

Thrive 271

Chapter 271: Dumplings

Yunshang stepped on the cart, hurriedly collecting the money for selling vegetables, eggs and apricots, Gu Shinian was not at ease, he sent away a few ordinary customers, and bargained with the second-hand dealers in a low voice.

When Yunshang was almost sold out, Gu Shinian also negotiated the price, and the remaining polished rice and flour in the bag were all packed to the Erdao dealer for one yuan and seventy catties.

After the items were sold out, Gu Shinian put the cart on the spot, dragged Yunshang around the black market again, bought two pheasants and a hare, saw a pork seller at the end of the black market, and sold them all in one breath. The remaining small half of pork ribs and pork thighs were rounded.

The pork in this period didn't have any additives. Whenever Gu Shinian saw a meat seller, he would find a way to buy it and hoard it for Yun Shang to eat slowly.

As for the pork in Yunshang's space, it was also sold out one after another by Gu Shinian, or it was given away as a gift.

After coming out of the black market, the two continued to look for the abandoned alley, put away the cart, took off their old clothes, washed and dressed, and went to the purchase station on bicycles.

On the pretext of looking for comic books and textbooks, the two rummaged through the buying station, found three sets of textbooks ranging from elementary school to high school, and also found more than a dozen thread-bound ancient books, two old picture scrolls, and finally Yunshang was still in Gu Shinian's hands. Under the signal of the teacher, he collected several porcelains in good condition and two snuff bottles.

Thinking of the old lady's temper of breaking a penny into two halves, Yunshang sorted out two more stacks of newspapers, and prepared to give them to the old lady, asking her to take them back to the village to exchange things with someone.

Back home, it was getting late, Yunshang took out a piece of pork, two bundles of leeks, thirty eggs, and a large bag of apricots from the space under the cover of the basket, and excitedly pulled the old lady over. Sucking saliva, he asked for a better life, expressing that he wanted to eat flour dumplings!

When I was selling vegetables in the morning, I heard someone said that I would make leek and egg dumplings when I went back home. Yun Chang couldn't help but want to drool at that time. When I got home now, I naturally wanted to eat dumplings.

The old lady was almost stunned by Yun Shang's generosity, she glanced around subconsciously, quickly closed the door, pulled Gu Shinian and Yun Shang to open their mouths, and reprimanded, "You two are so bold! Why are you going to the black market again? La! If someone catches you, how can an old woman save you two?"

Seeing that the old lady's face changed color with fright, Yunshang quickly hugged the old lady's waist and coaxed her, "Don't worry, grandma, Brother Gu and I didn't go to the black market, we went to the buying station."

Gu Shinian also nodded in agreement beside him, took out the old newspapers and textbooks under the basket, and showed it to the old lady, "Grandma Yun, A Chang and I went to the shopping station to buy old newspapers and textbooks. These foods are for me. The industrial tickets were exchanged for fellow villagers who bought them in the city."

The old lady breathed a sigh of relief, and rubbed her chest with a look of fear, "That's good, that's good. Ouch~, my mother's heart, I can't let it go every day."

Yunshang stood on tiptoe, stretched out her little hand to caress the old lady's chest, "Grandma, Brother Gu and I are obedient, we can't let you worry about it, and we can't do speculative things!" That's weird!

"Ouch~, my dear girl, you are really close!" The old lady smiled happily, and hugged Yun Chang for a good kiss.

Gu Shinian suppressed the twitching corners of his mouth, poured the apricots into a large basin, picked up two more bowls, and prepared to send Yunshuilian to Officer Ren's and Nurse Li's homes.

These things are worthless to Yunshang, but to others, they are rare fresh food.

Officer Ren's family and Nurse Li's family took good care of Lao Yun's family and Yun Shuilian's family. Sending some apricots was considered a friendly relationship between neighbors.

It was rare for Yunshang to ask for dumplings, so the old lady naturally wanted to satisfy, so she picked leeks first,

After cleaning it, I hurried to the kitchen to make noodles and chop meat stuffing.

When Yun Shuilian came back from get off work, the old lady had already rolled out the dumpling wrappers and was ready to make dumplings.

There are two types of dumpling fillings, one with leek and egg, and the other with leek and pork.

The old lady's hands and feet are very agile, just pinch her fingers twice, and a white and plump dumpling is ready.

On the other hand, Gu Shinian, who was learning how to make dumplings, performed much worse. The dumplings were crooked and out of shape.

