Chapter 31 The plan 2

Travi aunt following the investigation and the melancholy she experienced after their separation so he suggested.

"How about you drop by the NIGHT CLUB one of these days just to see her im sure she will be glad because i know that she doesnt hate you as you think, its quite the contrary."

"How do you know dont tell me you had some invest....."

"No i didnt investigate Petrona , he said interupting her i say it because i know you're impossible to hate."

There was dead silence after he spoke as the two stood there gazing into each others eyes.

"Aah boss we have the tables set already," said a young teenage boy.

Coughing out and rubbing his hands in his hair due to the embarrassment he said shyly "i think we should be going in."

Taking the elevator down Bethany was curious so she asked "Travis why are we going down."

"The gambling dens can't operate in the open that's why we have them concealed so to say,

"I see well and why is that so."

"They are illegal in Morado and Axel as well so we can't risk the cops raiding on us."

Back at the Montenegro mansion.

Preparations were all exquisitely done by the best planners in Morado and the mansion was made to look more heavenly.

"Dad dont you think this is way to much i mean you could've organized a simple get together as a family and may be invite some friends," Kyle complained looking at how extravagant everything had come up.

"Friends ,my brother the last time i checked Ehad was your only friend," Leons voice came through the back door with all the sarcasm in the world.

His words made the rest to laugh.

"My son you're not an ordinary person i mean you're a Montenegro so you definitely deserve more than just a simple party," said Hank full of pride.

"Anyway i had a long day at the hospital I'll be going to my house then."

"Hold on Kyle why don't you have dinner with us."

"Thanks for the offer dad but im really not hungry and besides someone's irritated by my presence." Kyle said looking at

With that he left, Hank turned over to look at Leon with his death eyes.

Leon shrugged at his dads look "i didn't force him to leave," he said with his arms raised in a defensive manner.

"Sir dinner is served," came the maid.

"Thank you Cacilda," replied Rapheal.

Just then Hank received a phone call which made him clench his fists exposing his white knuckles.

"What's wrong dad," Leon asked seeing the angry look on his dad's face.

"Excuse me," was all he said before moving out in a haste.

Leon and the rest of his brothers were bewildered as to why he left in such a manner.

"Get the torture room ready," he said with all the rage once he got into the car.

He was like a dragon fuming with fire ready to annihilate his enemies.

Whoever it was he wasn't going to survive it, the driver didn't ask where they were going hearing torture room he knew they were heading to the warehouse .

Sensing the deadly aura being emitted from Hank's body he knew he had to speed up if he still wanted his head attached to his body.

It didn't take long and soon the rover parked in front of the warehouse.

The guards hurriedly escorted him underground and no one dared to speak anything.

Inside the dark room the lights were switched immediately Hank set foot in.

The teenage boy tied tightly to a chair with blood dripping from his entire body was awakened with a splash of ice cold water.

He winced at the pain but the moment he saw Hank his entire body shivered.

"Ricardo how could you betray me after extending your mother's life, now tell me who ordered you to give a tip to the cops, came Hank's voice full of fury.

"He wont answer Sir he still refuses to say anything," said Scarfo.

Ricardo was a new recruit in the Terror cartel and he was their best hitman, he always got Hanks orders accomplished within the smallest time possible.

Vigilance and diligence were rooted deep in his blood and Hank loved him for that so when he got a call from Scarfo saying that he was the rat in the group he was utterly outraged and angry to the core.

He had so much trust in him.

Ricardo was scared to the moon but he knew that if he was to tell Hank then the only person he loved would be killed, his mother so he stood his ground and sealed his lips.

"I appreciate your loyalty and toughness too bad you gave it to the wrong people," he sighed and said.

"Scarfo get Mrs. Miller, to the cemetery site."

"Wait no leave my mother out of this Hank please she has nothing to do with all this please Haaaaaaaank," he shouted but they just left him alone in the room and switched off the lights leaving him in the dark once again.

"Sir should we really involve his mother i mean he's right she has nothing to do with all this," Scarfo said sounding abit worried beacuse he knew the pain of watching your mother die in front of you.

"Since when were my decisions up for discussion, just do as I say and get the damn woman and the grave ready because I will be sending her six feet under that's the only way to get Ricardo speaking," he said with no mercy at all.

Scarfo had no option so he ordered his men to get Mrs. Miller his only prayer was that she reached the heavens and not hell.

Being left in the room Ricardo cried his eyes out he should've studied harder at school to become a doctor.

But then how could he become one if all his inheritance was spent on drinking and gambling by his alcoholic uncle.

He only got involved in the drug cartel because he had to get money for his mothers chemo.

No he couldnt watch his mother die because of his stupid mistake so he made up his mind to tell Hank .

