

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 281 Saving Herself

Emelia knew that she had been drugged. That was exactly how she reacted after drinking the juice that Oliver and his son had given her.

Thinking of this, her eyes turned red with fear. She was sent to Julian's bed that time, what about this time?

Emelia didn't dare to think about it anymore, because no matter who it was, she couldn't accept it.

If it weren't for the fact that the man was Julian, she would have died a long time ago.

Women were sometimes so stupid. As long as it was the man they loved, they could do anything.

But if it weren't like that, she would have killed herself.

This time, if someone touched her, she would want to die. But when she thought of her father, Vincent, who she had just found, and the warm people of the Longerich family, her tears suddenly fell down.

She couldn't bear to leave.

Why did God treat her like this?

She finally got her father's love and finally got a warm big family. How could God bear to take all this away?

There was a glass on the bedside table. It was obvious that someone had fed her water and medicine with it. Emelia used all her strength to raise her arm and swept the glass to the floor with difficulty.

The glass fell to the ground, shattered into pieces. Emelia took a few deep breaths and struggled to roll off the bed. The glass fragments plunged into her arms and back, which made her sweat all over in an instant, but her consciousness became a little clearer.

Under the stimulation of pain, she struggled to move to her bag. Whether she could save herself or not, she had to do whatever she could at this moment.

The faint sound of conversation could be heard from inside. Emelia could only grit her teeth and speed up.

Chapter 282 I Won't Give Up on You

Ever since Yvonne had thought about sending Emelia to Matt's bed, she had been sending people to keep an eye on Emelia. She had even discussed with Randolph beforehand that he should call Julian and hold him back so that he would not notice anything wrong.

Yvonne knew that, based on Julian's connections, once something happened to Emelia, he would soon be able to find her. Thus, she could only try her best to stall him. She wanted to make sure that by the time he found Emelia, it was already too late.

However, Yvonne's men watched Emelia for a few days and didn't see her come out of her house once.

It wasn't just Emelia who hadn't left the house, but Julian hadn't left either. Yvonne soon got the report that they were living together.

To be more precise, he stayed at Emelia's place all the time.

Yvonne was furious when she heard the news.

In the past, when Julian was with Emelia, Yvonne knew that his heart wasn't with Emelia, so she didn't feel too bad. But now, both his body and mind were given to Emelia. Just thinking about it made Yvonne crazy with jealousy.

Even though Yvonne knew that it was impossible for her and Julian to be together a long time ago, she couldn't accept that he was completely devoted to Emelia. In other words, she couldn't accept her failure.

However, Yvonne never thought that Emelia would risk her life to fight Matt this time.

Because of her desperate efforts, Emelia got time for herself.

Matt's senses had been eroded by the drug and he threw himself at Emelia, who was lying on the ground. Before he could do anything, he was stabbed in the chest by something sharp, which instantly made him scream and roll to the side.

Emelia was only holding fragments of the cup in her hand which had no destructive power. Thus, she had only pierced a little of Matt's chest.

What Emelia didn't know was that Matt was very perverted. One of the examples was that the harder women hurt him, the more excited and comfortable he was.

Chapter 283 She's My Woman

Maisie drove as fast as she could to the hospital. Julian carried Emelia and went to find Arthur.

Arthur asked the nurse to inject a sedative into Emelia, and then gave the medicine he prepared to Emelia. After she completely passed out, Arthur asked the nurse to clean and bandage her wounds.

Julian frowned and asked Arthur worriedly, 'Will there be any side effects of the medicine you gave her?'

Arthur said helplessly, 'Any medicine has side effects. The aphrodisiac that Yvonne gave her is fierce. I can only help her detoxify with strong drugs.'

Arthur added, 'I guess she will vomit three or four times before getting better after waking up.'

'Thanks.' Julian thanked him, his eyes filled with sincerity.

'As long as she's fine.' Arthur was referring to the fact that the Emelia had not been raped by Matt. However, Emelia had been injured when he was with Julian. She must have been quite shocked, so it couldn't be said that she was fine.

