

The World 911

Chapter 911 - 911 The Focus of All Eyes [1/3]

“Eight legions... Richard didn’t even climb up the city wall.”

In the capital of Ell, the members of the Blazing Flame Guild who watched the battle through the live stream have strange expressions on their faces.

They knew that with Qingqiu’s support, the Lion City’s defense would be mighty.

However, they did not expect it to be so overwhelming.

That was eight legions!

That was a death of a level 19 hero commander with a potential as high as A-rank and a level one step away from transcendence.

Such force of attacking alone could destroy cities before a war could start.

A strong sense of grievance rose in their hearts.

Although everyone knew that the Mountain Duke’s attack was just a test, the real troop had yet to arrive.

“But he couldn’t be so cowardly, right?”

“Leader, the discussion forums hyped about this war.

“Do we need to lower the temperature?”

The Blazing Flame Guild regarded this confrontation with Qingqiu as a paramount concern.

They had to win this war to step on this legendary figure and ascend to the throne.

The heated discussion at this moment had far exceeded their initial expectations.

It would be a heavy blow to the Blazing Flame Guild at a considerable disadvantage.

They wouldn’t have such thoughts if it were in the beginning, even if Qing Qiu had transcendents. What kind of existence was the Blazing Flame Guild? Thousands of high-level lords led a troop of a million.

Moreover, there was Raging Blood Duke, the ruler of the Ell Kingdom, who had a horde of top-tier soldiers to rely on.

How could such power lose to a player?

However, Qingqiu's merciless slap sent their pride flying in the first battle.

Qingqiu's display of his subordinate's methods reminded them why the other party was a legend, a king recognized by all players.

Other emotions would naturally arise in the guild leader's heart.

He was in his early forties, and his forum ID was Eternal Flame. He was the guild leader of the Blazing Flame Guild. He turned to look at his companions beside him.

His eyes were cold.

"We've already reached this level. There's no room for regrets.

"Don't cherish yourself if you want to do great things."

He had to push out the chips he had bet without hesitation. That was his style of doing things.

The reason why the Blazing Flame Guild could grow to its current height was directly related to his methods.

"Continue to follow the plan. We couldn't lose to Qingqiu, no matter how strong he was.

“So what if he’s Qingqiu? None of the enemies of our Blazing Flame Guild missed death in the fire!

“Send people to increase the momentum and make this battle even more popular!

“We must show our strongest side.”

The echelons couldn’t help but hesitate.

“But if our attack fails...”

“The other party was Qingqiu.”

The outcome of the first battle already showed that the top-tier mission was still far ahead of all the players.

Could they win if they bet all their chips on it?

“Even if we fail, we must let everyone know the strength of the Blazing Flame Guild!”

The guild leader’s expression was unquestionable.

“We have zero possibility of us losing this war... We still have that trump card!”

Everyone’s eyes widened when they heard this.

“That trump card... Are we going to use it here? Leader, that is the only connection to the Fire Elemental Plane!”

“That’s right, Leader. One can only summon Fire Elemental Lord once. Isn’t that too much investment if we used it here?”

The guild leader’s gaze was stern.

“We could deal with that transcendent sooner or later as long as we can collect more lava hearts.

“We are believers of the god of fire. We are naturally close to the fire. Connecting to the Fire Elemental Plane isn’t as difficult as you think.”

They immediately fell silent when the others heard this. The guild leader looked at the other party’s determined gaze. They looked at each other afterward and sighed.

The Fire Elemental Lord was someone the guild leader had only gotten to know after he completed a series of quests. He couldn’t make the decision.

The guild leader looked at their expressions. He said, "Our goal this time is to make the reputation of the Blazing Flame Guild known throughout the world. Only the strong can show off their abilities and attract more followers.

"Although the Fire Elemental Lord is powerful, he is not our foundation. We can grow stronger if more lord players join us. We have to be clear about our priorities. If we can grow the Blazing Flame Guild with just one summoning opportunity, then the value of this is hard to exchange for!"

He paused for a moment after he said that. Then he continued.

"This time, we're going to show all our strength to attract more players to join."

"Moreover, even if we fail, it's not because we're too weak, but because Qingqiu is too strong... Isn't the other party strong to begin with?"

"For us, as long as the power we display is shocking enough, we won't suffer too much loss even if we fail."

"After all, Qingqiu had defeated us."

These words immediately perked up the others.

That's right, the other party. They were only advertising this time to attract more people to join the Blazing Flames Guild.

Defeating Qing Qiu was the best way. Displaying enough power would achieve the desired effect if failure was unavoidable. However, it would not be as shocking, and the loss would be enormous.

But overall, if this continued, whether the Blazing Flame Guild won or lost, it would be within an acceptable range.

“Leader, you have great foresight!”

The Blazing Flame Guild’s members were stunned after everyone had gone down to discuss the display of the Blazing Flame Guild’s strength in this war.

Chapter 912 - 912 The Focus of All Eyes [2/3]

The guild leader’s eyes darkened.

Failure was just a backup plan.

How could he stop climbing here? Qingqiu was not enough to make him lower his head.

His face revealed cold, killing intent.

On the path to the rise of the Blazing Flame Guild, there was only destruction for anyone who stood in the way!

He turned around and walked out of the house.

“Men, prepare the carriage to see Raging Blood Duke...”

Lion City, Richard was in a good mood as he watched the cavalry who had gone out to hunt the Mountain Duke’s scattered troops return.

He didn’t expect that a desert collapse could bury tens of thousands of soldiers.

The only one to blame was the silly Mountain Duke. He dared to push his troop forward on the first attack. He was truly fearless.

The siege crossbow couldn’t penetrate his defense. That was no wonder. This guy’s brain grew in his muscles.

