

The World 751

Chapter 751 - 751 The Final Battle Begins, Blood and Flesh Splattered [1/3]

“Are we going to attack the spider temple directly? Aren’t we going to make any other preparations?”

“What else can we do? Didn’t Boss Qingqiu say that the spider troop gathered? If we delay any longer, we wouldn’t have to fight anymore. You can stay in the Tower race’s holy land if you don’t want to go!”

“Stay here? Motherf*cker, are you waiting to die? Giving life to others was not something that Old Wang should do!”

“Dawei, that coward, actually doesn’t dare to follow. Hehe, does he think that he’s safe here? He couldn’t counterattack if he encountered an emergency if the enemies followed him. He couldn’t know a chance to escape if he stayed here. He could only wait for death! I wonder how he survived after being in the “Shining Era” for so long.”

The players watched the figure on the ground that gradually shrank and heard the whistling air currents. They rode behind the skeleton blood dragon. They felt nervous, excited, and uneasy. All sorts of emotions surged in their hearts.

The final battle had begun.

Qingqiu returned from the outside world two hours ago. He immediately summoned the leader of the Tower race for a discussion.

The Tower race patriarch opened the armory afterward. It allowed them to choose any weapons and equipment that suited them.

Of course, one must be willing to attack the spider temple. That was the prerequisite!

Everyone prepared for two hours. The underage cubs of the Tower race joined the preparation. Everyone set off in the night.

That would be the last battle.

No one expected that this scene would come so quickly.

The players could not conceal their fear and nervousness as they faced the terrifying spider troop and the temple. Transcendents even guarded it.

There would be no chance for revival and resurrection if they died. That is the rule in the instance dungeon.

They thought of this and looked at the leading figure.

The existence shrouded in yellow sand made their fearful hearts sparingly eased.

They also had their trump card, Qingqiu!

This strongest player reflects enormous confidence no matter how mighty the enemy could be.

That was the result of countless glories and honors.

“Father, you can’t abandon me this time. I want to fight with you!”

The little centaur held Richard’s arm tightly and stared into his eyes with some stubbornness. She rode Alves’s back.

She prepared to cry if Richard declined her.

Richard smiled.

He reached out and pinched her delicate little face.

“No one can escape this battle.”

The power of the spider temple rapidly increased. Twilight City troops had to launch a general attack at the fastest speed. They could not afford to delay.

The urgency of racing against time pressed down on Richard’s heart.

The little centaur smiled and waved her little fist before him.

“I won’t run away! Father, I will kill all the monsters on your way!”

Richard thought Emily childishly acted. He didn’t notice the grave look in her eyes.

The god of deception beside him watched this scene. His wrinkled face revealed imperceptible envy.

Heavy memories engulfed his eyes.

He thought of something beautiful. The corners of his mouth curled up sparingly

He sighed afterward.

Perhaps, he would have created a divine descendant family if her daughter was still alive.

Unfortunately, in this world, the most useless thing was if.

He shook his head, suppressed the thoughts in his heart, and regained clarity in his eyes.

“Lord Richard, the planar power blessed the Tower race.”

“Perhaps we can make use of it.”

Richard turned his head when he heard this. He looked straight at the old god's remnant soul.

"I know that the planar power favored the Tower Clan. But how can we make use of it?"

The fact that the spider troop couldn't enter the Tower race's holy land was the best explanation.

However, the planar power was something one couldn't see or touch. Moreover, it only had the plainest instincts and couldn't have specific intelligence.

It was easy to use them.

The god of deception said in a deep voice.

"The patriarch of the Tower race has the most blessings. He can communicate with the planar power and let it help us at the most critical moment."

"I asked Popov, but he didn't know about this."

Although Popov was the clan leader, they had passed on the legacy of the Tower race. The remaining few cats and kittens simply couldn't carry the banner.

"I know a secret language that can communicate with the planar power."

Richard's eyes lit up.

Yellow sand surged and enveloped the god of deception with a wave of his hand.

"Your Excellency Tai Long, sorry to trouble you."

The god of deception shook his head with a bitter smile and did not say anything else.

He allowed Richard to send him down with sand.

Popov Black Tower, the level 19 Tower race's leader, and Kratos, the Dark Soul Eater, rode on the god's ancient tree to speed up.

The god's ancient tree held these two dark forces. That was a piece of cake for Treebeard.

The god of deception landed not long after. Richard watched the battle closely below. He heard Popov speak an obscure spell.

His body emitted remarkable energy fluctuations at the same time.

A figure following a spell grew increasingly vast that surrounded space fluctuations. It was like it responded to a call.

This process lasted for two to three minutes before it gradually calmed down.

Popov could see the joy on its face when it opened its eyes again.

'Did it succeed?'

The god of deception signaled, and Richard brought him back behind Arveis.

The sand dispersed, and the god of deception smiled.

Chapter 752 - 752 The Final Battle Begins, Blood and Flesh Splattered [2/3]

"Lord Richard, the patriarch succeeded. The leader of the Tower race has communicated with the planar power."

Richard was intrigued.

"How much help can the planar power give us?"

These words made the god of deception less excited.

He took a deep breath and said.

“The planar power is already on the verge of collapse. It can only last for three days at most, according to the feedback that Popov had received.

“My power has already weakened to the freezing point.

“The help it can give us would be sparingly...It couldn't be satisfactory.

“At most, I can stop Lolita's descent at the critical moment...However, the time it could block would be limited.”

“It had awakened the plane. But the planar power could not protect itself. It would be unlikely to expect the planar power to give it too much support.

Richard shook his head. It wasn't a disappointment. He expected this to happen.

To weaken Lolita for some time was an ancillary reward.

He waved his hand.

“Speed up the march!”

They did not wait for anyone. Three days. The planar power could still hold on for another three days. It could have died without knowing how if it had chosen to drag this out.

Nightmare Difficulty Instance Dungeon.

Nothing was easy.

The troops advanced quickly in the endless darkness.

The usually talkative players gradually quieted down. It was like they sensed a war was about to arrive.

Everyone could only hear their own breathing, and the flight caused the sound of the airflow.

Time has passed quickly in the silent atmosphere.

The entire sky gradually brightened when the first ray of light appeared at the end of one's line of sight.

