

THEIR LYCAN QUEEN BY FOXTAIL

Chapter 171

Part 3 Chapter 1

Nora's POV

The first part of the curse has been broken and I can feel the power surge through everyone. It feels like the witch herself is crying and cursing at the same time. I looked at the king and then I looked at Melinda and I thought something was strange when she pointed at me and I turned around.

Just in time to see the attack from Luca. Fire came towards us but hit the shield instead and the entire shield was set on fire. The shield was created as a globe over us and now it was on fire. I felt Melinda's exhaustion as she was trying to keep it there.

Melinda drop the shield now I mindlink her and I felt her surprise but she still dropped it.

The fire died out with the shield and Helios and Ares huffed. They growled at the same time as we could see Luca come walking. I shifted back to my human form and I picked up my torn nightdress but it still worked.

"Luca, leave." I will not come to your side, ever" I say to him and he throws his hands up in the air and starts laughing, like a maniac

I looked up just in time to move as a fireball came raining down.

"Watch out everyone" I yell and all move to get away from the fireballs.

"Nora, my beautiful Nora. Your soul is mine" Luca continues and Helios attacks before I can warn him.

Luca sends out magic and sends him blasting backwards and Ares roars and puts himself in front of me.

Nora, run Ares says but I shake my head.

I feel for the link to the moon goddess but it is silent and I think that I had it wrong about the gift.

Nora, you need to touch him Aurelie whines while Lillie growls.

I walk around Ares even if he growls. I just slip away from him and walk straight to Luca that looks like he won me over.

“Finally, you are mine” he says and pulls me to him and he kisses me.

I feel disgusted when he does and I hold back as I feel the bile rise in my throat. I stretch up my hands and place them at his head on each side. Then I let Aurelie help me and I am now swept into his memories.

But this time we are looking at the memories from his wife’s point of view instead. She felt curious the first time she saw him and she felt affection for him. They were seeing each other in secret for about six months. Luca proposed and they got married and she was so happy but then Luca had to leave for a while.

Luca was gone for about two months and the first two weeks, she cried and wailed of her loss of him but then she turned cold and lastly she got freed from the love spell and her mind became clear.

She had never loved him in the first place, it was just Luca’s selfish wishes and he accidentally put a spell on her so his feelings were mirrored in her.

“I didn’t know” Luca says and I look at him.

“Now, you do” I say and then I show him my memories

When I grew up in my former pack, happy and then my wolf never came and I was miserable. I met Ben, Daniel, Andrei, Grey, Linus, Tristan and Helios. Helios was my shining star and I felt myself get the— will to live again.

I came here to the lycan kingdom and they declared me princess and then I met Mia and Ares. The problems and tragic that followed, the coma and after that, the memory loss, Maya and even Luca. All memories flitted past us but one thing remained. My love for my mates, true love.

I let that emotion fill Luca’s heart to the brim and he became sad because he wanted that feeling as well. He broke down.

“I can give you this feeling but not by myself” I whisper at him and he looks at me with tears in his eyes.

“How?” he asks with such desperation in his voice:

“Artemis, your mother” I say and I could see this tiny light of hope in his eyes and he nodded.

“I would love to meet her” he says and I smile sadly.

“She would like to meet you to” I say and I felt Aurelie press against me

“But first would you like to meet your sister?” I ask and he smiles

“Yes, can I?” he asks and I smile back

“When I release my hands from you, my mates will pull me away and you need to let them. Don’t fight and I will let you meet them okay?” I say and he seems worried but with a deep breath he agrees

I close my eyes and let my surroundings fade and I let Lillie and Aurelie guide me back to the garden behind the castle. I felt tingles on my back and I knew by instinct that it was Helios and Ares was rubbing my arms and whispering to me.

I opened my eyes and met Luca’s eyes as well and then I let my hands fall down and just as I guessed Helios seized the moment to pull me away while Ares forced Luca down on his knees.

“Wait, please” I say as I see Ares’ claws getting near Luca’s throat.

Ares looks up at me and pulls his claws away from him but he still holds him down. I take one step away from Helios and shift into Aurelie’s form.

Aurelie I will let you have the control now. Can you take him to your mother?

I say to her and she agrees in sorrowW.

I sit back with Lillie and just watch as Aurelie approaches Luca. Ares looks up and lets go of Luca as he realizes that Aurelie was in control this time. Aurelie sits in front of him and she licks him gently on his cheek and he looks up and starts to sob.

His cries and tears were so overwhelming that even I felt sorry for him. Then Aurelie does it she gets up and bares her fangs and before she does it Luca looks at her.

“Please, sister, help me” he whispers in awe and Aurelie whimpers before she throws herself against him and tears his throat out.