The situation calmed down.

Richard didn’t wait for the excited Princess to express her gratitude. He took a step forward and floated in the sky.

Endless yellow sand light surged on his body.

In the next moment, a gigantic hand seemed to have twisted the collapsed sand and earth. That caused waves of ripples to appear.

A moment later, the corpses of the buried soldiers began to surface from the sand.

The scene instantly became terrifying.

In less than five minutes, corpses piled the ground up.

It was as if it had become a hellish battlefield.

Richard floated to the central area. His body glowed increasingly brighter. The desert became lively.

The sand moved under everyone's gaze.

They dragged the corpses. Richard quickly rushed into the spatial rift in the north that emitted a thick bloody smell while the mist blocked it.

They buried the corpses in the sand and entered the spatial rift. Then, the soldiers on the city wall seemed to see tall figures moved in the mist.

The corpses that had entered disappeared in the blink of an eye.

The scene looked indescribably odd and magical. That gave people a creepy feeling.

No one knew the mystery behind the bloody mist.

Richard could sense that the rotten swamp grew stronger with every corpse that entered the spatial rift.

He transported the tens of thousands of corpses on the battlefield to the rotten swamp. His consciousness felt a strong sense of satisfaction.

It was like someone hungry for a long time had finally eaten its fill.

A proud smile appeared on his face.

It felt good.

The Mountain Duke had given him a vast gift.

The rotten swamp had leveled up to 3 and could recruit crown troop lairs. The level increase in the past two months remained stagnant since then.

That exacerbated the difficulty of leveling up generously. It was not because deaths in the Naga Plane had decreased.

He had to convert all the glorious lairs to crown-levels if he wanted to advance.

Then, he had to increase the number of lairs to the upper limit.

Richard had to upgrade the glorious soldiers he had recruited previously to crown soldiers.

Just these few conditions alone consumed a large amount of flesh and soul energy. Then, after the number of soldiers reached 1,000, that would give rise to a hero unit.

He knew at this moment the hero unit still brewed.

It would need to devour tons of flesh and soul energy to nurture it.

He had to earn a few extra bucks to speed up the level 3 rotten swamp to level 4. The meat grinder in the Naga Plane would be too busy.

Now, the Raging Blood Duke had become his target.

The land, population, resources, and even the dead bodies of the enemy troops were all valuable treasures in this expedition to Ell.

He could reap lucrative profits no matter what he did as long as he stood on this land.

The pleasure of plunder and conquer was something outsiders found arduous to understand.

The gains would be worth it even if he failed as long as he could upgrade the rotten swamp to level 4 in the battle to conquer Ell.

Level 4 rotten swamp could recruit a troop lair Glorious 3-stars.

Richard had thousands of Glorious 3-stars soldiers in his hands out of thin air. These were worth hundreds of millions of rare resources.

Chapter 913 - 913 The Focus of All Eyes [3/3]

The invasion of the Decay King was imminent. This force had irreplaceable strategic value.

Richard returned to the city wall afterward.

What greeted him was the burning gazes of all the soldiers.

He could no longer recognize who shouted 'Long live Lord Richard'!

The high-spirited troops suddenly let out a heaven-shaking roar.

"Long live, Lord Richard!"

"Long live, Lord Richard!"

At this moment, it was as if he wanted to vent the excitement in his heart by shouting.

All the lights returned to him with a deafening roar.

Richard quietly landed on the city wall.

At this moment, all the soldiers around bowed with their hands on their chests. Princess Tundel did the same.

The players saw this scene. They were so envious that their eyes turned red.

They also wanted tens of thousands of people to praise them. They also wanted the princess to bow!

Richard no longer mind them. He helped Tundel get up and left the city wall with the echelons of Lion City.

That was only the first battle. The real enemy had yet to arrive.

Three days after the first Battle of Lion City, February 3rd, early morning.

The sharp-eyed players once again noticed that the live stream of the Blazing Flame Guild vs. Qingqiu had opened.

Immediately, they called out to their friends, and countless players flooded the live stream room.

The number this time was even more exaggerated than the previous time. It has reached 4 billion.

As for the second place, the number of viewers was 87 million.

He couldn't even compare to the leader.

The second streamer from the Blazing Flame Guild appeared in front of the camera.

"Brothers, welcome to the live stream. Today is the second time we will be attacking Lion City. We have received a vital mission from the kingdom of Ell!

"This time, the troop of the Blazing Flame Guild will be the main force to attack Lion City.

"We will directly follow Qingqiu!!"

Everyone became immediately excited as soon as he said this.

[How dare you! You have convinced me that Blazing Flame Guild is courting death. The level 19 Mountain Duke was an A-rank hero who spearheaded eight legions. It's already a feat if he even missed touching the city walls. How dare you?]

[F*ck, so fast? I thought you would wait until the Aborigines and Qingqiu were over and come out to pick the peaches.]

[A direct collision? I'm starting to look forward to it. Use all your methods to please me, hehe.]

Most players did not expect the Blazing Flame Guild to be so brave. The scene of the Qingqiu's level 19 hero that slaughtered the Mountain Duke had become the hottest topic on the forums for the past few days.

The Blazing Flame Guild had already dared to attack before they could even probe Lion City's strength. That was no ordinary courage.

The streamer from the Blazing Flame Guild laughed when he saw the unexpected response from everyone.

[Idiots, are you stupid? You don't understand.]

[How can you see through the arrangements of the upper echelons of our Blazing Flame Guild?]

[We are the overlords of the Fire Elemental Plane!]

[Qingqiu's strength is far more exaggerated than you can imagine.]

[However, no matter how invincible Qingqiu is, the Blazing Flame Guild would crush them.]