Richard raised his right hand, and the Twilight City troop suddenly stopped mid-air as if someone had pressed a pause button.

They carried out orders and rules.

A figure appeared on the dark brown gravel ground at the end of his sight.

A vast spider temple stood between heaven and earth.

They built the temple in the image of the spider goddess in the bottomless abyss that made countless high-level demons tremble. That was what was amazing.

They had half-elven upper bodies and half-abyssal-spider lower bodies with eight limbs.

It was more than 50 meters high, and it was extremely oppressive. The combination of holiness and evil gave people a strong visual impact.

Thick black clouds rolled above the spider temple.

In the void, giant spiders wove a web that glowed with a dark green light.

Layers upon layers of spider webs covered the entire sky.

At a glance, it was as if the temple was an ancient evil creature that nurtured the abyss demon god.

The spiders were the descendants of the temple.

Although they were far away, The spiders before them immediately discovered the vast troop of Twilight City.

Roars sounded out as the spider web in the air began to crawl.

High alert.

The enemy could discover all the unfamiliar units within 10 kilometers of the spider temple, even if they were invisible.

They still obtained information, although the transcended-level wax demon blocked the investigation the other night. Richard's eyes sharpened.

He waved his hand and continued to lead the troop forward.

The larger the scale of the battle, the more it was a contest of strength. It was still a test of the sharpest saber, although schemes and strategies were helpful!

The yellow sand shrouded-troop gradually approached the spider temple.

The spiders shaped the temple in a spider goddess entrenched on the flat ground and became increasingly remarkable.

Richard looked at the distant temple and the void weaver in the sky. He could not help but sigh as the sky gradually rioted.

Richard took a deep breath and ordered.

“Beat the war drums!”

The moment he finished speaking.

‘Dong! Dong! Dong!’

A heavy drumbeat sounded from behind, and everyone felt a surge of hot blood rush to their hearts.

Battle intent surged.

The players turned their heads and saw young Tower race members that rode on the back of the skeleton blood dragons. They waved the drum hammer with all their might.

The drum sounded, and their veins popped out and squirmed like snakes.

Richard’s high-pitched voice echoed in the troop’s ears when he saw the buff that increased his attributes.

“Skeleton blood dragon! Release all the players and Tower warriors.”

“Alves! Lead the skeleton blood dragon! Stone statue of the dead and sandstorm controller! Attack from the sky!

“I need you to occupy the sky!

“Emily, Popov! Lead the ground troops and charge!

“Kratos! Activate the power of the Tower race’s heroic spirit and delay the attack of the transcended wax demon!!

“Players! Fight fiercely and freely!!

“Your Excellency Tai Long! Follow me into the spider temple.”

He turned and looked around afterward.

His tone became sonorous and majestic.

“Remember, this is our last battle! Death!

“Glory and victory belong to us!

“Raise the saber! Raise the pike! Pull the bow!!”

“Attack!”

‘Wuuuuu!’

A horn sounded.

A troop had reached its momentum peak. It charged at the spider temple at the end of sight like a recently-released tiger from its cage.

No one focused on the number of guards that protected the spider temple.

That was no longer unnecessary. The players needed to charge toward where the rules pointed out.

The spider troop felt the enemy look down on them when they suddenly appeared and attacked.

The roars sounded like the roars of the demons from the abyss. Ear-piercing sounds filled the sky that sent chills down people’s spines.

The void weaver in the sky charged straight at the enemies. The sandstorms engulfed the enemies.

‘Puchi!’

Poisonous and sticky spider webs shot out from the wall. They pierced through the sandstorm and bound the stone statues inside.

Chapter 753 - 753 The Final Battle Begins, Blood and Flesh Splattered [3/3]

The five to six meters long giant spiders on the ground and three to four meters tall abyssal spidermen formed an airtight troop position.

It was like a wall of flesh and blood. The spiders steadily blocked the path to the spider temple.

The players on the ground could not keep up with the charge.

More than a hundred people witnessed this epic battle.

The Twilight City troops were supremely few compared to the immense volume of enemies.

No one could ignore the difference in numbers between the two sides.

However, the two troops approached each other.

'Hualala!'

The entire ground suddenly softened. The troops looked down at the gravel ground that had turned yellow sand.

Qingqiu attacked.

The moment this thought arose.

A terrifying 30 meters tall wave of sand stirred up from the ground.

The sand waves swept toward the spider troop like a tsunami.

The sand instantly submerged the spider troop that formed the flesh wall.

They rushed a hundred meters and buried countless spiders. The sand wave disappeared without a trace due to the decrease in the sand.

This scene caused the eyelids of the hundred players behind him to twitch.

They were shocked and sighed in their hearts.

“That was Qingqiu!”

“Kill!”

The sand waves blasted apart the troop formation. The leader of the Tower race on the ground, Popov, the level 19 hero, led hundreds of three to four meters tall Tower race cubs and charged at the enemy.

Kratos was a dark soul master, a level 19 boss. He led 32 Dark Servants and charged before the Tower clan.

Blood and flesh flew everywhere when Kratos crashed into the troop formation.

The battle on the ground was violent, and those in the sky were even fiercer.

The five squadrons of sandstorm controllers turned into all-devouring sandstorms and swept the void weaver.

The sandstorm controllers blew the yellow-sand-condensed giant spikes. They were even more ferocious than the explosive attacks of heavy siege weapons.

The void spider web could not block them. The sandstorms directly tore the spider webs with powerful stickiness.

The sandstorms brought along souls and lives wherever they passed.

Alves, the Beyond A-rank dragon hero, charged at the sandstorm. Over a hundred skeleton blood dragons drew out long tongues of fire that devoured the fish that escaped the net.

A tomahawk harvested several souls every time it whistled.

The defense troop spider temple was much stronger than the attacking Twilight City but could not counterattack effectively under the series of attacks.

This scene made the players behind him feel their blood boil.

The scenes continued to amaze them even though they had seen the Twilight City troops charge domineeringly.

This battle became a head-on battle.

There was no falsehood to speak of.

It was an absolute competition of strength.

However, the initial attack revealed the spider troop's numerical advantage.

That advantage entangled the Twilight City troops.

