

Their Lycan Queen by Foxtail

Chapter 5

Daniel was ripped away from me by a man that roared. "Mine"

My wolf woke up and started to wag her tail. "Mate" I say out loud.

The man in front of me turns slightly around to look at me and he smiles at me and nods.

"Yes I am your mate and you are mine" he says to me and I stare at him. He's wonderful, dark blonde hair and dark purple eyes.

Wait, purple eyes? He is the prince of the lycan kingdom.

"Yes, I am your mate and you are mine, princess"

He says in a deep voice.

"Your majesty. I didn't know that she was your mate, please forgive me." Daniel says and I look around my mate to see Daniel kneeling on the ground

"Yes, I know Daniel but now you do and I want you to respect that, alright?"

Daniel nodded and avoided my eyes.

“Good, now then I would like to get to know my mate, so what do you say? Is there somewhere where we could be alone to talk?” My mate turned to look at me and I nodded and pointed toward the fountain in the middle of the garden:

We walked over there, leaving the others, but I couldn't concentrate on anything other than my handsome mate. Just yesterday did my mom, me and Luna Sandra decorate this place.

The fairy lights hang down from the trees and across to the fountain, creating a magical and intimate place.

“So I get this is a surprise for the both of us” He suddenly says as we sit down on one of the benches across from the fountain.

“I suppose, If you want to reject me, please just do it fast.” I say dejected and look down at my hands.

It was quiet for a minute until a growl teared out of him and

I whimpered by his heavy aura that slipped out of him.

“Why in the world would I do that? Do you know how long I have waited for you?” he almost shouted at me and I just stared at him, unable to do anything else.

“No, no. But I need to tell you something that might change your mind.” I whisper and he nods at me slowly.

“You have had s*x with both Daniel and Tristan. I can smell both of them on your skin.” he says and looks away.

“What? No, I am a virgin. Tristan gave me this dress because mine was torn and Daniel just danced with me and..” I told him

“He kissed you” he finished what I was saying and I nodded.

“So what did you want to tell me then?” he asks and takes one of my hands.

Well I am not like any other werewolf, they call me wolfless since I didn't get my wolf at the age of 16 but I did get her when I turned 18. She told me that I was too weak for her to shift.

Since then I have trained every day and I have the rank of top warrior and I have muscles all over. I am not slender and pretty like most girls and understand if you want to reject me now. Because honestly who would want a mate that can't shift and let herself be bullied when she is strong enough to defend herself.

And tomorrow night she is kicked out of her pack because she is the great shame of her alpha and her pack” I rambled while fighting back my tears, which didn’t work.

My mate just stared at me when he suddenly took me in his arms and kissed me hard.

“Don’t cry princess. Let me tell you something, we lycans don’t get our lycan until we are 18 and we don’t shift until our 21 birthday. But a female lycan won’t shift until she is marked by her mate so you see, there is nothing wrong with you.

Your wolf, as you like to call her, was just waiting for me. Look at your reflection in the water princess.” he explained and I feel that I am so confused. But I do get up and walk slowly toward the fountain.

I stop and turn my head to look at my mate that stands up now and nods at the water. I take a deep breath, making myself ready to get laughed at, but when I look down at the surface I gasp.

I look like myself but with my makeup is smeared over my face but what stands out the most are my eyes. Instead of my dark green eyes they are glowing purple as my wolf is peeking out.

“Do you understand princess? I have been waiting for you all this time. You are mine and only mine.” he said and hugged me from behind.

“Nora” I whisper.

“Nora?” That suits you. Well Nora, my name is Helios and I accept you as my mate.” he says and I blush as his voice is so close to my ear.

I turn in his arms and smile, he bends down and kisses me softly on the lips.

“I accept you as my mate too” I say when we stop kissing each other.

“Can I get a dance with you then, Nora?” Helios asks me and bows with his hand outstretched towards me.

“Yes” I take his hand and he kisses mine.

Helios leads me back to the ball where we can hear the music and the chatters.

“Let’s show them that you aren’t a weak, wolfless little girl instead you are this strong, beautiful woman that is the mate of the lycan prince.” Helios whispers as he takes me in his arms and we start to begin to dance.

“Helios? Why are my eyes purple? I thought that only the royal bloodline had them?” I ask him confused.

“Oh that. Usually it is but my mom was not from any royals and her eyes turned purple when she met my dad and they accepted each other. Dad believes it’s because of the matebond.” Helios says and smiles at me.

I nod my head slowly. That makes sense, I think. We continue to dance until a scream is heard and we stop and look around us.

Emily comes rushing over to us but stops as Helios aura leaks out, probably because I jumped slightly when I saw her.

“Nora! What have you told Ben? It must be your fault that he doesn’t want me” Emily wheezes out her anger at me.

“Or it’s your own fault Emily. You haven’t been exactly nice to our future queen have you now?” Ben says as he walks up behind her.

“A queen? Her? Don’t make me laugh. She is nothing. Worthless. Bi tch.” Emily spits out and once again earns herself a ringing of growls.

“Miss Nora, can you please give me Emily’s full name and title?” Ben asks me as he looks me in the eyes. I can see his sadness in them so I give him what he wants.

“Her name is Emily and she is the daughter of the alpha and luna of this pack.” I say and smile sadly.

“Thank you, Miss Nora.”

“I, Benjamin, beta of the lycan prince Helios, hereby reject you Emily, daughter of the alpha and luna of the silver stream pack”

Ben’s voice was high and clear.

The scream that left Emily was shattering and I turned my head from the sight of her.

Helios let me go and I watched him go over to Ben before nodding and Ben bowed to me and walked away.

Then I felt 10 claws in my arm and I whimpered in pain. I Mooked down just to see Emily on her knees and her eyes black, showing the grief of her wolf.

“You backstabbing b itch. I will ki ll you. I, Emily, daughter of the alpha of the silver stream pack, challenge you, Nora, daughter of gamma of the silver stream pack. “To the death.”

Emily screams in anger and sadness.

I feel this overwhelming force and my vision darkens.

“I accept your challenge, Emily. See you tomorrow at the arena.”

Emily gasps.

“Your eyes, they are purple. You do have your wolf.”
she says in utter horror.

My vision brightens when I hear Helios’ voice.

“What is this challenge about?”

“What? What challenge?” I ask him confused.

“This Emily girl just challenged you and you accepted” Helios says and I stare at him in shock.

“I did what?” I almost scream.

“Your wolf must have taken control and accepted for you then” Helios chuckles.

What? Oh my goddess. What have you done, you stupid wolf.

The alpha of this pack made all warriors swear a pledge so we can’t hurt any member of this pack.
Especially the alphas family.

I am so doomed, help!