The grave was dug and Mrs.Miller who was blindfolded was brought near it.

Hank ordered for Ricardo's presence beacuse he wanted him to watch them burry his mom alive.

Chapter 32 Party preparations.

Seeing his mom on the edge of the grave he called out mom while trying to free himself from the hold of Hanks men.

With Hanks order the men removed the blindfold and she cried at the sight of her son, he was all bruised up she comprehended immediately that her beloved son had gotten himself in all this mess because of her.

That was what she dreaded most and prayed about it day and night it seems the heavens had turned a blind eye to her pleas.

"Please dont hurt my mom i will speak.....i will speak I'll tell you everything just please let her go." He pleaded out voraciously.

"Thats more like it," replied Hank delighted to see the positive outcome of his plan.

"It was Manuel.... he paid me off to infiltrate your group so that i could spy in for him but i never knew he was going to tell the cops about your operations trust me Hank, Ricardo pleaded.

"Hahahahahahahahahahaha i should've guessed it Manuel Santos wow he pulled on a fast one on me this time," he gave out a maniac laugh.

Scarfo and the rest knew that he had lost it he only laughed out like that when he was at the verge of blowing up.

Manuel was the leader of the rival cartel "the Gold reef cartel" they were sworn enemies with the Terror cartel.

He had tried on several different occasions to bring Hank's reign down but Hank was not a simple drug lord but this new move he had to admit was a smart one and it cost him a fortune when the police raided out their meth laboratory.

"Please don't kill my son, you're a parent to, don't you think your sons would do the same thing if they were in his shoes?" asked Mrs. Miller.

"Well true i am a father to 5 most handsome boys but they aren't traitorous like yours Mrs.Miller anyway save your preaching for the angels, Scarfo lower her down," he ordered it out simply as though he was ordering for his lunch.

"No please don't have mercy on my mom please don't Hank no..... mom im sorry .....im sorry mom, mooooooom," Ricardo appealed out to Hank but none of it changed his mind rather it brought him immense joy.

The more he cried and pleaded the harder they buried her deep the scene was truly horrifying.

When they sealed the grave Ricardo couldn't believe he had just watched them bury his mom alive "your monsters you'll all surely go to hell....."

"Ooooh you're really ungrateful Ricardo we just put an end to the pain your mom has been experiencing for 5 years,"he said his voice full of sarcasm.

"I'll make you pay Hank i promise you that," he said through clenched teeth amidst the tears that were coursing down.

"I'm curious to know how you'll do that when you yourself will be joining the devil any time from now..... Scarfo get the diesel," Hank said out playfully laughing out loud.

Watching a mom get burried infront of his son and later burning the son alive was to much for the men to handle.

"Make sure to remember what just happened today because thats the price traitors pay," he warned his men while pointing at them.

Scarfo himself was fretful he had never witnessed this side of Hank and today's scene was to be deeply engrossed in their minds.

Back at the gambling den, Travis won all the gambling games and through it all, Bethany kept her focus on how he played and it was evident that she had learnt as she managed to beat Mr. Hong in the last game.

The next morning at Travis's villa.

"Good morning Travis,"Bethany greeted while seating on the breakfast table.

"Good morning, how was your night? He asked passing her the strawberry jam.

"Ah tough i couldnt get any sleep kept writhing in bed like some sort of fish in the sea.

Just then the door bell rang and a middle-aged woman dressed in an office outfit came in.

"Are you expecting anyone this early?" he asked Travis.

"Yes," was his simple reply before moving to the living room and Bethany was inclined to follow him.

"Mr.Cruz good morning,"The lady bowed down and greeted in a polite tone.

"This must be Miss.Rivera good morning," she said still maintaining her professional tone.

"Morning," she replied looking at Travis with a what's going on look.

Seeing her facial expression the lady introduced herself.

"I'm Isabella Scott the designer Mr.Cruz hired."

"Oh but the party isnt till evening why do i need to prepare so early."

"Well Miss Rivera according to our assessment, we need to get your hair done, a facial, manicure, pedicure plus a massage at the spa."

Bethany was astounded what she had in mind was just getting a nice dress that could suit the party not all this, was life always this hard for the rich, she thought.

"I think you better get going then," Travis said returning back to his breakfast.

She left with Isabella begrudgingly out the door and seeing them drive away Travis chuckled at her expression earlier.

It took the whole morning and most of the afternoon at the spa and she had to admit the massage helped her relax the tense muscles.

With every other thing done the stylist and make-up artists started helping Bethany out with the makeup and clothing.

Wearing the long black dress that Isabella chose Bethany looked like an angel with her curves that could make any one lose control.

