Chapter 131 Past events

In the middle of the night, there was a strong wind again, wrapped in dust and rolled up with dead leaves, wantonly passing through the eaves of the roof, making a whistling sound that seemed to be far and near.

The air was bad outside, but Yun Chang in the house slept extraordinarily sweetly.

At this time, her whole body was slanted on the kang, her two arms and one leg were "exposed" on the outside of the quilt. With the shallow and long breathing, her mouth was pursed and slightly opened from time to time, which was extraordinarily cute and cute.

Gu Shinian, who was behind the curtain, did not sleep well, his brows furrowed tightly, his breathing was a little short, and there were faint beads of sweat on his forehead, as if he was caught in a nightmare.

Once again, he dreamed of the memory that he wanted to remember, but could not forget:

His mother took him and his eldest brother to stand at the pick-up gate, anxiously looking for Uncle Yun's family among the passengers who got off the plane.

Soon, 11-year-old Yunshang ran out of it first and asked him for ice cream as soon as they met.

He really couldn't beat the squeamish Yunshang, and in the laughter of the two families, he resignedly took her to the upstairs drop-off area to buy ice cream.

When I came out again, what I saw was the cordon pulled up by the parking lot, and the crowd of onlookers around the cordon.

He rushed into the crowd like a madman. The car that had been carefully scrubbed in the morning had already been bombed to pieces. His mother, eldest brother, and Uncle Yun's family were hurriedly carried into the ambulance by the doctor, leaving a large beach on the ground. The blood on the beach, as well as the red, red and white pieces of meat that were torn apart by the blast, there was a faint scream of Yunshang after being overly frightened...

The scene changed again. The night before the two families were buried, he went downstairs to pour water in the middle of the night. He heard his father's voice calling from outside the balcony. He clearly heard that the two families were "killed". It's not a so-called political enemy, but his father raised a lover outside.

The woman wanted to enter the gate of Gu's house. After knowing that her mother would not get a divorce, she planned a bombing case and wanted the "sex" life of him, her eldest brother, and her mother.

The other party originally planned to start at the airport with relatively few vehicles, but because he miscalculated the time of the bomb explosion, Uncle Yun's family also lost their lives.

On a sultry summer night, the rainstorm came. After my father made a phone call, he went out in the rain. And he followed his father all the way to a new villa area on the outskirts of the city.

Lightning pierced through the sky, illuminating the entire villa area.

He could clearly see the father and the woman hugging and kissing at the door,

After that, they walked into the gate of the villa together.

Gu Shinian was floating in the air, watching the dream that he kicked open the door of the villa like crazy. In front of his father, he kicked the woman violently.

After that, the woman was clutching her stomach and slumped beside the sofa, with blood constantly leaking from under her body, but he didn't notice the woman's situation, turned around and grabbed his father, dragging him all the way to the mourning hall of his mother and eldest brother, in front of his mother and eldest brother. He kicked his father's leg in the corner of his face, "forcing" him to kneel down and repent.

He spoke to his grandfather, about his father's affairs, and about the woman's forgiveness. If his grandfather came forward, that woman would definitely be sentenced to death.

The rain was getting heavier and heavier. In the dream, his eyes were red, his clenched fists were shaking constantly, and the rumbling thunder sounded in his heart one after another, reminding him that all this was not a dream.

His father... After knowing that his lover killed his wife and his son, he chose to hide...

It gradually became brighter, and among the crowds who came to the funeral one after another, several policemen dressed in police uniforms and broke into the mourning hall in the rain were particularly eye-catching.

Gu Shinian saw that in his dream, he was accused of killing someone, and the deceased was his father's lover, and it was his father who accused him.

Holding the portraits of his mother and eldest brother in his arms, he stared at his father coldly and silently.

And his biological father, at this time, shrank behind people, and did not dare to look at him, let alone the portraits of his mother and eldest brother in his arms.

He saw his grandfather whipping up his crutches and beating his father with his eyes split open, and he saw that his grandfather passed out directly on the mourning hall because of his excessive emotional ups and downs.

After his mother, brother, and Uncle Yun's family were buried, he was taken away by the police before he could take a look at Yun Chang, who had never spoken because he was too frightened and suffered severe psychological trauma.

After entering the police station, he learned that his father's lover had a miscarriage and died on the operating table.

And his father, after knowing his lover's death, called the police directly, accusing him of intentional homicide.

He was not yet eighteen years old. After the operation of his grandfather and the fact that the woman died on the operating table, the responsibility for the death could not be clearly identified. He was very fortunate to be exempted from criminal responsibility.

When such a thing happened, the scandal of the Gu family spread all over the Beijing circle at the speed of light.

The Gu family, who used to be beautiful in the past, fell to the bottom overnight.

However, all his attention was on Yun Chang, and he had no mood or energy to pay attention to family affairs.

After Yun Chang was frightened, she didn't speak for a whole month, and she never dared to go out.

In desperation, he had to ask his grandfather to find a psychiatrist, tampered with Yunshang's memory, erased the most bloody and cruel scene in her mind, and made her think that the two families died in a car accident.

Worrying that if he continued to stay in the capital, someone would leak his mouth in front of Yunshang. He ignored his grandfather's objection, dropped out of school, and took Yunshang back to his mother's hometown.

Later, while taking care of his mother's dowry, he carefully nurtured Yunshang. In an unfamiliar city, the two took root with each other.

As the days passed, Yunshang's "sex" became more cheerful than ever, in addition to being squeamish as always.

Looking at Yunshang's transformation, he felt happy, guilty, and a little bit anxious and afraid.

Gao Xin is that Yun Chang finally looks like a normal girl, laughing loudly when she is happy, dropping a few golden beans when she is unhappy, no sign of her suffering from serious psychological trauma any more in her words and deeds.

The guilt is that they take care of the family and owe Yun Chang three lives. Even if he takes Yun Chang well and treats her like a princess in his palm, he can't replace Uncle Yun's love for Yun Chang. It can't make up for the lack of father and mother love in her growing up.

What frightened him was that he was worried that with the growth of Yunshang, the memory that was deliberately erased would wake up at any time. He did not want Yunshang to look at him with disgusting eyes, nor did he want Yunshang to know that he had taken human life.

Although he doesn't want to admit it, in the process of taking care of Yunshang these years, it seems that he gave Yunshang a home, but the existence of Yunshang also gave him a home again, and he didn't want to lose his family again.

Gu Shinian was floating in the air, watching him and Yunshang get along bit by bit, until watching them enter the building and encountering an earthquake, Gu Shinian desperately shouted Yunshang's name and woke up again from the dream.

Chapter 132 sister-in-law turned against each other (1)

Gu Shinian suddenly rolled over and sat up, gasping for breath, his heart beating wildly.

Listening to Yun Chang's shallow breathing behind the curtain, Gu Shinian wiped the cold sweat on his forehead, opened the curtain, looked at Yun Chang sleeping like a crab, smiled silently, and put her hands and feet back on the quilt. , and stared at Yun Chang with complex eyes for a while.

I don't know how long it took, Gu Shinian lay down again, thought about it, then lifted the quilt, gently moved Yun Chang to his bed, turned over, and closed his eyes with his arms around Yun Chang.

The north wind whistled outside the window, and the interior was peaceful and calm.

Holding Yunshang in his arms, Gu Shinian's "dang" and "dang" heart gradually filled up, and his terrified heartbeat gradually calmed down.

Yun Chang didn't know that she was being moved by Nuo Linfang, so she turned over very familiarly, buried her head on Gu Shinian's neck, and snore comfortably.

When the sun came out, the wind that had been blowing all night stopped.

Yun Chang opened her eyes and found that Gu Shinian had already woken up, the curtain between the two was pulled up, and Gu Shinian's quilt was neatly folded and put into the kang cabinet.

Yun Chang lay in the bed, stretched out, unaware that she had been moved twice by Gu Shinian in the middle of the night.

The old Yun family, Yun Erchuan got up early in the morning, carried Shuanzi into the old couple's house, urged Li Hongmei to pack some clothes, and dragged her out the door.

Li Hongmei's face turned pale, and she followed behind Yun Erchuan, dawdlingly out of the village, and walked towards Dongshan Village.

On the way, Li Hongmei tried to have a good word with Yun Erchuan, begging for mercy and not sending her back to her parents' home.