I stare at my mate in shock, my wolf took over my body and accepted the challenge which I can't win and Emily will be satisfied when I'm forced to reject Helios before she kills me. What will I do now?

"I need to speak with you, Helios" I begin to say when Emily interrupts us with a growl.

"You are not allowed to explain, Nora" she growls

“He doesn’t know anything about this pack’s rules and I am allowed to talk to my mate about everything else” I growl back.

Surprised by my own growl I jump slightly while some in my pack clap their hands and Helios smiles.

“Come on then, princess. Perhaps we can meet your parents?” Helios say with a bright smile.

I nod and lead the way when he takes my hand.

When we pass Tristan, he smiles and bows toward me. I smile shyly and nod at him.

Don’t be embarrassed, Nora. You are my princess and theirs too. Tristan, come with us.” Helios says and I nod.

I walk to the packhouse and inside, hoping that all residents are in their quarters. My hopes were crushed as my alphas aura smashed into me like a brick wall and I whimpered.

“Nora. What are you doing here? What are they doing here?” the alpha boomed.

Naturally the lycans are in a higher position but on another pack territory they are almost like a threat against the alpha living there. So of course my alpha reacted like this by sending out his aura. Normally it wouldn’t bother me but right now he is putting so much pressure on it that it actually hurts me.

“Honey, be nice. There must be a good explanation for this.” Luna Sandra says.

“Nora, what’s wrong sweetie?” my mom asks.

“Nora, who are they? Do you want to introduce us? Mark, can you drop the aura, please? Nora can’t even answer.” my dad snapped at the alpha.

The alphas’ aura disappeared and I looked around the room. The alpha, luna, my parents, beta Jessica and her mate are all here. The kitchen doors open and the delta pair walks in, great.

“Well, I found my mate. This is Helios, he is the prince from the lycan kingdom and this is Tristan, his cousin. We would like to speak with my parents in private, please” I explain and all grown ups drop their chins in shock.

“The prince? You are mated to the lycan prince?” the alpha says in shock.

“Congratulations on finding your mate, Nora.” Luna Sandra and beta Jessica say.

“Thanks” Tanswer and blush slightly.

“So can please, meet my future in-laws in private now?” Helios says and lets out his aura slightly making my alpha show his neck in submission.

“Jáne and Dean, you guys can show prince Helios to your quarters. I want to give Nora something first, if that is alright with Nora of course.” Luna Sandra says with a small smile.

“Yes Luna.” I say and smile. I know what it is she is going to give me and I am so excited to get it. Helios nods and kisses my cheek and then goes after my parents, he drops his aura only after passing my alpha. I turn to Sandra and notices that Tristan is still standing behind me, I lift my eyebrow at him and he smiles.

‘Helios instructed me to keep you company when he can’t,” Tristan whispers and I just stare at him.

“You are our princess and our future queen. Helios doesn’t trust our gamma right now so I will be your shadow instead” Tristan explained while we followed Sandra to her suite.

Daniel is the gamma and he wanted to take me as his chosen mate. What if Helios hadn’t come to the ball? Would I never have met him then? Or would I have met him in the lycan kingdom?

Would he still have known we were mates even with a witch that could forge a matebond between me and Daniel? Would they have been forced to fight over me then? What if he would have killed Daniel?

“Nora?” Nora, are you still with us?” Luna Sandra asks and I look up at her, and nod while I blush, Tristan chuckles quietly.

“Good. I am so happy that you have found your mate and perhaps with him by your side, your wolf will show herself some day.

This is the gift I wanted to give to you” Luna Sandra said and took forward a large box and opened it.

The first item was her luna dress that she wore when she had her luna ceremony. I have always loved it.

“I can’t take that. What about Emily?” I say but can’t stop looking at the dress.

“Oh you know Emily, she thinks the dress is outdated. Honestly even if I love my daughter, she wouldn’t be a very good Luna in the future.” Luna Sandra sighs and gives me an envelope just as we hear yelling from downstairs.

“Daddy, mommy, help. Everything has gone wrong and it’s all Nora’s fault.” Emily’s screams echo throughout the pack house.

“The young lady thinks it’s Miss Nora’s fault that her mate rejected her. She hasn’t realized that it is her own fault and with that she also challenged Miss Nora.” Tristan explains to Luna Sandra.

“Oh, Nora.” I am so sorry about my stupid daughter. Challenge? But how? This isn’t good. I will mindlink your parents that they have my permission to explain the rules to your mate.” Luna Sandra said and I nodded and smiled. “Is there something wrong with this challenge?” Tristan asks and looks at us utterly confused. “You have permission, Nora. He is not your mate so it’s okay to explain to him but make it quick. I know my daughter and my mate and I can bet that they are on their way here. I will tell your parents to come here with your mate.” Luna Sandra says and I nod and turn to Tristan to explain. “Emily challenged me because of her bond so now my bond is on the stake. If she wins tomorrow I must reject Helios” I begin to explain when Tristan growls. “Helios will never let you go on with this challenge princess” “I know and the most stupid thing with all of this is that I am actually strong enough to take her out. But I can’t and she knows about this.” I sigh and Luna Sandra smiles sadly. “What do you mean?” Tristan asks. “All warriors in training of this pack are made to pledge that basically say that none of them can harm the alphas family so Nora can't even defend herself properly" Luna Sandra explains.

Tristan goes to answer when a loud growl is heard and the alpha's aura comes out from behind me and drops me to my knees.

"NORA" my alpha shouted.

Tristan moved quickly so he stood between me and the alpha, in the defensive position.

"How dare you? You are in no position to go in between me and my packmember" the alpha growled threateningly.

"He isn't but I am" Helios growled back.

I really wanted to look up but I couldn't because the alpha's aura is so suppressing.

"If you don't release my mate. I will make sure your daughter won't live to see through the challenge tomorrow" Helios says and puts some pressure on his aura.

My alpha growled but took back his aura and I released a breath. Tristan reached out his hand for me to take and helped me up.

"Yes, alpha," I said quietly.

"Emily told me that it's your fault that her mate rejected her. Is this true?" the alpha wheezes out.

"No, I didn't do anything. Miss Emily showed her mean side when she hurt me and her mate didn't want her because of that." I whisper

“You showed yourself weak again. Then it’s decided. I, Mark, alpha of the silver stream pack strip you, Nora, daughter of gamma, of your title top warrior and turn you away. You are hereby a packless wolf, a rogue.” the alpha’s voice echoed through my head and through my soul.

I felt my bond to the pack break and I heard the confusing voices of the pack members. I refused to scream even though it hurt so much.

“Mark, what have you done?” Luna Sandra gasped.

“Daddy you can’t do this. I have challenged her and if she is a rogue, she is forbidden to be on the pack lands. I want revenge.”

Emily said from the door

Everyone stared at Emily like she had just grown another head.

