

Chapter 921

The look on Tom's face made Gario shudder.

What kind of expression did he have?

Gario couldn't find a proper word to describe it. At this moment, Tom looked more like the god of death than a person.

Gario got so frightened and his mind went just blank as if Tom had laid a clammy hand upon his spirits. Resisting him never occurred to him. He surrendered at once, "Three years! I've been lurking for three years... Don't kill me! Please don't kill me..."

Gario began to whimper. He seemed completely broken down.

Everyone present was shocked by his behavior. No one expected to see such a scene.

The arrogant Gario was scared to tears? How could this be possible?

Three years...

Tom's eyes turned ice-cold. He could sense a strong smell of blood from Gario's body. Obviously, he had killed many people.

And Tom could tell most of the victims were ordinary people from the Secular World.

Tom was never a merciful person and had no sympathy for a murderer like Gario. All he felt at this moment was a strong intention to kill him.

Gario panicked as he realized Tom would probably kill him. The fear of death almost drove him crazy.

He knelt down, kowtowing desperately for mercy, hoping that Tom would let him go.

Surely wouldn't Tom agree to that. He just wouldn't kill Gario here.

Indeed, killing someone wouldn't bring him any trouble now. He could do it easily at any time and any place as long as he had reported it in advance.

He chose not to kill Gario here because they were at the campus with so many undergraduates around. It would bring him a bad reputation if he killed someone here. Even Stella would be influenced.

After some simple consideration, he grabbed Gario by his neck and took him away.

All the people around were so shocked and frightened that they made way for him at once.

Stella finally came back to her senses. She shouted at him immediately, "Hey! Where are you going?"

Hearing this, Tom stopped and replied, "Young lady, don't call some other stranger your boyfriend again in the future, or you'll be in trouble."

He left after saying this.

What he said made Stella blush. She stood there for a while, startled. When she finally came to her senses and wanted to catch up with him, it was already too late. Tom had gone.

A strong urge kept telling her to look for him and make him stay. He was such a special man. She was afraid that they would never meet again if she just let him go this time.

She rushed over quickly, but it was too late. Tom had left the canteen. It happened so fast, as if he had never been here.

Some other people came back to their senses now as well. They chased out for him too, but Tom was already nowhere to find.

"Call the police."

Someone advised to call the police.

What happened just now was shocking for them. Gario was certainly an evil person, but he was just a college student.

After they called the police, Tom also called the Military Intelligence 3. He told them what had happened briefly and ask them to send someone to handle it.

At this moment those undergraduates might be still shocked by what had happened in the canteen, but time would erase everything. It wouldn't take much time for them to forget about it. Soon everything would be back to normal.

The only one who couldn't forget it might be Stella.

At this time Tom had taken Gario to a remote and deserted place. He threw him onto the ground and asked, "Which Clan are you from?"

Gario was almost scared to death. His whole body trembled with fear. "I, I, I, beg you. Please let me go..."

Tom replied indifferently, "I have no patience."

Gario didn't dare to fool him. He introduced himself quickly.

What he said made Tom know more about the Clans.

The so-called Clans sounded a different world.

But for an experienced warrior like Tom, it wasn't too difficult to understand.

What made him surprised was that Gario wasn't from the four major Clans. What he belonged to was a Clan named Sun & Moon God Sect.

Tom felt confused when he heard the name. Sun & Moon God Sect. It sounded like a sect from a martial arts novel.

Gario also saw that Tom was confused. He explained quickly, "Senior, my Clan is the prototype of the Sun & Moon God Sect in the martial arts tv series. They just changed the background. Senior, I didn't mean to go against you, please let me go..."

"Noisy!"

Tom got the answer that he had been searching for. He ignored Gario's plea for mercy, and killed him with a strong slap on his head.

Death was the best ending for a man like Gario. Tom just removed an evil for the people.

What he didn't notice was a tiny electronic device under Gario's skin, which was activated and sent out a signal as soon as Gario died.

Tom was a master of the half-step God Becoming Level, but he was still a human being who was unable to detect electromagnetic waves, so he didn't notice the device.

At the same time in another city, a tall man suddenly stood up with shock and anger on his face. "Something happened to Gario!!"

His behavior surprised the other people in the room.

"Master, what's going on? Did something happen to Gario? Wasn't he enjoying his life in the university in the Secular World?"

"Yes, Master, the signal may be a mistake. Besides, Gario is a master of the Innate Realm who has learned the Blood Demon Method. How could he be killed by someone in college?"

"Master..."

As they discussed in confusion, the tall middle-aged man, whose face was overcast with anger, took out an instrument from his pocket, and said in a deep voice, "Gario's Card for Life and Death has been activated. He's dead."

Chapter 922

Finally, after everyone saw the instrument, the expression on their faces changed greatly!

In that instrument, Gario's name had obviously dimmed, which meant that Gario was dead.

Only when the host died would the card be activated!

The Card for Life and Death was the technology of the Sun & Moon God Sect. It was planted in everyone's body and would not normally be activated.

But once it was activated, it meant that the host had already been killed.

After the kill, the signal could be sent over immediately, and there was also a location message.

After a short silence.

Someone said in a low voice, "Could it be that someone from the whole nation found out Gario's identity and killed him?!"

"It's possible..."

"But Gario has always been very secretive, and there isn't any master in the Major Perfection Realm of the Innate Realm around him. How could he be found?"

"Anyway, now that Gario is dead, we must avenge him!"

They talked about it all at once, all very angry. Gario was their junior apprentice and a very talented person, but now he was actually beaten to death.

At this moment, the tall middle-aged man finally said, "We must avenge Gario! Now let's go and see who the hell dares to kill Gario!"

Soon, they left and arrived at the place where Gario died as fast as possible.

By this time, Tom had already left. They saw Gario's body.

When they saw Gario's miserable appearance, they were all extremely angry, especially the tall middle-aged man, and his eyes were filled with grief!

The temperature of his body began to drop rapidly. The masters of the Innate Realm around him felt his anger and sadness. They did not dare to say a word for fear of provoking him.