But Yun Erchuan was determined to teach her a lesson. He hurried on the road without saying a word, and didn't even give Li Hongmei a look.

Entering Dongshan Village, Yun Erchuan quickened his pace and quickly stopped at the door of Old Li's house, looking back at Li Hongmei's pale face and said:

"You think about your mother's house all the time, and you don't have me, no embarrassment, or our Lao Yun's house, then you can stay at your mother's house and taste what it's like to be a spoiled guest, and see if your mother can always serve you delicious food. "

Without waiting for Li Hongmei to reply, Yun Erchuan raised his hand and smashed the door.

It was Wang Chunzhi who came out to open the door.

Seeing Yun Erchuan and Li Hongmei coming, and Li Hongmei still carrying a bag on her arm, Wang Chunzhi immediately showed a smile, and said in an exaggerated tone:

"Ouch, why did you come here early in the morning from the ice and snow! They are all relatives, just come at dinner time, why do you suffer from this foreign crime!"

Yun Erchuan ignored Wang Chunzhi, stretched out his hand to support the door panel, and in Wang Chunzhi's surprised eyes, he bluffed and said:

"It's not good whether our family can go to relatives in the future. I'm here to send your daughter home!"

After that, he pushed Li Hongmei directly into the door, turned around and left.

Wang Chunzhi was taken aback, this useless bastard who was usually as soft as dough, why is it suddenly hard today?

Before she could think about what Yun Erchuan said, Wang Chunzhi hurriedly supported Li Hongmei who was almost pushed down, and after she stood firm, she hurriedly chased out.

"Yun Erchuan! Yun Erchuan, you bastard, stop for me! What do you mean? What do you mean by sending your daughter home! You make it clear to me!"

Yun Erchuan walked faster.

He is not stupid. This old Li family has a total of ten men, including his son and grandson. Wouldn't he hurry up and stay and wait to be beaten?

Seeing someone run away, Wang Chunzhi chased after him. He finally blocked Yun Erchuan, but saw that he tilted his head and said "Bah" bitterly:

"That's what our Lao Yun family means to not eat the mother-in-law! Li Hongmei eats the inside and outside, but I, Yun Erchuan, don't want it! You Wang Chunzhi came to grab my son's nutritional supplements, and I, Yun Erchuan, don't dare to ask for your relatives!"

Wang Chunzhi was stunned for a moment, and immediately followed suit.

"If you don't want it, don't want it? My old Li family's innocent yellow-flowered daughter made you sleep for six years in vain, and your son was born to you. You don't want it now! What are you doing?"

Yun Erchuan is honest and honest, but if he is really angry to a certain extent, he can also jump out of the bastard.

When they married Li Hongmei, the old Yun family spent the betrothal money. Now Yun Erchuan hates Li Hongmei to the point of extreme disgust, and he will not save face for her at all. Then Wang Chunzhi said:

"What is white sleep? Your old Li family didn't collect the betrothal money? Let me tell you, if you don't let me go, let your old Li family even return the betrothal money to me!"

Wang Chunzhi was completely stunned this time.

What the hell is Yun Erchuan talking about?

According to his method, if he received the dowry money, he would not be sleeping in vain?

What's the difference between this and prostitution?

Li Hongmei, who was leaning against the door panel, also listened to Liang Rao's words. Hearing that the two of them treated her like a secret kiln, and thought that she had ended up in this field, it was all caused by Wang Chunzhi making up nonsense and coaxing her. The evil fire in his heart surged, and he rushed out and gave Wang Chunzhi a slap.

"Wang Chunzhi! You're a black-hearted thing that makes people sleep in vain! You're still not human! Throwing dirty water on my head and trying to "force" me to death!"

Yun Erchuan saw that Li Hongmei and Wang Chunzhi were facing each other, worried that she would be at a disadvantage, and looked a little hesitant.

But suddenly the thought of not talking about food at home, and the blue and purple broom mark on Shuanzi's buttocks, hardened his heart and strode away.

The two sisters-in-law had a fight, they didn't get along with each other, so Wang Chunzhi wouldn't be able to coax Li Hongmei out of his face in the future.

Wang Chunzhi was stunned by Li Hongmei's slap and didn't even notice that Yun Erchuan had slipped away.

She covered her face and stared at Li Hongmei blankly, feeling both aggrieved and angry.

Who is she choking with Yun Erchuan for?

If it weren't for Li Hongmei, who is a woman, could she stop the NPC gentlemen from letting them go?

She happily came out to open the door for the two of them, but she was scolded by Yun Erchuan well, and now she was slapped by Li Hongmei. Who did she provoke?

Wang Chunzhi's body is much stronger than Li Hongmei's, and after reacting, grabbing Li Hongmei's hair is two slaps.

Worrying that the fight outside would make the neighbors laugh, Wang Chunzhi grabbed Li Hongmei's hair and pulled her into the yard.

"Army! Second Army, Sixth Son! Come out, your mother is being bullied!"

In the next instant, three and a half eldest sons came out of the East Room, and saw Wang Chunzhi pulling a woman in his hand, his head was so low that he couldn't see his face clearly, and he could only hear the woman constantly scolding Wang Chunzhi.

The three sons were suddenly angry, where did the mad woman come from?

He even bullied them to Lao Li's house and fucked her!

Several people rushed up to help Wang Chunzhi beat Li Hongmei without even asking.

Wang Chunzhi brought back 20 catties of grain, and several of them had a full meal in the morning. They were so strong that Li Hongmei could not break free.

When the other two people and the old couple from the Li family came out of the house, Li Hongmei was beaten to the ground by Wang Chunzhi.

Chapter 133 sister-in-law turned against each other (2)

Seeing Mrs. Li coming out, Li Hongmei rolled over and got up, rushed over, and cried while hugging Mrs. Li's thigh.

"Mother! I can't survive! Erchuan wants to leave me! Mother, give me back the 20 kilograms of sorghum rice and the "milk" essence, or I won't be able to go back to Lao Yun's house! Mother, I will I don't want to be suspended..."

Mrs. Li was both angry and confused. The old Yun family had eaten the gall of a bear's heart and a leopard, and she even dared to divorce the daughter of their old Li family!

Also, what's the matter with 20 catties of sorghum rice and wheat "milk" essence, Hongmei hasn't come to the door for half a year, when did you get this thing?

Li Hongmei cried and scrambled to the ground, and Wang Chunzhi, who was beside him, had a stiff face, and stepped into his room little by little.

The old Li family is not divided, and the whole family is still eating in the same pot. If anyone knows that she secretly coaxed the grain and wheat "milk" essence, two old things, and the people of the second and third rooms should not be beaten kill her.

Old Mrs. Li "rubbed" her throbbing temples, pressing her anger, "If you get up, you're going to die for a little thing, can you let me stop for a while!"

Li Hongmei cried for a while, and quickly got up from the ground, holding the old lady's arm without letting go, "Mother, those twenty kilograms of sorghum rice are the life-saving food my father-in-law brought from the brigade, if I don't take it back, the old Yun family will I'm going to take a break..."

"What nonsense are you talking about? Twenty catties of sorghum rice? When are you sending me grain!"

The old lady got angry and shook off Li Hongmei's hand, pointed at her nose and scolded, "Then Lao Yun's family just sees that you are bullying, and fools you to go back to your mother's house to corrupt food! You go back and tell Lao Yuntou to let him die. Heart! A family without food will go to the beach to hang themselves, don't try to blackmail our old Li family!"

The second daughter-in-law and the third daughter-in-law also came over to help Mrs. Li to accuse Li Hongmei. The inside and outside of it was that the old Yun family was poor and crazy, and they even threatened Li Hongmei with divorce to return to her mother's house for corrupt food. a good thing.

Li Hongmei didn't think that her parents wouldn't admit to borrowing 20 kilograms of sorghum rice from her at all. With a pale face, she stared blankly at Mrs. Li and then her two sisters-in-law. In the end, she turned around suddenly as if thinking of something. , a pair of eyes fixed on Wang Chunzhi who was about to slip to the door of the room.

"Wang Chunzhi! You're the devil behind your back, right! Yesterday, you lied to me about twenty catties of grain, and the wheat milk essence of Shuanzi. You didn't even give it to your mother, did you? How shameless you are! Give me the food back!"

Wang Chunzhi shrank his neck subconsciously. Seeing that the whole family was looking at him, he quickly straightened his back and retorted:

"When am I borrowing your grain! The 20 catties of sorghum rice were borrowed from my parents' family.

