

The Secret 561

THE SECRET THAT SEPARATES US

Chapter 561 I Want To Experience It

Once they decided on the itinerary for the afternoon, Luciano asked someone to prepare the yacht before taking Roxana and the children. The crew members were ready by the time they reached the beach.

Once they decided on the itinerary for the afternoon, Luciano asked someone to prepare the yacht before taking Roxana and the children. The crew members were ready by the time they reached the beach.

"Mr. Farina." The crew greeted him before helping them get up. —The yacht and crew members are all ready to sail. This is our longest and largest yacht, it also comes included with two dive instructors. If you are interested, you can have a try. The water in this area is very safe.

Luciano nodded his head as a sign of understanding. On the other hand, Roxana felt a bit surprised. The crew seemed to be very respectful towards Luciano. In fact, the person doing the introductions recognized him at first sight. Because of that, Roxana felt calmer, given the status of the Fariña family in Horneros and the fact that it was not the first time that Luciano had stayed at that Resort. They all followed the crew and boarded the yacht.

Roxana was worried that the children might not stay seated. A moment later, she looked at Luciano buckling his seatbelt. At that instant, the children were trapped in their seats and could do nothing but sit quietly.

Two crew members had their gazes fixed on the three children the entire time. They were prepared to protect them in case something happened. Roxana was much more relaxed when she saw that all of Luciano's preparations had been very rigorous. The yacht captain spoke with them.

"The weather is ideal for sailing today.

Roxana took a look at Luciano and saw that there was no response from him, so she thanked him politely. Seeing that Roxana responded, the crew got even more excited and began presenting the available activities. Before they could reach the area to see the dolphins, the children's attention was completely captured by the crew's explanation. Excitement was written all over their little faces. From time to time, Roxana also responded.

"I heard Mr. Fariña say that all of you are here to see the dolphins. To be honest, that's not the most exciting thing to do in this area. I recommend diving, since the area is well protected, and the underwater views are beautiful. If you get the chance, you should give it a try. The crew recommended them.

Roxana began to interest him a bit, he had always wanted to travel and experience different things all the time. However, having to take care of Andrés and Bautista and their workload, she had never had the opportunity. Since the chance to enjoy the underwater world was available, she didn't want to miss it.

However, if she went diving, the three children would be in Luciano's care and he was still injured. With that in mind, she Roxana couldn't help but hesitate.

Luciano seemed to have been able to read her mind of her.

"If you want to try, do it.

It took Roxana a couple of seconds to realize that he was speaking to her. The children intervened too.

"We will behave. Mommy, please do what you want!

Suddenly, Estela took out a waterproof camera and handed it over.

—Miss Jerez, take photos and show them to me.

Warmth invaded Roxana when she heard her words of support from her and nodded to the children.

"Thank you, my loves. So... — Roxana looked at Luciano and continued. "I will leave them under your care, Mr. Fariña. I want to try diving.

Luciano nodded indifferently. THE SECRET THAT SEPARATES US

Chapter 562 I'll Take A Look At It

Soon, Roxana put on her diving suit and equipment following the instructions of the diving instructor. Luciano's gaze darkened a bit when he watched the instructor guide Roxana to jump into the water. For some reason, he felt nervous.

-Mommy!

"Miss Sherry!

The children also felt nervous when they saw her jump into the sea. Hearing her voice from her, Roxana smiled and raised her head. She nodded that all was well and she turned to the instructor, indicating that she was ready. Soon after, they both held their breath, and went under.

From the yacht, all the others could see were the bubbles emerging from where Roxana and the instructor had disappeared. The children exchanged glances with concern written all over their faces. In fact, they were feeling a little sorry for letting Roxana try.

"Mr. Fariña, will our mommy be okay?" Bautista couldn't help but look at Luciano.

Upon hearing Bautista's words, Luciano suppressed his restlessness and stroked his head.

— She She will be her. The instructors here are amazing. They will definitely take good care of your mommy.

Despite his words from him, Luciano's eyes were still fixed on the place where Roxana had submerged. The assistant, seeing her uncertainty about her, comforted them.

"Nothing will happen. Many tourists have been diving here in the sea for several years, and I have never seen anyone have an accident.

The children nodded doubtfully as they listened to the crew. Afterwards, they continued to wait for Roxana to come to the surface of the water.

