

The World 301

Chapter 301 - 301 Refused to Accept Several A-Rank Heroes In The Territory [2/3]

“At the same time, order the other three sides to attack immediately and create pressure to disperse the enemy’s forces.”

Even though the treant boss had devoured half of its troops, the enemies still had the absolute advantage in numbers.

This territory was only so big, and the troops couldn’t exceed two thousand.

It still had 10,000 soldiers, and it was rare to have more than four legions.

The anger it had suffered in the hands of the god’s ancient tree now vented on the player’s territory in front of it.

“Massacre the entire city after we topple them down!! Leave no one behind alive!!”

Its cold tone boosted everyone’s morale.

It was how the kobolds always did things. After they plunder the caravan, they would usually slaughter everyone.

Chris knew its actions were very much in line with the character of the god of kobolds.

It had already figured out the kobold god's character after it went through the dark dungeon for so long.

“Yes, Lord!”

The two kobold heroes and a few players who listened to its orders immediately left with their respective troops.

Start the operation.

‘Woohoo!’

Richard looked up after the second battle horn.

In an instant, the mighty troops launched an attack.

The other three directions also sounded along with the horn from the west.

The opponent directly launched a general attack without holding back after a simple test!

Gray led all the bandaged mummies and scorpion warriors in the north, a squadron of sand condensation archers, and dozens of glorious-level undead soldiers of the Axe of the Dead.

Xina led all the wild sand mages in the east, a squadron of sand condensation sand archers, and two of guardian mummies.

Gunter guarded the south side. It was with guardian mummies, two squadrons of rare-level undead soldiers, and all the cursed pharaohs.

The dark gargoyles stood by in the city.

Just like that, they completed the structure of the entire defense system.

There were four walls, and a mighty hero guarded each.

The city wall had a geographical advantage, and the enemy had a numerical advantage.

Therefore, after they activated the battle formation, they directly entered the state of white heat.

Richard was in charge of the west. He faced the enemy's main force.

The pressure they faced was the greatest.

As the main force pressed forward, he waved his hand, and the sand in front of him surged. In an instant, it floated up and formed a set of yellow sand armor on the troop.

Beyond A-rank skill, Sand Condensation Armor.

After they used the skill, the troop's defensive ability significantly increased.

However, he suddenly felt an inexpressible sight of danger.

It was like a giant beast crawled out of the abyss and stared at him. That mighty palate of danger made him break out in cold sweat.

"This aura... The god of kobolds—Kurto!"

The other party had indeed appeared again. No, not yet, but he had also discovered his existence.

Richard immediately focused on his surroundings and pushed his perception to the extreme.

At the same time, he let the unremarkable sand float over the entire battlefield. He sensed the threat that could come at any time.

"Kill!"

"Blasphemers must die!!"

“For the glory of our god!”

Curses continued to mingle in the air.

The opponents attacked the four city walls simultaneously. The scene immediately became chaotic.

On the other hand, the enemies who had no siege weapons but could climb up the city walls immediately pressured Twilight City defenders.

After they paid a certain number of casualties, several kobolds managed to reach the top of the city wall under the attacks of several times more troops than their own.

Two players on the north side watched this scene excitedly. Winning would be arduous if one considers the troop powers. As long as they could break the city wall.

But in the next second, the excitement in their hearts suddenly froze.

Those warriors who carried the giant axes and heavy armor threw their tomahawks violently down the city wall.

‘Crack!’

After the crisp sound, a scene of shattered glass appeared before his eyes.

Then, a terrifying metal storm enveloped an area of thirty meters and instantly wiped out the densely-packed troop.

Dozens of tomahawks created a large of no man's land.

They quickly annihilated the troops that broke into the city walls after they lost the endless stream of reinforcements.

East→.

The guardian mummies on the city walls, the wild mage mummies, immediately cast their spells when the enemies gathered.

'Whoosh!'

Sharp earth spikes shot out on the ground one after another.

The hundreds of sand mummies had turned the ground into a death zone.

They pierced the body through the head from the lower half of the body.

The scene was supremely exaggerated.

The damage caused by mage troops was always particularly significant.

The destructive power of the sand spikes was extremely high, and they were not any weaker than the sand archers on the other city walls.

Xina held the broken steel longsword and looked ahead with a cold gaze.

She saw the two players who gave orders hundreds of meters away.

After the wild sand mages had used most of their magic powers and could not stop several kobolds from rushing up the city wall, her body suddenly bent like a crossbow.

After it stretched her to the limit. 'Bang!'

Her body shot out directly.

She shot from the city wall into the kobold troop like a lightning bolt.

'Whoosh!'

The moment she landed on the ground, her speed increased by 30%.

The broken steel longsword in her hand suddenly ignited with a supremely destructive energy.

As the sound flickered, countless sabers seemed to have slashed all the surrounding kobolds, and their bodies instantly turned into pieces.

She could see a terrifying path paved with broken limbs and fragments when she looked down from the sky. It extended from the city wall.

No kobold could stop this Beyond A-rank hero.

Chapter 302 - 302 Refused to Accept Several A-Rank Heroes In The Territory [3/3]

She was ultimately overbearing.

The two initially at ease players suddenly saw a blood-colored shadow that charged straight at them from the front of the troop and felt instantly frightened.

They immediately ordered the surrounding troops to stop the enemy's attack.

However, how could these rare troops stop a Beyond A-rank hero?

Xina quickly slaughtered her enemies.

It terrified them when they saw this. Their bodies suddenly appeared 50 meters away without hesitation.

But before they could recover from their shock, suddenly...

A sword light with a terrifying killing intent streaked across the sky.

'Puchi!'

Their bodies immediately turned into pieces.

There was no escape.

After that, the soul directly disappeared without a trace. Under the effect of the power of the rules, it entered the god's kingdom of the kobold god. After the hero died, the god they believed in would lead them to their own god's kingdom and become an imperishable holy spirit...

In other words, it would always be free labor.

A kobold hero with B-rank potential roared and wanted to fight back, but in the next second, Xina's steel longsword flashed.

A colossal kobold's head flew into the sky.

The two players' death and the kobold hero immediately threw the surrounding kobold troop into chaos.

The pressure on the city wall suddenly disappeared.

No one would have thought they would clear first the enemies from the east.

Xina's momentum became increasingly fierce. She raised her sword and directly killed in the direction where the enemies gathered...

