." Wen ruyin's voice lowered a little, which was rare.

"But I don't want to lie to him. My sister and I have two souls in one body. If my sister abandons this place, I can't." Wen ruyin's heart felt heavy.

In fact, she knew that if she told Jiang Huaian that she was going to marry him, she would probably never get married again.

It was impossible for anyone else to do it.

When he had just taken control of this body in huangdu, he did not know how to comb his hair and was unwilling to come into contact with the Wen family.

Every day, when she came to the Jiang family's house with her hair disheveled, it was Jiang Huai 'an who would comb her hair and put on makeup for her.

Because she had been thrown into the water back then, she had caught a cold and her period had come very late.

She only came after she met Jiang Huaian.

When she had her period for the first time, she happened to be in the Jiang family's house. At that time, she didn't know and didn't dare to ask others.

It was also Jiang Huai 'an who ran out of the manor with a red face and went outside to ask the old woman.

He also asked many women about the things to pay attention to during their period, such as not touching cold water and drinking red sugar.

It was the young man's first time cooking, and the brown sugar was so strong that she almost died from the heat.

Chapter 776: So it was the red spider lily (1)

“Whether your brother can accept it or not, I should tell him.”

“I don’t want to lie to him. Moreover, this lie is for life.” Wen ruyin couldn’t help but tear up.

She was afraid to know the result and was afraid that she would not be accepted.

But she still opened her mouth.

“You told him about the two souls in one body?”

Wen ruyin nodded slightly and told her everything about her sister’s consciousness.

“What if he doesn’t accept it?” Lulu admired her courage.

Wen ruyin’s eyes were filled with tears.

“Actually, I wasn’t prepared to get married. I-I’m only willing because he’s your brother.” Wen ruyin pursed her lips. If it was anyone else, she would probably not be able to accept them in her life.

“After I told your brother, he ... He cried. He only said four words, I regret it.” To be honest, she was shocked. At that time, the light in Jiang Huai ‘an’s eyes dimmed bit by bit, and tears fell from his eyes. She didn’t even dare to look into his eyes.

“What happened after that?”

Wen ruyin was stunned,”he cried and said he regretted it, so of course I ran away.” I don’t want to hear him say that he can’t accept it. ”

Wen ruyin was a little absent-minded. She thought that her heart was moved.

“I can’t even tell. Why would I like men?” Wen ruyin murmured.

“Do you believe me?” Lulu smiled. Everything is fate.”

“Have you heard of the red spider lily? The flowers and leaves coexisted, but the flowers were not visible. The leaves were not visible. They clearly exist together, but we’ve never had the chance to meet in this life.”

“It’s said that there will be a time when they cultivate to become mortals. However, even if he succeeded in cultivating it, he could not separate it. It’s two souls in one body.

“Only when you meet someone you love will you be able to truly determine your gender.”

“Besides, true love is not differentiated by gender. Look at my father and mother, are they happy?” Lulu’s melon seeds made a crunching sound.

“How about this? Since my brother can’t accept it, I’ll introduce you to a more outstanding young talent. He’s definitely not inferior to my simple-minded brother. You see ...”

“No!” Just as he finished speaking, a man suddenly stood out from the back hall.

The man’s face was slightly red and his eyes were sparkling as he looked at Wen ruyin with a burning gaze.

Wen ruyin suddenly stood up.

He looked at Lulu in shock.

Jiang Huai ‘an took a deep breath and said, “I’ve never despised you.” I shed tears because I know that you’ve never seen the sun outside since you were born, and that you’re trapped in a small world that you can’t enter or leave.”

you’re still so young, at the age where you don’t know anything. No one will talk to you, no one will hug you, and no one will care about your happiness and sadness.

I’ve also never experienced the beauty of the world. I can’t feel the blazing sun, I can’t feel the fragrance of flowers, I can’t feel the delicious taste of food.

“You’ve been alone all this time, and no one even knows of your existence, and no one remembers you. I’m crying because I’ve never taken you to see the beauty of the world. I’ve waited until now to discuss marriage, I regret it.” He should have married her earlier.

Back in huangdu, she had been so ignorant that she didn’t even know how to wear clothes.

She didn’t even know when her period came.

Every time they looked at him, their eyes were filled with caution and humility.

Thinking about it now, Jiang Huai ‘an felt like a knife was cutting into his heart.

Looking at her confusedly telling him this, Jiang Huaian didn’t think of anything else.

He only cared about his heart aching.

Chapter 777: It has always been you (1)

Lulu found the snack in his mouth tasteless.

After all, she couldn’t take it when she was suddenly stuffed with dog food.

Wen ruyin stood there in a daze. She was the most powerful young lady in the Wen family, but at this moment, her fingers were nervously wrapping the ribbon around her waist.

They looked at the young man with teary eyes.

In the past, she did not feel wronged or upset at all.