“This time, I’ll show you the true strength of the Blazing Flame Guild!”

Chapter 914 - 914 Qingqiu, Open Your Eyes and Look, This Is The Fire Elemental Lord That Would End Your Life! [1/4]

“Boss Qingqiu, the Blazing Flame Guild started a live stream again...”

Richard was in the middle of a troop discussion with the city’s higher-ups. He turned to the players who had reported.

He waved his hand to let the discussion continue and opened the forum.

He clicked on it and saw the Blazing Flame Guild’s live stream.

The live stream room was open to everyone. The guild could use the live stream room to transmit information, and the opponent could also use the live stream room to understand the enemy’s situation.

That was a fair thing anyone could use.

Richard’s eyelids twitched as he looked at the four billion viewers.

Each person would only need one unit of rare resources to make a fortune if they could collect tickets.

What a pity.

At this moment, the image showed the determined expression of the streamer from the Blazing Flame Guild. Behind him was a forest made of frost and snow. One couldn't tell where he was just by a look at the image.

However, the words of the other party surprised him.

This guy had boasted about Lion City and his strength all this time and had not mentioned the Blazing Flame Guild's attack deployment this time.

The other party wasn't an idiot. He knew he couldn't reveal crucial information. However, even if the other party said his plan in the live stream room, it might not be credible. Who knew if the other party was deliberately confused?

"Boss Qingqiu, what plans does the Blazing Flame Guild have?"

This scene also confused other players.

Who would keep bragging about their enemies?

Richard smiled after a moment.

“Do you think that defeating an enemy so strong that it almost suffocates you will earn more reputation? Or do you think defeating a weak enemy that doesn’t even exist will earn more reputation?”

A few of them were deep in thought.

They regained their senses. The female player was the most indignant.

“Is the Blazing Flame Guild surely going to devour us?”

“Although the other party was a top-tier guild, they couldn’t possibly look down on them, right?!”

They had the support of Qingqiu, this top-notch big shot!

Richard’s eyes flickered.

“Looks like they have something to rely on...”

He turned to look at the side as he spoke. The little centaur stood before the French window in the hall. She smiled as she looked at the clouds in the sky through the glass window.

She would puff and fog the glass from time to time. Then she would draw all kinds of strange patterns on it. She would repeat this action when the fog disappeared.

This transcendent boss had never known what worry was.

“They probably know about Emily’s existence.”

The players were shocked.

“Didn’t Lion City seal off all contact with the outside world? Did a player sneak in?”

“Some time ago, we caught a spy of the Raging Blood Duke.”

“I’m sorry,” said Tundel with a tone of self-blame.

“Lion City is the city that we took over after all. It’s difficult to find us at the first moment, although we almost eliminated the resistance forces and deeply buried the spies...”

That confused the players.

“Since the Blazing Flame Guild knows the true strength of Lion City, why are they still so confident?”

Richard said slowly, “They must have prepared some methods to deal with Emily.”

“The reputation of the Blazing Flame Guild will increase if they can capture Lion City and kill transcentents before all the players...”

“So, these guys are using Lion City as a stepping stone?” The expressions of the players turned ugly.

Now, they were in the same boat as Lion City.

Richard’s eyes moved as he looked at the space beside him.

His lips moved slightly.

“Let’s see the Blazing Flame Guild’s trump card.”

“Yes, Lord.”

The surrounding space rippled and disappeared without attracting anyone’s attention.

“Boss Qingqiu, should we do some preventive work?”

“No need. Defend according to plan.”

The enemy didn’t even have a card to play. Was he going to fight with the air?

A few figures appeared in the live stream room.

The streamer from Blazing Flame Guild bragged about Lion City and fixed his gaze. His expression turned solemn.

“Next, let me bring you to Lion City...”

He watched how Blazing Flame Guild burned Qingqiu!”

“Flames...Eternal!”

“Praise the flames!”

As soon as he finished speaking, he turned around abruptly.

The view in the live stream room also changed direction.

In the next second, a vast spatial rift appeared on the screen. At this moment, several troops waited on the snow-white grassland for a long time.

The streamer joined the last row of the team and immediately switched to the first-person perspective. The streamer immediately brought everyone to the Blazing Flame Guild’s side.

“Let’s go!”

The troop of the conqueror orderly stepped out and passed through the spatial gate.

The audience froze wide-eyed.

They looked ahead, and a massive troop gathered before them. They could vaguely see a towering city.

Lion City.

They activated the second attack.

A fixed angle of view of the new star rose.

It revealed the vast number of troops around it.

One could see seven or eight equally wide space cracks.

The players did not buy this, although they were startled in the live stream room.

[It is quite a number of them. If it were me, I would fight a hundred of them. But I think the Mountain Duke is mightier]

[Unless you have something up your sleeve, you can never take Lion City down.]

[Is this the Blazing Flame Guild?]

The streamer of the Blazing Flame Guild looked at the disdainful comments, and anticipation shrouded him.

Chapter 915 - 915 Qingqiu, Open Your Eyes and Look, This Is The Fire Elemental Lord That Would End Your Life! [2/4]

His flattery just now had raised everyone's high expectations for Lion City.

Naturally, he had less hope for a troop that couldn't exceed the strength of the Mountain Duke by much.

However, that could shock them later, no matter how pessimistic they were now.

The trump card of the Blazing Flame Guild was the transcendent Fire Elemental Lord!!

Transcendent!

Passion filled their gazes.

The battle power of an elemental lifeform was much stronger than ordinary ones.

That included the fire elementals that were known for their violent nature.

The monstrous flames could instantly destroy the giant city before them if the other party tore the void and connected the Fire Elemental Plane to the Mortal Plane.

This time, they would make Lion City a place they could destroy Qingqiu.