"Wei..." The tall middle-aged man squatted down and hugged Gario's body. His eyes were filled with tears of grief, and his body was trembling!

Because of his excitement, all the genuine qi and internal strength in his body were out of control, shaking the ground cracked. Even the insects, birds and beasts in the forest were frightened.

Everyone who knew the tall man knew that master was really angry this time, and his murderous intent was very strong!

They all knew the fact that Gario was not only their junior apprentice, but also master's son! He was the master's only son, but now, Gario was killed!

It would be strange if master did not lose his temper.

At this time, they did not dare to disturb master for fear of getting into trouble.

The middle-aged man watched Gario's injury, especially the fear and despair that froze on his face, which greatly stimulated the man.

"Ah!!!"

At last, the man let out an earth-shattering roar, which turned into a strong wind and spread out rapidly.

"Investigate!"

He glared and gritted his teeth. "Do everything you can to find out! You must find out who killed Gario. No matter who he is, I will tear him to pieces!!"

"Yes, master!"

"Yes, master!"

"Yes, master!"

"..."

The disciples immediately accepted the order and did not dare to disobey.

They would try everything they could to find out the murderer and avenge Gario as quickly as possible.

As the murderer, Tom had already left that place. Of course, he didn't know that someone had been keeping an eye on him.

But even if Tom knew, he wouldn't take it to heart. To him, the people from sects were different species.

Let alone the evil Sun & Moon God Sect.

With his current strength, as long as the other party wasn't at the God Becoming Level, he didn't care.

Even if a master at the God Becoming Level expert came, he might not be able to kill Tom.

Now that he had killed Gario, he went straight to the Military Intelligence 3.

As a reward for this Kungfu Cup champion, he had already gotten what he wanted from God of War, Albert. Next, he should go to Country M to find Adam, or to Eagle Country to find the queen.

In fact, it didn't matter to him whether to go to Adam and the queen or not.

When he thought about it carefully, he still decided to go to them.

Maybe he could have a chance to fight a master at the God Becoming Level and to confirm whether the master was really that strong.

After returning to the Military Intelligence 3, he did not hide anything and told Pence about Gario today.

When Pence heard this, he was quite surprised. He didn't expect Tom to have contact with a person from the sect so soon and kill Gario.

"This Sun & Moon God Sect is considered to be in the second class of all the sects. Its strength is only under the four sects, and it is a little stronger than the Nüwa Sect you met before."

Pence said in a low voice.

Tom nodded. He was not very interested in this. He would not attack unless he was attacked. As long as the Sun & Moon God Sect didn't continue to trouble him, he would not care about it.

But what Pence said next made him frown.

"As far as I know, this Sun & Moon God Sect is an evil sect. All of the people in this sect practice a technique called the Blood Demon Method. It's very evil. The person who practices it is similar to a vampire in western mythology. They have to constantly absorb blood to replenish themselves." Pence said in a deep voice, "A large part of the popular vampire myths now come from the Sun & Moon God Sect."

Hearing this, Tom was a little surprised. He said, "Aren't vampires from the west? Does H Country have them too?"

Pence looked at Tom and said with a smile, "Tom, you're misunderstanding. Who said the Sun & Moon God Sect is from H Country? In fact, the origin of the Sun & Moon God Sect is in Europe. It was only a hundred years ago that it reached our H Country. There are shadows of Sun & Moon God Sect all over the world, but the Sun & Moon God Sect is really bold enough to dare to commit crimes in the whole nation. It seems that they have been living comfortably for a long time, and they can't help but begin to cause trouble."

Tom nodded in agreement with Pence.

According to Pence, the myths of many countries, including strange things, such as werewolves, vampires, and zombies, came from the sects.

That was interesting.

After a few more words, Pence immediately said seriously, "Tom, you have to be careful over the next few days. I expect that the Sun & Moon God Sect will find trouble with you!"

Tom tapped on the table and said indifferently, "Really? I'll wait."

Pence saw that Tom didn't care, so he didn't say anything. After all, he knew how powerful Tom was, so he didn't have to worry too much.

Chapter 923

After leaving Military Intelligence 3, Tom went home and made out with Phoebe. Then he went to W City to look for Amelia.

Having two confidantes, Tom felt that he was the happiest man in the world.

What's more, these two women got along well with each other with no conflict. That was really a blessing.

Spending one more day with Amelia, Tom set off to Eagle Country.

After thoughtful consideration, he decided to go for the queen of the Eagle Country first.

Before he left, Pence gave him a task.

Pence mentioned that Tom was an important man now. If Tom went to Eagle Country alone, he might be at risk, so Pence proposed that there should be bodyguards with Tom.

But Tom rejected Pence's proposal. In his mind, that wouldn't be necessary. The extra companions would distract him from the task instead.

Besides, except God Becoming Level overmatch, who could protect him when he, a near-to-God Becoming Level expert, was in danger?

Pence agreed with him said and didn't say anything more.

But soon, Pence gave Tom another task that if he could bring a scientist back during his Eagle Country journey.

The scientist was under house arrest in Eagle Country. H Country had sent a number of agents before to save him, but they all failed.

Tom had the opportunity to present himself before the queen of the Eagle Country. After that, he would have the perfect timing to save the scientist.

Of course, Tom wouldn't do this alone. When Tom arrived in Eagle Country, agents would contact him specifically.

Tom accepted the mission flatly. After all, it was not a big deal for him.

But he was a little surprised after browsing the information of that scientist. This scientist was very young and talented, and he made great achievements in his research field.

Unfortunately, a few years ago, when this scientist went to Eagle Country, he was captured by an evil local organization and was now under house arrest.

According to Pence, it was good to save this scientist. And there was no need to provoke that evil organization.

Tom accepted the task and got on the flight to Eagle Country.

It was the first time Tom had been abroad. So it was quite a fresh experience.

And he sensed that something interesting would happen in this journey.

Tom was not worried about the queen of Eagle Country, because he knew that the queen was actually not young but rather old. She was already 80 years old this year. Even though she was a God Becoming Level expert, her strength was gradually weakening.

Moreover, the queen of Eagle Country was gentle and would not be as violent as Adam of the Country M. She should not assail Tom.

Even if she did want to hit Tom, Tom wouldn't lay down and die. To say the least, Tom was able to escape.

This flight was an international flight and would take a long time. Tom was reading the newspaper on the plane to kill time. He was in sportswear. From his dress, he was an ordinary white collar. No one would connect him with a strong near-to-God Becoming Level overmatch.

Just then, a man beside him said to Tom, "Sir, is there anyone sitting next to you?"

It was a woman. Tom looked up and found that she was a mixed-race lady. She was quite beautiful, especially her figure, which was especially hot.

As she bent down to talk to Tom like this, her long hair fell down, emitting a fragrance that lingered on Tom's nose.

It smelled especially comfortable.

Tom shook his head and said, "No one."

She smiled and said politely, "Can I sit here?"

There was no reason for Tom to refuse such a polite person. He nodded and said, "Sure."

"Thank you."

The mixed-race beauty smiled and sat down.

This beauty had to pass through Tom to the seat inside for that Tom's seat was near the aisle.

Tom originally wanted to stand up and make way for the lady, but the lady moved first.

Because the passage was narrow, if she crossed Tom like this, she inevitably would touch Tom, which made Tom a little embarrassed.

But Tom didn't think much about it. He quickly refocused his attention on the newspaper.

If it were an ordinary man with such a beautiful mixed-race lady sitting next to him, he would think a lot and be uneasy. But this didn't influence Tom at all.

Because he had already sensed that this mixed-race beauty was an ordinary person, not a martial artist. She was just a rich beauty.

Tom had met a lot of women like this beauty. He already had not any feeling for a lady like this beauty. Besides, he's married. He was aware of this all the time.

But Tom's neglect of this mixed-race beauty made the lady became interested in him.

It could be seen that she was a well-cultured woman. Instead of looking at Tom directly, she secretly looked at Tom from the corner of her eye.

This time, she ran away from home privately. In order to avoid being forced into a marriage to connect her family and another equally eminent family by her parents, she planned to hide for a while.

But what she didn't expect was that not long after she arrived in H Country, she was found by her family. In the end, she had no choice but to take a flight to Eagle Country.

But she really didn't like sitting with her bodyguards. She would rather sit with a strange man.

Originally, she didn't care about Tom, thinking that Tom was just an ordinary person of H Country.

However, after sitting down, she looked at the man beside her from the corner of her eye and found that he didn't look that simple. Although he looked ordinary, he had an indescribable quality that made people subconsciously want to get close to him.

She had never seen such a man before. Gradually, she became a little fascinated by him.

Soon, Tom realized that something was wrong with her. He turned around and asked, "What's the matter?"

She was in a daze when Tom suddenly turned around and startled her. She quickly turned around and said, "No, it's okay."

Chapter 924

Alice quickly turned her head away. She was surprised and wondered what was wrong with her. How could she feel so nervous and shy in front of a strange man? That was not her.

She was born into a big family. Coupled with her pretty face, from childhood, there were countless outstanding men around her, but she had never been so flustered when facing a man.

It was really rare for her to be so flustered and shy in front of this man from H Country.

She didn't think that she had fallen in love at first sight with him, but she had been hiding from her family's bodyguards all this time, which made her a little tired, so this strange feeling arose.

It must be like this.

Although she thought so, she couldn't help but sneak a peek at Tom. She always felt that there was an indescribable aura on Tom, which always made her want to get close to him. This feeling was something she had never had in other men.

He was really an amazing man.

Although Tom was reading the newspaper, he knew that Alice was paying attention to him.

In fact, after he broke through to the God Becoming Level and his vitality became much stronger, he did find his charm to women had a qualitative change.

Now, his body was not only very strong but very pure, especially his strong vitality would bring woman deadly attraction.

In fact, he was quite annoyed about this.

If he was a dissolute man, it would be perfect that he could hunt many beautiful women. The point was that he was not such a man, so this luck became a curse.

He could only force a smile. He could not change anything or pretend to be an old man to avoid this to happen.

Fortunately, the mixed-race beauty next to him was very cultured and did not continue to talk to him, except occasionally she would secretly look at him.

It was a long flight from H Country to Eagle Country. It took almost a day to arrive.

Halfway through, the mixed-race beauty tried to talk to him, and Tom happened to be bored, so he did not refuse her.

This conversation made Alice's impression of Tom even better because she found that Tom not only smelled good and had a good affinity but Tom was too knowledgeable. No matter what topic she raised, Tom could talk about it.

He was even able to express ideas that she had never thought of before, which enlightened her.

It was so interesting to chat with such a man, so when the plane landed, she was still reluctant.

She couldn't bear to be separated from this strange man.

After getting off the plane, Tom didn't ask her for her phone number, which made her very disappointed. Men she met before had always asked her for her contact information happily. Now that Tom was not interested at all, she was more or less sad.

In the end, she couldn't help but say, "Tom, may I leave your contact information?"

After saying this, she looked at Tom expectantly.

Tom could figure out what she was thinking at a glance. He just smiled and said, "I don't have an available number in Eagle Country. We'll meet again. Goodbye."

After saying this, Tom left gracefully.

His refusal stunned Alice for a moment. Did she hear correctly? The first time she asked a man for his contact information, but she was rejected?

This was too embarrassing!

It made her face a lot redder.

Looking at Tom's back getting further and further away until he disappeared from the crowd, Alice felt even more depressed.

At this moment, a bodyguard behind her stepped forward in a respectful manner and whispered, "Dear Miss Alice, you are going to marry Prince William soon. You can't fall for with another man."

The bodyguard's words made her bite her lips, and there was some sadness in her eyes.

She would marry Prince William sooner or later. She couldn't ask other men for their contact information.

When she married into the royal family, she would not even have the right to speak to strange men!

Ever since she was a child, all her friends envied her for her prominent status and powerful background, but no one could understand her sadness.

She was just a poor woman whose destiny had been arranged since she was born.

Today, she met a man that she was interested in, but she couldn't ask for his contact information.

Alas...

Fortunately, Alice's psychological quality was strong enough, or rather, she was used to her fate. For the sake of her family, she had no right to choose her life.

After she regained her senses, she came out of the reception area and immediately saw a group of people waiting for her in a grand manner.

Standing in front of her was Prince William.

He was not particularly handsome, but he was very tall and full of royal dignity. There were many women in Eagle Country who wanted to marry him.

And since she could marry Prince William, technically, she was the happiest woman in Eagle Country, but she knew that she had nothing to do with happiness. On the contrary, she was unlucky because she never had the right to pursue her own happiness.

"My beautiful Alice, you're back."

When Prince William saw Alice, he immediately showed an infatuated and excited smile on his face. He quickly walked towards Alice, held Alice's hand, and gave a deep kiss.

For some reason, Alice hated Prince William's kiss.

In her opinion, Prince William was a very terrible man!

Because she had heard a lot about Prince William's scandal that he had raped a lot of women.

However, he showed his outstandings in front of the public, which was disgusting.

So after she was kissed by Prince William, she immediately frowned and couldn't help but show some displeasure on her face, and quickly withdrew her hand.

She said coldly, "Thank you."

And her appearance was caught by Prince William, which made his face a little gloomy.

Chapter 925

But he turned calm immediately.

As Prince William, he should always be the man of composure. The public should never catch his unhappiness.

And most importantly, if he wanted to marry Alice, he couldn't leave a bad impression on her.

However, Alice caught his flashing displeasure, which made her impression on him even worse.

She hid such feeling quite well, but she felt a little sad that she would marry such a person.

In fact, Prince William was an excellent man, but she didn't love him.

Prince William's grand welcome made many people in the airport envy and jealous of Alice, especially women.

They walked out of the airport, and several limousines parked on the side of the road came into their sight, which was the reflection of Prince William's extraordinary nobility.

Prince William's expression was full of pride. He enjoyed the feeling of being focused on, for he was the noblest prince in the world. He coughed to clear his throat and said proudly, "Miss Alice, my beauty, please get in the car."

On the contrary, Alice did not like such showy behaviors very much. She was of Oriental descent and was not as flamboyant as a pure westerner.

Just as she nodded and was about to get into the car with him, suddenly, she saw a familiar figure.

It was Tom, the easterner who had been talking with her for a long time.

He was standing on the side of the road, trying to hail a taxi, but no one stopped for him. It seemed that no one came to pick him up.

Alice turned and walked towards him.

Prince William was looking forward to Alice's move and excitement, with a smile on his face, but he did not expect Alice to ignore him directly and walk towards an easterner of average appearance.

"Tom, where are you going? Do you need a ride?" Alice walked over to him and said with a smile of expectation.

Tom was stunned. He didn't expect Alice to come for him again.

Soon, he saw Prince William following behind her. He could tell at a glance that Prince William and Alice were more than friends, so he shook his head and said, "No, I'll take a taxi."

Prince William came to them. His sight fixed on Tom, already regarded him as his rival.

However, he asked Alice with an unchanged friendly smile, "Beautiful Alice, who is this oriental friend?"

Alice said, "He is Tom from H Country. He's my friend."

"Oh," he replied, and then looked at Tom. He was a man dressed in ordinary clothes, with a normal face and common temperament. In short, he was no more than an ordinary person, who had no difference from anyone on the street.

Moreover, it seemed that Prince William didn't have a good impression of people from H Country. An expression of despite flashed across his eyes, but he still kept his smile and said, "Is he? Beautiful Alice, when did you know such a person from H Country?"

Alice disliked Prince William's questioning tone, but she was educated that she would not show her aversion. Instead, she said, "Prince William, do I need to ask you for permission as I make a friend?"

When she said this, she felt a little resentful towards Prince William. Prince William was stunned and immediately became angry!

Alice, this bitch, how dare she hurt his esteem in front of another man. Damn it!

And that man was a inferior person of H Country, which made him even unhappier.

"Alice, that's not what I mean." he shook his head and said, "It's late. Let's come back!"

He was about to hold Alice and take her away.

However, she evaded in time and looked at Tom expectantly again, "Tom, we have a car here. Let's take you to your place?"

Tom wanted to refuse her at first. He was not that insensible, and he could find that Alice and Prince William were a couple, and her boyfriend was hostile to him.

He was not afraid of him, but he had something important to do in Eagle Country, and did not want to be delayed by such boring thing.

But soon, he raised his eyebrows slightly and felt a strong purpose of murder coming from afar!

Immediately, he turned to Prince William and Alice.

That purpose was not targeted at him, but at them.

Tom appreciated Alice to some extent. She was a kind woman with correct values, and had no hostility to H Country.

After a brief thought, he decided to protect her. After all it was not a big deal for him.

"Okay." he agreed. "My sincere appreciation to you, Miss Alice."

At first, Alice was a little nervous, worrying that he might refuse. Now that she heard Tom's answer, she immediately relaxed with a happy smile on her face.

For Prince William, however, his expression quickly turned gloomy and even the corner of his mouth twitched.

She was insulting him directly!

His fiancée was now taking the initiative to accost a man from H Country, which indicated her indifference about him!

In usual cases he would have unleashed his anger and call people to kick his damned ass.

However, Alice also came from a noble family, and she was not his wife yet. He still did not dare to show her his bad temper.

He took a deep breath and tried to suppress his anger. Then he forced himself to smile and said, "Alice, it took you a long time to come back and your family is waiting for you. It's not appropriate for you to give him a ride now, is it?"

How could Alice not know what Prince William meant? She knew that Prince William was a stingy person and said on purpose, "There's nothing wrong with it. It would not take a long time."

The corner of Prince William's mouth twitched again. He stared fiercely at Tom; It was a threat. He should have refused if he were not a fool.

Chapter 926

However, it seemed that Tom did not see the threat and still smiled.

Damn it!!

Prince William gritted his teeth. His disgust and anger towards Tom reached an extreme point. He even wanted to abandon his manners and let the bodyguards beat Tom up.

He knew Alice very well. She was a very cold woman and had never been so proactive and attentive to a man before.

So he had a feeling that Alice and Tom might have an affair.

But Alice was his fiancée. She actually had an affair with this man. At the thought of this, he was very angry and his face was ferocious.

He was the honorable prince of Eagle Country.

Tom said at this time, "Miss Alice, your boyfriend seems to be very unwelcome to me. I can take a taxi myself. Thank you for your kindness."

Tom didn't think so much. To him, Alice was just a passer-by in his life, not even a passer-by. He just met her by chance. After this time, he would never see her again.

Although Alice was in danger and was targeted by these assassins, Tom could follow Alice from behind and save her in time.

Alice immediately frowned and said to Prince William, "Your highness, is my friend right?"

Prince William was a little stunned for a moment. He obviously didn't expect that Tom would dare to do this to him. It was so despicable. Especially when he saw Alice looking at him with obvious dissatisfaction and disgust, it made him even more flustered. He quickly shook his head and said, "No. Since he is your friend, how can I not welcome him?"

"Yes." Alice nodded and said to Tom, "He's Prince William from Eagle Country. He loves his people. You are welcomed here."

Tom was a little surprised when he knew the man was Prince William. He did not expect that he had just arrived in Eagle Country and met the prince. What a coincidence.

"I wonder if who the Queen of Eagle Country is to you?" Tom asked curiously.

Prince William immediately straightened his back and said proudly, "Your highness is my grandmother! She's the strongest person in Eagle Country."

Tom nodded, not surprised.

Prince William saw Tom's reaction and thought that Tom was shocked by his noble identity. He could not hide his pride. To a commoner like Tom, he, as a prince, was an absolute noble existence.

Next, Tom followed Alice into the car.

According to Prince William's plan, he wanted Tom to take the car in the back and give him and Alice private space, but this damn man was so stupid and followed them to get in the same car.

He was furious.

Alice was quite happy to be able to talk to Tom again.

"Cough. Tom, I wonder why are you here this time?" Prince William saw that Alice and Tom were chatting so happily, and he couldn't get a word in. He felt very embarrassed and interrupted directly and forcefully.

Alice was dissatisfied with Prince William's performance, thinking that he was too narrow-minded and not as gentle as a prince should be.

Tom smiled and said, "I'm here to meet the Queen."

Hearing this, Prince William was stunned. Not only him but Alice was a little surprised. She thought she heard wrong. Tom actually came to see the queen?

This was a little boastful. Tom should know that the Queen was the most honorable existence in Eagle Country and the belief of Eagle Country. Many people couldn't see the Queen at all even if they desperately wanted to see.

Prince William immediately couldn't help but laugh. "I'm sorry, I didn't hear you clearly just now. Who did you say you were meeting?"

Tom glanced at him and said coolly, "Your grandmother."

Alice was a little snickered when she heard this. In H Country, this sentence was a little insulting. However, Prince William did not know that Tom's words had another meaning. He shook his head, thinking that Tom was mentally ill, and actually came here to see the Queen.

"I'm sorry, but I'm afraid you won't be able to see her highness. Most people won't be able to see her since she didn't like it." Prince William said, mocking Tom for not having the right to see the Queen.

In fact, it was not a mockery, because that was the truth. Nobody could meet the Queen so easily.

Tom just smiled and didn't explain much.

All of a sudden, he sensed that the killing intent just now had reappeared, and was even stronger and more powerful than before!

Moreover, they were close.

He had just arrived in Eagle Country when such a thing happened to him. He was really helpless.

His silence in Prince William's eyes became a sign of shame, which made him feel much better.

Alice also thought Tom went a little far and actually said he was here to see the Queen.

Not to mention that Tom was from H Country, even if it was her, she had only met her royal highness from afar when she was a child.

After all, the Queen was honorable, the god of Eagle Country. How could she be seen as soon as someone wanted to?

Tom said at this time, "You are being targeted by assassins."

"Yes? What?"

Prince William was obviously stunned when he heard this, then looked at Tom and asked again, "I'm sorry, I didn't hear you clearly just now. What did you say?"

Tom gave this dull man a stinky eye.

"I said you were targeted by assassins." Tom said it again.

Prince William heard him clearly and then laughed. "You're so funny. Do you know who I am? I'm Prince William from Eagle Country, and the Queen loves me very much. I'm going to take over Eagle Country in the future. You said there were assassins to assassinate me?"

After that, he shook his head and became more and more convinced that there must be something wrong with Tom. He had just said that he was here to see the Queen, but now he had said that there were assassins.

He thought nobody dared to assassinate him in Eagle Country.

Unless these assassins wanted to die.

But for Alice, she frowned. Her intuition told her that there was nothing wrong with Tom.

She immediately stared at Tom and asked in a low voice, "Tom, are you sure we're being targeted by killers?"

Tom nodded and said, "Yes."

Prince William laughed even louder.

Chapter 927

The Prince William was more convinced that Tom was a fool. Otherwise, Tom wouldn't say something like that.

Prince William was the prince of Eagle Country and the queen's favorite grandson. In Eagle Country, no one would dare to assassinate him.

He had lived in Eagle Country for so long, and he had never been assassinated. He had never been assassinated before, and he would never be assassinated in the future.

Soon, Prince William found a loophole in logic and asked, "You know that there are assassins after us, but you still take a car with us. Aren't you afraid of death?"

Indeed, this didn't make sense. Since Tom knew that there were assassins targeting them, why did he dare to join them? Was Tom not afraid of death?

Alice also looked at Tom curiously to see how Tom would answer.

Tom was not guilty or afraid. He was still calm and said, "I'm here to protect Miss Alice."

Hearing this, Alice's face turned red and her heart beat faster. She didn't expect Tom to protect her.

However, for Prince William, it was a big joke and he couldn't help but laugh. "Ha ha ha..."

"That's ridiculous. Is everyone in H Country as arrogant and brainless as you are? You're here to protect Alice? Do you know who Alice is? Besides, you are only a weak man from H Country. Why do you think you can protect Alice? Are you gonna protect her with Kungfu showed in your movies? Ha ha ha."

Prince William was rocking with laughter and he regarded Tom as a clown.

After Alice woke up, she had a worse impression of Tom. She thought Tom was a little too arrogant to say so.

However, she did not think that there would be any assassins in the Eagle Country who would dare to attack them unless they wanted to die.

Besides, even if there were assassins after them, it was impossible for Tom to save them.

Prince William's bodyguard team was the most professional in the world. Even if there were assassins to kill them, his bodyguard team could deal with it calmly.

Alice shook her head and explained for Tom. She said to Prince William, "Tom is just joking. By the way, Tom, where are you going? I can ask the driver to take you there first."

Seeing that Prince William and Alice didn't take his words to heart, Tom didn't nag anymore. Anyway, the assassins had already followed, and they would be attacked soon.

Facing Alice's question, he thought about it and said, "I'm going to visit Her Highness. If it's convenient for you, you can send me to the royal family."

"Enough!" Prince William was a little angry this time. Tom said he wanted to visit Her Highness. It was too disrespectful to Her Highness as she was so noble! How could Tom, a poor and weak man from H Country, visit her whenever he wanted to?

Prince William stared at Tom and said very unkindly, "Hey you, for Alice's sake, I don't want to bother myself arguing with the likes of you. Don't push your luck! Her Highness is so noble that she can't be defiled by you!"

Alice also frowned slightly. She also thought that Tom was a little too much. Her Highness was so noble that even she couldn't see her whenever she wanted. As a man from H Country, what right did Tom have to see Her Highness?

Tom sighed. He was quite helpless. He was telling the truth. Why didn't Prince William and Alice believe him?

Since that was the case, he didn't want to say anything more.

Anyway, when he fulfilled his duty to protect Alice, he would go to the queen himself.

With his strength, the queen of Eagle Country would allow him to visit her.

When Prince William saw that Tom had stopped talking, he thought that Tom was guilty, so he couldn't help but look complacent.

He secretly glanced at Alice and found that Alice was not as kind to Tom as before, which made him happier.

Just then, Tom sensed something. He sat up straight and said to the driver, "Turn left! Don't go the right way!"

Because Tom said it so suddenly that the driver was startled. He turned the steering wheel quickly, swinging the smooth car and causing Prince William and Alice to almost fall over.

Prince William, in particular, was still holding red wine in his hand. The car shook so violently that the red wine in the glass tilted out directly and spilled on his crotch. This was too much for him to accept, and he became angry, "You are so presumptuous!"

Alice also frowned. She almost tumbled down just now. She said to Tom discontentedly, "Tom, what are you doing?"

Tom did not answer them immediately. He was focused, thought out, and sensed the assassins' killing intent and whereabouts. He had already found that there were many assassins ambushed on the mountain road on the right.

And they were all killers of the Innate Realm!

Tom didn't expect the assassins to be so strong.

It was impossible for guards of Prince William to stop these aggressive assassins.

Tom still said in a deep voice, "Don't take the road on the right. There are a lot of assassins there!"

Hearing Tom's words, Prince William cursed directly, "You're crazy! I don't have the patience to talk to you anymore. I'm being so polite to you for Alice's sake. If you dare to be presumptuous again, I'll throw you out!"

If it had been before, Alice would have spoken for Tom, but now, she felt that Tom was too much.

Seeing that they were stubborn, Tom sighed and said to Alice, "Miss Alice, don't you believe me either?"

Alice said, "Tom, you'd better behave yourself. We're in Eagle Country. No one dares to disrespect us."

Well, since Alice said so, he couldn't insist anymore.

As the saying went, "One always refuses to be convinced until one is faced with grim reality." They wouldn't believe it if they didn't see the assassins themselves.

Anyway, let them see the power of these assassins.

So Tom didn't bother to say anything more and asked the driver to drive to the mountain road on the right.

The mountain road was very spacious, and there was no traffic now. It was a perfect place to ambush.

Seeing that there was no ambush after a long time, Prince William immediately sneered, "Now that we're on the right, why aren't there any killers?"

However, not long after he said this, a sudden change happened!

Chapter 928

Tom immediately felt the tense atmosphere. He looked serious, and his muscles all tensed up. He roared out in a deep voice, "The assassin is out! Get down!"

He shouted it out loud, which scared Prince William and Alice again. Alice couldn't tell whether Tom was joking or not.

Then, she opened her eyes wide because she saw Tom pouncing on her and pinning her down!

What...

He was so presumptuous!

She had never been taken advantage of by a man, and Tom was the first.

For Prince William, he was stunned for a moment, then he glowered and became furious. "Damn H Country citizen, you're looking for death!!"

He was about to punish Tom.

However, at this moment, he saw a rocket flying in their direction outside the window.

There was no time for him to react at all. The next moment, they heard a loud bang!

The flying rocket hit the Rolls-Royce heavily, and the huge impact directly overturned the car.

Everyone in the car spun around.

This sudden change scared the hell out of everyone. Prince William and Alice had never imagined that someone would dare to attack them!

Fortunately, Rolls-Royce was a special bulletproof car, and even missiles could not penetrate it.

But even so, the safety of Prince William and his driver could not be guaranteed. Prince William didn't wear his seat belt and rolled around in the car a few times and his mind was hit hard.

For Alice, she was protected by Tom. Tom could still cling to the seat despite such a fierce tumble, so Alice was not hurt.

Finally, after rolling a few laps, the Rolls-Royce hit the foot of the mountain.

The car windows were all broken.

The sudden accident startled the motorcade behind them.

However, these guards were very experienced, and they soon realized that there were assassins who took action!!!

After Tom confirmed that there was no danger for the time being, he let go of Alice and asked with concern, "Alice, are you okay?"

Alice's body was fine. Only her hair fell down, and there was panic and nervousness on her face.

She did not react to the accident. After knowing that Tom had asked her again, she came back to her senses. She shook her head and said, "No, I'm fine... Assassin, there really is an assassin..."

Her face went pale with fear as she realised what was happening now.

She was also a little scared to shiver.

Tom did not despise her performance. Because it's normal for an ordinary person to be scared when it comes to something like this.

He said, "Yes, an assassin has been targeting you. Unfortunately, you didn't listen to me, so you still took this path, which could have been avoided."

Tom sighed slightly. If Prince William hadn't been so arrogant and listened to him, this wouldn't have happened.

Unfortunately, there are no ifs and it happened that way.

Alice felt regret after hearing this. If she had known that there was a killer, she should have persuaded Prince William to listen to Tom's arrangement.

Thinking of Prince William, she immediately looked over and found Prince William lying there in a very twisted position. His expression was full of pain, and there was blood on his forehead. Obviously, he was hit hard when he rolled over just now and he kept screaming.

"Prince William, are you okay?" Alice asked with concern.

Prince William kept gasping. His head was numb and dizzy from the impact. When he heard Alice's concern, he looked over and immediately saw a scene that made him very jealous and angry.

The damn H Country citizen pressed his Alice under him and they were so close!

This position was too shameful and made him feel betrayed for a moment.

"What are you doing?!" Prince William screamed out, his face full of ferocity and jealousy.

When Alice came to her senses, she immediately realized that her position with Tom looked too close and too ashamed.

Especially her chest was pressed against his.

This made her blush immediately. She felt Tom's breath on her face, making her very shy and nervous, yet not feeling repulsed.

She had never been so intimate with a man in her all life, which made her extremely shy and her ears turned red.

Tom also found out this. He secretly called out sorry, and then immediately got off Alice. He quickly regained his composure and said, "The assassin is here. We have to do our defence! Prince William, you'd better contact the royal family and ask them to support."

Prince William glared at Tom fiercely. When he heard Tom's words, he realized that he was in a bad situation. He had no time to argue with Tom. He took out his cell phone immediately and was about to make a call.

However, he was too hurry to hold his phone. He accidentally dropped his phone out.

"What the hell..."

Tom was speechless. What kind of prince was he? So stupid.

Alice also rolled her eyes, feeling shameless about Prince William's flurry.

Prince William was also a little embarrassed.

Just as he was about to get out of the car to pick up his phone, Tom stopped him. "You can't get out of the car. There are snipers waiting outside."

Prince William was startled after hearing his words. His whole body trembled and he did not dare to act rashly anymore. At the same time, he was very regretful. How could he be so stupid as to drop his phone?

At this time, Tom said to Alice, "Use your phone to call for help."

Alice nodded, took out her phone, and called the family for help.

However, her phone could not work. There was no signal.

Tom sighed. He knew that the killer must have blocked the signal and leave them with no way to escape.

But he was also curious. Which organization was so bold as to have the audacity to attack

Prince William in Eagle Country?

Chapter 929

"What should I do now?"

When Alice couldn't even make a call, she immediately panicked. It was the first time she had encountered such a thing. She was a weak woman so that she was afraid to the extreme.

Not only him, but Prince William was also in a panic, sweating and in a daze, "What should I do? How could this be... This is in Eagle Country. Why would anyone dare to assassinate me?"

Tom shook his head when he saw how flustered they were. It was normal for Alice to be so, but William, as a prince, was so panicked that he did not have the calmness that a prince should have.

He asked in a deep voice, "Have you offended someone?"

Prince William was in a panic, and he even couldn't answer Tom's question rationally. He was sweating profusely. "I don't know. I don't know..."

Alice, on the other hand, saw that Tom was so calm and not panicking at all. He gave her a sense of security and calmed her down slowly. She said, "Could it be that he wanted to kidnap us and extort money from the royal family?"

"It's possible." Tom nodded and said.

"Then who is so bold to do so? After all, we are in Eagle Country." Alice couldn't figure out why anyone dared to do so.

"It's okay. I'll protect you." Tom patted Alice on the shoulder to comfort her.

Alice was stunned for a moment. Obviously, she did not expect Tom to say such a thing under such circumstances, which made her feel much warmer and ashamed of her impatience with Tom just now.

However, rationally, she still did not believe that Tom was strong enough to protect them. After all, Tom was alone, and it seemed that he was not as powerful as those agents.

"Tom, thank you for your kindness." Alice said, "I appreciate that. These are vicious killers. You can't protect us."

Prince William regained a little composure now. When he heard Tom, he immediately showed disdain. "I didn't hear wrong, did I? You can protect us? You really know how to brag."

Tom didn't bother to argue with him.

Now that Tom's spiritual power was spread out and more than ten kilometers in the circle were under his control, he immediately sensed that the scale of the attack this time was not small, almost all of them were well-trained Innate Realm experts in order to catch Prince William and Alice with one shot!

Prince William saw Alice holding Tom's hand, and a wave of jealousy surged into his heart. He looked unhappy. He snorted heavily and went over to hold Alice's hand, comforting her, "Alice, you don't have to be afraid. Our royal guard team is very powerful and will definitely be able to protect us!"

Alice pulled her hand away that was held by Prince William. She nodded and said, "Well, I hope so."

Prince William was dissatisfied with Alice's escape, but in this case, he could not blame her.

Alice actually believed in Prince William's royal guard team more, which was the most powerful group of agents in Eagle Country, and she believed that they would definitely be able to protect their safety.

At this time, a lot of agents immediately got out of the motorcade. They quickly fought back, and some people came to them.

"Your highness, are you all right?"

It was a middle-aged agent with his expression firm and calm, showing his strong professional quality.

Because of his appearance, Prince William was much relieved and asked, "Captain Peter, we're fine. What happened just now?"

Captain Peter said in a deep voice, "Your highness, I'm sorry to tell you that we have encountered an ambush by assassins, but please rest assured, your highness, that we will repel these killers!"

Hearing Captain Peter's promise, Prince William felt much more relaxed. He immediately said, "Then I'll count on you. Please catch these killers. I want to see who dares to attack me!"

He said this in a dignified manner, like a prince.

Unfortunately, they underestimated the strength of these killers.

Prince William caught Tom shaking his head and thought that Tom was afraid. He said disdainfully, "Hey, you, are you afraid? Don't worry. With my royal guards, you won't be hurt."

Alice thought so too. She nodded and said to Tom, "Yes, Tom, you don't have to be afraid. You're our guest in Eagle Country. We won't let you get hurt."

Tom didn't want to convince them anymore. Instead, he nodded and was about to leave the Rolls-Royce.

Alice saw his move and she was startled. She stopped him, "Tom! What are you doing?!"

Prince William also looked at Tom in surprise. He didn't understand what he was doing.

Tom said coolly, "These killers are very powerful. Prince William's royal guard team is no match. I'll deal with these killers."

He said it very plainly as if he was just saying that there were ants outside, and it was easy for me to step on them to death.

But in Prince William's ears, it turned into a big joke, making him laugh. "Hahaha... I didn't hear it wrong, did I? What did you just say? You said you were going out to kill these killers? Alice, how can you know this idiot, hahaha."

Even after Alice heard this, she was embarrassed. She felt that Tom's bragging had already made her a little annoyed.

Alice's face darkened and said to Tom, "Tom, it's not funny at all! These assassins are all vicious and bad people. They will kill people! If you go out now, you will only make things worse."

Tom was a little touched by Alice's words but more helpless. He said, "Alice, I'm not joking with you. In fact, I forgot to tell you that in addition to being a scholar, I am one of the best Strong in the world. Only I can protect you and Prince William."

After that, he was about to let go of Alice's hand and open the door to go out.

Chapter 930

His action scared Alice and Prince William!

Especially Prince William, who shouted directly, "Damn people from H Country! What are you doing? If you want to die, but don't take us in!"

Prince William looked terrified and flustered.

There was no way. The situation outside was too dangerous.

He had heard sounds of fighting and gunfire, as well as screams. Occasionally, he saw fierce fighting and bloody scenes.

Although he usually made a lot of speeches in front of the public, showing his heroic character, in fact, he was still very timid.

Ever since he was a child, he had grown up in a greenhouse and had never encountered any danger. Now that he had met such a fierce killer for the first time, he was scared out of his wits.

In his opinion, this Rolls-Royce was their last refuge and could give them absolute safety. What if Tom opened the door and let these killers rush in?

He was a prince of a distinguished status. He didn't want to die.

Alice had the same idea. Besides being afraid, she was angrier.

She was angry that Tom was so arrogant and selfish that he didn't take her words to heart.

He had gone too far.

She absolutely did not believe that Tom really had the ability to solve these killers. Now she suspected that Tom was insane. Otherwise, how could normal people be so bold in such a situation?

At the same time, she began to regret it. If she had known that Tom was such a person, she shouldn't have invited Tom to the car.

"Tom! If you want to die, don't make us die! Now you stay in the car!!"

Alice shouted. She looked terrible and she was absolutely angry.

At the same time, she was holding Tom's hand tightly, not letting Tom out.

Seeing her like this, Tom sighed and said helplessly, "Alice, do you think I'm joking? I'm not joking. I'm saving you."

He said this seriously, but Alice didn't believe him at all. Instead, she didn't have a good impression of him.

Alice fixed her gaze on him and said in a commanding tone, "You're not allowed to leave! I've had enough of you! I thought you were different from others, but I didn't expect you to be so arrogant and annoying!"

Alice said a lot of bad things about Tom and complained a lot.

Tom was helpless, but he could tell that Alice would never let him get out of the car.

Tom thought for a while, but he still chose to take Alice's advice. Since Alice did not believe him, he would wait for the last second before he took action.

In any case, with his strength, even if these royal guards were all dead, he had the ability to protect Prince William and Alice.

As for the life and death of these royal guards, it wasn't that he didn't want to save them, but that Prince William let them die.

"Okay." Tom nodded and said, "I promise you."

Only then did Alice look better.

At this moment, in their sight, they saw that in front of them, the royal guards fought with the assassins, and the scene was extremely shocking and bloody.

These killers wore masks on their faces. Their real faces were unseen, but they only revealed two eyes, which looked particularly scary.

In particular, their strength was shown to be exceptionally strong, and all kinds of movements that exceeded human limits made them look like mutated humans. They were far beyond normal people both in speed and strength.

In front of them, they saw an assassin who had raised a car with both hands. The assassin used it as a shield to block the bullets of the guards and then smashed it heavily at the guards.

There was a loud bang!

These guards didn't have time to dodge and were smashed into meat patties!

The scene was so bloody that Alice couldn't help but scream. Prince William was also trembling with fear, and his face was pale.

Seeing their reaction, Tom shook his head slightly.

However, Tom's attention was also mainly focused on these assassins. He found these assassins, one by one, showed the strength of a sinister aura. They were not like traditional martial artists.

Seeing this, Tom narrowed his eyes slightly. Suddenly, a person came to his mind.

Gario.

Yes, it was this person from the Clan and belonged to Sun & Moon God Sect.

Gario also had this sinister aura.

I still remember that Pence said that the Clan did not only exist in H Country, but also all over the world, like the Sun & Moon God Sect, in the west, and was the predecessor of vampires...

Was it such a coincidence that Tom had just come to Eagle Country and ran into such a coincidence?

At this moment, Tom found it interesting.

Bang!

Suddenly, a bloody hand slapped against the window. Prince William and Alice, who were concentrating, were shocked.

"Ah!"

"Who?!"

Both of them screamed out in shock. Then, they saw a face full of blood. He appeared in front of them and panted, "Your highness, things are not good. These assassins are not ordinary assassins. They are too powerful. We can't beat them... You, go, go..."

"Ah..."

Hearing this, Prince William was even more frightened. His whole body trembled violently and he was about to wet his pants at any time.

Although Alice was not exaggerating, she was also very scared. She bit her lips tightly and tears came out of her eyes.

"What should I do? What should I do? I don't want to die. I don't want to die yet..." Prince William began to cry. He was no longer like a prince. He had become an ordinary person who was afraid of death.

"Your highness, it's too late. Hurry..."

However, before the guard could finish his sentence, he was hit hard, and he showed an extremely painful expression. He spat out a mouthful of blood, and then slowly fell down.

This sudden change scared Prince William and Alice who were in the car to shout.

Then, an assassin who was dark and tall, wearing a devil's mask appeared in front of them. He revealed two sinister eyes and he was staring at Prince William and Alice. There was a mechanical sound in his mouth: "Prince William, Miss Alice, you can't run away."
