Chapter 231: Burglary in the middle of the night

However, Yun Erchuan's idea is really good.

Going to work as a temporary worker on the construction site of an aluminum factory, not only can you inquire about the news of the factory's recruitment in the first place, but you may also meet the factory leadership team wandering around the construction site in advance.

If Yun Erchuan was smarter, he might be able to get acquainted with the leader...

Thinking of this, Yun Shang looked at Yun Erchuan's simple face again, and then heaved a long sigh in his heart.

Forget it, let's leave it at that, Yun Erchuan's temper is suitable for hardworking and working like a model worker.

If he is allowed to deal with fine people every day, sooner or later he will be chewed until there is no bone left.

With the old man's affirmation of his idea, Yun Erchuan felt at ease all over, even with a hundred pounds on his back, he didn't feel flustered at all.

He got up and took a bowl of steamed wild vegetables, and chatted with the old man while he ate, "Father, the bad guys sent down from the village are also going to build roads today, and the bad guys from the coal mine also congratulate our family."

Yun Chang frowned, and the old man put down his cigarette bag, "Why are you still talking to bad guys?"

The old man's tone was low, and the reprimand was obvious, Yun Erchuan quickly swallowed the food in his mouth and explained:

"Father, I didn't take the initiative to talk to the bad guy, but I met him while working, and he secretly said a few words to me."

"What did you say?"

"The bad guys heard that Changnan and Shuilian were able to enter the city. Congratulations to our family. They also asked when Changnan would move to the city. He said that he had been to Fenyang before and had acquaintances in Fenyang. If Chang Nan and Shui Lian encounter any difficulties, he can seek help from his acquaintances."

The old man became angry when he heard it, and the cigarette bag banged on the edge of the kang, "He is a bad member of labor reform, how can he know a good person? I see the energy of jumping up and down, don't want to pass any news!"

After speaking, he glanced at Yunshang again, and said with a puzzled expression, "Why do I think that the bad guys from the coal mine pay attention to our Changnan? This has happened several times, and I always want to find out about Changnan."

Yun Chang's eyes widened, and she crawled to the old man's side a few times, pulled the old man's skirt and asked, "Master, what you said is true? The bad guys keep spying on me?"

"... That's what I think, maybe it's my father's overheartedness."

The old man said so, but he kept muttering in his heart: The last time Comrade Lin came to visit Changnan, the bad guys talked to him once, asking about the relationship between Comrade Lin and Changnan.

And the time Shuilian and Changnan met bad guys at the village, they were also stopped to talk.

This time again, starting from Erchuan, asking Changnan when she will move to live in Fenyang, and also saying that he can ask someone to help if something happens, what are the bad guys trying to do?

Why did you focus on Changnan Kejin to inquire about it?

Could it be that the bad guys knew Changnan's parents and mother, so they asked a few more questions?

Thinking of this, the old man's entire face turned dark.

It's over! Could it be that Changnan's parents were with the bad guys and were sent to labor reform?

Will Changnan be involved in the future?

This is not allowed!

His eldest granddaughter was carried back to Yun's family when her whole body was glowing red, and she grew up little by little under their noses, and Da Chuan was even more spoiled like an eyeball. This is the child of their old Yun's family! She is the biological daughter of Dachuan and Wang Guihua, and has nothing to do with other people's families.

Even if Changnan's parents are not good people, don't even think about implicating their children of Lao Yun's family!

The old man got up, snatched Yun Erchuan's job, and said with a dark face, "Don't eat it! Come on, follow me to your uncle's house to get a certificate, pack up your things tomorrow, and send your mother and the others to Fenyang as soon as possible!"

Yun Erchuan was in a daze, and when he got off the kang, he grabbed a bun in his hand, stuffed it into his mouth, and asked the old man, "Father, why are you sending my mother and the others to Fenyang again? Why don't I go find a job first?" Do you want to move your account?"

"What do you know? You and Shuilian have both gone to Fenyang,

Your mother can't cook for you? Changnan has a bright mind, and it's time to go to school. How can there be a school in our village? "

Yun Erchuan nodded blankly, "Father, what about you?"

"You all go to Fenyang, and I will earn centimeters in Liu Village. When Changnan and Shuanzi are older, your mother will come back and be my companion..."

The father and son went out one after the other, Yun Chang looked confused.

What kind of weird idea did the old man come up with?

The old man said it easily, but the whole family really wanted to live in Fenyang, it was not as easy as what they said.

The old lady touched the guy in the house, she was reluctant to part with this, and she was also reluctant to part with that, and she also had to worry about the old man's food in the village alone.

And Widow Wang, when she first got married, there were four dowry boxes and cages alone. Later, she added two large boxes with a height of 1.5 meters.

Besides, there are no beds in the house in Fenyang. There is no place for such a large family to live.

Even if he wanted to buy a bed, Lao Yun's family didn't have an industrial ticket on hand. Could it be that the whole family went to make a bed on the floor?

In the end, Yun Erchuan was asked to go to Fenyang alone to find a job and change his household registration, while the old man applied for a tung tree in the village, worked as a carpenter at home, and planned to make a few beds.

.....

The night was dark, except for the gentle breeze blowing and the rustling of the leaves, the whole village seemed to be smeared with thick ink and plunged into boundless darkness.

Yun Shang suddenly woke up from the dream, raised her head, and listened carefully to the noise outside the courtyard.

The sound was not loud, but it was rustling, like the sound of a knife cutting across wood, or a bit like the sound of a door bolt sliding.

Yun Chang's heart skipped a beat, and she woke up instantly.

Glancing at the sleeping old lady and Shuan Zi, he quietly got up and leaned against the window, with his mental strength out of the hospital bit by bit.

In the darkness, a thin figure was sticking to the gate of the yard, using the tip of a knife to pull the latch bit by bit.

The door was quickly pushed open, and a figure flashed in, leaning against the wall, and groping towards the room quietly.

It was too dark outside to make out the face, but judging from the figure, it should be a man.

Yun Chang held her breath, cold sweat broke out on her forehead.

What a miscalculation, I thought it would be safe to press the wild jujube branches on the courtyard wall, but I didn't expect this person to be able to push the door bolt.

The old man stayed in the back village to look after the house, and Yun Erchuan went to Fenyang again. Apart from her, there were only the old lady and Shuanzi on the big kang in the main room, and there was a widow Wang who was not clear-headed in the side room. The old ones, the small ones, none of them can be used, what should we do now?

Yun Chang was thinking about whether to wake up the old lady, when she suddenly noticed the long knife in her hand.

Quickly withdrew the hand that was reaching out to the old lady, feeling scared for a while.

Chapter 232: Fog

so close!

The old lady is a timid person, it's not a big deal if she is scared, if she screams out in shock, it will be troublesome to force the other party to use a knife.

Yun Chang held her breath, carefully paying attention to the shadow, and was ready to wait for the other party to approach the room, just like beating Gu Huaiqing before, she put on a sack and grabbed it into the space, and threw it out mercilessly.

The man in the yard stopped at this moment, as if he was trying to identify the room. After a while, he put the knife behind his waist again and groped towards the side room.

Yun Chang was stunned for a moment, suppressed the thought of putting on a sack, and followed her mentally.

In the side room, the man turned on the flashlight, slapped Widow Wang's face vigorously, covered her mouth the moment Widow Wang opened her eyes, and asked in a sinister tone, "Wang Guihua, don't pretend to be stupid with me, take a closer look." Do you remember me?"

While speaking, the man turned on the flashlight upwards, and the dim light shone on the man's face, making his unshaven face instantly clear.

Widow Wang stared blankly at the man's face, her eyes were dull, and there was no emotion in her eyes.

Yun Chang, who had been paying attention to the side room, gasped, and the chill climbed up from the spine and quickly spread to the whole body.

How could it be him?

That bad guy who picks cow dung in the village every day!

He asked the widow Wang what that sentence meant?

The two knew each other before?

After Widow Wang married into Xinglin Village, she has been to the town as far away as possible. When did she know the bad guys from the provincial capital?

Moreover, the relationship between the bad guys and Widow Wang doesn't look good.

Yun Shang suddenly thought of the huge sum of money in the hands of Widow Wang, and couldn't help but have another guess in her heart.

In the side room, the man didn't seem to believe that there was something wrong with Widow Wang's mental state, so he covered Widow Wang's mouth and poked Widow Wang a few times with one hand, only to see Widow Wang trembling like a sieve , There were also large beads of sweat on his forehead.

Yun Chang pursed her lips, suppressed the anger in her heart, and continued to observe the situation in the side house.