At the same time, the diving instructor took Roxana deeper into the water. At first, he held her arm de ella tightly the whole way, afraid something would happen to her. To her surprise from her, he realized that she did not look like a beginner after diving some distance. On top of that, she was very calm. Therefore, little by little he was freeing her from her.

The landscape under the water slowly appeared in front of Roxana. When she saw him, her eyes lit up. There was a wide variety of corals and fish. The waters caught the sun's rays and shone on the treasures of the ocean, giving it a mysterious color. Roxana couldn't help but extend her hand from her. Suddenly, a small fish surrounded her finger from her. The instructor was surprised by this interaction, and quickly took the camera out of her to take photos of the scene. In the photos, Roxana looked like a beautiful mermaid, peacefully interacting with the cute creatures of the sea.

Meanwhile, the people on the yacht began to worry when Roxana and the instructor still hadn't returned after a long time. Bautista yelled anxiously toward the sea.

-Mommy!

Estela also nervously took the banderilla and looked at Luciano.

"Daddy, why hasn't Miss Jerez come back?"

When Luciano heard her question, her gaze darkened, and he reassured her.

"She'll be back." Don't worry.

Then, she took the phone from her and looked at it. Roxana and the instructor had been underwater for almost ten minutes. Logically, there was no way the instructor wouldn't know that it had been a long time for a beginner. Luciano frowned at the thought, and suspicion crossed his mind.

"Did they have an underwater accident?"

When that possibility came to her mind de ella, the worry on her face de ella grew more intense as she looked at the sea. After a certain amount of time, the other two assistants began to panic when they saw that Roxana and the instructor had not returned.

"I'm going down to take a look." One of the dive instructors, concerned, took the equipment from her.

Just as she was about to dive in, there were sudden movements on the surface of the water. After a while, Roxana and the instructor appeared with smiles on their faces.

THE SECRET THAT SEPARATES US

Chapter 563 The Woman In His Arms

-Mommy!

"Miss Sherry!

The children heaved a sigh of relief, casting excited glances at the duo on the surface. Meanwhile, Roxana greeted the children happily. Quickly, the crew came down the steps to help them onto the yacht. Although Roxana enjoyed her time diving, she used a lot of energy. Therefore, it took a lot of strength for her to get up the steps.

The instructor, who was below her, wanted to give her a push to help her. But, she felt a murderous glare on him, which caused her to tremble unconsciously. When the instructor looked up, she saw Luciano, who had suddenly appeared near her steps from her. He glanced over it, before finally seeing Roxana. The instructor's hand de él froze for a few seconds in the air, and he quietly withdrew it. He had a feeling that he would lose her arm from her if he touched her.

When Roxana was having difficulty climbing the steps, she instinctively turned to the instructor for help, to dismay her, he was casually observing her surroundings, but he never looked at her. Seeing this, Roxana had no choice but to look away from her. Just when she was about to rely on her own strength from her, a strong arm of hers appeared in front of her. Immediately afterwards, Luciano's voice sounded.

-Take my hand.

Hearing that, Roxana looked up without thinking and met Luciano's eyes, who had an unwavering gaze. On the other hand, the children were securely attached to her seats from her, so they could not go to help her. All they could do was look in her direction, worried. Roxana hesitated for a moment. Since she did not want to keep the children waiting, she took her hand from her and slowly climbed the steps with Luciano's support.

The moment she stepped onto the yacht, she quickly released her hand from her. It was clear from her actions that she was trying to avoid him. A dark look appeared in Luciano's eyes, but he didn't say anything. Instead of her, he just looked at her.

"Thank you." Roxana thanked him with a soft voice before going to change.

However, his legs de ella gave out when he tried to take the first step. Before he could react, he began to fall forward. The children were surprised, and wanted to take off their seat belts to help Roxana. Luckily, Luciano approached just in time and took her by the waist, drawing her into her arms. Roxana was still puzzled. Therefore, she leaned on him to calm herself down.

"It's the first time she's been diving, and she's been underwater for a long time. It is normal that her legs are not used. He'll be fine after taking a break," the aide explained.

The children breathed a sigh of relief when they heard that. Luciano also looked relieved, and looked at the woman in her arms de ella with a frown. Roxana finally came to. It was at that moment that she realized that she was in Luciano's arms, and many people were looking at them.