Her hair was curled and pinned up revealing her long swan-like refined neck with a few wisps of hair falling down her collar bone added a touch of more beauty in her elegance.

Everyone in the room couldn't take their eyes off her and some thought about asking her out while some of the girls looked at her with envy smouldered in their eyes.

When she saw her reflection in the mirror she was dumfounded at how sinfully beautiful she looked "i didn't know i was this beautiful," she said almost in a whisper but it was loud enough for Isabella to hear.

"Are we heading home to Travis," she asked the driver.

"No ma'am Mr.Cruz asked me to drop you off at the Montenegro mansion," he replied looking at her in the rear view mirror.

"Wait what why i cant go in by my self, Travis must be kidding me."

She wanted to call him but remembered she didnt carry her phone on the way to the spa.

Just then the car parked at a spot and she wondered why the car had stopped all of a sudden.

Chapter 33 The party 1

But then when she was still asking Travis got out of the Lincoln limousine.

He wanted to taunt her but seeing her standing in the that black Glittering Off Shoulder Scrunch Thigh Slit Dress he was left speechless.

He scanned her from top to bottom and he swallowed up hard God he was losing it.

Bethany felt abit uneasy under his gaze but she expected it following the hours it took the team to prepare her.

Titano's tap on the shoulder snapped him out of the stupor.

"Ahem he coughed out, what are you bickering about the last time i checked you went to the massion by yourself," he said holding out his hands and leading her into the limousine.

"That was different."

With the order from Travis Titano drove them off to the party.

"You look stunningly beautiful tonight," Travis complemented.

His words caused her cheeks to turn a bright red and she turned over to the mirror and said "thank you."

It didnt take them long and soon the lights welcomed them at the party.

Seeing her bit her lower lip and rub her palms Travis reached out and slowly grabbed them saying "we can do this okay."

She simply nodded her head and they moved out holding each other hands like a couple.

Even though Bethany was wearing heels, she was just to his shoulders and she could feel his hot breath on her neck.

The two looked elegantly perfect that the crowd wouldn't help but stare at them with utmost awe.

The interior of the mansion was wonderfully decorated from the glassy chandeliers to classy ballons that lined the stairs.

Everyone's dress code depicted a high social class, and no one seemed to settle down as they all moved around talking, toasting and chatting happily.

The precious stones worn by the ladies and the goblet wine glasses held by the men were shining under the lights, the whole vivacious mansion was surrounded by a luxurious atmosphere which fueled the anxiety Bethany was already feeling.

How could she interact with people from that sort of social class.

A few people came in to say hello to Travis those he knew and those he didnt probably came in just to widen their high class status.

Friendship with the wealthy was one of the things that helped you stay on the high platter.

The ladies wouldnt help but envy Bethany for her beauty and the penetrating gaze that the men held disdained her.

"Dont mind them Travis said and could you please calm down and quit looking around anxiously."

"I cant see any of the bastards Travis."

Just then the noisy room was interrupted by a voice

"May i have your attention ladies and gentlemen."

Looking up the stairs it was Hank with his sons besides him, Bethany almost lost it at the sight of the men who raped her but Travis slowly reached out and squeezed her hands accompanying it with an assuring smile which calmed her down abit.

"Im honoured that all of you showed up to the invite, well tonight we'll all be celebrating the return of my youngest son Kyle Montenegro."

The entire room clapped at the announcement "his been out of the country helping out the needy in the far ends of Africa and thats just how kind hearted the Montenegro's are ,we move out of the comfort zone in order to extend a helping hand."

The appaulses surged at his last statements but Kyle wouldnt help but scornfully smile at his dad's acting skills.

Every one returned back to what they were doing after Hank wished them a nice event urging them to enjoy to the brim.

"Hey Roshan who's that beauty next to Travis," Leon asked looking down from the second floor.

"Probably some random chick dont mind them," Raphael shrugged replying him.

"Hold it," Leon handed over his glass wine to Roshan and he scampered down.

If there was anything in this world that distracted him it was the beautiful ladies.

Seeing Leon walk their way, Travis tightened his grip on her waist because she knew, the anger boiling inside her wouldnt permit her to stay calm.

"Travis my man i hope you are enjoying yourself?" He said his gaze hot on Bethany.

As soon as he took a more clear look at how gorgeously beautiful she was, he lost control.

Never in his entire life had he seen someone with such pure beauty before and the curiosity inside him made him ask "is she your girlfriend."

"Pardon my son's rudeness miss, im Hank Montenegro but you can just call me Hank," he said holding her hand and giving it a light kiss.

He knew his son's love for women so no sooner had he moved downstairs towards them, than he followed him.