The bad guys tormented Widow Wang for a good meal, but they never got any clear response. Angrily, they grabbed Widow Wang's long hair and said viciously:

"Wang Guihua, I don't care if you are really stupid or pretending to be stupid, and I don't care what method you use, that little girl can't leave Xinglin Village! At least you can't leave before the completion of the Tanxia Bridge! If you dare to play tricks, I will send you off immediately. Go down and meet your bloody man!"

Seeing that Widow Wang was still numb and did not respond, the villain let out an unlucky "Bah", "Don't think that my money is easy to get, if you dare to take the money and do nothing, Yun Dachuan's fate will be your fate..."

Yun Shang suddenly widened her eyes.

Yun Dachuan's fate is your fate! ?

The meaning of these words... Yun Dachuan's death was not an accident?

Didn't he stumble and fall down the mountain?

Could it be that someone pushed him down the mountain?

Also, is the little girl picture in his mouth her?

Why did Widow Wang trap her in the village?

Yun Chang's mind was in a mess, and he wanted to directly take the bad guys into the space, and asked him if he was referring to the huge sum of money from unknown sources in the hands of Widow Wang?

What did he want Widow Wang to do?

Why was she not allowed to leave the village?

Is it related to the life experience of this body?

Was the original owner thrown into the river by him?

Forbid her to leave the village and let her be tortured by the widow Wang. Do the biological parents of this body have a grudge against him? What purpose does he want to use her to achieve?

Also, did Yun Dachuan kill him?

Yun Shang wanted to do something, but thinking of the last time Sun Datou climbed the wall in the middle of the night and was seen by others, he didn't dare to act rashly.

There are three villains in the village. If the other two are with this man, they must know that he came to find Widow Wang tonight.

If the bad guy also disappeared, as an accomplice, the other two people would surely reveal the matter.

A villain, a big head Sun, both disappeared from Widow Wang's house, and Lao Yun's family will inevitably be implicated.

Therefore, she couldn't do it directly, she had to hold back.

Fortunately for Yunshang, the bad guys didn't mean to take advantage of Widow Wang, they just slapped Widow Wang's legs a few times before turning around and leaving the house.

I stood in the yard for a long time, and finally slipped out against the wall.

Yun Chang let out a long sigh of relief, and then noticed the numb pain in the palm of her hand, and wiped it with her hand, there were a few very obvious fingernail marks on the palm, and faint blood oozing out.

Glancing at the old lady and Shuanzi who were sleeping soundly, Yunshang stepped into the space, treated the wound on her hand first, and then sat in front of the building alone, thinking about the night's affairs carefully.

The man refused to let her leave Xinglin Village, and she was not allowed to leave until the Tanxia Bridge was completed, which meant that what he wanted to use her to do had something to do with the newly built bridge.

But she is a six-year-old child, and Lao Yun's family is an ordinary villager, so what can she do in the construction of the bridge?

Moreover, the bad elements came down to reform through labor, why should he pay so much attention to the newly built bridge?

Could it be that bad elements want to destroy the newly built bridge?

So...the bad guys might be enemy agents! ! !

Yun Shang stood up abruptly, replaying what the bad guy said at night several times in his mind, carefully thinking about the bad guy's purpose.

If the bad guy is really an enemy agent, she, an ordinary villager, can neither help the bad guy wreak havoc, nor help the bad guy escape, so she doesn't seem to be of any use to the other party.

But if the biological parents of this body were in high positions, the result would be completely different.

Whether it is the identity of the enemy agent or the consequences of destroying the bridge, it is far from what the bad guys can bear.

Once caught, there is no doubt that he will die.

Enemy agents are also human beings, and they are also afraid of death. Before doing bad things, they will definitely think about their own way out.

From this point of view, she was a hostage in the opponent's plan!

So, the parents of this body didn't abandon her on purpose! She was taken away by the enemy agents and raised in this small village as a tool for the final retreat!

Thinking about this clearly, Yun Chang's forehead was covered with cold sweat, her hands and feet were cold, and her body trembled intermittently.

He took the newborn child away from his biological parents and sent him to Lao Yun's house, and killed all kinds of Yun Dachuan who loved and loved the original owner, threatened and lured the widow Wang to control the original owner, and finally pulled the original owner out as a hostage at the right time Come for a change of life.

The mind is so vicious!

Yun Shang wiped away the tears that overflowed unconsciously, and wanted to go into the shopping mall to find a handy tool to deal with the enemy agents. After taking two steps, she suddenly thought of something.

The suspected enemy agent was released from the Beishan Coal Mine, so was this person also involved in the Beishan Coal Mine explosion last year?

If he participated, he would have slipped through the net in the case of catching enemy agents last time!

Chapter 233 Purpose

This bold guess made Yun Shang's hairs stand on end.

Everyone in Qinghe County knew that Gu Shinian had captured two enemy agents in the provincial capital and prevented the enemy agents from blowing up the train station, and that the bad elements sent to the village might be with those enemy agents. Want to seek revenge on Gu Shinian?

The bad guys prevented her from leaving the village. Could it be because she was close to Gu Shinian and wanted to use her to restrain Gu Shinian so that he could attack Gu Shinian at any time?

Thinking of this, Yun Chang's brain exploded instantly.

Glancing at the time, he found that it was half past four, so he went straight out of the space, fumbled to put on his clothes, slid down the kang, and was about to go to the county to find Gu Shinian.

The old lady was woken up by Yun Chang's movements, looked outside at the blue sky, and hurriedly asked Yun Chang why she got up early.

"Grandma, I'm going to the county to find Brother Gu, and I'll go now."

The old lady thought that Yunshang had lost her temper, so she asked while she was getting dressed, "Shangnan, it's not yet dawn, there is no mule cart in town, how are you going? Your second brother Gu still has to go to school, Even if you go in the morning, you won't see anyone."

"Grandma, it will be dawn when I get to town. I won't go to Aunt Zhang's house, I'll go directly to the school to find Brother Gu."

Yun Chang wiped her face clean, ran to the window sill to wipe off her face cream, put on her small army bag, turned around and ran out the door.

The old lady was stunned for a moment, and hurriedly got off the kang and chased after her, "Oh, you disobedient daughter, you can't go alone! Wait a moment, I will go to Houcun to find your grandfather, and ask your grandfather to send you to the county. ."

"Grandma, I'll go to the back village to find my grandfather, and ask my grandfather to send me off. Don't come out." Yun Shang waved to the old lady and ran to the back village.

Gu Shinian was called out by the teacher in the middle of the class, and as soon as he went out, he saw Yun Shang and the old man standing by the flower bed.

Seeing Gu Shinian approaching, the old man gave them a few words of advice, then turned and went to Han Shan's house.

On the other hand, Yunshang pulled Gu Shinian, shedding tears while telling what happened last night and her guess.

"Second Brother Gu, I was worried that the enemy agents still have accomplices, and I didn't dare to arrest them. If you startle the enemy and drive the enemy agents into a panic, what will you do if someone attacks you? There is also the question of my life experience, and I am afraid that I will not be able to find out..."

Gu Shinian knelt down and wiped away the tears from the corners of Yunshang's eyes, "Ah Chang, you did the right thing, you can't directly arrest someone before you are sure whether the other party has any accomplices..."

"Then what should we do now?" Yunshang grabbed Gu Shinian's sleeve and suggested, "Second brother Gu, my grandfather has been making furniture for the past few days and is about to move to Fenyang. You should also quickly transfer your household registration there. Stayed in Qinghe County."

"It's okay. Before the bridge is built, the other party will hide carefully and won't attack me easily."

Seeing that Yunshang's brows were tightly frowned, Gu Shinian continued to explain, "Their goal is the newly built bridge, if they do anything to me, they may reveal their identity, and the next plan will not go ahead. "

Yunshang was a little relieved, but thinking of the purpose of the enemy agents lurking in the village, Yunshang's heart tightened again.

The country is now in the most difficult time, and resources are extremely scarce. A newly built bridge that can span two provinces will cost a lot of manpower and material resources. How can she pretend to be deaf and dumb and watch the enemy agents wreak havoc? ?

What's more, it wasn't long after the Beishan coal mine explosion, and those scenes of purgatory on earth are still clearly imprinted in her memory. If there is another accident on the bridge, I don't know how many families will lose their pillars...

"Second Brother Gu..."

"A Chang," Gu Shinian stopped Yun Shang from talking, and stroked her head reassuringly, "I'll take care of the enemy's affairs, and you don't need to worry about it. Pack your things when you go back today, and go to Fenyang as soon as possible."

"What are you going to do? Also, Brother Gu, don't you plan to go to Fenyang?" Yun Shang held Gu Shinian tightly,

It seemed that he would not let go until he gave a satisfactory answer.

