Chapter 31

Noras POV

The second Linus carried me inside my room and put me down on my b*d I heard her, Mia.

“Go to sleep” and then Linus actually fell asleep with a thud on the floor.

“What are you doing here?” I ask Mia.

“Well it’s a long story but let’s just say that the covens witches wants to meet with you so I am going to take you there” She says and looks angry for some reason

“If that’s the case why didn’t they just ask me?” I retort to her

“Yeah that was the original plan but I thought this was so much more fun so bye bye, I will take good care of Ares” Mia – waved and sent a dark green bubble thing at me and I felt like an electric current inside me before my room disappeared and I appeared in a ... cave?

Wow I really am in a cave I think. I stretched out my hand to touch the cave wall but it disappeared and revealed a large cabin.

Cool. Magic is fantastic sometimes.

The door opens and a woman in her 40's opens the door, she has blonde hair with green eyes and glasses. She is wearing a blue dress and she is carrying a broom. Is she going to fly on it?

But instead she takes the broom and sweeps away dust with it on the front-porch, three times only to the left side.

"Hello, Nora, can you please come here and get inside before our protection barrier sets in place?"

She asks and points up where I can see something coming down like a glass wall.

I hesitate a second but decide to do as she says and walk over to her and stop behind her and watch as the glass wall or rather protection barrier sets in place.

"Wow", I say.

"I guess so but I am used to seeing it but sure it's rather impressive I guess" she says and smiles at me.

“Do you like tea? Oh and my name is Helene” Helene says and I got this mother feeling from her so I nod at her.

“Good then I will make some herbal tea, perhaps your lycan can draw some strength from it” Helene says and smiles sadly and shows me inside.

It’s even bigger on the inside, incredible. I then notice that I aren’t alone. There are six more ladies in here and one of them’ is really familiar.

“Hello Nora, my name is Maria, I am Mia’s grandmother” the elder woman says and I nod.

“Take a seat Nora, we just want to talk to you and you can leave whenever you want.” Helene says and points on a cushion that I didn’t notice. It was warm when I sat down on it.

“Well you know me now, let me introduce you to the rest. This is Beatrice, Carol, Dinah, Fanny and Jane. We are the coven’s elders, almost like a werewolf or lycan elder but we hold more power than the younger ones.” Maria explains and points at everyone.

Carol looks really familiar, I can’t put my finger on it but I still look at her until she begins to laugh.

“Have you figured it out yet, Nora?” She asks and then it hits. me, I do know her.

I almost fly over to her and hug her hard, gosh I have missed her and she hugs me back just as hard.

“I have missed you so much” I almost cried in her arms.

“I know Nora, and I have missed you too. Afterall you were my best student.” She laughs and pats me on the head.

I release her and look at her, she looks the same except she has got a few more strands of gray hair.

“Sit down now Nora, before the other ladies think that I am taking you for myself” Carol laughs and I smile.

“So you do know each other then?” the woman named Fa nny says and glares at Carol.

“Well she was my teacher in the pack where I was born” I say and sit back down.

“Here is your tea, Nora. May I ask what your lycans name is?” Helene gives me a cup of tea, it smells strange.

“Her name is Artemis and if I may ask, why is the tea smelling like this?”

“Well it’s a herbal tea, it does smell strange but it tastes better. Artemis will appreciate it.” Carol says and I nod. I blow on the tea and take a small sip, it feels like I just drank a bit of the forest.

It feels like I can taste the flow of the forest, when the wind goes through the forest and the animals take stroll and eat the grass.

The flowers that wake up in the morning and the rain that falls down softly.

“Nora?” Nora, are you here, sweetie?” Carol’s voice brings me back to reality and I look around to discover that Helene has sat down next to me and there is fruit and some food on a small table in the middle.

“Hihi you are really just like Carol have told us, living inside. your own little bubble sometimes” Fan ny giggles and I blush.

“Well shall we talk about why we sent an invitation for you?” Maria says and looks at me.

“What invitation? Mia just popped into my room and sent me off?” I say and look at her.

“Stu pid girl”

“Insolent”

“Rude”

“Hey Maria, you better put a leash on that girl before we do something ”

Maria sighs and shakes her head. “Stu pid little girl”

“Anyway, we wanted to invite you here today so we can tell you about our ancestor, the very woman that actually cast the curse”

Helene says and puts an end to the insults thrown at Mia in, her absence.

“I have seen the king’s memories already and the queen has told me also. Is there any way for me to see or talk to the witch in question?” I say and tilt my head

“Yes in a matter of fact, we can summon her spirit and with your lycans help we can put her in your body and in that way she can show you” Dinah says carefully.

Have the witch spirit in my body?

Chapter 32

Noras POV

Put the witch spirit inside my body so I can see her memories but it sounds more like the witch will take over my body.

*No not really, I will be there to guide her memories and stop her from doing anything stupid Artemis yawns.

“Okay but how does this work then?” I ask Helene.

“Well it comes with a small risk or a big, depending on how you see it. But we will be right here to help you.” she says and I stare at her.

“What is the risk?” I ask horrified.

“You can get stuck in her memories” Maria says and looks sad.

“But how?”

“Well believe it or not but she is your ancestor” Carol say

“What?” No that can’t be”

“You will have to see for yourself. “Are you ready?”

