58. Last day Its been few days since that conversation between evelyn and noah. In the start evelyn was really scared, she mentally cursed herself for being too emotional and giving them a chance. But really, she did They were giving her much needed space, her privacy. Yes in a relationship these were basic things but obviously with storms it was di icult. It was like teaching a baby how to walk. Evelyn was glad that they were trying, she always sensed their disturbance everytime they had to leave her alone for some time but they would Storms were trying to bond with her they will have multiple movie nights in which storms will always pick up a horror movie and evelyn always end up curled up on their laps in fear. They liked it a lot. The brothers never thought that they will ever be able to live a normal life but evelyn changed it. These last few days were the best And now they were going back to london tomorrow. Today was their Currently they all were having breakfast. They finished their food, ace took her empty plate and the trio went Storms washed the plates. Evelyn insisted to help but as usual they She sighed and decided to went towards the balcony. She settled on the sofa and looked around. She was feeling a little relieved, maybe because slowly everything was getting solved. This relationship was forced and her main thought was even if they begged her to give them a chance, the reality was if she denied them then they still wouldn't have let her go. And she knew that for a fact. But she didn't wanted to spend the rest of her life being scared of them. So, for her own sake she needed to move on no matter how much she didn't wanted to. When noah cried and said all those words, she really got a little emotional. And it wasn't her fault, storms were known to be really cruel men. She doubted they ever cried like this in front of anyone. She brought her knees close to her chest as she stared at the sun. She closed her eyes as the sunrays fell on her small frame. Evelyn slowly started to hum a tune, she recently learned it by Evelyn's eyes shot open she turned her head and saw elijah standing

"Its really quiet out here" he said looking around "yeah" she replied. "You liked this place" he asked. "Yes, its really gorgeous" she said honestly. "We'll come back whenever you want" he said. If that made her happy the brothers will do it. Evelyn looked at him and smiled. They stared at each other, their faces glowing under the sun, elijah brought his face close to her. "Um actually i came here to give you this" he said. Elijah handed her the phone that the brothers gave her, evelyn looked at him confused. "We saved henry's number in it" he said, evelyn smiled widely "really" she asked, he nodded. She hugged him "thank you" she said excitedly, he hugged her back. 39 "We're sorry, we just wanted your attention only on us and that's why we didn't gave you his number and it was really wrong. I'm extremely sorry" he said. Evelyn stared at him with a small smile. "Its ok" she said, elijah kissed her cheek. "I'll leave now" he said and got up. He knew she desperately wanted to talk to her father and she'll call him so he decided to give her some privacy. Elijah le, evelyn called on henry's number and waited excitedly. Henry knew that storms were way more powerful then him but if they were bothering her he'll go any heights to get her away from them.