Chapter 173

Part 3 Chapter 3 Ares POV Nora has been asleep for two days straight now, we guessed it was because of the massive energy wave that came with breaking the curse and also when Aurelie and Lillie clashed and Nora forced them to submit to one another. She is sleeping peacefully and her heat has died down. Probably because of us marking her but the problem right now is all the gifts. Gifts from all over the seven kingdoms have been delivered. All the ones that are grateful for the broken curse and that our future queen has awakened and the rogue lycans. But we do have one problem left on our hands, well actually two but dad insists that he is responsible for one of them and he will handle it when Nora wakes up. The other thing is the missing werewolf children and the missing rogue lycans. If they have managed to mark the children it means that either all are dead or they are standing with their chosen mates. But to mark a werewolf that is underage is illegal and punishable with death. I have gathered my small warrior team and we are about to set out to find the missing children. David, the boy from Nora's and Anna's old pack told us that the rogues had said one word that he couldn't understand but I knew what it meant and we are setting out there to find them. It was "Alecsar" is a name on a castle that shattered about 50 years ago, hit by a lightning storm and it kind of was destroyed. It's just ruins now but it could be a good hiding spot. So we will travel there today to see if we can find them.. I gather my warriors and we meet outside in the training area, since we will travel in our lycan form we will run through the forests. Ben will also come along as he will be our beta. I look at all of them and notice that Grey is here as well and I smirk at him. There have been some problems with his mate and all of that. Nina isn't one to bow her head down and Grey isn't taking no for an answer. It will be fun to see which one of them that will win the battle. of dominance. Andrei is still depressed about the siren witch but he is more than ever determined to make it up for Nora. And he has trained harder than ever. I notice uncle Dave is coming as well with his little group of former rogue lycans. They have been training together and have been approved to be the queens guard. They are fiercely loyal to her and I just know they will protect her even if they will have to kill me if I stand in their way. The perfect guard for the rightful queen. I shift and take my bag and my warrior does the same and then we run into the forest. I hear uncle Dave and the others follow us and I see animals that are running away from us but this is not the time to hunt or play, we have a mission that we need to handle right now. We will run through about five or six forests and we need to set up a camp to rest before we are there. But no one of us wanted to rest so we left in the early morning to take a break in the middle of the day. We stopped at the edges of a werewolf village and their alpha came out to meet me. He is a young alpha perhaps in his twenties. "Prince" he greets me and bows and I notice the scars on his neck and glance at Ben and he nods. "Alpha, I am sorry but I don't know your name" I say and tries to remember but he hold up his hand "The alpha of this pack was killed in an attack. Rogue lycans came one night and slaughtered half the village on the hunt for the children. I was the delta of this pack and I am now trying to protect the rest of us that are left" He explains and I nod my head. "So delta then, how many of the children did they get? We are heading any warriors to their hideout right now to get them back. Do you have any left in the pack?" I ask him and he nods. "They took around ten of our children, amongst them are my little sister, I will come with you. But I guess you are here to rest so please come with me. We will share our food and drinks with you. Anything to help get the children back." he says with such despair in his voice and I think it over before answering. "Of course, we will need everyone that is willing to come with us" I say and I shift back and pull a pair of shorts on me from my bag. "Mark" the delta says and holds out his hand towards me. "Ares," I answered and shook his hand. "Wow, I never thought I would be brave enough to do that" an older voice comes out and I search for its source. "Dad, come on." Even if he is a lycan and a prince, he is like us. Someone that wants to fight for what is right." Mark says and I lay my eyes on an older werewolf with scars in his face. “A challenge when I was 18” Mark’s dad smiles and proudly points at the scars. I nod my head in respect. “I wouldn’t want to be the other guy then” I say and chuckle but Mark and his dad are laughing at my answer. Confusing the hell out of me. “My mate challenged me, and she didn’t held back as she let her claws rake down on my face” he says and I tilt my head at him in horror “You fought your mate?” Ben asks and I notice that he too has shifted back “Tradition in this pack” Mark answers and shrugs. I shake my head at them as they guide us into the village. I could taste the fear in the air as we walked closer to the center of the village. The ones that were left and alive weren’t scared of us but their eyes sparkled of revenge. They needed it, they craved it for their young ones and I will gladly give it to them. “What is the name of this pack?” Ben asked and Mark hesitated before answering. “The silver stone pack”

Chatper 174

Part 3 Chapter 4

Ares’ POV

The silver stone pack was once one of the largest and most powerful packs in our kingdom but they made their alliances wrong. Their greed was too big as they tried to take down our kingdom. Helios And I were just children back then and our mother was still alive, before the curse was there. When everything was peaceful.

The silver stone pack wasn’t satisfied with being the largest pack so they went to kill our dad and take our mother so they could rule over us. But a mere werewolf pack is nothing for a kingdom of lycans.

