Chapter 83 The Failed Ex-husband

This call ended with Emelia hanging up in anger.

This time, Oliver and his son pushed her to the edge of the storm and let her in network violence of thousands of netizens. Emelia's last affection for them was completely cut off.

It was over. Anyway, Oliver and his son had no feelings for her at all. They had been using her all the time.

After hanging up the phone, Emelia calmed down and went out to the hospital to find Arthur to get the report.

She took a taxi to the hospital and took the elevator to Arthur's office.

The hospital had always been crowded with people. While taking the elevator, Emelia was quietly standing by the side. Suddenly, a woman standing next to her kept staring at her and muttering to her peers, 'Why does this woman look a little familiar?'

Another woman came over and glanced at Emelia. Suddenly, she raised her voice and said, 'Isn't this the woman who was exposed and didn't support her biological father?'

'It's true!'

As the two of them discussed this, everyone in the elevator immediately turned to look at Emelia.

After recognizing her, they began to denounce her one after another. Those words were as unpleasant as they could be.

Under the discussion and curses of the crowd, Emelia's face slowly turned pale.

She had been kind to others for more than two decades, and she had never been scolded like this.

What's more, she didn't expect that there would be so horrible that online violence extended to reality. When she saw those bad comments online, she was just angry. But now, in addition to anger, she also felt ashamed, embarrassed, and humiliated.

She fled the elevator in a panic, even if she had not reached the floor where Arthur's office was located.

What went too far was that when she turned around and left, someone gave her a hard push. She staggered and almost fell to the ground. She was so angry that her eyes turned red.

When she turned around angrily to argue with the person who pushed her, the elevator door had slowly closed, carrying those people all the way up.

She didn't dare take the elevator again, nor did he dare appear in front of everyone again. With red eyes, Emelia ran into the fire escape stair next to her and called Arthur, asking him to send the report down.

Chapter 84 Taking the Initiative to Help

Maisie came in very quickly. Julian ordered, 'Take the bank water bills that I asked you to prepare and give it to her.'

Although Julian had replaced her with her name, Maisie still knew that he was referring to Emelia.

She was a little surprised. 'But didn't you just say I don't have to worry about it?'

As early as the video was exposed, Maisie had come to find Julian.

However, Julian said that she didn't need to worry about it, so Maisie had to give up.

The bank water bills that Julian had mentioned were the money that Oliver and his son had taken from him. After Oliver and his son had made trouble with Emelia the last time, he had instructed Maisie to get the financial department to print it.

People like Julian had long been used to taking precautions. Although nothing happened at that time, he was ready.

In the past, when he had sent her a WhatsApp message, he had said that he had important information to send to her. It was about these bills.

But Emelia refused...

Julian glared at Maisie. How could she say so much when he asked her to do things?

After being stared at, Maisie quickly took the order and left. 'Okay, I know. I'll arrange it right away.'

As soon as Maisie left, Julian regretted it.

It was obvious that Emelia didn't even ask him for help, and he had even sent himself to help.

A few days ago, he had sworn not to care about her life anymore, but now he had taken action.

He didn't know what was wrong, but he felt... He really didn't want to have such a bad impression in Emelia's heart.

When Maisie sent those documents to Emelia's home, Emelia sent a private message to the internet celebrity through Twitter.

She was trying to solve this matter in a low-key and gentle way so that this matter would not brew again.

If the internet celebrity could delete this post that was seriously inconsistent with the facts, Emelia thought that her situation would be much better.

Chapter 85 Recalling the Past

Emelia and Julian didn't know that their thoughts were completely opposite.

Julian had thought that the so-called arrangement by Emelia was that she would invite him to dinner. In fact, he had even thought about letting her cook personally to show her sincerity.

On the other hand, Emelia thought that Julian wanted her to show her gratitude in material terms. Because she didn't want to be targeted by Yvonne anymore, she chose a safer way to send a pen to express her gratitude.

They thought that they had reached an agreement, so they stopped talking about this topic.

Julian said on the phone, 'I heard that Viggo will help you clarify in the name of the company?'

Emelia was still wondering how he would know it, and then she heard him saying, 'I'll give you a suggestion. Use your account to clarify.'

'Viggo's company represents the collective interest after all. If he can't manage this issue, he will hurt the interests of other people in the company, which will definitely bring you hostility.'

Emelia pursed her lips slightly. She admitted that Julian's analysis was indeed very reasonable.

Or perhaps he had a magic power to convince people, so she instinctively accepted his suggestion.