“I want to fight her, please” I say through gritted teeth

“Fine. You are allowed to stay on pack lands as long as your mate is here. But you are not allowed to stay in the pack house.”

Alpha say and I nod

Oh wait he isn’t my alpha anymore but it is his title, no matter what. I am raised to respect those who are older than me and those of higher rank.

My mate might be a lycan prince but I am still the gammas, rogue, daughter.

“She will stay with us in the mansion. Her parents can come over to say their goodbyes.” Helios says as he comes and takes me in his arms.

He walks out of there and as I put my arms around his neck I notice that Tristan is right behind him. He is carrying the same box that Luna Sandra showed me.

As we walk outside we meet everyone from the lycan kingdom including Ben and Daniel.

“Prince Helios and Princess Nora, we greet you.”

I look at Helios in disbelief but he just smiles at me.

“Don’t worry, I asked them to come with us”

“But what if they were occupied at the ball or something?”

“Yeah right. No one dared to approach us after the thing with Ben and the little b itch” Linus shrugged “Oh okay” I say and yawned.

“Hold on tight Nora. I will shift so we can get back there a bit faster.” Helios warned me.

But I didn’t get time to prepare as fur sprouted on his hands and his clothes teared as his lycan grew in size. Helios lycan has golden brown fur and purple eyes. He puts his nose in the cro ok of my neck and I giggle as it tickles. He makes a sound that says that he laughs at me.

Then he starts to walk inside of the forest. As I look around I notice that all of the guys have shifted as well and they have built a formation around us.

I feel my wolf perk up and Daniel's scent wafts into my nose. I turn my head slightly and notice him beside us and I smile and wave at him. He glances at me and smiles while at the same time earns a growl from Helios.

Helios suddenly stops and so does everyone else, he puts me down on the ground next to Ben who steadies me as I almost lose my balance.

Before I get the time to ask what is happening, Helios is punching Daniel. Daniel doesn't even defend himself, he just take everything from Helios-

"No, stop them," I plead with Ben.

"Why? This is our nature, Miss Nora." Linus answers instead.

I wanted to stop them but I wasn't strong enough to move, everything hurt. A scream slipped out of me and I clutched my arms and fell down on my knees.

"Miss Nora. What's wrong?" Ben tried to ask me

I couldn't speak as my whole body hurt so much, it felt like my skin was being peeled off slowly. It hurt so much like all of my bones were breaking and bending against my will. "Oh no Miss Nora, calm down, please." Ben said but I could barely hear him. "Prince Helios, stop. You need to stop. Miss Nora is shifting, she needs you." Linus called I barely registered their voices as I looked down on my arms and noticed midnight black fur sprouting out of my skin. The guys gasped and Helios tried to speak with me but I couldn't hear what he said as black spots showed up and the darkness became too much along with the pain and for the first time I fainted.

I was woken up by the sunlight streaming inside from the window. I blinked as I was trying to wake up and I noticed that I was laying down on a bed with green linen. I blinked away the sleep in my eyes and tried to concentrate on where I was. With a bigyawn

I rubbed my eyes and slowly sat up, the room I was in had gray walls and the furniture went in a dark blue color.

I moved slightly as my body was still slightly in pain but I noticed that I was alone in this big bed, groaning when my head pounded to its own beat. Damn this is a massive headache.

I look around the room and notice some clothes on the end of the bed, I pick them up and immediately smell Helios. scent over them and I smile as I think about my mate.

I met him yesterday but I know that I love him already. I am not in love with him but I do love him, the falling in love part will come later I hope. I look down and see that he didn't undress me and I am really thankful for that. I don't care for my scars but I really want to be awake when he undresses me or if I undress for him.

I stretch a little before taking off the dress I got from Tristan, my body still aches even if I don't know why it does. I put on the black shirt and shorts that are a little too big for me but I fixed them so they fit to my body a little better.

I walk to the door as quietly as I can since lycans have very good hearing, but I heard their voices from downstairs as I see the stairs I can tell that I am back in the mansion and Helios put me in the master suite. The same suite that I and Ben prepared for him.

The voices from downstairs were quiet but I could still hear them like I was in the same room as they were in.

“What will you do now?”

“If she can truly break it you mean”

“Shh, don’t make hasty conclusions”

“But everyone saw it”

“She almost shifted”

“Yeah and she is a black wolf”

“Wolf?” You are kidding right”

“There has never been a black wolf. Like never”

“Quiet everyone, she is awake”

“Yes, I am and I am here” I say as I wander into the kitchen in search of painkillers.

All the guys went quiet and turned their heads in my direction and I would have probably turned my gaze down with all the attention but this headache is killing me. I search the cabinets for the painkillers, I know I saw some, somewhere.

“Good morning, Nora” Helios said and I turned to smile at him when I noticed that he was right beside me and he leaned down to kiss my cheek.

“Good morning, Helios” I answer and blush slightly. He smells so good.

“So which one of you will tell me about what happened yesterday? I would like to know and right now with a killer headache I don’t want to even try to remember on my own. But I remember bits, like pain in my entire body and fur on my arms” I say and look at everyone.

Linus walks out of the kitchen and I raise an eyebrow at Helios, waiting for a response.

“We don’t know exactly. We need to take you back home with us.” Helios say and I stare at him

“To the lycan kingdom?” I ask and Helios chuckles.

“Yes, princess”. My father can help you” Helios explains and I start to think about the lycan kingdom. It’s a dream to go there.

“Miss Nora?” Ben’s voice reaches me and I look at him. He is holding a glass of water and I look at it confused.

“Here” Linus says and I jump slightly as I didn’t notice him coming back. He had two painkillers in his hand and I sighed as I took them and the glass of water from Ben.

The smile that spread on my lips made all of the guys chuckle and I blushed at them, but it was a nice feeling knowing that my headache would soon disappear.

“Anyway, Miss Nora. I was just wondering when the tournament was beginning. Almost everyone here wants to blow off some steam and you have your challenge to win also” Ben says and I stare at him in shock.

I forgot about that detail, I got kicked out of the pack, Emily’s challenge, me almost shifting and also Daniel!

I look around frantically in the kitchen when I lay my eyes at him, leaning against the backdoor, looking at the table like he is avoiding my gaze. My wolf is sighing in relief when he meets my gaze and I sigh out loud.

Earning a growl from Helios makes Daniel look away and my wolf growl back at Helios. I take Helios hand and he calms down in an instant. I focus on my wolf and she really likes Daniel in her own way but she does love Helios as I do. I need to try to figure out the situation between me and Daniel for all of our sakes.

“At noon the tournament will begin so we need to be there about an hour earlier to sign everyone up.” I explain and look at the kitchen wall clock and gasp.

“Oh we need to go now”

“Yes, but not looking like that” Helios says and I sigh at him. Possessive lycan.

I will mindlink mom and ask for some clothes then" I say and roll my eyes, earning myself a slap on the butt.

"Don't roll your eyes at me, princess" Helios says and I stare at him while my wolf growls louder at him.

"No need, Miss Nora. Your parents were here earlier and left your bags here" Linus explains and points out in the foyer.

I release Helios and wander over to my bags, and open one of them. I take out a training bra, a tank top, undies, a pair of leggings and a hair tie.

"I will go take a shower and change," I say and point at the stairs.

"We will wait for you princess" Helios answers and winks at

I blushed while running up the stairs. I took the smallest bathroom and took off the clothes and warmed up the shower before hopping in and washing away all scents. I gasped as I looked at the mirror when I stepped out of the shower, my eyes still glowing purple.

Helios called for me to hurry up so I dried myself as fast as I could and dressed myself, I sighed at my hair. It looks like a bird nest but yesterday it was really beautifully arranged. After 10 minutes of frustration at my hair I gave up and came out of the bathroom, I sprinted out and down the stairs but was caught by Tristan that gave me a knowing smile. "What about a braid for today?" He asked me and I nodded my head.

"Yes, please"

Tristan guides me to the kitchen and I take a seat while Tristan begins to untangle my hair, he makes sure to avoid touching my skin as much as he can. Ben comes in with a brush and gives it to Tristan.

"Your hair is pretty long, Miss Nora. I didn't think of that before." Ben says and sounds surprised.

"Yeah I know. I really wanted to cut it shorter but mom said I was pretty with longer hair. So out of fear for her I let it be."

"You are afraid of your mother? "Why?" Tristan asks and Ben chuckles.

"Have you met my mom? I mean longer than two minutes? She is a nice and warm person but damn if you make her angry.

Even if you run till you are out of breath she will catch you and make your life a living hell" I say and shudder.

“I can help you with a haircut if you want,” Tristan says.

“Yes, please but I think that I will have to wait after I have moved away from here” I say with a small laugh.

“But Tristan, where did you learn all of this? I mean the make up and the hairdo from yesterday and now” I ask amazed.

“Oh I learned this at school and practiced on my mother and my aunt” Tristan chuckles

“Yeah, Tristan here made almost every hairstyle that my mom had on official things” Helios says as he walks into the kitchen.

“Yes, well you are ready now, Miss Nora.” Tristan says and I touch the braid. Still amazed, I hug

Tristan and then kiss him on the cheek as a thank you.

Tristan’s face turns beet red and Helios is so stunned that he didn’t even growl at us.

“Shall we go now?” I ask and just stroll outside to meet with the others.

“No shoes, Miss Nora?” Linus asks

“Not allowed in the arena, Linus” I answer and look at him smiling.

Helios, Tristan and Ben come out behind me and Linus raises an eyebrow at them, I avoid eye contact with any of them. I didn’t mean anything with the kiss, it was just a show of gratitude but what surprised me was his lycan.

“Miss Nora?” Linus say and looks at me as I realize something “Ben?” Can I talk to you before we go?” I ask and turn to him and he nods.

I point to the side of the house, it’s silly to go away but it’s out of respect and I really like Ben as a friend and want to show that.

“I just realized that this will be hard for you. This challenge between me and Emily, it’s hard. I am forced to make her submit and then she will accept your rejection before I kill her and if she doesn’t submit I am forced to kill her. And if she hasn’t accepted the rejection when I kill her it will hurt you a lot. Am I right?

I don’t want to hurt you if I can’t make her submit. I don’t know what to do right now.” I try to explain but get confused by my own thoughts.

“Don’t worry about me please. You just make sure that you win over her. Kill her if you must. You are right it will probably sting for a second but you forget, we lycans are strong.” Ben says and smiles sadly.

We look at each other when I hear him and I nod at Ben. He strokes my cheek and takes away a tear that was threatening to fall.

We walk over to Helios and the others.

“Car or running?” Linus asks.

“Car ” I answer and the guys chuckle at me again.

Ma, Helios, Tristan, Ben and Linus go by car while the others run behind. It’s quiet in the car while Ben drives and I look outside the window. I can see the pack I grew up in and memories fill my head until I turn my gaze toward Helios.

“Wow.” We are here now, Miss Nora” Ben say and I sigh

“Yep” I pop the “p” and climb out of the car.

Helios comes out after me and we take each other’s hand and I lead the way over to my parents that are standing in a corner signing up the ones that want to fight.

“Hi honey” my mo m said and I hugged her hard.

“Hi mo m.” So how is it going here?” I ask her and look at delta Ryan

“It’s going fine, Nora. You have outdone yourself with all of this. But do you want the tournament or the challenge first?” delta Ryan asks.

“The challenge first so I don’t waste my energy. And I want to write up some names for the tournament.”

“Okay, which ones?” Delta Ryan asks and I notice that he is avoiding to look me directly in the eyes and he is really avoiding Helios.

“I can make it easier and write them down myself” I say and delta Ryan nods with happiness.

I wrote down the guys names, I made sure to ask before we left which of them wanted to participate. Ben, Daniel, Linus, Grey, Andrei, Lukas, Anton and Nick. The other wanted to watch. I signed my name too.

“I wish you all the luck I can give you, Nora. I will miss you though when you leave this pack” delta Ryan says and I smile.

I hugged my mo m again and then I led Helios over to the arena. Everyone in front of us moved out of their way, at first I thought it was because of Helios or that my scent. changed but no. I looked into their eyes and saw pity and curiosity in their eyes.

“There you are, rogue.” Emily says as I walk past her to my place.

I say nothing and start stretching instead, trying to keep my head clear as I can’t shift and I know Emily is stronger in her wolf form.

“Don’t be nervous, just focus on your breathing and remember not to stumble on your feet this time. Do you know the weak spots of a werewolf?" My dad asks me as he was here and waiting for me.

I nod at him and smile.

"I know and I am ready to show all of them how strong I actually am" I say and hug him hard.

"That's my girl". It's your turn now. Go into the arena and show them your true self and then we'll talk. Go on" My dad said and kissed me on the forehead.

I was really confused but I emptied my head and sought strength from my wolf. As always my wolf is ready for a good fight, especially this time. I watched as my dad guided Helios, Ben, Tristan and Linus to their seats up on the balcony while I and Emily made our way out to the arena.

The arena really is a sight to behold, it is similar to those roman gladiator fighting arenas. It's a big plain with grass. surrounded by bleachers. Sometimes there is training equipment or a fre aking maze in here but right now it's just grass,

We walk out to the middle where delta Ryan and beta Jessica are waiting. I turn around and face Emily.

“This is a challenge between the daughters of the alpha and the gamma of this pack, the silver stream pack. The challenge is about the matebond, the loser will reject their mate and then die by the winners hand. There is only one rule and that is not to harm anyone else that is not part of this challenge, Are both of you ready?” Delta Ryan explains and asks in a loud voice.

I get into a defensive position while Emily takes the offensive position.

“Ready” both of us answered.

“Good.” Ready, set go”

Chapter 8

“Ready, set, go” Beta Jessica shouts.

Emily throws her entire body at me and I simply side step her and make a roundhouse kick that hits her on her back and she lands hard on her face. I dance away as she growls and gets up. We continued this game of Emily attacking me and I danced away.

Emily’s frustration grew as she never was able to touch me and she screamed.

“Fight back, you coward.”

“I never wanted this challenge, you know Emily. We were friends once and I don’t want to hurt you” I answer back as I once again avoid her attack.

But Emily is very strong willed and stubborn, she keeps up with her attacks and each time I simply side step them. In human form I have the advantage and she knows this but this is a matter of pride. Emily’s pride.

Emily rises and she takes one step back making me suspicious of her, she stands there and staring at me with an indecipherable expression. I studied her for a minute as she just stood there, I glanced behind and saw Helios and Ben watching us. Ben began to stand up in a warning but I could hear Emily move and I ducked instinctively but I was wrong and got a knee on my nose.

“Got you now, bit ch” Emily spat at me.

I held my nose that had broken on impact and I bled, my wolf growled in warning and I glanced at her.

Emily’s biggest flaw in her fighting style is that she always shows. what kind of attack she is going to use. So I don’t raise my head as she tries a roundhouse kick and when I see her foot coming for my face I take it with my hands and pull with all my strength.

Emily fell down hard with a loud “thud” and she gasped but I wasn’t done as I twisted her foot and effectively broke her leg. Emily screamed and I released her, she was sobbing and crying but I knew that her wolf would heal her in a few minutes and the tears were of anger not of pain or sadness.

“If you really were my friend once, then why are you forcing me to live through a rejection? Why didn’t you stand by my side?”

Emily screams at me.

I tilt my head and look down at her in sadness, I feel so much sadness for my former friend and I really want to tell her that so I do, in my own way.

“You rejected me, remember? You cast me aside the moment you learned that I didn’t have a wolf. And don’t blame it on your dad or the pack. This was your choice and you didn’t choose me.” I answered her in a low voice but I knew that all the lycans present could hear me.

I turn my back on her and walk a few meters to face the very same pack that I grew up in, all the people I have called friends and family to say the very words that I have repressed for so many years.

“I, Nora, address all the pack members of the silver stream pack. I was born here and I grew up here beside you and I made friends but all of you turned your backs on me and shunned me because of something/ couldn't control! My wolf didn't come to me on my 16 th birthday and I didn't shift on the next fullmoon but I heard her voice. That's something that not even my parents know about and when I tried to tell anyone about it you ignored me. You made me feel like I was a freak when I wasn't. I was just a late bloomer. On my 18 th birthday my wolf did come to me and showed herself and I was super excited and once again I was reminded that this pack has such a huge pride that you have no problem at all with shunning a member of your own pack. I am ashamed of this pack and to think that I was once a part of this pack. I know that a lot of you wonder why I turned rogue yesterday and I will tell you why. I was turned rogue because the pride of this pack was hurt. Miss Emily got rejected by her mate because of her bad attitude and actions and still she blamed me.

The pride of this pack is what's going to end it forever." I let out all my tears and looked directly at my former alpha.

My eyes met everyone's gaze until I found Helios and I smiled. I let him heal me and I took a deep breath. Strangers, all the lycans were strangers but they still accepted me without question. They gave me strength and courage to stand up for myself, I owe them so much.

I turn my back at the pack and face Emily but as I do I can hear people protest about everything and some of them were even screaming in my favor.

Emily growled and I looked at her as she started to shift, the bones were breaking and shifting into their new places. The sound was gruesome and it looked rather painful as her face broke and a snout replaced it. Her back broke and fur sprouted from her skin replacing her tanned skin with gray fur and her eyes turned brown as her wolf presented herself.

Anybody else would have attacked during Emily's shift as that is a very vulnerable state and I can hear my dad's voice telling me that I missed a good opportunity.

What surprised me and probably everyone else was Emily's wolf that suddenly bowed to me.

Helios? Do you know why Emily's wolf is bowing down to me? I mindlinked my mate.

*Ben told me that you can mindlink anyone you have ever met but it's still surprising. Emily's wolf can sense that yours are way above and out of respect for you she is bowing. I can only guess but I think that Emily will have a hard time dealing with her wolf.

It's in a werewolf's nature to show submission to those of higher ranking.* Helios mindlinked me back.

I am not in a higher rank than her. I am a rogue and your mate I say confused.

Nora, you are a lycan born from two werewolf parents. You are special whether you like it or not Helios closed the mindlink while I stared at Emily's wolf.

I nodded at her but she didn't move so I slowly walked to her and put my hand on her head. Her eyes met mine and I smiled sadly at her.

"It's okay now, girl. I know that you don't want to hurt me but you must also respect your human counterpart. It's our secret, yours and mine but now I need you to fight me, please." I say and she whines loudly. She clearly didn't want to hurt me.

I back away and nod at her so she will attack me. She hesitates but then half heartedly attacks me and I just side step her and kicks her on the side. She growls and whines, I shake my head at her. She must be struggling with Emily.

She attacks me one more time and this time I don't move and let her bite me in the arm and she flings me to the side. I could feel her sorrow and that she is hesitant. She really doesn't want to hurt me, it goes against her nature but out of duty she attacks me against her will.

I get up and feel for my wolf wondering what I should do but Emily's wolf attacks me before I get any answer.

She rips into my leg and I scream as she breaks my leg and the pain wreaks havoc through my body.

I hear Emily's voice in my head as she releases me.

Thanks Nora. When you told my wolf that she must respect me I forced to take over and she gave up when your blood flooded our mouths. I wanted you to know that my wolf is gone now so now it's just you and me

I don't answer her but instead I glare at her, she didn't deserve her beautiful wolf and she definitely doesn't deserve to be with

Ben. I must win this fight.

I check my leg and notice the bone pipe sticking out of my skin, I feel like I would vomit by the sight but I hold it down and I try to get up.

But unlike me Emily doesn't have a shred of respect because she attacks me again. She bites down on my other arm and starts to thrash me around violently like I am a rag doll that she is really trying to kill with all of her might. The pain is brutal and overwhelming and the darkness is threatening to take me over when I hear them.

I could hear all my friends, all the lycans roar, telling me to get up, telling me not to give up. They give me hope and I blink away the darkness that threatens to consume me whole.