With the support of all her Beyond A-rank skills, she was invincible unless an immense troop of surrounding troops' longbows surrounded her.

South.

Richard stationed Gunter there.

This powerful main was the main output.

The dark crystal ball could store 5,000 points of mana. It had become a cannon with the addition of its mana.

One corrosive ball after another exploded.

Each time, it would cause a tremendous amount of damage.

What was even more overbearing was its A-rank skill, Corpse Explosion.

This skill, which had no cooldown time, was a nightmare for the enemy on the battlefield.

It targeted every physical body it saw everywhere.

The teammates who charged at it a second ago became gunpowder-filled wooden barrels the next second and exploded with a bang as soon as they fell.

It would be equivalent to having a new target once the explosion killed more enemies.

They could carry out the second round of detonation, and the second round that killed enemies could carry out the third round...

Therefore, while the other directions still tried to kill the enemy, the kobold troop in the south fell into a state of extreme fear.

They didn't even think about getting close to the city wall, let alone attacking it.

It was too terrifying.

It was like they had walked into a corner of certain death as long as they stepped into the area filled with corpses.

Gunter, the blood Lich wrapped in blood-colored bandages, exerted its power to the extreme.

It could have guarded one side of the city wall alone without any flying troops if it weren't for the restriction of magic power.

Overbearing, powerful, and unreasonable.

The most challenging part of the battle was Richard's west side. The sense of danger was always there, like a venomous snake that hid in the dark that watched.

The moment it acted rashly, the other party would launch a fatal blow.

The troop could only rely on their strength to resist the enemy.

Fortunately, their defensive capabilities greatly improved after the Yellow Sand Armor.

Furthermore, it was the defense side, so the geographical advantage was highly distinct.

In addition to the most strapping life-saving skill of the Twilight City–Sand Transformation, it would suppress the enemies even if they managed to attack the city walls.

The troop would immediately activate the Sand Transformation process if they were no match to the enemy.

Then, as if it had activated his peerless power, it began to kill crazily in the crowd.

Chris, the Secret Society president, supervises the battle and watches the city wall as they gradually suppress the enemies. Its face slowly revealed a bright smile.

That's more like it.

How could a player's territory withstand its attack?

It would be a piece of cake to take down this territory even if that powerful boss killed tens of thousands of people.

It was because it had judged its strength and not because it was arrogant.

It didn't come alone. The entire secret meeting was here.

There were also thousands of soldiers in the desert and several B-rank heroes.

If this force were to attack its territory, it could not withstand it.

A kobold messenger with an anxious expression suddenly approached as the situation on the battlefield became distinct.

“Lord Chris, Lord Reed has sent a message...”

“Profit? Has it conquered the north?”

Chris had a smile on its face.

“You’re making good progress.”

The kobold was on the verge of tears.

“My Lord, a powerful A-rank mummy hero guarded the north. Our troops have tried to attack it several times but failed to progress. More than half of our soldiers have already died...”

Disbelief drowned Chris’s face.

“You must be joking... An A-rank hero? How could there be an A-rank hero in this territory?”

The few B-rank heroes it had obtained had been through risking its life. “What kind of mission would the lord have to complete to obtain an A-rank hero?”

Before the kobold could reply, a kobold messenger came in and shouted.

“Lord Chris! The Twilight City stationed a powerful A-rank mage hero in the south! Our troop has suffered heavy losses. I request reinforcements...”

Chris’s face froze.

It gazed at the kobold messenger with an inexpressible deposition.

“A-rank mage hero?”

The other party nodded with certainty.

“That’s right. Its magic power is supremely terrifying. It can make the corpses explode without limit. We can’t even get close to the city wall!”

Just as Chris was about to speak, a third kobold messenger suddenly appeared.

It looked at the other party’s dejected appearance and immediately felt bad.

It asked in a hoarse voice.

“The enemies had stopped the attack from the east?”

The kobold said while its tone sobbed.

“Lord Chris, the enemy has a powerful hero who directly killed our troops from the battlefield front.

“No one can stop the other party... They had murdered the two lords of the Secret Society.”

Chris only felt waves of dizziness.

“This, this was the third A-rank hero?

“Why, why were there so many A-rank heroes in this territory?

“I’m not convinced, I’m not convinced!

“Who was that player?!”

Chapter 303 - 303 God Descended and Devoured Divinity [1/3]

The kobold troop’s battle power was not weak.

They could not withstand a single wave if it were any other player’s territory.

However, it was a pity Chris faced Twilight City.

The owner of this place was Qingqiu, an existence that caused countless players to experience shock and fear.

The A-rank heroes he stationed on the city walls immensely increased Twilight City's defense.

The enemies were mentally unprepared. And they had to deal with Twilight City like with ordinary players.

It was its destiny to be badly injured.

However, one could not see the information about the territory in the attribute panel, so until now, he still didn't know the enemy.

"Lord Chris, what should we do now..."

The few kobolds who received orders were anxious when they saw Chris had not returned to its senses for a long time.

'Hu!'

Chris heaved a sigh of relief and forcefully suppressed the frustration in its heart.

It raised its head and looked at the city wall the kobolds had breached. Its eyes were lifeless.

It didn't matter if the other attacks failed. It would settle everything if they could break into the city.

"Have the troops on the other three sides slow down their attacks and focus on how to contain them..."

As soon as Chris finished speaking, it raised the steel knife.

"Sound the horn! All troops, attack!"

"For the glory of our god!"

Since things had come to this, there had not much room for retreat.

The cost of sinking the desert expedition was too high.

Chris couldn't accept it if it retreated now.

A bit of ruthlessness perched in its heart.

They would attack the city at all costs since there was no other choice.

It could make up for the losses this time as long as it could complete the A-rank mission.

Moreover, Chris did not think the few A-rank heroes on the other side could resist its troops.

'Woohoo!'

The horn sounded for the third time.

The troops that charged immediately accelerated.

The pressure on the west walls of the city increased dramatically. The situation started to get out of control.

When Chris saw this, it clenched its fists and smiled.

Confidence in victory engulfed its heart.

Suddenly, Chris heard a buzzing sound.

"Eh?"

It suddenly had an injudicious feeling.

Chris suddenly turned its head to look in the direction of the sound.

At the end of its sight, under the illumination of the moonlight.

A mass of dark clouds quickly flew over.

“That was... Hornet?”

Its pupils desperately shrank and immediately opened the attribute panel...