You Lao Yun's family starved to death, haven't seen the food or what? Even the "wife" of the in-laws is thinking about the food borrowed by her mother's family, so why don't you show your face! \

, "Wang Chunzhi opened two mouths up and down, and assumed that the grain borrowed from Li Hongmei was borrowed from his own family.

The two of them twisted into a ball in an instant, tore from the door into the yard, and finally tore under the eaves, with all kinds of national scolding mixed in during the period.

"I'll beat you to death, you black-hearted scumbag! You are so wicked! You are so cheap! You just fancy a auntie man, and if you change your mind, you want to mix up my good home! Even the embolism You have to cheat when you eat! You have to be shameless!"

Li Hongmei's words, "Looking at my sister-in-law's man," poked directly into Wang Chunzhi's lung tube.

After this word got out, would she still want to be a human being? Will her three sons marry "wives" in the future? If her man believed this, would she be divorced back to her parents' home?

With this kind of reputation, this is to "force" her to die!

Wang Chunzhi rolled over and pressed Li Hongmei under his life. "Let your mother's fart! When will I look at Yun Erchuan! The family is so poor that I will go out. If you dare to put shit on my head again, I'll let your brother tear your mouth apart!"

"You didn't like my man and you ran to my house? You knew that Lao Yun's family lost the food and wanted to divorce me, but you made up nonsense to deceive the food. You didn't like my family Erchuan, and you deliberately wanted to break up the two of us. What is it?!"

Li Hongmei didn't show weakness, her strength was not as strong as Wang Chunzhi's, so she used foot pedals, elbows, and headbutts. Anyway, she was divorced and returned to her parents' home, so she couldn't make Wang Chunzhi any better.

If she doesn't return the food, she will go to the town to give Wang Chunzhi a bucket of shit to see her become famous, and see if she dares to deceive her next time!

The two of them were beating and scolding as if they were singing a big show, and the people of the old Li family were stunned for a while.

Especially the big news that came out of the two people's mouths made Mrs. Li even more angry.

Listen, what's up with these two mindless things?

The eldest daughter-in-law "wife" took a fancy to my sister-in-law's man, and took twenty catties of food from my sister-in-law's hands in a different way, with the purpose of breaking up my sister-in-law and her husband.

Ouch, how did she give birth to such a stupid girl, I'm not afraid of people laughing at this!

Isn't she afraid to "force" her mother-in-law's sister-in-law to death, and her brother and three nephews beat her to death?

And the eldest daughter-in-law "wife" is not a good thing!

The food that was cheated from her daughter was not handed over to the public. Instead, she secretly "touched" and "touched" and hid it in her own room to start a stove. It was because she didn't need to clean it up, and she deserved to be detained by her daughter.

As for Wang Chunzhi's food borrowed from her parents' family, Mrs. Li didn't believe a word.

Wang Chunzhi's family is not much better than Lao Yun's family, and that family is notoriously stingy, so who would be willing to lend food to a married daughter, it would be nice not to ask her daughter for food in return.

Mrs. Li instructed everyone to separate the two aunts and sisters who had been beaten together. She glared at Wang Chunzhi with sullen triangular eyes, and finally turned her nose and entered the main room.

Li Hongmei picked up her baggage from the ground and followed into the door crying, while Wang Chunzhi supported her waist and followed him limping in.

"Snapped!"

Mrs. Li reached out and slapped the wall, causing Li Hongmei and Wang Chunzhi to shiver.

"The eldest daughter-in-law! You really borrowed twenty catties of grain from your mother's family? You also borrowed a bucket of wheat "milk" essence?"

"Mother... yes, yes, yes."

Mrs. Li's face turned even darker, and she "touched" the broom in her hand and hit it directly on Wang Chunzhi's forehead.

"You still want to make up nonsense to coax me! Did you go to Xinglin Village yesterday? Did you carry a grain bag with you when you left the village? You can find out when you ask. Who can you coax with your nonsense!"

Wang Chunzhi covered his head and glanced at Li Hongmei, who was watching the show, and regretted it to death.

Knowing that this matter was exposed so quickly, she let her three sons open their stomachs to eat yesterday.

Three and a half adults, they can't eat six catties of grain for two meals.

As long as she eats it in her stomach, she doesn't believe that Li Hongmei can open her stomach and take out the food!

Chapter 134: Mrs. Li's calculations

It's good now, the old woman knows about her stealing the food, so she turns around and beats her. The rest of the food can either be returned to Li Hongmei and sent back to Lao Yun's house, or the old woman can confiscate it and use it as food for the whole family. .

Ouch, it's a shame to think about it!

She was beaten and scolded, and she had to hand over the food that she got after being detained in the feces pot. She was busy with such a busy job, what did she want to do with her?

Besides, if these grains are confiscated by the old woman, the second house and the three parties must not be exposed to it together?

Thinking that he had suffered a big loss and that he was cheap to others, Wang Chunzhi couldn't breathe evenly, and the corners of his distressed mouth twitched.

Mrs. Li glanced at Li Hongmei, lowered her voice, and said in a meaningful way:

"Half eldest son, eat the poor old man. I got 20 catties of grain yesterday, and the family of your eldest brother was banned from starving for two meals. I don't know how much left..."

Wang Chunzhi's eyes lit up suddenly, the corners of his mouth twitched slightly, and he threw a provocative look at Li Hongmei.

Li Hongmei was stiff all over, her hands clasped together tightly, with tears in her eyes, she looked at Mrs. Li pitifully.

"Mother! I can't be divorced and go home! If there is an aunt who is divorced at home, how will my eldest nephews marry wives in the future..."

"Alas..." Old lady Li sighed and waved to Li Hongmei. After Li Hongmei sat down, she held her shoulders and said confidently:

"Hongmei, you are the flesh that fell from your mother's body, why can't your mother feel sorry for you! If your mother has a way, I can't just watch you being brought back by the old Yun family.

But you also know the situation of our family. That year, we put together a dowry for you, but we took out all the old people. Your eldest brother's family of five are all starving ghosts. Since yesterday, they have been hiding in the house and wasting food... Twenty catties of food, my mother really can't get it for you. "

Listening to Mrs. Li's almost gentle and pleasing words, Li Hongmei only felt chills all over her body.

Her mother didn't even ask how much food the eldest brother's family ate, and she asserted that the food was wasted. This is because she was forced to go home and was not willing to pay back the food?

Li Hongmei covered her face with her hands and burst into tears.

She just heard that the old lady hadn't eaten,

When her heart softened, she recklessly lent out the food. As a result, the old lady not only did not read her favors, but also made up nonsense to deceive her.

Now her husband's family can't go back, and her parents' family doesn't seem to care about her. How will she live in the future!

Li Hongmei cried sadly, and Mrs. Li stroked Li Hongmei's back, glared at Wang Chunzhi, and asked, "Old everyone, don't bring the rest of the food! I really want to see your sister being quilted. Can't you take a break?"

"Hmm." Wang Chunzhi responded with a smile, looking at the old lady, and moving his feet out little by little, "Mother, your three eldest grandchildren are just enough to eat, and two meals will make 8 jins of grain, the rest..."

"Why can't I understand people's words!" Mrs. Li's face darkened, and the wire-wrapped board she was at hand smashed over again, "Isn't there still 12 pounds left? Bring them all! There is also the wheat milk of Shuanzi. 'Jing, bring it here too."

Wang Chunzhi ran out in a hurry.

The old woman listened to the truth. No matter how much food she had left, she only needed to give Li Hongmei 12 pounds!

After removing what was eaten, there are still 7 and a half catties of sorghum rice left. I will give 5 catties to the old woman and cook the rest for my three sons...

Alas... the old woman is so smart, she knew she only had 10 catties of food left.

Wang Chunzhi hid in the house, both fortunately and regretfully, calling for food.

In the main room, the old lady took Li Hongmei's hand, while scolding Wang Chunzhi as a reincarnation of a ghost who died of starvation, while coaxing Li Hongmei with a bright tongue.

"Hongmei, you also heard that the starving ghost will have 12 catties of grain left. Don't worry, even if my mother died of starvation, she can't be greedy for my daughter's food, so let my daughter be divorced.