Even the children were doing it, their eyes wide. Realizing this, Roxana frowned and tried to get up, wanting to escape from Luciano's arms. However, he seemed to have guessed her intentions of her, so she wrapped her arms more tightly around her waist of her, and informed him, "I'll take you to a seat

Roxana frowned, wanting to reject it in case the children misinterpreted things. Unfortunately, Luciano held her tightly, not giving her a chance to say anything. Just like that, they walked towards the children. Roxana had no choice but to swallow the words she wanted to say. When she got to where the children were, Luciano knelt down and helped her sit down. The children quickly came over to help.

THE SECRET THAT SEPARATES US

Chapter 564 Don't Be So Stubborn

Roxana made herself comfortable in her seat, she didn't dare face everyone's gaze. She kept her eyes down and thanked Luciano, who didn't respond. Instead, he looked at her silently before returning to her seat across from them.

The diving instructor; who accompanied Roxana in the water, skillfully climbed the stairs and returned the camera to her. As he was about to help her remove her de ella outfit, he unconsciously glanced at Luciano, worried that he might get upset by getting so close to her. Luckily, Luciano didn't answer this time. Only then did the instructor continue with his task.

"Mommy, why were you down there so long? Bautista asked, worried as he looked at her.

Roxana; who had already removed her diving gear with the help of the instructor, was pale. The children couldn't help but feel worried when they saw her mother's face. Roxana reassured them with a smile.

"The scenery down there was beautiful, so I wanted to stay a little longer to enjoy it. I'm sorry I worried you so much.

The children looked doubtful.

But you look sick.

They even came to think that Roxana had had some problem when she was underwater, but she didn't dare tell them for fear that they would worry. Roxana realized that the children were distressed. She gave the instructor a helpless look, hoping he would help her a little, the instructor understood the meaning of her look, but she saw Luciano when she spoke.

—Señora Fariña is very talented in diving. Nothing happened when we were underwater, she just wanted to stay a little longer. I only agreed after confirming her condition of her. Probably, she looks weak now because she used up a lot of energy.

Due to Luciano's attitude of him just now, the instructor thought that Roxana was his rumored fiancée of him. Because of that, he referred to her as "Señora Fariña." As soon as he finished explaining, the children breathed a sign of relief. After that, they noticed the way the instructor had referred to Roxana, and they turned at the same time to see the two adults.

Roxana had a darker appearance, she frowned, and wanted to correct it. Suddenly, before she could speak, she heard Luciano's voice from her.

-I understand. As long as she's okay, no problem. She did well.

The instructor smiled, completely unaware of what she had done wrong. Hearing his words from him, Roxana's frown deepened, and she turned to him. If Luciano had said those words last night, she probably wouldn't have said anything. However, after the accident, Roxana couldn't help but feel insulted that she so easily accepted the way they addressed her. However, he looked at her indifferently and took a breath.

—We are taking the children to play today, we must not bother with such trivial matters. I'm sure you don't want them to be sad, right?

—We are taking the children to play today, we must not bother with such trivial matters. I'm sure you don't want them to be sad, right?

At first, Roxana was surprised.

"So, what they call me" Mrs. Fariña "is a matter of no importance to him?"

Still, she had to accept that Luciano was right. If she were to correct the instructor's mistake, the rest of the trip might become awkward, telling him the truth at that time would only make him feel bewildered. After thinking about it for a while, Roxana looked away, and she pretended not to have heard what the instructor had said.

Seeing that Roxana reluctantly accepted, Luciano raised an eyebrow and smiled with satisfaction. The children, who had been watching them, were confused when they saw his expression. They had the feeling that the explanation Luciano had given had only been to reassure her.

"Dad is so powerful. How dare the crew ruin our trip?"

THE SECRET THAT SEPARATES US

Chapter 565 Don't Move

After resting a bit, Roxana finally felt better. She got up to put on clean clothes. Meanwhile, the yacht had traveled a long distance. The crew in front of them reminded them.

"Kids, pay attention! This is where the dolphins usually appear. They are very friendly and love to interact with people, especially children. Therefore, there is no need to be afraid!"

Hearing that, the children nodded obediently, anticipation written all over their faces.

"Mommy!" Andrés and Bautista called Roxana.

She turned her head in confusion.

"Can you unbutton us please?" We want to play with the dolphins." The children asked.

