

The Truth 689

Chapter 689 Fortress

"Rich..ard?"

"DAWOODAAAAAR! HAHAHA!!" Finally, the gaze of boredom and silent anger disappeared from Richard's face when he noticed the new arrival, he quickly turned to face him and opened his arms wide, laughing hysterically.

The killing intent that erupted from him along with the crazed look on his face sent shivers down everyone's backs... Except for Dawoodar.

Dawoodar remained standing there staring at Richard's face, at the face of the person who destroyed his beautiful life, who cut off his marked path...

This is the second time he has seen Richard.

The first time at that party when Richard was still ten years old, he remembers seeing him in a corner screaming in shock.

This is the second time he saw him, but this time he saw him making his own son, Salidar, scream...

If someone heard this, he would laugh and say it was ironic, but Dawoodar did not find this funny at all.

BAAM

Dawoodar took a step forward and the ground collapsed under his feet

After calling Richard's name, he did not utter another word, and he did not need to either...

His wide-open eyes, his messy hair, and his agitated aura said everything that needed to be said. Dawoodar was not thinking about anything at the moment.

He was out to kill.

"This is bad, Richard, back off!!" Peon took a few steps back to open some distance between himself and his opponent, then shouted out loud

Dawoodar is strong, very strong, as someone who tries to break the laws of physics itself by breaking through to level 47, that person is a mobile fortress, it is difficult to find two or three others capable of fighting face to face against him all over Planet Nihari!

"Haha, come! Come to me!! Everyone says that fighting you is impossible, I want to know what is so impossible about it!!" Richard laughed hysterically and took his battling stance, clearly not intending to carry out Peon's orders

He was unhappy because he did not find Dawoodar among the giant Emperors and thought that he had completely lost his mind to the point that he would not resist anymore. How would torturing him be fun in this case? this is why Dawoodar's appearance now made his heart dance with joy and enthusiasm!

BAAM Baam BAAM

Dawoodar's steps began to accelerate

Shhhh

"Hooooh!!" On the other hand, Richard clapped strongly, and after this thunderous clap, strange things began to happen...

Half the stone hands, the metal bars, the huge statues, and all those things that kept the Martial Emperors of the Azil tribe and their army busy, fell silent and dropped lifeless again, and then a stream of green flame began to move across the ground of the ruined city in the direction of Dawoodar.

"Your Majesty!!!" However, reducing the disturbance did not make the Emperors of the Azil tribe happy. On the contrary, they were all terrified

What is happening now means that half of the life energy that was allocated to fighting against the 34 Emperors and 20 Thousand other law users, has now moved towards their leader!

"Gather around his Majesty!!!" One of the Giant Emperors shouted and jumped towards Dawoodar

But swoosh an arrow caught him in the middle of his jump and forced him to descend. The rest of the tribe's Martial Emperors were also subjected to strong attacks at these moments, forcing them to stop and switch to defensive positions again.

The tribe's army tried to advance towards their leader as well, but thousands of stone hands and statues forced them to stop. Even if it were at half power, the city could still hold them off with ease!

Vroom

In the blink of an eye, a huge amount of green flame reached between Richard and Dawoodar, and the first move the city made after allocating this huge amount to fight Dawoodar alone was that it formed a huge palm of rock and metal and then brought it down on Dawoodar's head.

Boom

"Leader!!!" One of the Azil Emperors shouted, he had been fighting with these hands for some time now and he could sense the amount of energy in them, the amount of life energy in that palm that struck Dawoodar was undoubtedly enough to kill a Martial Emperor like him with a single strike!

CRACK BOOM

But at this strange moment, a strange thing happened. The stone palm was shattered, and Dawoodar appeared from beneath it, still rushing forward like a moving fortress as if nothing had happened. There was not a single scratch or even a drop of blood on him!

"Hmm?" Richard furrowed his eyebrows slightly, this was unexpected.

swoosh swoosh

The city was automatically deriving its consciousness and spirit from Richard's soul, so when it realized that force attacks alone would not work, it automatically began to modify the method of its attacks, and in an instant, it formed huge pointed spikes of metal in Dawoodar's path.

These thorns are like those used to block the path of heavy cavalry to stop them and kill whoever tries to break through, They are also powered by the Life Fire and a huge amount of life energy. These thorns are undoubtedly capable of harming or even killing Martial Emperors! But the city knew that it would not be enough to kill Dawdar. What the city wanted was to break Dawoodar's momentum by stopping his advance or making him jump so that it could attack him while he was in the middle of the air.

But..

CREEK Squeak

Dawoodar continued his dash, and the huge thorns in his path began to dent and shatter!

It didn't matter if they were Human Emperors or Giant Emperors, they all stood and watched from afar with open mouths... Was this still a living body?!

The thorns clearly failed in their mission, but at least they succeeded in slowing him down a little.

"ROOAAAAR!!!" Dawoodar roared violently when one of the thorns got stuck in his chest, then he punched the ground hard

Boom

The entire field of thorns was destroyed at once, and even the ground itself was destroyed.

"Boss, we are here too!!" The army of the Azil tribe felt the ground shake under their feet and collapse, a few bottomless pits appeared beneath them and a few hundred of them fell into them.

"Haha yeah, fight back harder! Use everything you have!!" Richard laughed out loud, in his view fighting Salidar was not fulfilling, only bringing that guy's nose to the dirt would be a little satisfying.

swoosh

Metal rods appeared behind Dawoodar and began to wrap around his wrists and ankles, as happened with Salidar, but...

BAAM

Dawoodar did not stop for a moment to see what had caught him. As soon as he rushed forward, the metal bars were dented and thrown to the side.

"KAAAAHH" Dawoodar raised his muscled arm again, this time ready to punch forward

"Hahaha yeah, come on!!" Richard started to have a green flame burning on his head, clearly preparing to do something big

Only a few steps remained between Dawoodar and Richard...

One of them looks at the other with intense revenge and hatred, wanting to tear his flesh with his teeth and eat him alive.

The other had a look of joy, enthusiasm, and hysterical madness.

The Martial Emperors from both sides had almost stopped fighting and were content to watch from afar... They no longer understood the emotions of these two.

But understanding one thing was enough. The victor of their fight would determine everything today

Even just by the look of it, the victor has already been decided.

Shaa

The four masked giants felt their fifth approaching, and with a slight movement he stood next to them again

"Phew~ Pulling that muscle brain out of his awkwardness wasn't easy." That giant who had just arrived sat down directly on a strong branch and shook his head, "That bastard didn't move when I told him they were being attacked and his family was being killed, he only moved his ass when he heard Richard's name, he's really hopeless."

"Well done. The mission is almost complete. With Dawoodar around, it is impossible for this raid to succeed, even if we couldn't capture Richard today, we would still have some time."

"But we have to find a way to free Richard from him. That human shouldn't die. He's our way of forcing the Third Heaven Chosen out."

"In my opinion, we should leave Dawoodar and eat him. Why should we arrest him and bear his responsibility? Let Dawoodar kill him and the Third Heaven Chosen will surely come out to avenge him, Then we will be waiting."

"True, even if Dawoodar doesn't kill him, I think we have to intervene and kill him."

"If Dawoodar didn't what? Haha, who could stop him? Look at him, he looks like a raging bull in the middle of a group of rabbits. I bet everything would be over within one punch-- hmmm?!" The giant's words got stuck in his throat, and at this moment he felt his body freeze

They all felt the blood freeze in fear inside their bodies.

There was something happening inside the city.