When your three older brothers come back, I will ask them to take you back to Lao Yun's house and take the starving ghost Wang Chunzhi. If your father-in-law and mother-in-law are not satisfied, let your eldest brother beat Wang Chunzhi and apologize to the Lao Yun family..."

"Mother, my father-in-law, if I still don't return the food, I will ask my sister-in-law to pay for the food. Twenty catties of sorghum rice, whether it is food or money, I have to collect enough to bring it back." Li Hongmei tentatively said.

Mrs. Li's face turned cold, she let go of Li Hongmei's hand, and asked, "Hongmei, you are trying to 'force' your mother to death! Forget it, I can't take care of you! Who are you going to get the food you have in your hand, your wings are so hard, I don't dare to be disgusting."

Li Hongmei stood up at a loss. Seeing that Mrs. Li went straight onto the kang and lay down halfway, with a posture of letting go, she knew in her heart that being able to return 12 catties of grain was already the limit that the old lady was willing to give.

No matter how much food there is, it will be a sakura

The eight catties of grain money deducted by Wang Chunzhi, that is also a penny of compensation without Sakura

Old Mrs. Li kept her mouth shut, but her eyes occasionally glanced at Li Hongmei, who had a bitter face. Seeing that she was sitting on the bench as if resigned, her face became much better.

Her own daughter knows herself well, she is a bitch who doesn't know what to do!

If you give her a good face, she can be reckless with your nose and face, but if you don't give her a good face, she will be obedient like a cat.

She doesn't know how many of these two fools who can only be in the nest, and she has already cleaned up well.

There is also the old lady... This courage is getting bigger and bigger. This time I can deceive her daughter's food, and I can deceive her next time. It is time for the boss to clean up and tighten his skin...

The door of the main house was pushed open from the outside, Wang Chunzhi walked in with a cold face, picked up a bag of sorghum rice and threw it on Li Hongmei, "Hey, the rest of the food is here, I can't have a grain of it. Get it for you!"

He also curled his lips, and said with a look of disgust, "The aunt who subsidizes the nephew's food and calls at the door to go back, if you are like this, you deserve to be poor all your life!"

Li Hongmei was so angry that she fell to her back, and the hand holding the grain bag was shaking.

Thinking of Mrs. Li's words of taking Wang Chunzhi to Xinglin Village for a beating, Li Hongmei forcibly suppressed her anger, reached out and snatched the oil paper bag from Wang Chunzhi's hand, and sat on the kang without saying a word, waiting for the three older brothers to return.

Although this bit of food can't be paid, but if I can get it back, it's a little bit. When I go back, I will let her brothers scare Yun Erchuan for a while, and this matter is almost over.

Li Hongmei "touched" the grain bag in her hand, and glanced at Wang Chunzhi out of the corner of her eye, thinking in her heart that when she arrived at Xinglin Village, she would have to think of a way to get her elder brother to beat Wang Chunzhi well, and don't think of it until he was half dead. The door of Lao Yun's house!

Chapter 135 Moral Kidnapping

After Gu Shinian returned to the county town, Yun Chang's whole body collapsed, lying down on the kang, consciousness entering the space to kill time.

Corn and soybeans were planted in the space and a crop was harvested, and the harvested corn cobs were also sandwiched in the grain pile and sold to the villagers.

The fruit stone buried at the edge has sprouted, and the green shoots and leaves have emerged from the soil, tender and fresh, exuding vigorous vitality.

The five kilograms of wheat exchanged in the provincial capital have grown half an acre of wheat, and it has reached the heading stage. The heavy wheat ears are like soldiers who are lined up for inspection. are all the same.

The Chinese cabbage, white radish, eggplant, peppers and other vegetables planted next to it are also ready to be harvested.

Yunshang reached out his mental strength, pulled up the chubby cabbage and white radish one by one, and put them in the second-floor warehouse.

After that, I found a few big baskets, harvested the rest of the vegetables, and stored them neatly in the baskets.

After harvesting the crops in the field, Yunshang rubbed the swollen temple, consciousness exited the space, looked at the empty kang head, sighed, and pulled the quilt to rest for a while. .

Unexpectedly, she closed her eyes, and Li Hongmei came over with the grain bag, her three older brothers, and the reluctant Wang Chunzhi.

This was the first time that Li Hongmei had been to Widow Wang's house. Standing in the courtyard, looking at the spacious and bright tile-roofed house and the clean glass windows, her jealous eyes turned red.

Both are the "wife" of Lao Yun's family. How can Wang Guihua eat well, dress well, and live in such a nice big tile house, but she can only live in a mud house that leaks everywhere, even borrowing some food from her mother's family. , will be driven back to her parents' home by the old man!

The three brothers of the old Li family also looked around in the yard, and then pushed Li Hongmei, who did not dare to make a sound, into the house.

The old lady saw from the window that Li Hongmei was bringing people over, she quickly went out, and opened her arms to block the people who were about to enter the house at the door of the main house.

"What are you doing? What are you doing? You are bandits, why do you break into every place?"

The boss of the Li family took Li Hongmei aside, walked over to the old lady, and squeezed out a smile, "Auntie, isn't it getting late, our brothers are thinking about bringing Hongmei back to my brother-in-law... What? Erchuan is not here. side?"

The old lady sternly,

Glancing at the grain bag in Li Hongmei's hand, seeing that the grain inside was far less than twenty catties, she turned around and closed the door, pushing and shoving a few people out of the courtyard.

"Let's go! Take away the daughters of your old Li family! We Erchuan don't want to eat inside and out like this! I don't want such an unfilial daughter-in-law! You go back and forth wherever you go, and don't let your toes stand on our old man again. The door of the Yun family!"

As soon as the old lady said this, Li Hongmei was stunned.

She still had a grain bag in her hand, and the old lady drove her away without even asking. Does this mean she would rather have no grain and leave her?

After listening to the old lady's words, the three brothers of the Li family looked at each other and looked at Li Hongmei in unison.

I saw that her face was pale, and she stayed on the spot and didn't move, as if she was frightened by the old lady's words.

The old man of the Li family was more lively, and quickly pulled Li Hongmei, stuffed the grain bag in her hand into the old lady's hand, and said with a smile:

"Auntie, at this point, you would rather demolish a temple than demolish a marriage. Hongmei and Erchuan still have embolisms, so why don't you want them?"

No matter how Hongmei knew it was wrong, when I went back today, my mother also trained her, and she didn't come back again. Auntie, you have a large number of adults, so don't have the same knowledge as your generation. "

No matter how beautiful the words of the old Li family were, the sorghum rice in the bag was not heavy enough, and the old lady pushed and refused to answer, and the scene became deadlocked for a while.

The old man and Yun Erchuan were making briquettes in the backyard. When they heard the movement in the front yard, they dropped the tools in their hands and ran forward.

Seeing the people from the old Li family surrounding the old lady, the old man's face sank immediately, and Yun Erchuan, who was following behind, quickly stepped forward and pulled away the people from the Li family, protecting the old lady behind him.

"Yo, Uncle is at home! Erchuan is there too?"

The eldest of the Li family smiled even more, turned around and stuffed the grain bag into Yun Erchuan's hand, "Er Chuan, hurry up, this is the grain that your sister-in-law borrowed from your family yesterday, I brought it here..."

"Huwa, isn't this enough grain?" The old man stepped forward to take the grain bag and carried it, glanced at the boss of the Li family, and turned back to instruct Yun Erchuan, "Erchuan, go get the scale and see how much food is left."

"Uncle..." The boss of the Li family wiped the cold sweat on his head exaggeratedly, and said with a hilarious smile, "Uncle, this food is really not enough. My silly mother-in-law borrowed food, and I don't have an inch in my heart when I eat it. You can make eight jins in one meal, look at this..."

Seeing that the old man's brows were even tighter, the eldest of the Li family pulled Wang Chuncheng away with a smile:

"Uncle, the thing about borrowing food yesterday was that I was a foolish woman who did not behave properly. My mother knew about it. She had trained Hongmei, and she had also trained my mother-in-law. My mother, if you and my aunt If you take offense to Hongmei, you want me to beat my mother-in-law in front of you and my aunt until you and my aunt are relieved."

The boss of the Li family raised his hand and gave Wang Chunzhi two slaps. Before Wang Chunzhi could react, he directly threw her to the ground, raised his leg and pressed it up, and his huge fist hit her back.