[Venomous Wasp]

[Level: Rare 3-stars.]

In an instant.

An inexpressible fear protruded into its heart.

“How could this territory still have such terrifying power?”

Chris was absent-minded at the moment.

“Buzz! Buzz! Buzz!”

Dark clouds in the sky that could cover the moon quickly swooped down with a fierce aura.

It was like a terrifying wave surged.

It deluged everything.

The kobolds that had climbed up the city wall grinned and were about to start a massacre. When they saw this scene, it was like they fell into an ice cellar.

It wasn't even worth it to react to.

'Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!'

The venomous wasps were like arrows. They left afterimages in the air as they streaked past the kobolds.

The 10-centimeter-long tail stinger reflected a dark blue light.

The tail stinger was like the long spear of an aerial knight under high-speed flight.

'Shua!'

A long gash appeared on the kobold's armor's weak points and the skin uncovered by the armor.

Blood spurted out.

When the wounds would turn green in the blink of an eye was extra fatal.

It then spread throughout the kobold's body. It caused the body to stiffen. After it twitched a few times, it fell to the ground and died.

The autumn wind swept the fallen leaves.

No kobold soldier could stand where the dense wasp had swept past.

The scene was supremely visually impactful.

In just a few breaths, they starkly wiped out the kobold troops. These kobolds were about to take down the city wall.

It was a fruitful battle.

It was unforgiving.

After the wasps annihilated the enemy, they continued to sweep the city wall.

The kobolds felt like their liver and guts were about to burst when they witnessed this terrifying scene.

In the face of this enemy called a natural disaster, even if they were loyal to the gods, it still scared their wits.

In the blink of an eye, the favorable situation took a sharp turn for the worse.

The kobold's terrified and pained wails were the only sound that remained in the air. The wasps continued to buzz.

Wherever the wasps passed, they wiped out the kobolds in front of them like water guns.

Chris, who thought about how to kill the A-rank heroes after they attacked Twilight City, was now a little worried.

He looked at the wasps that formed a black cloud and the kobolds' troop that fled in a frenzy.

It numbed half of its body.

Its head buzzed.

Chris was about to go crazy.

“What was going on with these wasps?”

“Was this the troop had the player raised?”

“But how did they have such powerful strength?”

“On what basis?!”

Its determination to conquer the city at all costs.

At this moment, the poisonous wasps directly crushed those descended from the sky.

After the wasps formed a large scale, unless the mage used an area-of-effect spell, the wasps could not survive.

Otherwise, the effect of the kobold’s blade and sword would be pitiful.

“Lord, are we, are we going to retreat?”

The two players beside Chris already panicked.

They no longer had any thoughts of counterattacks. They did not want to die!

Chris was still very unwilling to give up.

“I am not convinced!

The 15 players each led a large team of soldiers. The six troop soldiers gathered in the desert.

Two legions of soldiers had failed to take down a player’s territory...

“I refuse to accept this!”

Richard’s expression did not relax as he watched the venomous wasps slaughter the kobold troops.

Chapter 304 - 304 God Descended and Devoured Divinity [2/3]

Richard could sense the danger that lurked in the dark had not disappeared.

The kobold god was like a venomous snake that waited for an opportunity to strike.

The control ring was already in his hand.

As long as there was the slightest movement, the extraordinary hunter would appear.

However, the development of the situation surprised Richard.

The kobold army annihilated the venomous wasps, which could not counterattack.

But the kobold god still held back...

The uneasiness in its heart grew sturdier.

“What is the other party waiting next?!”

“They had wiped out the enemy, so what does the god of kobolds plans to do?”

Gray in the north summoned the dark gargoyles from the central area after they weakened the kobold's attack. It held up the glorious-level undead soldiers of the six teams.

It led a team deep into the kobold troop and began to kill the enemies.

This mummy hero had powerful Crowd Control skills, and with the sharp attack of the axe of the dead, the kobold troop without air defense was simply meat on the chopping board.

Xina severed the two players in command from the east. The situation immediately collapsed after Xina defeated them.

The lionhearted warrior Xina charged into the crowd with her sword. It caused the kobolds to fall into extreme fear.

The remaining kobolds scattered and fled in all directions not long after and lost the ability to resist.

Gunter in the south cast a spell alone and forced the kobold troop to stay a hundred meters away from the city wall. They could only shoot arrows from a distance.

It was not a threat at all.

The surrounding situation gradually stabilized, and the crisis seemed to end smoothly.

The kobold god's revenge could not affect Twilight City's foundation.

The situation of building a city wall on the west side gradually became pronounced after the attack of the wasps.

When the players saw that the battle had starkly collapsed, they gave up resistance.

They retreated with the troop around.

It was like the war was about end.

Richard's eyes narrowed, and his face grew serious.

He looked up at the sky.

An inexpressible threat came from above.

The next second.

The kobold's corpses on the battlefield suddenly melted into streams of gel-like blood.

It was like a magnet absorbed the blood. Then it turned into rays of blood light that shot into the sky.

It wasn't just the west side. All the corpses outside Twilight City melted simultaneously and rose.

This scene was inexplicably horrifying.

The city residents suddenly discovered that countless blood-colored light rays surged the outside city walls.

They all gathered in the air.

The night sky emitted a scarlet light.

At this moment, everyone's eyes reflected a horrifying scene.

Blood-hued mud suddenly twisted, and a kobold's face appeared after the blood-colored energy gathered.

The other party opened its mouth, and its deep voice contained indefinable rage.

"Lowly ants..."

"I will burn you for a million years! I will make you suffer the most extreme pain in this world... Forever and ever!"

The god of kobolds...

Richard's eyes flashed with surprise.

'So, the troop that attacked Twilight City was just a sacrifice?

'The kobold god had used the corpses of its believers to descend upon the world!'

That was why the kobold troop was so weak... The other party did not expect to break into Twilight City.

An indescribable and terrifying pressure bursts out without restraint after it has formed the kobold god's face.

It was as if a mountain had collapsed at this moment, and thousands of rivers surged violently.

The Twilight City residents felt a mountain pressed down on them, and their souls trembled.

It was not an existence that ordinary people could imagine...

"That was a god!"

Richard's face grew serious.

He could sense that the other party devoured the corpses on the ground to gather strength.

If it were to take form and descend, it would destroy Twilight City instantly.

He gritted his teeth and made up his mind.