"Bethany Rivera and its fine its an honour to finally meet the Montenegro's," she said with the most brilliant smile any of them had ever seen.

She continued seeing the questioning look on Leon's face "no im not his girlfriend quite the opposite im his business partner."

Travis flinched at her words, "ah Travis you never mentioned her to us," said Hank.

"Well its because i like to be on a low profile."

"With all this beauty you shouldnt be on a low profile," Leon said.

"Thank you Leon."

"Miss. Rivera since you're business partners with Travis how about you drop by the mansion one of these days so we can discuss some matters of interest."

"Sure I'd really love that and please you can call me Bethany."

"Its settled then ill be expecting you, Travis may i have a word with you, for a second if you dont mind Bethany," said Hank.

"Its okay I'll stick around with Leon," the tone with she spoke worried Travis but nevertheless he went his Hank.

"So my lady let me show you around the massion."

"Before that how comes i dont see your brothers".

"Why are you interested in them aren't i enough."

She smiled and said "its just that since i may get involved in working with you guys in the future dont you think its best if i knew them to."

"You have a point right there."

Chapter 34 The party 2

Holding her by the waist and leading her to his brothers made her feel disgusted she remembered how ferociously lewd he got with her.

Shaking the hands of the men who raped, she felt a sharp pain plunge deep in her heart and the anger boiled at 365 degrees.

"Have we met before?" Kyle asked her.

"Mr. Montenegro its literally my first time in Morado i highly doubt if we've ever met before," Bethany replied.

"Sorry its just that you look familiar anyway im sorry enjoy your evening."

She almost said ofcourse i look familiar because im the girl you raped 6 years ago, but she knew better to keep her cool.

Kyle left but his heart was still behind that he turned one last time just to take a good look at her.

"Dont mind our brother, he's the weirdo in the family," said Rapheal.

"Why do you say so?" She asked.

"Well lets just say he has his own preferences, so how do you like Morado," Liam jumped in.

When it came to Kyle he would always try to cover him from his brother's insults.

"Its good Liam though i havent taken a good look at it."

"I can show you around." Raphael suggested.

"Thanks Raphael but your brother offered already, right Leon."

"I...did ah..Yes.....yeah actually i did."he still sounded unsure because he didnt remember asking her out but thinking about it, he got excited and he tightened his hold around her waist.

She flinched at his touch and almost felt like throwing up "Bethany?" It came more as a question from Travis disrupting her thoughts.

Looking at Leon hold her he felt a sudden urge to go and rip his body apart, he didnt know why he felt so possessive of her all of a sudden.

Thank goodness she said inwardly and slowly got rid of Leons grip "Travis."

"Its nice seeing that you guys finally met but its getting late we really need to get going."

"This early?" Roshan said looking at his watch.

"Yes Roshan," he sounded a little irritated.

"It was a pleasure knowing all of you but i think its good bye for now," Bethany said.

"So how did it go?" Travis asked as soon as they got home noticing the look on her face.

She sat on the chair and said,

"My hunch was right non of them remember me except for Kyle, he thinks i look familiar."

"Luckily enough, they wont find anything on you."

"Oh Travis i really almost lost it how could they be that happy and lead normal lives after what they did to me."

"But im glad you were able to exercise self-control."

"Im meeting up with Leon tomorrow."

"Leon?, i dont think its a good idea to be with him."

Earlier on he felt so jealous when he saw how close Leon held her if he got that despicable in public how much more so in private.

"I have to get close to him Travis, anyway ill see you tomorrow have a good night."

With that she left, Travis was left reminiscing how beautiful she looked today he had never seen her as pure as she tonight he sighed and shut his eyes on the couch.

As soon as she got in her room she took a cold shower because she really needed to calm down.

But nothing could put out the fire burning in her heart she silently slid down the bathroom walls and cried out.

"I'll make each one of you pay dearly i swear to the heavens," she said with clenched teeth and fists.

The next morning Bethany woke up abit more early than the usual and she went jogging, the running and the music in her ears calmed down her tense nerves.

"Where have you been?"asked Travis in a worried tone i tried calling but you were unreachable."

"Sorry i went for some early morning exercise and i wanted no distractions, anyway ill go freshen up excuse me."

After a few moments she came back dressed in a slutty outfit she wore a short with a shoulder length blouse that left her smooth back exposed.

Her luscious thighs were all over the place Travis was left speechless.

"Where do you think your going dressed like that, Bethany.?"

"To Leon he invited me over for breakfast."

"But you cant go dressed like that."

"Travis, Leon's weakness is a woman's body and seduction will always lower down a man's guard."

"I know but we can always look for ....."

