

The Strongest Assassin Reincarnates in Another World

- Chapter 141 - 141 - Emma Everheart vs Lucius Nightshade

Chapter 141 - 141 - Emma Everheart vs Lucius Nightshade

As fights continued to happen in the massive arena, the people around Aiden started to reduce little by little because the people who lost also disappeared from the Arena just like before.

They were probably sent somewhere so that they could choose what skill they wanted.

Well, that was what most thought as they had no idea otherwise.

Emma still hadn't fought as she still waiting beside Aiden, looking at him with care in her eyes. She still seemed to be worried about him as she would frequently ask the same question.

"Are you okay?"

Then, Aiden would answer "Yes, stop worrying for no reason."

That scene had happened a couple of times already and it seemed that she was quite worried about this whole matter.

Aiden could understand why since he had acted so out of place for absolutely no reason, well no apparent ones that she should know about.

But, Aiden still wasn't confident enough that he would be telling her everything. He knew that she held him dear, however, he couldn't risk his secret leaking and finding out that the head of the Nightshade Family knew of his existence because if it did then it would be a lot of problems for Aiden.

Aiden knew that they had no idea where he was now since he hadn't been in the Slums in a long time and he knew that Emily probably went to visit.

He wasn't sure what Emily, his maid, had decided to do because of his disappearance, but the only thing that he could guess at the moment was that Emily had reported it to the upper echelons of the Nightshade Family.

Did his father know that he had disappeared?

Aiden had no idea, his guess would be that he would know since even if he didn't consider Aiden his son, he would probably still want to know what happened to him.

But those were only guesses, Aiden had no idea what had happened when Emily reported his disappearance to the family.

That's why the position he is in currently is quite dangerous as people had all noticed him, being a really important person inside of the tournament.

He had wanted to stay lowkey, but that wasn't possible since he had Melinda and all that, so Aiden had decided that he should embrace his popularity.

If everyone had already noticed him, then why shouldn't he try his hardest and reach the end of the tournament?

There was no point in staying hidden any longer as there were about 30 or so people left.

This meant that they would soon reach the next round, however, before that, there were maybe three or four fights left since that depended on the number of people left as they needed to reach a perfect 25 people left.

Then, Aiden raised his hand, as he could that yet another person had lost.

Aiden wasn't idle not doing anything while waiting, he was also looking up at the stage analyzing all the participants who had come on it and fought.

However, not many had impressed him yet, only those from the founding families had done so.

Emma also hadn't come on the stage just yet, still waiting for an opponent and she was praying that she wouldn't be against one person.

And that person was without surprise Lucius Nightshade who was still idling around, looking at the ground.

It was like he was trying to say that he didn't even need to care about this to win this whole tournament.

Was it ego or was it because of his strength?

Well, in Aiden's opinion, it was both as it was almost sure that he had an ego and his strength would also be quite impressive since he came from the Nightshade Family.

Emma knew that he would be strong which was why, she wanted to fight anyone but him as fighting against him would almost be the same as losing.

She knew that if she fought Lucius, the son of the Nightshade Family, then her loss would be assured as she wouldn't be able to put up with him.

Then, Thorin's voice announced the winner of the fight that had just happened on top of the stage.

"And the winner is... Thomas!"

He, then, took a small break as he was preparing himself to calm up the participants for the next fight.

"Those fights really aren't that entertaining, what do you think?" he shouted, saying his opinion out loud.

Obviously, many agreed with him because the fights had been one-sided beatdowns since the start of this round of fights.

Except for Aiden, everyone that was left was part of either a high-levelled family or a founding family. It was clear that there was a massive gap between the families and it was even more apparent when participating in such a tournament.

"Well, we only need to endure three more fights before entering the real competition," shouted Thorin, inside the whole of the Arena.

"Alright, should we make it go by quick," he continued, wanting to hype the crowd which had gone silent for a long time now as they hadn't been entertained much in quite a time.

In fact, apart from Aiden's fight, there was not a single fight which caused an uproar or something similar. It seemed that Melinda's interference had calmed them down a little which was great.

"Alright, let's see some excitement in the crowd for Luuuucius Nightshade," he said as loud as he possibly could.

If someone from Earth were to see this, they would immediately think of a boxing match or something similar, however, Aiden who had no idea what they were, didn't think anything of it as he kept listening.

Emma who was right beside him, started to stress as she seemed to be praying to be not the one that would be chosen.

'Please let it not be me, please,' she begged inside of her mind, as she didn't want to lose so early in the tournament.

Sure, she had reached the top 50, but she wanted to go much further with Aiden by her side, she didn't want to leave him alone, especially with his recent mood swings.

"And his opponent will be... Emma Everheart," he shouted with less energy this time showing a clear contrast in who he favoured.

Thorin was like this, after all, he wasn't the type to be hiding things from others as he would simply say what comes to his mind right away without thinking about the repercussions at all.

He was just trying to entertain himself which was why he had decided on such a fight.

Thorin needed to see a beating, but a clean one as he knew that Lucius Nightshade would surely be able to do so as his opponent would literally be from a middle-level family.

It would literally be a no-match, but Thorin still kept his hopes up that maybe a surprise would happen in this fight.

However, he knew that the odds of Lucius losing were slim, like very slim.

Thorin didn't know what kind of training he had gone through, but he knew of the Nightshade Patriarch and his personality.

He knew that there was no way that Lucius had slacked off on his training because of his insane father.

Emma hearing her name being called panicked a little, she knew that this would be the end for her.

If she would've fought against anyone else, it would have been closer and she might have won, but against Lucius Nightshade, the protégé of the Nightshade family.

She had no chance.

"Well, good luck in the rest of the tournament," she whispered to Aiden, as she could feel herself being teleported onto the arena.

"Don't be so scared, raise your head up high and give your best," said Aiden, as he didn't want to see Emma lose so soon in the tournament and he didn't want to see her lose against a Nightshade.

But he could only watch.

Then, Aiden glanced at both sides of the Arena observing both Emma's and Lucius's comportment and behaviour.

And he had to admit that they were quite different, on one side there was Emma who was almost shacking in place, thinking that it was over and that she lost.

And on the other side, there was Lucius who was still looking at the ground not even worrying about the person he was fighting against as if it wouldn't matter at the end.

Emma, who was on the stage, was panicking, however, she remembered Aiden's last words before being teleported.

'Raise my head and give my best, huh?' she thought, as she did exactly that.

Her breathing which had been ragged started to slow down little by little, and her confidence which had been down started to come back.

It seemed that the small sentence of encouragement that Aiden had mustered had given Emma enough confidence to try and fight against the monster that she was fighting against.

Then, Thorin's voice once again resounded inside the Arena.

"The fight may begin!"

Chapter 142 - 142 - Emma Everheart vs Lucius Nightshade (2)

As the voice of Thorin resounded inside of the arena, Emma and Lucius both didn't move which was weird, especially when someone would be announcing the start of the fight.

Normally, both opponents would try to end each other's lives as soon as they could by running as fast as possible toward one another.

But, this time it was different, as both of them were slowly moving toward one another.

Well, let me correct that, it was only Emma which was currently moving, as Lucius was still immobile looking at the ground.

Not caring about this fight at all, well... that was what it looked like from a distance.

Emma who had her bow in her hand started to draw as she put all the strength which she could possibly muster into that one shot, even fusing it with a skill of hers which made her arrows more powerful.

Then, when she was ready, she glanced one last time toward Lucius, making sure that he hadn't moved yet and that he was still not paying attention to anything around him.

When she had confirmed that he still hadn't moved, she released her arrow as a massive resounded throughout the arena.

Even Aiden who had heard her shooting arrows often, had never heard such a powerful noise from only one arrow begin released.

SWOOSH

It started to move faster and faster toward Lucius's head, but Lucius still hadn't moved a single muscle, still looking with a dead-pan expression at the ground.

This caused everyone around to doubt what they were seeing, and why was Lucius Nightshade still not moving.

Because if it kept being immobile then he would die.

Even the referee started to have some sweat on his face as he just couldn't understand what was happening to the Nightshade protege.

It was supposed to be a simple fight, one where the victor would be determined in a single second.

But it seemed that everyone had been wrong because of Lucius's behaviour.

Even Aiden who was watching just couldn't understand why he wouldn't try and win as soon as Thorin announced the start of the fight.

In his mind, it simply made no sense, however, he kept watching as it still wasn't done.

Even, the founding families heads started to look weirdly at the Nightshade Patriarch as they couldn't understand what his son was doing.

And without much surprise, Thorin was the most vocal about it, as he didn't back down from insulting Lucius and the Nightshade Family.

However, as the arrow was getting closer and closer to Lucius, one small movement came out of Lucius.

If someone was too far away then they wouldn't have been able to see it, Lucius had only moved his hand upward really fast, before putting it back to its earlier position.

And because of that movement, the arrow which was sure to hit him, started to deviate upwards for no apparent reason.

Lucius had only moved his hand and the arrow which contained all of Emma's strength had changed its course.

He had been able to do such a thing without even breaking a sweat.

Emma just couldn't begin to imagine what would happen if he were to move as he was still back to his immobile position, patiently waiting for god knows what.

Emma started to draw another arrow putting as much strength as she humanly could.

And she released it once again, however, the same exact scene happened.

This time, Lucius moved his hand to the right and the arrow went exactly in that direction.

Emma just couldn't understand how such a thing was possible, it was as if the world was obeying all of Lucius's commands.

Whatever he would do, the world and the environment would listen.

It was simply crazy, and Aiden was literally as confused as her.

From the smallest of his hands, he would be able to influence his surroundings.

Aiden who was seeing this, just couldn't help but imagine himself in Emma's situation trying to win against such an opponent and no matter how hard he tried to think about it, he couldn't even see himself winning.

However, he wouldn't draw conclusions yet as he still hadn't seen the person fight. Nonetheless, without even moving he had left a deep impression on everyone watching the fight.

Then, it wasn't his hand which moved this time but his legs as he started to slowly walk toward Emma who kept shooting arrows toward him.

But, those didn't matter as he kept doing a simple move with his hands to deflect it.

She also knew that she wouldn't have the time to activate the Everheart Technique, so she decided to change her plan completely still thinking about what Aiden had said earlier.

'Just do your best.'

That was the thought that was currently inside of Emma's mind which kept coming over and over again, giving her the confidence to do her next move.

She opened her inventory, letting go of the bow and grabbing a completely new weapon which wasn't her cup of tea.

A weapon which she had trained shortly with Aiden before he went A-wall on her, a dagger.

Realizing that her bow and arrows were useless, she didn't have any other choice but to pick up a close-range weapon.

Then, she started to advance slowly toward Lucius wondering whether or not he was about to do some weird move against him.

Lucius didn't change his pace and didn't even seem surprised to see another come out of Emma, as he kept an emotionless face.

It was as if nothing could perturb him, as he kept advancing.

Aiden seeing that face was weirded out as it made him think of himself before transmigrating.

He remembered always being emotionless always killing the next opponent that was in his way.

He was never rushed or scared as he was just doing what he was asked to do.

The more he looked at Lucius the more Aiden started to see his old self inside of him.

He had to admit that it was quite a weird sensation to feel.

But, nevertheless, he stopped thinking about his past life as only bad memories would come to his mind and started thinking about the present.

He was excited to see what Emma was about to pull off with a dagger in her hands.

Aiden obviously remembered a little about him teaching her and wondered if she had gotten better with it since then.

Then, he looked at Lucius who still didn't have any weapon in his hands, keeping the same pace as earlier.

The people in the stands that Lucius was scary as if there was nothing that could stop him or hurt him.

Thorin who was with the other heads, was beginning to feel annoyed as nothing was happening. There were only walking toward one another for absolutely no reason.

"Hey, stupid, tell your son to pick up the pace. If this continues, I'll fall asleep," said Thorin, as he couldn't be bothered by such an actionless fight.

Sure, he had been impressed by how Lucius had deviated from Emma's arrows, but that was it.

After that, nothing else had happened, except for the fact that they were both slowly getting closer to one another.

The Nightshade Patriarch had only one thing to say about Thorin's annoying behaviour.

"Shut up and watch, you won't be bored soon," he said with confidence as he knew what was going to happen next.

He had seen his son fight multiple times and whenever he was acting this way, there was literally no way for him to lose as he was completely focused on the task ahead of him, not letting him get distracted by anything.

Thorin hearing the confidence inside of the Nightshade Patriarch's voice, went back to his seat anticipating a big moment.

Then, as Emma and Lucius started to get closer and closer to each other, Lucius accelerated out of nowhere appearing right beside of Emma with a dagger in his hands.

From Emma's vision, he had completely disappeared from her sight to appear right beside her. She hadn't been able to see anything of what happened.

'What?' she thought, as she felt pain inside of her shoulder.

Blood started to come out of it, however, Emma hadn't even seen Lucius attack her. He didn't even have a weapon goddammit.

Then, Emma glanced toward one of Lucius's hands and saw a bloody dagger in his hands.

'But how?' she thought, shocked.

She was paralyzed by fear as she couldn't move anymore.

That person in front of her was simply too powerful. He had disappeared and reappeared right beside her, and during that moment, he had found the time to slash her in the shoulder.

Emma hurt on the shoulder couldn't use her arm anymore as it was too painful to move, and then as everyone had become silent in the crowd, a single voice made them realize that the fight was already over.

It was Thorin's voice which resounded inside of the arena and he had to admit that the Nightshade Patriarch hadn't been wrong this time.

That last move of Lucius had been spectacular, well... for those who had caught sight of it.

Everyone in the crowd started to roar over such a spectacular move as most of them hadn't even been able to see what had just happened.