"Ah Chang, we are not good at catching enemy agents. We have to leave this matter to professionals."

Gu Shinian spoke in a calm voice, with a sense of conviction familiar to Yunshang, which made her want to nod along.

"Second brother Gu, I listen to you."

"Good boy." Gu Shinian raised his hand again, "I'll go to the police in the afternoon and tell Zhang Haiyang about this. With the police watching, the enemy agents won't succeed. But..."

Seeing Yun Shang raised his eyes to look over, Gu Shinian lowered his body again, and looked at Yun Shang with his eyes, "In this way, you will not be able to hide your life experience. The old Yun family will also know that you already know It's not Yun Dachuan's own daughter's business.

Also, the real cause of Yun Dachuan's death... A-shang, you have to be mentally prepared, the members of Lao Yun's family may have an affair with you. "

As soon as Gu Shinian finished speaking, Yun Shang's tears overflowed in succession and hit the ground straight, unable to stop no matter what.

The reason why Yun's family can accept Yun Dachuan's accidental fall down the mountain is because they put the responsibility for this tragedy on the old Wang's family.

And because she is the child Yun Dachuan loves in his heart, the old couple loves the house and cuddles, holding her in their arms every day, shouting obediently to the left and to the right.

If they knew that Yun Dachuan's death was not an accident, but was killed by enemy agents because they adopted her, how could they bear the blow.

In the future, let alone pampering her like before, it's fine if you don't tear her up.

They will also regret not listening to Widow Wang's words and sending her out.

He would also resent her for causing Lao Yun's family to lose a pillar.

And the Widow Wang, she didn't even have the right to resent the Widow Wang.

Because of her, Widow Wang lost her husband and her family.

Widow Wang tortured the original owner before, did she already know that Yun Dachuan's death was not an accident?

The original owner was planned by the enemy agent in advance to save his life. Widow Wang couldn't directly kill the original owner to vent her anger due to the threat of the enemy agent.

That's why he endured the torment and anger in his heart, while trying to vent his anger on the original owner, and at the same time hanging the original owner's life...

Thinking of this, Yun Chang cried so much that she couldn't open her eyes. Gu Shinian sighed, hugged her in his arms, and while wiping her tears, coaxed her:

"A-Shang, the matter hasn't reached that point yet. The old couple are sensible people. They know that it was the enemy agents who killed Yun Dachuan, not you, you are also the victim. Besides, A-Shang has a second brother."

Seeing that Yun Shang's mood was still not high, Gu Shinian changed the subject and said, "A Chang, if the enemy agents are caught, the police will probably find your biological parents with this body. Grab A Chang."

After Gu Shinian finished speaking, his heart turned sour.

Chapter 234 Broken

When Yun Shang lived in Lao Yun's house, Gu Shinian didn't feel like his sister was being snatched away.

He knew very well in his heart that Yunshang did not belong to Lao Yun's family, and she would leave Lao Yun's house sooner or later.

Therefore, Gu Shinian would be very grateful to Lao Yun's family for taking care of Yunshang, and within the scope of his ability, he would help Lao Yun's family.

But once Yunshang is reunited with her biological parents in this life, she will completely belong to another family.

In the future, he can't justly intervene in Yun Shang's affairs, nor can he take Yun Shang by his side to take care of him personally, and he is not even qualified to intervene in Yun Shang's future life events.

This feeling is even worse than an old father marrying a precious daughter.

The precious daughter of someone else's family was angry at her husband's house, and the old father still relied on his status as the father-in-law to come and beat up his son-in-law, but if Yunshang was angry at his own home, even if he searched for reasons, he couldn't come to the elders hands on.

Thinking about it this way, Gu Shinian felt that it was good for Yunshang not to find her biological parents. With his careful care, Yunshang's life would not be worse than that of the children of big cadre families, and she would not be wronged.

Yun Chang didn't know that Gu Shinian's heart was already sour, so he wiped his eyes, and said, "I won't go back, no one can be trusted than Second Brother Gu, I'll be with Second Brother Gu from now on, where? None."

She only believed in Second Brother Gu, and no one else.

Parents are suspected of being high officials, they can't even protect their own children, and it's useless for enemy agents to steal them as hostages.

It's better for Second Brother Gu, who can guard her firmly at any time.

Even if it was a different world, Second Brother Gu would still protect her tightly.

Gu Shinian's eyes were inexplicably hot, and he felt that all the hard work of guarding Yunshang and protecting Yunshang for so many years was not in vain.

The bear boy in his family has finally grown up and become sensible, and the old father's heart that was about to be broken by hard work in his chest was finally comforted.

At this moment, Yunshang's little heart was also aggrieved and uncomfortable. She pulled Gu Shinian and did not let go, her voice softened, and she said aggrievedly, "Second Brother Gu, when are you going to Fenyang? You are not in Fenyang. No bottom."

"A Chang, Gu Guangzong is back." Seeing Yun Shang stunned, Gu Shinian continued, "He came back to persuade me to go to the provincial capital."

Gu Shinian's tone of sarcasm was obvious, and Yun Shang immediately realized, "Is it what Gu Huaqing meant?"

"It should be. It's also interesting to see Gu Guangzong's troubled look. He was obviously afraid of me going to the provincial capital, but he had to hold back and try his best to persuade me to go to the provincial capital."

Yun Shang: "..."

What the hell are the Gu family father and son doing?

This Gu Guangzong has been looking back at home for several months, and he still hasn't settled Gu Huaiqing?

What a waste!

Thinking about it, he couldn't compare to Gu Huaiqing in terms of cruelty, Zhou Mingjuan in terms of tactics, and even the whole family couldn't compare to Gu's second brother in terms of schemes.

Such a cowardly and brainless guy, who has repeatedly troubled Second Brother Gu, deserves to be pressed to the ground and rubbed vigorously.

"A-shang, after I send Gu Guangzong away, I will discuss with Comrade Zhang and Gu Pangu as soon as possible about the change of residence. You go to Fenyang first, for ten days at most, and the second brother will definitely go to accompany you."

After obtaining the correct words from Gu Shinian's mouth, the police would also watch over the hidden enemy agents in the village, and the big stone that Yun Shang was holding in her heart fell to the ground.

He dragged Gu Shinian around the supply and marketing cooperative, bought fabric for the old couple, bought new clothes for Widow Wang, and went to Lao Han's house to call for the old man, and the grandfather and grandson returned to the village before it was too dark.

When he got home, Yun Erchuan also came back from Fenyang, and the old lady was sitting on the kang with Shuanzi in his arms, listening to Yun Erchuan talk about his changing of residence and finding a job.

Yunshang listened and knew that Yun Erchuan had already found a job on the construction site of the aluminum factory, and the salary was not bad.

Three meals a day,

You can get 19 yuan salary every month, and you can also take two days off.

This condition is no different from that of an apprentice.

It's just that working on the construction site is a little harder.

Both the old man and the old lady were very satisfied, and they took turns to teach Yun Erchuan a political lesson: When you go to work, you can't steal and play tricks. You have to be more enthusiastic when you meet people, but you can't have conflicts with your co-workers...

Yun Chang looked at the happy family, a look of sadness flashed in his eyes, he lowered his head, carrying a small army bag, and quietly went to the side room.

At this time, Widow Wang was leaning halfway on the kang, her long hair was disheveled behind her head, her complexion was dark yellow and gray, her lips were blue and white, and she looked sickly.

Yun Chang was taken aback, and hurried forward to touch Widow Wang's forehead. Her body temperature was normal, and there was no nasal congestion when breathing. It should not be a cold or fever.

I was wondering in my heart, and suddenly thought of what the enemy agent did on Widow Wang's leg last night before he left.

Quickly lifted the thin quilt on Widow Wang's legs and looked at her calves.

Widow Wang's foot was twisted at an abnormal angle, her ankle was swollen to the size of a steamed bun, and the color was a frightening blue-purple, as if it was covered with blood.

After Yun Chang was stunned, she quickly reacted.

Widow Wang was delirious and had no way to obey the enemy's arrangement to keep her in the village. In desperation, the enemy had to break Widow Wang's ankle.

A hundred days of injury, so the old lady had to take care of Widow Wang for three months.

As an old father-in-law, the old man is not good at taking care of Widow Wang, so he can always take care of the two children at home, right?

Besides, he still has to work in the fields.

Once the old couple stay in the village, Yunshang will naturally not be able to go to Fenyang.

After all, Yun Shuilian is busy working all day, but she has no time to take care of her.

Thinking about this clearly, Yun Chang's lungs exploded with anger, she slid down the kang, ran back to the main room and shouted, "Grandma, grandma, take a look, my mother's leg is broken!"