Six level-19 void weaver heroes joined the battle above the spider temple afterward. They restrained tyrannical sandstorm controllers in the sky.

The void weaver hero's web could stick to the yellow sand and quickly weaken the sandstorm controller.

Richard ignored the battle outside.

He stared at the spider temple.

Then, that familiar aura assaulted him.

“Lowly reptile, how dare you blaspheme my god!”

The abyssal blasphemy resounded in the sky.

Everyone on the battlefield felt a heavy pressure on their chests. That made them difficult to breathe.

Richard looked over. One of them was about five meters tall. Its body was like a melted candle that condensed again.

More than ten white candle tentacles dripped with blood-colored liquid on its body.

A single scarlet eye grew on its head.

One could find traces of distortion, savagery, evil, darkness, and chaos in the bottomless abyss of the terrifying lifeform.

The wax demon was the spider goddess's favorite.

This monster symbolized the chaotic and evil heart of the god of conspiracy that could tremble the abyss.

An endless evil aura swept across the world.

The terrifying monsters shrouded everyone's eyes with fear and panic.

Richard's eyes sharpened.

"Kratos... Do it!"

It heard the order of Richard.

The dark soul eater slaughtered the spider troop before it. Kratos raised its head with an endless fighting spirit.

It stared greedily and cruelly at the wax demon that floated in the sky.

It could make the soul eater stronger if it slaughtered the wax demon!

'Kacha!'

The skin on its body exploded. Large patches of cracks appeared.

At the same time, a terrifying aura exploded.

It summoned the Tower race's ancient heroic spirit. It was a one-time buff.

The dark soul eater's power level quickly rose to transcendent.

Richard waved his hand without hesitation, and the yellow sand enveloped the god of deception.

They fell to the ground.

They disappeared into the sand.

Then, after a few breaths.

Countless grains of sand exploded dozens of meters away from the spider temple.

The two suddenly appeared before the temple.

Richard's eyes narrowed, and the surrounding yellow sand condensed into sharp blades. They were like a meat grinders that killed the surrounding enemies.

"Tai Long, Your Excellency, control that heart!"

Chapter 754 - 754 Intense Slaughter

The most crucial step was to retrieve the heart!

Richard would accept the loss of the battle as long as he could get the god's heart,

He had to complete the S-rank mission regardless of the cost.

The god of deception puffed out his chest. That turned his dried, old slim body into a majestic and powerful one.

"The heart is inside Lolita's statue. Lord Richard... Stall the others."

Tai Long suddenly faded and disappeared into thin air before Richard could respond.

The temple could identify the energy of all hidden units. But it could not detect their traces.

Richard could only rely on the power of the great old ones left in the body to sense that the god of deception had become transparent. He calculated it had passed directly through the dense crowd of abyssal spidermen before him and headed towards the central area.

The interior of the spider temple was oval. It was a hundred meters tall or more and a thousand meters in diameter.

The creators used spatial magic to the extreme in this temple.

Vivid spider statues before the surrounding wall gave people the feeling that they would wake up in the next second.

The spider troops piled like ants.

Richard could see 20 meters or more vast spatial passageway in the southeast corner.

Spiders crawled out of it at this moment.

He took a deep breath when he saw them.

It was the final moment.

Richard turned around and saw a person blocked the door. Yellow sand light surged from his body.

The sand condensed into dozens of seven to eight meters long giant sabers.

The yellow sand battle was like an invisible giant hand that held it and spun.

He slaughtered in all directions domineeringly.

It was like one threw the surging abyssal spidermen and giant spiders like hays into a grass cutter in the face of the saber.

'Kacha! Kacha!

Blood and flesh flew everywhere with a crisp sound. It turned one spider after another into broken limbs.

Green blood splattered everywhere.

Richard's blurry figure appeared like a god of war under the majestic power of the yellow sand. It was like one had revived him from ancient times.

He pressed down before the spider temple domineeringly and forcefully blocked the entrance.

He faced the attacks of countless spiders but remained unmoved.

This treasonous behavior drove the surrounding spider troops insane.

“This damned worm blasphemed the gods!!”

‘Ssss!’

Miserable roars resounded through the sky. The troop was like a swarm of locusts that elevated vast waves as they surged over.

They couldn’t withstand such a high-intensity assault if it were any other player.

Blood and violence made one’s hair stand on end.

“&*..%¥#@..”

A strange incantation sounded in the sky at this moment.

The echoes overlapped in the temple. They were even more turbulent than the sound of roars on the battlefield.

The vast statue of the spider goddess in the center emitted waves of remarkable fluctuations. An obscure incantation accompanied the swings.

That aura caused the spider troop surge momentarily to stop. And then they released an even more shrill roar.

The resentful screams made people's scalps go numb.

"Someone blasphemed the gods!"

The spider troops before the spider goddess statue waved their weapons around and tried to find the enemy hidden somewhere.

It happened simultaneously.

The hideous and twisted spider statues erected in the temple released crisp cracking sounds as they resurrected to life.

[Stone Spider]

[Level: 18]

[Potential: 3-stars Radiant Moon...]

Two hundred or more stone spiders blocked the way and charged at Richard.

The abyssal spidermen blocked the way and crushed those that came across.

The savage posture made people inexplicably cold.

That was the most soul-devouring troop that guarded the spider temple.

The abyssal spidermen and giant Spiders were just an addition.

Richard's expression did not change.

He needed to stall the enemy. The enemy must target and chase him to lure them away from the work of the god of deception.

Anger rose in their chests. The spiders couldn't find the spell, and that troubled them.

Richard had become the perfect target.

"It must have been this damn worm's doing!"

The stone spider charged into the high-speed spinning yellow sand saber.

'Clang!'

The crisp sound of metal colliding exploded.

Sparks shot out.

The yellow sand saber that could slay spiders could only leave a white mark on the bodies of these new soldiers. It could not hurt them.

Terrifying defense.

The stone spider's killing intent overflowed. Its eyes emitted fierce and crazy light.

It swore to sever Richard to pieces.

Richard narrowed his eyes.

He stretched out his right hand and clenched it into a fist when these level 18 radiant moon soldiers approached.