"I can't beat you to death! You mother-in-law! Why are you so ignorant? There's no more Huo Huo, you Huo Huo's sister-in-law? If Er Chuan still divorces Hongmei, you also go back to Wangzhuang and don't allow me to come back!"

As soon as the people of the Old Li family entered the door, they raised their voices very loudly, and soon attracted a large group of people watching the fun.

Seeing the boss of the Li family beating up his wife at Widow Wang's house at this moment, the purpose is to "force" the old couple of the Yun family to allow Li Hongmei to go home.

Originally, no matter whether the 20 catties of sorghum rice were borrowed or cheated, as long as the old Li family returned a lot of grain, the Yun family would naturally not let Li Hongmei leave again.

But this old Li family is too rascal.

The food that was just taken away yesterday was deducted by 8 jin after one night. Not only was there no way, but the door was forcibly blocked to send Li Hongmei back. Lao Yun's family refused to agree, so they beat their mother-in-law in front of the old couple.

It seems that Wang Chunzhi can be worth eight catties of food with a single beating, and it is really too much to respond to others.

Yun Chang was lying on the window and saw all this, and the anger in her heart rose up.

The old Li family is playing moral kidnapping!

This family just takes a fancy to the soft-hearted old couple and plays hard tricks under their noses!

If the old Yun family didn't want to be caught, they had to bet more than them.

Chapter 136 Solution

Li Hongmei came back to her senses, seeing her eldest brother pressing Wang Chunzhi and beating hard, she felt relieved for a while, she secretly looked at Yun Erchuan, but bumped into his cold red eyes, and was immediately startled.

Yun Erchuan was so angry that his fists were clenched.

He has been married for several years, and he understands Li Hongmei's thoughts too well.

This stupid woman!

Anyone with eyes can see that the old Li family is trying to make things difficult for the old Yun family, and the purpose is to lose the eight catties of food.

But Li Hongmei, an idiot, couldn't see through it at all. Instead, he felt that he was standing up for her and venting his anger on behalf of the Lao Yun family, and he was still complacent.

If it weren't for the fact that he didn't beat the female Rao to raise him, Yun Erchuan would have liked to imitate the boss of the Li family, and pressed Li Hongmei to the ground and beat him hard.

Yun Chang was lying on the window, seeing the unbearable look on the old lady's face, she quickly got off the kang, ran out and dragged the old lady into the house.

"Milk! You can't be soft-hearted! My grandfather will listen to you. If you are soft-hearted, our family's food will not come back!"

The old lady sighed, "touched" Yun Chang's head, and went back to the back room not to go out anymore.

Yun Chang's pair of short legs strode quickly, and she took out three benches from the house, placed them under the eaves, and pulled the old man and Yun Erchuan to sit down on the bench, posing as if they were watching a big play.

Li Auntie was lying on the wall, seeing Yun Chang's actions, she laughed happily, and then leaned to the Li family who were performing hard, shouting:

"Li Tiehu, haven't you eaten yet? That fist was raised high, but the sound was quiet. I knew you were beating the mother-in-law, but if I didn't know, I thought you were flirting!"

As soon as Aunt Li spoke, the people watching the lively outside also answered:

"That's right, Li Tiehu, if you really don't want to beat your mother-in-law in front of people, then go home and get on the bed and get beaten slowly under the covers. Don't act here, we all feel uncomfortable watching a play!"

"Li Tiehu! The skin of your mother-in-law is really expensive. You can exchange eight catties of grain with a few punches, which is much more expensive than Sister Yao!"

...

He was ridiculed by the onlookers, and saw that Mr. Yun and Yun Erchuan didn't say a word,

Putting on the posture of watching a big play, the boss of the Li family finally stopped angrily.

Wang Chunzhi, who was free, rushed over and scratched his face a few times as soon as he got up. After that, he covered his face and ran out crying.

The old man didn't look at the scratched face of the boss of the Li family, and gave Li Hongmei a cold look:

"Tie Hu, why are you beating your mother-in-law to vent your anger on me and your aunt, you are beating the backbone of our Lao Yun family!"

I will put the words here today, you beat your mother-in-law to death, I will let Erchuan steamed food piles go to your house to help bury people, but I should pay back my family's food, you have to pay it back! It's two different things! "

The faces of the three brothers of the Li family were pulled down at once, and Li Hongmei was even more anxious, cold sweat broke out on her forehead, and she pleaded with the old man with tears in her eyes:

"Father, I know it's wrong. I will definitely change it in the future. I will never take anything from my mother's house again, I will never dare to beat Shuan Zi, and I will never dare to be disobedient. For my son's sake, don't drive me back..."

The old man said nothing, and Yun Erchuan also turned his head aside and said nothing.

The second and third members of the Li family frowned and looked at Boss Li, "Brother, my sister-in-law got this food. How much is left? Let my sister-in-law take it out quickly."

We can't let Lao Li's family have a divorced woman, so what kind of reputation can their family have?

Just cheating the relatives of the food and causing the divorce of the out-married daughter is enough to ruin the reputation of the old Li family.

In the future, who would dare to marry their families?

The old man of Li's face was depressed: "Where is there any more! That's all I have left. I talked to my mother in the morning."

As soon as these words came out, the other two immediately shut up.

Several people knew in their hearts that as long as the grain passed Mrs. Li's hand, she still had 12 jins left, and then 12 jins remained. Even if a grain of grain did not move, only 12 jins remained.

The three brothers of the Li family were so worried that their bowels were knotted.

The original plan was to take Yun Erchuan privately and have a good chat, and even frightened and coaxed Li Hongmei back, and it was over.

But Yun Erchuan was just like a duck cub who had just hatched, firmly following behind Mr. Yun, and they couldn't even find a chance to speak alone.

At this moment, there are so many people watching the fun outside, and a few of them have not cultivated to the level of shamelessness of Mrs. Li. Facing the crowd, they are shameless, and they will not dare to pay back the food. if.

Li Tiehu put on his red face, looked at the second and third, and left a sentence, "I will return the food next year", and turned around and ran out the door.

These three people had the idea of forcing Li Hongmei to stay in Lao Yun's house!

As the abandoned party, Li Hongmei widened her eyes and looked at the backs of the three older brothers stupidly, forgetting to even cry.

Yun Chang burst out laughing, and was amused by Li Jiarao's "operation".

Mr. Yun's face suddenly turned black and he stood up and shouted:

"Stop! Li Tiehu! Li Tieniu! Li Tiegou! How dare you run! Believe it or not, if you go out on the front foot, I will ask Erchuan to take Li Hongmei to the town for a divorce, and then beat the gongs and drums to send back your old Li family girl!"

The tigers, cows, and dogs of the Li family stopped all at once, as if pressing the pause button.

"Uncle! We really can't make up our minds about this. We can't be my mother's home." The boss, Li Tiehu, felt extremely unlucky, and covered his face.

"I don't care if you're not home! All I know is that my food was taken by your mother-in-law, so I'll ask you for it! If you don't pay back the food, not only will Erchuan divorce Li Hongmei, but our family will also go to town to sue Wang. Chunzhi, let the 'government' help you educate your mother-in-law!"

Mr. Yun's unprecedented tough attitude calmed down the three brothers of the Li family at once, so that they would no longer dare to move their minds.

Li Hongmei's anxious tears flowed out, and she rushed over and grabbed the eldest of the Li family's arm and said, "Brother, this grain is borrowed by my sister-in-law, you can't ignore it... If Erchuan divorces me, I will hang at the door of your room when I go back. !"

She can't live any longer, and she will die in response to Wang Chunzhi!

The eldest of the Li family's face darkened, "What are you blind! When will I ignore you!"

After saying this, he quickly turned around and took the two brothers to discuss it, and finally reluctantly gave Mr. Yun a letter of approval.

The old Li family has no money and no food now, so they can only wait for the village dividends to come down at the end of the year, and then pay another eight catties of sorghum rice.

After getting the quasi-xiner, the old man did not continue to embarrass the Li family. He asked the people around to witness the lively event, and then he let go and left Li Hongmei temporarily.

The three brothers of the Li family left, Yun Erchuan ignored Li Hongmei, pulled the flatbed car out the door without saying a word, and planned to go to Xitan to cut jujube sticks against the wall.

Li Hongmei stood in the yard at a loss, seeing Yun Erchuan go out, she hurriedly followed with her shoulders drooping.