Why did she suddenly feel like crying when he mentioned it?

So, this was what it felt like to have someone's heart ache for you.

She had also been envious and jealous that others could be hugged and felt, and could feel everything. However, she could only hide in a dark corner and rely on her sister to survive.

But she couldn't bear to leave this world, and she didn't dare to leave her sister alone in this world to struggle at death's door.

Her younger sister didn't want to live, but she didn't want to either.

She was so, so tired.

The younger sister is afraid of the dark, the younger sister's medicine is bitter.

However, no one knew that he was also afraid.

However, he didn't have the right to be afraid.

If he was afraid, what would his sister do?

"I really regret it. I should have begged mother to marry you back in Huangdu. Then I can treat you well and not let you be uncertain and always let you guess my feelings." Jiang Huai 'an strode forward and took the thin but determined woman in his arms.

"Waa." Lulu's mouth was wide open in excitement.

shut up! Jiang Huai 'an suddenly looked over. cover your eyes.

Oh, " Lulu replied. He spread his fingers and covered his eyes.

However, both of his eyes were exposed in the gaps between his fingers.

Anyway, I tried my best to cover it up. I don't care if you saw it or not.

"I-I thought you were disgusted with me. I thought you didn't want to see me, I thought you regretted meeting me. The matchmaker keeps coming in and out of the Wen family to look at me. I'm happy and scared ... I was never the chosen one." Wen ruyin had to admit that she was scared.

Just like back then, her sister could survive, but she didn't even have the chance to be born.

She was afraid that she would not be chosen.

Jiang Huai 'an's heart was broken. He could only hug her tightly."I never thought of choosing anyone else from the start." Jiang Huai 'an had always been a reserved person. If he hadn't been pushed to a corner by Wen ruyin and Lulu today, he wouldn't have been able to express his thoughts.

Even Lulu only realized her brother's strangeness recently when the Xia family proposed marriage to him.

Before that, she had no idea that her brother had his eyes on her brother.

Wen ruyin cried and laughed, as if even the regret of not being chosen at birth had been made up for.

Jiang Huai 'an recalled what she had said just now. If it wasn't for him, she might not have married again in this life.

Her heart was warm and uncomfortable.

I'll ask my mother to propose marriage to the Wen family when I get back. Wen ruyin, the eldest daughter of the Wen family! Wen ruyin. Yes, he had fallen in love with Wen ruyin from the beginning.

Just like how he could tell Wen ruzhu from Wen ruyin at a glance.

To him, it was different deep down in his bones.

Wen ruyin pursed her lips and her eyes were full of smiles. She was a little embarrassed now and gently pushed him away. Her hands and feet had no place to put.

"Lulu, what are you doing here? What are you listening to, you little kid? hurry up and go out." Wen ruyin turned to look at Lulu, her face red as she secretly glared at her.

Lulu stood up with a grunt.

"You're burning the bridge after crossing it!" As she spoke, she made a face at her brother and sister-in-law, turned around, and ran away while laughing.

Jiang Huai 'an was a proper man.

He asked Wen ruyin to leave the palace first before he brought his sister back to the yuan mansion.

If they were to engage in private affairs before the engagement, he did not wish to tarnish miss Wen's reputation.

Chapter 778: Lulu's root of love (1)

"Lulu, is the Paramita flower real?"

Jiang Huai 'an held his sister's hand as they walked out of the palace. He couldn't help but ask when he heard what she had said to comfort miss Wen.

"Nonsense," Lulu waved his hand.

Jiang Huaian ...

"Since the two of you truly love each other, what's the point of the red spider lily being real? Liking someone means being together."

Lulu could see it clearly.

Jiang Huai 'an couldn't help but laugh and nod slightly.

Yes, whether it was true or not, he still wanted to marry her.

"Lulu, do you know what true love is?" Jiang Huai 'an was a little surprised to see his sister so knowledgeable. His little sister had grown up.

Lulu was taken aback. is it because I like my brother? mother? and Jiang Jiang? "

Jiang Huai 'an was taken aback. There was actually an Emperor?

However, Lulu often interacted with the Emperor, so it was normal for Lulu to treat him as family.

“This is different, Lulu. Brother and mother are family to you. We’re blood-related relatives, we’re the closest people in the world.”

“Where’s Jiang Jiang? you’re his medicine.”

Lulu’s lips moved. She wanted to say that she was not Jiang Jiang’s medicine.

Jiangjiang made it up.

Jiang Jiang was good to her not because of soul suppression.

“People who love each other are different. The person you love is someone you want to spend the rest of your life with. Whether you live or die, there will only be one person in your life. It was irreplaceable. No matter what you do, he will tolerate you, accept you, and accept you. They never abandoned you, and their family love was plain but warm.

