

Thrive 27

Chapter 27 Report to the police

Xu Dalan looked at the fact that her parents-in-law treated her eldest son coldly.

It was Mrs. Wang who took a fancy to the jade card of the sister-in-law and the daughter, but she didn't like it. Besides, the jade card was said to be for her son. Didn't she get it in the end!

She didn't blame the old lady for being unreliable, the old lady was good, the sister-in-law didn't recognize her anymore, the old lady didn't say that she did something wrong, but instead blamed her and her son.

How can there be such an unreasonable mother-in-law in this world.

Xu Dalan felt aggrieved in her heart, and felt wronged for her son. In addition, the family was smashed to pieces by the widow Wang, and even half of the kang head collapsed, and Xu Dalan was even more embarrassed.

But Mrs. Wang was in charge of the family's rations, so Xu Dalan didn't dare to hold grudges against Mrs. Wang, so she aimed at the widow Wang.

It's a pity that Widow Wang broke up with the old Wang's family, and she didn't return to her parents' house for several years. In addition, Widow Wang's broken things were passed on in private, and no one picked it up. Xu Dalan just wanted to trouble Widow Wang. , and could not find the opportunity.

This time, Yun Chang pitted Widow Wang at the entrance of the village and pointed out that Widow Wang lived a prosperous life. Naturally, the villagers were guessing where the food in her hand came from.

In this way, everyone's private rumors about the widow Wang's stealing are a little more credible.

Xiaowangzhuang and Xinglin Village were originally close, and this peach-colored scandal spread quickly, so Xu Dalan got the news that day.

It happened that Mrs. Wang scolded her eldest grandson again at dinner. Xu Dalan lay on the kang head that was half-pulled by the widow Wang at night, and then touched her starving and shriveled stomach. The anger in her heart rose in bursts.

Thinking of widow Wang's stealing, nobody cares, and she is well fed and warm, and her life is not too comfortable, while she and her son are suffering in the old Wang's house, how can she hold back the anger in her heart.

That's why Xu Dalan was looking for trouble early in the morning.

I just didn't expect that Xu Dalan didn't even see Widow Wang's face, so she was beaten by Gu Shinian because of her cheap mouth...

As soon as the people from Lao Wang's family came over, they started fighting on their own. Xiao Wangzhuang's branch secretary's face was blackened, and he asked Old Man Wang to quickly separate the people before going over to say hello to the old village chief.

"Brother, what the hell is going on? If you don't say anything, why do you beat someone?"

"Shishu, you can't say that. The people of your little Wangzhuang blocked the door and bullied our village children. Wouldn't you like the people to fight back?"

The secretary was blocked, and his attitude softened. He lit a pot of cigarettes and squatted beside the village chief to inquire about the ins and outs of the matter.

The old village chief glanced at Gu Shinian, squinted his eyes and said:

"Don't worry, wait for the old Wang's family to come over and talk about it. Let's just mediate this matter. How to solve it depends on the intentions of the Yun family and the Wang family."

The old Wang family also stopped at this moment, the old man Wang shouted a few words, and brought people to the two village officials.

"Village Li, look..." Old Man Wang pointed at Xu Dalan's face with anger on his face:

"Even if the old people's words are not pleasing to the ears, you can't label people like this! We have to explain this matter, otherwise our old Wang family will really be embarrassed in the future."

"Yo! This is shameless? Your old Wang's family blocked the door early in the morning to bully people and Dachuan's daughter has a face?"

Aunt Li, who was deliberately left behind by the old village chief, spoke up, and as soon as she spoke, Old Man Wang almost jumped.

Aunt Li didn't care how ugly the faces of the old Wang's family were, she immediately raised her voice and told Xu Dalan how to block the door and how to bully Yunshang, and finally scolded the old Wang's family with disdain.

Old Man Wang's face was flushed with embarrassment, he turned around and glared at Xu Dalan, and said with his neck stuck:

"This is a matter between the old people and my daughter's house. Even if there is going to be trouble, it should be up to my daughter to make trouble. Which round is it for outsiders to beat people!"

"Fuck your mother's shit! Chang's surname is Yun but not Wang! I don't care how Xu Dalan and your daughter beat me up, Huo Huo finished my son, and then bullying my granddaughter is no good! If you want me to say, the beating is too light, and you want to put me on hold and tear her mouth apart! "

As soon as Old Man Wang finished speaking, Old Man Yun turned back, and Yun Erchuan also stood up, staring at Old Man Wang and his wife, as if he was going to rush over and beat Old Wang's family again.

The party secretary of Xiaowangzhuang listened to the whole process, sighed speechlessly, and said to the old village chief:

"This Xu Dalan is so outrageous, no wonder people want to beat her in the mouth."

The village chief nodded and said nothing.

"Hey... the old Yun family is holding their breath. There was no trouble that year, and the breath has never been released."

"Aren't you holding your breath?" The old village chief asked back, and then continued: "When Dachuan is gone, the spirit of the old Yun family collapsed, and Wang Guihua still treats Dachuan's daughter harshly. I feel so good. If you don't let it out, I'm really afraid that these two people will be out of breath. "

"It's no wonder that Wang Lao Er and his wife didn't come here just now. This is because they know that they are in the wrong."

"It's not that simple today. The half-eldest son who started beating Xu Dalan came from the provincial capital..."

"Are you afraid that the old Wang family will corrupt money with others?" The old party secretary immediately reacted.

"Broken money? That is, Mrs. Wang has the guts! If we don't hold back a little bit, it's not certain how the old Wang family will die!"

The old village chief said and poked the branch secretary, motioning him to take care of Gu Shinian, "Look at that dress, it's something ordinary people can wear? I heard that the baby's father is equipped with a car and guards, so character, do you dare to let his son have an accident in your land?"

The dry smoke on Zhi Shu's hand was gone. He looked at Gu Shinian, looked at Yun Chang, and finally looked at the quarrel between the Yun family and the Wang family, and suddenly felt that his head was big.

In the end, without the old village chief saying anything, the village party secretary strode forward and violently suppressed the Wang family.

"Don't quarrel, can quarrel solve the problem! Sit down and talk about how to solve this problem today."

"Losing money!"

Mrs. Wang answered immediately, staring at Gu Shinian's new clothes, as if she saw Qian Chuanzi:

"Pay 20 copies, no, pay 30 copies of 'sick number meal'! I'll give the old people two gold teeth and kowtow to our old Wang family to admit their mistakes, otherwise I will sue the police and let this little turtle go to squat Son, go to Laogai!"

"Mrs Wang, do you know which way the police station is facing? With a bulge on the back of your head and a broken tongue, how can the police officer have time to take care of you!"

This time, it was Sanzhu who spoke, and Mrs. Wang was stunned for a moment, and then went on to say:

"Then I'll report to the town, let the mayor make the call, and close the cowshed for this brat..."

"Let's sue the police!" Gu Shinian interrupted Mrs. Wang coldly, "It's not you who sue me, it's me who sue Xu Dalan."