

The Vengeful Son-in-law Chapter 20

"Last month when I went back to my hometown to pay homage to my ancestors, I went down the mountain to buy water for everyone. Later, I happened to meet Samuel who had heatstroke. I was lucky to save him back, and he was very grateful to me and said he owed me a favor. Since today is grandfather's birthday, I called him over to the Scott Family to add some glory for us. Who knows you..." Ryan stopped without finishing the sentence. The meaning of the expression was self-evident.

He clearly saw that all the people in Scott Family were embarrassed.
"Smack!"

A loud slap sound reached to all people's ears. Zack slapped himself hard and scolded, "Damn it! If I had known that, I would have been the one to buy water that day, and the person who saved Samuel should have been me as well!"

The others also showed a look of remorse. Last month, when they went back to their hometown to pay respect to their ancestors, they had run out of water. No one of them was willing to go buy water, so they asked Ryan to do it. However, they never thought that Ryan would have a lucky break! If they had known that they would bump into Samuel if they went to buy water personally, they would not have missed this opportunity to have a meteoric rise!

Ryan was very happy to see how regretful they were. In the past few years, he had been discriminated against and bullied in the Scott Family. Last month, when he returned to his hometown to worship his ancestors, everyone left him to do the dirty work alone. Now it seemed like that they were really regretful.

Elizabeth changed her bad attitude towards Ryan and said obsequiously, "Ryan, since Samuel owes you a favor, he won't refuse your request, will he? Could you call Samuel one day and ask him to introduce a girl from the Howard Family to Logan? Your brother should consider getting married."

James also said, "Yes, as his brother-in-law, you should consider more for him. Your brother always respects you a lot." When Ryan heard this, he was unhappy. "When did Logan respect me?" He thought.

"Hey, Logan is still young. He is in college now, so he doesn't need Ryan to introduce girls for him!" One of the elders of the Scott Family gave James and Elizabeth a bad look, then smilingly said to Ryan, "Ryan, in fact, I always regard you as a promising man. I often told your parents-in-law that you are an excellent man who will definitely have a bright future, but your parents-in-law still do not believe me. As expected, it turned out that a piece of gold would shine when it's exposed to the light! Samuel is the richest person in our H City, and it's difficult for many people to just see him; however, you can let him personally come here with a phone call, and he also brings so many gifts over. Ryan, you really win honor for our Scott Family!"

This elder named Victor was Zack's father and Phoebe's uncle. His flattery words were pleasing to ears. People who didn't know him well would think he really liked Ryan.

Then he changed the topic immediately and his smile became even bigger. "Ryan, our company is in trouble now. Could you show our plight to the Patriarch of the Howard Family and let him take care of our Scott Family's business in the future? We will all appreciate your contributions!"

Ryan sneered. In the past, Victor had humiliated him a lot. He called Ryan "country bumpkin" and disdained him from the bottom of his heart. Now that Victor saw that he had a relationship with Samuel, he changed to flatter him. Ryan looked down on this kind of person from the bottom of his heart.

The others did not want to fall behind and they all surrounded Ryan to say what they wanted and hoped that Ryan could satisfy them.

Looking at their greedy faces, Ryan felt a wave of nausea.

He said awkwardly, "I can't meet all your needs."

"What? Ryan, what do you mean?"

"What?! We indeed took a bad attitude towards you just now, but you shouldn't be that stingy. We are your elders at least."

"You saved Samuel's life and he owes you a great favor, so it would be easy for you to satisfy our requests. As our son-in-law in the Scott Family, you won't even help us with this little favor?"

They all began to blame Ryan.

Ryan sneered in his heart and continued to pretend to be embarrassed, "Elders, it's not that I don't want to help you, but that I can't help you. I saved Samuel. He owes me a good favor, but this favor has been paid off."

Hearing this, they were all stunned.

Ryan went on to say, "Alas. I invited Samuel to come over to celebrate the birthday of grandpa and he didn't regard this as repaying me. But you guys drove me away just now, so Samuel became angry. He once said he would destroy the Scott Family. Just now I called to calm him down, but the favor was paid off. He is the head of the Howard Family and of mighty power. Thus, he wouldn't come and leave at my will!"

Their expressions were stiff and they felt as if they had eaten shit. If they had known this result, they wouldn't have driven Ryan out at all.

Zack thought of something and hurriedly asked, "We don't want Samuel to pay off the favor, but could he give back the birthday gifts for grandpa? Since he gave them to grandpa, they would be the properties of our Scott Family!"

The others also came to their senses. Yes, Samuel sent two century-old ginsengs, Song Dynasty Blue and White Porcelain, an expensive calligraphy collection, and most importantly, ten million dollars in cash! This would be worth twenty or thirty million!

"Did they take back all the birthday gifts?" Ryan asked curiously.

"Yes, yes. They're all taken back. It's worth twenty or thirty million dollars. Ryan, make a phone call quickly and ask Samuel to send the birthday gifts over. How can he take back the gifts?" Victor said unhappily. His words were echoed by others. Now the Scott Family was very poor. Not to mention twenty or thirty million dollars, two or three million dollars would be a large sum.

However, Ryan sighed and said, "Elders, how can you let Samuel take back the birthday gifts so easily? Do you think these gone things could come back? Anyway, I have nothing to do with Samuel now. He was impatient with me on the phone just now. I can't get back the birthday gifts."

"No way..." "Oh my god, what have we done!" "Twenty or thirty million dollars just disappeared..."

Many of the Scott Family members complained regretfully as if they had lost their parents.

Richard's face turned red, and he finally couldn't hold back and slapped several Scott Family members and said, "It's all your fault! You brats! You embarrassed Ryan and even drove him out, then offended Samuel! Originally, the Scott Family could cling to the Howard Family to gain great benefits, but now we have nothing. Even my birthday gift was lost, you bastards! I'll kill you, I'll kill you all!"

Richard was gutted. He hit Zack and the others in the face like a madman. It was really a great scene.

Knowing that Samuel would never talk to Ryan again, they thought Ryan was useless, so the Scott Family resumed their bad attitude towards him, and even began to complain that Ryan did not tell them about knowing Samuel in advance, wasting a chance to make a fortune!

On the way home, his mother-in-law, Elizabeth kept nagging, getting angrier and angrier, and she poked Ryan's forehead a few times.

Until Phoebe couldn't stand it any longer, she glared at Elizabeth and scolded, "Mom! Can you stop? From the beginning to the end, Ryan didn't do anything wrong! If Ryan hadn't called Samuel to plead him, our Scott Family would have been destroyed."

"Hey! Phoebe, who are you supporting? I'm your mother, and you're still contradicting me?" Elizabeth scolded with her crossed arms, "Besides, did I say anything wrong? If he had said earlier that he had saved Samuel's life, would this happen today? He does not care about this family at all! What's more, when you have to sleep with Mr. Cook for us to borrow 20 million dollars from him to turnover, Ryan was apathetic. If he has some conscience and was a real man, he shouldn't be like this! Twenty million dollars for Samuel is just pocket money, isn't it?!"

Hearing this, Phoebe was also frustrated.