One minute, Lucius was at least 50 meters away from Emma, and the next moment, he was standing beside her with a bloody dagger in his hands.

However, incomprehension didn't change the fact that they all started cheering.

Chapter 143 - 143 - Emma's Elimination

Emma was now on the stage, sad.

She had just lost in a one-sided battle as she hadn't been able to do anything against the person in front of her.

He had been too fast, too strong, too everything. Lucius had been better than her in every single aspect.

Aiden was also of the same opinion and he had to admit that the winning move of Lucius had been one of a kind.

Even Aiden hadn't been able to fully grasp what had just happened, the only thing which he had caught was the slash that Lucius had made to Emma's shoulder, but he hadn't even been able to grasp his movement.

And the movement aspect was what Aiden was the most confident in, however, he was stumped no matter how hard he thought about it, he couldn't grasp what had happened.

How could he move at such an insane speed?

Was it a skill or a technique?

Aiden wasn't sure but he knew that if he couldn't figure it out, then it would be a massive problem in the future.

Then as cheers started to take over the arena, the voice of Thorin, once again, resounded inside the arena.

"Without much surprise, Lucius Nightshade has won this fight," he exclaimed as cheers continued to sound inside the arena.

Thorin had obviously anticipated such a win, and he had to mention what he had just seen at the end.

"I don't know if any of you could see the speed at which he moved at the end, but it was simply incredible," continued Thorin, congratulating Lucius who still had the same look on his face even when winning.

Even when winning, it seemed as if he had no emotion which was a clear contrast to Emma who almost had tears in her eyes.

However before we could see her cry or react in some weird way, she disappeared from the arena just like all the previous participants.

No one had any idea where she had gone to, but she was probably in the process of choosing her skill, that was what everyone was telling themselves at least.

Then, after she disappeared, Lucius got teleported out of the Arena and returned to his previous self where all he would do was look at the ground not even paying attention to his surroundings.

Aiden, seeing this, thought that it really was quite weird for him to act in such a way.

He had literally just won a place in the top 25 of the tournament, but he still had absolutely no reaction.

It was as if he was a robot, or the other option was that he simply didn't care about this tournament as he was much stronger than everyone here.

Aiden had to admit that if he did the move that he had just done then he would lose just as badly.

He was a little stronger than Emma now that he had a technique, but he was still close to her in terms of power, so if she had gotten annihilated in such a fight then Aiden would suffer almost the same result.

And he simply couldn't think of a way to counter such skill as he hadn't even been able to see it from the side, so he couldn't even begin to imagine how it must have felt during the fight.

Emma must have been scared shitless when she had lost sight of Lucius suddenly.

'But how did he do that?' thought Aiden, as he needed to understand or else he would suffer the exact same fate as Emma.

He didn't have any idea, but then he felt someone tap him on the shoulder while the other fights were ongoing.

Aiden turned himself toward the direction of the person who had tapped his shoulder and was surprised to see that it was the other Nightshade who had appeared with Lucius earlier.

Getting a closer look at her, Aiden had to admit that she was extremely beautiful, her face was simply perfect, and her body was also beautiful to look at.

Her forms from her ass to her tits were literally perfect in terms of proportion, however, Aiden felt that his looking at her body made the person in front of him quite uncomfortable as he noticed that her face was now completely red.

"Um, sorry, I didn't mean to," said Aiden, apologizing right away.

He was shy about what he had just done.

He wasn't the type to do such a thing, but his eyes had been attracted by those beautiful melons of hers.

Then, as he looked up, he looked directly into her eyes, waiting for her to talk as it was she who had come to see him.

"Um, yeah don't worry about it," she said, accepting his apologies.

Then, she became silent for a bit which created a pretty awkward atmosphere.

"Um, do I know you?" she asked, a bit later.

Because since earlier she had been thinking that his figure resembled someone she knew well, however, with his mask, she couldn't confirm no matter how much she wanted to.

So, having no other option, she went up to him in hopes that he would be telling her whether or not that was the case.

She knew that the person in front of her could lie, however, she thought that she would be able to recognize him based on his voice.

Because if it was someone she knew then there probably wouldn't be a problem recognizing who she was.

Well, that was what she thought, as she waited for the Reaper to answer.

Aiden, who heard her question, was confused as to how she had been able to think that she knew of him.

Nonetheless, the answer which he would be giving was going to be a simple one, he would simply deny that they knew each other as this was kind of the truth.

The present Aiden had no idea who she was, however, the past one might have an idea of who she was but that didn't matter.

The present Aiden also knew that the person in front of him wasn't supposed to be a bad person based on the emotions he had felt earlier.

However, he wouldn't let those emotions dictate the choices he was about to make.

That's why he decided to deny that they knew each other.

"Um, no, should we?" he answered, acting confused about this whole matter.

"Hm, maybe it's been a long time, my name's Lilia, does that ring a bell?" she asked

Aiden didn't know why but she seemed sure of herself that they knew each other however, he had no idea how that was even remotely possible as Aiden was masked and his physique had changed a lot in these past months.

"Lilia? Um, let me think," said Aiden, acting like he was thinking about it, when he was just waiting to answer.

"Um, no that really doesn't ring a bell, why should we know each other?" asked Aiden once again, wanting to know why she had gone up to him confidently.

She seemed disappointed by this whole matter, as she kept shaking her head from left to right.

"What's your name? I'm sure that we met before," she said, insisting.

It seemed that she wouldn't let it go until she was sure that she had no connection with Aiden.

But, Aiden couldn't really reveal to a Nightshade his name now, could he?

"Sorry, I don't want to," answered Aiden, not even trying to find another option or trying to lie to her as it didn't matter since she couldn't force him to answer.

'I thought that his voice would help me, but I'm in the dark,' she thought looking at Aiden's masked face.

"What do you want? You must know that I'm from the Nightshade family, we have a lot of resources," she added at the end, wanting to convince him.

It seemed like the means didn't matter in this case as Lilia wanted to know who was hiding behind that mask.

However, Aiden's stance was clear, he wouldn't reveal his identity no matter what.

"I don't want anything, oh well... I do want something."

Lilia immediately jumped at the opportunity.

"What? What is it that you want?"

Aiden laughed a little before saying it.

"I want you to leave me alone, can you do that?"

Lilia was insulted as this was the first time that someone had talked to her in such a way. Usually, people would always try to sugarcoat their words, especially when talking to someone who was part of a founding family.

However, Aiden didn't care about all those things as he had simply said what he wanted.

"Um, the reason that you want me away? Is it because I'm making you uncomfortable," she said, insinuating that maybe she wasn't completely wrong.

If he wanted a beautiful person like her to go away, then there had to be something.

There was no way he would be asking that of someone from a founding family. Well, that was what Lilia thought.

Chapter 144 - 144 - Lilia's Deal

"Making me uncomfortable? Yeah, you do. I don't even know you and you're getting all close to me," said Aiden, acting as if he was mad with her current actions.

It was simple, he would act in a way that would make Lilia want to leave him alone, that was basically what he was going after.

However, when he saw a big smile on Lilia's face, he knew that he had messed up.

He wasn't sure why, but that smile scared him a little. He knew that she was about to say something which Aiden wouldn't like at all.

"Well, you sure didn't seem to mind me getting all close to you earlier," she said, smiling.

She was happy that she had found something to contradict him about.

And her smile grew even bigger when she saw Aiden's red face, which was clearly still embarrassed about his earlier actions.

"T-that... I didn't do anything, alright" muttered Aiden, who was shy about that whole matter.

He wasn't proud to have looked kind of lustfully at her body, he honestly didn't know why he had done such a thing.

"Yeah, you didn't do anything, huh?" said Lilia, teasing him.

She wanted to make him feel bad so that he would try and get pardoned by her. But, she wasn't sure if it was going to work.

Her guess was that it wouldn't but she would still try, it's not like she was about to lose something by simply trying.

"Maybe I looked at you a little, but that was it. It wasn't anything big," said Aiden, who was still completely red.

If one would look at him right now, one would have difficulty differentiating him and a tomato.

"I guess you looking at my body wasn't a big deal, huh?" continued Lilia, trying to make him feel as bad as possible.

Aiden was once again flushed when she heard her answer.

Aiden also didn't know why but the emotions which he had kept inside of him for the past month or so, were starting to come out a lot more easily.

Because he wasn't the type to hold a conversation like that with a stranger at all.

"That wasn't what I meant," pleaded Aiden, not knowing what to say.

"Um, sure. Well, don't worry it wasn't that big of a deal, no need to feel bad for it. However, if you do then... maybe... you could show me your face," she said as she pleaded with her eyes.

She looked like a cute puppy that wanted to have a treat, however, all she wanted to have was a glance at Aiden's face.

However, even if Aiden was entertaining the conversation for the moment in no way, did it mean that he would reveal what he looked like.

He wasn't stupid, he knew that if Lilia recognized him then she would say to everyone in her family that Aiden was still alive and well.

And such a situation was something that Aiden wanted to escape at all costs because he had promised himself that he would never be going back to the Nightshade Family.

Just thinking about doing such a thing was making Aiden turn into a sour mood, as he just couldn't imagine the conversation that he would have with his father.

He knew that it would be a conversation of misery and awkwardness. Aiden wanted to dodge those types of scenarios at all costs.

"Um, I'm sorry but my face really is off limits, but I could do something else for you," proposed Aiden as there was literally a zero percent chance that he would be showing his face to anyone present here.

Hearing this, Lilia started thinking deeply as she didn't answer right away.

'Maybe I could ask him for a favour? Argh, but that wouldn't work, he would refuse,' she thought, immediately refusing such an idea as it literally no sense.

He wouldn't accept a favour if he wouldn't show her his face.

'Oh, maybe I can make a deal with him, actually.'

She suddenly had a great idea.

There was not an ounce of doubt in her mind that Aiden would accept as it would help win the rest of the tournament.

"Um, actually I know that you said that you didn't want anything. But I think I have something which you would appreciate a lot," said Lilia, smiling mysteriously.

Aiden was once again intrigued by the smile that she was showing him.

He didn't know what sort of deal she was about to propose to him, but he knew that it wasn't going to be a bad one as she seemed somewhat excited about it.

"What is it? I'm all ears," responded Aiden, clearly showing that he wasn't close to negotiations.

However, there was one thing where he wouldn't budge, the reveal of his face.

But, if it would concern something else then he wouldn't mind hearing what she had to propose to him.

"Did you watch the fight with Lucius inside it?" she asked beforehand, making sure that he would at least be interested in the information which she was about to propose.

Aiden found that question stupid as pretty much around here had watched it and had been shocked.

In fact, Aiden was almost sure that she had seen him look at the fight which was why she was asking him that.

She was basically sure of his answer, however, she was still acting all innocent.

"Yeah, I did see it, why?" responded Aiden, sure that her proposal would have this aspect as a central aspect.

He wasn't sure of it, but he knew that there were good chances that it would be the case.

"Well, as you know, I'm part of the Nightshade Family," said Lilia as she noticed that Aiden had nodded, confirming what she had just said.

"So basically, Lucius, the one who just obliterated your friend here, is quite powerful as you noticed."

Aiden once again nodded confirming what she was saying as he couldn't really disagree for the moment as all she was saying were plain facts.

"Yeah and?" said Aiden, wondering where this whole thing was going.

"Well, you saw that last move of his where he moved really fast and defeated your friend," she said talking about the impossible speed that he had reached at the end which had even fooled Aiden.

Aiden quickly nodded as this interested him a lot, he wanted to figure it out, but he didn't know how.

"Yeah I saw it, why?" said Aiden as he was getting impatient that Lilia just wouldn't say what she wanted to say, always delaying it.

"Well, I thought that maybe you would be interested in having some information about that last move of his, so that... I don't know, you can counter it."

Immediately, Aiden was interested as it would give him a small edge over Lucius, well an edge over the information he currently had which was honestly not much.

"And what do you want against that information?" asked Aiden, knowing that everything would cost something in this world.

Nothing would ever be free, especially when it would benefit only one side of the coin.

Lilia seemed pensive, acting as if she didn't already know what she wanted.

"Well, what do you say that I give you this information and that you reveal your face to me."

However, when she saw the disapproving look on Aiden's face she knew that it was already a lost cause, so quickly added something to her sentence as she really wanted to know who was behind that Reaper mask.

She didn't know why but she could feel that it was important for her to find out.

"But you don't need to reveal it to me right now, only at the end of the tournament. What do you say?" said Lilia, asking for his opinion.

Aiden fell into his thoughts for a bit, wondering whether or not such a thing was possible to realize.

'Either way at the end of the tournament, I'll need to join the Emberbane family. So she'll probably see me or something like that. Also, with the Emberbane family protection, there shouldn't be a problem for the Nightshade family to learn about my existence,' thought Aiden, trying to think that maybe it wouldn't change much if she found out about him at the end of the tournament.

Then, he looked back up, right into Lilia's eyes, with a serious look on his face.

"That would be possible, however, I will only show you my appearance at the end of the tournament," said Aiden, putting emphasis on the end of his sentence.

Lilia, however, didn't seem to mind it at all as she had gotten what she had wanted since the very start of this conversation and it wasn't like she would have to wait for a long time before seeing it.

"So, are you going to tell me about that move Lucius did at the end or not?" asked Aiden, who was impatient to learn something new.

Chapter 145 - 145 - Flash Step

Lilia hearing the impatience in Aiden's voice didn't wait any longer and started to explain to Aiden how Lucius had been able to move at such a speed and slash Emma without her even noticing it.

"Well, first of all, before I explain it to you. I need you to promise me that you won't reveal this information to anyone or else I will be in a lot of problems with my family," she said, warning Aiden that he shouldn't go rambling about the information which she was about to give.

Aiden obviously nodded as he didn't have anyone to tell this to, apart from Emma but well... she wasn't here right now as she had been eliminated.

"Alright, so the move that you saw Lucius perform is called Flash Step. It isn't a skill like you probably thought, but a technique that's a part of my family," explained Lilia as she stopped speaking wanting to see if Aiden had grasped all of that information.

Seeing him listening attentively, she continued her little speech.

"As you probably know, the Nightshade Family is in general composed of assassins which is why a movement technique like that is ridiculously strong in our hands."

'The Nightshade Family is full of assassins?' thought Aiden, learning more and more information just by listening to her ramble on random things.

"The Flash Step, is one of the hardest techniques we possess and not many have been able to learn it. In fact, I haven't been able to, even if I have tried ever since that I was little," she said, clearly a little sad about that fact.

However, she had revealed that information to tell Aiden or rather the Reaper that such a technique really wasn't child's play at all.

Aiden, however, already knew that such an incredible technique would be hard to learn. Based on his experience as an assassin, movement techniques like the one he was using, are the hardest thing to learn.

That's why it took Aiden years of training to learn about [Shadow Steps].

But then as he continued thinking about useless things, Lilia had already continued her explanation about Flash Step.

"I won't give you the technique, but I will tell you some cues that you can notice whenever Lucius is about to use Flash Step. Personally, that's how I'm able to react to Lucius when we spar together."

'Even if I can barely react to it,' she thought as she knew that the spars between her and Lucius could be counted on a single hand.

"What are those cues?" asked Aiden as he noticed that Lilia had stopped talking.

"Oh, right, sorry about that. There are two things which you can notice whenever Lucius is about to use Flash Step. Please consider that I'm only talking about Lucius and that you may not be able to find such cues when others use it," she said, emphasizing the fact that she was especially talking about Lucius.

Aiden nodded in understanding as he knew that habits when regarding techniques could change depending on the person using them.

That was probably why Lilia had said such a thing.

"Alright, so the first and most obvious clue, is that he will move at quite a slow pace without accelerating or slowing down. He would keep the same pace in his movement for at least five seconds, at least, that's what I noticed," she said, clearly indicating that she didn't know everything.

Aiden nodded as he noticed that he had been moving at the same pace for a while before performing his move.

Though Aiden wasn't sure if it would help in a fight as even Lilia didn't seem so sure of that information, however, he still noted it inside his mind.

Because who knew when he would be able to use that information?

Then, Lilia once again her mouth as she was about to talk about the second cue which she had noticed in her spars against Lucius.

"The second cue is much more difficult to see, however, I'm sure that he would do it before performing it," said Lilia, sounding quite confident about this cue.

There was a clear contrast between her telling this cue and the one before that. She seemed to be a lot more confident in herself when talking about this one.

Aiden wondered what it was going to be as he wasn't sure if he would have noticed it when he fought Emma.

He tried to think of something, but no matter how hard he tried, he wasn't able to.

"Maybe you noticed it, or maybe you didn't but when he did his Flash Step, he will always clench one of his fists. I don't know why he does that, but all I know is that he does it."

'He clenches one of his fists?' thought Aiden, not understanding why he would do something like that.

Was it part of the technique?

Well, it didn't seem so as even Lilia was confused as to why he would do such a thing.

Aiden nodded, taking note of it, as he continued asking about something else.

"And how do we counter this Flash Step of his, do we just run away when he clenches one of his fists?" asked Aiden, wondering if it was possible to counterattack when Lucius would be executing such a move.

However, looking at Lilia's face, he could already kind of guess the answer that she was about to muster.

"Well, in my personal experience, just reacting to it is already considered quite an achievement, so counterattacking sounds impossible."

But then, when looking at the look on Aiden's face she quickly corrected her statement.

"Well, in my opinion, maybe you could pull it off," she said trying to raise Aiden's morale.

Aiden was obviously unhappy with the answer that she had given him because that would mean that Lucius would be able to have a technique with absolutely no counter.

He knew that the only way for him to counter him was to always attack without giving a single moment to prepare his Flash Step.

It wasn't a bad solution but he had hoped for something more, like some sort of secret strategy to completely counter the skill, however, it seemed that such things didn't exist.

"Um, thanks if there anything else I should know about that technique?" asked Aiden, who was about to end this conversation for good wanting to concentrate on the fight's next round.

He didn't know who he was going to face, but he would make it to win.

Well, that's what he would be hoping for at least.

He had made quite a deep impression with his death aura, and he hoped to do the same thing again, especially now that he was in the top 25 of the tournament.

Aiden was also excited to hear about the rewards for those who had reached this stage of the Inter Family Tournament.

But, well that would be in a couple of minutes as there were still people fighting themselves over a spot in the top 25.

"Something else that you would need to know?" she questioned herself, seemingly thinking about whether or not she had said everything.

"Um, I think I said everything. What matters now is whether or not you'll be able to dodge his Flash Step," said Lilia with a smile on her face, as if encouraging him.

She knew very well how hard it was to dodge, so she could only hope that he would be able to do so with the little tips that she had given him.

"Oh, and remember, don't tell anyone about the Flash Step. Am I clear? Or else people from my family will probably come after you," she said, kind of, threatening him but not so much at the same time.

Aiden had to admit that she didn't seem to be a bad person at all, maybe that was why he hadn't felt hatred when he had first seen her.

Well, whatever it might have been, Aiden had to admit that if he faced Lucius in the next round that it would be really hard for him to win.

But, he dismissed those thoughts as Lilia was still in front of him, waiting for him to confirm that he wouldn't talk about this to anyone.

"Don't worry, I won't tell a soul. I'll hold my word about showing you my face," said Aiden, as he said his goodbyes to Lilia.

He had a lot of stuff to go over and he couldn't help but glance at Lucius who was still looking at the ground not too far from him.

Seeing Lucius's fight, Aiden knew that his biggest threat was Lucius and that he had to pay special attention to whatever he would try to do when fighting him.

Then, after having a quick look at Lucius, he looked toward the stage wanting to know whether or not they could pass this whole round of fighting as Aiden was honestly eager to fight once again.

He wanted to prove that he wouldn't lose against anyone. He wanted to prove that it didn't matter from which family you would come from.

Chapter 146 - 146 - Two Fights Instead of One?!

Then, as Aiden and Lilia separated themselves, Thorin who had been silent for a while waiting for the last fight to finally end, could finally announce that they were at the top 25 stage and that the tournament would soon be finished.

However, there was a clear problem, they were 25 which meant that someone won't have to fight during this first round.

"Now, that there are only 25 people left, I think it's time to talk about what would happen to the one person who could be considered to be the odd one," announced Thorin.

The twenty-five people who were left started to look around themselves, trying to understand what had Thorin just said.

They knew that not everyone would be able to fight in the next round as one person would be able to skip this round or something similar to that.

"Because we're 25, there will have someone who will have to fight two times to go to the next round, and the ones who will select the one who will have to participate twice will be... all of you in the crowd!" shouted Thorin as loud as he could, his voice resounding everywhere inside the arena;

The crowd who had just heard that they would have a role to play all started cheering as loudly as they possibly could.

They were happy that there were going to choose someone who was about to suffer and in almost everyone's head the choice was simple.

There was one person which almost everyone hated because of his past actions, that's why they all started chanting a name as loudly as they could.

"The Reaper! The Reaper! The Reaper!"

It resounded again and again and again, it seemed that if no one would be interfering that it would continue on forever.

Aiden hearing them shout his name, he wasn't surprised at all as he had already expected such a thing to happen when he had heard Thorin say that the crowd would be able to choose who would be fighting two times.

The crowd which had just made their choice quite clear were all smiling seeing that the person who had made tricked this whole tournament by making a deal would have to fight two times to keep his place for the step of the tournament.

"I don't know about all of you, but I think that their choice is quite obvious. What do you think Mister Reaper?" said Thorin, laughing a little as he said that.

'Was it a rule that they made on the spot?' thought Aiden, unsure whether or not this was planned since the very beginning.

Hearing the crowd approve of what Thorin had just said, Aiden now had no choice but to accept his fate.

He would have to fight two times to keep his spot.

However, there was one thing that the crowd ignored, it was that Aiden didn't care how many times he would have to fight as long as he would win this damn tournament.

Even if his path would be more difficult than the others, in his mind, it didn't matter at all.

If he needed to fight twenty times to reach the next stage, then he would be doing it.

But, he dismissed those thoughts when he heard the voice of Thorin which resounded throughout the arena.

"However, the question here is... who will our Reaper face?" asked Thorin throughout the whole of the Arena.

People in the crowd shouted many different names but Lucius's name always resounded a lot more frequently than the others.

However, this time, the crowd wouldn't be the ones deciding who Aiden would face, the founding families' heads would do that job and they had already agreed about who he would fight first and it wouldn't be Lucius.

The reason that it wouldn't be Lucius was unknown to Aiden, but the founding families' head knew it very well, it was because of Melinda.

It was in her best interest for Aiden to stay in the tournament for as long as possible which was why she supported him to the best of her abilities.

She didn't want him to fight Lucius because he was obviously the favourite which was why she decided to pick someone who could be considered the weakest in the entirety of the top 25.

But, don't be mistaken, if that person had reached the top 25 then he would surely be really strong, there was no doubt about it.

Nonetheless, in terms of strength and abilities, he was determined as the weakest that was it.

So, Melinda had tried her absolute best to make Aiden fight a guy named Paul and she had succeeded in doing so.

She had made it so that Aiden's first fight would be against the weakest person in all of the top 25, well... in her opinion.

She had watched the fights of all participants and in her opinion Paul was lucky to still be part of the tournament as he had nothing special reattached to him.

"No it won't be Lucius and I know that many would have wanted to see that fight, but maybe not for the right reasons,ahaha," said Thorin as he started laughing, as he knew that people were shouting this name because they wanted to the Reaper getting completely annihilated.

"But before you all start fighting, I'll need to announce the rewards for reaching this far in the tournament," said Thorin as he waited a little to grasp the attention of all the participants.

And it seemed that the word "reward" had caught all of their attention, well except for one person.

That person without much surprise was Lucius as he hadn't even raised his head yet, not caring about his surroundings at all or that was what it looked like as no one knew what was going on inside of his mind.

The crowd and everyone around who hadn't seen him before couldn't help but be confused about his overall actions.

But, they didn't focus on him too long as Thorin continued talking about the rewards.

"The reward for having reached the top 25 of the tournament, will be an item of your choice which will be crafted here in the Ravenwood territory by some of our best blacksmiths," announced Thorin, happy to see those looks of anticipation onto all of their faces.

He was happy that all those talented awakeners recognized that the Ravenwoods were the absolute best at crafting weapons or any sort of item as a matter of fact.

However, he quickly went on to a completely different subject as he needed to remind everyone about something.

"Also, don't forget that all the rewards that I will announce will be accumulated over the different stages that you reached, so basically you will have both a weapon and a skill of your choice. Personally, I think that those are pretty damn good rewards."

All of the participants also seemed to be agreeing with him except those from the founding families as they already had access to such things, but those from high-level families all seemed extremely happy.

Aiden was, of course, also really happy about this whole thing.

"Then, I think that I talked for a bit too long, shouldn't we start that first fight between the Reaper and Paul!" shouted Thorin announcing Aiden's opponent.

However, hearing Aiden's opponent most of the people in the crowd seemed to be unhappy as they had seen Paul fight in the last round of fights and they hadn't been impressed, to say the least.

Nonetheless, that wasn't the only fight that Aiden would have to win to reach the next stage, so it could be considered as fair for him to face the weakest opponent first.

Then, as Thorin announced Aiden's opponent, Aiden could feel himself being teleported onto the arena where he would be facing his opponent who seemed determined to end it with Aiden.

This time, Aiden wasn't being clouded by his emotions which meant that his dark aura hadn't been released yet.

However, if Aiden were to be in bad shape or if he were to be losing the fight then he probably wouldn't hesitate to use that dark aura.

But, for this fight, he decided that he would reveal one of his cards which he had hidden up his sleeve until now.

The skill which he had gotten when he had first arrived in this new world.

The skill which, in his opinion, was the strongest that he had.

A beeping sound resounded in his head as he activated it.

[Your skill <Mind of an Assassin> has been activated.]

As that voice resounded inside his mind, red energy started to be released from Aiden's body and as he looked in front of him, he could see an image of himself who was testing different paths to win this fight as quickly as possible.

He hadn't revealed this skill yet as he didn't want the others participating to know about it as Aiden didn't know if the counters of that skill.

Then, as his body's afterimage seemed to have found the right path to completely destroy his opponent. The voice of Thorin resounded inside the arena announcing the start of this fight which would determine whether or not Aiden would stay inside of the tournament.

However for all those watching, they knew that they were about to watch a one-sided beating.

Paul just wasn't on the same level as Aiden, it was as simple as that.

Complete annihilation would be coming and the crowd would all watch it. They were a bit disappointed that the Reaper would reach further in the tournament, but they couldn't do much to change it.

Chapter 147 - 147 - [Mind of an Assassin]

Then, some strange red energy seemed to come out of Aiden's body.

The reason for that was that he had just activated his skill [Mind of an Assassin]. Those who were in the crowd were shocked that Aiden had another aura and that the last one he had shown wasn't the only one he possessed.

However, the crowd was a little wrong as the black aura that Aiden had shown in the last fight, was the only one that he owned. The red one which was coming off his body was "artificial" as it came from a skill.

Nonetheless, the crowd couldn't know that, as they were all shocked as having two auras was quite rare.

Then, as everyone was shocked by such a thing, the voice of Thorin resounded inside the arena as he was about to announce the start of this fight.

"This fight will determine who will be continuing in the tournament. Will it be Paul or the Reaper? Who would be able to stay in the tournament?" asked Thorin, wanting to hear what the crowd had to say.

Some of them were half-heartedly shouting in support of Paul as they didn't want to see Aiden, but they knew that there was a clear winner in this fight.

Their opinions were based on the last fights which they had seen and they had to admit that Paul might have gotten this far by pure luck.

But, who knows?

Maybe that would change with this fight.

"Um, the opinions are pretty mixed, then I guess we don't have any other choice but to let them show us who will be the winner," shouted Thorin, who was still in the same room as the other founding families' heads.

Then, cheers and roars could be heard from the crowd because of how excited they were feeling.

The moment Thorin gave the signal that they could go ahead and fight, Aiden didn't lose any time as he dashed as fast as he could toward Paul with a single thing in his mind.

Defeat him.

Aiden wasn't dashing without any idea in his mind as he was currently following his body's afterimage making sure that he copied exactly what it did.

He knew that his skill [Mind of an Assassin] had been his greatest skill since it was seriously overpowered.

The skill was basically able to tell him the best way to approach a fight or a situation. The only time in which he had failed to use it and win with it was in the duel where Aiden fought against Emma for the very first time.

He remembered being hit by an arrow which had rendered his skill completely useless, but apart from that one moment, there was not a single time where it had put him in a bad situation.

In the Parkour Challenge, the first trial, there were so many occasions where this skill had been able to support him that he had no choice but to acknowledge it as his best skill.

Aiden didn't own a skill which could have such an impact on a fight, and he was about to prove it as he continued to run in his opponent's direction.

His afterimage which had been going straight toward Paul, then shifted a little to the right.

The reason why he had done that was unknown to Aiden, but he still followed right behind it, trusting his skill.

He had no reason to not trust it, after all.

Then, Aiden realized why this afterimage of his had gone a little to the right.

The reason was simple, there had been an arrow which had been aimed directly at Aiden's head which made a similar piercing to the arrows which Emma would release.

'So, he's an archer,' thought Aiden, finally learning of his opponent's class as he still ignored it.

Nonetheless, that information wouldn't change how he would act as all he needed to do was follow his afterimage and win this fight.

Then, after he saw the afterimage of his body shift a little to the right, he realized that it was now going the opposite way.

His afterimage was going toward the left now as another piercing noise of an arrow passed right beside Aiden's head.

His skill calculated the best way to react to unknown situations which is why he would show moves that would take as less movement as possible.

Everything was calculated which was why Aiden couldn't make a single mistake using this skill.

Because if he did, then he would surely have some problems.

If he made a bad step or he moved his body the wrong way, then who knows? He might be hit by an arrow?

However, he had made sure that there would be no such problem as he was now really close to Paul who was still trying to shoot arrows toward Aiden.

Nonetheless, the chances of them hitting their target were really slim because of his agility and talent in movement.

Maybe he wasn't able to perform a Flash Step like Lucius, but he was to move without making a single noise, and the most important point of all, he knew how to move efficiently.

Sure, Flash Step could be a stronger move and technique than Shadow Steps, however, Aiden didn't care as he would use what he knew.

Then, as Aiden was getting closer and closer to Paul, he saw his afterimage jump in the air and he did exactly the same as he jumped in the air, looking down.

When he looked down, he saw Paul who was currently drawing an arrow right under him.

Then, Aiden's afterimage moved its dagger toward his Aiden's own heart, as if protecting it from the incoming arrow.

Aiden didn't doubt his afterimage for a moment as he moved his dagger toward his heart and as soon as he did so, a metallic noise was heard throughout the whole arena.

It was the sound of the arrow hitting Aiden's dagger.

The crowd who had just seen such an insane move were shocked as doing such a thing was simply impossible.

But it seemed that they had been proven wrong right in front of their very eyes.

Seeing that he had just blocked an arrow from close range with such a small weapon, they had no choice but to respect Aiden.

Not many would be able to pull off such a move and they had to admit that it was quite impressive for someone who they had one thought of as a fraud.

They now realized that maybe the Reaper was really strong and that MAYBE they didn't know the whole story about the second fight.

Then, after Aiden blocked the arrow that was aimed at his heart with his dagger, he started to fall down toward Paul at quite a high speed.

Aiden still looked at his afterimage's doings as he couldn't help but smile when seeing what the afterimage had just done.

Aiden couldn't help but think that his afterimage knew him well, as he had just seen his special move being made by it.

However, it wasn't made in its usual way, it seemed that his special move was being combined with the skill of his dagger.

It was combined with the skill [Shadow Strike] which had as an effect that one strike of Aiden wouldn't be seen by the enemy as long as Aiden had a higher amount of Charm.

Obviously, Aiden had a superior amount of Charm since he had put a lot of stats point in it. Also, it was often a statistic which was ignored as it had no real effect on someone's strength except for those with the Enchantress class and the like who depended on it.

Paul who wasn't able to see Aiden's strike was immobile thinking that he was safe from any attack as he could see that neither of Aiden's arms had moved, staying close to his body.

Then, another metallic noise was heard as the referee had intervened, blocking Aiden's strike, which declared that the winner of this fight and without much surprise the winner was the Reaper, who had dominated the fight from start to finish.

Whenever the referee would interfere to protect someone, then the winner would already be quite clear as he had just saved someone.

Thorin's voice now once again resounded inside the arena, however, Aiden could already something about that tone.

Aiden didn't know why but he felt that Thorin was about to say something which he hadn't announced yet.

He didn't know why, but he felt that Thorin was currently smiling from ear to ear and he knew that his instinct was pretty much always right.

"Congratulations to the Reaper for this specular win!" started off Thorin, congratulating Aiden for his fight and the block he had made with his dagger.

However, the founding families' heads weren't dumb, they had noticed that the Reaper was acting weird with how he moved.

They knew that Aiden had been using a skill, it was just really obvious for those who had enough experience in fighting. Those moves of his jsut hadn't been natural as if he had been controlled by something.

Then, Thorin continued talking as it seemed that he wasn't finished.

'I knew it,' thought Aiden, hearing that Thorin was about to say something else.

"But with such a one-sided win, shouldn't he continue and do his second fight right away?" asked Thorin to the ground, with only his voice as he was still in his room with the other founding families' heads.

However, this time the crowd seemed divided, as people started to argue.

Chapter 148 - 148 - Alone and Talented

The crowd seemed to have realized that maybe the Reaper wasn't that bad of a person as they didn't seem to agree with what Thorin had just proposed.

They realized that maybe they were all on his case and that maybe they should let him go a little.

So, when Thorin said proposed that he should do his second fight right away, some people in the crowd opposed it quite fervently.

"Shouldn't he continue on his streak and do his second fight right away?" repeated Thorin, thinking that maybe some people were going to change their minds, however, they seemed to be determined with disagreeing with him.

Inside the founding families' heads room, Melinda was currently laughing her ass off at Thorin's attempt to make the Reaper fight once again.

The others, the Nightshade Patriarch and the elf didn't seem to care about any of what was happening as both of their crystal balls were currently on their members.

The Nightshade Patriarch was still watching his son, Lucius, who was still looking at the ground for no known reason.

However, his father didn't seem to mind his behaviour even a little as if used to it.

Why would he care about the reason that he would do such a thing?

As long as his son was the best then he wouldn't care about what sort of habits his son would have

Then, Thorin who was currently hearing the crowd disagreeing with him decided that maybe what he was doing was too much and that maybe he should leave the Reaper alone just a little.

"So, you don't want him to continue fighting," asked Thorin, a little hurt that his idea had been refused.

"Then, who do you want to see fighting?"

He would let the crowd decide who would fight in this second round as he didn't like when the majority would be against him. search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He wanted to be with the crowd not against them, that was why he had asked for their opinions on multiple occasions throughout the tournament.

Then, the crowd seemed to chant something over and over again.

"The Nightshades, the Nightshades, the Nightshades!"

Thorin, hearing this, glanced to his right seeing that the Nightshade Patriarch didn't seem to mind it at all.

Because the Nightshade Family Head knew that whatever they would be throwing at Lucius wouldn't work in the least.

He was sure that Lucius would win this tournament as the Nightshade Patriarch had honestly never seen a youngster as talented as Lucius before.

And he wasn't biased when thinking that, it was just a simple fact.

In his years of poaching around and getting stronger, he had not once seen someone as talented as Lucius.

No matter what would be thrown at Lucius, he would adapt and make the best decisions without even asking the opinion of anyone around as if thinking that he had more experience than all of his tutors.

However, the only thing that the Nightshade Patriarch didn't like much was his attitude outside of fighting.

He had to admit that Lucius was quite the strange person, not talking to anyone, stuck in his own bubble.

Whenever finishing a task, he would be acting exactly as he was doing right now, sitting on the ground not paying attention to anything.

But apart from that, the Nightshade Patriarch was proud of what his son had been able to accomplish and he was sure that there would be a lot more to come.

So, when he had heard that Lucius would have to fight he wasn't worried in the least.

Thorin's grin was quite big and we could even see it through his ridiculous beard.

He liked the idea that the crowd was giving to him, well... he liked his own interpretation of it.

'Should I make them fight against each other?' thought Thorin as his grin became even bigger with this thought of his in his mind.

"You want someone from the Nightshades to fight?" shouted Thorin as he could already hear the crowd cheering, basically approving what he had just said.

"Then, what about two people from the Nightshade family fighting?" said Thorin, as he glanced toward the Nightshade Family Head who didn't seem that happy anymore.

However, before he could say anything, Thorin acted.

He had already teleported Lucius and the beautiful red-hair girl which Aiden had met not long ago.

They were now on the stage facing one another.

Aiden who was watching this couldn't begin to understand how this was possible.

Shouldn't there be a rule that people from the same family couldn't fight, like except when there was no other way?

5 minutes later, Aiden had a shocked look on his face.

There was no way that this fight had been won so easily, there was literally no way that such a one-sided fight could exist.

Even Aiden's first duel where his opponent had been running away from him had been less of a one-sided beating than this.

Lilia hadn't even been able to move ten meters that she had already lost.

And the reason for her quick loss?

Well, it wasn't even the Flash Step which was supposed to be Lucius's strongest technique, from what Aiden had seen.

It was just a difference in pure skills, Lucius hadn't even used any sort of skills.

He had just completely defeated Lilia from start to finish.

Maybe it was because they knew each other well, but every move that Lilia would try to come up with would immediately be countered right away.

It was an impressive feat, Aiden couldn't deny that.

It was now the time for others to fight as many from the founding families rolled onto their opponents.

The fights were now chosen randomly because it would have taken much too long if Thorin were to ask the crowd every time.

This tournament needed to end at one point, or else everyone would get bored from the crowd to the founding families' heads.

As fights passed one after another, Aiden had to say that he was beginning to feel quite lonely as no one was coming to see him or ask him anything.

He was all alone, the last one standing.

The last one who would be able to win this tournament.

He had to admit that he would like to have Emma or even Olivia by his side at the moment.

Sure, he would sometimes dislike their constant bickering, but he had to admit that it was weird not having it.

Even in this past month when he had tried to get away from Emma at all costs, she would still continue to try and talk to him.

She would try to make conversation even if all he answered was "Yes." and "No.".

He hadn't realized until now, but he really did like having some attention toward him. He liked when people would try to learn more about him.

Well, it depended on the person, but he had to admit that he liked the attention of those around him.

But he couldn't help but ask himself why he liked such a thing.

Was it because of his past life?

Was it because he had never received any attention or love in his past life?

Whatever it was, Aiden knew that it was once again related to one thing and one thing only, his fucking past life.

Not knowing what to do or think, he decided that he needed to change his mind as this was simply unhealthy for him.

Aiden needed to change his mind about his past life and what had come from it.

All the thoughts which he had just had were useless and he needed to disregard them or else he would probably be affected by his emotions once again and that wasn't something that he wanted.

To change his mind from those depressive thoughts, he looked in front of him.

He looked at the people who were currently fighting.

To change his mind, he had decided that he needed to focus on something else and right now, it was winning this damn tournament.

He knew that it wasn't going to be simple and that he was still far from it. However, he couldn't even imagine someone beating him.

Well, in Aiden's mind, there was only one person who would be capable of such a thing.

The person that he was currently thinking of was the only person who was once again not paying any attention to anything around him, Lucius Nightshade.

Even if Aiden felt hatred consume whenever looking at him, he had to admit that he was on a different class from everyone else.

He was even much superior to Lilia who had probably received similar training.

However, there was one thing that differentiated them, talent.

Talent would be the only thing which would be deciding who would win this Inter Family Tournament.

The most talented would win, but the question was... would it be Aiden Nightshade or Lucius Nightshade?

Then, another person disappeared from the arena, defeated just like all the others.

Chapter 149 - 149 - Fake Trial

Aiden was now about to fight his second fight to reach the top 12 of the tournament, and he was against pretty much a random person as he didn't know anything about him.

That person he would be facing wasn't even part of a founding family like all the other participants now.

He was the only one left which wasn't part of the elite, well... apart from Aiden who wasn't even part of a high-level family.

Aiden was now on the platform against such a person and there was honestly not a single doubt inside his mind, that this fight would once again be his win.

Aiden, personally, knew that there was only one person who could potentially threaten him and that person was Lucius Nightshade.

Even those who were part of other founding families weren't being considered seriously by Aiden. They were just small rocks which were in his way that he would simply have to kick out of his way.

That was it, there was nothing more to them. Whatever techniques they would be pulling out would probably be rendered useless by Aiden.

He didn't know how he was going to do such a thing, but he just knew that he would be able to reach that final.

He had a goal and he wanted to achieve it, he wanted to prove to the Nightshades that the old him hadn't been a person without talent.

Aiden wasn't sure why he felt such a need to prove them wrong as he hadn't even been inside this body when it happened.

Maybe he was being affected by the old owner of this body, but who cares about any of that?

Aiden for sure didn't seem to worry, as he even agreed with proving them wrong as he would give him personal satisfaction.

There was also the fact that Aiden didn't want to finish this tournament early as he had made a lot of promises over the course of it.

By the end of this tournament, Aiden knew that many changes would be happening in his life. The first one is changing family and territory completely.

This change, in particular, he didn't mind much as he would give him protection against the Nightshade family, nonetheless, he would still be careful over his actions as he didn't know how Melinda's family were in general.

The second one is that more people would learn about his face, especially Lilia who was even part of the Nightshade family.

However, Aiden didn't know why but he felt that he could trust Lilia for some weird reason, maybe it was because of his past or something similar.

But, he just knew that there was something about her which was great, he knew that he could trust her somewhat.

Nonetheless, Aiden would still be careful around her as what he was feeling right now were only intuitions.

Dismissing those thoughts, he looked ahead of him ready to destroy his opponent and that's exactly what he did as the fight had only lasted five minutes.

Aiden had dominated the fight the whole way and he was now getting closer and closer to the final fights as there were only twelve people left.

'12? How are we going to finish this tournament when we're twelve?' thought Aiden, trying to figure out what scenario they would use.

As he was wondering about what was going to happen, the four founding families' heads appeared in front of everyone for the second time.

As they appeared, Aiden had been teleported off the arena.

However, he didn't mind as he simply looked up from the ground once again looking at the Nightshade Patriarch with some rage bubbling up inside him.

And, for the first time in a while, Lucius who had been looking at the ground raised his head observing the four founding families' heads for a short moment before putting his head back toward the ground once again.

The crowd also reacted quite heavily, cheering for their second appearance.

Aiden however was still thinking about how the rest of the tournament would be proceeding, he knew that they had said that when reaching the top 50 it would be simply duels but Aiden had to realize that this simply didn't make any sense as they were twelve left.

If they wanted to reach a one versus one in finals, then they would need to be sixteen which was now impossible to attain.

Then, he dismissed those thoughts as the people on the stage started talking.

"Maybe some of you had noticed, maybe some of you didn't. But there was a problem with the tournament from the very beginning," exclaimed Thorin with a big smile on his face.

"We had given one small cue at the start of the tournament regarding how it would proceed, however, it seems that not many picked up on it."

Aiden nodded in agreement with him as neither he nor Emma had noticed that problem with the number of participants.

Thorin was right about this one, it really had been a small cue that Aiden should have picked up right away.

But, he didn't as he hadn't done the mathematics, simply trusting the organizers which was something that he shouldn't have done.

But, Aiden shouldn't have been so stupid, he should have been wondering about every little aspect of the tournament, but he hadn't done so.

He admitted to himself that it was his mistake.

Then, he once again began paying attention to what Thorin was about to say, wondering how the rest of the tournament would be proceeding.

"Basically, we can't continue doing duels the way we are currently doing which is why, I have thought about a way to determine the winner in one final fight," said Thorin, smiling from ear to ear, putting emphasis on the word "I".

The others heads only shook their heads as they couldn't believe that he was actually trying to make himself more important in this sort of situation, they just couldn't believe it.

"So everyone is probably shocked right now like: Wow! I didn't expect such a thing!" said Thorin, imitating the reactions of many in the crowd.

He even put his hands on both of his cheeks to amplify that surprise effect.

Aiden had to admit that Thorin was kind of a funny guy.

Then, after making that face, he made it go back to normal as he now had a serious face.

"You will all be reaching the final of this tournament."

Then, Aiden and the others couldn't help but be confused thinking what he meant by that.

However, they soon found out about what he meant since Thorin quickly explained it.

"Basically, the final round won't be a team fight or any sort of duel. It will be something completely different which in my opinion is going to be a lot more representative as to who is the best awakener here."

'Just say it goddammit why are you talking without saying anything,' thought Aiden, frustrated that Thorin still wasn't explaining it making some long sentences for no reason at all.

"You will all be undergoing a fake trial, yeah I think that pretty much explains it," said Thorin with a big smile looking on his right and left.

He loved seeing all those confused faces.

"And the one who will perform the best in their trials would be the winner of this tournament," concluded Thorin still with a giant smile on his face.

Aiden, however, was extremely serious not letting a single emotion show on his face as he currently had many questions.

"How will you decide who performs the best? Is it going to be the system?" asked someone on Aiden's left.

"Um, the short answer is yes. Just like all trials, the system will be a judge of how all of you perform. However, the trial won't be in a team of four but alone."

'Well, it won't change that much for me,' thought Aiden as he had already done one of the trials completely alone.

In fact, he was in a better situation than the other participants of the tournament, having already done one.

Nonetheless, Aiden couldn't help but be frustrated as he had no idea how the people who were currently on the stage could control that system.

It was just weird that they were able to give tasks to the system when no one else could.

Aiden knew that they had much more knowledge than the rest of the families but he couldn't help but wonder why no one was worried about such a thing or even realizing it.

It really was weird, however, it wasn't like Aiden would be able to make a change that easily.

"Then, shall we start this fake trial and finish this damn tournament once and for all," shouted Thorin as he could already hear the crowd cheer as loud as they potentially could.

Then, the usual beeping resounded inside Aiden's mind.

BEEP

Chapter 150 - 150 - Fake Trial or Real Trial

Then, as Aiden could see the messages of him being teleported, he was once again in the same white room which he had seen two times already.

Nothing had changed, the waiting room really hadn't changed at all as there was still absolutely nothing inside of it.

'Do the founding families have control over the system?' thought Aiden as he appeared in this room, still wondering how any of this was even possible.

Because as far as everyone knew the system was an unknown entity which had appeared a long time ago.

So, how could the founding families decide that they wanted to make a fake trial for the twelve participants that we left?

Then, the system's voice resounded inside of Aiden's mind followed by its usual beeping noise.

BEEP

[Your third trial will start in two minutes.]

Aiden mindlessly read that message which had just appeared in front of him, not caring about it that much.

However, he thought that he had spotted something weird inside that message, wanting to make sure that everything was alright, he read it once again, this time with a shocked expression on his face.

"Isn't this meant to be a fake trial? Why is it written that my third trial will begin?" exclaimed Aiden, who was completely alone inside this giant white room.

Aiden wasn't sure what was happening, not sure if this was meant to happen.

He remembered the words of Thorin extremely and he remembered them being that they would be undergoing a fake trial, so why did the system just talk about Aiden's third trial?

It literally made no sense.

"Well, it makes no sense only if they were able to send us in a fake trial in the first place," said Aiden angrily, thinking that the four founding families' heads had tricked them into doing their next trial instead of a fake one.

Aiden actually didn't mind it being a real trial, but he didn't know if it was even supposed to be one.

'Surely Melinda would have said something to me,' thought Aiden, trying to think about something which could prove that this was simply one big mistake.

He thought that if Melinda had known that this would happen, she would have tried to tell him, but he hadn't heard anything from her. The only thing he had received after their meeting was her smile.

But who could even give a shit about a simple smile?

Well, Aiden didn't, that's for sure.

"System, is this a real or fake trial?" asked Aiden, remembering that the system could actually answer some of his questions.

And the one which the system had just given explained everything to Aiden, well for the most part as he still didn't understand some things.

[User, there are no fake trials.]

Hearing this Aiden instantly realized that all twelve participants had been tricked and were sent to a real trial, however, the thing that Aiden didn't quite grasp was why he was alone at the moment.

"System why am I alone for this trial?" asked Aiden.

There wasn't any type of weird situation like the one that had happened on his second trial. The system hadn't said anything about sending him alone here.

However, the answer from the system confused Aiden even more.

[All twelve participants of the Inter Family Tournament will do their Trials alone. A deal was made, and the system respected it.]

It was those last words that the system had just said that made Aiden confused a lot.

'A deal? What deal are you talking about?' thought Aiden, asking the system.

However, as usual, when Aiden actually asked an interesting question the system wouldn't answer him.

Aiden was now used to it, but it was still frustrating he had to admit that.

He didn't try to ask again as he knew that nothing would change, no matter what Aiden would be trying to do, he would be answered by silence.

However, how could a system make a deal?

That was something that Aiden couldn't even begin to understand.

His frustration was honestly at an all-time high as he couldn't understand anything at the moment.

He was lied to and the system had just said to him that people could make a deal with it.

'Wait can I try to make a deal with it?' thought Aiden, wanting to see what would happen if he would try to do such a thing.

"System I want to make a deal with you," exclaimed Aiden as he heard a beeping noise in his mind at the same time.

BEEP

[One minute before the start of the trial.]

"Are you ignoring me again?" asked Aiden out loud, once again mad.

Then, he heard a beeping noise inside his mind which gave Aiden a little hope to have an answer.

BEEP

[Yes.]

The system had just ridiculed him and Aiden was not taking it well, to say the least.

"Now you answer me, you useless piece of shit system," insulted Aiden, right away, letting all of his anger leave his body.

Of course, he was frustrated, he wanted to make a deal just like the founding families' heads had made from the looks of it and he couldn't even begin to try to make one.

Why couldn't he?

What made him so different than those people?

"Is it because of my strength? Is that why you're ignoring me? Is it because I'm too weak," asked Aiden, frustrated, as he heard another beeping noise inside his mind.

BEEP

[Yes.]

[You will be summoned to your third trial in 10 seconds.]

Aiden only read the first message ignoring the second as he simply couldn't be bothered by it at the moment.

'Strength, it's always fucking strength. Can't I just be the most powerful already?' thought Aiden, annoyed by this whole thing.

He knew that strength would always be important but in this world especially everyone depended on it.

His lacking strength was also the reason why he was wearing that stupid mask on his face.

Aiden just didn't care anymore as he removed it.

"Stupid mask," he said, destroying it by punching it with all of his strength.

Chapter 151 - 151 - Cultivation World?

As Aiden glanced at the fragments of his mask on the ground, the system once again did its beeping noise inside his mind.

It seemed like it wasn't done yet.

In this world, you will take over the body of the greatest evil cultivator that has ever existed. Your role will be to win this war by demolishing the enemy with overwhelming strength.

Keep in mind, that you will have access to the strength of the person you are impersonating, however, it will only be for the duration of the trial.]

[Rewards: Hidden]

[Failure: Death]

'Why is failure always death? Do you have a problem with me?' shouted Aiden inside his mind, complaining to the system.

However, this time, the system didn't answer any cocky response and simply stayed silent as Aiden's vision started to change from the white room to a completely different world.

All he could see at the moment were five people bowing toward him with their heads down.

Aiden was confused for a little bit, but then he remembered that he had reincarnated in the body of the greatest evil cultivator that existed.

'Are they waiting for me to speak?' thought Aiden, as he quickly opened his mouth, not knowing what to do.

"You may rise," said Aiden, using vocabulary which he thought to be appropriate for this time.

He was in a cultivation world after all and based on how the five people, who were bowing in front of him, were dressed. He knew that this civilization wasn't really advanced like Nova, the world he had transmigrated into.

Then, the five people who had their heads facing the ground slowly started to lift them up, however, some of them seemed to be shaking while doing so.

'Is this what strength can cause to others?' thought Aiden, as he could clearly see that those five people were afraid of him.

"Sect Leader, why have you called us here?" said one of the five people, looking directly into Aiden's eyes.

The other four quickly turned their heads toward that person, with a look which meant "What are you doing?"

However, Aiden didn't mind being asked a question and he also couldn't understand why the others were all acting so shocked.

But, there was still a problem, he had just arrived. He had no idea why he had called those five people here.

Were they supposed to be strong?

Then, Aiden got an idea to fix his problem somewhat.

Well, it would at least give him a better understanding of the situation.

"Why do you think that I brought you here?" said Aiden, completely turning the question around.

The five of them looked at themselves confused as to why their Sect Leader was acting this way.

They were clearly confused as they kept looking at each other, some whispering, some staying completely silent.

"Um, to make us help with the war against the Plum Blossom Sect?" asked one of them, looking up.

'That's still way too vague, I still have no idea of how strong they are?' he thought.

"You're right about that part. Now, what about the role that I will give all five of you?" asked Aiden, trying to figure out if they had any potential in helping him.

"The role of generals?" said one of them, once again, confused by the question.

All five of them couldn't begin to understand what was happening to their Sect Leader who was usually strict not even letting them speak up or anything like that.

They were surprised that he was currently asking them questions when he would normally simply order them around as he pleased.

It's not that they minded Aiden's current actions, but they just found it weird in general.

'So, they're strong,' thought Aiden, ignoring what the five people in front of him were currently thinking.

He had finally figured out what he had desperately wanted ever since appearing there, figure out what those people's potential was.

"Well, you're right, that's why I called you guys here. You are now the generals for our war against the Plum Blossom Sect," said Aiden, confirming what all of them had been saying.

But as they all started bowing, one person kept his head straight looking at Aiden.

'What's up with him?' thought Aiden, not sure what was with this look that he was currently receiving.

"Plum Blossom Sect, that's the name of the sect that we're going against," said that person, still looking Aiden dead in the eyes.

'Is he suspecting something what's with him? And didn't I say that?' thought Aiden, remembering saying a name which resembled that.

"Li Yang, bow your head right now and apologize to our supreme leader," said one of the people around.

'Li Yang, what's that name?' thought Aiden.

'Where did I even end up? A cultivation world? What even is that?' thought Aiden, as multiple questions kept popping inside of his mind.

'Wait, I'm part of the evil sect, but why are we even evil in the first place?'

But, Aiden quickly dismissed all those thoughts as he needed to learn more about the state of their Sect.

However, before doing that, Aiden needed to act like someone who had strength, only glancing at Li Yang with a look that said that he didn't like what he had been doing.

"Li Yang who gave you the right to talk to me like that," said Aiden, acting as mad as he possibly could.

'Why?'

That was the thought of the others who were currently watching this scene. They couldn't help but wonder why Li Yang was currently offending the Supreme Leader.

He had no reason to, and their sect simply couldn't afford to do such a thing in the first place.

"I won't do it again," said Li Yang, deciding that he would not continue to disrespect his Sect Leader anymore.

Chapter 152 - 152 - Evil Sect Leader?

'Well, seems like that worked,' thought Aiden.

However, Li Yang didn't seem to be convinced by the act which Aiden had just done as his face made quite a weird expression when looking down.

An expression which could mean many things but one thing was sure, Li Yang was currently doubting the identity of the person that was in front of them.

Nonetheless, he decided to wait later to confront him or investigate as this feeling of his was only based on intuition.

"Right, can someone quickly summarize the current situation that we're in?" asked Aiden to the five people in front of him.

But when he saw the faces of disbelief on each of their faces, he knew that he had just made a mistake, however, not a single one of them asked about why he would ask such a question, they were too scared.

In fact, the one who had just vaguely disrespected him began talking and explaining everything.

"We are currently at the start of a war against the Plum Blossom which makes up to two times the amount of cultivators that we possess, and the chances of us winning are quite low. In fact, the only way for our sect to win is your interference," said Li Yang, keeping a smile on his face.

He didn't want to show that he doubted the identity of the man that was currently in front of them. But, he couldn't help himself but tell him that he would have to act for them to win.

Li Yang was interested in the reaction of their Sect Leader who was normally quite ruthless to others.

'I guess, being given such a strong position, there had to be something that would make this trial difficult,' thought Aiden, as he had already expected that this war would be difficult.

Well, it had to be a trial, after all.

If all Aiden did was stay inside this gigantic room sitting, then this wouldn't even be a trial to begin with.

"Good job keeping up with the status of the Sect, I was only testing you," said Aiden, trying to make it seem like he already knew all of that.

All of them except Li Yang made an expression of understanding, thinking that Aiden was telling the truth.

They didn't want to doubt their leader, especially in such a situation.

"And don't worry about me, I'll make sure that we will win. Because if I don't, then I'll die," said Aiden, knowing that this was something factual as the system had told him before entering the trial.

It wasn't like Aiden had many choices as to how he was going to act in this trial. He had no choice but to win this war.

Maybe he wasn't acting like he was supposed to, but did that really matter?

All Aiden needed to do was win this war and he had also read that he had gotten the strength of the person which he was currently impersonating.

"Then, you can go and recruit the most talented disciples that we have for this war as we will need all the help that we can get," said Aiden, with a smile on his face.

However, Li Yang was now in disbelief, in fact, everyone's faces in the room were one of disbelief.

The Sect Leader who had always been emotionless, killing everything that was in his path to reach the top was smiling at them.

Were they dreaming or did something happen between yesterday and today?

No matter how weirded out the five people in front of Aiden were, none of them spoke up and simply bowed.

"We will do that, when should the attack of the Plum Blossom Sect start?" asked Li Yang, who was once again, directly speaking to Aiden without using any kind of honorifics.

However, Aiden didn't even notice it as he wasn't used to being respected because he didn't have enough strength.

He, also, had to admit that it was quite weird to see people listening to everything that he wanted without even questioning it.

'Did the system want me to feel what power is like?' thought Aiden, as he knew that there was a possibility that all of this wasn't a coincidence at all.

He knew that the system was able of many things, and he couldn't help but doubt that the trial that he was going through right now was related to what he was currently living.

In fact, his second trial had also been related to what he had been living, as he had gotten Assassin-Related Skills by being an assassin in his trial.

Maybe the trials were influenced based on what the person doing them was feeling or living at the moment.

But, then he dismissed those thoughts as he needed to answer Li Yang's question.

'When should we attack them? How would I know?' thought Aiden, as he had no idea of what decision to do at the moment.

'Well, the sooner we attack the better right?' thought Aiden, quickly making a decision as he didn't want to stay silent.

He needed to show his now generals that he knew what he was doing at the moment.

"In two days, we'll attack the Plum Blossom Sect, so hurry and gather all the best cultivators that we have," said Aiden in a dismissive tone, as he didn't want this conversation to continue any further.

He wanted them to leave this room and let him think a little about what he was going to do because it had only been minutes since he had appeared there and he was already making decisions that could decide the outcome of the trial.

Aiden needed to figure out many things, and he needed to make sure that he would win two days from now.

That was the most important task that he had, as he needed to win this trial in an impressive fashion as he still needed to win the Inter Family Tournament.

Because if they had lied about this being a fake trial, the rest of what they had said would probably still be useful.

Chapter 153 - 153 - Testing His Strength

As the five people which he had just named as general started to leave the room, Aiden was now finally alone and could think for a little.

He knew that he had many things that he had to do, but Aiden still decided to take a couple of minutes to think things through.

First things first, he needed to see how strong this new body of his was. In the Trial Description, it was clearly written that he would obtain its strength.

Aiden was also supposedly the greatest evil cultivator to ever exist or something like that, so he had some expectations as to what he would be able to do.

'Can I fly?' thought Aiden directly as he tried to float in the air by simply jumping and trying to go up.

Then, as he jumped there was no sound of him landing, which meant that he was still in the air.

But then he opened his eyes and remembered that he didn't make any noise while moving. He hadn't even floated a little, he had immediately gone back to the ground.

However, Aiden didn't care that much about not being able to fly as long as his body was strong enough to move extremely fast.

Then, Aiden tried to run as fast as he could.

Swoosh

Just by running around a little, he had been able to make the wind around him make some noise.

The speed at which he had just ran was impressive, to say the least. He had been able to make the same sound of the arrow which Aiden had launched some time ago.

'Well, this body seems pretty agile and quick,' thought Aiden, as he was now, at least, one hundred meters away from his throne.

Then, he ran back toward his throne as fast as he possibly could and he arrived next to it in less than a single second.

'Forget about Flash Step, what is this ridiculous speed? How did this person's body get so strong?' thought Aiden, as he remembered the speed at which Lucius had gone and comparing it to how fast Aiden was moving right now, he had to admit the Flash Step technique wasn't anything worth noting.

'Wait how strong am I?' thought Aiden as he tried to grab the massive throne that he had just been sitting on while talking to his generals.

The throne was clearly heavy because of the materials which had been used to build it as it was made from stones and other precious materials.

Then, he grabbed both sides of the throne lifting it as if it was nothing.

'Is this what Melinda had talked about? Transcending the heavens or something like that?' thought Aiden, not sure if he remembered the exact words which she had used.

However, he knew that they were pretty close.

His body was simply too strong even for someone who had access to the system. Well, Aiden didn't know what the founding families' heads looked like fighting against others, but he wasn't sure if their body was as strong as this.

Maybe they had access to better skills and stuff like that but in terms of pure physical power, this person which Aiden was currently impersonating was way better in every way.

He was sure of it.

'Well, maybe he has his techniques but it's not like I know them,' thought Aiden, as he knew nothing about the person that he was impersonating except for the fact that he was really strong.

Then, having verified that his body was powerful and would be able to dominate most of his enemies. Aiden began thinking about that person who had looked at him with quite a weird expression the entire time he had talked.

'Was he testing me?'

Aiden wasn't sure if that was the case because he simply couldn't find a reason for his subordinate to test him. It didn't make sense.

'Maybe he noticed that something was wrong with me?' thought Aiden, realizing that maybe this was the real problem.

Aiden knew that he hadn't acted as someone evil and ruthless, asking questions and smiling, but playing a role only minutes after appearing wasn't a simple task for anyone.

He was also not used to acting in front of others, his talent for socializing wasn't the best as he had practiced much in his life.

'Let's just hope that he won't do anything weird,' thought Aiden, as he didn't want people to come to look for him trying to verify his identity.

But, still, he didn't want to be caught red-handed, so he thought of a few questions which people could ask him that he absolutely needed the answer to.

'Well, there's my name,' thought Aiden, as it was kind of important for someone to know his own name.

It would also be useful in the integrality of the trial for when people would be calling him from behind or something like that.

Aiden would need to know that they were actually calling him.

'The next thing is probably my age and like my position inside this sect, Sect Leader... I think that's what they called it,' thought Aiden.

He knew that he was a Sect Leader as he had heard Li Yang and the others mention it on multiple occasions. Aiden kind of guessed that a Sect was some sort of organization as he would be fighting another sect.

So, really the two things which he needed to find as soon as possible were his name and his age.

Those were really the only two things which mattered at the moment.

Well, they were important if people would start snooping around.

Then, he heard a beeping noise inside his mind.

BEEP

[Do you want to access this person's information?]

Aiden who read this simply couldn't believe what he was seeing.

'Was that even an option? Since when?' thought Aiden, as he hadn't known that he could have done this in the last trial.

It could've been useful in his last trial to know more about the person which he was impersonating.

Tip: You can use left, right keyboard keys to browse between chapters.

Chapter 154 - 154 - Li Feng's Status

Aiden who had just heard that he could learn more about the person he was impersonating didn't lose any time and did just that.

'Yes, I want to see to access that person's information,' thought Aiden, accepting the request from the system right away.

Then, as he thought of that, a beeping sound resounded in his head as a completely new interface appeared in front of him with information which Aiden desperately wanted.

[Status]

[Name: Li Feng]

[Age: 1512 Years Old]

[Occupation: Sect Leader of Dual Cultivation Dao Sect]

[Strength: 150]

[Agility: 150]

[Defense: 150]

[Dexterity: 150]

[Stamina: 150]

[Charm: 500]

[Description: A legend of the Dual Cultivation Dao Sect, known for being ruthless to anyone around him. Women are said to be dreaming of him when sleeping because of his incredible beauty. He will be gentle with those close to him, but cruel to strangers. The rumours also say that his skill in bed is incredible.]

'What the fuck is that description?' thought Aiden, not sure if he liked what he was reading.

'Good skills in bed? Who am I even impersonating,' thought Aiden, as he couldn't understand how someone like that could be so strong.

But, then he stopped looking at the description of Li Feng and started looking at the rest of the information written inside of this system interface.

'W-what are these stats? Sleeping with women can have this result,' thought Aiden, not understanding how strong Li Feng was.

All of his stats were in the hundreds and one of them was even in the 500s. Honestly, it was incredible to think that Aiden was going to be able to use all of those stats for himself.

But, it would only be for the duration of the trial. Then, Aiden realizing that this body really was incredibly powerful, continued to look up as he could finally see the information which he had wanted to see.

'So my name's Li Feng, huh?' thought Aiden, as he quickly thought of the names which he had seen ever since arriving in this new world.

Li Yang, Li Feng, were all names starting with a Li or something like that? And from the sound of those names, Aiden was probably in some ancient place that's for sure.

However, Aiden understood quickly that ancient didn't mean weak as the statistics of this body were simply incredible and he couldn't even imagine someone having statistics that looked like this, there was simply no way.

Then, he continued looking at Li Feng's information and arrived at his age.

His eyes which had not moved much ever since opening that interface, became bigger as he couldn't help but be extremely surprised by the number that was written.

'Is that real? No, there's no way,' thought Aiden, reading it a couple of times making sure that he wasn't mistaken.

'1512 years old, how is this even possible? Just where am I and how do these people get so strong?' thought Aiden, wanting to learn more about their ways as they seemed quite good.

Not only would they make a person stronger, but their methods would also make him live longer. It was simply perfect, no one could hope for something better than that.

Then, after having access to pretty much everything needed for the future, another beeping sound resounded in his mind.

[Trial Objective: Win the war against the Plum Blossom Sect.]

[Boss Monster: Unknown]

Aiden read all of this with some confidence as he couldn't imagine himself failing this trial with a body as strong as this.

However, he still had his [Return Stone] which Aiden was ready to use at any moment really. If Aiden was about to die, then he would simply give up and the challenge as his life was more important than finishing first in the Inter Family Tournament.

Thinking of the Inter Family Tournament, Aiden had to admit that he was quite lucky that things had turned out this way as it gave him a lot more chances of winning because even if he had a lot of confidence in himself.

Aiden had to admit that Lucius Nightshade might be too strong for him, but in trials who knew what could happen?

Especially, since Aiden had already done a trial completely alone, so it kind of had an advantage over the others, but not a massive one that's for sure.

And about the Boss Monster, Aiden didn't really care that he was unknown at the moment as he knew that he would probably find him at some point.

It was going to be almost like the last trial where he discovered the boss after completing the Trial Objective except this time there's no indication as to when Aiden will receive information about it.

"Well, I think I did everything that I needed to do," exclaimed Aiden as he headed toward the exit of this massive place that he was currently in.

Looking around it a little before leaving, Aiden was kind of reminded of the castle which he had infiltrated in his second trial.

However, the architecture wasn't the same at all, in fact, the only thing that resembled was the size of it which was incredibly massive.

Then, as Aiden was about to head out, he heard a voice behind him. But it wasn't any voice, the voice seemed sensual as if calling him.

"Li Feng? Are you leaving without seeing me?"

'Is that a girl's voice, why didn't I sense or see her,' thought Aiden confused as he turned around while remembering an extremely important detail from Li Feng's description.

'Don't tell me she wants me to actually have sex with her,' thought Aiden as he continued turning his head toward the voice's direction.

Then, as he looked at the person who had just called him, he couldn't help but be extremely by what that person was wearing because well... it was absolutely nothing.

"You don't want to come and have some "fun" before you leave?" she asked again, looking at Aiden with pleading eyes.

'Why the fuck am I impersonating such a person?'

Chapter 155 - 155 - Wu Lan

Aiden was kind of mad that he was someone renowned for having sex with other women at the moment. It wasn't necessarily a bad thing, but in this context where Aiden had to finish his third trial as quickly as possible, it wasn't the best.

Well, he didn't need to finish as quickly as he could, he needed to have the system rate highly his performance. However, maybe speed was involved in the grading system.

He couldn't be distracted or anything, he wasn't even distracted when he had a fully naked girl in front of him. In fact, Aiden's mind was somewhere else completely and his focus was clear.

He now had the chance of being the most powerful and he wanted to make others feel how he had felt when being all powerless.

He wanted to know what it would feel like to reach the peak of power. Being so strong that others shiver simply when hearing your name.

Aiden wasn't sure if that was the case with Li Feng, but just by looking at his stats Aiden knew that he had to be a respectable individual around here.

Then, looking at the beautiful naked girl in front of him, Aiden didn't know what to say to refuse her gently.

He had no time to waste as he wanted to go to Nova as quickly as possible and win this damn tournament.

"I'm sorry I don't have the time for that right now," said Aiden, expecting the girl to understand as there was war currently incoming.

However, his eyes couldn't but widen when he saw what that girl had just done.

Aiden could honestly barely breathe because of her melons which were right on his face blocking his vision and everything related to that.

'What is her problem?' thought Aiden, as he couldn't believe that this girl had jumped on his face like that for pretty much no reason.

Then all he could hear was a soft voice in his ears which repeated what he had just heard just now.

"You don't want to have sex with me before leaving?" teased the girl in a lustful voice.

Aiden didn't know where she had come from but he knew one thing, this girl wasn't in her right mind.

Not wanting to do anything with her, started to push her away softly as he didn't want to hurt her or anything. She hadn't done anything wrong after all.

In fact, some may argue that they would like to be in Aiden's place at the moment, barely breathing because of tits.

But, then, as he pushed her away Aiden had no choice but to touch some places which he didn't particularly want to touch.

He tried to remove the woman who was on top as softly as possible, but in the process, his hands were now on her the sides of her tights slowly lifting her up.

However, his hands were so close to that women's ass, that he didn't have a choice but to touch it.

"What are you doing?!" said the woman, feeling herself being pulled away from Li Feng's body.

Then, she felt his touch on her ass, and a small moan went out of her mouth right away.

"Kiyaah~"

'Wait, couldn't I just use that skill?' thought Aiden, as he activated [Gentle Touch] as he wanted to calm this woman's attitude and it did just that, as her lustful eyes seemed to go away little by little.

She seemed to regain her common sense and Aiden could finally have a good look at what she looked like because the only thing he had seen yet was her melons which were in her face.

Aiden could once again see the effect of his skill in action as the lust in that girl's eyes seemed to vanish. While that was happening he looked carefully at that girl's looks and he couldn't help but be mindblown by her looks.

She was simply perfect, her hair was long and went all the way down to her back. Her eyes were blue which made her even more beautiful and her body... her body, it was perfect.

It was simply perfect no matter how one would look at it. Aiden even wondered how it was possible to have such perfect genetics.

Her tits, her ass, her abdomen, everything was perfect not too big, not too small. Aiden had to say that if he didn't have a trial to complete, he would have taken some time here to "release" some stress.

However, he couldn't do that as the girl who now seemed normal regained control of her mind, looking at Aiden or Li Feng.

"What did you do to me? Why don't I feel anything?"

'Here we go again, why does she have the balls to talk to me like that? Well, I'll just teach her a lesson,' thought Aiden, tired that everyone was disrespecting him at the moment.

Wasn't he supposed to be the strongest so why was anyone acting like he owned them something?

They should be respectful, scared of what he might pull off just like the five who had entered this place not long ago.

"Who said that you could talk, what's your name and how did you get in here?" exclaimed Aiden, demanding some explanations on how she had gotten in here.

He also wanted to know her name as he would like the name of such a beautiful girl, who knows he might be able to come back here at some point.

However, what he received was a look of confusion.

"What do you mean by my name? You don't know the name of your wife?" she said, clearly mad.

'No way, don't tell me that's my wife,' thought Aiden, knowing that he had once again made another mistake.

'How stupid am I, of course it's my wife why would she be acting this way otherwise?'

'How can I get out of this ridiculous situation?' thought Aiden, looking at her angry expression.

"Um, of course I know your name, it's... it's."

Then, a beeping sound resounded inside his mind.

BEEP

[Her name is Wu Lan.]

"Wu Lan, you're name is Wu Lan. Sorry about that, had a little problem with my memory, being old like me it's hard," explained Aiden, trying to get out of this situation.

'Thank you system!'

Chapter 156 - 156 - No Choice But To Fuck Her

Aiden was currently thanking the system for its unexpected answer which saved him from quite a lot of problems.

This made his opinion about the system grow just a little, really his opinion increased just barely.

"That's right, what's up with you today?" asked Wu Lan, who couldn't understand what was happening with her husband at all.

He didn't want to have any sort of physical contact with her, he was keeping his distance from her. It was as if the person in front of her wasn't her husband.

However, she quickly dismissed those thoughts as they didn't make any sense. Who could even impersonate Li Feng, the most powerful cultivator of an entire era?

"Um, nothing, everything's fine why?" responded Aiden as he could see that Wu Lan clearly hadn't given up yet as she currently getting closer and closer to her.

Wu Lan clearly wasn't happy with Aiden pushing her away from him earlier and was now coming back toward even more aggressively than before.

"Everything's fine, right? Then come here," she said as she grabbed his hand pulling him in some random direction.

Aiden could kind of guess what was going to happen and he simply accepted it, it's not like it was a bad thing.

He was going to have sex with such a beautiful woman.

Still, he knew that it was bound to make him lose a little bit of time, but if he wanted her wife to trust him then he probably had to do something like this.

Aiden didn't know of her strength yet, but if she had the balls to call herself his wife, then she had to be quite powerful.

'But, I'm supposed to be like a God in bed, well... that's what Li Feng's description,' thought Aiden, not sure if he was going to be able to pull such a thing off.

He simply didn't have enough experience with this whole sex thing as he had only done it two times in his entire existence. That was even considering his two lives.

If one were to look at that record, one would have to admit that Aiden was kind of a loser, not having intercourses more than two times in two lifetimes.

Then, Wu Lan held him tight, not wanting him to leave once again. They arrived in a completely different which had some decorations around, however, there was one thing which stood out quite well.

It was the gigantic bed which was in the middle of the room, basically asking for someone to fuck on it or sleep.

But in that case, it would be sex that would be happening on it.

'I guess, I have no choice,' thought Aiden, pumping himself up as he needed to put on a good act.

If this Li Feng had a good reputation then Aiden had to keep it up, not bring it down.

Honestly, Aiden wasn't sure if he was going to be able to satisfy her, but he still had some confidence in himself as he knew how the last time he had sex had gone well.

Emma had become a different person listening to every single one of his commands.

Aiden also knew that if things here would go badly, then he could simply use [Gentle Touch] on her once again, to remove some of the emotions that she would be feeling.

And if things were to take the worst possible turn, Aiden would have to imprison her or kill her.

Thinking about it, Aiden thought that it probably wouldn't be that hard as he was the most powerful person in this Sect.

Then, as they reached the bed, Wu Lan immediately ran in front of him, landing in quite an interesting position.

She had landed in a way that made her ass jiggle up and down. In this position, she also seemed ready to take on anything that would be coming from behind her.

"You're coming?" she asked with her ass up.

The message was quite clear, she wanted to be fucked and fast at that.

Aiden, however, thought about it for a bit before joining her.

This was important for the future of this trial. He knew that very well, as he could imagine that girl who was currently in his bed helping him fight against the Plum Blossom Sect.

'Is this worth it? Should I even be doing this? There's a fucking war coming and here I am about to have sex with someone I just met,' thought Aiden, as he knew that what he was currently doing didn't make much sense.

Nonetheless, he knew that he was doing it because he wanted to keep his identity secret and he knew that this was basically the best way to do so.

'Well, I'll try to make it seem as if I'm the real Li Feng,' thought Aiden, deciding that fucking her right now was the better option.

He knew that if he didn't do it, then she would begin to have doubts about him, as she already had some and he didn't want his wife to doubt him.

Aiden didn't know the impact that she had in the Sect but he didn't want to take the risk of her being against him. He knew that to win this war against the Plum Blossom Sect he would need all the help that he would be able to gather.

Because as he had heard from Li Yang they had half their numbers which meant that they were in quite the predicament.

Just like Li Yang had said, Aiden would have to take an important place in this war, especially if they wanted to win it.

Aiden's thoughts at the moment was that his wife was almost as strong as him which would make her a great ally during the war and if he had to fuck her to have that, he would do it any day of the week.

Then, Aiden also jumped on the bed and he slapped her ass when landing on it.

"Annnh~"

Chapter 157 - 157 - Strong and Sexy

Aiden who had just jumped on the bed while spanking Wu Lan couldn't help but break a little smile when doing that.

He had to admit that he had missed that feeling of making a girl make weird noises when touching her.

The last time he had done it was one month ago, and he couldn't wait to do it again.

Aiden remembered the joy and excitement that he felt each time he would be having with someone else.

And that was something that he needed at the moment, excitement.

He needed it because his life was sad, at the moment. All he did was train, he didn't talk to anyone well... except recently when he started talking to Emma and Maelis again, but apart from them. Aiden hadn't talked to anyone.

Sure, his past life had been one of loneliness, but this one had been quite socially active as he met multiple people and actually had relationships with them. Either being a friend or more, depending on the person.

So, when he slapped Wu Lan's ass, he simply let go out of everything that he had contained inside him as there was only one thing that kept popping up in his mind and that was to pleasure the woman who was almost begging for him.

Well, she was begging for Li Feng, but that was only a detail as Aiden didn't even think about it as he knew that she didn't seem to care about it at all.

"Annnh~," moaned Wu Lan not expecting such a slap on her ass which jiggled a little because of that.

Then, she glanced on her right looking at Li Feng's body, lusting over it as her eyes were fixating on it. However, there was something which was annoying her, his clothes.

Aiden still had his clothes on and Wu Lan seemed to be displeased by that.

"Remove your clothes or I'll do it," she said slowly sitting up on the bed as she approached Aiden as if she was a predator hunting for her prey.

'Um, I'll let her do it,' thought Aiden, as he waited for her to come toward him as he admired the view that he had.

Her tits and her ass couldn't help but bounce around as she crawled in Aiden's direction.

'She's fucking perfect,' thought Aiden once again as he simply couldn't believe that he was in a bed with such a beauty.

It simply made no sense. He knew that the main reason was because of the body he was in, but still, this was incredible.

His rod which had been sleeping since earlier raised itself instantly seeing that incredible body of hers.

"Oh, I guess you want me to do it," muttered Wu Lan as she continued crawling toward Aiden.

Then, as she arrived in front of him, she grabbed his clothes and simply tore them apart as if what he was wearing was a sheet of paper.

Aiden noticing this had no choice but to admit that there was a huge chance that the girl in front of him was much more powerful than his original body.

In fact, it would make sense.

"God I missed them," she said as she slowly caressed Li Feng's abdominals all the way from top to bottom as she reached his pants.

This time, she didn't do the same thing as earlier, as she slowly approached her mouth from his sacred rod which was currently hidden trying its best to get out.

"Is it hurting?" she said, as her face was almost on it.

Seeing the huge bulge coming from his pants, Wu Lan could only smile. Happy, that his husband was still as attracted to her as before.

Then, she licked a little the top of the pants bulge wanting to see if there was going to be any reaction.

And unsurprisingly there was, as Li Feng's rod kept shacking, struggling to stay inside this closed place.

'Fuck it hurts,' thought Aiden, as he wanted to let it out and go right ahead and fuck her brains out.

Just a simple lick from her had caused such a reaction out of Aiden which was quite weird as he remembered being quite endurant in the past.

Then, not wanting to endure the pain that he felt coming from his penis, he took hold of his pants and started to remove them by himself.

Wu Lan who was watching such a scene couldn't help but smile a little pleased that he reacted in such a manner.

"My technique is still the best, right?" said Wu Lan, looking at the excited expression of her husband. Well, fake husband.

Aiden, however, hearing the word "technique" was a little confused, but he quickly dismissed those thoughts as the pleasure that he had felt from that lick through his pants was still affecting him and his body as he could only think of one thing and one thing only.

'I need to destroy her.'

That was the only that was on his mind as he accelerated the removal of his pants, as they were now both naked looking at each other with lust in their eyes.

Aiden hadn't experienced being crazy about someone, and he couldn't help but wonder if that was what he was feeling at the moment.

Then, as he could feel himself being attracted to her, he mindlessly responded yes to her question as he grabbed her thighs bringing her closer to him.

His rod which was as hard as a rock softly touched Wu Lan's pussy which caused another moan to be released through the room.

Then, Aiden who now had a gigantic ass to play with, put both of his hands on it as he slowly but surely started moving one of his hands toward her pussy.

Then as he slowly rubbed his hand against it, a massive moan came out of her mouth and a beeping sound resounded inside of Aiden's mind.

"Annnnh~"

BEEP

'Why are you interrupting me now?' thought Aiden, as he had gotten difficulty hearing her moan. However, he had been able to feel the small shake in her body.

Chapter 158 - 158 - A Married Woman

As the system beeped inside Aiden's mind, frustration started to take over Aiden's body as this was literally the worst time to be receiving some sort of message from the system.

Not wanting to know what it was, Aiden didn't even look at the interface which had just opened in front of him and concentrated back on the ass that was in front of him which was almost begging to be hit again,

In fact, Wu Lan seemed to be teasing Aiden as she kept moving her ass up and down, making it shake which had created quite the view.

Aiden smiled when seeing that as he approached his head toward Wu Lan's pussy, he had enough of all teasing and he needed to do some actual action.

That's why he approached his head and put his tongue out as he slowly but surely reached her pussy and started to pleasure her with the best of his abilities.

Aiden had never done this before, but he didn't know why he felt like all of this was natural to him right now as he had years of experience in doing it.

"HMPH, LI FENG, Annnnnh~," shouted Wu Lan as she moaned out loud.

A course of electricity seemed to go through her body as Aiden could feel her shake a little struggling to keep the same posture.

Then, another moan came out of her mouth as her legs gave out which caused her to fall face-first onto the bed, still with her ass up toward Aiden.

"Stop, don't do it," she muttered as she could feel something much bigger approaching her pussy, only caressing it at the moment.

But Wu Lan knew what was going to happen when that gigantic was going to enter her body, she would lose control of herself and listen to her body's desire which would be simple.

Her desire would be to fuck him harder and harder.

She was speaking from experience had she had already done so and she had to admit that it wasn't something that she appreciated.

However, her husband seemed to love her when she was like as he always smiled and enjoyed it even more when she was begging for his dick.

Then, Aiden kept rubbing the tip of his dick almost making it enter her body, but he made sure that didn't happen as he wanted to drive her crazy.

He wanted to hear her beg for it, just like when he had sex with Emma.

He had liked it a lot when she had begged for his dick, in fact, it was one of the things which had marked him the most when they had sex.

Well, that and her behaviour as she was almost behaving like a slave.

"Annnnnh~"

"Stop Li Feng. Stop!" shouted Wu Lan as she couldn't endure the constant teasing on her pussy which was now starting to release a lot of fluids.

She was so wet that Aiden had almost put his dick inside her pussy by pure mistake. It was just too slippery.

However, hearing her plead, Aiden smiled as he made sure this moment as much as he could as he knew that he would never be able to have a taste of her ever again.

"You want me to stop, huh?" he said as he continued to make her entire body shiver because of his constant teasing.

Aiden knew that his actions didn't fit with his personality at the moment, but he didn't know why but he really liked what was happening right now.

Normally, he wouldn't have done something like this, to begin with, but it was a necessity as Aiden didn't want to be discovered by his wife.

Maybe that had been an excuse to fuck her, but who could blame him, it was only a couple of minutes.

It wasn't like something major could happen during that time.

Then, as his mind went away for a little moment, he went right into the action as he heard her answer to his question.

"YES! Annnnh~! Stop, please I'm begging you."

"Sure, I'll stop," answered Aiden as he entered his rod right inside her wet pussy in one go, not even letting her time to calm down.

When Aiden entered it inside of her pussy, there was absolutely no resistance which meant two things.

The first one was that she was extremely horny and the second was that her pussy had taken the shape of Li Feng's dick.

Those were the two reasons why Aiden's dick had entered so easily into her body and he had to admit that the thing which was turning him on the most right now was her moans.

The fact that she moaned each time that Aiden would put it back in, felt great.

Then, Wu Lan who had been immobile until now patiently waiting for his dick now started to be a little more aggressive as she also moved back when he rammed her entire body which made her feel even better.

She could already feel herself close to cumming as she felt the fluids getting closer and closer.

"Annnnnh~, I'm cumming," said Wu Lan as her body once again fell on the giant bed.

Aiden who saw this only smiled as he accelerated his pounding even more as he also wanted to come inside her.

Then, as he started going faster and faster he could his cum slowly approaching.

"I'm cumming too," said Aiden as the only answer he received was a muffled yes Wu Lan seemed to be in pretty bad shape as her mouth was directly on the bed.

Then, Aiden released the white liquid and let it all flow inside of a married woman's body.

'Fuck that felt good,' thought Aiden as he gave her one big slap on her ass.

After slapping it, he made to fall on top of Wu Lan's body as his hands went toward her tits by themselves grabbing them.

They were now in a sleeping position with Aiden's dick still inside of her with both of his hands on her tits.

Chapter 159 - 159 - Change in Attitude

As the two of them were hugging each other, Aiden decided to take this chance to learn a little more about her strength and all that.

He wanted to know if she could possibly be useful for the rest of the trial because sure it felt good to "release" yourself once in a while but what mattered the most was the trial and how good Aiden would be performing in it.

That's why if he learned that she wouldn't be useful then Aiden would only do the minimum toward her, as he still wouldn't want her to doubt him for impersonating her husband.

'I hope my performance was enough to compare to her real husband,' thought Aiden, as he looked at Wu Lan who was still shaking a little because of Aiden's dick which was still inside her.

However, that wasn't all, there was also his cum inside her pussy at this moment.

"Li Feng, can you put it out?" she asked, pleading.

Aiden realizing that his dick was still inside her, he immediately removed it from her body as he had a little smile on his face while doing so.

"Um, sure."

Then, Aiden began thinking about multiple ways of asking her if she was going to be participating in the war because that was what mattered the most at the moment.

Thinking for a little, as he was still fondling her breasts.

'Yeah, I'll just ask her plainly.'

"Wu Lan," muttered Aiden in a soft voice wanting her to respond.

"Yes, dear?" she answered, not sure why Li Feng had started talking.

"You do know that a war will soon be commencing. It's only a matter of days now," said Aiden, wanting to see what sort of reaction his presumed wife would have.

However, he couldn't but be baffled by the response and reaction he had gotten.

She scuffed as if saying that this war wasn't even important.

"Li Feng, are you worried? You'll just destroy them like you always do, it's not going to change after all this time."

Wu Lan was smiling as she said that, turning her face toward Aiden, looking at him lovingly in the eyes as if wanting for a kiss.

However, Aiden was in his thoughts not even paying attention to what she was doing.

'Like I do every time? So this isn't the first time that we're at war?' thought Aiden, catching a pretty important detail.

He was also now even more confident in this body's physical power, or even overall power. Because in the manner that Wu Lan had just spoken, it seemed as if this war was a daily thing and nothing serious to worry about.

Still, Aiden wasn't the type to take a trial not seriously as he couldn't imagine it being as easy as what Wu Lan was saying.

A part of him was clearly thinking that she was biased as she was his wife.

"Hmm, yeah, I guess," responded Aiden, not letting his worries show even a little as he noticed that Wu Lan was getting closer and closer to him.

"Don't worry, everything will be fine," she repeated, as she didn't like seeing her husband worry, especially over such matters. "If you want, I can come to help you this time. I know that you usually refuse but I'm telling you there's no need, I'm strong you know."

'Why wouldn't I take her help usually?' thought Aiden.

If Wu Lan was saying the truth, then the real Li Feng had to be a really stupid person because Aiden simply couldn't grasp why he wouldn't take all the help he could gather.

Still, Aiden decided to accept regretfully as he didn't want to see it weird and accept without any hesitation in his voice.

"Hmm, could you? I don't know why but I have a bad feeling this time."

Wu Lan smiled when hearing that as she went away from her arms and stood up happily.

"Finally, finally, I thought that this time would have never come," she said dancing happily on the bed.

'This Li Feng he's a lucky guy, but a stupid one,' thought Aiden, as he looked at her perfect body.

"You know, I always waited for you to ask for my help, and finally, I'll be able to fight by your side."

She had a big smile when saying that as she got off the bed and put on some clothes.

Aiden didn't understand everything that was happening, however, the playfulness on Wu Lan's face had completely disappeared and seriousness had taken over it.

"What are you doing still sitting down? Stand up, we have a war to win," she said as she was still half-naked.

Aiden couldn't help but be shocked by the change in her tone when addressing him, it was as if she was a completely new person.

'Maybe she becomes crazy when talking about fighting others?' thought Aiden.

Maybe that was the reason the real Li Feng never asked her help because she seemed crazy at the moment commanding Aiden to stand up right away.

She was a completely different person, however, it wasn't negative at all. In fact, Aiden quite liked the attitude that was coming out of her. He knew that it was going to be beneficial for the trial in general.

He also knew that if his wife was supporting him, then the doubts that Li Yang had gotten would probably decrease by a lot.

But, it still wouldn't solve everything.

So, Aiden got up from the bed and went to put his clothes on, but he realized that his shirt was completely ripped apart, then he looked around and found another piece of clothing which was lying on the ground and put it on.

"So, who are your generals?" asked Wu Lan, already preparing some sort of plan in her mind it seemed.

Aiden didn't find that displeasing at all as it seemed he had found someone who would be supporting him very well during the trial.

Did the system plan that she would help or was it a miscalculation on their part?

Because it seemed like this trial would be a breeze to go through.

Chapter 160 - 160 - Generals

'My generals, huh?' thought Aiden as he didn't know their names as they hadn't mentioned it to him.

"Um, well... there's Li Yang," responded Aiden as he literally couldn't think of any other names.

However, it seemed that he was saved as Wu Lan only smiled.

"You forgot about their names again?" she asked with a big smile.

It seemed that his forgetting many things was quite common as she only laughed when saying that, not even doubting him or anything.

"However, don't you dare forget about mine," said Wu Lan, looking at Li Feng with a severe look on her face as she really didn't like what had happened not long ago.

She felt hurt that her husband had completely ignored her, that was why she hoped that them having sexual interference had made him remember why he loved her.

Aiden hearing her hidden menace nodded unsure of how to react to such a thing.

"Well, if you forgot about their names why don't we go and search for them in the Sect. I don't know what you told them to do, but I made a change to it," she said.

It seemed like she had made a decision on her own regarding how they would be proceeding and Aiden honestly couldn't complain as he knew that she knew a lot more about his world than him as he had just arrived.

"Sure, let's go see them," Aiden said, as he followed right behind her beautiful body.

'Well, I wonder what she's going to say to them,' Aiden thought, as he remembered the order that he had given them.

It was pretty much an empty one as he had only said to gather troops, nothing more, nothing less.

Thinking back on it, Aiden had to admit that it really was a stupid thing to say as it wouldn't have any impact on the war at all.

Gather your troops, every single one of them would've done that either way.

Nonetheless, Aiden stepped outside, not caring about the stupid thing that he had just said. He reminded himself to take a serious appearance as he was supposed to be the most important person of this sect, which meant that others needed to fear him.

They needed to fear because they needed to be constantly afraid of what he might decide because it was him the strongest now and the weak had to listen to the strong.

This is just a plain fact, even if you want to camouflage it with as many things as you want.

"Come follow me, we'll go to Li Yang's place first," she said as she started flying in the air as if it was completely normal.

However, Aiden remembered trying to fly when arriving here, and he hadn't been able to.

But, seeing Wu Lan being able to do it meant one thing and one thing only.

It meant that Aiden could also do it, as he was much stronger than his wife.

Aiden, who was on the ground, tried his hardest to keep his cool, as he continued to figure out how to do such a thing.

He had to figure it out fast, or else, Wu Lan would know that there was a problem. In fact, she was already confused as she looked behind her seeing the immobile Li Feng who still wasn't flying with her.

'Should I take a chance?' thought Aiden, as he wasn't sure if what he was about to propose would work.

He knew that he didn't have time to learn how to fly here, so he decided that it would be best for him to learn how to do that later in the trial when he would be alone.

"Can't we walk, you know, take our time together," said Aiden, smiling as he knew that this was simply a lie.

However, Wu Lan's reaction was exactly what Aiden had expected as she seemed even more excited than earlier because she would be able to spend more time with Aiden.

"You're right, why not?" she said as she landed on the ground right beside Aiden.

A couple of seconds after landing, Wu Lan immediately took Aiden's hand and grabbed it as she wanted the two of them to hold hands.

Aiden didn't say anything, as he didn't mind it at all. In fact, he liked the feeling of receiving love, he had to admit that it was a nice feeling.

It wasn't every day that he would be able to do this, so he would be remembering every moment that he would be spending with her.

Right after holding hands, the two of them continued walking toward Li Yang's house, as Wu Lan would sometimes give Aiden a big hug to express her love.

Well, it was more of a tight hug as Aiden had felt her boobs squishing against his body every single time, and he had to admit that it was quite attractive and erotic.

However, it wasn't like they were going to undress in public, as the two of them were slowly but surely arriving at Li Yang's house.

As they arrived in front of his house's door, Aiden took the initiative and knocked on it.

Knock

Knock

However, there was no response, which kind of made sense as he was supposed to recruiting people to fight in the war at this very moment.

Still, Aiden continued to knock for a couple of seconds, as he wasn't sure if he had let him enough time to answer.

However, time passed, and the door still wasn't opening itself, which meant that he was out at the moment.

"Well, it doesn't matter, let's just go to the second general," she said as if knowing who he was.

Even Aiden had no idea who the four generals he had named were, so how could she?

"Why are you looking at me like that? You always pick the same generals when fighting against that sect, it's like a ritual for you," explained Wu Lan, as her knowing suddenly made a lot of sense.

But, then as they were about to leave, someone was coming toward them, looking at two of them quite weirdly.