Fortunately, David and Maisie acted quickly. They also checked Yvonne's whereabouts while investigating Emelia's whereabouts. That was why Julian could go straight to the hotel where Yvonne and Matt had dinner.

Fortunately, Emelia had managed to stall Matt so that he could not touch her.

Thinking of the wounds on her back and palm, which she had suffered in order to save herself, Julian felt his heart tight.

He blamed himself. He should have learned the lesson from the last time Caroline attacked Emelia. He should have arranged private bodyguards for Emelia earlier so that he could protect her well.

Julian blamed himself so much that he wished he could beat himself.

Arthur knew his thoughts and sighed. Arthur then comforted him. 'Don't blame yourself. You need to look forward.'

Yes, he had to look forward.

He had to teach Randolph and Yvonne a lesson as soon as possible. Thinking of that, Julian went out of Emelia's ward and called Vincent, telling him what had happened to Emelia.

Chapter 284 Losing Everything

Yvonne covered her burning face and clenched her teeth.

She was not afraid of Matt. Her father would protect her. Matt did not dare to do anything to her, but she hated everyone.

She hated Julian, Emelia, Matt, and everyone else. She hated them for pushing her into such a situation, especially when she thought of how she had been tarnished by Matt, she felt that it was better to die than to live.

Yvonne was on the verge of collapse. She struggled to calm herself down. She used the phone in the room to call her mother for help, but after her mother answered the phone, she heard her mother crying on the phone before she could speak.

‘Yvonne, where are you now ? I called you many times but I couldn’t get you. Something happened to your father!’ Rosalind choked with sobs.

Yvonne was shocked and quickly asked, ‘What’s wrong with my dad?’

Rosalind cried and said, ‘Didn’t you see the news ? Your father’s companion in the Capital was arrested. Just now, your father was also taken away by the police.’

‘What?’ Yvonne sat down on the ground, her face as pale as paper.

The backer of her father in the Capital... was caught ?

That meant that her father’s backer had fallen, which meant his father had no one to rely on anymore, and that she would have nothing left from in the future...

How did that happen ?

How could it be like that!

How come the man in the Capital was caught so easily ?

When Rosalind heard Yvonne’s silence, she started scolding her on the phone, ‘I’ve advised you not to argue with Julian for a long time, and I’ve also advised you not to compete with Emelia anymore. What should we do now ? You keep fighting, and everyone will suffer with you!’

‘The Longerich family must have done something to the partner in the Capital. Julian must have done something to your father because of you!' Rosalind was on the edge of collapse, 'What the heck are you thinking? Destroying our entire family? Are you happy now?'

Chapter 285 Too Sweet

Emelia could tell that he was still blaming himself, so she changed the topic. 'Is there some water? I want to drink some water.'

Sure enough, Julian immediately got up and poured her some water.

After drinking the water, Julian asked again, 'You really don't need Jean to come have a look?'

Before Emelia could say anything, Jean knocked on the door and came in.

It wasn't the time that Julian had settled with Jean. Jean took the initiative to come and visit Emelia.

'How are you feeling?' Jean was very concerned.

Although he hadn't been in contact with Emelia for a long time, Jean liked Emelia very much. She also liked Nina. They were all keeping it real, kind and hardworking. Jean was very compatible with them.

Jean had been studying abroad for many years, and her domestic relationships had long been estranged. Therefore, she cherished Emelia and her friends very much. She had just heard that something had happened to Emelia, and she was also very angry.

Emelia comforted Jean in a gentle voice. 'I'm fine. I just got some skin trauma. Don't worry.'

It was as if everyone felt that she couldn't take it anymore. Nina had been crying on the phone, saying that she would come to see her as soon as the filming was over.

In truth, Emelia was very calm.

Or it could be said that she was sure that Vincent would not let go of Yvonne's family, and Julian would also not let them go, so she felt so calm.

She was no longer the Emelia who had no one to rely on. She was not afraid of being bullied, because she had the ability to fight back more fiercely.

Jean was a psychologist after all. She knew that Emelia was really fine when she saw Emelia's current state.

Jean breathed a sigh of relief and said, 'It's good that you're fine.'

Jean then turned to Julian and said, 'I don't think she needs any psychological guidance. She is doing so fine this time.'

Chapter 286 I Can't Leave Her

Emelia was also very surprised to see Winston come in with Vincent. Julian said that he had informed Winston not to come over, didn't he?

Vincent noticed their doubts. He explained, 'I told Winston about what happened to you. He was very worried about you and insisted on coming with me to visit you.'

Winston said to Emelia in a gentle voice, 'Uncle Vincent talked about you. I've been worried about you. If I don't visit you, I can't fall asleep.'

Julian, who was standing by the side, looked at Winston coldly, feeling very sick.

Can't sleep ?

Winston really had a glib tongue. He had just got to know Emelia, so how couldn't he fall asleep ?

Julian thought that he was too fake!

Emelia was very touched. She quickly said to Winston, 'Thank you for coming all the way here to see me.'

Julian snorted in his heart. He wondered if she was really moved by Winston.

He thought she was too naive.

Vincent walked over and asked, 'How are you ?'

Emelia comforted Vincent. 'I'm fine. I'm fine. Don't worry.'

Vincent added, 'Your aunt also wanted to come to see you, but her body is really not suitable for coming, so I didn't let her come. She is worried.'

The father and daughter began to talk. Julian and Winston looked at each other and left the ward consciously, leaving Vincent and Emelia alone.

As soon as they walked out of the ward, the smile on Julian's face disappeared.

They stood in the corridor. Julian sneered and said, 'Mr. Hopkins is really attentive.'

Chapter 287 You Don't Believe My Love for You

Turning back to the ward, Vincent asked his daughter seriously, 'You and he now...'

Emelia's mood was very complicated. For a moment, she didn't know how to describe her current relationship with Julian.

Originally, they were just physically related, but Julian saved her.

Julian kicked the door of the room and rushed toward her. He held her in his arms and went to the hospital. He had been waiting for her with her hand in his by her side, how could she not feel anything at all?

Seeing that she didn't speak, Vincent couldn't help but frown and said, 'Are you thinking that since he has saved you, you want to repay him?'

Emelia immediately laughed. 'Dad, you are too scary.'

There was no need to repay the kindness. It was modern society.

She was very grateful that Julian had saved her, but she had experienced marriage, so she was less impulsive. She would not agree to marry Julian just because she was moved.

Vincent breathed a sigh of relief. 'That's good.'

Emelia said to Vincent in a low voice with some emotion, 'One day, if I get married again, I will definitely get your permission. No one told me before that what kind person is worth living with me for the rest of my life. I used to think that love is the standard, but who knew...'

Emelia was not sad at all. Instead, she looked up at Vincent with dependence. 'Help me it in the future. I believe I will be happy.'

Her words made Vincent's eyes wet. He raised his hand and gently rubbed her head. 'Good girl.'

The father and daughter were full of emotions. While Julian, who was standing outside the door with a kettle in his hand, felt extremely sad.

From Emelia's words, he could tell that the day remarrying Emelia was still far-fetched. It could also be said that she had no intention of falling in love or getting married at all.

Otherwise, she would not have proposed the idea of maintaining a mere physical relationship. He finally knew her thought. She just wanted to sleep with him. That was all.

Chapter 288 Being Really Afraid?

With the disdainful gazes of the crowd, Yvonne left the hospital in a miserable manner.

When she finally got home, she saw her mother Rosalind crying on the sofa in the living room.

Rosalind also knew about the hit of Yvonne and Matt. She was her daughter. Without thinking, Rosalind knew that Yvonne must have wanted to harm Emelia but hurt herself.

Not only did she get herself into trouble, but she also got her father's partner involved. Otherwise, why would Vincent and Julian act so fast? They didn't even have time to react before they took action.

Rosalind was very angry. She got up and slapped Yvonne hard on the face. She scolded, 'How dare you come back!'

After that, Rosalind fell onto the sofa again in despair. She covered her face and burst into tears.

Things had come to that, what was the point of her beating and scolding Yvonne?

The Sullivan family was in trouble!

Yvonne couldn't stand still because she had been tortured by Matt. Rosalind slapped her and she fell heavily to the ground. The pain made her cry instantly.

Since Yvonne had grown up, Randolph and Rosalind had never beat her before. She immediately went crazy with grievance.

She sat on the ground, covering her face and shouting at Rosalind, 'What's the point of getting angry at me?'

'It's all because you did illegal things. Otherwise, even if my father was taken away, things wouldn't be like that.'

'You!' Rosalind trembled with anger at Yvonne's words. Rosalind pointed at her and could not speak for a long time. In the end, she could only continue to cry.

Chapter 289 Truly Heartless

Emelia had just returned from a stroll with Julian when her phone displayed Yvonne's number.

Julian immediately recognized that it was Yvonne's call, so he hung up without Emelia's permission. His expression became very gloomy, and he thought, 'What the hell with Yvonne?'

Did she still want to suffer more?

Emelia didn't know why Yvonne had called her, and she didn't want to pick up either.

However, Yvonne kept calling. When Emelia picked up, she heard Yvonne crying on the phone, 'Emelia, I was wrong. Please let me go.'

Yvonne cried hysterically, but Emelia just listened to the phone without saying a word.

After a while, when Yvonne stopped crying, Emelia said calmly, 'Yvonne, I just want to say one thing to you.'

Yvonne sobbed and asked Emelia, 'What?'

Emelia replied, 'If an apology is useful, why do we need the police?'

Yvonne could tell that Emelia didn't intend to forgive her, so she burst into tears. 'Emelia, please, I won't target you anymore.'

Yvonne had always looked down on people. Now, she was crying and begging for mercy in front of Emelia. On the surface, she looked sincere, but Emelia did not accept it. Emelia said sarcastically, 'Yvonne, do you think I'm a push-over?'

Yvonne paused for a moment and didn't answer.

Emelia continued, 'Then I'm really sorry. I'm not a kind person. You hurt me viciously. Of course, I'll make you pay the price.'

'Did anything happen between you and Matt? Matt didn't sleep with you, right?' Yvonne roared angrily at Emelia.

Yvonne didn't understand why Emelia was so vicious. Although she wanted to hurt her, she didn't, right? And in the end, Yvonne hurt herself. She was the pitiful one!

Chapter 290 Turn Him On

Ezra and the others also knew that something had happened to Emelia. They had all sent her concern and blessings.

Emelia was discharged from the hospital and went home. Julian invited Ezra and Arthur to have dinner with them.

Ezra looked at the food on the table and was moved to tears.

These dishes were all made by Julian. Although his cooking skills were not delicate and delicious, he could already entertain the guests.

Ezra said to Emelia in an exaggerated tone, 'Thanks to you, we actually get to try Julian's cooking in this life.'

Emelia replied, 'To be honest, I never thought that there would be such a day in my life.'

Ezra was amused by Emelia's cold humor. He glanced coldly at her, saying nothing.

Emelia's face was filled with innocence. She didn't understand why Julian was staring at her. After all, she was telling the truth.

This time, only Ezra and Arthur were involved in the dinner. Maisie worked overtime, and Nina Sanchez was busy filming, so she didn't have time to come.

Speaking of which, after Emelia was injured, Viggo also called her. He was very concerned about Emelia, but because Viggo was too busy to go visit her in the hospital.

Nina Sanchez told Emelia that because Viggo's mother was in poor health, the crew had been working overtime these days. If Viggo rushed home to deal with his mother's matter in a few days, it would not delay the progress of the whole crew.

After Ezra sat down, he said to Emelia, 'After this incident, shouldn't you give Julian a title?'

Emelia choked on the soup as soon as she took a sip.

Julian glared at Ezra. 'Shut up.'

Ezra was speechless. He was also kind-hearted. He thought that in front of him and Arthur, Emelia could give Julian face and admit that he was her boyfriend.

Unexpectedly, Emelia remained unmoved. She took a piece of paper and gently wiped the corner of her mouth. She said lightly, 'I think it's good for us now. Besides, Mr. Hughes is not the kind of person who cares about status.'