'Whoosh!'

A 15-meter-tall broken mechanical puppet appeared on the spot.

It was the extraordinary hunter.

Its aura had become stronger after the restoration.

However, the terrifying pressure still seemed so small compared to the sky.

Gods had already transcended the mortal world and controlled the most ancient source of the world's power of the most rules.

They were so powerful that even the main plane rejected them.

Chris, who was just about to escape, saw this scene in the sky, and an indescribable joy rose in its heart.

It wanted to laugh out loud.

Chris sensed it the moment the aura appeared.

It was the ruler of the dark dungeon, the god of kobolds, Kurto.

The god that it worshipped in the underworld territory.

Its eyes became extremely crazy when it thought of the attack that it had just repulsed and the troops it had destroyed.

Even if the other party had several A-rank heroes, even if the other party hid thousands of rare-level wasps, they were still dead!

'There was no chance of survival when a god attacked!'

However, a vast mechanical puppet appeared when Chris thought.

It shocked the society president.

"What was this?"

Chris opened its attribute panel and glanced, only to see a short message.

[Extraordinary Hunter]

[Level: 20...]

It was like a giant hand clasped its heart.

Chris's breathing immediately stopped.

Level 20, extraordinary hunter...

"Who was that player?"

"How could there be a mechanical puppet of this level?"

Chapter 305 - 305 God Descended and Devoured Divinity [3/3]

However, when Chris saw the mechanical puppet rush into the sky, the blood energy condensed into an enormous face formed from the corpses of nearly ten thousand kobolds.

The jealousy in its heart turned into endless ecstasy.

"Hahaha!"

"You are seeking your death!"

“No matter how strong you are, you can’t pilot a damaged mechanical puppet to face the mighty god!”

Chris could almost see the mechanical puppet’s broken image at this moment.

It felt as comfortable as eating an iced watermelon during the hottest time of July.

It was dangerous, paralyzingly dangerous.

Every cell in Richard’s body was on alert.

Even though he piloted the extraordinary hunter, the fear in his heart grew stronger every time he got closer to the blood-hued mud that condensed in the sky.

He seemed to jump into the mouth of a giant abyss beast.

He was closer to death than ever.

However, he had nowhere to retreat.

Once the condensation formed the blood-hued mud, Twilight City would suffer an unprecedented blow.

The enemy could even wipe the city out.

‘Never underestimate the power of the gods.’

“Ah!!!”

He let out a low growl. The veins on his neck popped out under the terrifying pressure.

Countless grains of sand on the ground surged to isolate the power that devoured. However, the condensed sand suddenly lost control like a kite with its string cut in the next second.

Richard’s heart skipped a beat. He rushed to the front of the rolling blood-hued mud under unprecedented pressure.

The sharper than the knight’s blade of an extraordinary hunter’s two-meter-long claws waved wildly.

‘Puchi!’

A cold glint flickered. The attack pierced through the blood-hued mud. But it immediately returned to ordinary after it rolled.

The sharp claws emitted waves of black smoke as the sludge corroded, on the contrary.

Richard took the brunt of the power. He summoned all from his body to control the hunter to attack.

However, the fierce attack did not damage the blood-hued mud at all. It was no different from the Sand Transformation skill, which had an extremely short and terrifying suppression of physical attacks.

Richard's expression didn't change in the slightest.

Instead, the corners of his mouth revealed a somewhat playful smile.

"Can't be destroyed?"

A dark statue appeared in the space the next second.

After that, the extraordinary hunter grabbed the statue like an ordinary person. It then plunged into the highly corrosive blood-hued mud.

'Shua!'

The sound of water that dripped into a hot pot immediately appeared on its arm.

The blood-hued mud rapidly corroded the mechanical arm.

But at the same time.

Richard could feel it.

The ancient god statue rapidly devoured the energy within in a crazy manner.

The corners of his mouth curved up.

In the land of the broken laws, the ancient god statue had shown its devouring power to items with divinity.

The crimson body of the kobold god might be unsolvable to other people.

It could only watch as the other party descended.

But to him... Wasn't this the best food for the ancient god statue?

The ball of blood-hued mud sensed something was wrong and quickly twisted wildly.

It constantly corroded the transcendent hunter.

At the same time, the ancient god statue also devoured this power at a faster rate.

On the ground, countless physical bodies began to melt and float into the sky.

The two sides were in a deadlock.

The plan was feasible, but Richard needed to be in a better position to face the divine pressure.

That terrifying pressure seemed to want to shatter his soul.

The usage time of the extraordinary hunter began to decrease its speed excessively.

Richard watched as the usage time of the extraordinary hunter decreased rapidly.

He pondered.

Several rare resources appeared in front of him that floated in the air.

After that, the extraordinary hunter began to devour the rare resources in front of the kobold god...

Under such a unique environment, the speed of absorption by the ordinary hunter was more than ten times faster than usual.

Richard was pleasantly surprised.

After that, he frantically took rare resources without hesitation and forcibly replenished the energy of the extraordinary hunter.

On the other hand, the rapid decline of the extraordinary hunter's usage of time slowed down a lot under intense consumption eventually.

It reduced the seven-hour usage time to less than four hours in just two to three minutes.

It was a terrifying consumption.

Chapter 306 - 306 The Terrifying and Devouring Divine Might Awakened [1/3]

“The player blocked it?”

Chris looked at the deadlock in the air. Its eyes widened, and its face was full of disbelief.

“That was a god!”

Even if the kobold god had only sent a wisp of his power, it was enough to suppress everything.

In front of that vast and brilliant divine might, it could feel its legs trembling even from such a long distance, and it almost wanted to turn around and run.

However, the player that controlled the mechanical puppet had forcefully blocked the other party's arrival.

At this moment, Chris felt incredulous.

"How could this player be so powerful?"

"So, could the other party use that mechanical puppet to kill the kobold god?"

"Was this the difference between this player and the top players?"

A sense of powerlessness rose in its heart.

"An A-rank mission, was this the difficulty of an A-rank mission?"

That player had already become a boss and had more than a dozen soldiers, but could still defeat this boss...

The players around were not as pessimistic as Chris. They still had strong confidence in their eyes.

"President Chris, don't worry too much. Lord Kurto will win!"

"That mechanical puppet is on the verge of collapse! How can we stop Lord Kurto's descent?"

“That’s right! It’s just a level 20 mechanical puppet, how can it be compared to a god?”