Other options, tell me Travis do you have any other brilliant idea, i thought so, Travis i can defend my self trust me nothing will happen im not as vulnerable as i was back then."

"I need to get going ill keep you updated," she said after receiving Leon's call.

Travis remained distraught on the breakfast table "why dont you tell her the main reason as to why you're protective," said Titano once she had left.

"What do you mean."

"Travis you love her its evident in your eyes and you just cant stand seeing her with anyone besides you not forgetting the way you care about her."

"You think so," he asked.

"I know so ive been with you for a long time and i can tell your emotions towards her."

"I guess your right but love is the last thing on her mind, anyway enough with this girly talk and follow her to the massion, dont let her notice you."

Walking into the massion her beauty left them dumbstruck and for a moment Leon almost drooled over his food.

Kyle had never seen anyone this enthralling before "Bethany dear your welcome," Hank said.

"Thank you." She said seating down after greeting them.

"How is Travis doing by the way?"

"His doing fine thanks for asking Mr.Montenegro sorry i mean Hank."

"So how is Axel i hear its a beautiful city," said Raphael.

"It is indeed you should visit it when you get time," she had never even set foot in Axel but thanks to Travis's tutoring she got to know alot following the change of her identity.

Travis was right they indeed did a background check up on her but luckily enough they wont get anything on her.

Travis had everything changed meticulously they even got her fake parents in Axel so all corners were smothered out.

"Bethany you look beautiful for the day," Roshan said sounding more like a question.

"Well i have to since ill be seen with Leon right," she said holding his hands.

Her touch shocked him but it got him leaping with joy inside.

"Yes absolutely speaking of that i think we should get going," he said seeing the look his brothers had in their eyes got him jealous.

He knew they all had not been left themselves after last night's encounter with her.

"But you arent done with breakfast yet," Hank said pointing at their plates.

"Thats okay we planned to eat out anyway," Leon replied.

Seeing the way he got defensive with her irritated and disgusted her at the same time but since she was here with a goal she had to play along and act cool.

Getting into the car Leon had a better look at her body and he couldnt help but steal glances at it from time to time.

Chapter 35 Leon's feelings towards Bethany.

Getting into the car Leon had a better look at her body and he couldnt help but steal glances at it from time to time.

"I advise you to look at the road ahead
Mr.Montenegro i wouldn't want Travis finding me in the hospital," Bethany said with a smirk.

"What's with you and Travis anyway i know you said you're just partners but i can feel there's more to it," he sounded irritated at the thought.

"Why don't tell me you're jealous." She said playfully.

"Should i be honest with you, yes i am."

"Is that the reason you got us storming out the mansion like that?"

"Yes because i like to mark my territory," im sorry if im to straight.

"No, its fine quite the contrary i like it when people are straight with me concerning their intentions."

Hearing her say those words turned him on he knew the ladies couldn't resist his charms not even the angels in the heavens could.

"So does that mean we can go out....."

"Relax Mr.Montenegro we still have a long life ahead of us," she interrupted him.

"Sorry but i have one question why do you adress me differently, i want you to call me Leon."

"Sorry about that," she apologized.

At the hospital Kyle couldnt concentrate on his patients so he took a break and went to meet up with EHUD.

"May i come in?" He knocked on the open door.

"Aah yeah man."

"One of these days you might end up unemployed and on the streets Dr. Hart," he warned playfully.

"Sorry boss," he said putting down his video game and they all laughed out after that.

"How have you been man sorry i missed your party i got abit busy."

"Its okay it wasn't all that fun, anyway i met this lady at the party she's a friend to my dad's business partner i think his name is Travis."

"Yeah and what about her."

"She looks so familiar something in her eyes says I've seen her before, but..... but i just can't place my finger at the exact place or date that's what's bothering me the most EHUD."

"Why don't you have her investigated to clear all your doubts."

"I did and apparently she grew up and lived in Axel," he shoved over the tablet that contained all the info to him.

"Bethany Rivera oh my God Kyle you didn't tell me she was this beautiful, is she single?" He said jumping out of his seat.

"Focus EHUD."

"Who in their right senses would focus after seeing this lily, okay fine he said noticing the serious look on Kyle's face, Axel is technically another country so i highly doubt if you two have ever crossed paths before besides the only time you got out of Morado was for Africa."

"So?" he asked arching a brow.

"So my dear friend its just your darn imagination nothing more back to serious business is she dating."

"How would i know." Kyle shrugged.

"You had her investigated come on man."

"Get back to work?" He said sternly while moving out.

Ehud remained staring at the photos love struck "how stunningly gorgeous," he said.

The day got by quicker than Leon expected but atleast he got to spend the entire day with Bethany.

"Will i see you tomorrow," he said opening the car door.