But love is blazing, and all your emotions will be occupied and filled by that person. There’s a word to describe it, it’s called deeply rooted love.” Jiang Huaian suddenly stopped. Lulu was only seven years old, so how could she possibly understand?

When he lowered his head, he saw that the little girl was indeed at a loss.

He had tolerated her, accepted her, and never left her, just like how Jiang Jiang had treated her.

But was this love?

“Does everyone have a root of love?” For some reason, Lulu suddenly asked.

of course, ” Jiang Huai 'an said, looking at her in surprise. love is everyone’s instinct.

Lulu felt that she should be feeling something different, but her heart was calm and unmoved.

She even thought too much, and the area between her eyebrows hurt badly. It was hot and painful.

Lulu shook his head and forgot about the matter in the blink of an eye.

After returning to the Xia family home, the Xia family had just sent the matchmaker off. When they saw the two siblings enter, they glanced at Jiang Huai 'an.

“Sigh, you didn’t even tell your mother which cabbage you’ve taken a fancy to. Everyone mother sees is like in-laws.”

“But no matter who you look at, you are neither cold nor warm, and mother pushed another one. This time, it’s a lady from the Wen family.”

The smile on Jiang Huai 'an’s face slowly disappeared.

“Miss Wen is the one from the Wen family of the Imperial merchant. She came back from huangdu and grew up there. I heard that this child has a good character and outstanding abilities. Because she has become an eyesore to the Wen family elders, her reputation in the capital is not very good.”

“It’s only because His Majesty gave her some gifts some time ago that her reputation was raised.”

“Now the outside world is saying that she would at most be married to someone as a concubine or a second wife, and the noble families of officials would not look at her. Mother’s heart moved. Since you don’t like Huai ‘an ...”

“Huai ‘an is interested.” Before Madam Xia could finish, Jiang Huaian interrupted her.

The Xia clan?

“Don’t you already have a little cabbage you like?”

After he finished speaking, he suddenly slapped his head and said, “miss Wen is that cabbage?” Aiya, quickly go and stop the matchmaker!” Madam Xia jumped three feet high, got up, and ran out of the gate with her people.

Jiang Huaian ran the fastest.

Lulu’s laughter was like silver Bells, melodious and clear.

Chapter 779: Poor fate with children (1)

The news that the Jiang family’s scholar wanted to discuss marriage with the Imperial merchant’s Wen family quickly spread.

Jiang Huaian was the eldest grandson of Pavilion elder Jiang.

Who in the capital wouldn’t sigh when the Jiang family went from being at the peak of their power to being left with only a single mother and child?

Those who were not as good as the Jiang family in the past might show sympathy on the surface, but they might be laughing happily behind their backs.

However, he had never expected that he would laugh for less than two years.

The Jiang family’s young lady had latched onto the Crown Prince’s golden thigh. Later on, the Crown Prince became the new emperor, and she became the new emperor’s soul protector. It was said to suppress the soul, but it was suppressing the life, the great Zhou.

He could do whatever he wanted in the capital.

After that, Jiang Huai ‘an was admitted to the third grade in a row. At the age of sixteen, he was the youngest scholar.

The son and daughter of a second wife of the Xia family were simply outstanding.

There were many top scholars, but only a few could pass at the age of sixteen. His future was bound to be limitless.

Many families were willing to be on good terms with him.

During this period of time, the Xia family had been discussing marriage with the Wen family. There were many daughters in the Wen family's direct line of descent. If a family who was a businessman married into the residence of the top scholar, wouldn't that mean that their only shortcoming would be gone?

Since ancient times, officials and merchants had always come before officials.

The birth characters of the direct line's daughters had been given to the matchmaker, but the matchmaker had returned with them within a few days.

One look and he knew that he didn't like it.

Who knew that within two days, Wen ruyin, who in their eyes couldn't even get married, and the new top scorer were engaged.

The elders of the Wen family almost died from anger.

What made them even angrier was that second elder Wen had actually handed over all the shops and money that could be transferred to Wen ruyin.

Even if she was married off, she could still display her abilities.

Jiang Huai 'an was capable, and Wen ruyin was rich. This family could be considered complete.

"The marriage is set for next autumn. In-law, you can't bear to part with ah Yin, so let her stay for another year. We'll also have enough time to give the two children a grand wedding."

"The marriage is settled. These two children are a perfect match, they will definitely be able to hold hands for a lifetime." The matchmaker was also happily saying auspicious words at the side.

The Xia family was generous and second elder Wen felt guilty towards Wen ruyin. He did everything properly and naturally gave a lot of money to the matchmaker.

The matchmaker was overjoyed.

The two sides exchanged the age cards and agreed to the marriage ceremony in the next year. This matter was officially settled.

Lulu had also left the palace today. Her brother's engagement was a big deal.

Moreover, it was Wen ruyin who was invited, so it was reasonable for her to come.