“You still dare to resist now? Hmph, you’ll definitely suffer an even more tragic blow later!”

Gauges of insult and resentment continued.

“Mortals also wanted to resist the gods?”

“What a dream!”

“It was not something that a player could compete with even if it was a god who could not descend to the main plane!”

“That player must die!”

The dead kobolds’ corpses on the ground still melted. They turned into blood-hued mud that merged into the sky.

The venomous wasp that had just swept through everything was forced to fly 300 meters away from Twilight City after a paralyzing divine might enveloped them.

These rare-level soldiers only felt that their souls were no longer under pressure after they flew so far away.

The divine might almost crushed the venomous wasp's soul the moment it appeared.

That was the pressure the unfamiliar level brought and it was unavoidable.

On the city wall.

All the mummies were like candles in a storm. Their soul fire swayed wildly. It was like the enemy could extinguish them at any time.

The vast troop had lost its battle power.

The might of a god was terrifying.

When the other players realized the broken mechanical puppet blocked the god, the face the kobold god formed using countless kobold's corpses distorted and emitted obscure syllables.

“ام كذبت! اج باری! ای! كذبت! تا! كذبت! كذبت!”

At that moment.

The godly might already be like a landslide multiplied.

Heaven and earth seemed to have dimmed at this moment.

The pressure was like ten million tons of lake water that surged into the sky and then smashed down.

Richard stood at the bottom of the lake and faced the pressure.

The pressure on his heart was far beyond what others could imagine.

It seemed to have shattered his soul at this moment.

The extraordinary hunter's arm had even reached into the twisted, bloody face of the kobold god. That was even more exaggerated.

This wasn't just a direct confrontation, but also a direct physical contact.

'Shua!'

The terrifying corrosiveness caused the extraordinary hunter's arm to rust crazily. It emitted bursts of black smoke.

Under such circumstances, no matter how many rare resources the transcendent hunters consumed to repair themselves, they could not make up for the consumption.

The usage time still decreased rapidly. The cracks on the outer shell became increasingly startling due to excessive energy consumption.

It seemed as if it could shatter at any moment.

But with such a huge investment, the effect was also very obvious.

The dark light the ancient god statue emitted became increasingly intense as it devoured the other party's power without restraint.

It forcefully stopped the kobold god's thoughts from quickly descending.

The face of the kobold god it had just revealed had disappeared without a trace.

In the sky, there was only a twisted mass of blood-hued mud that rolled.

“...ای ک ندیت تا! ک لیک”

The terrifying blasphemy that carried an evil aura reverberated in the surroundings.

It was like a giant hammer that pounded one's heart. It gave off strong pressure.

Those who did not have a firm will would probably fall into boundless fear in an instant.

Divine might surged.

The venomous wasps retreated another hundred meters.

The situation got increasingly intense.

Richard's eyes were bloodshot, and the veins on his neck bulged.

He used his strong will to resist the terrifying pressure.

The divine might would shatter his soul any moment if he showed even the slightest weakness in his heart...

But suddenly, his expression turned extremely grave.

He glanced at his attribute panel ... The something had used up the tens of thousands of units of rare resources that he had accumulated during this period!

It was two hours left before the use of the extraordinary hunter.

He didn't know when it would devour the ancient god statue.

The situation suddenly turned bad.

As he thought, his voice resounded throughout the battlefield.

“Gunter, Xina... Alves, practice your attacks on this lump of blood!

“Gray, bring the dark gargoyle and destroy the corpses on the ground... I'm immediately moved!”

Richard gave the orders.

A few of the heroes who waited for a long time immediately drove the dark gargoyles into the sky.

The other troops could not move under the divine might. But the dark gargoyles were immune to magic and the soul-crushing divine might would not affect them.

Gunter was the first to arrive.

However, it could not get any closer. Its soul fire was about to collapse when it was 50 meters away.

The blood lich could only start to cast spells from a distance since this forced it into a difficult position.

Tons of blood suddenly condensed on the corpse below.

The blood-hued mud in its hand, which contained a strong corrosive power, streaked across the sky.

Chapter 307 - 307 The Terrifying and Devouring Divine Might Awakened [2/3]

'Hu!'

The Ball of Corruption dragged a scarlet flame tail and smashed into the blood-hued mud.

'Bang!'

The Ball of Corruption exploded within it.

It swelled up like a balloon and then disappeared.

However, Richard could feel that part of the energy had disappeared.

"It worked!"

In the next moment, Xina stood behind the dark gargoyle with a steel longsword in her hand and a cold gaze and approached a distance of 30 meters.

However, she had no choice but to stop.

Her body glowed with boundless light as the broken steel longsword in her hand condensed into a vast and majestic power.

'Slash!'

The steel longsword light tore the sky apart.

It directly cut into the blood-red mud.

It twisted again.

It injured her again.

This move seemed to infuriate the god of kobolds.

“ای! ک ندیت تا! ک لمیک”

The demonic blasphemy that exploded in the sky suddenly increased in a clamor.

Richard could only hear the demonic roars of countless abyssal demons in his ears.

The shriek of tens of thousands of people at the same time was enough to destroy the minds of the veteran.

At this moment, 'Hu!'

In the sky, Alves emitted a scarlet light, flapped its broken dragon wings, and flew over.

The dragon hero's throat suddenly lit up with a scarlet glow.

The next moment...

'Hu!'

The Beyond A-rank dragon's breath left a 30-meter-long trail of scarlet flames in the air.

The dragon's breath, which was also highly corrosive, enveloped the other half of the blood-hued mud.

"Hiss!" The two energies collided with a violent sound.

Bubbles appeared on the surface of the blood-hued mud as if burning divine power condensed this strange object.

Ceaseless attacks from two A-rank and one Beyond A-rank hero substantially reduced Richard's pressure.

On the ground, Gray led the heavy sword warriors and dark gargoyles, unaffected by the divine might, and began to destroy the corpses.

However, they soon realized whether they chopped up or buried the blood-hued mud in the desert, they could not stop it from devouring the sky.

After Gray thought for a while, it had the dark gargoyle throw the corpse hundreds of meters away to interrupt the enemy's fatal blow.

The ancient god statue devoured the inside. The three heroes attacked the outside, and Gray destroyed the corpses below. The three sides exerted their strength.

It immediately reduced the speed at which the blood-hued mud gathered its power.

As for the targeted kobold god, it felt unprecedented anger at this moment.

"How could these lowly ants humiliate the gods!"

What attacked it now was nothing more than a bug to the kobold god.

It could destroy with a wave of its hand.

But this was the main plane!

He couldn't even unleash a hundredth or a thousandth of its strength.

How aggrieved was this?

Especially after it felt the statue in its body that devoured its power. It shocked and angered the kobold god even more.

An ancient god item.

'This damned lowly life secretly hides an ancient god item...'

The body injected with divine power rapidly declined.

"Bitch!!"

However, no matter how furious it was, it had no way to vent.

It enraged the kobold god!

'Shua!'

The pressure that weighed down Richard's heart mounted.

It had reduced the usage time of the extraordinary hunter to half an hour.

Without the rare resources as a thick shield, the energy consumption at an encounter with a god was too terrifying!

He did not have much time left.

He looked at the ancient divine statue in the blood-hued mud.

Its divine soul was still in a deep sleep during the induction and showed no signs of awakening. Even facing a god could not wake it up...

His eyes gradually became firm as he decided in his heart.

This soul that contained boundless power was his last resort.

If things didn't go well, he would directly awaken the god's soul in the transformation.

As the master of the ancient god statue, he could control everything about it. To incite it was just a matter of thought.

However, that would impact the soul of a god, and it might even affect one's potential.

He would not use this overbearing trump card unless he had no other choice.

However, Twilight City was his foundation, and he would never allow the kobold god to descend, no matter how high the price was.

If the enemies destroyed the foundation, everything would be over.

Fifteen minutes, 13 minutes, 12 minutes...

Richard watched the energy contained in the extraordinary hunter's body drop to freezing point.

The current damage was even more severe than when he had obtained it.

It could have crumbled long ago if it weren't for the repair that used tons of mithril and rare resources obtained from the underground world.

But at this moment, it had reached the limit...

“I can’t wait any longer.

“Even if the encounter devoured more than half of the blood-hued mud, the kobold god could still descend, cast a divine spell, and could wipe out Twilight City.

Richard made up his mind.

He never held any hopes of luck.

He had a thought.

The sleeping god’s soul slowly released an aura.

It released an aura of darkness, desolation, and death.

It was an indescribable aura as if everything was about to disappear...

At that moment.

The divine might of the kobold god, which suppressed everything, now had an extra rival.

It sensed the terrifying aura.

The terrifying incantation that constantly echoed in its mouth suddenly disappeared, and a voice filled with extreme fear exploded.

“Old, ancient god statue?! Do those remaining lowly forms still exist in this world?!”

“Damned bastard! Do you know what you’ve done?”

The moment its voice fell...

The dark light of the ancient god statue instantly expanded as if it had transformed into a black hole.

In the blink of an eye.

The power of the ancient god statue swallowed the blood-hued mud in the sky.

The terrifying divine energy disappeared like it never existed. In its place was a new lonely, dark place.

Although it did not have the might of the gods like a tidal wave, it made people feel more fear.

Chapter 308 - 308 The Terrifying and Devouring Divine Might Awakened [3/3]

When Richard saw this scene, his face was solemn.

The extraordinary hunter disappeared, and he appeared in mid-air.

With a wave of his hand, the ancient god statue fell into his hand.

When he sensed it carefully, the divine soul was like a volcano about to erupt.

The energy inside was extremely violent.

Richard thought.

The aura wrapped the ancient god statue. It soothed its closed eyes.

After a while, the power that was about to explode dimmed again.

The divine soul continued to sleep.

Richard let out a sigh of relief.

Fortunately, it didn't wake up starkly. Otherwise, who knew the effects it would have if this interrupted the transformation?

When he looked up at the sky, he could no longer feel the threat, and his tense heart suddenly relaxed.

At that moment, the system notification suddenly rang.

[Ding~ The divine soul sleeping in the ancient god statue has swallowed five drops of divine power and one drop of divine energy. Its strength has immensely increased and will wake up in 3 weeks.]

Richard smiled when he heard the system notification.

'This kobold god was still willing to f*cking enter the dungeon.

'Five drops of divine power, one drop of divine energy... It didn't seem to be a loss.

'It would wake up after three weeks.'

The divine sleeping soul was finally about to be born.

A strong sense of anticipation rose in Richard's heart.

Divine soul. He had fed it a drop of divine power along the way and had also swallowed twelve crystals that contained the power of the natural order. The hollow crystal ball still slept with it in the statue.

He wondered what level of battle power it would deliver.

A divine soul would not die as long as nothing and no one destroys the ancient god statue.

He felt a strong sense of excitement when he thought of this characteristic.

He took a few deep breaths to suppress his emotions, and then he thought of what the kobold god had always mentioned... An ancient god item.

And the awakening of the divine soul made the evil god even more afraid.

It made him fall into deep thought.

Ancient god statue... What kind of existence was it?

He lowered his head to look at the ancient god statue.

An item left behind by an ancient god could trigger such a vast reaction from a god.

What did it hide behind this?

When the divine soul emitted its aura, the fear the kobold god showed was genuine.

As a god, what was the other party afraid of?

As his mind turned, he remembered this matter in his heart.

Richard turned to look at the players after he set the statue aside.

In his perception, he could only sense that the spatial energy was somewhat chaotic.

The few players had already disappeared without a trace.

In the dark dungeon.

Chris looked at the familiar environment in front of it. It was still in shock.

The president was confident it would defeat the enemies. He never thought that this expedition would end in such a sorry state.

A troop of 20000 people.

It was gone just like that!

They were the only ones left...

“Secret Society President, who is that player? Why does he have such a powerful strength?” A player from the secret society roared with a strong sense of unwillingness.

“I’ll admit that our troop can’t beat them! They were strong and had A-rank heroes, but what right did he have to fight against a god? On what basis?”

It was something that no one could figure out.

The failure of the troop was understandable. After all, the other party was indeed strong enough.

However, a deity was the god of the kobolds, the ruler of the dark dungeon. To them, that was an existence at the pinnacle of the great Dao.

However, the player in front of them defeated the god they had never thought would fail.

The fear in the kobold god’s voice puzzled them.

“How could the other party be so powerful to this extent?”

“Who was he? Even for the famous Qingqiu players, the boss-level player couldn’t be this powerful, right?”

Chris's expression showed enthusiasm as it looked at several people's unwilling expressions.