"It depends, have a good night Leon and thank you for the day," she kissed him lightly on the cheek.

Bethany could see the inflamed lust in his eyes when she did that, as Leon kept holding onto his cheek with a wide grin spread across his lips.

"I was about to call you, how did it go," he said passing her chilled water.

"Thank you, i really need this to wash off the filth."
She wiped her lips hard with the serviette.

"It went well i should say, i think i know the perfect way to destroy them," she smiled.

"How." He asked.

"A war between a father and a son."

"You want Hank to fight Leon ?, and how will you pull it off."

"Love, I'll get Leon to fall in love with me Travis sway him off his dad's side and since his the most trusted and loved of all the sons imagine a fight between Leon and Hank and it won't be just any fight it will be a drug fight a battle for supremacy," a malevolent smirk spread across her face.

Travis knew just how brutal a cartel fight would get especially one of betrayal.

"You need to be careful around Leon."

"I know but pretty soon I'll have him wrapped around my little finger and he'll do anything i want."

"And what of his brothers, Roshan is a very smart guy we need to calculate our steps very well or they will surely send us over to hell."

"I need to learn his weak point so that I'm able to bridle him."

"Dont worry I'm with you through all this and i can give you my word that will surely come out victorious." He reassured her with a soft smile.

"Thank you Travis for everything you've really been my stronghold and i couldnt have reached this far if it wasn't for your help," she spoke out so tenderly while holding his hands gently.

"It's nothing you should get some rest i know the day was long for you."

Closing the door behind she sat down on the bed looked up and said in a whisper "please guide me and give me the strength."

Leon spent the entire night reminiscing how his day went by God he had never felt so many emotions in one day.

"What are you doing to me Bethany," he moved out of bed and said it in a whisper he could still feel her soft lips on his cheek and slowly he started envisaging just how it would feel to kiss those lips.

Emotional attachment was something he lacked with women all he could do was sleep around with them and move on but with Bethany he felt like he wanted her all to himself not just for a day but a life time.

*****

Next morning.

"To what do i owe this call Bethany," Hank asked seeming utterly surprised by the early morning call.

"Well i have a proposal i would like us to discuss over some lunch, that is if your free today."

"Sure meet me at Imperial hotel."Hank said and after a few more talks he ended the call.

"Come in, aah yes Carol how can i help you."

"Sorry ma'am but a gentle man is here to meet you."

"Good morning Bethany," he walked in straight not waiting for her downstairs.

"Leon." She called out in a surprise.

Scanning her curvaceous body in the silk nightware aroused him.

"Leon how did you get in here," she grabbed her robe covering herself.

"Why are you shy all of the sudden Bethany, I'm sorry but i couldnt control myself i kept seeing you in my dreams and room the entire night, the urge to see you was indomitable," he said while trying to get closer to her but she dogged his touch immediately.

"Leon go downstairs and ill see you then okay," she said irritated with a scowl on her face.

THE VIRGIN'S REVENGE

Chapter 36 A soft moan escaped her lips as Travis kissed her.

He left infuriated and begrudgingly, "the nerve", Bethany said under her breath.

Freshening up she headed downstairs looking magnificent.

"I'm sorry, i shouldnt have come into your room without your permission," he apologized sounding like a young boy caught by his parents.

"Its okay Leon i just need you to take it slow with me keeping in mind that im not like those other women and respect my privacy, anyway i think you should join me for breakfast."

The look on his face satisfied her she was getting him exactly where she wanted him to be, her puppet.

"Dad said you'll be meeting up with him in the afternoon may i ask why?"

"Its just business staff no need to get all worked up."

"I can get you a place to stay in."

He suggested thinking of her close to Travis outraged him.

"No need Leon, i got a villa I'll be vacating to this weekend."

Leon left after breakfast and Bethany made preparations to leave for her meeting with Hank at the Imperial hotel.

Closeness to both parties would make it easier to destroy them but Hank was witty she had to be meticulous with her talk and actions.

"I hope i didnt keep you waiting long," she said.

"Not really how are you my dear." He greeted.

After exchanging pleasantries and talking for a while she finally brought up the topic for discussion.

"So i was thinking of venturing into party drugs with you."

"Party drugs."

"Yes, think about it Hank many young people love to have a good time and they'll go to extremes inorder to kill the stress that comes with all the education and all that and what's most lucrative is the available market for it, what do you think."

"Wow that's brilliant i mean I've never really thought about it that way."

"And think about the money you'll be earning kids once high would do everything in their power to experience the ecstasy, all over again" she sipped her glass of wine.

"I should say you're one beauty with brains i undestand why my son is over the heights for you."

She smiled radiantly and said "dont worry about the drugs ill get them shipped in Morado."