Ben is mine you know and soon your mate will be mine to Emily's voice echoes in my head.

This makes me see red or well purple, the entity world is tinted in a purple color. My wolf wakes up and she is furious. I let her have control as I am exhausted, I feel her concern for me but I just smile as I could almost feel her licking my cheek in a comforting manner.

I take the so-called backseat in our mind and watch through her eyes and what a sight to behold.

Helios POV

I sit here amazed while I look at my mate, she is so beautiful. She is finally standing up for herself, something that she has longed to do perhaps not like this in an arena where not only the pack she grew up with but also lycans and other alphas and some of their pack members are.

She tells everyone her version of the situation and probably without knowing she releases her own aura. Forcing everyone to shut up and listen to what she has to say. A true queen. I haven't known her for long but I swear that I love her.

All of her. Her strength and weakness show everyone who she really is. The young woman that I love. When Ben told me that she could mindlink anyone she had met I knew for certain that she is a lycan.

Every lycan can do that but only one royal lycan family has the trait that I believe that Nora does have. They can speak with our beasts whether it's a lycan or a werewolf. Our beast side is only that, a beast. It doesn't have a name or a voice, we can sense what it wants or what kind of mood it's in but that's only because it's a part of ourselves. It will be interesting to see if Nora, in fact, is the last female lycan and if she is then she can break the curse. I need to speak with her parents.

Tonice again concentrate on the challenge as Nora suddenly mindlink me, confirming my suspicions, she is a lycan. Explaining to my mate that the brats wolf recognizes Nora's lycan as her leader and closes off the mindlink to force Nora to pay attention to the fight, I watch her.

She is indeed more well built than most werewolf females but that just makes her more attractive to me, she can defend herself. In this world that we live in that is a quality she really needs to have and I am so proud of her. I have always been worried that my mate would be weak and not be able to defend herself, that would lose her because of

I release a roar along with everyone else from my kingdom as we watch the brat break my mate's leg. The smell of blood becomes stronger and the mix with her tears fill the arena as Nora screams out her pain. The brat doesn't give her Nora a chance to recover but attacks again and this time it's her other arm.

She trashes Nora around and at the same time claws at her back. I notice the huge scar Nora has on her back as her tank top is torn into shreds. I made a mental note to ask her parents about that one.

Then I felt it, Nora's lycan had woken up and she semi shifted. Her broken leg and arm snaps into place again and black fur replaces her skin and her eyes glow purple. She roars and my lycan answers her call, he wants to see her rip apart that brat that had the nerve to challenge her.

Nora's lycan rises tall and I see her hands shift into paws with long sharp claws that can shred anything apart. Nora grabs the brat by her scruff and she whelps in surprise as Nora fling her about 100 meters to the side. The brat lands badly as she breaks one of her legs and she screams.

Bén lets out a low growl and I look at him as he is on the verge of shifting.

“Stop” I say to him in warning.

Ben looks at me and nods, he recognizes my authority but still his instincts may take over so I mindlink Daniel. Even if I am frustrated over the bond he has with Nora, I will need him now.

Daniel. Ben is on the verge of shifting. I need you to keep an extra eye on Nora in case I don't succeed in stopping Ben in time

Always

I nod and keep looking at Nora as she stalks her way over to the brat, she looks down on her and releases a loud growl and picks her up by the tail and throws her up in the air. Nora's lycan is driven by instinct right now and there is no telling what she will do to someone that hasn't only threatened her but also me and the matebond.

“I can't hold him any longer” Ben grunts and I nod at Linus. and Tristan to help me in case.

“Why?” Does he want to go to Nora or Emily?” I ask and he seems stunned by the question.

“Nora”. He wants to help Nora, he wants to pledge to her” Ben says confused.

“And what about you? Which one do you want to go to?” I ask, noticing his confusion

“I.. I rejected Emily but the bond is still there but I don’t want to hurt Nora” he explains and I smile at him.

“Lets just watch them for the moment then” I say and Ben sighs in relief.

Emily attacks Nora but she stops and she bites herself, Nora tilts her head and looks at her. Emily’s wolf is trying to take control again but she wont let her. The struggle ends pretty quickly as Nora’s aura comes smashing out and some of the werewolves that are watching fainted.

Prince Helios. What is this aura? I just want to tuck my tail and run away Andrei mindlink me and I look around me.

Tristan, Ben and Linus are sweating while they try to hold their instincts back and I look down at Nora that seems unaffected. I get up from my seat and walk to the alpha of this pathetic pack.

“How are you doing? Well I guess that you can see that she isn’t as weak as you thought she was now. Her aura is amazing don’t you think?” I say to him with a smirk.

“Please Prince Helios. Please, go down to your mate.” Luna Sandra pleads.

“Oh I would really like that but I am not allowed to interrupt right?” I say and glance at her.

“I give you permission” the alpha stutters and I nod. I walk toward the balcony and jump down, landing on the grass with a soft thud. Nora turns her attention to me and I can see the struggle in her eyes as I walk towards her. She growls slowly, her instincts tell her that I am the enemy, trying to interrupt her fight.

I notice Daniel on the side and I hold up my hand at him, telling him to stay at the side. Nora doesn't like that as she roars but stands still. She is struggling to keep the grip and not to lose it over on instincts.

Stop, Helios, please just stop Nora mindlinks me and I stop

*Why? Are you having problem, princess I say and smirk.

I can't. I don't know. Help. No wait don't come here

Make up your mind, Nora. Tell me what it is you are feeling

I am, no she is pissed off. She wants to kill Emily and you Why me?

She doesn't like that you are mean to Daniel. And she thinks that you will take her prey away from her. And hunger, a lot of hunger

Daniel is fine, I don't understand the bond between the two of you and that makes my beast frustrated. I will not take the brat away from her, that's her task. And you are not hungry and neither is she*

What? Yes we are hungry, very hungry. I can feel it inside of her she is starving

No and yes, it's called lust, Nora

What? Lust? Omg she is a horn dog

I laughed out loud at her, seriously she called her lycan a horn dog.

I held up my hands and Nora's lycan back away while glaring at me but I just smiled. Nora turns slowly and effectively drops her aura and I can hear the others release their breaths but I stand still.

I notice Beta Jessica and Delta Ryan are laying on the ground so I slowly walk around Nora to go check on them. They pant heavily and I help them up, they nod at me and focus on the challenge again.

Beta Jessica asks me to stay in case the challenge goes south and they would need help so I stay with them and watch my mate almost beating the life out of the brat. I watch her as she suddenly stands down and shifts back. Nora is laying on her back panting like she has been trying to take control for awhile now.

When a lycan is set on loose it is almost impossible for the human counterpart to reign in control again so to say that I am impressed is an understatement. Nora turns her head at me and glares before she gets up and turns her attention. back at Emily.