Yun Shang leaned over to take a look, and praised Gu Shinian a few words to save face, and ordered all the ugly dumplings he made in advance.

Shuanzi didn't understand what Yun Shang was talking about, but it didn't stop him from joining in the fun. He also squinted his eyes and said with small teeth, "I've made a reservation, I want to eat ugly dumplings!"

Gu Shinian: "..."

Hearing the laughter of the old lady and Yun Shuilian, Gu Shinian turned around, and as a punishment, dabbed a little flour on the noses of Yunshang and Shuanzi, painting them into cats...

When the dumplings were put into the pot, the delicious smell of leeks and meat spread out, and soon filled the entire corridor.

Thinking of when Lao Yun's family moved, several families in Xiaoyanglou helped move things. Yun Chang simply found a few small bowls, filled each bowl with ten dumplings, and sent them to the neighbors who helped. Favor.

Afterwards, she asked the old lady to bring a bowl of dumplings to Officer Ren's house and Nurse Li's house respectively, plus apricots, and asked Yun Shuilian to deliver them to the two families.

After finishing these tasks, the family can finally have lunch in peace.

Yun Chang knelt on the bench, biting off the elastic dumpling skin, the hot gravy burst out in her mouth immediately, the fresh aroma of leeks and meat blended together, it was so fresh that she wanted to swallow it with her tongue.

"Mmm! It's delicious!" Shuanzi mumbled while sucking the dumplings in his mouth.

Yunshang also nodded quickly, swallowed the dumplings in her mouth, and said to the old lady, "Grandma, after dinner, my second brother Gu and I will go to the aluminum factory to see the second uncle, and then send a bowl of dumplings to the second uncle to improve it." Improve food."

The old lady's eyelids twitched, and she said in a very unexpected tone, "Your second uncle can buy two dumplings for a day's salary. If you send a bowl of dumplings, how many days will your second uncle have to work to earn back?"

Yun Shang: "... " Grandma~! That's your son, dear son!

Yun Shuilian and Gu Shinian were also speechless, wondering why the old lady had been having a fight with Yun Erchuan.

"It was good to say that when I left, he came back once a week, it's been almost a month, and he didn't know to come back and have a look! Tell me, why is he so cold, he just throws the embolus to me I don't care anymore!"

Chapter 272 Visiting Cloud 2 Sichuan

Yun Chang nodded quickly, "That's right, grandma, it's Sunday, my second brother Gu and I went over to have a look, if my second uncle doesn't work and is lazy on the construction site, I'll come back and tell you, you go to the aluminum factory and beat him board!"

The old lady snorted twice in displeasure and said nothing.

After eating, the old lady gave Yun Erchuan 30 meat dumplings out of embarrassment, packed a lunch box full, pulled Yun Chang, and told them for a long time before sending them out of the room.

I got off the car outside the city, walked for another half an hour, and finally arrived at the base of the aluminum factory.

As soon as I entered the construction site, I heard someone holding a loudspeaker and shouting slogans to cheer up the workers. The construction site radio station also played the song "Dongfanghong".

The workers had towels tied on their heads, and they were working in full swing. Although most of the workers were tired and skinny, they were full of energy, with fanatical gleams in their eyes.

Gu Shinian took Yunshang and walked around the dusty construction site for a long time. He saw that the entire aluminum factory base was divided into several areas. Standing at the end of the construction site, the end of the construction site could not be seen at a glance.

The two of them didn't know which area Yun Erchuan was working in, so they asked a few people in charge to find out the area where Yun Erchuan worked, and followed a worker who volunteered to lead the way to find it.

After walking for about fifteen minutes, the worker stopped and shouted at the smelting furnace that had not yet reached the top:

"Yun Erchuan! Come here quickly! Your niece is here!"

As soon as the words fell, the three workers who had rolled into mud eggs dropped their tools in unison, and rushed over one by one.

The three stood side by side in front of Yunshang and Gu Shinian, their faces were black and blue, their eyebrows and eyes could not be seen clearly, their big white teeth were exposed when they smiled, and the cement dust on their faces was also cracked.

Yun Shang didn't recognize which one was Yun Erchuan at first, until Yun Erchuan scratched his head with a silly smile, Yun Shang finally recognized it by the sound.

"Erchuan! This is our niece? She looks so handsome!"

"Yeah! Erchuan? Go back and tell your mother to book your niece to my boy! You're so handsome, you can't go to someone else's house!"