Chapter 137: Diarrhea

The sun was just right in the afternoon, and the sun slanted into the kang head from the window, which was warm and made people want to doze off.

Yun Chang was sitting at the kang table, holding a pencil, and learning to write with Yun Shuilian with a painful look on her face.

After all, people who are good at handwriting have to put in some effort to make them look ugly.

This process is really annoying.

With the teacher, Yunshang packaged himself as a 'prodigy' and learned 20 words in one afternoon. The old man and the old lady were so happy that they couldn't talk to each other.

Yun Shuilian also nodded again and again, stretched out her hand to "touch" Yun Chang's head, and said in agreement, "If I had the brain of Chang Nan, I would have been a junior high school student long ago, and now I don't have to worry about work. ."

Gu Shinian hadn't discussed with Mr. Yun about relocating the household registration, so Yun Chang couldn't reveal too much information, so he patted Yun Shuilian on the shoulder and comforted her like an adult, "My aunt is so smart and capable, Sure to get a job in the city, better job than a weaver!"

Yun Shuilian couldn't help laughing, "Shangnan is so smart, if aunt can find a good job, that aunt will definitely be able to find a good job!"

In the first year of the freshman year, there was a very cheeky wave of business mutual support, which made the old lady's eyebrows and eyes curved a little bit.

Shuanzi didn't know what the crowd was laughing at, so he sat in the arms of the old lady and continued to laugh.

When the sun went down, Yun Erchuan pulled a cart full of sour jujube branches into the door. Li Hongmei bent over and pushed the cart hard behind her, and followed him naturally.

The old man saw the two coming back from the window, put down the dry tobacco bag, and went out to help unload the car.

Yun Chang also hurriedly dragged Yun Shuilian out, preparing to observe Yun Erchuan's teaching wife's achievements in the afternoon.

Li Hongmei was probably still a little terrified of the old man. When he saw the old man coming out, his head was drilled even lower.

Seeing that Li Hongmei was honest like a quail, Yunshang curled her lips in a dull manner and turned back to the house.

The old lady was cooking, looked outside, thought about it, and took another wowotou and put it in the pot.

Seeing this, Yunshang,

He leaned over and asked with a face of gossip, "'Milk', are you also preparing a nest for the second aunt?"

"Yeah. No matter what, your second aunt went out to help you chop the sour jujube branches all afternoon, but you can't send people back without even thinking about the meal, you want to invite people to gossip."

Probably because she was afraid that Yunshang would think too much, the old lady explained again, "This wowotou is deducted from your second uncle's ration, but she can't be allowed to take advantage of my clothes. She won't be allowed to come here tomorrow, so much work. Son, there is no need for her to come here to grind foreign workers."

The old lady's aggressiveness made Yun Chang want to be happy.

Li Hongmei helped her with all afternoon's work. Logically, she should manage a meal, but the old lady felt bad for her rations, so she simply deducted Yun Erchuan's rations.

In the end, she still took advantage of Yun Erchuan.

Yun Chang didn't argue with the old lady, climbed onto the kang, "touched" half of the cupboard, took out a piece of chicken cake, and stuffed it into Shuan Zi's hand.

When the old lady saw it, the corners of her distressed mouth twitched, "Oh, my prodigal girl, how much is the delicious food? Shuanzi has wheat milk essence to drink, don't fill him!"

Yun Chang himself took a piece of chicken cake and stuffed it into his mouth, and replied vaguely, "Second Aunt has also helped me with the work, so it's not good for Second Uncle to suffer too much."

The old lady's face turned black when she heard it. She wanted to save some rations for Yunshang, but she saved it, and let Yun Erchuan's room get cheaper.

Knowing that Yunshang would supplement Yun Erchuan's rations with chicken cakes, she deducted the rations of the widow Wang's "widow".

.....

After unloading the car, the old man and Yun Erchuan entered the main room one after the other. Li Hongmei paused, pursed her lips, and ran all the way through the door.

Yun Shuilian was about to put the kang table on the kang, and Li Hongmei couldn't take a rest, so she quickly grabbed the kang table in Yun Shuilian's hand and put it on the kang, and asked Yunshang, who was sitting on the head of the kang, with a face of ingratitude, "Shang Nan. , there is still work to be done at home, you can talk, and second aunt will do it for you."

Li Hongmei is also smart, knowing that Yun Chang is the master of the family. If she wants to follow Yun Erchuan over, she has to curry favor with Yun Chang, otherwise she will have to stay in the back village by herself again.

This is the first time that Li Hongmei has complimented Yunshang. Her attitude is very straightforward and earnest. Yunshang is so frightened that her goosebumps almost fall to the ground.

Yun Chang moved his body without making a sound, looking at Li Hongmei's eager smiling face, rolled his eyes, grabbed a wobble head and stuffed it into Li Hongmei's hand, and said with a smile:

"Second aunt, my mother hasn't eaten yet. Go to the side house and feed my mother."

Li Hongmei was stunned for a moment, holding the wowtou in her hand, her face turned pale and constipated.

Did this dead girl do it on purpose?

It must have been intentional!

That Wang Osmanthus always wanted to rob her man, but this dead girl asked her to feed Wang Osmanthus, which was sincere to respond to her.

The old couple and Yun Erchuan probably didn't expect Yun Chang to make such a move.

Yun Shuilian, on the other hand, turned her head away, holding back her laughter until her shoulders twitched. If Li Hongmei hadn't been standing by the kang, she would have burst into laughter on the spot.

Yun Chang pretended not to understand Li Hongmei's face, and really asked, "Second Aunt, don't you want to?"

If you don't want to serve the widow Wang's "wife" for dinner, then get out of the way after this meal, and don't even think about going to the door again!

If you are willing, wait for the widow Wang's "wife" to serve you, and come back later, and the work of serving the widow Wang's "wife" is all yours!

To be honest, Yun Chang is really unwilling to deal with impure people like Li Hongmei, but the other party is an elder anyway, Yun Chang can't tell the other party not to come again, my family does not welcome you.

I had no choice but to respond to Li Hongmei and tell her not to come over.

Li Hongmei's mouth twitched slightly, trying her best to squeeze out a smile, "...Shangnan, I, I'm afraid I won't be able to feed..."

"Don't be afraid, my mother doesn't know anyone now, and everyone feeds the same." After Yun Chang finished, she added in a very wicked way, "It would be great if the second aunt could come over, so that someone would help take care of my mother. "

Li Hongmei: "..."

Everyone in the Yun family: "..."

The old lady and the old man could see the purpose of Yunshang now, and they both silently supported Yunshang's decision.

Yun Erchuan didn't think anything was wrong, plus he didn't discipline Li Hongmei well, and let her do things that were both inside and out. These two had a very low status at home, and they didn't dare to speak easily.

As a result, Li Hongmei's neck was about to break, and Yun Erchuan didn't raise her head to receive her cry for help, so he reluctantly took the wowotou and went to the side house.

Chapter 138 bad elements

The family was almost finished eating, and Li Hongmei walked in with an uneasy look after feeding the widow Wang.

Seeing that there was still a wowotou on the table, Li Hongmei grabbed it and took a bite. She glanced at the white noodle soup in the Yunshang bowl, and then glanced at the yellow cake in Shuanzi's hand, her face stiffened for a moment. , and lowered his head to continue nibbling on the wowtou.

From the second day, Li Hongmei did not come again.

At the same time, Yun Erchuan was no longer prevented from bringing the embolism over.

Yun Chang was quite satisfied with Li Hongmei's sense of interest, and she was extra diligent in feeding the bolts.

It snowed again in the next few days, and the air became colder and colder. Yunshang stayed on the kang all day long, either "kneading" and rubbing the plugs to play, or playing with Yun Shuilian to read the game, except for Gu Shi. Outside of the year, the days have been smooth.

Yun Chang originally planned to ask Yun Shuilian to take her to see Gu Shinian in the county, and the two of them also set a good date, but when they were about to leave, the leaders of the town personally escorted a few bad guys over, and asked the Ran Brigade of the whole village. Criticism meeting.

After receiving the notification from the village, Yun Chang silently put the prepared luggage into the kang cabinet, wrapped herself in a hat and scarf, and walked to the brigade with Yun Shuilian's hand.

This is the first time that Xinglin Village has sent down bad elements. There are no children anymore, even adults are full of curiosity, rushing to the brigade headquarters, just want to hurry up and see what's new.

