

The Truth 694

Chapter 694 Clash

Swoosh

Boom

Richard raised his palm and sent a standard energy attack from about 60 meters away from Dawoodar. It was clear that the goal of the attack was to stop Dawoodar before a battle took place near what was left of Peon's body, but something happened that made all the jaws hit the ground.

Dawoodar was sent flying like an arrow, and nothing stopped him except the city wall

"What was this? What was that?!" One of the Emperors of the Azil tribe took a step forward and opened his eyes at the end of it

It's not like no one could attack Dawoodar or cause damage to him, even the rest of the Human Emperors could actually attack him and one of them even nearly killed him with that back explosion... But why did a standard energy attack send him flying like this?

"This..." That giant's eyes automatically drifted toward Richard, and he saw something strange

Richard at this moment was radiating a dark green glow. His long hair rose upward and began to blaze on fire. As for his eyes, their pupils had disappeared and it seemed as if they had become completely white.

The veins throughout his body began to twitch as if they were trying to pierce the skin and escape from the intensity of the pressure. In fact, his civilian clothes, which he had kept clean since the beginning of the battle, began to tear slightly due to the swelling of his muscles!

His appearance... his irrationally powerful aura... his terrible killing intent... his enraged facial expression...

"That's bad." One of the giant emperors felt his soul screaming at him to run away, but he did not go far before his human opponent stopped him.

"This aura is undoubtedly burning life energy, he's copying the boss!!" Another giant shouted and placed both hands on his head, "But why does it feel... different?!"

"Your Highness... is it possible that he used his lifeline as well?" One of the Human Emperors, a Darkness User, felt weak in his body. What will he say to His Excellency when they return?!

"No no, look over there!" A Lightning User Emperor pointed his spear towards the battle against the remaining defenseless army, all the stone arms and statues, everything that was moving and fighting that army had completely stopped.

And not only there, but even the help that Robin allocated to the fight against the Emperors stopped

And all that energy...

"I feel it..." One of the Emperors closed his eyes and scanned his surroundings with his soul sense

A huge amount of life energy was gathering from all over the city and pouring into Richard's body at this moment.

"He's... burning the life energy he stole from 50 million Nihari Giants? Is that even allowed?!" One of the Emperors held his breath when he realized what was happening...

This is terrifying!

Dawoodar brought despair into everyone's hearts when he started burning his life energy. What about the life energy of 50 million people? Does it have an end at all?!

"This is His Excellency's son! Long live the True Beginning Empire!"

"Hahaha long live the True Beginning Empire!"

The Human Emperors' morale rose to the sky and they immediately attacked their nearest opponent. What was happening below had nothing to do with them anymore. As long as Dawoodar found an opponent to stop him, they must complete their mission and subjugate those giants as soon as possible.

BAAM

Tons of rocks and metals were thrown into the air as if they were pebbles and dirt as Dawoodar came out from under the city wall, looking at Richard, who was walking towards him, in anger and shock!

Then he heard Richard's cold voice laughing, "There is nothing to be surprised about, this was an inevitable process if you thought a little... I burn my life energy and then use the fire of life to recharge my life vein with the energy I pumped into the city, and on and on endlessly~ have you lost hope already?"

Dawoodar opened his eyes even more, how was that not surprising? Richard said it was easy, but now he is also consuming his own life energy as well and knows how difficult it is. As for Richard, he is not only consuming his life energy, but he is pulling it from one direction and recharging it from another at the same time!

Rather, how much energy would he have to burn for someone who had barely broken through to the Martial Emperor Realm to send out an attack like this? If Richard said that he burns his life vein several times per second, he would believe him!

Richard extended his hand as he walked and pulled out a metal rod from the ground. The metal rod formed in his hand to take the shape of a short spear, "This method of burning has two problems. The first is that I am still weak, unfortunately, at level 41 of the internal energy system, and the third stage of the body strengthening divine tattoo, my basic strength with burning my life energy at this rate only gets me to level 46, and this is not enough to kill you unfortunately... The second problem is that the burning rate is very fast, so if I am not careful I may consume everything I collected within a few hours."

"Don't worry, you won't live for a few hours." A half-smile appeared on Dawoodar's face and he began to slowly advance towards Richard as well. In fact, he also had a similar time limit before his life energy ran out completely.

"Hehe, didn't you stop to ask yourself why I'm telling you all this? My original plan was to use this trump card to fill you with injuries for two or three hours until my life energy ran out and then my men would finish you off, but plans never work, right? My third brother's sacrifice changed everything..." Richard laughed, and then his eyes sparkled with intense killing intent, "Destroying your lung today reduced your overall strength, and forcing you to use your life force means that every injury I inflict on you will consume you faster and bring you closer to death... This means that I no longer need to buy time, I have a real chance of killing you, cool huh?"

"Let's see this opportunity then." Dawoodar smiled and cracked his neck right and left. The palm he had just received forced him to take Richard seriously for the first time.

The polite conversation between Richard and Dawoodar astonished everyone. These two of them really experienced many mood swings within a few minutes!!

Swoosh

Boom

Without warning, Richard launched the spear in his hand at an insane speed that broke through the sound barrier, but Dawoodar was able to stop it millimeters away from his eye.

BAAM

The next moment, Richard's left fist appeared in front of him, heading towards his other eye, but Dawoodar waved the spear sideways and pushed Richard's fist away so that it passed next to his neck.

Boom The energy from that fist caused another part of the wall to collapse

Swoosh Dawoodar got time to catch his breath when he felt Richard's right foot hitting his empty chest.

Poof Dawoodar spat out some blood and then thrust his palm forward, intending to destroy Richard directly

Swoosh But Richard quickly dodged to the side using his flying ability, then extended his palm that was burning with a green flame. If he could touch Dawoodar with this flame, it would take a large slice of his remaining life energy.

BAA But Dawoodar hit the ground with his foot and jumped back, then he activated a wind path attack tattoo on his right shoulder and shot Richard with a massive wind blast.

The main battle of the day has finally begun.