Before he finished speaking, Gu Shinian pulled Yun Shang behind him, and Yun Erchuan, who was like a clay figurine, also raised his foot and kicked over without thinking:

"Get out! What good things are you thinking of? My Changnan is going to go to college and become a cadre in the future!"

The man was not angry, he smiled narrowly, asked about Gu Shinian's identity, and chatted with Gu Shinian shortly after his elder nephew grew up. skirts:

"Niece, what delicious food did you bring for your second uncle today? Do you still have the meat lump from last time? Your second uncle is so stingy, just a meat lump, let us share..."

"That's it!" Another worker followed up, "I drank the food before I even tasted it, and the more I thought about it, the more I got hungry, and the more I got hungry, ouch..."

The man sucked his saliva, and then said, "I'm so tired of working for a few days!"

Seeing that the two shamelessly asked Yun Chang for food, Yun Erchuan quickly pushed them away, pulled Yun Chang, and led Gu Shinian to the side.

When they got to the place where the workers washed their hands and faces, Yun Erchuan asked about the situation at home while he was washing his hands and face.

Yun Shang briefly talked about the family affairs, and then focused on Shen Yuegui's marriage to another county, and told Yun Erchuan clearly that he didn't have to worry about being raped by Shen Yuegui, and he could go home with confidence and boldness.

Being told by his niece that he didn't even dare to go home because he was afraid of Shen Yuegui, Yun Erchuan's old face turned red with embarrassment.

He wiped his face indiscriminately, and explained to Yun Shang very seriously, "Shangnan, Second Uncle won't go back, it's not because he's afraid of Shen Yuegui, but because he's busy on the construction site and doesn't have time to go back."

"That's right, the second uncle has to work, so he can go home casually."

Yun Shang repeatedly nodded in agreement with Yun Erchuan's words,

But her expression and tone said, 'Don't make up nonsense, you are too scared to go home because of Shen Yuegui! '

Yun Erchuan has a rough temper, but he can also feel the perfunctory in Yun Shang's words, he was stunned for a few seconds, and explained again, "Shang Nan, Second Uncle is really busy."

"Well, I know, Second Uncle is really busy." Yun Shang continued to nod, took out a lunch box from her bag, and stuffed it into the hands of the speechless and embarrassed Yun Erchuan, "My grandma didn't go back after seeing you for a month, so I was worried about you. I was starving on the construction site, so I made a big box of dumplings to nourish you."

After finishing speaking, Yunshang paused on purpose and swallowed exaggeratedly, "Second Uncle, you are the only one who has the most dumplings in our family. We eat Wowotou at home, and each person divides ten dumplings for dinner. The saved dumplings are mine. The milk is brought to you!"

When Yun Erchuan heard this, his eye circles were red with emotion. He opened the lunch box, smelled the delicious white flour dumplings, wiped the corners of his eyes, and said, "Shangnan, is your grandma at home? Is Shuanzi good at home? Are you at home?" Take Shuanzi out to play more often, don't let Shuanzi tire your milk..."

Yun Chang held back a smile until the corners of her mouth cramped.

The old lady scolded Yun Erchuan at home, wishing that Yun Erchuan would not eat anything delicious, and said that he did not earn as much as he ate, so why did she take the initiative to send him dumplings.

Seeing Yun Erchuan's moved face, Yun Chang couldn't bear to say that the old lady disliked him for not going home, and scolded him for leaving Shuan Zi behind.

Gu Shinian, who was on the side, couldn't bear Yun Shang's mouthful of running the train to coax Yun Erchuan for a long time, so he turned his head away with a smile, turned around and wandered around the construction site.

"Second Uncle, don't worry, I play with Shuanzi every day, and I promise not to tire my grandma." Yun Shang finished guaranteeing Yun Erchuan, then pushed the lunch box and urged Yun Erchuan, "Second Uncle, eat quickly, if you want It should be cold if you don't have dumplings."

Yun Erchuan picked up the dumplings, first fed one to Yun Shang, and then gave up on the idea of continuing to feed Yun Shang after Yun Shang's righteous words refused, lowered his head, and slammed the dumplings into his mouth one by one.

"Second uncle, are those two uncles your new friends?"

"Yeah." Yun Erchuan nodded indiscriminately, swallowing the dumplings in his mouth, "They both sleep in a big bed with me, they are both from Fenyang, and they plan to join the aluminum factory in the future."