The streamer from the Blazing Flame Guild took a deep breath. He calmed down his excitement, immediately turned around, and walked in another direction.

A moment later, a middle-aged man that wore a priest's robe of the Church of the Fire God appeared on the screen.

[Eternal Flame, Guild Leader of the Blazing Guild, Level 16 Blazing Priest]

The bullet screen immediately sent out all of the messages.

[F*ck, a level 16 lord!!]

[Blazing Priest is a hidden profession of the Church of the Fire God, right? It's a fierce match.]

"Guild Leader, what do you say?"

The Eternal Flame nodded and looked at the translucent live stream camera.

His tone was steady and soul-strapping, and it had a strong appeal.

“Qingqiu is a tough opponent. It’s not an exaggeration to say that he’s the strongest opponent the Blazing Flame Guild has ever faced.”

“Qingqiu doesn’t just have the title of the number one player, his strength... It had far exceeded the scope of ordinary players.”

“Even some of the native forces are no match to him.”

“In the entire player community, those who can compete with Qingqiu...”

He raised his right hand and spread his fingers.

“I can count them on one palm.”

His tone became heavier.

“I’m talking about all the big guilds!”

His words caused an uproar among the audience.

The steamer's identity was different, although the steamer from the Blazing Flame Guild had praised Qingqiu.

The person before him was a level 16 top boss with a hidden class. He was also the leader of a top guild.

Their statuses were different, and the weight of their words was completely different.

[Is Qingqiu so powerful that one could not compete with him?]

[F*ck, how strong is that Qingqiu?]

[What did the Blazing Flame Guild discover? Why are they so afraid of Qingqiu?]

Billions of spectators were curious as to why the members of the Blazing Flame Guild were so wary of Qingqiu.

The Eternal Flame did not answer their questions. It continued after a pause.

“You will see for yourselves how powerful Qingqiu is.”

“The Blazing Flame Guild will end all of this today.”

“The first year of the ‘Shining Era’ led by Qingqiu will end here.”

“In the future, there will be a clash between the big guilds. It will be difficult for a single player to stay out of the waves.”

“Even Qingqiu is no exception!”

“From the moment we defeated the natives, the situation has changed. After Qingqiu falls, a new era will come—the guilds will become the leaders.”

“The Blazing Flame Guild welcomes all people of insight to join us!”

“My goal is to build the Blazing Flame Guild into a force that can influence the situation in the “Shining Era.”

“As the guild master, I invite all of you to join. Regardless of your faith, race, age, or gender, as long as you are a lord and own territory, the Blazing Flame Guild will welcome you.”

The audience immediately became restless when they heard this.

Would guilds become the dominant players?

Many people had subtle expressions on their faces.

Would that happen?

One thoughtfully pondered. It felt that it was reasonable.

Individual players had no advantage over guilds with several players.

Once a guild targeted them, they couldn't resist.

They could have established a large guild with hundreds of thousands of people like Planet Blue. They considered the geographical restrictions.

It was human nature to stay together for warmth.

These words directly affected the billions of viewers in the live stream. Many people began to wonder if they should join a guild.

The streamer of the Blazing Flame Guild took over the topic at the right time and let the Eternal Flame temporarily leave his sight.

The people at the back immediately came to report.

“Guild Leader, the public opinion has already been stirred up. The number of posts about the guild is increasing rapidly on the forums.”

The guild leader smiled.

An individual is clever but would become stupid when mixed in a group.

Everyone had a herd mentality. The situation would change drastically if an influential person guided them a little.

Guilds would officially become the most pivotal part of the players from today onwards.

The guild leader had proposed to become the mainstream guild. It would devour the fat piece of meat and be ahead of all the other guilds.

However, there was a prerequisite for all of this. Today, the Blazing Flame Guild would flatten the city.

Let Qingwui become history.

Qingqiu would fall from his divine position as long as he was defeated before the gazes of everyone, even if he were immortal.

“Let’s start a new era.

“The Blazing Flame Guild would become the strongest.

“All troops, listen up... Move towards Lion City!”

The Blazing Flame Guild had more than ten legions and began to move.

A few black masses of heads gave people a great sense of oppression.

Chapter 916 - 916 Qingqiu, Open Your Eyes and Look, This Is The Fire Elemental Lord That Would End Your Life! [3/4]

The audience in the live stream room immediately became alert.

Most people would still treat this war as a fight between the Blazing Flame Guild and Qingqiu without the words of the Eternal Flame.

After that, it would become a clash between guilds and individual players.

Blazing Flame Guild would undoubtedly direct future development if they won. How could any individual players contend with the guild if Qingqiu lost?

The victory of Qingqiu could enormously discount the Blazing Flame Guild’s words. And the reputation of the strongest player would soar to an exaggerated height.

The Blazing Flame Guild troop approached Lion City and stepped onto the yellow sand amidst everyone's anticipation and nervousness.

The spellcasters of the entire troop behind them waved their scepters fiercely before the audience in the live stream could say anything.

Majestic magic power surged.

The sand before them turned into rocks.

That petrified the earth.

That had avoided the same fate as the Mountain Duke.

The troop slowly stopped when they were 500 meters away from Lion City.

Eternal Flame heaved a sigh of relief.

'Huff!'

His body seemed to have been ignited by gasoline, and it suddenly burst into flames.

His entire body turned into pure flames.

Then, the audience exclaimed when Eternal Flame floated into the sky.

He flew alone a hundred meters away from the city wall.

There was one man alone in a city.

This scene was quite impactful.

“Qingqiu, I have no intention of becoming your enemy, but we belong to different sides.

“The victory belongs to the Blazing Flame Guild.