In the next second, endless yellow sand suddenly floated out and enveloped the stone spider that was the first to attack.

Tiny grains of sand would weaken one, no matter how mighty one would be.

The sand directly wrapped around the stone spider.

Soon after.

The sand suddenly compressed the spider inside.

It was like a giant hand clenched tightly.

'Kacha!'

It crushed the hard shell that could initially withstand the attack of the yellow sand saber.

Large amounts of cracks appeared.

Streams of stinky green mucus splattered out from the cracks.

It crushed a level 18 radiant moon soldier just like that.

It was pure death.

That did not affect Richard.

He looked at the stone statue spiders that charged at him. He narrowed his eyes.

The ground outside the spider temple had turned into sand and exploded.

It directly turned into a sandstorm and surged into the spider temple.

It could not stop the fine sand that penetrated every pore, although the spider's body was vast.

'Whoosh!'

The terrifying sandstorm covered more than two hundred meters around Richard.

That was because the spiders were too dense and reduced the range.

One couldn't usually harm a stone spider, but the attack enveloped them.

Richard's lips curled into a cold smile.

One could hear a horrifying sound in the next moment.

'Boom!'

It was like one poured gasoline on dry grass and ignited.

A scorching flame suddenly erupted.

[Blazing Sandstorm-Reinforced]

Twilight City reinforced the sandstorm twice after it reached level 15. At this moment, it terrifyingly swept in all directions.

The enveloped enemies felt like one threw them into a melting steel furnace.

All the spiders suffered the heat that burned their souls.

'Ssss!'

A series of mournful roars resounded.

That quickly ignited the fur on the spiders' bodies.

The stench of burnt fur assailed Richard's nostrils.

The terrifyingly high temperature that ignited the destructive power of the sand had increased a hundred times. The yellow sand poured into the spider's joints, eyes, and various weak points of wounds.

That immediately caused massive damage under terrifyingly high temperatures.

That ignited several spiders and turned them into fireballs that incessantly waved their limbs.

The sandstorm tore these fireballs torn into pieces.

They mixed with the yellow sand and filled the sky. They burned wantonly above.

The amazingly defensive stone spiders shone brightly.

These level 18 soldiers resisted it head-on.

The scorching yellow sand could not pierce through their thick shells. Their tenacious vitality was astonishing.

Richard sensed all of this, and his heart skipped a beat.

The power of the yellow sand into him suddenly soared.

The quick-melting high temperature of the steel increased sharply again.

The Blazing Sandstorm had already taken on a dark green color.

Ordinary abyssal spidermen would not last a breath before they turned into ashes.

The thick shell of the stone spider could not withstand it anymore, and a smear of red appeared on it.

It was like a high-temperature heated rock and gradually turned into lava. The spider did not burn but melted directly.

The destructive power of the reinforced Blazing Sandstorm was several times stronger than before.

At this moment, Richard's aura became increasingly ferocious.

He extended his right hand and snapped his fingers.

Then, the sand outside the temple swarmed into the Blazing Sandstorm again.

The newly entered sand began to roll at an exceptionally violent speed.

[Sand Dragon Tornado: Enhanced.]

That was a Beyond A-rank skill he had only obtained after he reached level 15. It had also received two rounds of reinforcement.

The Sand Dragon Tornado could make one's scalp go numb.

It was like one tore a plane apart. Waves of heat waves caused the temperature in the temple to soar exaggeratedly.

Richard trapped the troops and seemed to have locked them in a stove. It was like he added red charcoal to the trivet.

They would die from the heat if they failed to escape.

Richard fixed his eyes on the spatial passageway in the southeast corner connected to the abyss. He controlled the Blazing Sandstorm and moved directly in that direction.

The spider troop in front immediately fell into a frenzy when they saw Richard approach the statue of Lolita.

Moths flew into the fire amidst the shrill screams.

He charged into the Blazing Sandstorm.

He would not retreat even half a step, even if he were to test death.

Some even wanted to use their spider webs to stop them.

However, it was useless in the face of such a catastrophic skill, no matter how many spiders there were.

The Blazing Sandstorm was a vast furnace, and the Sand Dragon Tornado was the core.

They would only burn the spiders to death, no matter how powerful they were.

Richard seemed to have transformed into an ancient god of fire in infinite flames and sand.

His aura was overbearing.

He charged domineeringly toward the spatial passageway that connected to the bottomless abyss.

That cleared the spider guards.

The Blazing Sandstorm enveloped the spatial passageway and immediately burned the unique space.

However, the Blazing Sandstorm did not cause any damage to him. It was like he played with the wind. That was what was surprising.

The spatial passageway could continuously devour the Blazing Sandstorm and teleport it to the other half of the way.

'Unbreakable?'

Richard frowned.

He pondered.

Suddenly, the spatial passageway surged like a water curtain.

Then, a terrifying figure appeared on it. The upper body was an elf, and the lower body was a spider.

The evil god who made the abyss tremble. The master of schemes, the ruler who controlled the 500th level. Spider goddess Lolita!

The blurry figure seemed to have seen through everything and looked straight at Richard.

"Lowly worm, I've already learned your identity from the King of Decay.

"A servant raised by a mid-level deity of the dungeon god system dares to provoke me?"

“One wouldn’t dare to be so arrogant! Even if the kobold god came, no, even if the ruler of the system came!”

The ancient elven language mixed with the profane language of the abyss resounded in the sky.

Richard felt a mental impact when he heard this.

That was chaos, evil, and darkness.

It was like one threw him into the chaotic sea in the deepest part of the bottomless abyss, and countless evil gods stared at him.

He would lose his mind and become a monster that fought in chaos if he couldn’t withstand this mental assault.

The spider goddess’s language was not something mortals could hear.

That was the language of the mightiest evil god, the ruler of the abyss.

“God of kobolds?”

Richard’s pupils constricted.

His emotions were sparingly subtle.

Chapter 755 - 755 The Statue Shattered, the Living Heart of a God [1/3]

Richard forced down the rise and fall of the emotions in his heart and looked straight at the blurred figure of the spider goddess.

He said and meant each word.

“How can you know about my god’s plans?”

“Do you think you can control everything because conspiracy is your divine title?”

“I, the god of the dungeon, will be the master of this world this time!”