"Its settled then, thank you for your precious time Hank or should i say Godfather."

Hank smiled and gave her hands a light kiss "the pleasure is all mine Bethany."

As the months got by she grew more closer to the Montenegro family, she had Leon hopelessly fall in love with her.

Gradually she earned their trust and they viewed her as a potential business partner because she'd always come up with ideas that got them earning millions of dollars.

With her wits the cartel was able to outwit the police raids.

Whenever she'd gamble it was an expected win and its what Hank loved the most about her.

So she earned a name in the drug world, La reina meaning the queen.

Travis' love for her intensified over as the days got by.

"Its time i launched my plan now that i finally have Leon wrapped around my little finger," she said walking away from the window and placing the glass of wine on the table.

"I agree i mean with the trust you've gained from the terror cartel it will be more easier to destroy them now," Travis said.

"And i should say placing Rigo in the group earned us more scores because will be able to monitor all their moves."

"Exactly and what's more is he can be trusted," Travis said getting closer to her by the window.

Seeing the strands of hair in her face, he slowly stretched out his hand and removed them.

"You look beautiful tonight," he said in a deep manly voice and it had an impact on her as she slowly closed her eyes.

For all this while Bethany knew how Travis felt towards her and truth was she felt the same way to but based on what happened in the past, she found it a little bit hard to trust men.

So just as Travis' lips were about to brush on hers she pulled back.

"I've waited for so long to tell you just how i feel Beth." The softness with which he called out her name softened her heart.

"Travis," she called out.

"Yes," he answered.

Seeing that she didn't say a word he leaned in closer and slowly planted a kiss on her neck making her weak in the knees.

Bethany's body went rigid surprised by the heat that blossomed inside of her at the feeling of his lips on her skin.

When he kissed her right under her ear, a soft moan escaped from her lips and she found herself holding his neck out for support causing Travis to move from her neck to her lips, he slowly kissed her but then deepened the kiss.

Suddenly images of that awful night came flooding back in her mind and she retracted from the kiss.

"What's wrong?" Travis asked seeing that Bethany was now crying.

"Please leave," she said.

"Did i hurt you in anyway?" He persistently asked still not understanding why she was crying.

Bethany knew Travis wouldn't understand her frustration at the moment so she decided to leave the room herself.

Travis tried running after her but it was to late as she had got into the taxi all he could do at this moment was watch her go.

"Fuck i messed up," he scolded himself once he remembered just what the Montenegro's did to her.

He immediately pulled out the phone from his pocket and he dialed Stephanie's number after failed attempts on calling Bethany.

"To what do i owe this call Mr. Cruz," Stephanie who was on the other side of the phone asked seeing that it was past 10pm in the night.

Travis explained all that had happened with Bethany to Stephanie and it was after she elucidated the need for a little more patience on his side that Travis cooled down.

THE VIRGIN'S REVENGE

Chapter 37 Bethany agrees to becoming Leon's girlfriend.

When Travis awoke the following morning the first thing that popped up in his mind was Bethany, was she back he asked himself.

Putting on his robe, he headed straight to her room and just as he was about to knock on the door Priscilla said " madam left already Sir."

"Left?" Travis asked sounding surprised.

"Yes she came in at around 6 am and then she left with a few of her things."

Travis didn't wait for her to say anymore words as he walked passed her in a haste.

"Left with a few things does this mean she's leaving me," he asked still not believing Priscilla's words so he dialed up her number and surprising she answered it.

"Thank God, Bethany I'm so sorry about last night i know i went overboard please don't leave me." He apologised in a hurry.

Bethany although not close to him could hear the hurt in his voice so she laughed out "why would i leave you Travis."

Travis still wouldn't comprehend what made her laugh "but Priscilla said you left the villa with.....

"I'm not going any where Travis i just came in to get a few of my clothes because I'm going to the beach house with Leon," she explained.

"Beach house with Leon?" He said arching a brow and holding out his waist.

"Yes i need to convince him to break off from the cartel and i can't achieve that if his still in Morado so i need to seclude him from his family to make it easy for me."

"Oh but does it really have to be that far?" He asked his heart steaming with all the jealousy in the world.

"Mmh," was her reply before the two of them fell in dead silence.

After a while Travis finally broke the silence "about last night i just want to say..."

"Travis, she jumped in cutting him short, we are adults can we just forget about it besides it's all in the past now anyway i have to go now Leon's coming my way," with that she hung up the phone.

Travis threw his hands in disappointment maybe all that he thought and hoped for was all in his mind- that one day she'd grow to love him the same way he loved her he laughed at the thought but it wasn't a happy laugh as sadness was smouldered in it.