“I know you possess a level 19 hero who slayed the Mountain Duke and a transcendent level subordinate, the centaur.

“However, no matter how powerful you are, you couldn’t stop the Blazing Flame Guild today!

“It will bury your life, and they will continue to write your legend!”

The audience in the live broadcast room instantly exploded.

[What did he say? Qingqiu! Having transcendents as subordinates?]

[F*ck, did I hear wrongly? Transcendents are subordinates and not Qingqiu's masters?]

[Am I outdated? One can also subdue transcendents?]

They didn't expect the Eternal Flame to release such explosive news.

"No wonder the other party was so afraid of Qingqiu. Having a transcendent as a subordinate was simply heaven-defying!!"

"That was a f*cking transcendent!"

"Transcendent!"

Several audience members went crazy.

"I haven't even touched the edge of level 15, and you've already subdued a transcendent?"

"Are we playing the same game?"

The audience wondered if Eternal Flame lied while he astonished them.

Suddenly.

A figure shrouded in yellow sand floated up in Lion City.

He stood before the city wall.

It had faced Eternal Flame that had turned into flames.

The audience immediately confirmed the identity of the familiar figure.

“Qingqiu!”

However, a majestic mountain-like aura suddenly soared before they could release the barrage. It was like a vast rock pressed down on everyone’s hearts through the live broadcast.

All the people’s souls trembled.

That was the pressure of a higher being. An aura one couldn’t resist.

A centaur with a battle axe stepped out of thin air from the city wall in the next second.

She arrived at the side of the yellow sand figure, half a step behind the other party.

One could distinguish the high and the low.

[F*ck, Qingqiu subdued a transcendent?!]

[I'm going f*cking crazy. Why? How could players subdue transcendents?!]

[What level is Qingqiu now? Why would that transcendent submit? I don't understand!!]

The comments exploded again.

Transcendents were like gods that pressed down on their hearts when the mainstream players still hovered between levels 10 and 13.

They suddenly discovered that a player with the same identity as them had enslaved an ultimate existence that they did not even dare to breathe loudly after meeting.

The strong impact almost made them lose control of their emotions.

It was like getting 60 points on the exam and thinking it was still good, but obtaining 1,000 in the same class and being guaranteed to enter the best university. Compared to that, it was unacceptable.

'The Grace Mainland Lord before us is just a unique illusion. As long as the genuine body doesn't die, the figure won't disappear.

'Moreover, a unique power enveloped the opponent's body. A power would trigger the attack. That is a trap.'

Richard frowned when he heard the words that rang out in his mind.

"Continue to investigate and find the other party's trump card..."

"Yes."

The Blazing Flame Guild raised an eyebrow when they saw Richard standing in the sky and did nothing.

They came out alone and provoked him with such great fanfare, yet the other party's transcendents didn't even make a move.

A sense of danger rose in his heart as his thoughts spun.

Did the other party see through something?

"Qingqiu, you..."

The indifferent voice on the other side interrupted him before he could finish his sentence.

“You talk too much nonsense.”

The casual words made Eternal Flame feel suffocated.

“Qingqiu, Melee, Melee. Melee, Melee!”

“Can you shut up?”

“F*ck your rotten leather shoes!”

Eternal Flame had wanted to provoke the other party. But it turned otherwise. The other party had enraged.

“One couldn’t provoke Qingqiu, f*ck!”

His body suddenly erupted with endless light.

The sky instantly turned into a scorching fireball.

It was as if a second sun had appeared.

The terrifying heat caused the surrounding space to distort.

A drastic change happened in the next second.

The world changed color.

'Kacha!'

Cracks spread out in the air like a spider web.

One could vaguely see a fiery red light from the rifts, which also carried endless heat.

Chapter 917 - 917 Qingqiu, Open Your Eyes and Look, This Is The Fire Elemental Lord That Would End Your Life! [4/4]

"Lord, the enemy is opening the Fire Elemental Plane! The phantom images of Grace Mainland Lords are the coordinates. We have to destroy the coordinates to stop him from coming!"

Richard heard this, and the scene stunned him. It appeared to be a catastrophe.

His expression became strange.

"Lord, we have to do something now!"

Richard snapped back to reality.

“No, you can’t stop me.”

The voice froze Richard for a moment. He pondered. He did the right thing.

“Hahaha! Qingqiu, you can’t stop me!!

“An extraordinary existence had anchored this space from the Fire Elemental Plane!

“You will face destruction!”

Joy filled the tone of the Eternal Flame, which had turned into flames.

A lord from the Fire Elemental Plane was a mighty life form. He alone could destroy this city.

This time, no one could stop the rise of the Blazing Flame Guild. No one!!

‘Kacha!’

The spatial rift exploded when it reached a limit. It was like a vast rock crushed it.

The nervous gazes of billions of players watched the scene horridly exacerbated.

Flames and lava poured out of the spatial rift like a waterfall, and the temperature of the entire world instantly soared.

The pressure curled and scorched their hair even though they were thousands of meters away.

Incessant fiery red flames fumed.

The terrifying existence was over 30 meters tall and had two horns on its head. Flames shrouded it. One could vaguely see its exact shape due to the high temperature.

It descended from the endless flames.

It appeared before Lion City.

The entire world fell silent.

The heat that could melt steel, its exaggerated size, and the lava that surged from its vast mouth behind it made this monster look like a god of fire. That gave everyone a colossal impact.

The player's body shook violently.

Was this the Blazing Flame Guild?

They regained their senses and immediately looked at the centaur beside Qingqiu.

All were extraordinary existences, but the centaurs were nothing compared to the Fire Elemental Lord.

A thought grew like wild grass.

Could these defeat Qingqiu just like that?

This Fire Elemental Lord could destroy the entire city.