“Spider goddess, no matter how strong you are or how many plans you have, they will all come to naught when the new era arrives.

“The ship of the ‘Shining Era’ cannot carry the soul of the ‘Old Era.’”

Certainty and absolute confidence engulfed his voice. The attitude was like countless big shots plotted for thousands of years and stood behind him.

The spider goddess’s blurry figure on the void spatial passageway fell silent.

His words must have shocked her.

However, it was like a suppressed volcano that erupted following two breaths.

Endless spider divine power surged out from the other end of the spatial passageway.

The phantom that condensed the door to the void erupted with a pressure that could shatter the world.

“Who gave you the courage to participate?”

Cold murderous intent filled the two voices.

The pressure on Richard was a hundred times greater than before, and he even had the urge to kneel and submit.

It was the pressure of a higher lifeform on a lower lifeform.

An existence at the level of a master god had long stood at the peak of this world and could destroy with a wave of its hand.

He felt that a giant hand grabbed his soul and made cracking sounds.

The grim reaper watched.

“Ah!” He let out a low roar.

Endless amounts of yellow sand power entered the statue.

A dark light enveloped its body afterward and forcefully blocked the terrifying pressure.

The ancient god statue squatted with broken wings on its back, and countless octopus tentacles on its head seemed to have come alive.

The pair of dark eyes stared fixedly at the space where it revealed the spider goddess’s blurry figure.

“Prey.”

The dark light surged and ignored the pressure that could make the heavens sink. It forcefully swept up and wrapped up the shadow of the spider goddess.

“Ancient god...”

Hatred engulfed the phantom’s voice that resounded through the sky.

The evil spider's divine power in the surroundings suddenly soared. That directly resisted the dark light of the ancient god statue.

The ancient god statue could not devour the goddess's spider divine power under natural restriction.

Richard's eyes widened. That was the first time he had seen a god that could fight against the ancient god statue.

'That was the spider goddess that could make the abyss tremble?!'

The illusory spider goddess gave Richard a deep look after a dozen of breaths.

"It doesn't matter if you are a follower of the god of kobolds, or a servant of the god of dungeons, tell the person behind you... Wait for my judgment.

"Not everyone has the right to interfere in this plan.

"Reptile."

The ancient elven language and profane abyssal language with contempt and arrogance echoed in the spider temple.

The shadow of the spider goddess suddenly shattered.

The spatial passageway returned to its previous state.

The terrifying godly spirit pressure also disappeared.

The goddess left.

Richard's tensed heart finally settled.

He encountered the spider goddess's pressure. It was like he had a saber pressed against his throat. And he could lose his life at any moment.

It was hard for outsiders to imagine how intense the pressure was.

The dim light of the ancient god statute directly corroded the spatial passageway after it could not find the enemy.

It devoured the divine power attached to it.

Then, the spatial passageway that had just been immune to the attack of the Blazing Sandstorm cracked. Countless tiny cracks appeared. The void collapsed and turned into fragments in the blink of an eye.

Richard put the statue back into his arms and looked at the god of deception before the spider goddess statue.

The chant stopped when Lolita appeared.

It was only when the spider goddess left that he reconnected.

It was also in line with this figure's flexible attitude.

Richard looked around.

The Blazing Sandstorm still went on.

The majestic power of sand reached level 15 and had increased to 50,000 points of mana. One can shortly maintain this skill, unlike before.

Richard looked at the colossal abyssal spiders still alive in the temple. He immediately brought the Blazing Sandstorm.

The surrounding abyssal spidermen and giant spiders also fell into extreme madness at this moment.

None of the spiders cared about their lives as they charged into the sandstorm.

Then, the high-temperature smothered and turned them into burning fireballs.

Richard was at the center, and endless yellow sand from afar covered a diameter of 200 meters. Terrifying flames burned the sand red and incessantly spun around.

Violence shrouded a Sand Dragon Tornado in the center.

The red sand would hit enemies, each of their attacks, and leave tiny holes like bullets.

Then, a fire would ignite them.

That would turn into a fireball amidst the wails.

This scene looked like the birth of an ancient lava demon. Death, darkness, destruction!

It was visually impactful.

Richard used the power of devouring the sand from the lord of the dune with absolute dominance and his two level 15 transformations as his trump cards to forcefully clear out the enemies in the spider temple.

Dried, charred, broken, and foul stench of corpses remained in the enormous spider temple when the sandstorm gradually dissipated.

Chapter 756 - 756 The Statue Shattered, the Living Heart of a God [2/3]

The sand that turned from red to black floated in the sky and lingered around.

Smoke blackened the vivid spider statue on the ceiling. Richard looked in the background like a demon king after destruction.

He saw the situation was under control. One could not disturb the god of deception while he still chanted the obscure language.

Richard flew before the spider temple.

He looked outside.

He had cleared the spiders in the temple. A few groups of enemies were outside the temple.

He had fought in the temple for a long time. But it had only been three to five minutes since he appeared and cleared everyone.

The Twilight City troops held the enemies back and returned to their senses after the Blazing Sandstorm.

The Twilight City troops attacked the spider base camp. The spider troops immediately went berserk. They roared as they charged forward.

The yellow sand reformed into a saber.

It forcefully blocked the enemy outside.

The meat grinder reappeared.

Richard had the time to observe the battle outside.

The sky troops of Twilight City engaged with the densely packed void weavers in a battle with Alves as the commander.

Skeleton blood dragon, dead stone statue, guardian mummy, sandstorm controller, and king of the imperial troop joined forces to fight the enemy. Spiders fell from the sky every second.

However, Twilight City suffered significant damage when they faced at least two large teams of void weavers.

The enemies incessantly killed the stone statues of the dead and the guardian mummies. Even the skeleton blood dragons that followed behind Alves had lost several teams.

The battle in the sky was crazy, and the one on the ground was even more intense.

Hundreds of Tower race descendants charged forward under the leadership of the level 19 Tower race leader, Popov.

Less than 50 Tower race descendants remained after a bloody battle.

The level 14 centaur, Emily, had already activated her battle form, and her body had grown to 10 meters tall.

It was like a battering ram hitting the city wall whenever she swung her poleaxe.