“Stand down.” Submit” Nora says and without hesitation, Emily bares her neck.

Delta Ryan approaches the girls and the shouts.

“The challenge is done, Nora wins as Emily stands down and shows submission. Can the mates come down here”

I walk over to Nora but she continues to glare at me so I stop and smirk at her. Ben takes the same way down as me, he jumps down and walks over to us. Nora looks at him and he looks at me and I give him permission. Ben pulls Nora into his arms and hugs her, she puts her arms around him as she comforts him in a friendly manner.

We heard bone snapping and Emily scream as the broken leg snaps in the wrong place.

“Miss Emily, you submitted and so you will accept the rejection and then you will accept your fate that Nora decides for you” Beta

Jessica said

“I, Emily, daughter of the alpha from the silver stream pack hereby accept your rejection” Emily’s voice was shaking as she said those words.

Ben sucked in a breath but Nora just walked over to her and kneeled in front of her.

“Listen closely Emily because I will spare your life but your will live your life the way I did”

I tilt my head and wonder what she means by that and by the look in Emily’s eyes she wonders to, when Nora’s lycan show herself again and force Emily’s wolf out.

“You were the first wolf I could hear and because of that and your endless friendship, I release you from your human counterpart. You can take control whenever you wish for it and Emily will never be strong enough to force you down, ever again.

I, Nora, promises this, you are a free wolf now and so long as I am alive this will never change”

I stare at Nora when she finishes, how in the hell did she do that? That is something I have never heard about. I will need to speak with the elders about this.

“Wow, so since Nora chose to let Emily live, this challenge is officially over and we can begin the tournament” Delta Ryan shouts and the crowd cheers.

Nora takes my hand and I squeeze hers and look down at her, she meets my gaze and gives me a small smile. I lead her back and Ben follows us, leaving his former mate behind without a glance in her direction.

“We need to talk with your parents princess.” I say to Nora and she raises an eyebrow at me.

“I have a lot of questions for them and you will need some new clothes” I explain and Nora look down and she stops

“Shit, I am almost naked”

“Did you seriously notice that now?” Ben asked and Nora blushed

“I was a bit busy you know” she pouted like a child making me chuckle.

I took off my shirt and put it over her head, it looked like a dress on her body but now she smelled like me so I am happy.

Nora’s parents met us at the edge of the arena and Nora hugged them hard.

“We need to talk” I told them and they nodded

“Yes we know.” Shall we talk now?” her mother answered and I nodded.

We walked away from the arena and all the other wolves watching. We took a seat at one of the benches further out of the arena.

“So I know that you have a lot of questions, Prince Helios but we will try to tell the entire story first and so we ask to save the questions to last” Nora’s dad said and I remained quiet.

“My beautiful girl, Nora. You were born as a lycan but what you don’t know is that you are not only the last female lycan but you are also a female lycan born from two werewolves.

Nora, you are a true queen and the last royal warrior lycan”

What? That’s impossible.

Nora Pov

The last royal warrior lycan. What is that? I have heard about the six royal bloodlines but all of them are gone except for one, Helios bloodline. The other five kingdoms were erased because of the war and because of the curse that killed all female lycans but I haven't heard about a royal warrior lycan before.

I look up and see my parents smile sadly and Helios look confused.

"Please tell me more" I beg them "To tell you the entire story would take too long and we don't have that time but I will tell you what I can. I was born between a lycan and a werewolf, your grandfather was a lycan and my grandmother a werewolf. They weren't mates but they fell in love and they had me, then your grandmother met her mate and he adopted me as his own.

My father and your grandfather came from the Red lycant kingdom also called Blaze kingdom. They were strong willed and stubborn but really good fighters, they didn't have any particular ability other than they could mindlink anyone they had ever met."

My dad says and sighs..

"It was worse than Nora, you must understand that when someone has a werewolf parent and a lycan parent they won't be half, they will be either werewolf or lycan and your dad is a werewolf.

My grandparents on my mothers side were usual werewolves but my grandparents on my fathers side were lycans. Not from just any lycan kingdom but the purpur kingdom also called Knight Kingdom. Yes, quite a catchy name, my mother was the princess of that kingdom and she married another lycan to strengthen their kingdoms and they had twins. Me and my brother.

But it's unusual for lycans to have twins, especially one of each, the stronger twin will absorb the power from the weaker twin, like my brother did to me, leaving me without a lycan or any trait thereafter. I left the kingdom and not long after I met your father and what a coincidence everything was or more it was fate playing a prank.

With gathered powers from the Blaze kingdom and the Knight Kingdom, you Nora have both their traits, strong willed and stubborn but what your father forgot is that the females from the Blaze kingdom could always see the truth in another person. It is impossible to lie to you, but you already know that, don't you?

The traits from my kingdom pass down are a bit strange, it always skips a generation, my brother and I don't have the powers that our parents had but I bet you have them since you could hear your lycan on your 16 th birthday. The powers from the Knight kingdom are like that so you could communicate with others counterparts, their beasts to be exact.

You can command them to do what you want or like what you did with Emily's wolf, release them from their prison, give them the freedom they deserve.

You Nora are the last female lycan, a true queen and the last warrior lycan. Prince Helios and his father and probably a few elders can tell you more about our kingdoms and the true power that you possess. We truly believe that you will be able to break this curse and bring happiness back to all of us.” My mom explains

I stare at her, I am the last female lycan and both my parents come from two different lycan kingdoms. I feel a new headache coming like a thunderstorm. I glance down in the arena and see that Andrei is fighting with Delta Ryan. I let my thoughts wander as I watch them fight and a question pop up and I turn to look at my mother.

“Yes, Nora, that ability comes from my kingdom too, that you can see which move they will use before they actually do them, it will come in handy in battles but you can’t always rely on it. You need to trust your instincts also.” Mom says and I nod.

Helios was about to say something when Beta Jessica called out the next tournament pair that was up for a fight.

“Miss Nora and Linus from the lycan kingdom, come down. here and take your places”

I jump up and crack my fingers, eager to fight and stop. thinking about my heritage.

“Good luck, Princess. Remember a lycans weak point is not the same as a werewolf” Helios says, making me stop and look at him.

I slowly nod and then run down to where Beta Jessica and Linus are waiting for me.

“Shake hands and begin” Beta Jessica says and we do as she said.

“I won’t hold back, Nora,” Linus says.

“I would be disappointed if you did” I answer back.

I stand still and watch Linus circle around me, searching for an opening and I remember what my mom had just said, don’t always rely on my power alone, I need to trust my instinct.

Linus would attack from the left but my instinct said he would attack from the right and my instinct won. I ducked and kicked Linus’ leg away making him fall on his butt, he huffed as he got up from the ground.