The emotions in Richard's heart became heavily complicated.

"Qingqiu, Mage, Mage, Mage! That could crush your soul, the elemental lord from the Fire Elemental Plane, His Excellency Klose!"

Eternal Flame's emotions reached their peak.

He finished speaking, and the Fire Elemental Lord emitted scorching heat again.

Then, under everyone's nervous gaze, this terrifying supernatural being slowly turned around and faced Richard in the void.

Their eyes met in the next second.

The air suddenly froze.

Chapter 918 - 918 Your Enemy Is Qingqiu! [1/3]

Billions of viewers watched the confrontation between Richard and the Fire Elemental Lord. Their hearts raced.

They could witness the fall of a legend in the next moment.

[I can't take it anymore. My heart is about to jump out!]

[What should we do? Is Qingqiu going to die here?]

[What can Qingqiu use to block the transcendent Fire Elemental Lord?! That centaur is no match for the Fire Elemental Lord.]

[As long as the Fire Elemental Lord charges over and takes a stroll around Lion City, the city will be burned down, not to mention the Blazing Flame Guild's troops. How can he fight this war?]

The bullet comments were all pessimistic about Lion City and Qingqiu.

Few people had faith in Richard. Those had no chance of winning.

The players of the Blazing Flame Guild were the complete opposite. Their hearts burst with joy.

They envisioned countless players discussed the defeat of Qingqiu and praised the Blazing Flame Guild.

It was so desirable.

It was like time stopped the flow at this moment. In just a few breaths, it seemed like a century had passed.

The Fire Elemental Lord moved under everyone's tense and nervous gazes.

Each of its steps walked toward Lion City under endless lava and flames.

The corners of the Eternal Flame's mouth curled up as he looked at the Fire Elemental Lord's fatal attack with great anticipation.

"Qingqiu, everything you have will be over here.

"The Blazing Flame Guild was the future!"

The death stepped, and another.

The 30-meter-tall boss carried a terrifying pressure with each of its steps. It was like it thumped into everyone's hearts.

Finally, it departed with a fiery trail of flames. The Fire Elemental Lord arrived before Qingqiu.

General versus general!

Everyone wrestled with their breath and waited for the battle to break out.

At this moment, the transcendent boss suddenly placed its right hand on its chest and bowed before the figure.

"Your Excellency, long time no see, you're the one they say? Qingqiu?"

"Huh?"

The Eternal Flame's joy froze when it saw the other party's gesture. A bad feeling welled up in its heart.

"The two of them. Did they know each other?"

The players who waited for the battle in the live stream room were also shocked.

“What was going on?”

Richard looked at the Fire Elemental Lord before him. He had become much more imposing and smiled.

This boss had improved a lot during this time. Its level rose to 22.

“Lord Klose, you have a deal with the Blazing Flame Guild?”

Richard didn't expect that in such a small world, the pride of the Blazing Flame Guild would be the boss he had released from the ancient ruins. Fire Elemental Lord: Klose.

The Fire Elemental Lord Klose went through transcendence. But it was Richard who provided him with the lava heart.

One could describe their relationship as intimate.

The Fire Elemental Lord had always been one of Richard's trump cards. Richard did not expect the Blazing Flame Guild to play this card.

The probability of this coincidence was more unlikely than buying a lottery ticket. Richard couldn't fathom whether he was just too lucky. Or the Blazing Flame Guild was coldly unlucky to have encountered such a bizarre thing.

The Fire Elemental Lord nodded.

The ancient elemental language resounded in the sky.

“This Grace Mainland Lord used a lava heart as a sacrifice to connect to the Fire Elemental Plane.”

“I discovered the aura of the lava heart and rushed over. They thought I was looking for the lava heart as a bargaining chip and begged me to keep in touch with them.”

“I gave them a mission to find the lava heart. As a reward, I can help them once.”

He said apologetically.

“I didn’t expect the enemy they referred to would be you.”

The Fire Elemental Lord turned and looked at the dumbfounded Eternal Flame. The troop felt that something was wrong.

“You haven’t handed over half of the lava heart in the past two months.”

Klose became sparingly angry.

“You lowly beings dare to disrespect my friend?!”

The terrifying ancient elemental language became as restless as a storm.

The magic power in the sky immediately went berserk.

Klose finished speaking.

It was like one poured gasoline on the Fire Elemental Lord's body. The explosion was similar.

The spatial gate in the sky still poured lava, and flames exploded.

That had stretched the width to hundreds of meters.

The irregular cracks were like a big hole in the glass.

The speed of the flames increased several times afterward.

The surrounding temperature rose at an exaggerated speed.

One could see countless fire elemental lifeforms swam within the scorching flames.

The fire-controlled lifeform controlled the lava and flames to surge toward the Flame Guild.

The ground sizzled as the frost and snow vaporized in an instant.

This scene happened too suddenly.

The enemies had already rushed to them and devoured them before the Blazing Flame Guild troop could react.

Miserable screams chimed as the main melody of the battlefield.

The team that had been majestic just a moment ago immediately became a tragedy.

They restrained ordinary lifeforms when faced with elemental lifeforms that could erupt at high temperatures, despite being the church of the god of fire troop, which resisted fire and high temperatures.

However, they couldn't compare to the fire elements from a river of lava and flames, no matter how they greatly resisted.

"No! Lord Klose, please stop attacking!! We are not your enemies! Your enemy is Qingqiu! Qingqiu!"

Chapter 919 - 919 Your Enemy Is Qingqiu! [2/3]

The Eternal Flame that had transformed into flames roared.

At this moment, he felt that his heart twisted in pain.

“How did it become like this?”

The transcendent he summoned attacked his troop!!

That almost made him wrestle with his breathing.