Helene

says.

*Just do it Nora. I will make sure you don’t get stuck”

Artemis say

“Fine I will do it, I want to know what really happened” I say and drink my tea in one swoop.

one more head.

“Hmm I don’t know, I drank it too fast sensation comes back but disappears in an instant.

“Yeah I get it, I have made the same mistake.” Maria says and laughs.

“Helene, prepare that tea while I prepare Nora.”

Carol says and gets up.

“Another tea?” I ask and she nods.

“Let me see your cup” Maria says and I give it to her while I stand up to walk to Carol but Maria takes a grip on my arm.

“Wait, you will not do this now. We shall talk about your tea instead.” Maria says and looks scared.

“What did you see Maria?” Carol asks.

“We have a problem here girls.” Maria says and I look at her confused.

“The tea leaves say that she is in danger right now. Her lycan is dying and so is she.” Maria says and everyone starts talking at the sametime, but I don’t hear them as I am still stuck on the dying part.

Artemis, what did she mean with that? Are you dying? answer please ‘Yes Nora, I am dying but it’s not that big of deal as she makes it sound like. It’s because of our mates, the more they fight the weaker I become.”

“Why didn’t you say anything*

Well even if I did you wouldn’t have been able to do anything about it. It’s what it is. But I think you can gain a lot from the witch’s memories.

Am I really related to her?

Yes and no

What the hell

Do the ceremony Artemis says and refuses to answer anything more.

“Stop!” My lycan said that I have to do the ceremony so let’s go!” I say and all the witches stop with the chattering and sit down quietly.

“Here is the tea, Nora. Drink it slowly, it will put you into a trance” Fan ny says and smiles.

I sit down and look down in the cup, the tea is red and smells like flowers and cin namon.

I sip it and in an instant I feel something entering me, like someone else is trying to get inside of me. I look up in panic but they smile and nod for me to drink more.

I drink more and I have to steady myself so as not to fall on to the floor. Carol moves to sit behind me and I calm down when I smell her scent. I drink some more but I almost drop the cup from the spinning sensation. Carol catches the cup and I can hear her voice.

But her voice sounds so far away like in a dream.

O

I feel the cup touching my lips and I drink some more and then I get plunged into a complete darkness.

It is not scary but more like a relaxing feeling. I can stay in the darkness forever but it feels like I am forgetting something.

Nora, you are not here to be dreaming, you are here to find out why the curse was placed, remember now.

Oh right, Artemis is right I have things to do. I try to look around when I suddenly feel a pat on my shoulder.

“Hello daughter of the moon” a kind voice says and I look over my shoulder just to be met by a pair of light blue eyes.

“Come with me” she says and she drags me out of the darkness and into the forest.

The light is bright but it doesn’t hurt my eyes.

“I thought the forest would be a nice place to tell you my story, daughter of the moon”

I sit down on a fallen tree and try to see the person which the voice belongs to but it’s just a blur except for those light blue eyes.

“The curse had a backside and it destroyed my looks but my eyes remain that is why you can’t really see me” she says and I nod.

“Are we really related?” I blurt out and she laughs

“Yes and no”

I look at her with anger inside of me.

“We are not blood related but I created you as the loophole of my curse, it was a mistake on my part but it turned out alright” she explains and I can feel that she is uncertain I created the curse because I was devastated after the loss of my child and since I was a hybrid, I was born with a wolf but she never came forward with me so when I casted the curse I killed her completely and in the same second I did I regretted it terribly.

My regrets created a loophole in my magic and I created you with it.

“Me?” I ask and I am feeling more and more confused.

“Yes but the moon goddess couldn’t help herself and put some magic in and gave you two mates. It was never my intention to give you two mates, I wanted to give you a choice, the choice I never got.”

“I have seen the king’s and the queen’s memories, they showed me when you broke the bond between the queen and Dave and then you accidentally binded yourself to the king instead of Dave” I say confused and look at her.

“Yes and no. I wanted the king to know what it felt like to have his heart broken. I never wanted to be with Dave, I was in love with the queen but I accidentally binded myself to the king instead and my plan was to give him myself and then break the bond and really hurt him like he had harmed the queen by forcing her to break the bond with Dave”

I stared at her but it made sense now of course it would have been a true revenge.

“But then I got pregnant and when the queen found out she

“I created the curse because I was selfish and chance to redeem himself. But now Artemis is about to die and you with her. Either you will let your mates mark you or Artemis will die and you will shift and stay in lycan form forever in the moon goddess’ land”

Chapter 33

Helios POV

Mia took Nora and then she came back without Nora again, Ares blew up and almost killed Mia when she got back.

Mia declared that she will be the crown princess and Ares will take her as a chosen mate and break the bond with Nora. Nora can be the queen as long as Mia will be granted the title priestess.

I have tried to locate Nora but the bond is blocked and finally I got a hold off Mia's grandmother. Nora is safe within the coven's walls so I went on with my day while boiling inside.

I want to strangle Mia, because right now she is strutting around like she owns the place while father tries to calm Ares down.

"Helios, can I please talk to you?" Mia asks and disturbs my thoughts of Nora. Sigh

"What Mia?"

