

The Truth 692

Chapter 692 A flash from the past

At first glance after the explosion, everyone was in a strong shock. The human Martial Emperors wondered about the fate of General Peon, while the giants felt that the support they were leaning on had fallen.

The Human Emperors could no longer see their general, but they could guess what happened to him from the sight of Dawoodar before them.

The entire city was silent, only Salidar's screams were the only thing heard currently.

The giant has truly fallen...

Gasp.. Gasp..

The muscle mass fell with both hands and feet on the ground. The right part of his back disappeared completely due to the explosion, his intestines and spine could now be seen easily, but no matter how hard they tried, they could not find his right lung. It had also disappeared and turned into a sap of blood.

Dawoodar's condition now can be described as a living dead. His open mouth was bleeding as if it was a broken water valve as he was trying to catch his breath forcefully as if he were an ordinary mortal with something stuck in his throat. Also, his life aura at this moment was very weak, It was clear that his lifeline had been severely damaged.

'...Damaged? With all these injuries, how has he not died yet?!' Everyone who sees this scene wonders, they know with certainty that if they were in his place, they would have died a thousand times by now.

"Your Majesty!! How... HOW THE HELL?!" One of the Martial Emperors of the Azil tribe, one of the sons of Dawoodar, shouted angrily. The rest of the tribe's Martial Emperors quickly understood the question, and their features changed for the worse.

Dawoodar's strength was a source of pride for their tribe, a great deterrent to opponents, and moral support for them, but he fell at the hands of such a weak human!!

Especially the two that Peon was fighting at the same time. The two couldn't help but look at each other and then at their hands as if they were wondering if the human was being lenient with them, or if they were really strong enough to confront him!

Both sides thought of a hundred things to do in a second, for example, going to help their injured or going to completely eliminate Dawoodar or some of the giants thought of exploiting Richard's shock to attack him. Hundreds of possibilities hit their heads!! But they remained where they were.

The human Martial Emperors feared that their opponents would take advantage of the opportunity and strike them from behind, and vice versa. This caused the fighting to stop and all the Martial Emperors contented themselves with watching from afar, but they also kept their distance from each other and did not dare to move.

Except for one person.

"Second brother!!" Richard jumped up and flew with all his might toward a certain direction

"Second Brother! Second Brother, please hold on!!" The tremendous strength of Richard's soul enabled him to easily locate Peon's body, but his fear for him did not diminish when he saw him, but rather increased.

After seeing that scene, Richard was frightened and fell to his knees, then grabbed his head with both hands, "No no... no no no, this shouldn't happen!!!"

Peon's body no longer befits a living being, it's no use to call it a body anymore. Not a bone in his body remained intact nor a piece of flesh in its place, All of his entrails were torn apart, and even his face became strands of torn muscles without features, while his eyes no longer existed either, they turned into bags of blood... This sight, if it were said that this is the body of someone who was killed brutally a few years ago, everyone would believe it

Richard panicked and began pumping life energy into Peon's body in huge quantities. He did not know if his second brother could be saved in this state, but he did not think about it either. He had nothing else he could do.

"Ahh... AAAAHHHHHHH!!!" The feeling of helplessness as he saw Peon dying in front of him and he could not do anything almost made him lose his mind

What is the difference between what is happening now and what happened to his mother forty years ago?!

On top of a tree outside the city walls--

"What the hell!!!" One of the Five Giants bit down on a thick branch next to him, splitting it in half, and then spat it out, "I knew that this fat fuck would not do any good, so I told you to consider him non-existent!"

"I can't believe he was brought to this state by a nameless human..." One of the other five furrowed his eyebrows, now the matter had become more complicated.

The plan is for Dawoodar to take charge of Richard, who has this annoying ability, and then the five of them will appear and lay siege to the human Martial Emperors and kill them all with Dawoodar's help, but that bastard fell on all fours before he could touch Richard, and from his appearance, it does not seem that even if he lives through this, he can't fight anymore!!

"What to do now?"

"Let us intervene and let whatever happens happen. As soon as we intervene, we will kill at least five human Martial Emperors with one blow, after which the balance will turn completely in our favor and we will easily kill the rest with the help of the Azil Emperors."

"Don't forget they can fly, someone might be able to escape!"

"Calm down... Maybe killing that human called Peon was enough to complete our mission? Richard calls him my second brother..."

"I don't know about that, it looks more like a relationship of respect, they aren't real siblings,"

"Arrrghh, Dawoodar has ruined everything!!!"

The older giant stood between them and focused on Richard's terrified facial expressions for a long time, before opening his mouth, "The orders are that we arrest this human Richard, and this is what we must do. Get ready... We will intervene."

"Oh? Look at Dawdar!!!"

"Hmm? What's he trying to do? Ah! That crazy bastard!!!"

OOO MMMNN

At this moment, a powerful aura suddenly emanated from Dawoodar's body, freezing the air around him, and even the dust particles stood still, forcing everyone to hold their breath.

Everyone, whether friend or foe, took a step back... Dawoodar was about to die moments ago, why did such an aura emanate from him? Shhhh

Then suddenly his body began to emit a dark red glow, and that glow was mainly focused on his injured back

Under the influence of that glow, his back began to heal at a speed visible to the naked eye!

Gasp.. Gasp..

His right lung was not treated because it no longer existed in the first place, so his spot was left empty, but other than that, all his wounds began to be treated automatically... His left lung was completed after he had lost a large piece of it. His interiors healed and his back muscles began to fuse together again.

Gasp.. "HAA.. Haa.. Hoooh~"

It only took a few minutes, and Dawoodar got back to his feet.