They attacked us with not only their pack but with six other packs as well and there was this small battle as dad would say it. It probably was a war for the werewolves but to say that the strength of a werewolf against a lycan is to say a small chihuahua against a wolf. Dad and his warriors killed everyone in the battle.

Mother spared the alpha’s children in return that they would swear an alliance to us and to never attack a lycan ever again. Of course that was also for the other packs that joined hands with the silver stone pack.

But to think that the mighty pack has been reduced to being this small after all of that. I shake my head as I look around and chuckle quietly.

“Prince, you and your men can rest here. I am sorry that we don’t have another place for you to rest but we don’t have a packhouse to speak of anymore” Mark says and I hear Ben gasp

I look to where Ben is looking and I see where the former packhouse was standing. It's burnt down to ashes. And if you look closely you can even tell that they have burnt their own pack members inside

"The rogues burned the pack house down with the alpha and his family still alive in there" Mark says and I growl.

We need to find them quickly. We all take a rest inside a large tent and the pack members come in with food. A teenage girl trembles as she is trying to walk close to me and I can see another older woman standing outside, waving her hands for the girl to walk closer to me.

They are still sacrificing young girls to the mighty lycans, huh? Disgusting Ben mindlinks me and I come up with an idea.

I grab the young girl and pull her over into my lap and pray that Nora won't misunderstand this. I took the tray as it threatened to fall onto the ground. The young girl whimpered while the older woman walked in slowly towards us.

"If she pleases you, your majesty. You are welcome to take her as your chosen one" the older woman said and the thought sickened me.

"Mark" I yell for him and he comes right away and when he sees the girl in my lap he raises his eyebrows in surprise.

"I didn't know that you guys still sold your young ones. Perhaps I will take up the offer and rape her until there is nothing left of her and then I throw her for the rogues to finish off?" I say with a cold voice and I put pressure on my aura.

Mark and the older woman fall down to their knees and the young girl in my arms whimpers and starts to cry. I dip my nose into her neck and smile at Mark before showing off my fangs.

"Stop!" No matter what has happened here, I won't allow you to do it. You already have a mate and I will not allow you to take one of my pack members by force" Mark grits out loudly from the pressure of my aura.

Silent falls over the place and I drop my aura slightly as I pull the girl to stand up. Her tears have wet her pretty face and her eyes are red.

"I am sorry for scaring you, little one. Who is that woman to you?" I whisper to her and she flinches but answers,

"She is Luna's sister. She has been selling off other girls in our pack to rogues so they would stop attacking us" she answers trembling.

Before I can even growl Andrei is holding the woman by her hair and is growling ferociously.

"You did what?" Mark yells suddenly and I drop my aura completely and he gets up and actually slaps her across her face before Andrei can stop him.

"How many

sold and to whom?" I growl as I stand up.

"What does it matter to you?" she spits and then laughs like crazy.

"Do you have any cells or something where she can be put in?" I ask and Mark nods

"Yes, we have the silver cells in the forest" he answers and the woman starts screaming and thrashing.

"Good, Andrei take that with you and lock her up and then we shall continue to go up the mountain" I say and Andrei growls but he doesn't move and I get confused until Ben nudges me.

I look down at my hand where I still hold the werewolf girl in her hand, I release her and smile at her.

"What is your name, little one?" I ask and glance at Andrei to watch him

"Amy" she answers and looks down on the ground.

"Amy, what a cute name, how old are you?" I continue to ask and she peeks up and then looks over at Mark and he nods.

"I am 15 but my birthday is the day after tomorrow so I will turn 16 then" she says and smiles.

"You will gain your wolf then" I say and smile but her smile falters and she shakes her head.

"No" she starts to say when the older woman laughs like crazy and I look at her again.

"No because she is a wolfless girl, a freak" she says between the laughs and I raise an eyebrow at her.

"Amy, were both of your parents werewolves?" I ask her and she starts to shake her head.

"No, my dad is a lycan and my mom's dad was also a lycan. Will I die then?" She says trembling and I look at Andrei and I can see his devastation in his eyes.

Amy is Andrei's mate and she can die in just two days if he isn't by her side then. I just hope that the curse is broken so the girls can get their lycan counterpart. Otherwise.

Andrei growls before walking away and I let Amy go home while I keep thinking about the next problem that just rose from thin air when I suddenly ly get a mindlink from my brother.

"Nora has woken up"

Part 3 Chapter 5

Nora's POV

For two days, I slept for two whole days and under that time a lot has changed but one thing still remains. Melinda and the king.

Ares left on a sudden mission to find the missing girls and the rogue lycans that took them. I am quite curious if I have healed the rogue werewolves as well. Because there existed not a feral werewolf before the curse.