Pain, it was too painful!

The heroic words and spirit that looked down on the world burned to ashes.

The enemies crushed the confidence of the Blazing Flame Guild.

What made him feel even more suffocated was that Qingqiu didn't move a bit during this process.

It was his trump card, the Fire Elemental Lord.

The other party did not have the slightest reason. The Fire Elemental Lord attacked the one who summoned him after he greeted Qingqiu.

The Eternal Flame's face twisted at the thought.

“How much power did Qingqiu have? How could the Fire Elemental Lord reach such a level?!”

“He was a lord of the desert. How could he have a relationship with a transcendent from the Fire Elemental Plane?”

“What right did Qingqiu have to make the Fire Elemental Lord fall out with him and bite him back?”

Countless questions and puzzlement exploded in his chest.

The Eternal Flames almost went crazy.

The scene enormously impacted billions of viewers in the live stream room.

Everyone quickened wide-eyed and open-mouthed.

What did they see? The Fire Elemental Lord summoned by the Eternal Flame had turned the Blazing Flame Guild upside down after he greeted Qingqiu!

“What the hell was going on?”

They thought they would see a legend fall just a second ago and that Qingqiu, the top-notch existence that everyone worshipped in the “Shining Era, would become a thing of the past.

They worried the Fire Elemental Lord would burn the transcendent centaur to ashes.

However, they did not expect the collapse of the Blazing Flame Guild.

The twist was swift, so intense, and so exaggerated!!

After the Fire Elemental Plane's transcendent bowed to Qingqiu, he did not even wait for Qingqiu to speak before he vented his anger on the person who summoned him, using the excuse of provoking Qingqiu.

The viewers in the stream room immediately felt endless mystery when they looked at the yellow sand-shrouded figure in the sky again.

They looked at the transcendent centaur. No one wondered why it could subdue transcendents.

All appeared natural.

What was the big deal about subduing a transcendent? Qingqiu had even connected with the lord of the Fire Elemental Plane.

The boss turned its muzzle and aimed at the Blazing Flame Guild that had summoned it without a word said.

Was this the style of the first player?

Countless people exclaimed.

Several people thought that with the rapid development of the players, especially after the appearance of the first chapter of the Crimson Moon, the Dimension Explorer, there would be people who would close the gap with Qingqiu or even surpass him.

But this time, when the other party appeared before him again, he was still invincible and domineering.

He didn't give anyone a chance to fantasize.

History still wrote about the legend. No one had replaced the author.

[Is this the true power of Qingqiu? Two transcendents at his command?]

[I'm afraid the Blazing Flame Guild would become a complete joke this time. Qingqiu toppled them down with just a word by the transcendent summoned by the Eternal Flame. That is too f*cking funny.]

[A transcendent centaur as a subordinate and a transcendent Fire Elemental Lord as external aid. That is not even counting the hero who killed the level 19 Mountain Duke a few days ago! How much power was he hiding?!]

[Damn it, he got it again!]

The dense barrage of bullet comments combined with the burning of the Blazing Flame Guild's troop turned the live stream from hunting Qingqiu into a silent tribute to the Blazing Flame Guild.

Richard's reputation rose to a terrifying height after this battle.

The glory of the number one player shone brightly once again.

The streamer of the Blazing Flame Guild saw that the situation was over and turned off the live stream while he trembled.

At this moment, his entire mind buzzed. He could not understand why the advantageous situation had suddenly collapsed.

There was no sign at all.

Last time, they could still understand Montain Duke had underestimated his enemy, but this time, all the preparations still went wrong.

It's time. It's fate.

He turned his head and looked at the fire elementals that drove the lave and flames to devour the Blazing Flame Guild's troop without restraint. He sighed again and decisively turned around to escape.

The Fire Elemental Lord had the power to destroy an entire city.

It was not something they could resist. They did not expect to experience the killer move they yearned to use against Lion City.

The Blazing Flame Guild troop collapsed in the endless flames.

The believers of the god of fire tasted soul torture for the first time.

The Eternal Flame felt an inexplicable sense of irony.

However, they were only believers in fire, while the other party rose from fire.

He turned around and looked at the Fire Elemental Lord and the figure shrouded in yellow sand.

“Retreat!”

He finished speaking, and his entire body exploded like a balloon. That formed a fierce hot shock wave.

The shockwave swept up fumes of flames and spread everywhere. It was like fireworks exploded.

That finished Blazing Flame Guild troop.

It was like a vicious wolf ran after a flock of sheep to death. They fled frantically.

The spatial rift where they came from was their final destination.

The scene of this great escape was like a tide that surged.

The troop retreated to the vicinity of the spatial rift a moment later.

The troop was about to pass through. All the spatial rifts shattered. Countless spatial fragments flew everywhere. That severed the troops at the front into pieces.

Chapter 920 - 920 Your Enemy Is Qingqiu! [3/3]

Blood covered the ground.

That had blocked their path.

Those who have escaped fell into the abyss again.

The fire elementals surged from behind and did not care about the enemy's mood.

They burned everything clean.

Thick black smoke covered the sky. And a pungent stench spread.

The screams in the air calmed down. One could not see a single existence stand in the field.

Most of the Blazing Flame Guild troop had all died except for a few who slipped through the spatial gate.

Richard looked at the ignition of the world. His expression was rather subtle.

No one would have thought that this menacing war filled with the ambitions of the Blazing Flame Guild would end in such a manner.

Not a single existence remained on the battlefield. The Fire Elemental Lord, the protagonist of this battle, looked at Richard again.

The boss had mixed feelings toward Richard.

Gratitude fused with respect.

Last time, the lord of dunes had joined forces with the god of the kobolds that attacked Twilight City. He stood on the side of Twilight City without reservation and fought hundreds of rounds with the enemy.