Estela also looked at her with anticipation. Roxana's heart softened in an incredible way when she met the gazes of the children. However, I hesitate to give them an answer when she thought about security issues. The children looked at each other and then at Luciano, who was in front of them. Bautista promised him in a sweet way.

"We'll be good, we promise to keep a safe distance. Can you unbutton us now?"

"Daddy..." Estela gave her father a pleading look.

Once they reached the ocean, the children had long realized that Luciano had the final say in everything. On the other hand, Roxana never expected that they would change her target so quickly. A strange feeling flooded her heart as she looked at him too. To her surprise from her, Luciano only raised his eyebrow. There was no sign of concern on his face and he said, "

I'm going to unbuckle your seatbelts, as long as you're not afraid.

The children nodded their heads excitedly.

-We are not afraid! We want to play with the dolphins!

As soon as they finished speaking, without saying a word, Luciano stood up, approached them, and unfastened their seat belts. The moment the children were granted their freedom, they ran onto the deck. Luciano walked behind them slowly. Roxana still felt worried, she hesitated for a moment before standing up and walking towards them.

The deck was very narrow, but the two adults wanted to give the children enough space to be there. Therefore, both of them had to be too close to each other. From behind, they looked at each other like a couple, in addition, the daughter of the children made them look like a calm family. Roxana wanted to move away a bit when she realized the distance between them was getting shorter. But, Luciano took her by the wrist.

-What are you doing? Let me go! Roxana murmured, worried about scaring the children.

-What are you doing? Let me go! Roxana murmured, worried about scaring the children.

Luciano frowned and looked at her severely.

-Do not move. It is dangerous.

Roxana was surprised by Luciano's expression on him. Just as she was about to say something, she saw movements on the surface of the water in the distance. Seconds later, the children yelled:

Dolphins! The dolphins are here!

Hearing that, Roxana and Luciano took a look. Not far from there, a pod of dolphins jumped into the water and back under with a splash as they swam towards them. The children greeted the dolphins excitedly.

-Hello! We are here! Come play with us!

Seeing how the children spoke to them innocently, Roxana was amused. Meanwhile, it was as if the dolphins had understood her words from her, suddenly they increased their speed and swam towards them. The children carefully approached and looked down to see the creatures swimming in the sea.

THE SECRET THAT SEPARATES US

Chapter 566 I Won't Do It Again

They extended their hands towards them. Immediately, a dolphin swam up and gently touched her palms with her mouth.

"Wow!" The children exclaimed in surprise, looking at the dolphin with wide eyes.

A tender look appeared in Roxana's eyes as she watched the children interact with the dolphin. At the same time, she had completely forgotten about the distance issues she had with Luciano. Under her gaze, she took the camera out of her bag and took pictures of them.

A seagull flew in the distance. Suddenly, one of the dolphins jumped into the air and gave Estela a kiss on her cheek. She froze for a moment, when she finally came to de ella, touched her wet cheek de ella and her eyes widened in her surprise.

"Miss Sherry! Daddy!" Estela ran back to Roxana and Luciano, excited, wanted to share her experience with them.

Roxana had already taken a picture of her cute interaction with her. Estela's expression of emotion made her smile from ear to ear.

I looked at him. The little animals seem to like you, huh?

Estela smiled shyly and returned to play with the dolphins. Andrés and Bautista also witnessed the scene just now and they were very envious of it. Therefore, they did their best to get the animals to kiss them. Bautista stared at the dolphins, leaned in, causing half of his body to dangle over the deck.

Unfortunately, no dolphin approached him, even after waiting for a long time. Instead, they seemed to be afraid of him and kept their distance. Just when he was thinking of other ways to touch them, someone grabbed his shirt and pulled him back to his original position.

"It's dangerous." Luciano gave Bautista a stern look.

Seeing that it was Luciano, Bautista had no choice but to nod in embarrassment and apologize.

-I'm sorry. I will not do.

Afterwards, he put on a sad look as he looked at Roxana. She was also shocked by Bautista's actions of him. After all, her children from her were small compared to the dolphins. Roxana was afraid that they would fall into the water if they collided with them. Luckily, Luciano came up just in time and pulled Bautista.

Although the look of her son de ella had softened Roxana's heart, still, she had a strict expression on her face de ella.

"Don't forget what you promised me.