But I can't really go out on a hunt for that right now. Before the blood moon is gone we need to break the curse even if Ares isn't here. Helios And I are sitting in the dining room with the kids and having breakfast when the doors suddenly open and Linus' father comes rushing inside. and falls down on his knees beside me.

"Queen Nora, I am so happy that you are awake since we have a slight problem right now." he says and bows his head at me

"Problem"? Is there someone hurt?" I ask worriedly and he shakes his head and Helios chuckles.

"No but I put Linus' father on the task of keeping check on all the newly healed rogue lycans that have been gathering outside the castle for the last two days that you have been sleeping," Helios explains and I look at him in shock.

“Why would they be here?” I ask dumbfounded.

“They want to swear their allegiance to you, Nora. You saved and healed them from the horrors they have lived in for so many years. You are their savior and their queen. They will never heed the words from another in their entire life. If you so much as said that we should kill everyone in the entire world we would do that without hesitation” Linus’ father says and I gasp.

This sort of loyalty is dangerous, I don’t know if I can handle it very well.

Of course you can, Nora. Because it isn’t just the human counterpart that wants to swear to you but it’s their lycans as well and they will listen Lillie explains and I nod my head.

Okay, but should we do that before or after releasing Melinda? I ask her and she seems to ponder over my words.

It would benefit us if we did it before but if Melinda do break the curse completely then perhaps they will feel a heavy chain on their necks for being bonded to you Aurelie says and I nod.

“We will do another ceremony today to break the final part of the curse and after that. If they still want to then they can pledge to me if they want to” I say and Linus’ father tilts his head in confusion but nods, accepting what I said.

Melinda comes into the room with tears in her eyes and she stops and looks around before her eyes land on me and Helios and then she starts sobbing. Helios gets up and carefully lays his hand on her shoulder in a way to comfort her.

“I am so sorry. I didn’t know. I took her from you” she starts to cry while speaking between the so bs.

Daniel, Melinda needs you we are in the dining room I mindlink him and he answers.

I know but she wanted to speak to Helios on her own, I am right outside he answers and I get up.

I walk over to Melinda and I hug her hard and she looks at me while I smile at her and I feel through the bond and I am surprised to find out that Helios already knew who she was.

How long have you known? I ask him through the mindlink and he looks at me and answers

A few years he answers back and I am quite surprised by his answer but I nod.

I will go find my dad, can you stay with her? He asks and I smile and nod.

When Helios opens the doors, Daniel asks if everything is alright and Helios answers that everything is fine. Daniel comes in to me and Melinda.

“Melinda, Helios harbor no ill will towards you. He has known for a few years now. So I wouldn’t be surprised if you would be angry at him. instead” I say and shrug.

Melinda looks at me completely stunned and then she shakes her head.

“I can’t see his eyes again. I don’t know what to think anymore. Who am I?” she whispers, so confused by all of this.

“You are Melinda, that is you. You can never be another person than you already are.” I say and she nods her head when she suddenly slaps her cheeks.

“Nora, the gifts that have come to you, can we open them?” Melinda suddenly asks and I tilt my head.

“What gifts?” I ask and both of them stare at me.

Helios POV

Finally dad has told Melinda that she is his daughter and our half sister. I have known for a few years. But I haven’t said anything as it hasn’t been my place to say but I have to admit it was actually Ares that found out first.

He hated Melinda for a while until he hated dad and he became silent towards him. That was the time I suggested that Ares could choose his own warrior to start training and dad agreed. I actually believe that dad knows that we either know or that we suspected it. But he never said anything and neither did we.

I walk into his office where he and uncle Dave are standing in a tense and weird stand off. Uncle Dave is furious by the look of him and his aura and dad is too tired to defend himself. It’s like he has given up.

“So I take it that uncle Dave wasn’t as happy then?” I say and close the door and lock it.

Dad glances my way but doesn’t say anything and uncle Dave growls.

"I cant believe that you hid this from me, all these years. You could have told me before the curse or even after I came back but no you held it in." uncle Dave growls angrily.

"Yes, I know but I just couldn't betray her like that" dad says and doesn't even defend himself when uncle Dave punches him in his face.

"And what about you then?" Uncle Dave spits at me.

"Oh, both I and Ares have known for a while now. Sure it's a bit strange and so but we got over it. I think we liked to see dad being wounded over the fact that he couldn't have his daughter as we couldn't have our mom or other sister" I say and shrug and uncle Dave flinches.

"Nora was wondering if you could do the ceremony later in the evening since it is the last day for the blood moon" I say and help dad up from the floor and he nods his head.

"Yes, of course but.." dad says and glances over at uncle Dave who seems to be talking to his lycan.

"Crown princess"