"Well Ares and your father are not cooperating well with me so I thought I could get help from you" I stare at her like the dumb witch she are

"And why would I help you again?" I ask

"If Ares breaks the bond with Nora, you will have her for yourself you know." she tries to say but I laugh right up in her face up my anger trembles in fear.

Mia runs out of my office without saying another word while I was about to sit down again when I heard my brother roar.

I walked out of my office and down the steps just to see my brother being thrown across the room and I sigh. I look at the other end, expecting my father but instead I see Nora.

Mia is sitting on the floor behind Nora and Ares is thrown into the opposite wall.

Sighing I sit down on the last step and rub my neck.

“Why?” I ask and shake my head slowly.

“I learned the truth, Helios. My lycan is dying because of you and your brother.” Nora says and I look up at her in shock.

“What do you mean by that?” Ares asks as he gets up from the floor slowly.

“I just said it, she is dying.” Nora answered and looked at him.

“Nora, you have been gone for a week and when you came back you threw Ares into a wall and accused your mates of killing your lycan in a sense. We don’t keep up when you don’t explain” Ben says and I look at him standing beside Nora, trying to talk her down.

There is something different about Nora, I can’t put my finger on it though. It’s like she is different but at the same time not. She looks the same but her aura is different.

“Artemis told me that she is dying because Helios and Ares can’t get along and make up their minds if they are gonna be my mates or not” Nora sigh and look pissed off

“So just because we are brothers that can’t be friendly with each other right now so we are essentially killing your lycan? Ares asks and he does have a point but he has missed the biggest point in it.

“We are like father and uncle Dave” I say and Nora tilts her head against me.

“This is your fault. What have you done to her” Ares say and points at Mia “Don’t you dare blame Mia for this. This is your fault and Helios’. If you guys just had accepted me from the start and marked me, Artemis wouldn’t be dying and everything would have been fine” Nora screams and we just stare at her

I try to mindlink her when I notice that her bond is almost completely gone but I reach Artemis.

What is happening Artemis I ask her

* Oh Helios, I am so glad to hear you. It’s a long story but right now Nora isn’t Nora and you must stop your brother from doing something stupid*

Okay but please tell me, are you really dying and is it our fault?

Yes Helios I am dying but I have been dying for the past 500 years but Nora didn't want to listen to that ear and she let the witch into her mind. You must stop your brother and wake her up or ..

III

"It's too late for that now, I know what I should do now and I am really sorry that I will hurt you too Helios. I really loved you, you know and I will miss you the most." Nora says and I just stare at her when she suddenly kisses me on my cheek. and I just stare at her.

She draws in air and with a high voice says "I, Nora, descendant from the moon goddess, hereby reject my mates Helios and Ares ..." Nora didn't get enough time to actually reject us and she did it wrong too but Ares roars in anger and throws himself at her and does the one thing that is forbidden.

He marks her against her will but it works in a way, the shock from the marking wakes Artemis up and she takes the control from Nora and shifts. But she isn't of age yet so the shift stops midway and Nora screams in agony as she breaks her back.

Her legs elongate and her skin is covered in fur, her back bends forward and her ears get out from the top of her head.

She looks hideous but now it's Artemis that is in control and that is good I think.

"What have you done, Ares?" Our father yells as he walks into the room.

"She tried to reject us father, my lycan just reacted before I could and we marked her and killed her in the process" Ares cries out.

you

free from the prison that the witch put me and Nora in" Artemis voice is grotesque when it comes out from Nora's mouth.

"The witch?" Our father asks

"Yes, Melinda." Your mate"

Chapter 34

Artemis POV

*So this day finally came, huh. Melinda the very same witch that created the curse and at the same time killed off her wolf, my daughter, for a petty thing called revenge. I can never hate humans even if they have done some terrible things like killing my family.

Nora showed me that they do have value, I came to her way early because I saw that she was worthy of me so I appeared inside of her mind and I was there for her. I told her the truth that I wasn't ready to come out in front of everything and everyone.

I was still grieving from the loss of my daughter and I needed to gather the energy that I needed to find the witch and stop her for all time to come. I told Nora that she needed to be stronger before we could shift. But I didn't mean that she needed to work out,

I meant that we needed our mate.

Then she found her mate and I finally could gather more strength but than it happened, Nora met her other mate and I felt my strength going away. I was trapped inside the very same curse which my daughter was sacrificed for.

I am going to die finally but without taking the same witch. with me and now it dawns on me, I have fallen into the very same trap,

I want revenge, just like a human. I will not die before I get revenge on her.

I told Nora to go forward the ceremony so I get the witch.

1/4

she still had powers. So when she showed Nora her memories of when the curse was created and I saw how my daughter died,

I became devastated and in that moment the witch locked me up in Nora's mind alongside with Nora.

I sighed at how stupid I am, sigh. I am one of the oldest lycans that ever existed and I was once again weak and let that stupid witch trample right over me. Nora was crying as the witch that had taken over Nora's body hurt Ares' one of Nora's mates.

And now the stupid witch is trying to hurt the king by rejecting Nora's mates but as I gave Helios a warning, the other one acted as I wanted him to he gave me back the control of Nora's body.

As Ares marked Nora by force he gave me control of her and I shifted partly in a way to attempt control of the witch. It hurts.

