

The Truth 690

Chapter 690 Intervention

Dawoodar was a few steps away from Richard, yet Richard did not take a step back

Rather, it seemed that he did not intend to back down in the first place

With eyes shining with killing intent and hair ablaze with a green flame, He only gave a smile worthy of an ancient villain and stood still.

The aura of madness that surrounded Dawoodar did not lose to Richard in the slightest as well. He continued pushing forward with wide-open eyes as if he were a beast who came here only for killing and could not see, hear, or speak.

Under the influence of intense killing intent from both sides, the temperature of the area suddenly dropped and everyone felt a chill in their backs. The battle between the Martial Emperors of the two sides stopped.

It's not like they agreed to stop and watch what happens between Richard and Dawoodar, they just forgot to continue their fight and diverted their focus on that battle near the palace.

They are all certain that something big will happen now.

"Retreat, Richard! Retreat immediately!!" Peon screamed as if his life depended on it, Dawoodar's crazed aura even overshadowed Richard's intense killing intent, his aura simply gave off the air of being unstoppable,!

But Richard ignored him completely and the life energy from all over the city began to gather around him at a rapid pace, it was clear that he had no intention of going anywhere.

Could that technique he wanted to try out deal with Dawoodar head-on? Maybe, maybe not... but there's no turning back now.

Dawoodar is too strong, and his short fight against the city just now proved that he is much stronger than expected...

With this technique, he probably will not be able to kill Dawoodar and get off unscathed, but he will undoubtedly be able to inflict him some severe injuries and give the rest of the human Martial Emperors a chance to hammer the sealing nail into his chest and capture him alive.

Yes, it's the same old plan... Richard didn't intend to get out of this city alive in the first place.

He knows that the True Beginning Empire founded by his father has something called Warlords who can fight or even defeat Dawoodar, but what's the fun in that? He wants to do it himself, and if he dies after destroying Dawoodar's ego, this will be the best ending he could ask for, as there is nothing to live for anyway...

Richard smiled contentedly in the face of Dawoodar's crazed gaze. Finally, he would achieve his goal...

Finally, he will fight that monster and join his mother

Finally, he will--

Swoosh

"Stop what you want to do and step back right now, You mustn't get hurt for any reason!!" At this moment, something unexpected happened. One of the human Martial Emperors appeared behind Dawoodar and stabbed him with two light swords. Then, a huge wall of wind shot out and pushed Richard away until he almost sent him back to the city wall again. It was Peon!

"Third brother!!" Richard's eyes regained some clarity and he shouted in fear for the first time

He knew how strong Dawoodar was from this brief clash from before. That attack from Peon would certainly not have a major impact, He was like an infant trying to harm a grown man!

Indeed... Peon's deul blades were aiming at Dawoodar's lungs from behind, but they were barely able to penetrate even a simple bit of these metal-like muscles. Almost no harm occurred to Dawoodar!

"Arghgh!!" Dawoodar finally stopped and shouted towards the sky, but he shouted in anger, not in pain. Dawoodar tried to extend his hand back to catch the insect that had stung him to crush it, but he could not reach him.

And Peon didn't stay still either, he took out several Wind, Lightning, and Light talismans from his ring and began to help his swords in an attempt to pierce Dawoodar's solid skin!!

"KAAHH!!!" After finally feeling some pain, Dawoodar cried loudly, then opened his hands and clapped vigorously. The sheer force that resulted from this clap caused everything around Dawoodar to be pushed dozens of meters in all directions, whether rocks or dust and even Richard himself was pushed back further.

But Peon remained clinging like an insect fighting for its life in the middle of a hurricane

"BURN THEN!!!" Feeling that Richard might escape if he wasted too much time on this cockroach, even Dawoodar regained some of his clarity of mind and decided to start focusing on Peon in order to kill him as quickly as possible, so he began to pass his energy towards one of the offensive divine tattoos on his body, the blue flame tattoo.

SHWALAAAA

In the blink of an eye, a huge fire ignited, engulfing both Peon and Dawoodar within it

"AAHHHHH!"

"ARRRRRGHGH!!!"

And they both started screaming in pain!!

The body strengthening divine tattoo system for giants is not like the internal energy system in many points, the most important of which is that it does not change the user's body to withstand a specific law. The body strengthening divine tattoo only gives strength to the body with which it can resist the influence of the laws to a certain extent.

This is why giants can use all kinds of laws through offensive tattoos, this is because their bodies are strong and can withstand anything, and this is also why they do not like to use offensive divine tattoos because even if their bodies are strong and can endure, they still feel pain from using them.

So when Dawoodar used the blue flame attack tattoo, he too was being burned alive.

As for Peon, his screams were louder, even though he was an Emperor who used the Law of Wind and could protect himself or get out of there quickly, he still held on to the two swords and kept trying to penetrate Dawoodar's thick skin and muscles bit by a bit.

Richard and the rest of the human Martial Emperors could see his hair and skin melting, and if it were not for the golden armor covering him, he would have already turned to ash.

"Go away! ARGHH!!!! Go away, you stubborn cockroach!" Even for Dawoodar, who was beginning to lose his mind, the intensity of the pain of being burned alive was no longer unbearable. How could that human being bear what he could not bear?!

Dawoodar let out a final scream and decided to jump out of the fire quickly and find another way to kill this cockroach or just ignore it, when he heard:

"Haha.. ARGHHH.. HAHAHA!!" During his agonized cries, Peon suddenly began to laugh angrily, then he forced himself closer to Dawoodar's ear and began to whisper with half-burnt lips and a voice carrying a lot of pain, "I, Peon the slave, do not have the intelligence of His Excellency nor the talent of Prince Richard, but even someone like me is capable of inventing an offensive technique or two if I had a perfect law... The cause of the Nihari disaster, the foolish leader, Dawoodar, take this from me and die already!!"

Peon pulled out his sword and the wind began to infiltrate the wound heavily

Poof

A massive explosion occurred inside Dawoodar's body.