She murmured, 'Okay.'

In fact, she had been hesitating whether she should ask Viggo to clarify it in the name of the company. She felt that she owed him too much, and she could not repay it.

The reason why Julian had asked Emelia to use her own account to clarify the issue was not only because he thought that it would bring money for her, but also because he had wanted to avoid Viggo's ulterior motives.

'In the name of the company, I'm sure Emelia owes him a favor. If Viggo pursue Emelia as her lifesaver, she would not refuse him. Emelia couldn't see through Viggo's mind, but not me.'

Julian asked Emelia, 'Do you have your own Twitter account?'

'Yes, I do.' Emelia answered with sorrow.

Chapter 86 Love Story

Julian also admitted that the next day, there was a scandal between him and Yvonne. He didn't explain it to Emelia, but deliberately hurt her.

He had heard a lot of scandal about he and Yvonne from then on, he still turned a blind eye to it even though he knew it was Yvonne's hyped-up article. He was deliberately targeting Emelia.

At that time, he hated Emelia so much that his every word and action were malicious against her.

He didn't even intend to do that, but when he thought that he could make Emelia feel pain, he did it.

Wasn't she trying her best to marry him? Then she would have to pay the price for marrying him.

He wanted her to bear his indifference, rudeness, and ruthlessness.

And after he had maliciously hurt Emelia, if Emelia had cried in front of him, he might have stopped doing so.

He just wanted to see her sad and painful.

Since she was hurt, the anger in his heart dissipated.

But she didn't cry or make a fuss. He thought that she was not hurt, so he became even angrier.

It wasn't until that moment when Emelia complained about him with anger that he realized that she had always been holding a grudge against him.

Julian wanted to call back to explain there was nothing between he and Yvonne, but when he thought that she had hung up his phone again and again, he gave up explaining angrily.

It was obviously a friendly call, but in the end, it ended in discord.

After hanging up the phone, Emelia calmed down for a while, and then took out her mobile phone to add Julian's WhatsApp.

He had helped her a lot. She really shouldn't have hung up his call emotionally, but she didn't want to call him again to apologize. Just then, she remembered what Maisie had said and added Julian's WhatsApp.

She added his WhatsApp to show her sincerity.

Chapter 87 My Ex-husband Is an Old Man

Emelia didn't expect that she would post to prove that she had done everything she could for Oliver and his son. In the end, everyone's focus would be on her ex-husband's story.

After the netizens first scolded the Oliver and his son, they began to discuss what kind of ex-husband she married with a prominent family background.

When Emelia looked at the comments on the screen, she didn't know whether to laugh or cry, but some people were so angry at this sudden change.

In Polaris' apartment.

When Emelia first posted Twitter, Polaris and her assistant Mindy paid attention to it.

Polaris nestled on the sofa and played games boringly. Mindy was watching the progress of the issue in front of the computer.

After reading Emelia's tweet, Mindy couldn't help but laugh mockingly. 'Isn't Emelia stupid? She actually exposed her marriage. Isn't that self-destruction?'

Mindy felt that Emelia's reputation was already bad enough, and she had exposed her marriage. Wouldn't that make her stink even worse?

Polaris was slightly surprised, but her eyes still fell on the mobile phone. 'Has she gotten married?'

Mindy said, 'Yes, I thought she was noble and pure. She turns out to be a divorced woman.'

'Mr. Johansen definitely doesn't know what she is like. Otherwise, how could he fall in love with her?'

As Polaris' trusted subordinate, Mindy naturally knew what Polaris was thinking.

Polaris was secretly in love with Viggo, and all she was thinking was about him.

Since Viggo played the leading role in her costume drama, Polaris had been in love with him.

Later, she joined Tymers Entertainment and worked together with him. After learning more about him, she couldn't let go.

It was a pity that Viggo only regarded Polaris as a work partner. Moreover, Polaris' appearance and figure were ordinary. In addition to her talent in literature, she was really not worthy of Viggo.

Therefore, for a long time, Polaris could only suppress her feelings for Viggo, but it did not stop Polaris from being jealous and disgusted with any woman who was close to him.

Emelia was one of them.

Chapter 88 I Want to Pass Out

Emelia swore that she had never felt that he would disgrace her.

She really didn't know why Julian had such an understanding. It seemed that she had always been the one who couldn't be seen through and recognized.

Seeing that she was silent, Julian seemed to be even angrier. At the other end, he directly ordered her, 'You should clarify it immediately! I don't want to see these words, 'old' and 'ugly' again!'