She cut the spider troop on the ground cut into pieces. No one could stop the centaur's charge.

Centaur's were born warriors.

The battle with the wax demon attracted the most attention.

This life form created by Lolita floated in the void. It fought the dark soul eater, Kratos, who was a Level 19, no, level 20 boss.

Kratos' level forcibly raised to transcendent after it summoned the Tower spirit.

Its stone-made body now emitted a metallic luster. Its terrifying strength could shatter the city wall with a single punch.

The dark servants surrounded Kratos and coordinated with his attacks. The number of 32 had dropped to less than 20.

The ordinary troops could not get close to a transcendent level battle. They looked at the battlefield, and a vast vacuum appeared in the center.

Only the vast figure of the god's ancient tree stood there. It participated in this epic battle without fear.

The abomination power had already surpassed the limit of this level as a top-tier boss with this power and rotten authority.

The wax demon had to retreat every time its branch that carried endless rotten authority swung.

The rotten authority was something that even transcendents couldn't handle.

"Kill!"

Chapter 757 - 757 The Statue Shattered, the Living Heart of a God [3/3]

Kratos roared again after a tentacle hit the dark soul eater.

Its extraordinary power allowed it to levitate in the air and gain the ability to fight in the air.

Its body was six meters tall, and it held a heavy warhammer. The explosive power of its muscular body could even distort the void.

The wax demon, covered in octopus-like tentacles, attacked oddly.

Tons of wax would fly out every time it waved its tentacles.

The abomination tree's body would quickly assimilate once it came into contact with the evil white wax.

It directly transformed into a candle body.

Some of the spiders affected by the aftershock of the battle were even turned into wax statues in the blink of an eye after being dripped by the white wax.

The wax demon had no fatal weakness. That was what was terrifying. Kratos could not cause damage with its attacks.

Kratos would immediately explode the wax demon's body, and large patches of cracks would appear. However, the wounds would quickly heal like a melted candle afterward.

The wax demon would instantly return to normal even if the enemy smashed its eye.

It could not die!

This terrifying characteristic made this already arduous transcendent monster even more troublesome.

Richard's eyelids twitched.

He had wanted to let Kratos obtain extraordinary power and kill the wax demon by force, but these thoughts disappeared when he saw the monster explode and recovered immediately.

His plans couldn't survive the changes.

He couldn't kill a monster of this level without a mightier force.

It was Lolita's favorite! As expected, he couldn't use common sense to praise her.

Fortunately, his main goal this time was not to fight to the death with this wax demon.

It was to retrieve a god's heart. The god of deception would recover a certain amount of power as long as he could obtain it.

The three sides would be able to kill the other party.

The key to everything now was to guard the temple gate and not allow anyone to disturb the god of deception.

"& amp; (& (.. ¥#@%&*!"

At this moment, a deep and obscure voice came from the temple. This voice penetrated the temple and resounded in the entire sky.

At the same time, the sound of glass shattering rang out.

Something happened afterward.

'Bang! Bang! Bang!'

Everyone heard the sound of their hearts beating.

A strong smell of fresh blood and a majestic fluctuation of divine power accompanied the sound.

Something broke the seal of the god's heart!!

Richard abruptly turned his head to look at the center of the temple.

The statue of the spider goddess had countless cracks. And its heart had already shattered.

He could vaguely see a bright red heart beating inside.

The surrounding mana would rise and fall. It formed a tide every time it jumped.

He could feel the extraordinariness of the heart even from far away.

The wax demon at this moment also sensed the aura while it fought with Kratos. It turned its head abruptly, and its scarlet eye penetrated the temple.

It released a shrill cry and dashed across the sky like lightning. It headed straight for the spider temple.

That reckless attitude, brutal and savage, froze everyone's souls at this moment.

At that moment, Tai Long's ethereal body appeared before the statue of the spider goddess.

He slowly reached out and grabbed the heart.

Chapter 758 - 758 The Temple Collapses, and the God's Corpse Appears [1/2]

It was like time stopped at this moment.

The god of deception touched the heart of the god and revealed his figure.

'Bang! Bang!'

'Bang! Bang!'

The strong heartbeat resounded in everyone's ears.

The wax demon incessantly burned flames and crossed the void. It rushed directly before the temple.

In the next second, Kratos' figure suddenly appeared before the enemy.

Teleportation.

The dark soul eater wanted to stop this transcendent demon.

However, an impactful scene followed.

The wax demon's body melted like a candle and passed through Kratos's body.

Then, it reformed its body behind the dark soul eater.

This scene gave people a soul-tormenting psychological impact.

This monster was simply terrifying.

The sand around Richard began to surge, but the wax demon was too fast.

The monster broke through the battle formation of the saber troop formed by the yellow sand and rushed into the temple like a storm.

The god of deception charged straightly at the statue of the spider goddess and clenched the heart.

Richard narrowed his eyes.

He subconsciously prepared to cast a skill.

But in the next second, he was stunned.

The god of deception grabbed the heart and slowly stuffed it into his chest.

His chest seemed to be illusory as his heart penetrated through it.

Something majestic happened afterward.

'Bang! Bang! Bang!'

The heartbeat sounded increasingly majestic.

The blood vessels from the heart rapidly reconstructed, and the muscles in the body quickly condensed. That was even more shocking!

In a few breaths, the majestic power constructed the whole body.

One could sense the power surge even from a great distance.

That was the heart of the god of deception, and now it was back in place.

The wax demon finally rushed before the Tai Long just as the formation of his body.

The demon created by Lolita released a deep roar. Its aura was dark and evil as if it had crawled out of a bottomless abyss.

The monster would even need to attack ordinary people. Its aura would only envelope them to fall into absolute madness.

More than a dozen octopus-like tentacles waved and whipped the god of deception.

'Phew!'

The air exploded, and the ear-piercing sound of air pierced through one's eardrums.

That scared everyone!

The attacks landed on Tai Longs' body. But to everyone's surprise, the power that could quickly destroy city walls and crack mountain rocks did not cause him even a single damage.

Upon a closer look, a transparent shield had appeared on the body of god's remnant soul that forcefully blocked the damage.

The god of deception stared indifferently at the wax demon while it waved its tentacles.