Bautista felt even more guilty. He had already given Roxana the scare of her life from her by disappearing yesterday. And now, he had made her worry again. Thinking about it, Bautista pursed his lips, walked over to Roxana, and tugged at the hem of her blouse.

-Sorry mom. I do not want to play.

-Sorry mom. I do not want to play.

Seeing her sad look on her face, Roxana sighed helplessly and caressed her head.

"I don't blame you, I just care about you, just like you worried about me when I was underwater for a long time." I know you can swim, but I'm still worried that you might fall in the water.

On top of that, the children were still very young. I can't help but worry about the thought of them falling into the sea after touching the dolphins. I was afraid they would panic and forget how to swim when that happened. After hearing Roxana's words, Bautista nodded obediently.

"Okay, mommy.

Roxanne smiled.

"It's good that you understand. Go to play. I will take care of them from here.

However, Bautista just stood there, feeling guilty. He did not move before Roxana gave him a little push on her shoulder from her. When Bautista was out of reach of him, Roxana turned to Luciano and thanked him.

-Thank you.

Luciano just nodded his head without saying a single word.

THE SECRET THAT SEPARATES US

Chapter 567 Don't Be Sad

Well, they were children. Despite what happened, Bautista was happy again after playing with the dolphins. Seeing that it was almost time, the crew in front of them reminded them:

—Mr. Fariña, it is time to return.

Luciano gave him a short answer and turned to the children, who were standing on the deck.

-Come here. It's time to go back.

However, the children continued to stroke the dolphins' heads, refusing to leave. Seeing this, Luciano frowned. He had no idea how to get them back. Meanwhile, Roxana was amused to see Luciano's worried look from him. She approached them and said with a gentle tone.

"We're going back." Say goodbye to the dolphins.

Then he took her hands from her. Only at that moment did the children return to reality and sadly said goodbye to the dolphins.

"We're leaving now!" Bye bye!

As if they had understood her words from her, the dolphins jumped into the air one by one. When Andrés and Bautista were saying goodbye, they felt a wet and slippery sensation on their faces. The children were shocked for a moment, and looked in surprise at the two dolphins that returned to the sea. They had tried so hard to get a kiss from the dolphins. They never expected to be given one when they were about to leave.

"The dolphins seem to have liked them, too. All right, say goodbye to them. We'll come back to visit them next time," Roxana said with a smile.

The children nodded their heads and said goodbye enthusiastically.

-Bye bye! We will be back to see them again!

They kept looking back as they returned to their seats. However, nothing appeared in the waters, as if the dolphins had not existed in the first place. The children couldn't help but be disappointed. Suddenly, they saw a dolphin constantly jumping in the water, on both sides of the yacht, as if it were saying goodbye. Finally, smiles appeared on their faces.

"These dolphins will follow us for some distance. You still have time to say goodbye to them," said the assistant with a smile.

The children nodded their heads happily and kept their gaze fixed on the dolphins swimming alongside the yacht. As they sailed through the sea, the number of dolphins decreased. Also the faces of the children little by little was covered with disappointment. His mood of him hadn't improved by the time they reached shore. Seeing the children like this, Roxana stroked their heads and took out her camera to show them the photos she took.

"Don't be sad, okay?" Look. The dolphins are still with you, aren't they?

The children craned their necks to take a look at the photo. Seeing that it was one of them playing with the dolphins, they finally smiled. At the same time, Luciano's expression relaxed as he looked at the photos on the camera.

"Mommy, we have to see them again next time!" Bautista looked at Roxana seriously.

Roxana laughed and promised:

"OK." I will definitely bring them back next time.

They weren't the only ones who liked it there. She also loved the view of the sea. After looking at the photos for a while, Roxana put the camera away and suggested to Luciano:

—Let's go back first. They need to change.

The children were wet from playing with the dolphins. Also, the sun was going down, and the sea breeze was a bit cool. Roxana was worried that they would get sick. Luciano nodded nonchalantly, so they both took the children back to the hotel. THE SECRET THAT SEPARATES US

Chapter 568 A Sound Within

In the hotel room, Roxana and Luciano washed the children, helped them change, and went out again. It was late. The breeze was slightly cool, with a faint scent of the sea. It was a nice feeling as she blew on her faces. Roxana took the children to the beach, since she had promised them that morning. It was very different compared to how crowded it was yesterday. There were very few people on the beach, and the whole place looked serene.