Lulu gave the Wen family some of the gifts that she had brought from the palace. They were all Tributes to show how much she valued them.

Second elder Wen was a businessman. Seeing that she was trying to give Wen ruyin face, he immediately carried it back in a high profile manner and placed it in a conspicuous position in his daughter's room.

After the marriage was settled, the weather turned cold very quickly.

Lu Lu had grown a lot in the second half of the year, but compared to Lu huaijiang ...

Well, there was still a long way to go.

“Princess Jing Hong has entered the palace again, and she comes to the palace every day to sit. The Empress Dowager was already so annoyed that she said she was sick and disappeared. Miss Lulu, do you want to go and meet him?”

Princess Jinghong has been visiting her relatives in the capital for three months. Her stomach is getting bigger. She didn't look pregnant when she came, but she was about two months pregnant. Now that she was more than five months pregnant, the fetus had already formed. If she didn't rush back to Fusang now, her stomach would be too big in the future, and the journey would be very difficult.

“I won't be going,” Lulu said with a frown. I'm afraid that I'll bump into her. ”

When she first met Lu Jinghong, she realized that the child was not fated to be with her.

Chapter 780: A woman's heart is the most vicious (1)

Fusang and Dongli had been in the capital for three months.

He never mentioned it.

Lulu didn't care much about national affairs, but she often heard the servants in the palace Mutter, so she naturally heard a few things.

“You can't let Princess Jing Hong hear what you're saying. That person is acting all high and mighty now, and when she gains power, she goes back to her maiden home to show off. Even the Empress Dowager doesn't like her. However, it's indeed better for her to give birth to this child safely.” The granny said in a low voice.

Although Princess Jinghong wasn't a very likable person, but with the eldest son of the Crown Prince's wife present in the marriage between the two countries, it would be more secure.

To Lu Jinghong, having a child was also a form of support.

“If we're talking about children, it's still the virtuous King.”

“The Xian King is now more than twenty years old, he first took in secondary consort Ying. A secondary consort could not have a child before the main consort. This was still acceptable. However, when the main consort was six months pregnant, secondary consort Ying fell. She only realized that she had lost the baby two months after she was pregnant.”

“Now the eldest son of the Xian Prince is two years old, and secondary consort Ying found out that she was pregnant last month. It's said that it was discovered by the Imperial physician, and it's suspected to be a twin.”

“The virtuous Prince has a small family. After hearing about this matter, he was greatly rewarded in the residence.”

“Who knew that a few days ago, secondary consort Ying’s stomach would suddenly hurt and she saw red that night.”

“After one night, I heard that the fetus was not saved. After some investigation, it turned out that the food and drink had been containing Musk for a long time. The Xian King was so angry that he miscarried both times in less than three months.”

“With an investigation, it was actually investigated to the head of the main consort. It is said that the main consort was flogged and the few Palace servants beside her were flogged to death that day.”

“The wise King is already in his twenties, and he only has one eldest son. This was what it meant to have a child’s fate. It is said that the Xian King has found many famous doctors for her. I am afraid that it will be difficult for her to get pregnant in the future.”

“How did the Zheng family raise such a young lady? when she married over, this servant followed young lady to take a look. She looked so dignified and virtuous, but she was actually so ruthless. When she said that she was confined by the Xian King, she even pointed to the heavens and swore that she had not done it. The sage King was both angry and furious. It was quite a while.”

“Lord Zheng even came to personally apologize to the wise King.”

The nannies were all well-informed and explained the matter clearly in a few moments.

“Now, Prince Xian only has one main consort and one secondary consort, and a few Tongfang. The Tongfang were all maidservants. If it wasn’t the main consort, could it be that she did it herself? That’s impossible.”

“Two?” Lulu sat up straight.

“Yup,”

Lulu turned and entered the hall, leaving the nannies to wait outside.

With a wave of his hand, the book of life and death appeared in front of him.

Lulu furrowed his brows in thought. The book of life and death automatically flipped to the page on the sage King.

[the sage King, Lu yuanxiu, and the eldest son, Lu minglang.]

Second son ...

“Eh, why isn’t his name here?” The two children were gone.

Since he had appeared in the book of life and death, he should be born.

But now, not a single one was born.

If it was someone else's doing, it would also indicate the reason why he had not been born.

But there was nothing written on it, so there was only one possibility.

It was the person who had given him life that had taken his life back.

“Secondary consort Ying did it herself?” Lulu was taken aback. Both records showed the same thing, which meant that she had taken the two children with her.

Lulu paused for a moment, and then looked at Lu Jinghong's name again.

But Lu Jinghong's name was blank.

It was wrong!

She was more than five months pregnant, but the book of life and death did not have the child's existence?

The book of life and death had been passed down for many years, and everyone in the world was recorded in it.

When he died, when he was born, there had never been a mistake.

Why was this so?