Nora like hell but the witch can't do anything and that was the plan all along. I hold the witch in place while Helios and Ares can take care of themselves.

I watch as the king gets really angry and how his brother actually punches Ares but I hold my sight on Helios, trying so much for him to understand that I need help.

Mia groans and stands up slowly, touching her head, since Nora knocked her on it.

I glance behind at her and put my hand around her neck and squeezes, witches has this nasty habit to always know when another witch is in danger and they come right away and it look like I was right again.

Mia's grandmother Maria shows up along with Carol and My Head at them and they all stop, I try to show them what is wrong but the words won't come out of me so I mindlink Helios.

"Artemis is in control of Nora's body and the witch inside her is under some sort of control but they need your help" Helios explains and all three witches nod.

I release Mia and she coughs, I try to say that I am sorry but she backs away from me.

Maria, Carol and Helene placed themselves in a formation around me and so did Helios, Ares and the king as well. Mia stayed on the floor besides Ben, who kept her in her place and kept watch over us.

In some way I feel connected to him and his lycan and I haven't understood why yet, but I will find the connection before it's too late.

Maria started chanting while Helene had a bunch of herbs in her hands. I recognized them, they were in the tea that Nora drank.

Fa nny lights a candle that is red; red as blood.

Then I felt her, Melinda, she was trying so hard to stay in Nora's mind but I still had strength and power in here to fight her off.

"Why are you fighting me off, wolf?" Melinda asks

"Because you stupid human, killed my daughter to create the stupid curse" I answer

I feel her surprise and her regret.

"I liked her so much but we couldn't shift because I was weak, she told me so." Melinda answers.

3/4

"She needed her mate, your second half, and you had him right beside you but you were blind, too blinded to see it." I said and felt sad, sad over my daughter, that she died in vain

"Who was it, can you at least give me that answer?"

Melinda asks

"I didn't want to in the beginning but yes I can give you the answer if you promise to let go of Nora" I answer her, still not certain if she is going to leave or not.

“Yes, I am sorry, I just wanted to hurt him, just as he harmed her” Melinda answered and I can feel her honesty through her words.

“I understand but let go now and I will take you to your mate, he is still alive even now” I reluctantly answer her

“Thank you” Melinda answers and she goes away without resisting.

I feel her leaving Nora’s mind and I retreat as well. Letting Nora have her mind to herself so she can kick Ares’ a*s and mine as well, later.*

Chapter 35
35
Nora POV

Stupid witches, here I thought they had my best interest in their minds but they tricked me again. As I watched Melinda's memories I noticed something that she was obviously blind to, her mate.

I watched her as the matebond forced her to sleep with the king and she even got pregnant but to destroy the king she sacrificed both her own child and her wolf, Artemis daughter. I watched as the term revenge destroyed everything she held dear and everything that everyone else loved. I felt Artemis' rage as she watched how her daughter died. I understand Melinda but how she did it was wrong, she could have done something different instead of killing so many lives. The loophole! I am the loophole in the curse, I am the lycan kingdom's redemption and the king's doom. If I accept Helios and Ares I will destroy the curse but at the same time I will kill their bloodline because I can never have children. A stupid loophole, it's a cursed loophole. Melinda wants me to reject my mates and by doing that, cursing them by not ever having a second chance mate and killing their chosen mates. But no way, even if I have not known them for long I know in my heart that I love both of them equally much.

But as I pondered over what Melinda had done and what I should do now, I got a blinding headache.

*It's not a headache, Nora. It's Melinda, I was wrong she is stronger than me right now. She has taken over and sent you back here with me

What, back here? I look around and notice nothing actually. Hmm

Nothing? Am I nothing for you, Nora?

Of course you are nothing but I can't see you..

Look up

I sigh but do as she wants. Oh sh it. A couple of glowing purple eyes meet mine as I look up.

Artemis?

Yep

I need some light in here, I really want to see your true self.

Are you sure?

Yes.

And with that this place got a bit lighter and I could see Artemis more clearly, she is beautiful.

Am I scary?

No you are beautiful, your fur is just like the night sky, I can swear that it glitters like the stars.

"Oh Nora, I do love you, pretty girl"

r

Stop that. Tell me how to get back, I want to be with my mates. I won't hesitate anymore and if I have to mark them first, I will.

Good girl

I try to understand where we are and how I can take control over my body. Artemis helps me to see out of my own eyes. I see how my body is controlled by Melinda, how she is harming my mates.

I am filled with rage and I scream out my frustration, Artemis whines by my outburst. Sorry. I try my hardest to break out from here but for some reason I feel weaker than I did before.

Artemis, can you take over my body from the crazy witch? I am too tired.

Yes Nora. Just don't give up and trust me

I sigh and sit down or whatever I am doing. Resting. I feel so da mn tired like all my energy is being sucked out. What is happening?

The witch has a hold of your body and the small amount of magic that she has is drawing on your energy but if you give me your permission I will take back the control of your body

Do it.

*Good night Nora"

And then I blacked out or fell asleep.

Later...

“What?” I try to ask but I can hear that my voice isn’t normal and I feel with my tongue over my teeth that are now very sharpened. What in the world is happening?

“Nora, calm down, I will explain but you need to calm down” Helios tries to calm me down and I stare at him like he is a bug. A bug? Well he does seem smaller than me, all of them do. How.