But what Travis didn't know was Bethany on the other side of the coin felt the same way but due to what happened she wouldn't be all free with him.

"Sorry my love," she said as a tear rolled down her cheek.

Last night's memories were one of her happiest moment's that she would forever cherish though she found men disdainful, Travis was one of a kind.

She never felt disgusted whenever he got close to her quite the contrary she felt safe.

Touching her neck she could still feel the heat from his kiss his touch was so soft, she felt the urge of experiencing it once more, she didn't know a kiss could affect someone so much.

Suddenly Leon's tap on her shoulder brought her out of the reverie.

"Oh hi Leon."

"Are you alright," he asked seeing that her face had turned a light pink.

"Yes, its just that i was missing you," she said hugging him.

Leon was startled by her move, looks like all his charms have finally melted the ice in her heart.

Looks like it was the perfect time to ask her to be his woman, he thought.

The two toured around the area and the scenery was impeccably beautiful from the interior of the house down to the waves and the caves, it truly soothed

Bethany.

Later in the day when Bethany was in the pool Leon wouldn't help but drool at the sight of her body all this time his eyes were used to seeing her dressed up but now with just the bikini on God he had all these different thoughts rushing in his mind.

This woman was going to be the death of her, Bethany felt disgusted with the look in his eyes but she had to play along she knew she had him right under his spell.

"Do you mind," she said handing him the sun screen.

Leon at once took the golden opportunity to feel her body and it was just as he had envisioned soft and smooth.

At around 11 in the night when Bethany had returned to her cabin, Leon came and knocked on her door.

Opening the door Bethany was surprised on what she saw, it was a face covered with her favourites- wild roses.

"Can i take you some where Miss. Rivera?"

"Leon," she said surprised.

He removed the flowers from his face and said "thought i was in disguise."

She laughed at how childish he sounded but she gave in her hands.

"Where are we going Leon?" She asked after Leon had blindfolded her.

"If i tell you then it ceases to be a surprise."

After they had walked for a while the two finally reached the yacht that Leon had his men prepare.

"Wow...Le....Leon this....is..

"Shush wait for it," Leon whispered in her ears then he at once gave the order and the men played the music it was almost like a serenade only the window was missing.

Tears welled up in her eyes at the sight and a smile crept its way on her lips.

Seeing her tearing he went ahead with his procession once the music and fireworks was done.

"Miss Rivera you don't know just how much joy you have brought in my life and i really want to have you by my side always so will you do me the honour of being my girl," he said softly.

"Yes..yes Leon," she said crying out.

The men on the yacht clapped out in unison as the two hugged out.

"Well done Bethany," she said inwardly with a smile on her

Chapter 38 Leon's jealousy 1.

The next day Bethany freshened up and headed out where she found Leon smiling radiantly at her.

"What's funny Mr.Montenegro?" She asked playfully.

"Ouch, that hurt," his expression caused them to laugh out loud.

"So how was the night my lovely princess?" He crossed the distance between them and placed his hands around her wasp waist, she really hated it when he got close so she made up an excuse to get away from him.

"Good but I'm hungry let's get on with the breakfast, shall we."

As they were having breakfast, Leon received a phone call and looking at the caller id it was Hank his father so he answered it with no delay but a frown creased his face once he got off the phone.

So Bethany was moved to inquire "is everything fine?"

"Yeah."

Chapter 39 Leon's jealousy 2.

Leon found Travis in the hospital cafeteria so he approached him.

Travis noticed the look on his face so he suggested they went for a walk.

"I want you to stay away from Bethany."

Travis smirked at his request which surged the anger that Leon was already feeling.

"What's so funny?"

"Leon man what your asking of me is technically impossible i can't stay away from her....."

"I want you to listen Travis and i want you to do it meticulously Bethany is my woman and i will not let anything get in the way of our love not even you Travis and i know how you feel towards her so back off man and let her be," he warned and walked past him.

Watching Leon leave Travis grimaced with fury and he clenched his fists exposing his white knuckles.

"How's the patient doing?" Kyle asked Bethany.

THE VIRGIN'S REVENGE

Chapter 40 Travis makes love to Bethany.

"Travis hold on," she called out causing him to halt in his footsteps.

"Beth i don't want to hurt you okay the last time i kissed you.....you

"Travis i feel the same way towards you and i know you could never do anything to hurt me okay the last time i just got emotional but i dont want you thinking that i don't love you," she held out his hands.

When he heard her say she felt the same way his heart almost jumped out of his mediastinum.

"You do?" He asked still not believing his ears.

She smiled with tears coursing down "I do Travis, over the years u've given me a whole reason to live and with you i feel like i can get through any situation."