"How willing could they be?"

It had initially thought it could complete the A-rank mission. It had even fantasized about what kind of reward the kobold god would give Chris.

But in the end, this happened.

"How willing could I be?"

"Remember, this player's territory. I will step on it in the future!"

Chapter 309 - 309 No Right to Move Twilight City [1/2]

It ended.

When Richard saw no more kobolds in the field, he suddenly relaxed.

If it weren't because they didn't want it, who would be willing to face the pressure of the gods?

At this moment, the lunar surface that covered half of the moon in the sky just left.

The pure white moon appeared high in the sky.

From Twilight City...

The millstone-sized moon was just behind Richard's head.

At this moment, the moon was above his head, and he stepped into the void.

The bright moonlight shone down and covered him with a layer of silver armor. It made his temperament even more extraordinary.

In the dark houses of Twilight City, various residents held onto the windowsills tightly and tried to stick their bodies out.

It was like this was the only way to see it more clearly.

At that moment, they stared at the standing figure in the air.

Striking dignity filled his eyes.

"We defeated the gods..."

There was an undefinable excitement in his heart.

When a power formed the blood-hued mud, the figure seated at the high altar appeared in everyone's mind—Kurto, the god of kobolds.

The god's name resounded in their minds along with an evil blasphemy.

It was as if it wanted to enslave and oppress them.

Countless people felt an irresistible fear that almost suffocated them.

But now, they had won the final victory.

The hero of all this was their lord, their ruler, the only master of this territory.

The other party had shattered the image the kobold god had left in their minds with absolute power.

Even if someone were to say Richard was a god, most people would believe it.

At this moment of their victory, a large margin raised Richard's prestige once again.

Richard heard the system notification ring in his ear just as everyone was shocked.

[Ding~ Your mortal body repelled the descent of the kobold god. You have received one point of the mythos.]

[Ding~ You have forcefully defeated a god in front of the residents. It has immensely increased personal charm and upgraded leadership skills into elite-level.]

[Leadership Skill: Special skill, elite. You have a mighty personal charm. At the same time, your attractiveness to the opposite sex has increased. You can easily persuade and influence your subordinates and make them have a strong trust in you. At the same time, there is a certain chance to make troops and heroes in the wild take the initiative to join you.]

Richard blinked.

“This works too?”

He quickly opened the notification.

The first one was that his glorious-level had increased by one point ...

His current mythos was one (It would increase to three in the underground world).

The attributes haven't changed much.

Richard's face broke into a smile.

Geographical restrictions did not limit the glorious points he could obtain by clicking the kobold god like the points obtained before. Instead, they were universal.

What was more interesting was that going to the underground world could add two points to the underground world's glorious level.

This attribute seemed a room for development.

In the future, when it was piled high, he could wave his hand and have his underlings kowtow to him.

In a good mood, he looked at the second message.

It has upgraded his leadership skills from ordinary to elite.

Although the increase in attributes was not a qualitative change, it was still not bad, especially one point... Increased attractiveness to the opposite sex.

It seemed a lot of fun.

Richard was in high spirits after he glanced at it a few times.

Was he going to turn into a walking aphrodisiac in the future?

But then again, why would leadership skills attract the opposite sex?

He touched his chin.

“The nature of intelligent life is to worship the strong. And those with strong leadership often have a higher status in the tribe... If you think about it this way, it makes sense.”

As he shook his head, he didn't think much about it. He looked at the other additional feature—it could attract troops and heroes to join.

Previously, it could only attract troops in the wild, but after he leveled up, it could now the heroes.

This characteristic was also quite in line with his appetite.

However, the problem was that the effect of the low-level leadership skill was too weak.

He had not seen any soldiers take the initiative to join him in such a long time.

Moreover, this attribute coincided with the unique characteristic of glorious level—the ones that could attract heroes to join.

“I wonder if I can have the effect of one plus one being greater than two when I add two attributes together?”

Richard shook his head. Only time will tell.

In the future, he will increase his level and try again.

He didn't bother about anything else. After he collected his thoughts, he prepared to land.

When he turned around, he suddenly saw countless city residents stood by the window. They looked at him with burning eyes.

The emotions in his eyes could almost light up charcoal.

All the residents had witnessed the battle.

It moved Richard.

He said in a clear voice.

“Citizens of Twilight City.”

“Just now, we defeated a powerful evil god—the kobold god, the descent of Kurto!

“The enemy wants to destroy everything we have!

“But I’m still in Twilight City, and it’s not up to a kobold god to interfere!

“Tonight, victory still belongs to us, Twilight City, and everyone!

“No one can hurt our city. No one!”

As he spoke, his tone suddenly rose.

“Long live the Twilight City!”

His simple yet provocative words instantly caused a vast reaction in such a hot atmosphere.

The dry gunpowder ignited at this moment.

The city residents were immersed in the excitement and let out hysterical shouts at this moment.

It was crazy and passionate.

“Long live the Twilight City!!

“Long live the Twilight City!”

Honor and praises continued...

At this moment, everyone wanted to suppress the fear in their hearts and let out excitement.

Chapter 310 - 310 No Right to Move Twilight City [2/2]

His voice was like a tremendous wave that swept the world, deafening.

The Twilight City walls shook.

Victory would always be the only magic weapon to unite everyone.

The victory of repelling the invaders was even sweeter and more refreshing.

Pride shrouded everyone’s eyes.

Their overlord had defeated a god in front of their eyes!

That was a god. An invincible god!

Richard felt honored.

He slowly landed on the city wall amidst the cheers.

He turned his head and saw a few heroes who had just made considerable contributions land beside him simultaneously.

Gunter, Gray, Hina, and Alves, the dragon hero, stood on the city wall. It made it seem like the city wall was very low.

After Xina got closer and saw the handsome figure in front of her, her expression suddenly became slightly subtle.

For some reason, she felt that Richard gave off a strange aura.

His charm was off the charts.

A magnet seemed to attract her eyes, and she was reluctant to look away.

Her heart beat faster for some reason.

'My Lord...'

Richard didn't pay attention to anything else. He looked at Gray first.

“Have you calculated the casualties?”

Gray nodded.

“Not yet. Please wait for a moment.”

He then added.

“We have the geographical advantage of the city wall. Without heavy siege weapons, the damage to us is not great. You don’t have to worry.”

Although the kobolds could climb walls, they didn’t bring siege weapons like catapults and ballistae.

In a regular war, these heavy weapons would often cause tremendous damage. It was not that they were useless just because they could climb over the city wall.

However, it was not surprising they did not carry heavy weapons since the players led this troop.

Richard nodded. His mood enlivened.

Then, he seemed to have thought of something and continued.

“Have you noticed the Lord of Divine Grace’s existence?”

The other mummy heroes shook their heads. The battlefield was chaotic. If they did not pay extra attention, they would not care if the enemy was a lord of divine grace.

They only cared about whether they could slaughter or not.

Xina took a step forward and said.

“I saw the aura of the two heroes is somewhat similar to yours...”

It humored Richard’s interest.

“Where are they?”

“The head I chopped off might have already turned into a pool of blood...”

Richard’s mouth twitched.

“It’s fine.

“Each of you will lead a group of dark gargoyles and skeleton blood dragons to the surrounding desert to clean up the escaped kobolds.”

After a few left.

Richard looked at the surrounding troops who cleaned up the damage. He seemed to have thought of something, and his body glowed.

The sand immediately floated up and wrapped around him as he flew directly above the agricultural area.

When he looked down, the Russian olive forest was still green after peasants picked from them.

The sand veins further away harvested ears of barley, and the breeze stirred up waves of wheat.

Richard heaved a sigh of relief.

Fortunately, the kobold troop did not damage the agricultural area while they besieged the city.

However, he was not consistently in a good mood.

“This time, the enemy did not attack the agricultural area, but next time? What about the next time?”

“Could we always count on the enemy to ignore the agricultural area in the future?”

“This was nonsense.

“But how do we protect the agricultural area?”

Richard’s head began to throb.

If there was more quicksand, it could seal the surrounding area.

However, how could he obtain such a treasure so quickly?

And even if the land of quicksand surrounded them, what if they encountered air force? What about an enemy unafraid of quicksand? It was still in vain.

Richard felt helpless while he thought of this.

This agricultural area, which he had spent a lot of effort to build, had now become a worry for him.

“Buzz! Buzz! Buzz!”

The sound of flapping wings interrupted his thoughts.

He turned around and saw the wasps that had just slaughtered the kobold troop flew back to the god's ancient tree from the horizon.

When Richard saw this scene, he couldn't help but feel a little pity.

The kobolds who had attacked Twilight City had suffered heavy casualties, but the kobold god destroyed the corpses.

From now on, the kobold god would fight to the death with Twilight City.

The future would not be peaceful even if they survived this wave.

Richard made up his mind while he thought of this.

"Kobold god, you just wait. One day, I'll smash your dog-head."

Onyx looked at Solan City in the distance and was very excited.

He turned his head to look at the burly Jonah Thorin beside him and loudly said,

“Jonah, the president will reward us handsomely when we return this time!!”

When Jonah Thorin heard this, he turned his head and glanced at him. He let out a long sigh and did not speak.

This time, he brought his daughter back to Twilight City so that she could break through and become a remarkable blacksmith in Solan City.

But he didn't expect so many things to happen.

The territory he thought was weak and bearable had such great potential.

It also helped Adele advance to special-level blacksmith...

‘That human Overlord was extraordinary.’

Although he had lost all his face this time, he was still quite pleased.

As long as there were no accidents, the activated Thorin bloodline was enough to give Adele a lifespan of hundreds of years.

“You can go by yourself. I'm going back to forge weapons.

“Adele has already become a special blacksmith. I can’t be surpassed by her!”

Onyx laughed heartily. This time, Richard controlled this big barbarian, which made him very happy.

He waved his hand and didn’t think much of it. He was just looking for someone to share the joy in his heart.

After they entered Solan City, Onyx excitedly returned to the Phoenix-Tail Flower Chamber of Commerce as fast as he could.

He got off the carriage and ran straight to the main hall.

As they approached the door, they couldn’t suppress the excitement in their hearts and shouted as they walked.

“President, President! I’ve returned from the desert. I brought back 200 units of Desert Crown Honey!

“In addition, I also obtained a special treasure...A yellow sand crown robe! It can automatically adjust the temperature...”

Onyx entered the main hall of the Phoenix-Tail Flower Chamber of Commerce with excitement.

But just as he stepped through the door, the voice suddenly stopped.

A long table in the center of the vast hall and two beautiful figures sat opposite each other.

On the left was a 26-or 27-year-old lady. She had an alluring face, but there was a bit of dignity between her brows.

She wore a purple noble evening dress with blooming roses embroidered on it. It was extremely luxurious.

On his right was a young girl in her early 20s. Her eyes were bright. It was like stars shone on them.

She wore a silver crown and had a graceful and elegant temperament.

The two enjoyed black tea while the maids served them.

At this moment, they all turned their heads to look at the door.

Onyx was shocked when he saw this and immediately saluted with his hand on his chest.

“Good day, Chairman Windsor.”

As he spoke, he immediately placed his hands on his chest and bowed to the girl with the crown on her head.

“Your Highness, Onyx sends you his highest regards.”

The lady in the purple evening gown looked at the travel-worn Onyx with a smile.

She didn’t mind his rudeness and said softly, “Onyx, how much Desert Crown Honey did you say you brought back?”

“200 units!”

Onyx immediately responded.

“Also another unique product of Twilight City—a treasure that can adjust body temperature, a Crown Robe...

When she heard this, the eyes of the girl with the crown lit up.

“Sister Vanessa, is the Desert Crown Honey the one you gave us last time?”

Windsor, the president of the Phoenix-Tail Flower Chamber of Commerce and a lady in a purple evening gown, nodded slowly.

“It’s the same honey as last time.”

After she answered, she seemed to have thought of something and asked Onyx.

“The sandstorm half a month ago was so violent. Did anything happen to Twilight City?”

It was a small territory in the desert, and she would not even take a second look at it on ordinary days.

However, the city’s Desert Crown Honey was outstanding, and she remembered it in her heart.

The interest in the eyes of the girl with the crown grew even mightier.

“Sister Windsor, is that territory in the desert?”

“That’s right, and...and extremely weak.”

Windsor said thoughtfully.

“The Desert Crown Honey is extremely valuable. If the other party’s territory is too weak, we can invest in them and let them move to Solan City.”

Onyx’s expression turned serious when he heard this, and he immediately spoke.

“No, President Windsor, with the city’s potential, I don’t think we have the right to move Twilight City...