The waves gently crashed against the shoreline, creating a peaceful setting. Roxana was not able to contain herself, she took off her shoes and took the children for a walk on the beach, barefoot, which allowed her feet to feel the soft sand. Suddenly, Estela cried out in surprise.

"Oh!

Roxana turned to look at her, only to find Estela carefully kneeling down and picking up a colorful shell from the sand.

"Look, Miss Jerez!

Estela excitedly showed him the shell. Roxana pursed her lips and smiled.

"What a beautiful shell! You can keep it, Ella. You can use it for your crafts later.

Estela was also very happy about her discovery of her. She cleaned the conch carefully and studied it curiously for a long time. Although the Fariña family was wealthy, Estela never traveled far because of her autism. So, she had to see things like that in the books. In fact, it was the first time she had touched a conch shell. He caressed her lovingly.

"So, this is a shell! It's very pretty!"

The smile on Roxana's face deepened when she looked at how much she liked the conch. She took it and put it near Estela's ear from her. The girl tilted her head and gave her a confused look.

-Listen. Legend says that the shells have the sound of the waves. Can you hear them? Roxana looked at her with a smile.

When Estela heard that, her eyes lit up, and she paid attention. After a while, she nodded enthusiastically.

-Yeah! I can hear it!

This time, it was Roxana who was surprised. She was just playing with Estela, I never expected the girl to give her a definitive answer. For a moment, Roxana couldn't help but doubt herself. Andrés and Bautista came when Estela said that she heard the sound of the waves in her shell.

We also want to hear!

Roxana had doubts, even so, she placed the shell in the children's ears. After a while, Andrés and Bautista nodded enthusiastically with their shining eyes. Their reactions made Roxana even more suspicious. Unable to resist her curiosity from her, she put the conch to her ear from her and held her breath. However, there was no sound, all she heard was a gentle breeze. Roxana frowned slightly, then looked at the children, who made it look like a big deal. Luciano walked behind them, seeing their expressions, he asked confused:

-What's going on?

After hesitating for a few seconds, Roxana was about to change the subject and said that she was fine, but Estela's voice sounded before hers.

-Daddy! A conch!

Estela took Roxana's wrist from her and jumped with all her strength from her, she wanted her father to listen. Luciano frowned.

"Conch?" What's wrong with it?

Estela said in a serious tone.

"There's a sound inside!"

As soon as she heard that, Luciano turned to look at Roxana. He figured she had told them something.

“Daddy, listen!

Estela was being persistent in making Luciano listen. After all, Andrés, Bautista and Roxana had already done it. Luciano was the only one missing.

THE SECRET THAT SEPARATES US

Chapter 569: A Strange Kindness

Estela's insistence caused Roxana to show Luciano an awkward smile. Then, she reached out her arm from her and gave her the conch. To her surprise de ella, Luciano took her wrist de ella and brought the shell to her ear de ella. Roxana's hand de ella was so close to her face that her palm de ella could touch it if she moved a little. Realizing this, Roxana's face de ella stiffened, and she gritted her teeth, while she did her best to accommodate her wrist de ella at a certain angle. It was a long time before she released her hand from her.

-What happened? Did you hear something?

Estela stared at him. Luciano gave Roxana an incomprehensible look, raised an eyebrow and answered:

“Yep. I heard it.

Estela squealed excitedly when her father confirmed it.

Roxana realized that she had looked at her before, and she felt as if an electric current was running through her veins. After a few seconds, she regained her composure and smiled at the children as if nothing had happened.

-OKAY. Let's go find more, or the boys will take them.

Estela took the conch that Roxana had, nodded her head, took her hand from her, and walked forward. Meanwhile, after hearing the sound in the shell, Andrés and Bautista ran out impatiently to find their own shell. Roxana held Estela's hand from her, walking behind the children, from time to time she looked at him to make sure they were safe.

Suddenly, the children stopped and squatted down, their eyes fixed on something. Roxana was curious and went there with Estela.

"Mommy, look!

The children pointed out a small crab on the beach. They were as big as a thumb when she looked at it, and she was shyly crawling toward a white conch. As if surprised by the presence of humans, the crab covered its eyes with its hooves and continued to crawl towards the conch.

"How can I get it out?"