Entering the yard of the brigade, the stage was dark and crowded with onlookers. On the stage, in addition to the village chief and the two 'four pockets' cadres, there were also three bad guys who were escorted by the militia to kneel on the stage. .

One of the town cadres was holding a trumpet, screeching loudly for the crime of three forgiveness.

Yun Chang listened to it, one of them was corrupt, and the other two were speculative. To use the words of the "four pockets" cadres, these three people are all bad elements of the bourgeoisie, who have committed the grave crime of digging the corner of socialism, trying to corrupt the revolutionary ranks of the proletariat and overthrow the proletarian regime, and they are the lackeys of capitalism...

The people on the stage were very impassioned, but the villagers under the stage turned their eyes around and couldn't understand what the other party was talking about.

The village chief was also confused, and did not understand how the opportunists subverted the proletarian regime.

But the leader is like this,

He had to listen.

However, the village chief was also terrified. These two opportunistic bad guys had bought and sold things for 200 yuan, and then they came to Xinglin Village.

What the village chief is afraid of is that these two talents will be sent to re-education through labor if they trade for 200 yuan. The total transaction value of the batch of food he bought for the village last time was 33 times the 200 yuan. If this is reported by someone, his head may have to move.

Thinking of this, the village chief decided to go back and have a meeting with a few captains, and then go from house to house to remind him that he must not leak out about the purchase of grain in the village, otherwise the whole village will have an accident.

The cadres on the stage announced the crimes of the bad elements, and then turned their heads and demanded that the village chiefs must not make these life easier.

The village chief nodded again and again, expressing that he must strictly monitor these three people, reform their minds, and let them return to the ranks of the people as soon as possible.

.....A very shameless pseudo-renewal.....

The old lady's eyes wanted to twitch when she heard it. She wanted to save some rations for Yun Chang, but in the end, she saved Yun Erchuan's room.

Knowing that Yunshang would use chicken cakes to make up for Yun Erchuan's loss, she prepared food for Li Hongmei from the ration of Widow Wang's "wife".

.....

After unloading the car, the old man and Yun Erchuan entered the main room one after the other. Li Hongmei paused, pursed her lips, and ran behind to enter the door.

Yun Shuilian was about to put the kang table on the kang, when Li Hongmei saw this, she hurriedly grabbed the kang table in Yun Shuilian's hand and put it on the kang, and asked Yun Shang, who was sitting on the head of the kang, with a face, "Shang Nan, at home. There is still nothing to do, you can talk, and the second aunt will do it for you."

Li Hongmei is also smart, knowing that Yun Chang is the master of the family. If she wants to follow Yun Erchuan, she has to curry favor with Yun Chang, otherwise she will have to stay in the back village by herself again.

She had no choice but to respond to Li Hongmei and tell her not to come over.

Li Hongmei's mouth twitched slightly, trying her best to squeeze out a smile, "...Shangnan, I, I'm afraid I won't be able to feed..."

Chapter 139 The comrade-like mother-daughter relationship

Mr. Yun put on the ox cart and saw Yun Chang sticking to the door of the conference room in a daze, he called her from a distance, "Shangnan, go home!"

Yun Chang came back to his senses, and plucked up the courage to probe in and take a look, and saw that the man had turned his head. From the side, he could see the scar on his brow, the slightly swollen jaw, and the messy head. s hair.

At this time, his shoulders were slumped, his waist was bent into an arc, no matter how he looked at it, he looked like an ordinary person who was suddenly hit and couldn't lift his spirits.

It was as if his gloomy and icy aura before was Yun Chang's illusion.

Yun Chang stroked her pounding heart, calmed herself, and turned to run towards Mr. Yun.

Whether it's an illusion or not, since these three people have been "characterized" as bad elements by the "government", she should pay more attention in the future and keep a distance from each other.

The ox cart went to the door of Wang Widow's "wife", and Mr. Yun shouted through the wall full of sour jujube branches. Yun Shuilian quickly ran out of the house and climbed into the ox cart. The three of them swayed out of the village. .

When they got to the town, the old man sent the two to the mule cart in the county. Thinking of Yunshang's quirky and uneasy "sex", he warned very worriedly:

"Shangnan, come back after seeing Comrade Gu in the county, but don't dare to run around. If you have anything, remember to discuss it with your aunt, do you understand?"

Yun Chang sat in Yun Shui Lian's arms, nodding her head like pounding garlic, "Master, if I listen to my aunt, I will definitely not run around."

As long as I can see Gu Shinian soon, don't let her listen to Yun Shuilian's words, or trap her beside Yun Shuilian with a rope, Yun Chang is also willing.

The air is getting worse now, the wind is blowing, and there are sporadic snowflakes floating in the sky. When the mule cart enters the county seat, the ground is already covered with a thick layer of snow, and if you step on it, it can pierce people's ankles. .

Yun Shuilian hugged Yun Chang, asked for the address of Zhang Chunni's house, and walked down the street with a deep foot and a shallow foot.

The two turned into the alley of Zhang Chunni's house, and before they could see the road clearly, they collided with the figure rushing out.

Yun Shuilian hugged Yun Chang and stepped back again and again, until her back was against the wall, and she barely stood still.

Yun Chang breathed a sigh of relief, let go of the arm that subconsciously clasped Yun Shuilian's neck, and turned to look at the person who was rolling in the snow.

At the age of sixteen or seventeen,

He was wearing a half-new blue 'color' overalls, with an octagonal hat on his head, and his face was blue and purple, and he couldn't see his eyes clearly.

At this moment, he was baring his teeth, and got up from the ground scoldingly, "Your mother's eyes are blind! Where did you hit the grass?"

Yun Shuilian was worried that Yun Chang would be frightened, and she didn't care about the other party, she reached out to "touch" and "touch" Yun Chang's head and ears, and said in her mouth, "Shangnan, don't be afraid, don't be afraid! Where are you bumping into? Does it hurt?"

"Gu, I don't feel pain."

The young man saw that Yun Shuilian ignored him, his face darkened, he stepped over a few steps, and was about to grab Yun Shuilian's braid from behind, but just as the person came over, his feet slipped again and fell to the ground again.

At this time, there was another commotion from the depths of the alley, and the young man's complexion changed. He couldn't care about Yun Shuilian anymore, and hurriedly rushed out of the alley.

Yun Chang pouted, and secretly said that it was a pity.

She originally planned to give this cheap thing three consecutive falls!

"Shangnan, is Comrade Gu's home in this alley?"

Yun Chang was about to nod his head, but the noise that had been indistinct before became clearer. A thin middle-aged woman with short ear-cut hair came out of the yard, and followed behind with a very imposing reprimand. girl.

"You are so disappointed in me! I told you to be optimistic about Gu Guangzong, and you were not allowed to open the door, but you forgot? I think your thinking is very problematic! If Gu Guangzong gives you a dime, your thinking will be corrupted and shaken. Class position, if he gives you a dollar, will you carry me back to the provincial capital with him?"

Do you know how much work I miss because of the three of you? Because of you, I have given the factory a lot of support for the organization..."

"Comrade Zhang Chunni! Please don't make excuses. Although Comrade Gu Guangzong is your son, he is also a member of our revolutionary team. You have no right to imprison him. This is a criminal act, and I have the right to stop it! If you cannot Recognize your own mistakes, even if you are my mother, I will report your criminal behavior to the organization!"

Yun Chang's eyes were rounded, and she stared blankly at the wonderful mother and daughter who were running on the train with their mouths full of people and pulling banners everywhere.

She really could not have imagined that Zhang Chunni and Gu Pangui's way of getting along would be so unique, and the style of painting so strange.

It's not like a mother-daughter relationship, it's more like a superior-subordinate, comrade-like relationship.

Yun Shuilian on the side was also stunned, watching the special mother and daughter hurriedly out of the alley, the tit-for-tat arguing faded away little by little.

Yun Chang came back to her senses, with a gloomy face, she pulled Yun Shuilian forward for a while without saying a word, and knocked on the closed wooden door.

"Shang...Shangnan, this is Comrade Gu's house? It seems that those two came out from here just now...!?"

Yun Chang was silent for a while, then returned: "They are the family of second brother Gu."

Seeing the way Zhang Chunni and Gu Pangui got along, Yun Chang couldn't say against her heart that she was Gu Shinian's mother.

Her second brother Gu once had the most selfless and greatest maternal love in the world. He didn't need Zhang Chunni's comradely "maternal love" and education, and he didn't bother to ask Zhang Chunni for that little bit of care that was not necessary.

A person like Zhang Chunni is not worthy of being a mother, let alone having Gu Shinian call her 'mom'.

At this time, there was movement in the courtyard. Yun Chang listened and recognized Gu Shinian's footsteps. His eyes narrowed immediately, and he slammed on the door panel excitedly, "Second Brother Gu! Open the door, I know you are coming out!"

Hearing the words, Gu Shinian hurried over to open the door, "Ah Chang? It's snowing heavily today, why are you here at this time?"

As soon as the door opened, Yun Chang rushed in like a cannonball, and climbed up Gu Shinian's body a few times like a tree.

"Second brother Gu! I miss you! Do you miss me?"

"Well, I miss Ah Chang too." Gu Shinian coaxed Yun Chang, reached out and "touched" her cold face, and didn't forget to turn around and greet Yun Shuilian to enter the door, "Aunt Yun, It's cold outside, so come in and warm yourself up with a cup of hot tea.

After entering the door, Gu Shinian first looked around Yun Chang, and when she saw that her face had not lost any flesh, he was relieved, and then turned around and poured a cup of hot water for Yun Shuilian and handed it over.

Yun Chang was sticking to Gu Shinian's side, and she was extremely happy, as if only "milk" was enough, wherever he went, she would follow him, and she was still questioning.

Chapter 140: Zhou Mingjuan's Means

After entering the door, Gu Shinian first looked around Yun Chang, and when she saw that her face had not lost any flesh, he was relieved, and then turned around and poured a cup of hot water for Yun Shuilian and handed it over.

Yun Chang was sticking to Gu Shinian's side, and she was extremely happy, as if only "milk" was enough, wherever he went, she would follow him, and she was still questioning.

"Second brother Gu, I met Zhang Chunni and Gu Pangui at the door. What did they do? I think Gu Pangui and Gu Guangzong were locked up? And Zhou Mingjuan, did she come here? What happened? Solved? Gu Guangzong, did he trouble you..."

Yun Chang asked a series of questions, and Gu Shinian didn't know where to answer her question.

First, she found a stack of newspapers for Yun Shuilian, and then took another plate. Then she picked up Yun Chang and put her on the chair beside her. The two of them started head-to-head about the recent events.

The reason for getting up is very simple, that is, Zhou Mingjuan came over.

With a hypocritical stepmother face, she came to do ideological work with Zhang Chunni, and asked Zhang Chunni not to prevent her from taking the Gu family blood back to the provincial capital, indecently hindering the children's future.

Back then, after Zhang Chunni was kicked out by Gu Huaiqing on the grounds of 'not progressing enough in her thinking and having no common language', in order to support her children and to fight for her breath, she changed her past obedience and gentleness, and "showed up" and worked hard to participate in work. Has been actively moving closer to the organization.

After so many years, every time she worked desperately, she finally became the famous Iron Lady in the factory, and she had long forgotten what it was like to be submissive and soft.

Face-to-face sweethearts are bitter, delicate like a branch of flowers, Zhou Mingjuan, and Zhang Chunni, who is straight, are obviously not opponents, and they are coated by the other party as soon as they meet.

According to Zhou Mingjuan's number one in Qinghe County, she came to the door with a generous gift to negotiate with Zhang Chunni, but Zhang Chunni, who was straight-tempered, naturally couldn't look at Sanhao's face, let alone the other party who wanted to rob her son.

After knowing Zhou Mingjuan's intention, Zhang Chunni not only drove Zhou Mingjuan out, but also threw the gift Zhou Mingjuan brought out of the door.

If it weren't for the aura of "Iron Lady", she would have beaten Zhou Mingjuan long ago.

The straight-tempered Zhang Chunni could not have imagined that when she rushed, she provided Zhou Mingjuan with a stage, and the other party played a bitter scene directly in front of her door.

Women in their thirties, because of proper maintenance, only look like twenty-six or seven-year-olds, which is when women are at their most prosperous.

The slender figure stood softly and weakly at the gate, facing the closed wooden door, wiping red eyes, shedding a few more tears, enduring choked sobbing, and repeatedly begging Zhang Chunni not to anger the child because of her great grievance, no matter what. Let children recognize their ancestors and return to their ancestors, hinder children from becoming talents, and prevent them from contributing to the construction of the motherland...

Zhou Mingjuan's posture is weak, but her words are full of pitfalls. Both public and private, Zhang Chunni seems to be too domineering, too selfish, and not motivated enough.

Qinghe County is not big at all. In just one afternoon, gossip about Zhang Chunni and Zhou Mingjuan spread to the factory. She has worked diligently for so many years, and she did not dare to relax in her mind. No., suddenly covered with a layer of dust.

With such a simple move, Zhou Mingjuan made Zhang Chunni unable to fight back.

And at the same time she was angry, her heart was also extremely frustrated.

It's like swallowing a dead fly, disgusting, but unable to spit it out, so you can only hold on to it.

But what Zhang Chunni didn't expect was that her dispute with Zhou Mingjuan also aroused the dissatisfaction of the three children.

The eldest son, Gu Guangzong, was dissatisfied with Zhang Chunni's repeated obstruction of him from recognizing his ancestors and returning to his clan, preventing him from going to the provincial capital to live a good life.

Daughter Gu Pangui is angry that Zhang Chunni will not live. Even if you hate Zhou Mingjuan, you can just throw people out, so why throw out gifts?

Those were all gifts that she bought with the money she made, so why can't she get them?

It can be sold for a lot of money if you change hands!

Gu Shinian was just angry that Zhang Chunni was too stupid and could not see through Zhou Mingjuan's sinister intentions.

Zhou Mingjuan just acted like this, which made Zhang Chunni's good reputation for many years to be flawed, and also deepened the estrangement between several children and Zhang Chunni.

Zhang Chunni thought that after she rejected Zhou Mingjuan, the other party should have returned to the provincial capital very wisely, and would never appear in front of her and her three children again.

It's just that she never imagined that Zhou Mingjuan not only did not leave, but instead used the excuse that she did not dare to come to the door to make Zhang Chunni angry, and frequently found opportunities to contact Gu Guangzong and Gu Shinian in private.

After Zhang Chunni found out about it from Gu Pangui's mouth, Gu Guangzong's favorability with Zhou Mingjuan was almost full.

After Zhang Chunni knew about this, she stopped talking nonsense to Gu Guangzong, beat him up, and then locked the room, not allowing him to go out again.

On Gu Shinian's side, Zhou Mingjuan was very repelled from the beginning to the end. Zhou Mingjuan tried to contact him twice before giving up the idea of taking him back to the provincial capital.

After all, it takes time and patience to train a thorn, and Zhou Mingjuan has never been patient with Zhang Chunni and Gu Huaqing's sons.

Today's matter is even simpler. Gu Guangzong was imprisoned twice. Gu Shinian deliberately did not show his face at home. In addition, Gu Pan returned some specious remarks. Gu Guangzong made up his mind that Zhou Mingjuan gave up on him and chose to take Gu. The picture of returning to the provincial capital in the years.

In this way, one house naturally cannot control Gu Guangzong's desire for a rich life.

After spending a dime, Gu Pangui secretly let him out.

It's a pity that Gu Pangui was guilty of being a thief, and was discovered by Zhang Chunni when he let Gu Guangzong go.

After listening to Gu Shinian's words, Yun Chang realized that the young man who bumped into her and Yun Shuilian at the alley before was probably Gu Guangzong.

Yun Chang pouted, regretting that he didn't throw Gu Guangzong a few more somersaults.

And Gu Guangzong, who was worried by Yunshang who fell somersaults, had already run to the guest house at this time and had a relationship with Zhou Mingjuan.

Zhou Mingjuan deliberately lowered her face and hung on Gu Guangzong's appetite. When his anxiety and anxiety reached the extreme, he sighed and dropped the bait.

"Guangzong, I've thought about it carefully. It's not easy for Comrade Zhang Chunni to raise you so much. Even if you are a parent, I can't take you back to the provincial capital without the permission of Comrade Zhang Chunni. Discuss and negotiate, it is best to get her consent before I leave."

As soon as these words came out, Gu Guangzong's heart sank, and his blue and purple face darkened a bit.