"What?"

The old couple and Yun Erchuan were taken aback. The old man was the first to react, and he lifted his foot and walked towards the side room, "I didn't see your mother fall, why would a good foot break?"

The old lady was also in a hurry, and Fei Huan jumped on her little feet, rushing into the side room before the old man.

Seeing Widow Wang's ankle that was as big as a steamed bun, the old couple froze there.

"This... When did it become like this? I saw her go to the latrine in the morning, and she was fed well at noon..."

Yun Shang listened to the old lady's murmurs, and the anger in her heart grew stronger.

Widow Wang is not clear-headed. Even if her ankle is broken, she doesn't know how to tell others.

When the old lady was feeding at noon, Widow Wang should be half leaning on the head of the kang like this. Even if the old lady found that Widow Wang's expression was wrong, at most she thought she was uncomfortable.

After all, she didn't have a fever, but her complexion was unsightly. Who would have thought that she was in such pain because of a broken foot?

Chapter 235 Let's move

What's more, Widow Wang's legs were covered with a quilt, and the old lady would not lift the quilt to check for no reason, and how could she know that Widow Wang's leg broke inexplicably after sleeping.

Yun Shang gritted her teeth bitterly, this damned enemy agent is simply insane!

"Oh, why did she torture herself like this?" The old lady finally came back to her senses, and shouted at Yun Erchuan, "Erchuan! Erchuan! Go to the brigade to borrow a ox cart, we have to take Wang Guihua to the county hospital. "

After hearing this, Yunshang ran outside, "Second Uncle, wait for me, I'll go to the brigade too!"

The bad elements sent down in the village live in the cow shed of the brigade headquarters, and she has to follow them, looking for opportunities to vent their anger on Widow Wang.

She's not a little cub who doesn't know how to resist!

Even if she couldn't vent her anger on Widow Wang blatantly, wouldn't she know how to play tricks?

It was the time to get off work, and the three bad guys came back from repairing the road and were sorting out the farm tools used by the villagers to work in the warehouse.

Wipe the hoes one by one, hang them one by one on the nailed wooden sticks on the wall, and then pack up the shovels and lean them side by side against the wall.

The three of them tidied up their farming tools and were about to go out to wash their faces and slap the dust off their bodies when the wooden stick on which the hoes were hung broke with a 'snap', and a dozen hoes fell all at once and landed on the enemy agents at the back.

The old master is also afraid of random punches. No matter how good the enemy agent is, he can't parry this random smashing.

What's more, this is in the brigade headquarters, with so many eyes staring at him, it's too late for him to hide his clumsiness, so how dare he show his skill.

This greatly facilitated Yunshang, with the blessing of spiritual power, those hoes used their full strength every time they smashed down, and two sharp hoes went straight to the enemy's instep.

The two people in front turned around after hearing the sound, and found that the companion behind them had been smashed by the hoe, with several cuts on the head, the tip of the hoe embedded in the instep of the right foot, and the three toes of the left foot with straw sandals were cut off by the hoe. down.

If he hadn't held on to the wall with both hands, he would probably have fallen to the ground right now.

"Old Wu, how are you doing?"

The two rushed over, helped the injured companion to sit beside him, and hurriedly went out to call the village chief.

"Old Wu? The original surname is Wu." Yun Shang smiled coldly, turned around, with an innocent smile on his face again, walked along the back wall of the warehouse to the cowshed, and watched Yun Erchuan set up the ox cart.

.....

Widow Wang was sent to the county hospital overnight, and Yunshang paid the hospitalization fee to Widow Wang with fifty yuan from the old Wang's family.

After a lot of tossing, Widow Wang's broken bones were finally healed, and she fell asleep on the hospital bed.

The old man sat on the hospital bed next to him, glanced at the sleeping Widow Wang, and then at the old lady who was tucking the quilt for Widow Wang, feeling so worried that his intestines were knotted.

Originally, I wanted to send the whole family to the city as soon as possible, but when Widow Wang was hospitalized, the old woman was tied up at home.

If Changnan went to Fenyang alone, Erchuan and Shuilian would have to go to work again, and they would not have time to take care of her. How could a six-year-old child take care of herself?

But there were bad elements in the village, and he really didn't dare to leave his granddaughter in the village to take risks...

What should we do about this matter?

Yun Chang naturally knew what the old man was worried about, avoided the old lady, and quietly pulled the old man out of the ward.

"Master, Second Uncle is going to work in Fenyang in the next two days. Let's all go there and transfer my mother to Fenyang Hospital."

Didn't the enemy agent surnamed Wu want to take advantage of Widow Wang's fracture and trap her in the village? She came to the bottom of the pot and transferred Widow Wang to Fenyang Hospital directly to see what tricks the surnamed Wu could do.

She couldn't believe it, the surname Wu lost three of his toes, the other foot was almost pierced, he couldn't even get out of the door, and he could still crawl out in the middle of the night and continue to do bad things?

The old man shook his head,

With a long sigh, "Shangnan, the cost of Fenyang Hospital is more expensive than that of the county hospital. With your Aunt Wei Hong here in the county, everything is easy for us..."

"Grandpa, it's not expensive. My mother's foot is connected. I just need to take good care of it in the future. It won't cost much." No matter how much money she spends, she can afford it, and there is still seven thousand yuan in her purse. .

The old man hesitated, and then asked, "Shangnan, is the Xiaoyang Building far from Fenyang Hospital? Your grandma has been to the county town as far as she can go, and she went to Fenyang unexpectedly. She has to go to the hospital at home every day, so don't get lost." gone."

As soon as Yunshang heard this, she almost patted her chest to make sure, "Master, there is me, I know the way. In a few days, Second Brother Gu is going to Fenyang, and Second Brother Gu can also help. "

When he heard that Gu Shinian was going to Fenyang, the old man Lima felt relieved, "That's fine, the canopy bed at home is ready, and I will ask your second uncle to ask someone to find a car tomorrow, and we will even move and bring your mother to another hospital." , once done."

Yun Shang immediately said that there is no need for Yun Erchuan to put down his face and say nice things to ask for help, and just ask Gu Shinian to contact driver Xiao Xue directly.

Driver Xiaoxue is so nice, he is diligent, enthusiastic, and filial, such a person is reliable and will not have bad thoughts.

Yun Erchuan has no friendship with the people in the transportation company in the county, and the driver he found through others is not sure whether it is reliable or not. Besides, the people in the county are not familiar with Fenyang City, so it is better to let the driver Xiaoxue make another trip.

The old man had a very good impression of driver Xiao Xue, Yun Shang agreed as soon as he said it, knowing that Gu Shinian had the contact information of driver Xiao Xue, the old man was very relieved and handed over the responsibility of contacting the big truck to Yun Shang.

.....

Gu Shinian had just dismissed Gu Guangzong who was stuck on the road, when he looked up, he saw Yun Erchuan parked on the side of the road with a bullock cart, and Yun Shang and Shuanzi were sitting on the bullock cart obediently.

Seeing Gu Shinian approaching, Yunshang jumped out of the car and waved towards Yun Erchuan and Shuanzi, "Second Uncle, Second Brother Gu is here, you should go back to the village quickly, the village is inseparable from the spring plowing now." Cattle."

Yun Erchuan nodded in response, and Yun Shang continued, "Second Uncle, remember to feed the chicken when you get back, and pick up the eggs from yesterday."

After finishing speaking, Yun Chang clearly saw that Yun Erchuan's hand holding the whip froze for a moment, then nodded uncomfortably, and drove the ox cart towards the outside of the county.

Sending Yun Erchuan away, Gu Shinian looked at Yun Shang's slightly pale face and sighed. He took him to the state-owned restaurant and drank a bowl of steaming camellia noodles before asking about Yun Shang's appearance early in the morning. The reason for the county seat.

"Second brother Gu, that enemy agent broke Widow Wang's ankle, and she is now in the county hospital."

As soon as Yunshang finished speaking, Gu Shinian wanted to understand the enemy's purpose, and seeing Yunshang's gloating smirk, he raised his eyebrows and asked, "Ah Chang, have you done something bad?"

Chapter 236: Old Wang's Family Comes

"No!" Yun Shang shook her head resolutely, "That man was unlucky. He was hit by a hoe that fell from a pole in the warehouse. I heard that he lost three toes. It was quite miserable."

After speaking, he nodded, indicating that what he said was the truth.

Gu Shinian almost laughed out loud, if he didn't know her temperament too well, he would almost believe her nonsense.

Yun Shang felt guilty when Gu Shinian looked at her, so she quickly changed the subject and asked, "Second brother Gu, is Gu Guangzong still not giving up? Does Aunt Zhang know about Gu Guangzong's return?"

"How could Gu Guangzong have the face to see his own mother and sister? This time I came to live in a guest house. I didn't let Comrade Zhang know about Gu Guangzong's return, lest she know Gu Guangzong's purpose and have another life. sulking."

"That's right, that kind of white-eyed wolf, don't pull it out to answer Aunt Zhang."

Yun Chang finished speaking in agreement, put down her chopsticks, and pulled Gu Shinian to the outside, "Second brother Gu, let's call driver Xiao Xue and ask him to come over some time, Lao Yun's family is also moving. ."

When the two arrived at the post office, they first called Lin Dani, Han Yang, and Han Chen respectively, and told them about their move to Fenyang, and finally called the Fenyang Transportation Company.

The driver Xiao Xue had just returned from a trip, and came to the company to deliver the car in the morning, when he just received a call from the two of them.

Hearing that Lao Yun's family wanted to ask him to help move, driver Xiao Xue agreed without hesitation.

Just for the five catties of white flour and meat buns that these two children gave last time, even if they don't give white noodles this time, they have to go!

What's more, the two children are very good at etiquette, and they won't let him make a trip in vain. This time, maybe they can get another twenty catties of white flour.

Forty to fifty catties of flour, enough for his mother to last for three months.

After confirming the moving time with driver Xiao Xue, the two hurried back to the hospital to inform the old man. Together, they decided to let the old couple stay in the hospital to take care of Widow Wang, and Yun Shang and Gu Shinian went back to the village to help Yun Erchuan clean up.

Lao Yun's family has a poor foundation and doesn't have many things. In addition, the old man has to stay in the village to guard the two yards, so the bedding, a set of kitchen equipment, and various dried vegetables and rations must be reserved for the old man.

After packing up, Yun Erchuan's things plus the old lady's things made up two flatbed carts.

But Widow Wang has more belongings, not to mention the big black iron pot in the kitchen, there are about twenty dishes and pans in the cabinet alone, and there are two boxes full of clothes. There is a lot of rations, and there are three old hens laying eggs in the backyard.

Yun Chang looked at the things in the yard and thumped her forehead, thinking that she could think about buying a small yard for Widow Wang. In the future, I will put all these belongings in the spacious small yard, and when Widow Wang stops the medicine and clears her mind, she will let herself live a free life.

In case Widow Wang would be aggrieved and squeezed into the building, and she would be disgusted with her.

However, buying a yard for Widow Wang can't be near the small western-style building, it has to be far away from her and Lao Yun's house, it's better to buy it in another city.

When they arrived in the new place, no one knew the details of Widow Wang. She had a big house to live in, and she was provided with food. As long as she didn't mess around outside, no one would gossip about her, and life would be much easier in the future.

Moreover, Widow Wang is not yet thirty years old this year. If she meets someone she likes, she can remarry and have a litter of children in the future to live a peaceful and stable life.

But before Widow Wang remarries, she has to take good care of Widow Wang for Yun Dachuan, which is what she owes to Yun Dachuan and Widow Wang.

As for whether the secrets about her will be revealed by Widow Wang, Yunshang felt that she could always think of other ways...

There was a lot of news that Lao Yun's family was going to move. It took only one meal to spread throughout the village, and even the surrounding villages got the news.

The first one who couldn't sit still was Lao Wang's family.

Mrs. Wang was worried that after Lao Yun's family moved out, she would not be able to find out the news of Widow Wang. She was worried that Lao Yun's family had taken the money,

But he didn't care about Widow Wang, let her go hungry and cold, and worried that Lao Yun's family would remarry Widow Wang casually, so he came to talk to the people of Lao Yun's family.

The rest of the old Wang's family came here with the intention of seeking benefits.

Yunshang bought a house in Fenyang, took care of Yun Shuilian's job, and got Yun Erchuan's household registration out. Why should Lao Yun's family take up such a big benefit?

Their old Wang's family is Yunshang's natal family, and Yunshang is supported by noble people, shouldn't they help her natal family?

Not to mention the houses and jobs in the city, at least one hundred and eighty yuan should be given to Lao Wang's family, right?

But this little girl was so heartless that she not only refused to drag her natal family, but also asked Old Yuntou and the village chief to bring Widow Wang to their house to collect debts. Obviously there is no shortage of money and food in hand, and she can afford to support Widow Wang, but she insists on forcing her family to starve and starve.

Where in the world can you find such a cruel and unfilial granddaughter?

Old Wangtong cursed Yunshang and Lao Yun's family in his heart, while urging the two sons who were carrying the door panel to leave quickly. He didn't care about the old lady Wang on the door panel until her hips hurt and her forehead was sweating.

Mrs. Wang was anxious to see her daughter, but she forcibly endured it.

The old Wang family rushed to Widow Wang's house aggressively, and saw that only Yunshang and Gu Shinian were packing things at home. After asking again, Widow Wang's foot was broken, and the old couple of the Yun family were taking care of Widow Wang in the county. The door panel howled:

"Oh, your old Yun's family still said to take good care of my daughter, but why did you take good care of my daughter's ankle? You old Yun's family is so cruel that you don't want my daughter to go to the city to drag you down, so you just take care of me. The ankle is broken! Oops, I feel so sorry for my old lady!"

As soon as Xu Dalan heard the old lady howl, she immediately sat down by the old lady's door, patted her thigh and opened her mouth to howl:

"Oh, poor Hua'er~, marrying into this wolf's lair will make people turn into fools, and even make people break their feet..."

Before she could finish her sentence, Mrs. Wang turned her head and yelled, "Who are you calling a fool? Pooh! You are the fool! My daughter made you mad with anger! You still have the face to howl here, get out of here!"

Seeing Xu Dalan covering her face, scrambling away from Mrs. Wang, and then hiding behind Boss Wang, Yun Shang almost burst out laughing.

Mrs. Wang sat in the yard and yelled, purely because she felt sorry for Widow Wang, and felt that Lao Yun's family did not take good care of Widow Wang, so she found a way to vent her anger.

Xu Dalan is such an idiot that she doesn't even know what Mrs. Wang is thinking, so she sits next to Mrs. Wang and pours dirty water on Lao Yun's family, blames her on Lao Yun's family, and calls Widow Wang a fool. If Mrs. Wang doesn't smoke her, who will she smoke?

If Xu Dalan continues to talk nonsense and offend Lao Yun's family, who will take care of Widow Wang in the future?

Chapter 237: It's Time for Old Li's Family to Come

Mrs. Wang knew very well that it was impossible for the old Wang family to raise Widow Wang, so she could only count on Lao Yun's family to raise her daughter.

Therefore, Mrs. Wang's nonsense is nothing but nonsense, she still has a sense of proportion in her mouth, and she didn't scold too much.

Seeing this, Yun Chang simply moved a bench and sat under the eaves, resting her chin on her hands, watching the old lady's crying as a circus.

Mr. Wang wanted to get angry and accuse Yun Chang of being unfilial, but Gu Shinian's cold gaze glanced over as soon as he stared at him, and Mr. Wang forcibly held back the words that came to his lips.

Why is this little evil star still there?

The son of a high-ranking official in the provincial capital is no longer working hard as his official young master in the provincial capital. He goes to the village to hang out with the little girl every day, thinking about what he wants to do.

What a bad luck!

There is such a big Buddha here, so I have to make a trip for nothing today.

Mr. Wang stood by the side, not showing his head. In the yard, only Mrs. Wang was howling, but soon, the villagers who gathered around to watch the excitement quit, and crowded into the yard one by one to annoy Mrs. Wang.

Are you kidding me?

Comrade Gu Xiao and Chang girl are their great heroes in Xinglin Village!

Without these two treasures who have a wide range of connections and can get food, Xinglin Village might starve to death.

Don't say that Lao Yun's family doesn't have any adults who can take care of things, even if there are adults, they can't just watch the little gold lump in the village being bullied by people from other villages.

Besides, six adults surrounded the door to trouble a six-year-old girl, the old Wang family can really do it!

Mrs. Wang didn't expect that Yunshang hadn't spoken yet, and the villagers in Xinglin Village would hate her first, and seeing that Lao Yun's family didn't even have a challenger, they shut their mouths embarrassingly.

In this way, Yunshang and Gu Shinian sat under the eaves, and the old Wang's family stood around Mrs. Wang in the yard. No one spoke for a while. The scene was very embarrassing and a bit ridiculous.

Mrs. Wang coughed dryly, Mrs. Wang reacted immediately, and waved at Yunshang, "Shang girl, come, come here, grandma will ask you a few words."

Yun Chang smirked slightly in her heart, feeling that Mrs. Wang's face was really thick.

When she instigated her grandson to snatch the original owner's jade token back then, she didn't say that she was a grandmother, and Widow Wang had divorced her for five or six years. During these years, Mrs. Wang didn't jump out to recognize her granddaughter. Playing like an elder.

Where is the face from?

Seeing that Yunshang didn't move or speak, Mrs. Wang couldn't hold back, her expression froze for a moment, and she continued, "Shang girl, grandma asks you, you want to move to Fenyang, what about your mother? Move there Who will take care of your mother in the future?"

Before Yun Chang answered, Aunt Li, who was lying on the wall, couldn't help laughing:

"Tsk tsk! You asked this question, as if your old Wang's family would take care of Changnan's mother if you didn't move away! Changnan's mother has been ill for so long, who in your family has come to see it? Now it's time to come out and fill my head. Pooh!"

"Our family provided rations!" Mrs. Wang blushed and choked.

"I gave fifty yuan!" Yunshang answered immediately, raised her hand, showing five chubby fingers, "Twenty yuan is my mother's annual medical expenses, thirty yuan is worth fifty catties Food is my mother's half-year ration."

"Damn it! Thanks to your old Wang's family being able to get it, I'm so ridiculous! Why is your old Wang's food so worthless?"

"Isn't it? Thirty yuan can be exchanged for fifty catties of grain, and you can still eat it for half a year, so you can only eat three or two in that day? Tsk! Dachuan's daughter-in-law's stomach is really small enough."

"Why do you have the nerve to come and say that Lao Yun's family can't take care of your daughter? If you really love your daughter, then take her home and raise her! Your family is driving people crazy, so let a six-year-old wipe your ass, Only your old Wang family can do this!"

...

The villagers who watched the excitement made a good joke, which made the old Wang family feel ashamed. Seeing that Mrs. Wang was about to speak again, Yunshang said first:

"My mother fell in the latrine yesterday and broke her ankle.

Fifty yuan was paid to my mother for hospitalization. When will your family deliver the remaining fifty catties of rations? My mother's surgery can cost a lot of money. "

This time, the old Wang's family completely shut up, only Xu Dalan said stupidly, "It's not bad for our family if Hua'er broke her leg, why is she urging for food again!"

Yun Shang looked at Xu Dalan with dark eyes, and smiled innocently and innocently, "But if my mother hadn't been mad by you again, she wouldn't even have to wrestle in the latrine."

Xu Dalan: "... " It seems that it really makes sense.

Old Madam Wang held back her embarrassment, patted the door and scolded Xu Dalan, then turned her head and continued to ask Yunshang, "Shang girl, what did the doctor say, when will your mother recover? When you arrive in Fenyang, where does your mother live?" ? Can I have enough to eat?"

Yun Chang didn't dig a hole for Mrs. Wang this time, and answered honestly:

"The doctor said that my mother will recover in three months. When we arrive in Fenyang, my mother will live with me. I have food supplies every month. My mother will definitely not be hungry."

Moreover, I will buy a big house for Widow Wang in the future, so that she can also eat food supplies, but these have nothing to do with your old Wang family.

The old couple of the Yun family were taking care of Widow Wang in the county. Yun Erchuan took Shuan Zi to the road to resign, and Yun Shang had Gu Shinian at his side. The old Wang didn't have the guts to make trouble. Mrs. Wang was worried that Widow Wang would not be taken care of.

Don't dare to make too much noise. The remaining four juniors did not get the approval of the old couple of the Wang family, and they did not dare to stand out.

The old Wang's family came over so aggressively, and finally walked back without even saying a few words.

Yunshang thanked the villagers who were watching the excitement, and talked about the move to Fenyang generously. After satisfying the curiosity of the villagers, she rubbed her cheeks and walked into the house.

Damn, the thirst for knowledge of the villagers is so strong that they even have to ask about the size and color of the bricks in the Fenyang Department Store.

Just answering the question made her cheeks sore.

Gu Shinian held a cup of hot water and drank it slowly. Seeing Yunshang entering the door, he reached out to rub her cheeks, and said with a smile, "Hurry up and rest for a while, Li Hongmei and the old Li's family should come over later."

Yun Shang: "... " Second Brother Gu, can we stop the crow's mouth?

Yun Chang was worried.

She would rather fight the old Wang family for three hundred rounds than fighting the old Li family.

The old Wang's family only has He Meiju's brains enough, but unfortunately she doesn't have the right to speak. When other people come to her, it's really not a dish.

But Old Li's family is different. Mrs. Li is notoriously difficult to deal with, and the three daughters-in-law are also competing with each other. The three tigers, cows, and dogs are the knives in Mrs. Li's hands , referring to where to hit.

Dealing with such people, the body is tired, the brain is tired, and the heart is even more tired.

Chapter 238 hit the right

Yun Shang suddenly felt sympathetic to Yun Erchuan, feeling that his life was really hard in the past, with a brainless daughter-in-law like Li Hongmei and a troublesome Yue family like Lao Li's, there was nothing missing for so many years. One arm and one leg are missing, it's all because of the mercy of the old Li's family.

Fortunately, no matter how difficult it was, it was the ex-yue's family, and the old Li's family was just taking advantage of Li Hongmei's belly, and they really didn't have the guts to do other things.

After all, Li Hongmei is still a bad guy.

On the dirt road at the entrance of the village, Mrs. Li and her three sons walked in front, and Li Hongmei followed behind, wiping her tears, moving every step, looking like a spoiled little daughter-in-law.

"Our old Li's family has never had a daughter who was divorced and returned to her mother's house in a few lifetimes! How can you have the face to piss on such a shameful thing? Something that can't hold good luck, but it's embarrassing to my old face..."

Mrs. Li scolded as she walked, and was so angry that she turned around and spat out thick phlegm on Li Hongmei.

What a shame.

With such an unlucky and bad girl, she hasn't had the face to go out to meet people for a long time.

Originally thought that Li Hongmei had Lao Yun's baby in her stomach, and when the baby was born, she would find someone to talk to and make up with, and find a way to let Li Hongmei go back to live with Yun Erchuan.

Unexpectedly, Lao Yun's family would be lucky just after Li Hongmei divorced, and the family would suddenly move to live in the city.

With a head start, how could Yun Erchuan have a crush on Li Hongmei in the future?

Maybe I don't even want the baby in my stomach anymore.

What's even more irritating is that people in the village are now spreading gossip, saying that Li Hongmei is the reincarnation of a broom star, and whoever enters will cause harm to whichever family.

A few years ago, she married into Lao Yun's family, killed Yun Dachuan, made the dumb girl Chang, and made the widow Wang mad, and also hindered the good luck of Lao Yun's family, making Lao Yun's family poor for several years.

No, Lao Yun's family just divorced Li Hongmei, and good luck came.

I bought a house in the city and found a job. I heard that Yun Shuilian's job is very prestigious, so I just sit in a small mansion and play with a pen. It's easier than being a cadre...

After hearing these gossips, Mrs. Li was so angry that her back molars were almost worn out.

Why did she give birth to such a careless idiot?

If Li Hongmei had been honest and kept quiet and had a good time with Yun Erchuan, wouldn't she be able to follow her into the city now?

But that unlucky thing forcibly ruined his good life.

Forget it, she made a fuss by herself, which made the whole old Li's family a joke.

Even the grandchildren in the family don't like to go out anymore. They say there is a bad aunt who has been divorced, and the children in the village don't play with them anymore.

The more Mrs. Li thinks about it, the more angry she becomes, especially when she thinks that Li Hongmei ran back to her natal family crying and crying, asking her natal family to come forward and send her back to Lao Yun's house. She still has to live with Yun Erchuan, and wants to go to the city with Yun Erchuan. Can't stop jumping up.

Even she didn't dare to make such an idea, Li Hongmei actually said it out of her mouth.

She doesn't even look at her status now. A bad guy, a retired broom star, Lao Yun's family has lost his mind, he can't live a good life, and then take her back to the prodigal family?

To put it bluntly, if Yun Erchuan said that he wanted to find someone now, most of them would be scrambling for marriage, so what is Li Hongmei?

At that time, even if Li Hongmei gave birth to another son to Yun Erchuan, it might be considered unlucky.

Mrs. Li didn't want to come at first, but then she thought, Lao Yun's family was going to the city, so she had to make arrangements for the child in Li Hongmei's stomach, right?

Do you want the child or not? If so, how much rations will Lao Yun's family leave for Li Hongmei? When the child is born, how will Li Hongmei confine her? What benefit?

Thinking of this, Mrs. Li immediately dragged the crying Li Hongmei and brought her three sons to Lao Yun's house.

Li Hongmei's unlucky is a bit unlucky,

But after all, she is her own daughter, and the benefits in the end are not all hers.

A group of people first went to Houcun, pinched a lock on the door, and then ran to Qiancun. Once they entered the door, they found that there were no adults in the house, only two ignorant children were there.

Looking at the packed belongings in a yard, the eyes of the Li family were straightened, and Li Hongmei even wiped away tears and asked Yunshang, "Shangnan, when are you going to Fenyang, where is your second uncle?"

"Second uncle is on his way, why don't you go to work and come to my house?"

"Your second uncle didn't say when he would pick me up..."

"What are you doing blindly?" Mrs. Li raised her hand and slapped Li Hongmei, "What does a girl like Chang know? Let's go into the room and tell Er Chuan when Er Chuan comes back."

Mrs. Li said that she was about to break into the house, Yun Shang quickly closed the door of the main house, turned around and blocked the door, "My mother and I have already separated and lived alone, you can find my second uncle to go to the back village Wait, my family still needs to clean up their belongings."

Mrs. Li was not angry either. Looking at the property in the yard, her eyes flickered, "Okay, if we don't go into the house, let's go to the door and wait."

As soon as they reached the gate, they happened to bump into Yun Erchuan who was holding Shuan Zi and was about to enter with a woman.

When Li Hongmei saw a woman next to Yun Erchuan, her mind exploded, and she rushed forward and scolded:

"Yun Erchuan! Do you still have a conscience! I still have your seeds in my stomach, so you are in a hurry to find someone else..."

Under the eaves, Yun Chang covered her face and sighed, feeling that Li Hongmei was really hopeless.

Last time, she was accused of slandering Dani Lin and was sent to the town. She is still in the labor reform period, and this time she is making the same old mistakes again.

What a... idiot!

Yun Erchuan didn't expect that members of Lao Li's family would appear in Qiancun. After being dazed, he hurriedly took a few steps back with Shuanzi in his arms, "What are you talking nonsense in front of Shuanzi?"

"What am I talking about? Then why don't you tell me who she is? I worked so hard to give birth to your baby, but you want to leave me in the village and live a good life in the city, and you want to find a stepmother for my baby. You really think I, Li Hongmei, are easy to bully..."

"Li Hongmei!" Yun Erchuan pointed at Li Hongmei's nose with a gloomy and frightening face and said angrily, "If you dare to talk nonsense again, I will sue you in the town right now and tell you to go to the corner of the mountain and go to labor reform!"

Li Hongmei stared blankly at Yun Erchuan, and after a while, tears rolled down her cheeks.

Seeing Yun Erchuan's ruthless expression, Li Hongmei finally realized that the man in front of her really didn't want her anymore.

These days, Yun Erchuan brought her food and helped her with hard work, just because she had his child in her stomach, not because he still missed her and wanted to take her back to Lao Yun's house to live.

Wanting to understand this, Li Hongmei covered her face and began to cry. The woman following Yun Erchuan hurriedly waved her hands and explained with a helpless expression:

"Sister Li, stop crying. Brother Yun and I met on the road. We have nothing to do with each other. I'm here... to find girl Chang."

Chapter 239: Honest People Don't Spare

Mrs. Li didn't speak after beating Li Hongmei and rushing out to quarrel with Yun Erchuan. After listening to the woman's explanation, she cursed at the top of her voice:

"Damn! I didn't know you were the eldest daughter of Shen Laohan! Your father has no money to hire a matchmaker, and every day he asks the villagers to bring word to Lao Yun's family that he wants to betroth you to Yun Erchuan. The whole village has spread the word about you." Why are you making a fool of yourself here?

That sounds good! Come to find girl Chang, you are an old girl in your twenties, looking for a six-year-old to pee and play with mud? "

Yun Erchuan: "... " Is there such a thing? Why don't I know?

Yun Shang: "... " When did I pee and play with mud?

People passing by and watching also laughed.

This girl Shen Laohan wanted to marry so much, she ran out to meet her son-in-law without even looking for a matchmaker.

Still want to see Yun Erchuan?

Don't even look at her own situation, the family is so poor that all that's left is on the roof, and she has no shape or size, Yun Erchuan is already a city dweller, how blind must he be to fancy her?

The woman's face was flushed red, and before she could react, she was slapped severely by the furious Li Hongmei.

"Damn! Why don't you look in the mirror to see what kind of virtue you are! You have narrow eyes and sharp mouth, you look like a mouse, and you still want to be my stepmother?"

Li Hongmei was so angry that her face turned pale, she supported her stomach with one hand, and the other hand was hanging by her side, shaking non-stop.

She and Yun Erchuan are divorced, but she is still the mother of Yun Erchuan's baby. Why are these bastards so shameless, and it's not embarrassing for them to come to her son's house to be her son's stepmother!

The old lady Li was afraid that there would be a mistake in Li Hongmei's stomach, and the benefit of getting it soon would fly away, so she hurriedly stepped forward to tear Li Hongmei away, pushing and beating Shen Laohan's daughter to a distance.

"Get lost, old lady! Shameless little whore is crazy about men, she even dares to snatch my son-in-law, believe it or not, I will sue you for broken shoes in town..."

Yun Erchuan on the side was stunned, and after realizing it, he quickly entered the door holding Shuan Zi, who was almost frightened.

"Shangnan, bring Shuan Zi into the house to find Comrade Gu Xiao, don't come out later, do you understand?"

Seeing Yun Erchuan's appearance as if he was facing a formidable enemy, Yunshang almost couldn't help laughing out loud, took Shuanzi's hand, and said to him:

"Second Uncle, when Lao Li's family needs rations, you can say that my grandfather will not go to Fenyang. With my grandfather at home, I won't be hungry for Second Aunt. When the child is born, my grandma will come back to serve her confinement. You can't give me anything you want, if the old Li's family messes around and refuses to leave, you can go directly to the town to file a complaint, they won't dare to do anything to you."

Yun Erchuan repeated it, nodded, turned around, and walked out with full momentum.

What Chang Nan said was right, if the old Li family dared to fight him, he would go to the town to file a complaint and make the old Li family hang a sign and parade through the streets, so as to embarrass him.

There is also Li Hongmei, who will not change her nature, so she will have to take the embolism away from her in the future, so as not to teach the child badly...

Mrs. Li stood on the main road and publicized the shameless desire of Shen Laohan and his daughter to become her grandson's stepmother. Then she brought up Li Hongmei, turned her head and asked Yun Erchuan for favors.

They also need rations, and if they want milk money for raising confinement children, they also specifically specify that there must be white flour in the rations, and pregnant women must eat white flour to raise their children well.

Mrs. Li was a thief with a small plan, but Yun Erchuan remembered Yunshang's confession in his heart, and let her talk about breaking the sky, even if oil and salt were not brought in, and a grain of food would not be given out.

In desperation, Yun Erchuan said, "Then let your daughter leave the baby behind, and my mother will give her confinement."

The child in Li Hongmei's belly is a Taoist talisman. As long as the child is there, she will not have to be sent to other places for labor reform, and she can still have enough food.

Now that he heard that Yun Erchuan didn't want a child, Li Hongmei was anxious and scared, so she went to the nest to rebel, and she turned around and persuaded Mrs. Li first.

"mother,

As long as there are people in the family, I have a place to eat, and the children are not hungry. Don't ask Erchuan for food. "

The old lady Li was so angry that she fell on her back and gave Li Hongmei a slap in the face, "You white-eyed wolf who eats inside and out, who am I asking for things in shame here? You jumped out to pretend to be a good person! A wolf-hearted thing..."

Li Hongmei was beaten, but she didn't dare to resist, she hugged her belly and hid aside for a long time without daring to make a sound.

Mrs. Li was still furious, thinking that Yun Erchuan went to the house last time to rob her of an old hen and slaughtered the remaining chicken, and this time he would not give her any benefits, Xin Qiu added Old grudges, those who jumped on their feet just scolded them.

Yun Erchuan is from the city now, and his waist is tougher than before, and besides, he is not the son-in-law of the old Li family, so why should he be scolded by the old lady Li. Immediately, his neck was stuck, and he replied a few words to Mrs. Li very bluntly.

This time, the hornet's nest was stabbed even more, the old lady Li went straight to the ground, and howled and rolled, and the three sons of the Li family also came over, pushing and shoving to beat Yun Erchuan.

Seeing that Mrs. Li started to act violently, and the three brothers-in-law were about to beat him up again, Yun Erchuan turned around and ran towards the entrance of the village, yelling that he was going to the town to sue the old Li's family for robbers, and that the whole family came to rob him.

The villagers who were watching the fun were very happy, and some aunts who had good deeds also followed Yun Erchuan to the outside of the village, saying that they were going to the town to be Yun Erchuan's witnesses.

The old lady Li was angry and frightened, she sat up suddenly, and hurriedly asked her three sons to chase Yun Erchuan back, and kept yelling at Yun Erchuan for being so worthless, an arrogant bastard who looked like a dog, he was more generous than her!

After some gossip, the old Li's family didn't get any advantage. Mrs. Li took a few sons, left Li Hongmei, and left cursing.

Yunshang pulled Shuan Zi and listened to the whole process by the wall, laughing so much that her stomach hurt.

Whoever said that an honest person will definitely be bullied, as long as the right method is found, an honest person can still be punished without hesitation.

Bringing Shuanzi into the house, tearing off the book in Gu Shinian's hand, while laughing, he learned how Yun Erchuan dealt with Mrs. Li, and finally praised himself quite proudly.

"If it weren't for my good teaching, the second uncle will be designated to suffer today."

"Well, my A-shang is the smartest." Gu Shinian pulled back the book and continued, "Why does Shen Laohan's daughter want you? Do you know her?"

Yun Shang shook her head, "I'm also wondering, I haven't seen this person before, why did she say she came to see me?" Could it be that my reputation of being beautiful and lovable has spread, and that woman came to see Strange?

Gu Shinian could tell at a glance that Yun Shang was narcissistic again, raised his hand and knocked her on the head, reminding:

"I'll ask Second Uncle Yun later to see if Shen Laohan's daughter has also gone to work on the road, and if she has talked to the devolved bad elements."

Chapter 240: Shen Yuegui

Yun Er Chuan Dou won the old Li's house, and he was very proud of himself, but when he entered the door, he met two pairs of dark eyes.

Yunshang sat on the kang and waved to Yun Erchuan, "Second Uncle, Second Brother Gu and I have a question for you."

Yun Erchuan's tongue instantly became knotted, "What, what's the matter?"

Yun Chang's face became more serious, and he fixed his eyes on Yun Erchuan's, "Second Uncle, what is the name of Shen Laohan's daughter?"

Yun Erchuan was inexplicably chilled by Yun Shang's look, and he couldn't help shaking his voice and said, "Call, Shen Yuegui. Changnan, why are you asking this?"

"Then Shen Yuegui also went to work on the road?"

Yun Erchuan swallowed, and nodded nervously.

Yun Chang turned her eyes around Yun Erchuan's square face with Chinese characters, and continued to ask, "Second Uncle, has Shen Yuegui talked to you recently?"

Yun Erchuan blushed a little, and continued to nod, "...I've said it a few times."

Yun Chang was speechless.

A big girl of the family talked to Yun Erchuan several times, and even followed her home in the name of looking for her. Yun Erchuan didn't even have any precautions or doubts. He deserved to be scolded by Mrs. Li!

Gu Shinian didn't care if there was anything going on between Yun Erchuan and Shen Yuegui, he patted Yun Shang's head reassuringly, and asked Yun Erchuan, "Uncle Yun, have you ever seen Shen Yuegui talk to bad guys?"

"...There should be." Yun Erchuan scratched his head, "Everyone will inevitably help each other carry baskets and so on when working. Shen Yuegui and the bad guys also work together a few times, so they should have talked."

Seeing that Gu Shinian and Yun Shang had stopped talking, Yun Erchuan was still a little dazed, "Shang Nan, what are you and Comrade Gu Xiao doing asking this?"

Of course, he was worried that Shen Yuegui, the enemy agent, would play tricks!

It's just that it's not easy to say this to Yun Erchuan, so Gu Shinian immediately changed the subject and asked, "I heard from A Chang that there was a villain in the village whose toes were cut off by a hoe yesterday, did you go to work on the road today?"

"I didn't go. I heard that both feet were injured. I can't even walk. I have to take care of it for a while."

After finishing speaking, Yun Erchuan clicked his tongue twice, and said very dissatisfied, "The bad guy came to our village to be reformed through labor. He lost two toes and will have to be raised for two months. Is he here to enjoy the blessings or come to work?" Remodeled?

Let me tell you, the bad guy was injured this time, maybe it was intentional, he wanted to be lazy and not work, but he didn't know his head properly and broke his toe! "

Yun Chang almost burst out laughing, who said Yun Erchuan is stupid?

Look at this brain hole, what a joke.

Gu Shinian also turned his head speechlessly, ignoring Yun Erchuan.

Yun Chang blinked, moved to the edge of the kang, and asked Yun Erchuan with a gossip expression on his face, "Second uncle, is Shen Yuegui really here to see you today? Does she want to be my second aunt? "

Yun Erchuan's face turned red in an instant, and before he could speak, Yun Shang continued, "But I heard the second aunt in front of me say that Shen Yuegui is not good-looking, with narrow eyes and mouse mouth, looks like a mouse, second uncle, you Do you like mice?"

No matter whether Shen Yuegui had contact with bad elements or not, she couldn't let this woman get close to Lao Yun's house.

Which unmarried girl would think of being a stepmother?

Besides, under Shen Yuegui, there are still a series of younger brothers and sisters who want to be pulled out, and Shen Laohan is still in the village saying that he wants to see Yun Erchuan.

I really thought that others couldn't see their family's small thoughts.

Yun Erchuan's face turned green, since when did he like mice?

Besides, Shen Yuegui doesn't look like a mouse either!

Yun Shang didn't care what Yun Erchuan was thinking, raised her little paw to pat Yun Erchuan's arm, and sighed, "Second Uncle, Shen Yuegui didn't like you, she just liked our family's good fortune. If our family is still clinking poor, look at the old Shen's family, will they take a look at you?"

Yun Erchuan's face darkened again.

Although he knew what was going on in his heart,

But when my six-year-old niece said it, I still couldn't hold back.

No... It's the old Shen's family who are thinking about him now, not him thinking about Shen Yuegui, what is Changnan worried about?

Yun Erchuan immediately straightened his face, and said to Yun Shang in a serious manner, "Shang Nan, where are you going, Second Uncle is not looking for someone now, at least he has to wait until both of your younger brothers are in school before looking for someone."

At that time, I will find a daughter-in-law from the city who is good-natured and good to their children.

You can't find a bastard like Li Hongmei anymore.

Several people were talking in the room, Shen Yuegui, who was chased away by Mrs. Li, appeared out of nowhere, pushed open the courtyard door and came in.

Yun Erchuan saw Shen Yuegui enter the door from the window, his face darkened immediately, he hugged Yunshang off the kang without any morale, stretched out his hand and pushed it out:

"Changnan, go out and have a look, Shen Yuegui said she has something to do with you!"

Yun Shang: "... " Cowardly!

To complain, Yun Shang obediently opened the door curtain and greeted her out.

Close the door of the main house, stand under the eaves, and look at the slightly guilty woman standing in the yard with a scrutiny.

Shen Yuegui wore a tattered blouse full of patches, she was not tall, her hair was dry and yellow, her skin was also dark, her face was dry without a trace of flesh, and there were two conspicuous plateau reds hanging on her face.

The facial features are comparable to Li Hongmei's, both of which belong to the unattractive type.

Yun Shang looked Shen Yuegui up and down carefully before asking, "Auntie, who are you looking for?"

Shen Yuegui raised her hand and stroked her hair, trying to make herself look tidy, then raised her head again, with a smile on her face and said, "Are you a girl? I have something to do with you."

"I don't know you." Yun Chang said immediately.

"Shang girl, my name is Shen Yuegui. I'm working on the road with your second uncle. I... I heard that your mother's ankle is broken. I'm here to ask about the situation." He took out two cents and stuffed it directly into Yunshang's hand, "You take this money to buy candy."

Yun Chang quickly put her hands behind her back, refusing to accept the wrinkled twenty cents.

What are you kidding?

Shen Laohan's poor family only has thatch left on the roof, Shen Yuegui is willing to give her money to buy candy?

Even if she is willing, Shen Laohan can let her wear so much money?

Five points is the best.

Where did the two cents come from?

"Auntie, I'm not short of candy. You can take it back and buy candy for your children."

Hearing this, Shen Yuegui quickly withdrew her hand, put the two cents back into her pocket, and saw Yunshang looking at her for a moment, and smiled embarrassingly:

"Shang girl, when your mother is hospitalized, she can't live without someone to take care of her. Your grandma is old, her legs and feet are not flexible, and you are too young. If your family moves, who will take care of your mother in the future?"

Yun Shang almost rolled her eyes, and looked at Shen Yuegui like a fool, "It's okay, there are nurses in the hospital to help take care of my mother, so I won't be tired."