He had personally witnessed the devour of the Kobold God's soul.

Some time ago, the Crimson Moon had risen, and the slaying of ten gods spread to every plane.

The Fire Elemental Plane was no exception.

He saw clearly that the Kobold God was among them.

The Fire Elemental Lord could guess Richard had a close connection with the Crimson Moon. Richard had not said anything about it.

He could even bury a god. The Grace Mainland Lord had not released it from the Blacklight Tower.

Richard's growth had far exceeded his expectations.

Not to mention. Klose threw a deep glance at a spot in the void.

'Two transcendents!'

He sensed an evil and dark aura when the spatial rift shattered. Richard might even be mightier than him.

It had only been a short time, yet Richard already had two transcendents as subordinates.

Therefore, even if he participated in this war and chose to stand on the side of the Blazing Flame Guild, there was no chance of victory.

He could use the flames of the fire plane to burn down the city, but he could not extinguish Qingqiu.

The other party could have buried him if he were too careless.

He could have died if Richard summoned the mysterious helper who slayed the Kobold God!

That angered him when the Blazing Flame Guild summoned him to attack Richard.

Richard was an intimate friend who had greatly helped him and a soul-crushing expert!

These idiots almost had him killed!

The Fire Elemental Lord was so furious. He wanted to use the blood and souls of these idiots to prove his pure friendship with Twilight City.

However, the Blazing Flame Guild never knew about this. They only saw the Fire Elemental Lord bow to Richard, and before the other party could even speak, the Fire Elemental Lord had turned on them.

“Lord Richard, I’ve heard about this plane from the Grace Mainland Lords. I could help you deal with Raging Blood Duke despite his connivance with the abyss. Just let me know.”

The ancient elemental language sounded again.

Richard chuckled as he looked at the intimidating elemental creature.

“That would be best then!”

The people of Lion City heard the conversation. That heightened their morale.

They looked at the figure that floated in the sky with burning gazes.

That was what they relied on!

The lord of the Fire Elemental Plane was a powerful existence that could quickly wash a city out.

But he nonetheless bowed to Richard when they met. He even unhesitantly summoned Grace Mainland Lords.

This kind of deterrence made the underlings tremble.

His approval and respect for Richard reached its peak.

Joy and peace convexed Lion City. They were peaceful during the victory.

A figure was agitated at the Ell Kingdom capital palace.

The Raging Blood Duke sat on the throne. He revealed an incredulous expression while a soldier reported to him.

“You mean...The ultimate move the Blazing Flame Guild had relied on was to summon the lord of the Fire Elemental Plane? However, the Fire Elemental Lord attacked them instead and destroyed ten of their legions?”

“Yes, Your Royal Highness!”

The hall fell silent after the soldier’s reply. The surrounding high-level heroes looked at the soldier with a dangerous expression.

“What the hell are you talking about?”

The reporting soldier could not withstand the surrounding gazes of the top-notch big shots.

However, he had no choice. The information was just that. What could he do?

One had never anticipated the Blazing Flame Guild’s stupidity.

“You may leave.”

“Yes, Your Royal Highness.”

The soldier felt relieved and quickly fled.

The soldier left, and a female hero in her forties stepped forward and said in a deep voice.

“Your Royal Highness, the rebels who have unconsciously displayed strange movements and dreamt of unrealistic fantasies about the remnants of the royal family of Ell gradually surfaced in the past few days after the last victory.”

“We can make our move now.

“The Blazing Flame Guild might have failed, but they found a portion of the Grace Mainland Lords’s strength...”

They didn’t expect Qingqiu to have such a trick.

Something must be extraordinary about a person to become a king of billions of followers.

However, that was all. The duke was still far from being able to fight against them!

She calmed down and continued.

“If my guess is correct, that Fire Elemental Lord is a crucial trump card of the other party. This exposure would enormously reduce the threats against us.

“His power is no longer mysterious and unpredictable.”

Her tone sounded gradually lighter as she spoke.

“That Grace Mainland Overlord’s strength couldn’t be much beyond our estimation.

“Otherwise, they wouldn’t have defended Lion City and not dared to attack.

“The other party has more scruples about us than we do about him.”

These words made the other heroes nod their heads.

That was something that everyone acknowledged.

They wouldn’t have stayed in Lion City for so long if Grace Mainland Lord could overpower them on the battlefield.

The female hero pondered for a moment before she continued.

“According to the current situation, even if the other party still hid one, no, two transcendentals, they won’t be able to stop our advance!”

Her tone gradually sounded high-pitched.

“Unless the other party has a god to rely on!”

These words boosted the morale of the people in the palace.

“We’re not who that Grace Mainland Overlord thinks we are...The support of the abyss is the foundation of our foothold.

“The great lord of greed is watching us!

“Unless that Qingqiu has the strength to contend with this lord. But that wouldn’t be possible!!”

Fervor filled everyone’s eyes.

“How could that Grace Mainland Lord fight against the ruler of the abyss?”

“What a joke!”

They could have flattened Lion City if not for their desire to wipe out all the forces that supported the remnants of the royal family.

“Your Royal Highness, send the troops!”

Everyone looked up at the majestic figure on the gemstone throne.

The Raging Blood Duke looked at everyone’s fanatical gazes and slowly stood up.

He lifted the sword that leaned against the throne and held the hilt with both hands. He placed the sword before his chest and pointed the tip toward the sky.

“For the ruler of greed!”

The other heroes immediately pulled out their swords and sabers and made the same praise gesture. They had burning eyes.

“For the ruler of greed!”

They finished shouting. An evil aura that did not belong to humans appeared on everyone’s bodies.

It came from the abyss.