Yun Chang questioned a few words on the sidelines, and saw that Yun Erchuan got along well with those two people, and he had never been bullied, so he felt relieved.

Yun Erchuan finished eating the dumplings a few times, wiped his mouth, and continued, "Shangnan, remember to tell your aunt when you go back, and said that the district leaders came to inspect the day before yesterday, and said that the leadership team of the aluminum factory pulled you up to let you Let me ask someone to see if she has a high school diploma and can join the leadership team of the factory."

Chapter 273: Trick

"Shangnan, go back and tell your grandma that the second uncle can take one day off a month, so that your grandma can save any heavy work until the second uncle goes back."

Yun Chang counted the time when Yun Erchuan came to work, and found that he would be able to go back in a few days, so he nodded and agreed.

Yun Erchuan continued, "Also, second uncle is not at home, so you can tell your aunt if you have anything to do, don't always bother Comrade Gu, our family can no longer owe Comrade Gu any more favors." If it is owed, Lao Yun's family will not be able to pay it back.

Yunshang continued to nod, took out the beef cubes that he had prepared earlier from his bag, and stuffed them to Yun Erchuan, "Second Uncle, this is the beef lump that I and Gu Erge prepared for you, it's hard to find, you hide it Eat slowly, don't give it to others."

Yun Erchuan swallowed, and pushed back the beef cubes, "Shangnan, Second Uncle is an adult, he is not greedy for meat, you take it back and eat slowly with Comrade Gu."

At least there are buns on the construction site to fill their stomachs, and there are only two food supplies at home. The rations are definitely not enough, so let the children eat these precious things.

Yun Shang was speechless for a while, then forced the oiled paper bag into Yun Erchuan's hand, turned around and pulled Gu Shinian away.

She has a warehouse of things, can she still starve her family?

It's really... to worry about.

After returning from the base of the aluminum factory, he first reported Yun Erchuan's situation at the construction site to the old lady, and then ran upstairs to talk to Yun Shuilian about the aluminum factory.

"Gu, Second Uncle said that the leadership team of the aluminum factory has been pulled up, do you have any ideas?"

"What do you think?" Yun Shuilian was stunned for a moment, then asked hesitantly, "Your second uncle means that you want me to find a way to join the factory committee?"

Seeing Yunshang nodded, Yunshuilian laughed, "What good thing is your second uncle thinking, the aluminum factory is the most important project in the province now, and the workers alone have to recruit more than 10,000 people, covering an area of nearly One thousand acres, and will continue to expand in the future.

For such a large factory, the leadership team must be transferred from the province. I'm a high school student, and I don't have any work experience, how can I get into the factory committee. "

Seeing Yunshang's small brows tightly knit together, Yun Shuilian reached out and poked her brows, and said with a smile, "Don't worry, it doesn't matter if my aunt can't get into the factory committee now. I will go to the aluminum factory in the future, and some of them work in the Women's Federation." With experience, I can get a job in the factory association."

Yun Shang was speechless for a long while, and then she opened her mouth to mention Yun Shuilian, "Gun, I think so, you can talk to Director Ren about this matter, and let Director Ren give you some advice."

If Director Ren can really solve the problem of Yun Shuilian's staffing in the Women's Federation, he will definitely give Yun Shuilian a word so that she doesn't have to pay attention to the recruitment of workers in the aluminum factory.

If Director Ren can't solve the problem of Yun Shuilian's establishment, then she will naturally not stop Yun Shuilian from pursuing a good future. Seeing that the two families get along well, maybe Director Ren will take the initiative to help Yun Shuilian , recommend a suitable position to her.

Yun Shuilian didn't know Yun Shang's careful thoughts, seeing that Yun Shang was so worried at such a young age, she couldn't help laughing, "Okay, aunt, go down and ask Director Ren for his opinion."

After going downstairs, Yun Chang was still not at ease with Yun Shuilian, so he simply followed to the secretary Ren's house.

It was getting late at this moment, Director Ren and Director Lin were sitting on the maroon leather sofa in the living room and reading the newspaper, they probably thought that the light bulbs in the room were not bright enough, so they turned on the lamp on the coffee table.

Seeing Yun Shuilian coming with Yunshang, Director Lin took the initiative to avoid the room, giving space for Yun Shuilian and Director Ren to talk.

Yun Shang took the sugar water handed over by Director Ren, and while listening to the two talking, looked at Director Ren's home.

This room is about the same size as Yunshuilian's room, but Director Ren's house is only separated by two rooms. