

The Truth 371

Chapter 371 Slave Or Dead?

"AAHHHHH~"

"Damn you, Gu! You brought us here to be slaughtered!! ARGHH!"

"Haa... Haa... Ha..." Old Gu completely ignored the screams and pleas, he was in agonizing pain

Even after Robin let his hand go for over a minute, his body was still shaking as lost control of all the joints of his body and felt that his soul was about to collapse at any moment.

But that didn't stop him from raising his head and looking at Robin as if he was seeing a monster.

Those names he just called out, those people who had been sentenced to death...

Most of those who backed the late Flame Emperor in all his decisions have already died in the siege around the flame Empire Capital, or in the ancestral continent, but there were a few who managed to hide well among Old Gu and his party when the city fell

Those seventeen... Some of them physically participated in the invasion against Jura, some of them supported the war with their money and authority, and some of them even had nothing to do with the ancestral continent war, but they were bribed criminals and traitors that were widely known for their corruption in the Flame Empire!

Every single one of them deserves the death penalty without a doubt!!

But how... How did Robin call them out by name?!

Information about some of the people among them was highly confidential and was known only to the Emperor and his advisors his parents

A thought came to Old Gu's head that struck him like lightning, he looked at his trembling hands, then raised his head again to look at Robin, '...No, this can't be, RIGHT?!'

What he received in return was Robin's slight smile as he looked back at him and said, "Now that we have got rid of those who should be eliminated, one step ahead of the rest of you."

"Haa... Haa... Hoo..." Old Gu tried to quickly control his breathing, then stood up and looked at Robin with his two broken eyes, "What do you want us to do?"

CLANK

Dozens of metal plates appeared next to Robin out of nowhere, attracting the eyes of all the Sages, especially the three Emperors, who watched everything in extreme shock, but tried to hold back their urge to ask about what had just happened so as to maintain a strong appearance.

As for Robin, he waited until the last tablet went down, and then spoke, "Well, the next part is very simple. Each one of the gentlemen here will take hold of these tablets, pass your spiritual sense through them, and then swear eternal obedience to me, Robin Burton, and to my offspring after me, you will do as commanded without thought or reason.

And swear to teach your family the same and plant allegiance towards me in their hearts, and to curb any attempt at rebellion that may harm anything or anyone related to me, and that none of you give up any high position before he compels the person who will succeed him to take the same oath.

Of course, I do not need to mention that the punishment for disobedience or any negligence in any part of the oath will be death... But the good thing is that after that you will be part of my close followers and I will treat you as I treat them, and your families will be under my protection as they are under your protection, simple right?"

Gulp

The survivors of the Flame Empire swallowed their saliva when they heard this, all of them without exception had heard about the innovations and strange things that their army had found on the Ancestral Continent, and of course, they knew what the Oath Tablets were, they had tens of thousands of prisoners but couldn't get a single information from them because of these Oath Tablets!

"This..." Old Gu long looked at the metal plates, he didn't even dare to give an answer, this oath was... too insulting, "...And what happens if we refuse?"

"Hehe~" A sarcastic laugh escaped from Robin's mouth, then he straightened up and looked into Old Gu's eyes seriously, "Let's make something clear here, at first I decided to exterminate every one of you, even your dogs and donkeys were going to be food for the Demons, then I showed you some mercy That I gave orders to destroy your army and kill all your experts only and spare the innocent, I came today and I think that orders have already been carried out, but it seems that my friend Billy here has another opinion, the mercy that I showed was not enough in his eyes, so he ignored my orders again and left the Flame Empire nearly as it was, bringing me hundreds of supposedly dead high-levelled Sages, but now you are saying that you lot might refuse to say a few words?"

Bailey quickly stood up and spoke when he found Robin talking about disobeying his orders, "Robin, I didn't mean to disobey your orders but it was Old Gu's intervention that---"

"Enough! What's done is done, and depends on them, maybe it's not that bad either..." Robin raised his hand to silence Bailey and then continued, still looking into Old Gu's eyes, "I have come and am ready to hear that my orders have been fulfilled and that the Flame continent had become a farm where only the mortals resided, but seeing you here made me think of an alternative..."

You have only two options, either you preserve your heritage and rule over your lands by being a force that is entirely subject to me alone, or I complete the implementation of my previous orders and wipe everything related to the Flame Empire from the back of the world, it is either this or that, choose wisely."

"..." Old Gu looked down and clenched his hands tightly

"Are you really going to accept all the people of Flame Empire as your followers because they will swear while holding a metal plate? Is that some kind of flexing a muscle or is it about showing that you are being merciful in front of us? Hmph, how ridiculous~" Water Empress Victoria chuckled when she heard this, happy that she had finally found something she could use to belittle Robin before they started negotiating.

It is natural after occupying any region to destroy its fangs and claws.

How can you feel at ease in your lands when there are strong individuals who can bite you in the back when you turn around? And as long as Robin succeeded in occupying the Flame Empire continent, now is the time to trim nails and break fangs!

The first thing a conqueror would do is kill everyone at the level of Knighthood or higher, just as Robin did when he gave the orders to attack the ancestral continent. This might be very extreme due to the number of people the decision was applied to, but it is normal in a war. The Eight Kingdoms declared war against him, And the loser has to endure the consequences, it's that simple!

This is, for example, what happened in the noble Camden family in the past, where all the powerhouses were killed and the rest turned into slaves.

And this is also what the Flame Empire did with the families of Rufus, Bradley, and other families affiliated with Robin. None of their powerhouses were left alive except for members of the special forces and the Runemasters as they were imprisoned in order to conduct tests on them.

So killing all the Sages who came from the Flame Empire including Old Gu in exchange for pardoning their offspring and only turning them into slaves is just right, throwing them in prison for the rest of their lives is a very light sentence.

But converting them into close followers by just reciting an oath on an ordinary plate of metal?!

"Heh~ They know what I'm talking about..." Robin chuckled while still fixing his eyes on Old Gu, "Ha, what's your decision, old man?"

"Just agree and say them, they are just some words, you will expose him as the hypocrite he is after you say these words." Empress Victoria spoke again

"Just shut the hell up if you don't know what are you talking about!" Old Gu spoke with difficulty as he gritted his teeth, then looked behind him at the rest of the Sages of the Flame Empire.

"YOU!!" Empress Victoria was annoyed by his reaction and was about to say something, but she felt the hand of the Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth touching her arm, then she pointed with her eyebrows towards a certain direction.

Water Empress Victoria was distracted for a moment, but she finally looked in that direction, towards the hundreds of Sages of Flame Empire, her eyes opened on the last of them, and she understood Elizabeth's point.

Something strange is happening.

There was not a single Sage of the Flame Empire taking it lightly, not a single one of them who seemed relieved to have escaped death!

All of them clench their fists, grit their teeth, and sweat, just by looking you can tell that their brains are working with all their capacity to make a fateful decision!

The oath is really harsh, humiliating, will last for eternity, and almost impossible to achieve, but that is if it is implemented at all!

Why are these people acting so seriously? Aren't they just words to make them feel submissive? Is it possible that they're actually thinking of keeping everything they are going to say?

Old Gu finally raised his head and spoke, "...Sigh~ Looks like the Flame Empire is going to enter a whole new era, do you want us to be informal slaves forever or cease to exist? It's okay.. I'll choose to be a slave and give the new generations a chance to lead a good life, If I had to be a slave doing so then be it... All I can say is that I hope this era is not much worse than the previous one... I agree, I will swear by what you want."

"..I agree too."

" And I'm also."

"And me."

Chapter 372 Main Guy

After every one of the remaining Sages of the Flame Empire agreed to the terms, Robin wasted no more time, with a light smile and a wave of his hand the tablets began to lightly fly towards those Sages.

But the Sages of the Flame Empire weren't quite as excited...

Agreeing to swear an oath in order to save their lives was one thing, but holding the board and being ready to really say it out loud was another thing entirely.

Within a few months, the Flame Empire turned from prestige, power, and absolute authority and respect to a situation where they had to choose between humiliation and eternal slavery, or death...

Each one of them held the metal plate firmly in his hand as if he wanted to break it. They knew that there was no escape from saying the oath other than death, but not one of them dared to say a single word.

At that moment, Water Empress Victoria spoke out, "All of you, you are not forced to do this, we children of empires should not accept this treatment!"

"And is there another solution, Your Majesty?" One of the Sages spoke while shaking his head

"Wait until we finish the meeting and then decide whether you will stand up to fight or say those humiliating words, we are still here for you, just seek protection from me and let me see who approaches you!" Water Empress Victoria raised her head and shouted

Robin raised his eyebrows slightly when he saw this and started moving the fingers of his right hand that was placed on the table, it seemed as if he was preparing to give orders to attack at any moment, even Jabba and Amon, and the rest started to make light movements such as taking a step forward or passing their spiritual sense inside the Space Rings in their hands...

There was no way Robin would allow the Sages of the Flame Empire to take refuge behind one of the other Empires even for a second.

If this were to happen it would simply have been as if his words had no weight and that Victoria's protection was more important to them than Robin's judgment, if they started negotiating with that mentality, then what's the point of the negotiations at all?

If the Sages of the Flame Empire accepted this offer, they would be killed, and any emperor who agrees to protect them would be attacked immediately, it was as simple as that.

The eyes of the three emperors were not fixed for one moment, going back and forth between the Robin and Flame Empire Sages, trying to analyze the situation and predict what would happen shortly, Even Victoria started sweating a little bit...

No talks had started yet, but everyone was ready for another massacre that might start at any moment!

Wind Emperor Alexander had wanted with all his heart to slap that woman on the mouth, so what did they have to do with what happened to the Flame Empire? Aren't they the ones who put themselves and put them in this situation?

But during that terrible silence, Old Gu's voice was heard, "I swear to follow His Excellency Robin Burton's orders and to---- and----- and to do everything in my power to compel all who have actual power over the citizens of an empire to take A similar oath, and if I intentionally failed to implement any clause, then I deserve death."

"...I swear to follow the orders of His Excellency Robin Burton and to---"

"I swear to follow orders----"

Old Gu straightforwardly began to recite his oath, taking everyone by surprise, especially the Sages of Flame Empire who looked at the emperor who had ruled over them for thousands of years saying such insulting words as if they were nothing.

But this also brought them back to their senses, if the Flame Emperor could bear such an insult, then what would stop them? So they clenched their hands, passed their spirit sense into the metal plates, and then began reciting their allegiance as well.

"good, very good." Robin's light smile increased slightly and he clapped twice, then pointed towards one of the empty chairs on the table near him as he looked at Old Gu, "You are one of us now, come sit down."

"Thank you, Your Excellency." Old Gu nodded and then went to sit where Robin pointed out

"Hmph." Water Empress Victoria puffed and spoke disgustedly, "Even after I offered to protect you all you still chose to humiliate yourself, it seems you were looking for a way to be a slave, perhaps you should have considered enslaving yourself to me before the man who ripped your land apart."

"...Sigh~ you remind me of my son a lot, but we all know where he is now..." Old Gu spoke and shook his head as he sat on his chair.

"Humph, It is you that who let old age eat your head..!!" The Water Empress Victoria slammed on the table, "You think saying a few words will make this person trust you? Do you think you and the rest of your Sages won't be secretly assassinated one by one after getting out of here? What a joke! He just wants to satisfy his ego by humiliating you in front of him."

"Hehe, if you don't know what these tablets are then please stop talking, you are embarrassing yourself." Old Gu let out a mocking laugh and spoke

"YOU..!" Water Emperor Victoria shouted and was about to say something, but she felt a hand poke her from the side

When she looked next to her, she saw the Sacred Tree Emperor Elizabeth looking towards Old Gu, speaking in her musical voice, "Why don't you broaden our horizons and tell us what those metal tablets are then, Uncle Gu?"

"If the person concerned wants to tell you, let him tell you, and if he wants me to tell you, ask him to give me permission first, I'm nothing but a man carrying out orders to the best I can now, stop talkin' to me." Old Gu replied with hearable sadness in his voice, no matter what, his lifelong self-respect has been broken

But still, he looked up at Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth and added, "But as an old man I advise you to don't think about those tablets for now and get to the point with the main guy, If the conversation goes well and you were smart enough, perhaps you will hold on to one of those metal tablets too and find out on your own."

Everyone knew who is the main guy that Old Gu spoke about, and once again, all eyes were focused on Robin, some of them confused looks, some of them held hatred, some of them held many questions, and some of them even reverence, but they all have one thing in common: respect.

Wind Emperor Alexander put both his hands on the table and spoke as he looked at Robin, "Yes, Uncle Gu is right, I think it's time for us to take the invitee's opinion on a few matters..."

"I'm all ears~" Robin smiled and gave a short reply

Chapter 373 Mine.

"Why did you invite us to come here?" Wind Emperor Alexandre spoke directly

"For the same reason you accepted the invitation, to get to know and understand each other," Robin replied with a slight smile on his face

Wind Emperor Alexander furrowed his brows, "So kidnapping our sons for months and then threatening to destroy our empires if we didn't come was that? an invitation to get to understand each other? Forgive me but that doesn't seem a little bit respectful, there were other options, you know?"

"And you bringing 900 sages between levels 38~40 here although I invited you alone, and trying to interfere in my war against the Flame Empire was a respectful act to do? Is your offer to shelter enemies of mine here in the heart of my lands can be considered peaceful? That woman attacking my adopted son was considered respectful?! ...Let's say we both have different tastes in introducing ourselves and finish talking about the matter at this point." Robin shrugged and spoke

"Hmph, it is a pity that the attack was not completed," Victoria spoke angrily when she heard Robin say that woman

"You have to thank Heaven first and then the Wind Emperor that your attack was not delivered. If something happened to Caesar, I wouldn't be content with only killing you, your entire empire would have paid the price, I would have left them feeling envious of the way I left the Flame Empire!" A latent killing intent leaked out from Robin as he looked at Victoria, Since he saw in Old Gu's memories what had happened before he arrived, he was trying to restrain himself as much as possible with her around!

"You're overestimating yourself, come and try!" Victoria smiled provocatively and replied

"Alright Alright, there is no need to try anything. I think Mr. Robin is right. Everyone has their own way of doing things.." Wind Emperor Alexander gave half a laugh and then pointed at himself, "Let me start. I am the ruler of the Wind Empire of this generation, Alexander Levan... and this is the ruler of the Continent of the Sacred Tree Empire, Elizabeth Trent.. and this one is the ruler of the Continent of the Water Empire, Victoria Frost"

As Wind Emperor Alexander introduced the two women next to him, there was a slight golden gleam in Robin's eyes as he looked at the three of them...

Wind Emperor Alexander looked at Robin with confidence and respect while introducing himself, he did not show any arrogance but he did not show any weakness either, as for Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth smiled and made a light gesture that captured the hearts of everyone present, while Victoria did not even look at Robin's direction ...

But Robin paid no attention to it, he waited as soon as the Wind Emperor finished, then nodded with a smile, "Nice to have you all here, now let me introduce myself... I'm Robin Burton, researcher, and inventor, nothing big, I just come up with a few fun toys every once in a while, I also happen to be the ruler of the Ancestral Continent, the Flame Continent, and the Central Continent."

"What did you say?!" Victoria who was looking towards the horizon shouted when she heard Robin's words, "What Central Continent? Do you realize what you are saying?"

"I know exactly what I'm saying, the Central Continent has become mine and this is a decision that is effective from this moment on."

"YOU..!!" Water Empire Victoria hit the table, "I knew it was useless to come here, I told you there was no alternative to war!"

Wind Emperor Alexander reached out his hand, grabbed Victoria's wrist, and nodded towards her, then turned his gaze back towards Robin, "Mr. Robin, you seem like a reasonable person so let's not talk with emotions now, we can understand that you want to run the affairs of the Ancestral Continent on everyone's' behalf and want a part of the territory of the Flame Continent and this is understandable since it was you Who ended the rule of the Barnett family there, but the Central Continent? That is not going to happen, and If you insist... I'm afraid it would be a big problem."

"Managing the Ancestral Continent on everyone's' behalf? Taking a part of the territory of the Flame Continent? Oh No, No, Nooo~ Are you saying that you had hopes that I would share the two continents with you? HAHAAHAAAAY~ You really have lived in your ivory palace too long..." Robin laughed loudly,

But then his smile disappeared as he spoke seriously, "The Ancestral Continent is mine, and the Flame Continent is also one of my private possessions now, NOt managing them on any bodies behalf or taking a part of them. They belong to me completely and categorically, and this matter is undiscussable. I do not even know why we are talking about this in the first place!

What is this? Instead of trying to persuade me not to include your Continents in my possessions, you came wanting a part of what is already mine!? What audacity! Who allowed you to think this way?"

"Take our continents? Do you think we will be easy prey? Do you think you are going to hunt us down one after the other as you did with the Flame Empire? Do you think you can invade us when we are united? This meeting is useless, we should have done as he said and brought our armies with us!"

"Wait, Victoria, please be patient, Mr. Robin does not mean that he will invade our lands!" Sacred Tree Emperor spoke in a somewhat serious tone, then looked towards Robin with a very sweet smile, "... Mister Robin, let's leave the issue of the Ancestral Continent and Flame Continent to the side, for now, It is true that the Central Continent doesn't belong to anyone in particular, but it belongs to everyone, declaring it as your private property is the same as taking our share of the land..."

Secondly, that continent has always been the beating heart of the world, where its people meet and get to know the different heritage of the other Empires in a neutral place. This contributed greatly to strengthening the ties between the four empires over tens of thousands of years and contributed to the stability of world peace.

Forcing a group of people to stay on their own continent forever will result in an aspiration to see what lies beyond the seas, which will result in thinking of expansion and conquest, and thus will inevitably generate wars sooner or later. the existence of the Central continent has the solution to this matter, I hope you reconsider your declaration to avoid unnecessary world wars."

"You don't have to think about this point, your citizens will be able to move freely everywhere in the world and not just the central continent, are you happy now?" Robin smiled lightly and spoke

"Oh? How is that? We can't have strangers coming into our lands freely as they might be coming with ill intentions, and we also can't feel safe for our sons going into some far away hostile territory...." Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth raised her eyebrows and asked.

Robin's smile widened and he replied, "Don't worry about both, there will be no hostile territories, there will be no need for anyone to spy or harm another, As by the end of this day the entire planet will be mine."

Chapter 374 Expectations Vs Reality

"Finally he showed his true colors, Didn't I tell you? By coming here on his order he will think we are weak! That is it for me, If you both don't leave right now, I will!" Water Empress Victoria stood up and then pointed at Robin, "You there, You say the planet will be yours? Come and take my continent if you can!"

"Sigh~ Looks like we really wasted our time, let's go." Wind Emperor Alexander slowly stood up as well, his disappointment was evident in his words and facial expressions as he said it.

"Aaay~ I had better expectations for this, what a loss~" Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth sighed and slowly started to stand up as well.

None of them knew how to react when news reached them that their subjects had been held captive for months at the mercy of some crimson-colored Demons and that the leader of those crimson-colored Demons was actually a human and that he ordered for the three emperors to come and meet him on the Ancestral Continent within one year or else what happened to the Flame Empire would happen to them...

The matter was very sudden and very, very strange, their minds could not absorb all that information at one time and none of them could answer the question How did a force of this size appear in the ancestral continent or what are those Demons?

All that occupied their heads was: What the hell happened to Flame Empire?!

The three emperors quickly used their primitive means of communication and tried to reach out to the Barnett family in the Flame continent to find out what was going on, but to no response...

The war was already raging there and the demons were surrounding the entire continent, killing anything or anyone that tries to enter and leave the continent.

So they communicated with each other and decided to go to the Flame Empire themselves to find out what was going on... And there they got the shock of their lives.

When they reached the shore and saw the mutilated corpses, their hearts were gripped, and the deeper they went into the continent the feeling of suffocation became more apparent...

That continued until they reached the Flame Empire Capital and saw from afar the capital burning, they saw a huge number of The Crimson Demons they heard about.

But hearing about something was way different than seeing it, And seeing these creatures eating the corpses of their victims was... They couldn't even find words to describe it!!

It can only be said that these scenes will forever be engraved in their memories.

And soon enough they saw Flame Emperor Elias, advancing bravely to defend his land, and then saw his father, Old Gu, attack him verbally and then participate in what appeared killing him!

Sacred Tree Empire Elizabeth tried to step forward more than once to help The Flame Empire, but Victoria and Alexander stopped her, even the Sages of Sacred Tree Empire begged her to stop, who would want to get involved in something like that?!

If Hell exists, this was it!

The scene was terrifying, just the fact a father had to attack his own son to stop this madness was evident enough!

Only when the battle came to an end and they saw how old Gu was forced to kill his own son, did they all know the significance of that demon's leader's threat, they knew what he meant with just like what happened in the Flame Empire really meant.

That guy could foresee what is going on right now since months ago, he had absolute confidence that he would turn an ancient kingdom into hell even before the war began!

And the thing is... That guy wasn't ever there!

Did he think that destroying one of the four Empires wasn't worth his time?!

Quickly, the three of them agreed to unite and stand together against this new common enemy, and if one of them got attacked the other two Empires HAVE to help...

And they also agreed to accept the invitation and go to the ancestral continent to meet with this mysterious guy in the hope that they might stop the war before it happened.

Hoping that what they are seeing now was a personal feud against the Flame Empire and that he was only inviting them in this manner to demonstrate his power...

Telling themselves that if that person only wanted war, he would not have invited them to meet, even if it was a somewhat rude invitation.

They also agreed to threaten him somehow by Their unity and negotiating with him over the ownership of the Ancestral Continent and the Flame Continent, then they would give up on them in the end as if it was a peace offer hoping that they achieve peace with him this way... Hoping that he might forget about their lands and leave them alone.

...But from Robin's words now it became clear that he doesn't put them in his eye, the subject about the Ancestral Continent and the Flame Continent was closed before it was even opened!

It was obvious that Robin didn't bring them here to flex his muscles, but wanted to accept their surrender.

And if they were going to lose their lands and heritage anyway, then naturally they will bet on war.

VROOOM

"Why does it seem that you think you can leave as you please?" Jabba took out the war hammer from his Space Ring and placed it on his shoulder

Amon, Sakar, and the other Demon Kings standing behind Robin also assumed attack stances and inserted their Spiritual Sense into the Sound Rings, ready to give orders to the Demon army to pounce on the hill at any moment.

The Sages from the Three Empires who were spread around the hill felt the energy disturbances occurring above as well, and their faces turned for the worse.

When they left their lands with their emperors, they were surprised by their decision and wondered what might necessitate their personal action, and indeed many of them objected to cutting off their work to accompany their emperors on some journey outside the continent, but now that they are in the midst of a sea of demons, they feel that they are nothing.

With all their strength that they were so proud of, they would all be killed if a fight broke out now!

"Is that how you treat your guests, Mr. Robin?" Alexander looked around in fear, then quickly fixed his eye on Robin

Caesar took two paces behind Reuben and shouted, "And do the guests come with a thousand individuals at the top of the sage realm? If the fortunes were turned and we didn't have enough troops today, would you have let us go if we disagreed?"

HOOOO~

Snow began to form around the top of the hill and Water Empress Victoria's eyes turned completely white as she looked at Caesar with clear killing intent, "You again? You really deserve to die!"

SSSNNNNN

Caesar took out a Broad Divine Sword from his Space Ring with black flames ignited on it, fully unleashing his aura as a level 32 sage, drawing all eyes towards him, then he shouted, "Then come and try me, BITCH!"

Chapter 375 Worlds

"STEP BACK! Who gave you the orders to move? It was who invited them here and I am responsible for their safety until they leave my land. Do you all think I would break a promise? Never!" Robin suddenly stood up and shouted angrily

The Demon kings started to look at each other strangely and then gave up their offensive stance, Caesar also lowered the sword, but he didn't shut his mouth like the rest, so he looked towards Robin and spoke, "Can't you give up these ideals of yours just this once? If we let them out they will go to prepare armies against us, if we kill them now All four empires will fall in succession like leaves, by killing them we can save numerous lives!"

Water Empress Victoria could not remain silent after hearing those words and said, "Hmph, and you wretch is the one who is going to kill us?"

"Say it again!!" Caesar raised his sword again and spoke aggressively

"I said enough!" Robin shouted again at Caesar, "This was just a friendly exchange of opinions and they are here under my protection. If they choose war, it is up to them."

"Tsk~" This time Caesar drew his sword into his Space Ring and retreated to its original position without adding another word

Wind Emperor Alexander let out a long sigh, then took two steps forward and poked Water Empress Victoria to undo what she was doing, then looked towards Robin, "Mister Robin, my respect for you has greatly increased, but I think there is something wrong with it, we are not the ones who declared war, it was you."

"Me? When did that happen?" Robin returned to his seat and a simple smile returned to his lips, "Actually, I have a matter that requires the largest possible number of troops, so I do not want to start a war unless absolutely necessary, but if you want it, then there is no escape~"

"We don't want anything! We can do without any connection to the Ancestral Continent, I can even convince Elizabeth and Victoria to forget about the Flame Continent as well, they are all yours! Just leave everything else as it is and then there will be no need for wars and we will live together in peace, it's that simple!" Wind Emperor Alexander took another step forward and spoke excitedly, finally finding a glimmer of hope!

"Sorry, that's not possible. I went through a lot until I learned that two tigers cannot exist on the same mountain. True peace can only be achieved if there is only one ruler, and that will be me. No matter how many years it will take me to achieve this and how many souls will die until the planet unites, this will happen, and please make sure that this is me speaking about a future reality and not a threat." Robin shook his head and spoke

Wind Emperor Alexander almost cracked his fist from pressure on it, he could feel absolute confidence in Robin's words, and looking at the Demon army he saw with his own eyes, he was truly capable of saying such words...

Water Empress Victoria was about to say something, but Robin suddenly interrupted her, "It is true that I will be the sole ruler of the planet and that is beyond doubt, but as I said, I care about how this happens and I do not want war, on the contrary, I want you as allies! So I have a few Offers you may like, I hope you will delay your departure and hear it till the end."

The Wind Emperor slightly furrowed his brows, "What good these offers would do when you are the SOLE ruler? You want us to hand over our lands that our ancestors nurtured for tens of thousands of years to you and go out to graze the sheep? We give you all the resources of the continent that we now possess without restrictions in return for offers? Are you convinced of what you say?!"

"Haha, no, you will not hand over anything. If everything goes well, each of you will remain the ruler of his continent, your families will remain a ruling family, and your systems and everything will remain as it is. This is what will happen with the Barnett family even after our bitter war with them. and as for your resources, I do not want them, I don't NEED anything from whatever resources you have, so do not worry about this. If I needed anything from your lands, I will buy them like any ordinary customer... The only thing that will change if you agree is that you will take a small oath to swear allegiance and obedience to me."

"We swear to you on what?! You are dreaming!" Water Empress Victoria exclaimed when she heard this

But the Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth interrupted Robin before he could reply and spoke, "If everything will remain under our rule, and you don't need our resources, what can our loyalty benefit you? why do you stress on this matter? What exactly will you command us to do if you don't need anything from us?"

Robin nodded several his head after hearing Elizabeth, "Hmmm... I can't think of anything specific, I just want to make sure the inner peace within the planet will last forever, If you all answer to the same person then there will be nothing to worry about, I won't have another potential stab in the back. other than that I don't really need you for anything... I guess The only thing I have commanded you to do is to defend the planet in case of an outside invasion."

"To defend the planet... against an external invasion? There are other worlds?!" Wind Emperor Alexander slightly furrowed his eyebrows upon hearing this, Even Water Empress Victoria looked startled.

"What is very surprising? Don't you see the Demons? Did you think we were at a fancy dress party?!" Robin said then laughed out loud

Chapter 376 Boss

All the anticipation and nervous tension that had gripped Wind Emperor Alexander's hurt turned in an instant to shock upon hearing Robin's words.

Water Empress Victoria and Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth glanced at each other with eyes full of questioning and suspicion as well.

"What... Is it so hard to believe that there are other planets around?" Robin raised his eyebrows and asked when he saw the three of them acting this way

The Wind Emperor shook his head upon hearing Robin's question and replied, "...I don't know, but since we've known nothing about this for tens of thousands of years of our documented history, I doubt we'll need to deal with other worlds anytime soon. Asking for our full allegiance to you in order to fend off an invasion of some aliens we never heard about from worlds we do not know exist? Excuse me but this is a stupid way to scare us into submission, maybe try another excuse.

"Hahahaha. What do you mean, this is the first time you hear about aliens from other worlds? Who is standing in front of you now? Do you think I found them in some local circus?!" Robin laughed out loud and pointed toward Jabba and Amon

"This..." Wind Emperor Alexander stared at Amon and Jabba for a few seconds, the Water and Sacred Tree Emperors also looked towards the Demon Kings with mixed feelings, even though they had seen Jabba and the Demons all the time over the past few weeks, it seemed like it was the first time see them...

There is no doubt that the forms and powers of Jabba and the Demons were unfamiliar, but it did not cross their minds even for a moment that they came from another world!

What went through their heads was that perhaps Robin had found these creatures crammed underground somewhere, or perhaps they were humans like them, but they were put under some kind of artificial mutations that transformed into this form, but.. another world?!

Everything that was going through their minds about what is happening right now has faded... Everything they knew about their reality began to be re-evaluated!

At that moment, Water Empress Victoria thought of something and shouted as she pointed toward Robin, "You... you sold your soul to aliens and showed them the location of our planet in order to avenge your family? Did you sell our lands, our treasures, and our lives for personal revenge? TRAITOR!!"

By that moment, Wind Emperor Alexander and Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth had thought about it as well, they didn't say anything but started to re-evaluate the way they deal with Robin

They were now not dealing with someone who had established a vassal force in the Ancestral Land, but with someone who is an agent of another planet...

This is also why they knew Robin wouldn't lie about this matter because it is a very serious matter that would reshape his status from a leader and founder of a powerful force into a traitor!

"How idiotic." Sakar shook his head when he heard Water Empress Victoria

"YOU..!!" She wanted to go after Victoria to say something or even attack Sakar, but this time she didn't need anyone to hold her back, she stood her ground by herself.

At first, she had some confidence that the forces of the three empires united could stop Robin, but if the Demons really came from another world, then perhaps what they saw til now was not the true size of their forces...

Perhaps Robin's confident threats about taking over the planet weren't that far-reaching...

"My master and the master of my race, His Excellency Robin, hid the coordinates of the planet from everyone except for two or three people close to him, and we are not here to greed for trivialities that you call treasures and your lands that are equal to nothing when compared to our territories in Nihari, but rather we are here to follow him and die from him! You people really don't appreciate the person sitting in front of you, even where we are from, he is the boss!" Sakar spoke in his usual rough voice,

Then continued his speech while looking at the Empress of Water Victoria from top to bottom, "Supposing that His Excellency is satisfied with you and accepts your oath of allegiance to him and decides to truly link the two planets, then you are the ones who will benefit from this and not us. Do you think If his Excellency only wanted revenge he would want to make peace with you? Or do you think that if he is our agent we would want that? we demons only want to eat! All the Demons here wish you would decline His Excellency's offer and leave right now! seriously... We hope you do..."

Caesar, Billy, and the rest of the humans at the top of the hill looked at Robin beside their eyes with looks of utmost respect and reverence...

All of them without exception thought at first the same way the Three Emperors did when they saw the Demons for the first time... that Robin betrayed the planet out of revenge.

And after what happened to them, and that they want revenge more than anything, they just went with the flow and fought alongside the demons, but there was something in them against what was happening, especially since Robin did not tell them about what happened in Nihari, and none of the Demons opened his mouth with a word either...

Seeing the Demons treat Robin with the greatest possible respect has always dispelled some doubts from their chests over time, and now Sakar's words have dispelled these doubts completely... Robin has reached a stage where he can be called a boss in the other world!!

"...He is the boss in where you come from? He is a leading figure in another world? How? That is definitely a lie!" Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth ignored Sakar's direct threat and his outrageous thirst for blood, and muttered in a low voice as she still kept her eyes on Robin.

Didn't Old Gu tell them that Robin was the son of a small noble family from the Ancestral Land? That there is no doubt about his origin, birth, and lineage?

How is it possible that at his young age he went to another world and became a leader there and gained such powerful and loyal followers?!

Jabba spoke this time, crossing his hands on his chest, "It's a long story that can be explained later, very briefly let's say that you are not standing now in front of someone who has worked hard to take over the ancestral continent and seeks to take over this little world of yours, but rather you are standing with someone who has already achieved beyond this, Whatever lands and treasures you have are nothing to him if He tells you there is The threat of an invasion is coming, it is coming, it's that simple."

Then he added after a few seconds pause, "Go back to your seats and listen to his terms, as he said this world will be his, even if not today or tomorrow, this world will be his, use your brains and make the most of it, give him what he wants and he would give you benefits that you can never dream of, his excellency is quite generous when he wants to be..."

CRRRR

After hearing those words, Wind Emperor Alexander's gnashing of teeth could clearly be heard from anywhere on the hill, but after a few seconds, the gnashing ended with a long sigh.

Then Emperor Wind Alexander walked back to his seat, placed his hands on the table, and looked at Robin, "What are those benefits?"

Chapter 377 Breakthrough?

A slight smile appeared on Robin's face when he heard Wind Emperor Alexander's question, and then began to speak, "As far as I know, the founding of your empires came tens of thousands of years after the start of the cultivation era, as 4 Geniuses managed to discover the Major laws of the four most visible and abundant paths that existed in nature: fire, water, plants, and wind... And whoever discovers a major Law will not find it very difficult to discover the rest of the advanced levels of that Major law, so I can imagine that the same four individuals who discovered those Major laws were able to reach at least an intermediate sage level before they died..."

Then the next generations who opened their eyes and found major laws ready for development were definitely able to bring the techniques of those four major laws to the pinnacle of the Sagehood realm, and perhaps only 5,000 years after the death of the founders of your empire, one of them was able to take an extra half step towards the next realm, One that is famous In Nehari by the name the Emperors' Realm, Which gives the four of you this extraordinary strength, although you are still sages.

But after the first five thousand years of establishing your empires, you have not been able to advance in your technique another half step no matter how hard you try, after about 15 thousand years have passed, you must have submitted to fate and thought that it is impossible to break through to a higher realm. if you might have even convinced yourselves that there is no higher cultivation realm...

There are of course time differences when those events occurred in each of your empires, but everything I said now all your Empires have undoubtedly gone through, right? Please correct me if I am wrong."

"....Right." Wind Emperor Alexander replied with a frown. At the beginning of Robin's speech, he raised his eyebrows in astonishment. He did not know why Robin started a history class.

However, as he progressed, he began to say facts and things that he did not expect to touch upon, rather he was not aware of how he knew them in the first place!

"Good, good..." Robin nodded twice with a slight smile still on his lips, then raised his head and looked into Wind Emperor Alexander's eyes, "What is stopping you to break through to that higher realm in your opinion?"

"Breakthrough to a higher realm? Impossible! , You said it yourself, we tried a lot for almost 15,000 years but to no avail, We cannot make a proper technique for the fourth degree of any of the four Major laws, as if there is something missing or the traditional pillar method no longer works after the third degree... all we managed to get were glimpses of how to temporarily increase our strength to a higher level than the rest of the Sages, but that method is full of gaps and doesn't get to the point where we can say it's a higher cultivation realm." Alexander shook his head

"A method to increase your strength, you mean using your life force to force the law you trained on to materialize? Theoretically, this technique can fully utilize a person's comprehension of their own law and fully utilize every hair of energy or momentum in their body, the person who thought of this method is a real genius, but..." Robin spoke quickly until he reached that last point and then slowly continued, "Activating it draws out a person's life force as fast as a loose arrow, activating it for just a few minutes can swallow up hundreds of years of your life span. On top of that, the materialization of the laws is not perfect, it puts huge pressure on your soul. Also, it is not as strong as he is supposed to be, If this technique was executed perfectly, you should have been at least a hundred times stronger even as sages."

"Robin Burton, hmph... I can't even imagine how foolish you must be to tell lies like that one after the other." Water Empress Victoria said angrily, "I'm sure you haven't even seen this technique activated in your life but you talk like you are an expert that knows everything about it, and even talking about its ideal form? Do you say we should be a hundred times stronger? Do you even know the maximum strength of one of us right now? Do you know what I can do to you..?"

Robin was unfazed by what he heard as looked at Water Empress Victoria with that same smile, "I know more than you think, Old Gu's memories were useful for more than identifying some criminals... Actually, I know that you are still a virgin even though you are an old 900 year old hag, is this the reason why you are always angry? Maybe you should lower your nose a little bit if you want to get a man."

"I WILL KILL YOU!!" Water Emperor Victoria angrily shouted and pulled a short dagger from behind her back,

But the Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth who was standing next to her quickly grabbed her arm before making any further movement, "Calm down, Victoria!!"

"You are right again about the problems we are facing with that technique, but then what? We can't verify this 100-fold more power issue you are talking about... What's the point of all that you said? So far, we haven't touched on anything useful, where are those benefits your boys were talking about?" Wind Emperor Alexander ignored what was happening around him and spoke

Robin chuckled slightly as he watched Water Empress Victoria and Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth, before turning back to look at Wind Emperor Alexander, and said, "Every word I said had a meaning, and now it's time for the important question... Do you want to solve the problems of your laws' materialization technique? And most importantly, Do you want to... Breakthrough to the Emperor's cultivation Realm?"

Chapter 378 To The Ground

"Are you saying you can invent these methods? And most importantly... you say you can give them to us?" Wind Emperor Alexander slightly furrowed his eyebrows as he spoke

"This is correct." Robin nodded

"Hehe.. hahaha." Alexander slapped his hand on his thigh and started laughing loudly, "Are you saying that you can do what our ancestors for nearly twenty thousand years could not do? And you will do it for four different major laws as well?! how many thousands of years will we have to wait before you fulfill this promise of yours?"

"Do you want full loyalty right now in return for something you might or might now do in thousands of years to come?! I thought you would provide some good argument, but it turns out I was wasting my time!"

A half smile appeared on Water Empress Victoria's face and with a "hmp" she pulled her arm from Elizabeth's, as if to say that there was no reason to attack Robin anymore after his crazy words.

"..." As for Old Gu, he looked at Robin with wide open eyes and quickened breaths. If there was a single person on the back of this world who could say such a thing, it was undoubtedly Robin!

VUUUOOO~~

A ball of white flame appeared in Robin's hand, "I trust everyone here has seen this flame at least once by now, let me formally introduce it to you, this is mister perfect flame, it is the absolute model of the Major Fire Law without any loopholes, or interference with other laws.

Because the Flame Empire's major Fire law was muddy and full of loopholes, it was destined to never reach the fourth stage, let alone 20,000 years, even if the Flame Emperors spent another 200,000 years, they would not reach the fourth stage before they restructured the Fire Major's technique that they own and deliver it to a degree of purity of at least 90%. Which is no way close to the pureness of the flame that I hold in my hand now by the way."

Robin then moved his other hand and a metal tablet appeared in it, then gently threw it towards Old Gu and spoke, "Old man, You will find here the perfect Major Heavenly Law of fire Technique from the first stage all the way to the third stage."

'The Perfect Major Fire Heavenly Law!!!' When Old Gu took the tablet, his heart began to beat like a war drum, this was the empire's highest ambition and the foremost goal of conquering Jura City!

It wasn't the talismans themselves that moved the empire to intervene, but rather the Three Kings' words about pure white flames, and the fact that there were strange inscriptions that could produce an explosion of such extreme purity, a purity that made them feel that what they had been using all those years can't be even called a flame!

They did not come for the talismans... But for the white flames that those talismans produce!

They came to the Ancestral Continent to produce a new young generation for the empire who would use this pure flame, a generation that might make any discoveries in the fourth-Stage of the Major Heavenly Law of fire Technique!

It is true that this law was still only in its second Stage and it is true that young generations will have to try to research it for thousands of years to come, but it is better than nothing, a place to start.

And when they saw with their own eyes the Fire Legion using that white flame during the battles against the Burton family, they became even more convinced that this might be the key to reaching the next stage, the key to ruling the whole world!

But when they arrived in Jura City and started capturing the prisoners, their hopes were shattered on the rock called The Oath Tablets... And after more than ten years, they still couldn't reach this white flame technique.

But now... after being defeated in the worst way possible, with nothing to bargain with and already taking the oath, Robin threw it into his arms...

Old Gu looked up again toward Robin to thank him, but he found him throwing another metal tablet at him and speaking, "This is The foundation modification technique, with this technique any inner energy cultivation foundation can be modified using a law technique from the same heavenly path, you can even modify your previous cultivation foundation using a law from another path but only some minor modifications, I don't recommend that though, as it would be too hard to get to the next stage."

"This... This..." Old Gu's hand started to tremble as he grabbed the second metal tablet, a technique that can modify the previous cultivation foundation!!

even he didn't know that such a technique existed!!

This time, even Old Gu forgot that he had to thank Robin and began to mutter as he looked at the two tablets in his hand, "Wait... if I have the Perfect Fire Major Heavenly Law technique, and I have the technique for adjusting the foundation of my previous cultivation, then can I...?!?!"

Robin understood what Old Gu was aiming at, then spoke with a smile, "Yes, you and the rest of the Sages of Flame Empire can freely use white flames, you will have a 100% pure technique with all energy levels perfectly explained up to level 40, even if I don't I give you guys fourth stage technique in the future, you can simply discover it for yourselves in less than a thousand years."

Wind Emperor Alexander was busy turning his gaze between the two metal tablets and Robin, he didn't know what exactly those tablets were used for, but Robin's words were true, they are dangerous... extremely dangerous.

"Hmph, again you are just saying words that can't be proven without them trying it for many years and you demand allegiance with it now, what is wrong with you? and what are those metal plates exactly? You made the Sages of Flame Empire swear while holding them and now you are throwing them at Uncle Gu as if you are doing him a favor? Is this a joke or do you feel in control while doing these useless things?" Water Empress Victoria sneered and then continued, "You see, old man? You have sworn allegiance to him but things are thrown at your face to belittle you, if I were you, I would ignore that oath and--"

BAAM

Before Victoria could complete her speech, she heard something hitting the ground, and when she looked to her side, she saw something she thought she would never see.

Old Gu is kneeling towards Robin on both feet and looking at the ground, shouting loudly, "We thank Your Excellency for this precious opportunity, we will strive to become better followers under your leadership."

"What the..?! Have you lost your mind, Gu?!" Victoria yelled when she saw this and then looked behind her at the rest of the Sages of Flame Empire, "Did you see the person you're taking as a leader? He is a--"

BAM BAM BAM

"We thank His Excellency for this precious opportunity!!!"

Chapter 379 Divine Decree Incarnation

"YOU ALL..!!" Water Empress Victoria's eyes opened wide when she saw this sight, she even forgot how to breathe for a moment!

Even the Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth and Wind Emperor Alexander were looking around as if they had seen the strangest thing in their lives, they weren't even as shocked when they saw the demons for the first time!

Old Gu, the Flame Emperor, fell to his knees, bowing to Robin, and all the Sages of the Flame Emperor fell to their knees after him.

Any one of those Sages could have wreaked havoc on the entire Ancestral Continent unchecked just two years ago, actually one of them had already done so by mobilizing the armies of the Seven Kingdoms to march under his banner in the war against the Borton family

Each and every one of those Sages has self-respect and an ego as high as the sky!

But they all knelt?

Old Gu did not command them to do as he did, and there was no condition in the oath they took that compelled them to do something like this either. Rather, by looking at their faces, it seemed that there was no one of them annoyed by his kneeling, on the contrary... Their faces and auras expressed overwhelming joy, some of them even started to shed tears of joy!!

"Could it be..?!" The Wind Emperor muttered in a low voice, but the same thought struck the three Emperors at the same time

The only thing that could attract such a reaction was that Old Gu and all the Sages of Flame Empire believed every word Robin said without the slightest shred of doubt.

'If Everything said is true, then...!' Wind Emperor Alexander thought and looked at Old Gu who was still kneeling on the ground.

The Flame Empire had barely pledged allegiance to Robin but he had actually given them such an opportunity?

A while ago, Victoria was talking about how humiliating they were, but in a thousand years from now Flame Empire would have the first True Expert Beyond the Sagehood realm!!

No, even if they ignored the fact that a person beyond the Sagehood Realm had appeared, the fact that all the experts of the Flame Empire would use that white flames meant that in just a few years they would come back from their destruction to stand on an equal footing with the rest of the Empires at the very least!

Who should be mocking whom now?!

"Haha, stand up, old man, you are with me now, you have to get used to things like this." Robin chuckled and gestured to old Gu and the rest of the Sages of the Flame Empire around him to stand up

"Thank you... Thank you..." Old Gu stood up and went back to his seat, this time cradling the two metal plates in his arms as if he was cuddling his baby...

Before he came to the Ancestral Continent, he was trying to guess what would happen to him and the Flame Empire, would everyone within his Sagehood Realm be killed? Will he kill some and leave the rest alive? Will their offspring turn into slaves? ...will any of them actually survive?

It was all about the whim of someone he'd never seen, a barely two-hundred-year-old named Robin Burton with the power to decide the fate of his empire with a word.

Robin Burton... The one who has now elevated Flame Empire with a word too!

Maybe what happened so far... Maybe that war and that oath... Maybe Everything wasn't all bad.

VROOOM

Immediately and without another word being said, Robin swiped a green-colored energy into the ball of white flames that were still burning in his hand.

crack crack

"Roar... Cough Cough... ROOAAAR!!!"

"THIS...?" Everyone furrowed their brows at the same time when they saw what was happening, even Old Gu himself was looking at Robin's hand with great curiosity...

The little white ball of flame took the shape of a dragon, and that dragon began to circle around Robin's hand happily and let out a gentle intermittent roar, but this was not the most eye-catching for them, it was the eyes of the little dragon...

Its eyes seem full of children's mischief and love of exploration, they seem full of... life?

"How is that possible?!" Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth took two steps forward and started examining the dragon more carefully

This dragon looked like...

"What? Don't you see now that it reminds you of something? A certain thing that you boast about approaching the Realm above Saghood?" Robin asked with a wry smile

"...This is undoubtedly The Divine Decree Incarnation!! No... it's somehow different..." The Sacred Tree Empress suddenly exclaimed, but once again muttered in a low voice.

"Hmph, it's much weaker, perhaps he saw The Divine Decree Incarnation technique in Old Gu's memory and tried to imitate it with this pathetic version," Victoria spoke sharply, but curiosity was evident in her eyes

"Imitating The Divine Decree Incarnation just by seeing someone's memories? That's still hard to imagine..." Alexander furrowed his eyebrows, he knew more than everyone how difficult this technique was and how many years it took him to train to master it.

"No, we have received many reports of beasts made of fire, wind, and darkness permeating them with life, and that they are the most difficult enemy that our forces faced throughout their time in the Ancestors Continent, and the same report came from the sage who escaped from the battle of the central continent as well." Old Gu muttered as he watched the dragon move

This was the first time Old Gu had seen this technique, it had not been used during the war on the Flame Empire Continent, probably because there was no need for it...

"Hehe~" Robin gave a chuckle and added, "This is just an ordinary ball of flame into which I pass energy powered by the Major Heavenly Law of Life, just something I thought of a few years ago to make dispensable soldiers that can cause considerable destruction behind the enemy line without actually losing a life, coming to think of it, I didn't even give it a name... The Divine Decree Incarnation, huh.. that's exaggerated but it sounds like a good name to me haha

...Anyway, the difference between the Incarnation that I created and that of your ancestors is that, first of all, mine is limited to a certain amount of energy, for example, this ball will still retain the amount of energy that I formed it with, and it will start to weaken over time if I do not inject more into it.

Secondly, the life energy that carries out the incarnation process is relatively weak and limited energy. It can be said that it gives temporary awareness to the object based on reactions and absolute obedience to the one who formed it only.

Thirdly, in my Divine Decree Incarnation process, what comes to life is not the law, but the ball of the flame itself, and therefore It attacks or defends and so on according to the will of the one who formed it and depending on the amount of energy available to it. as I said, It is just a way to form additional dispensable soldiers.

As for yours, the amount of energy available for use is almost open, as the Divine Decree Incarnation will withdraw your energy without permission as long as it is activated, so it will only disappear or weaken if you are defeated...

Secondly, the life energy used to give it awareness is YOUR life itself, and therefore it is very strong and extremely condensed, and therefore the attribute of life is more visible in your embodiment... Thirdly, What is Incarnated using this technique is the law - or laws - that you have spent your life studying and something you can control or force to take a specific shape. With everything being said, yours is more powerful, rather terrifying in fact.

Of course, all of this is what your ancestors who took that path wanted to achieve, and I admit that it is a technique that is many times more powerful than the one I thought of, but... The techniques of your laws are full of loopholes, Your inner energy runs out quickly, and your life energy that burns as a candle spilled with oil had failed the real form of that technique and made it out in the form you are practicing now.

I, Robin Burton, have decided to adopt this technique. I can come up with the solutions to these three problems and teach them to you. Only I can deliver The Divine Decree Incarnation to its true power!"

Chapter 380 The First ?

"The Major Heavenly Law of Life!?" Wind Emperor Alexander ignored all of Robin's words and clung to that term

Robin's words are undoubtedly correct regarding the defects of The Divine Decree Incarnation Technique, but his words about finding solutions are still mere words that cannot be measured anyway now, only the Major Heavenly Law of Life that he spoke of can be weighed...

The Major Heavenly Law of Life... just its name suggests its level, it is undoubtedly a Law far above all the Major Heavenly Laws they know, and Robin has it right now?

"Yes, I have a Life Master Law technique, all that up to the third stage as well. Do you know what else I have? A perfect Technique for the Major Heavenly Law of Plants, and you know what? I will give both of these techniques to the Sacred Tree Empire.

using the Life Major Heavenly Law technique as a side stat will enable users of the Major Heavenly Law of Plants technique to grow plants whenever and anywhere they want instead of just moving the plants around, or going through the pain of trying to unearth their roots... I think this will increase your strength a bit, Am I right, Miss Elizabeth?" Robin smiled back, then turned his gaze towards the Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth "Perfect technique for The Major Heavenly Law of Plants... a perfect technique for The Major Heavenly Law of Life..." Elizabeth muttered in a low voice, her eyes still focused on the little dragon, but obvious changes began to appear in them.

Wind Emperor Alexander looked at Elizabeth with a stern look as if to say Take it easy when he saw her muttering and her eyes seemed to be daydreaming, this will weaken her negotiating position, and theirs as well!

Sacred Tree Empress Elizabeth had indeed shook her head slightly to regain her clarity of mind, she knew what Alexander meant by his look.

There is no free dinner in this world, Robin's offer was related to Sacred Tree Empress declaring absolute loyalty to him.

'But.. is that too bad?' Elizabeth thought to herself

Once they declared their allegiance, they would have the chance to break through to the realm above the Sagehood Realm, a chance for something that they long thought is impossible!

And they would even receive more Major Law techniques as well, techniques of laws that are even higher in existence than the ones they are proud about!

He said that he would not order them to do anything but confront the invasions coming from other worlds - if there were one -.

And this actually makes sense, even without swearing their loyalty to him, they will have to cooperate to confront aliens coming to take what is theirs!

Suddenly Elizabeth felt that Alexander's look at her wasn't for her own benefit, she even felt that they contained some jealousy...

"I also happen to have the Perfect Major Wind Heavenly Law technique, and I have other laws like the Minor Soil Law with which you can control grains of dirt in the air, and the Minor Pressure Law which will enable you to compress Wind Blade Attacks in a way that you have never dreamed of before... I think you know what this means for the Wind Empire, right, Mister Alexander?" Robin smiled and looked at the Wind Emperor

Wind Emperor Alexander clenched his fist when he heard Robin's words, of course, he knew what this meant, any one of those benefits Robin mentioned could instantly double the power of an imperial army!!

And not only his Empire... only the Major Heavenly Law of Life that Robin announced he would give to the Sacred Tree Empire could change the strength and depth of their empire forever, regardless of all the other things he offered them!

Before Robin opened his mouth and whispered about those advantages of each empire and now is something completely different, now they have a general vision of their future.

Now Alexander's major fear is that they will refuse Robin's offer and leave, for now, then one of them will stab the rest in the back and decide to hug Robin's feet for some of those benefits.

That wasn't too far-fetched, and actually, it would be strange if none of them did something like that.

And the thing is... The first to do it will be the ultimate winner.

After about a minute, Alexander regained a bit of his clarity, gritted his teeth, and then asked, "...this great generosity in exchange for an oath similar to what the Sages of the Flame Empire took, right?"

"True." Robin nodded while chuckling, "Everything I created or will create comes to you free after saying a few words, Isn't that a good deal?"

"...Can't we make a peace treaty and agree to cooperate only in the event of an outside invasion?" Alexander asked again

"No, I will not make such a treaty with you to be broken sooner or later, this planet shall enjoy true and everlasting peace, even if it means shedding some blood now." Robin shook his head and replied

"Bloodshed? Is that what you want to do if we reject your offer now? We either submit everything our ancestors' worked for or you attack us? Isn't there a middle ground we can come up with?!" Alexander asked again quickly, he appeared to be really at the end of the rope

Robin's smile grew larger and he shook his head again, "No, as I said, the planet will be mine and this is a done deal. by the end of this day, I will simply declare that all continents are mine whether we agreed on terms or not and that whoever rejects my rule is a rebel who deserves death and war will be declared on him until he is killed. Do not think that you can wait until the last moment and then submit as the Flame Empire did. I wasted a lot of time and effort with you today, and this will not be without a price.

Believe me, I will not be merciful against you if you choose to rebel against my rule. When you are defeated, I will not accept your loyalty. I don't need you now and I certainly will not need your loyalty in the future, I only speak to you now out of mercy. But if you choose to rebel then nothing awaits you but death."

"You will declare that we are rebels who deserve death because we want to defend our lands that were found and ruled by our ancestors for more than twenty thousand years? I have never heard something so shameless before!!" Victoria suddenly shouted when she heard those words

Robin shrugged, "The world changes, nothing stays as it is forever, that is a cosmetic law, so change with it or simply die, with or without you, I will be done."

"It won't be us who die! Hmph, as I predicted, today failed miserably, we should have started the war right away, let's go!" Victoria spoke with the tip of her nose and then began to take steps towards the ships anchored on the shore

But her feet were caught in the air when she heard Elizabeth's charming voice coming from behind, "Heh~ give me one of those metal tablets."