"I am your god of faith!

"Kneel!"

That was an ancient divine language!

His cold voice sounded like thunder in the spider temple.

The terrifying wax demon's body stiffened at this moment.

Endless conflict filled the demon's gaze.

Then, the transcendent demon slowly bent down and knelt in the void while Richard watched.

It was more like lying in the air without limbs like knees.

Its posture was indescribably humble.

It was like it knelt before the god it worshipped and believed in!

Richard's pupils constricted.

'The god of deception... Was this still the power of lies?'

Tai Long's transformation was not empty talk.

'Did he comprehend something?!

Richard's thoughts were about to churn.

The wax demon knelt in the void and opened its mouth. It humbly bowed.

"Great God, your humble servant salutes you."

Tai Long's old body stood before the transcendent demon proudly.

"Kill all the spiders around the temple. I sent those mummies that attacked the temple to test the waters. The spiders can't even protect the temple."

Dominance and inviolability engulfed his tone and had some of the majesty of a sovereign.

“I will obey your orders, my god!”

Burning madness filled the red eye of the wax demon. The monster did not hesitate on this loophole-filled and logically contradicting order. The wax demon turned around and left the temple.

It even spared Richard while he blocked the spider troop.

It appeared outside again after a long time.

The wax demon melted and turned a ball of wax in the void.

The evil and dark aura increased by a hundredfold.

Then, the spider that had just led the spider troop to fight against the Twilight City troops attacked its subordinates!

The ball of wax suddenly expanded and formed a ball of liquid that was dozens of meters tall.

Then, that surged toward the spiders in the surroundings.

It utterly enveloped the spider troops within a breath.

Their bodies turned into wax statues when each came into contact with the liquid ball. Then, they shattered into the wax and entered the body of the wax demon.

It devoured hundreds of spiders near the temple in just a dozen breaths, and the wax they turned into became several times mightier.

The candle condensed into a ball afterward and surged wantonly. It devoured and assimilated all the lives it enveloped.

That scene shocked the spider troop.

It wasn't that the enemy was strong, but...why would their lord attack them?

Ten thousand questions rose in their minds.

However, at this moment, the melting wax demon would not respond to them. Instead, it slayed spiders even more vigorously.

It carried out the god's oracle, which was the highest honor!

The fierce battle just now had turned into an odd scene of a leader who slaughtered troops in the blink of an eye.

The Twilight City troops could not help but stop.

They even retreated to prevent accidental damage.

Chapter 759 - 759 The Temple Collapses, and the God's Corpse Appears [2/2]

They stared blankly at the surging molten wax swallowing each spider in the spider troop.

Richard's tense mood relaxed sparingly, and he turned to look at the god of deception.

"Your Excellency Tai Long, has the power of that heart been activated?"

The God of Lies nodded and shook his head hesitantly.

"I don't have a body, and I lack the power of the spider goddess to drive me... Although I can use it temporarily, it won't be able to support it for long..."

"How much longer can you control that wax demon?"

"Ten minutes..."

The god of deception's gaze was sparingly subtle.

"I have to thank you for your advice. Otherwise, I couldn't affect the monster that firmly believes in Lolita with my current strength.

"The power of lies and deception doesn't have to be sneaky like the rats in the sewers.

"In a direct battle, deception and lies are no weaker than humans."

That made Richard feel a rare sense of agreement.

A single sentence was enough to make a transcendent lose its mind. This power was overbearing.

There was a hint of law in his words.

He could make an entire troop betray him with a single word in the future if he continued to dig deeper. Moreover, he could use it to disrupt the other party's mind in the battle.

The power that the god of deception possessed had a lot of potentials that one could exploit.

He looked outside the temple and quickly found Popov, the level 19 hero, who was more than eight meters tall and stood like a small mountain.

“Popov, a power has destroyed the spatial passageway connecting to the abyss. And that controlled the wax demon. What else do we need to do to restore this plane?”

The destruction of the spider temple was only one of the steps.

The abyss would still drag them if they couldn't fix the planar collapse at its verge.

“Destroy this spider temple!”

Popov did not hesitate at all and shouted excitedly.

“The temple is the core of Lolita's erosion of the planar power. As long as we can destroy the temple, the planes could recover! That would restore the world!”

Richard stared at the big patriarch and said nothing more. He looked back at the god of deception.

“Your Excellency Tai Long, we must destroy this temple and let the planar power recover.”

The god of deception flew straight to his side.

He looked straight into his eyes and said in a deep voice.

“Do it now. We can't let Lolita appear again.”

“The power of the ancient gods is a powerful counter to the gods, but Lolita has a divine weapon that can contend with the power of the ancient gods... We can’t afford to delay it.”

Richard’s heart skipped a beat. He flew away from the temple without hesitation with the remnant soul of the god who had just reconstructed his body.

The bewitched wax demon slaughtered each spider in the spider troop.

Richard turned his head to look at the giant temple more than 50 meters tall, with an elven upper body and a spider lower body.

“Treebeard, destroy it!”

The god’s ancient tree rushed over when it heard the order.

The giant tree trunk was like a weapon that could attack the city. It could smash the temple.

‘Bang!’

A terrifying collision sound exploded.

Runes appeared on the spider temple. These protected it forcefully.

But the god's ancient tree would not care so much.

It unleashed more than ten tree trunks and dozens of tree roots at full force.

They tore the surrounding earth apart, and dust flew into the sky.

The trunks and roots smashed the runes like eggshells under the impact of the soul-tormenting power.

'Bang! Bang!'

Explosion sounds incessantly rang out.

Many buildings could withstand the damage of a top-tier boss, but it was not the spider temple before Richard.

'Kacha!'

They finally destroyed the runes on the spider temple afterward.

The tree trunk struck the temple's wall, and cracks spread like turtle shells.

The temple began to collapse without the protection of the runes.

Large pieces of land fell from the sky. And the earth incessantly shook. The rumbling sound of the collapse was endless.

The god's ancient tree was like an evil god that destroyed the world. It wantonly poured out its power.

'Crash!'

A resounding voice rang out.

It finally collapsed the temple that symbolized Lolita.

The ground shook, and the players' thousands of meters away felt their legs go numb.