Bautista looked at the crab in frustration. It hadn't been easy for them to find one, and now, there was a crab in it, preventing them from taking the conch. Roxanne shook her head.

"It's a hermit crab. The shell in your home. We don't have to bother him and let's go find another one.

When they heard that, the children looked at the shell curiously for another long period of time. They even touched her gently and said in a sweet voice:

"Hello, little crab. Let's go to play together!

His actions from him started the crab, which caused him to come out of the conch and run away from them. Seeing that the creature fled, the children looked guiltily at Roxana. They just wanted to play, but they never expected the crab to be so scared. Roxana smiled and comforted them.

"Come on, maybe I'll come back when we're not here.

Hearing that, the children nodded their heads and walked away. At the same time, they kept looking back to see if the crab was coming back. Unfortunately, there was no sign of the crab, even when the conch was out of sight. The children were sad for a while, but quickly got distracted by something else.

While Roxana walked with them, from time to time, she stopped to take a couple of shells. She wanted to use them to make a necklace for Estela. Meanwhile, Luciano followed them from behind, at a moderate distance. A strange, warm look came from his eyes as he looked at them.

THE SECRET THAT SEPARATES US

Chapter 570 They Think Alike

It was getting dark on the beach, but there were more and more people. Roxana's anxiety spiked when she remembered the accident the night before. Although a day had already passed, she still got worried every time she saw a large crowd. She quickly rounded up the children and they left the beach. Coincidentally, it was dinner time. Luciano took them directly to the nearest restaurant.

The children's pockets were full of shells, they emptied them and put them on the table before starting a debate about who had the prettiest shells. Roxana's eyes softened and she was filled with amusement, as she watched the children trying to sell the shells they had in her possession of her.

After a while, the waiter came to their table with the food. Seeing that, the children reluctantly put them away. They were all hungry after spending the whole afternoon at the beach, so they kept quiet while they ate.

After dinner, Roxana and Luciano took the children to a craft workshop. The workshop had a variety of tools and materials to offer its customers, with the opportunity to explore their creativity and skills. Roxana and the children sat in a row as they began to work on their pieces.

During that time, Luciano sat to the side, waiting for them to finish. From time to time he helped the children polish or sand, but he left them the rest. Estela herself stared at the first coral she picked up with a frown, as if she was waiting for an idea to appear in her mind. She wanted to give the coral to Roxana, but he didn't know what to do. After thinking about it for a while, Estela carefully tugged on Luciano's sleeve and dragged him to her station. He shot a confused look at the little girl.

"Daddy." Estela looked at him with a pleading expression. "I want to give this to Miss Jerez as a present, but I don't know what to do with her."

Luciano's eyebrow of his arched at that request.

"I never thought I would want to give Roxana a gift, but crafting is not my specialty."

When he couldn't come up with an idea, wrinkles began to form on his forehead.

"I'm sure she'll like whatever you do.

Her answer from Ella was not much help to Estela, she gave Luciano a disappointed look and returned to her seat with a frown. Seeing her that way, Roxana went to Estela with a worried face.

"What's wrong, Ella?" Need help? I can help you with that.

Estela looked at Roxana for a couple of seconds, before taking her shell from her and showing it to her.

"What can I do with this, Miss Jerez?" she asked, pretending like it wasn't a gift to her.

Roxana looked at the conch in Estela's hand and became uneasy when she couldn't find an answer to her question from her. After thinking about it for a moment, she suggested,

"You can make a key chain. It is simple. All you have to do is punch a hole in the end.

Estela's eyes lit up at her suggestion of her and then she obediently nodded her head.

"Thank you, Miss Jerez.

Roxana smiled and returned to her station to finish her craft. Luciano was surprised to see that she also had a shell on her table from her. He hadn't noticed her when he'd picked her up from the beach. He watched her as she took two thin wires and carefully glued them to the conch. Despite having his hands full of her, he occasionally looked to the side to see how Estela was doing. An overwhelming mix of emotions stirred within him as he saw what he was doing.

"These two don't know their true identities, but they think alike."

He shifted his gaze to Andrés and Bautista, after having watched them for a while, he had no idea what the children were doing. She watched as they were sliding across the workshop table one moment and polishing their shells the next. Luciano watched them for a little longer, but he still had no idea what they were doing, so he looked away from him.