

Chapter Nineteen

Zane's POV

Since the rejection of our mate, it was as if something drove away all my happiness. Now, I'm thinking that we didn't make the right choice. I tried to calm myself down that it was the effect of losing the mating bond but then it was eating me up. I wondered if it was happening to my brothers too.

Then thinking about how to escape this, I called Mia up. She had stayed away from me when she heard that we already had a mate. Well, she wasn't happy and she tried to pull a fast one on me back then but I was resistant.

But now when I called her back, I could see that she was so excited.

"Alpha, I thought I wasn't going to see you anymore," she said to me with her blue eyes blinking at me.

I didn't call her for chit-chat. I needed her as a distraction. Without even a word to her, I grabbed her by the waist and pulled her tight skirt up.

"Oops! In a hurry, Alpha," she laughed out loud.

If she had known that her laughter irritated me, she would have closed her mouth. I pulled her closer and started to kiss her but not the usual way anymore. I was too rough, I knew. But, I couldn't still get the pleasure I needed.

That didn't mean I had stopped. I continued just to distract myself. I carried her to the bed and wanted to have s*x with her but it seemed I suddenly became impotent.

I couldn't get my c*ck to rise and Mia was looking at me in shock.

"Is something wrong, Alpha?" She asked me with a confused look.

"I'm fine. Just have a lot on my mind," I grumbled.

She looked at me, confusion evident in them. I had no idea if she didn't understand what was going on with me or if she was just feigning ignorance.

"You've turned me on Alpha and you have to take responsibility," she said with a seductive smile.

I tried again and again but I couldn't. It was an embarrassment to me and I got frustrated.

"Get out!" I shouted at Mia.

"What is wrong with you? You called me here just to waste my time?" She shouted at me.

I could see that she was so angry at me. Well, she had the right to. I was the one who called her yet I was sending her out again.

But I couldn't be bothered. She wasn't my cup of tea at the moment. I growled at her.

She looked at me for a long time before she picked up her clothes that were on the floor and wore them while looking at me with sad eyes, then left.

Amber was on my mind.

I began to think about Amber, walking naked in the room. Looking at me with her green seductive eyes. To my shock, my dk that had refused to arouse suddenly became hard.

I looked at it surprised. Why didn't it rise with Mia earlier? This can't be good.

I took a cold shower. Then I got dressed. I had to find my brothers. I was not going to be at the receiving end of rejecting our mate. I mind-linked Ramon and Alec, then we met at our condo.

"This is not funny anymore, man!" I spit, the moment I step into the lounge. They looked at me and I noticed they were also not looking so good.

"What is happening?" Alec asked with a frown.

He looked quite tired and it's just too early for one to look like that.

"All I keep thinking about is Amber. I can't even sleep with another woman anymore. I don't want this to go on with me!" I blurted out.

"I can't even make a complete speech that makes sense because my mind is too clouded. I even dreamt of her all night," Alec complained too amidst gritted teeth.

Roman also sighed and reached out to pinch his brows. He didn't say anything but he didn't need to because we could tell he was having it just as bad as we were.

I had thought it was only happening to me and right now, I knew, I was wrong. This seems to be like our nemesis. I sat down with a dejected look.

"What are we going to do now? This is not good at all?" I asked them.

The three of us sighed at the same time.

"Is it because we left her in pain and we are getting repercussions? This is not the first time," I said to them.

There was silence in the room and I knew that my brothers were thinking. We had to do something. If not when people find out that we weren't able to let go of our mates, that wouldn't be good for any of us.

"But if we hold onto her, won't it be a slap on our face? Even omegas do reject their mates and they will go their different ways. Why then can't we?" Alec asked bluntly.

"Yes, it will. Moreover, that girl is too weak for us. She will die beneath one of us and talk more than three. Shouldn't it be that we are helping her?" Ramon said.

"I can't go on like this. Let's go see her and trash all these out," I said firmly.

My brothers agreed with me and we headed to where Amber stayed.