A terrifying sound wave swept out. The wax demon trembled and stopped while it devoured the spider troop.

Then, the wax demon condensed again. The chaotic and evil body appeared in the sky again.

It looked at the half-cleared spider troop and the collapsed spider temple before it. The single scarlet eye was stunned for a while.

The demon! Why did it slay its subordinates?!!

Why would a great god give such an odd order?! No, no, it wasn't the great god!

That single eye stared at the god of deception, and the fierce killing intent that it emitted was enough to make the seasoned soldiers tremble in fear.

That god deceived the demon!

"Damn reptiles! Damn it, damn it!"

Endless anger exploded in its chest.

The scarlet eye emitted an endless red light, and the white candle's body gradually turned crimson.

It emitted a demonic and crazy aura. The pressure even froze the void.

The wax demon charged at the god of deception. It ignored everything else.

That attitude would not rest until one of them died.

A rush followed afterward.

'Rumble!'

An even more violent sound of collapse rang out.

The spider temple that had just collapsed sank into the ground.

It was as if a giant beast that could devour the world opened its vast mouth.

'Kacha!'

They could hear the sound of shattered glass when the spider temple sank at maximum.

Then, a chaotic light shot into the sky from the ground.

That sent the buildings and boulders more than ten meters tall thousands of meters away.

The power affected everyone in the surroundings.

Richard's body uncontrollably flew a hundred meters away.

He looked around.

Corpses that emitted a soul-stirring aura flew across the sky.

Chapter 760 - 760 Falling into the Abyss [1/3]

In the chaotic light, the corpses of the gods emitted boundless pressure.

Just a glance at it was enough to make people tremble in fear.

A dead god was still a god.

That was an existence of a higher level.

“Graveyard of the gods...”

The god of deception stared at one of the blurry corpses. His gaze was complicated.

Richard forced down the throbbing in his heart. His eyes gleamed.

He could see that the bodies of these gods were like mountains of gold that glittered and contained infinite value.

Twilight City would experience a qualitative leap if he could bring back all the divine bodies.

At this moment, the wax demon returned to its senses and charged at the god of deception.

The mournful roar from its mouth sent chills down one's spine.

No one could underestimate the aura of an activated transcendent.

The god of deception turned around and looked at the wax demon streaked across the sky like lightning. His gaze turned cold.

'Bang! Bang! Bang!'

The sound of his heart beating resounded through the sky again. The surging divine power in his body erupted in the next second.

It was like a wave of air that swept out in all directions. That directly enveloped an area of several hundred meters.

The wax demon stopped when it charged into that boundary.

The murderous intent of the single-eyed monster became sparingly astray and confused. Then, it turned its body slightly and surged in another direction.

The tentacles on its body wildly twitched, and the void incessantly exploded. Space fragments scattered all over the sky.

The soul-tormenting posture made people's mouths go dry. No one could imagine what would happen if it hit someone. It would be easy for them to explode into pieces.

Richard saw that something restrained the wax demon again. He couldn't help but think highly of the god of deception.

A god was indeed a god. He could still toy with a transcendent even if charges weakened his power to the extreme and only a heart and a broken soul remained.

Chaotic light surrounded the dozens or so corpses of the gods. Richard suppressed his emotions and turned his gaze on them.

The sand on the ground gathered with a wave of his hand.

A sandman that was seven to eight meters tall appeared.

The sandman rose into the air and headed straight for the chaotic light.

That snatched the divine body!

Only then did the players at the back return to their senses.

Everyone widened their eyes when they saw this, and their breathing quickened.

They didn't know that a god leave the corpse in the chaotic light behind.

However, it was of great value from the aura it emitted.

A high-level corpse was simply a divine weapon for the undead faction!

Unfortunately, they were not even qualified to participate in this battle. Now, they could only show their envy.

No one would dare to do so even if one asked them to go up. One could not trifle with it. They would only send themselves to death if they went up, other than Qingqiu.

The players stood with wide-eyed gazes.

The sandman charged into the chaotic light and headed for the nearest god's body.

However, after flying for about ten meters, the sand melted like ice thrown into a furnace.

The chaotic light seemed inconspicuous, but it had unpredictable destructive power.

Richard's heart sank.

Fortunately, he had a trick up his sleeve. He was used to using the sandmen to scout the way and did not take the risk himself.

However, he couldn't take the risk if he didn't eat the meat right next to his mouth.

He focused his gaze, and a second sandman appeared.

At the same time, the ancient god statue floated above the other party's head. A dark light directly enveloped the sandman.

Richard also frantically channeled the power of the sand. The sandman stared even more intensely.

It charged into the chaotic light again with the double buffs.

Richard's eyes widened as he stared at the scene.

The ancient god statue had an enormous restraining effect on the power of gods, but a chaotic light repelled it just now. That immensely surprised him.

The winner take all scene did not happen. It was a display of equally powerful sides.

“Chaotic light...The power of the ancient gods?”

Richard’s eyes turned grave after he pondered.

Only the power of an ancient god could ignore the ancient god statue.

He instantly thought of more things.

The power of the ancient god statue enveloped Lolita. That was why the spider goddess could not take the corpses of the gods away.

“Or did Lolita set this power up?”

A myriad of thoughts trotted into his mind.

However, he could not make an accurate judgment. He couldn’t rely on a few pieces of information.

He turned to look at the god of deception beside him.

“Your Excellency Tai Long, what’s with this power of the old gods?”

The god of deception carefully sensed for a moment, and then his expression changed slightly.

“I don’t know either... There was no aura of ancient god power here before I lost consciousness.”

It could not freely take a corpse away due to the suppression of the chaotic light, although the sandman above the ancient god statue did not melt.

It was like he was a pool of thick mercury. Tons of energy would empower every step.

Richard frowned and turned to look at the wax demon.

This terrifying transcendent creature still attacked the air.

However, it couldn’t keep the wax demon in trouble from the situation just now.

The formerly level 19 dark soul eater Kratos, temporarily upgraded to 20.

It could not easily slaughter the other party.

Richard couldn’t delay for too long.

A sense of urgency rose in his heart.

He turned to look at the towering tree on the side.

“Treebeard! Go and try to take out the corpses!”