“You are good but you won’t beat me” Linus growled playfully.

“Let’s see then, don’t you dare to hold back” I say

Linus attacked me again and I counterattack but I was too slow and he hit me on my nose

“Shit, sorry”

I bent down and when Linus was in reach I hit his nose back, effectively breaking it and blood gushed out of it.

“Don’t hold back I said” I growl at him and he stares at me.

I feel my wolf.. Lycan comes forward laughing in my mind, she is having fun.

I attack Linus as he stretches his hand towards me and I take his elbow and spin him so I can throw him off.

288 Vouchers

Linus foresees this and keeps his balance, and so we begin in near combat.

Exchanging blows and comments to each other, in the end I am the winner while Linus is on the ground laughing so tears run down his handsome face.

“Miss Nora wins,” Beta Jessica announced.

“You will get five minutes rest then you will face one of those two” she says and points to another ring on the arena where Ben and another alpha are.

I sit down on the grass and watch them while Linus mutters something as he walks over to Helios and Tristan that have joined my parents as they are watching the fights.

“Ben is the winner,” Beta Jessica announces.

Ben comes towards me with Beta Jessica. “Begin when you are ready, the winner of this fight will face Daniel.”

“How many more fights?” I ask curious

“Five more after Daniel and the last two will have a break of an hour, so everyone can eat and rest”

Beta Jessica explains and we nod.

“I saw your fight with Linus, it was good but you probably hurt his pride a lot” Ben chuckles

“To hell with pride, it’s useless” I say and he agrees “Don’t hold back now,” Ben said and I smiled.

I started with a roundhouse kick and Ben took my ankle and twisted it around and I followed suit so he wouldn’t break my leg. When I landed I kicked out my leg and hit him on his knee, he grunted at impact.

I got up and jumped and kicked him on his back making him fall down, face planting the ground. I squealed like a little girl and he laughed but I didn't care. He jumped up and took a swing at me and I ducked in at the last second but I jumped as a growl was heard and I looked around and noticed Daniel.

"It's okay, he is the gamma and it's a bit confusing for his beast to see us fight" Ben says and I nod, making a mistake and letting my guard down as Ben lifts me high in the air and throws me down on the ground.

All the air leaves me in a loud gasp and I groan, I see Beta Jessica show up in my line of sight and she just smiles.

"Miss Nora is out in five, four, three.."

Ben put his arms up and I took the opportunity to jump up and kick him between his legs. He fell down in a heap on the ground.

"I give up," Ben whispers and Beta Jessica laughs.

"Miss Nora wins"

"In five minutes you meet Daniel, is that okay?" Beta Jessica asks and I nod with a huge smile

Daniel comes over and helps Ben up with a slap on his back. Ben glares at me and I just wave him off.

"You fight unfairly, princess" Daniel says and I look at him.

"I would have lost and I don't lose" I shrug.

My lycan is happy and so is Daniel's and I smile as he sits down opposite of me.

“We need to talk” Both of us begin to say. We begin to laugh but I stop first and look at him, he’s handsome and I really liked him but not like with Helios.

My lycan recognizes his but I don’t know why, all I know is that I really like Daniel and I don’t want to lose him.

“Don’t hold back, please” I say and smile when I see Beta Jessica come up to us.

“The one that wins here will go against the alpha from the silver stone pack. He has beaten two lycans already and he has his sight on you Nora”

I look at her and then glance behind her as I see the arrogant alpha, I admit that he was hot to look at but Helios was like a god compared to him.

I take my fight stance and so does Daniel and when Beta Jessica shouts begin we both surprise each other by attacking at the same time with the same attack and we did this a lot of times. In the beginning it was fun and we laughed at it but later on it began to frustrate both of us. We made it again as we kicked each other on the backs, I staggered but I refused to fall down as Daniel did and I took the chance to kick him in the head, earning myself a growl.

Apparently his lycan became furious and Daniel shifted completely, a big mistake. For him.

I smiled as I walked around him and he froze as I slowly reached out a hand and stroked him on his arm. Daniel watched my hand as I explored him. I stood on my toes and it looked like I was going to kiss him as he bent down but instead I whispered

“Roll”

Daniel’s lycan dropped on the ground and rolled around and tried to hold back a laugh but Helios and the other guys didn’t hold their in as they laughed out loud.

Daniel struggled to take control but as I bent down and began to scratch his tummy even I chuckled. Beta Jessica looked like she was in a horror movie when she approached me.

“Uhm can I take this like you won then, Nora?” she asks in a quiet voice.

“Miss Nora wins” Beta Jessica called out loud.

What did you say to Daniel? Helios mindlinked me

Roll I said and closed it as I could hear the laughter going louder.

Daniel shifted back and I blushed as he was na ked again.

Oh right I should have asked my mom about clothes.

“Miss Nora, have you ever heard about twin souls?” Daniel asked and I shook my head, refusing to look at him.

“Ask Helios to explain it and then we can talk” Daniel said and shifted back before he stalked over to the forest edge.

What is a twin soul? Is that why we are attracted to each other?

“You have a good fighting stance, Miss Nora” a voice came from behind me and I turned to see the alpha from the silver stone pack.

“Thanks and so do you” I say back

“Sure but I think you will beat me quite fast,” he laughed.

“We will never know until it is finished” I say

“You are right, I asked Beta Jessica for a ten minute break before we start. I noticed that you were uncomfortable in those clothes so I thought you wanted to change and perhaps drink something” he explains and I am surprised.

“Yes you are right, thank you alpha.. I am sorry I don’t know your name”

“Patrick is my name. See you soon then”

Tran towards my parents and my mom had already foreseen this as she held up some clothes for me. I hid inside a tunnel and changed quickly, shorts and a training bra. Perfect this will distract him, alpha Patrick.

Sure I am taller and have more muscles but I am not a bodybuilder and I have a little larger breasts and wide hips.

I walked back to my parents and Helios looked at me with so much hunger in his eyes and I just smiled at him.

“Your scar” Ben started to say and I tilted my head.

Ben looked confused but Daniel just sighed and Helios looked like something finally clicked in place.

“Miss Nora and alpha Patrick, you are up” Beta Jessica called and I sprinted down to them.

“And begin”

I kicked alpha Patrick on the knee and he took a hold of my arm and threw me on the ground. The air left me in a gasp, damn that hurt.

Alpha Patrick pressed a foot on my stomach and leaned down.

“You dared to hurt her and then free the wolf from her. I will make you pay for hurting my mate” he spits at me.

“I never hurt your mate, I didn’t know you had a mate. “Who is she?” I ask confused as I take a hold of his foot and kick my legs up from the ground and fling him to the side. Alpha Patrick growls out the very last name I thought I would hear coming from his mouth in that sense.. “Emily”