Emelia was in an extremely difficult position.

Although Julian was far from being that person, she really didn't want to make it public that he was her ex-husband at this time.

She was already in the middle of a storm. If she were to publicly announce that she had once married Julian, the man in Riverside City that most women who loved him would tear her apart.

She didn't know how Yvonne's fans will scold her.

‘Julian...’ It was rare for Emelia to call out his name outside the unfamiliar ‘President Fu’, ‘I don’t think you will disgrace, but-‘

After the word ‘but’ came out, Julian became angry. ‘I don’t want to listen to what you say next!’

After saying this, he hung up the phone. Looking at the black screen, Emelia felt a headache.

She wanted to explain her current situation and hoped to get his understanding, but he simply did not communicate with her.

What Emelia didn’t understand was that although the scolding online was very unpleasant, it had nothing to do with him, didn’t it?

He was neither old nor ugly, and his naked figure was also looked thin and perfect. Cough, cough, he was not weak in some aspects. Why was he angry?

Besides, no one knew it was him.

Emelia took another look at the heated topic of her ex-husband on the Internet, not knowing what to do.

To make it public that her ex-husband was Julian, she really... She didn’t dare.

Just as she was in a dilemma, another voice suddenly appeared on the Internet.

The reason was that someone spoke up for her, proving that her husband was handsome, rich, and promising.

Chapter 89 Suffer a Loss Both Ways

Emelia was very angry, while Julian's mood wasn't that good either.

Originally, he was already very unhappy with being scolded by the Internet for being old and ugly. Later, the previous content of Emelia's Twitter was released on the Internet. After reading it, he felt much better.

He didn't expect that she had recorded their marriage life in this way before.

However, she deleted all the previous contents. The only thing he could see was those posted by others.

Although there were only a few, he felt inexplicably comfortable reading at them.

Especially the few words she had described him. Through those simple words, he could clearly feel her feelings for him at that time.

As a result, he didn't expect that she would describe her tweets with those words. For him, she had completely denied the past with him.

In any case, he had never denied his marriage with her for the three years after the divorce.

Julian was so angry that he couldn't help but mock Emelia for being short.

The conversation between the two ended again. In the end, the call ended with another phone call from Julian.

Emelia tossed his phone aside, regretting having added Julian's WhatsApp.

After this round of things, everyone's attention returned to Emelia's love story.

No one knew what happened, no one dare curse Emelia again.

Occasionally, there would be a few curses, but they were drowned out in an instant.

Perhaps the evidence that Emelia had provided was simply too strong. She had instantly hammered Oliver and his son to death.

Chapter 90 Hurry Up and Take Credit

Mindy was shocked. 'Phil Henderson sent a lawyer's letter for her? How did she know him?'

Polaris vented all her anger on her. 'Do you need to make such a fuss? If her ex-husband is really so rich, she will naturally know Phil Henderson.'

Before Mindy realized that Polaris was angry at her, she was still surprised. 'Since they had divorced, why did her ex-husband still help her?'

‘You have so many questions, why don’t you ask her?’ Polaris raised her voice and roared. Mindy finally realized that she had become a punching bag, so she closed her mouth silently.

Polaris got up and drove her away impatiently. ‘All right, you go back first.’

After that, she turned around and entered the study, slamming the door behind her.

Mindy bit her lip and turned to leave Polaris’ house.

It was not easy for adults to live, let alone work. Unfortunately, she met a superior like Polaris, so she had to accept her fate.

Emelia didn’t know that Phil Henderson had sent a lawyer’s letter to that internet celebrity in her name. She was a little surprised when she saw him delete the post and apologize. She didn’t expect him to admit defeat so soon.

In her memory, such marketing account would go to the end. No matter whether what he spread was true or not, he would not stop.

Even if they were warned or even banned, they could change an account and come back again.

Maisie just got off work and went home. Emelia was surprised and said apologetically, ‘Why are you off work so early today? I haven’t prepared dinner yet.’

During this period of time where Emelia lived at Maisie's place, as long as Maisie didn't go out to entertain with Julian at night, she would take the initiative to prepare dinner.

However, even if Maisie didn't go out for social activities, she would usually come back a little late because she was too busy with her work.

As a result, Maisie not only didn't work overtime today, but also got off work early.

Maisie smiled and said, 'Mr. Hughes asked me to come back early to accompany you.'

Emelia didn't know how to respond to that.