I look down and notice that I am different. I am taller and I have fur instead of skin. What in the world?

“Nora, you have semi shifted, partly shifted. You are taller than us and you have fur, and lycan ears and fangs. ” Ben says and I turn to look at him but I turn too much and I stare at a tree instead.

“And it seems you have the lycan speed as well,” Grey says.

I try to speak but I can’t so I sit down and cry instead. I want my normal body back now.

“Nora, you tried to reject us or the one that had control over your body tried to reject us and Ares’ lost it and forcefully marked you and in that moment Artemis partly shifted.

Probably because to get the strength to fight off the intruder but still she shifted.

You are stuck in this half shift and to make you go back you need to take back your rejection and Ares' need a witch help to unmark you" Helios explain
I get up too fast and lose my balance and as I am falling backwards Daniel catches me, he has also shifted but in full to a lycan.

"Stupid body," I growl out.

"It's okay I got you. I will always be here for you and Artemis" Daniel says and I sigh.

Lucky for me. But I don't know where I am and how in the world am I getting back since my stupid body won't obey me like I want it to.

Nora, easy now. I know you are getting frustrated but we don't need to go anywhere. Ares is on his way here with Mia and her grandmother right now. So we can do this in the forest and Ben have some clothes for you that will suit you so you won't have to be naked when you shift back Helios mindlink me and in confusion I look down and notice that I have ripped my clothes.

Then the moon goddess that my fur covers my chest.

Chapter 36

Nora POV

I can't believe it, Artemis partly shifted and now I am stuck in this very strange form, and everything hurts.

It feels like I have broken my back but it feels like it's not strange. Is this how it feels to shift? I don't know if I want to fully shift. But I know I will have to do it on my next birthday. Sh it.

I try to move my arms slowly but instead I accidentally hit Ben in the chest and I slam him into a tree.

"Sorry" I try to say.

"It's okay Nora, I have been in worse conditions. I hardly felt that" Ben says as he gets up and brushes off leaves from his clothes.

I sit down and hold my body still so I won't hurt anyone else that I care about, sigh.

"Nora, I am coming over now. I am not treating you like a wild animal even though you probably think so but you see. A lycans senses are super sensitive and you are unaware of them, your senses will probably say that I am an enemy so that is why I am taking it slowly. And anything that happens is not your fault, please remember that” Helios tries to calm me down.

I am not calm because I have her scent now, she has entered the forest with my mate and I can feel that he doesn’t want her here. He wants her to stop touching him, he is mine.

Why

is she touching my mate?

“Helios, I think Ares is in the forest with Mia” Daniel begins to say but I don’t stick around to hear the rest as I run away.

I run as fast as I can, I am letting the bond guide me to Ares, he IS mine. I am tackled down to the ground by something or someone, a lycan. My claws didn’t come out but if they did I would have clawed out their eyes for trying to stop me like that. I want my mate, he is mine.

“Nora, stop. It’s the bond, just ignore it, we will help you, just calm down” Helios tries to talk to me but my senses are in overdrive.

Ares comes into view and he looks at me with regret in his eyes and I went completely still, my mind almost went blank and I looked at Helios but he didn't look at me. Helios were screaming at Mia and Ares and at first I didn't get it until Mia came into my vision.

He marked her! Ares marked Mia, overriding my mark. I screamed. I roared with despair and I felt her, Artemis.

She was howling in my mind, feeling the loss of our mate and the shift went back, it was painful but my heart was in way more pain because of his betrayal. Why can't I never be enough? What have I been doing wrong?

"Nora?" Helios said my name and I felt that the shift was over. I was human again but full of despair. I slowly sat up, ignoring that I was naked as I slowly touched my neck where Ares' mark was supposed to be. It wasn't there and I broke down.

I heard that Helios tried to talk to me and Ares and Mia but I couldn't hear anything of what they said, I felt so alone as I screamed and Artemis roared with me in grief and then all went black. I welcomed the dark, thank you.

Helios POV

I can't believe it, Nora semi shifted and everyone could see how beautiful Artemis is, she will be a remarkable queen one day.

But now we wait in the forest as we take her out here, where Nora and Artemis are safest.

But Nora has some problems in her new partly shifted body. She slammed Ben into a tree and even if he said he was fine, I could see on his face that she had hurt him and he was impressed by her strength. Then she felt him, Ares and Mia came into the forest and I was horrified by what they have done and as I watch Nora run off towards them I shifted and mindlinked my idiotic twin brother.

What in the hell are you doing? You can't mark Mia without rejecting Nora! Now Nora is on a rampage trying to find you. How do you think Artemis will feel when she sees Mia?

*It's fake, Helios. I will explain to Nora later, as Mia took away my mark on Nora's shoulder it stuck on her like a temporary tattoo you know. I don't feel a bond to Mia whatsoever and I don't want one either. Artemis will be fine by the way, as long as Nora take back the rejection we can start over again.

Oh sh it Nora is gonna lose it or Artemis is gonna kill Mia or Ares, or in the best case, she will kill them both. Hmm perhaps I should just let her loose on her rampage.. Oh Too late I have already tackled her down on the ground, oh well.

*Ares are you really that stupid to show her that?"

r

Show her what?

You are showing Nora something that will break her and Artemis both, idiot

Then the worst that could happen just happened, Artemis howled and Nora screamed out her distress and her agonish. The sound was heartbreaking and the entire forest answered her.

Tree vines slithered around Mia's body and threw her up in the air and she scream in fear but I didn't care for her, I looked as Nora shifted back to her human form, and even though she was naked, she didn't care. She touched her neck where the mark was before and now it's gone.

Devastation, utterly devastation was heard from her, I fell down on my knees as it felt like my heart was being crushed and so did Ares. But my roar was for something else, Nora fell down on the earth and when I touched her, she was cold.

Her skin was ice cold and her heartbeat was long gone. Nora was dead.

Chapter 37

Ares POV

Mia gave us a choice and I know I will break Nora's heart but will explain to her later and then I will have to suck up for her in my entire life, I just hope that she will not reject me.

Mia can take my mark away by transferring it to herself without destroying my bond to Nora, it will work like a temporary tattoo of sorts. It will go away after a couple of days and my bond won't be destroyed that easily.

I love Nora so damn much, even if I don't know her but hey we got an entire lifetime to get to know one another. We just need to fix my mistake and then, oh goddess, what have I done?

Mia and I go into the forest and while she talks about how the whole thing will go I can't seem to listen to her, I think of Nora when my brother is almost screaming in my mind.

I explain to him that is a fake mark and I get Nora will get pissed but I will explain to her and I truly hope she will have the heart to forgive me but I doubt it.

I can smell her now and the bond tells me that she is close to us now but so is Helios and I hear her whelp, I bet Helios tackled her.

“So ugly” Mia whispers and looks away from Nora while I growl at her and when I look down at my mate..

She is beautiful but I bet she will look amazing in a full shift.

Her fur is midnight black and her eyes are purple and she is sad, devastated. No, it was not supposed to happen like this.

Nora cries and I try to speak to her when she suddenly shifts back and I see the largest scar on her back. I was staring too hard on her back to react when she suddenly fell down onto the earth. Helios took her in her arms and then he howled in sadness and I felt my bond to Nora break.

The forest is wreaking havoc as it took Mia and strung her up among the tree crowns, roots are breaking up from the ground and slither around my body, the wind is picking up its speed but I didn't care. I just stared at Nora's body, wishing with all my being that her heart would start thumping again but it didn't.

After a while the forest stopped moving like it had died too, along with Nora. Helios raised up slowly with Nora's body in his arms and I didn't move as it felt like I died with her.

Daniel, Ben and Grey came running through the forest and I got punched by Daniel and again. I didn't fight back as he beat me to a bloody pulp. I deserved it, I killed her, I killed Nora and Artemis. I killed my mate.

Helios POV

I watched as Daniel beat my brother to the ground and I didn't say anything, I just wished he would kill me instead but Ben and Grey stopped him from killing Ares. I had Nora in my arms and I carried her out of the forest and as I entered the town below the castle, everyone that was outside, stopped with what they were doing.

Everyone bowed their heads in respect, whether it was for me. or for her, I don't know and I didn't care either. I just want her to come back to me, please moon goddess, bring her back now.

I remember the first day I met her, she was dancing with Daniel and even though they weren't mates, they shared a kiss because of the affection between each other. They are soulmates in a way, their lycans are siblings in a way, a lady and her knight.

The first time Nora smiled at me she melted my heart. When I saw her fight, she was strong and I wanted to go to a match against her someday. I have wanted to do so many things with her and I still do but how can I when I know that I also killed her.

I should have marked her as soon as she took back her rejection but she never got the chance to do that. Why would Mia move the mark to herself, this is so wrong. I want to put the blame on someone else but can't, this is my fault, I brought her here.

On our way up to the castle I am met by all the lycans that Nora healed and they are also grieving, they are forming a shield between us and the others. They all own Nora their life, we all own her. She was our future queen, the last living female lican, descendant from two other kingdoms and the moon goddess herself.

I am met at the gates by the warriors and my father and uncle Dave, they all stare at me and Nora with grief in their eyes. I had her for barely three months and she was loved by all that she met and now all is grieving for her. The mate I have waited for, she is mine even if I have to share her with my brother, I didn't care even though he did. He never wanted to share and we had so many arguments and fights over that. And look what that lead til'. Nora is dead and I am too in a sense, but it is strange, my bond to her is still there.

Is it because I refuse to give up on her?

"Elder William, is there any way?" I hear my uncle ask him and he answers but I can't listen to him.

What will we do now without her, I am not giving her up, I will bring her back. She is my mate and I still feel her heartbeat. Wait, what?! I can hear them. Her heartbeat!

Chapter 38

Noras POV

Darkness, just darkness, no light whatsoever, how boring. Just plain boring, nothing to do except sitting here in the darkness like a .. shadow. No even shadows get to see much more than I do right now.

Sure I did welcome the darkness but this is utterly ridiculous and so so so boring!

“Artemis, where are you? Please, respond if you can hear me” I try to yell but I can’t even hear my echo.

A soft giggle is penetrating the darkness and I sigh in boredom.

“It’s not funny Artemis, stop that otherwise I will do something that you won’t be laughing at” I try to threaten my lycan, I must be a stupid human to my counterpart. That must be why she left me.

“She didn’t leave you because of that”

Yeah and how do you know that? Wait, are you my subconscious?

“No, my name is Diane”

Like the moon goddess?

“Yes, that is one of the many names I have been called”

I try to turn around to see the person whose voice I hear.

“You can’t see me in the darkness”

Don’t hide in it then.

“Hihi, open your eyes instead and it won’t be dark here”

What, are you dumb, why would I have my eyes closed? But still I try to open my eyes, huh I did have them closed. Strange.

As I open them I am blinded by light so I blink my eyes rapidly. When I can see more clearly we are once again in a forest. Why is it always a forest?

“It’s not just any forest, this is my land”

I turn around to see our famous moon goddess but I almost laugh out loud, no wait I actually do. To think that the mystery moon goddess that we all love and worship is like a five year old kid.

“I am not five years old but yes I did not age anymore than this. I think it’s easier to play around in this form so I often. stay in it”

Diane says.

Can you read my mind?

“Yes”

Oh da mn! Am I dead?

“In a way, yes.” Artemis, my daughter died of heartbreak and you with her. So right now you have fulfilled one part of the prophecy, you are in my land right now”

r

I am dead along with Artemis. Well, I thought it would be less painful and more bliss.

“You are not really dead, this is more like a limbo but just because you are the human that Artemis chose” You just said I was dead and now I am not, please make up your mind.

I look up and around and notice my midnight black lycan playing with a smaller wolf, black as night with white paws. Both of them are beautiful.

“Yes they are, walk over there, take this path and don’t stray from the path, Nora”

Don’t stray from the path? The paths are straight, how could I stray from a straight path? But as I turned around I noticed Diane is no longer here.

Whatever. I step on to the path and at once I am flooded with memories, both good and bad. My parents, my friends, my old pack, Daniel, Ben, Linus, Helios and Ares. I miss them, all of them. I continue to walk, trying so hard as not to follow them and stray from the path.

I try to concentrate on Artemis and her daughter, I want to talk to Artemis, I want to meet her daughter. But just as I am about to run over there I hear laughter, a child's laughter and I stop and look away from the path ahead of me. Helios is holding a little boy in his arms and they are both waving me over, to come to them. I hesitate, that little boy looks like both me and Helios, I want that, I want a future with Helios. But where is Ares? I try to look for him but I can't find him.

I take a deep breath and continue walking away from the little boy in Helios' arms, I want a future with both my mates. Even if he hurt me by marking Mia, I want Ares, he is my mate. I scream as I feel a strong grip on my shoulders and I look up to see Artemis. I hug her with all my might.

"Finally, I can hug you now, Nora"

"And I can hug you, Artemis. Wait, am I still on that path?"

"No, while you were thinking of our mates, you was walking straight ahead so I just caught you before you fell down"

“Thank you, I guess. It feels a bit weird, talking with you like this”

“I understand, it feels strange for me to”

I follow Artemis to her daughter and I take a seat on the grass as her daughter comes up to me.

“Hello, Nora.” My name is Aurelie and I am Artemis’ daughter” Aurelie says and bows her head at me.

“Hello Aurelie, you are very beautiful, but aren’t you quite big to be a werewolf?” I say and look at her.

“Yes, but as you can see my mother is quite big too. As I am. the first female werewolf and Artemis’ daughter, I got a midnight black fur as well and I am bigger in size too” she tries to explain even though I don’t get it

“That sounds more like an excuse, daughter”

Artemis tilts her head and I smack her on her arm.

“Then what am I going to say then? I am big because I am beautiful then? I sound like a snob” Aurelie says and I giggle.

“You can say that you are bigger than others because you are the first female werewolf and your mother is a legend among lycans” I ponder over the words and notice that both Artemis and Aurelie stare at me.

“What?” I ask

Then I was attacked in a contest of hugging me first, both Artemis and Aurelie were happy with my words.

It feels like I have been in this land for years at the end but I know in my head that I should have been here for just a few minutes, half an hour at most.

“Diane?” What will I do now?” I ask out loud and both Artemis and Aurelie stop with what they are doing and listen to me.

“Well, it’s your choice now, Nora. You can choose to stay here with us or go back to your body but without Artemis.” Diane answer me

“I won’t be a lycan anymore?” I say confused.

“You never were, Artemis was the lycan, but yes you will be an ordinary human” Diane says and I feel down.

If I am an ordinary human I can’t have a bond to Helios and Ares, I won’t survive them. I sigh and start to cry.

“Wait, Nora’s parents are from the blaze kingdom and the knight kingdom, correct?” Aurelie asks and Artemis nods.

“Nora should have a lycan then, she has inherited the qualities of both of the kingdoms. So you can’t just send her back without a counterpart or she will just die again.”

“Hmm

you are right as always Aurelie, I can't send her back without a counterpart but then I need someone to volunteer” Diane says and starts to wander around.

werewolves. I stand up in awe and look around, all sizes and colors except black.

“Umm Diane, why is only Artemis and Aurelie black in their fur?” I ask and she stops and looks back at me.

“Isn't it obvious? They are the firsts of their race so of course they are midnight black and the only ones as well” Diane smiles and continues walking around.

A perfectly white werewolf approached me and it took me a second to recognize it, I crouched down and hugged her hard while sobbing.

“I have missed you my friend” I say to Emily's wolf.

“I have missed you as well, Nora.” she says and licks my cheek. gently.

“Miss Diane, I volunteer to be Nora's wolf, even if I am not strong enough”

“Oh my sweet wolf, you would be the perfect companion for Nora, but as I have said before, your counterpart is not yet dead and you are not released just yet” Diane answers and hugs her.

Emily’s wolf hangs her head down in sorrow but I hug her and whisper thanks to her as she was my friend even though Emily turned her back on me.

“Diane, I want to be Nora’s counterpart” Aurelie’s voice sounds clear in the forest.

“Am I your daughter?” I ask Artemis confused.

“Not by blood but I have always thought of you as my daughter, you reminded me of Aurelie with your strength and kindness”

Artemis explains and I blush a bit.

Chapter 40

Helios POV

I have spent the last week watching over Nora, making sure that her heartbeats don't stop or her breathing for that matter. I sent Ares a thought but I knew he would be fine if he would just man up and apologize to his lycan.

Mia hadn't been seen the last week, her grandmother, Maria, popped in and sat by Nora's side and told her a story that is only passed down through the generations of witches. Maria thought Nora should hear it since Mia caused this much trouble out of greed.

Maria explained that Mia is excluded from the coven's leadership and she will never get her pendant back. Maria also told me that Nora's soul is in there but she could not sense Artemis and my lycan said the same, he can't sense Artemis either. Perhaps she truly died and that is why Nora is in a coma.

I don't really have the answer to that but as I was sitting beside Nora and looked through the legends of Artemis, I read a short section about a wolf named Aurelie. Apparently she is Artemis' daughter and the first female werewolf.

"Artemis, the very first female lycan can only be described as a midnight black wolf that stands on her back legs, there is nothing white on her body except her fangs if they are not stained with blood. Artemis, the first of her species and are naturally blood thirsty and vicious, pray to any god if you ever encounter her because she will leave nothing alive"

Dividing into pages how

Huh? Really? To think humans can be so stupid to write things like this.

They are not wrong, Artemis is the strongest amongst us

What? My lycan just spoke, no wait, that was a girl's voice, I think.

Am not a girl

"What the hell?"

My counterparts oldest son is daft

"Are you my fathers lycan? How can you hear my thoughts, is this some sort of magic?"

Turn around

I turned around just to see my father and uncle Dave standing there and looking at me like I had gone mad.

"Helios, are you alright?" uncle Dave asks

"Sure, I am getting crazy but everything is good" I answer and look wary at my father.

You have always been crazy. You had your mate by your side and you should have marked and mated with her instead of fighting your brother, that way she would still be here

My father hums and takes a seat next to Nora, he takes her hand and I can see his lycan coming forward.

“What are you doing father?” I ask him.

“Your father's lycan is trying to connect with Nora” uncle Dave

Dividing into pages now

says

“Can he do that?” I ask and feel hope.

“Yes in a sense, since Nora saved him from the darkness, both him and my lycan can connect with her but it seems that she is unaware of us so we thought it would work better if we touched her” uncle Dave explains and I stare at him.

Well if it works then be it, I just want Nora back, to say that I am sorry and tell her I love her so much. I want her just as she is, I don't want her to change one bit.

Ares POV

It feels like I am dying. The doctor in our pack just shook his head at me. I know that he finds it ridiculous that I have an illness because I have upset my lycan to the point where he refuses to heal me. Sigh.

Hey, I am sorry for the things I did. I don't know if you are listening but I am truly sorry that I hurt our mate but I am more sorry for not listening to you. You have warned me so many times about Mia but I never listened and I regret it so much now. I promise from now on that I will heed your warnings I try to speak with my lycan but I drift back into unconsciousness from the high fever. I wake up a day later to the doctor that takes my blood sample and checks me over. "You are lucky, young prince. Your lycan has started to heal you and you will be fine in a few days. I am leaving a list here. for the maids on some food you should eat and don't you start with warrior training right away"

Dividing into pages nova

Too much nagging from that doctor, a list of foods and I can only train about 10 minutes a day, who does he think I am?

Fool

I gasp as my lycan said fool as the first word to me, bu hu.

That's not nice even if it is true to the point.

"Ares, can you come out for a minute?" Helios call out to me.

get up and feel sluggish from laying in my b*d for three weeks straight. I see my brother and walk over to him but he walks away so I sigh and follow him up to the library. What are we going to do here? I walk in and almost kill Helios when he suddenly turns on his heel and throws his arms around my neck and kisses me hard. The sheer surprise and his strength made me fall backwards and hit my head on the floor. Unfortunately I don't faint when he suddenly slips his tongue in my mouth, gross. "What the hell?" our father says and Helios releases me in a second. I look up to see our father and.. Helios? I look back at the Helios that kissed me when he suddenly changes and turns into Mia. Shockingly I throw up at Mia where she is sitting on top of me. Urgh. I get up and away from her while she cries that I have ruined her clothes, now that I look at her I can see what condition she is in. She hasn't showered in forever I guess, and she smells terrible, her hair is like a rat's nest and she looks really pitiful. Not at all like the very clean and pridefully witch that she has Dinding into pages now
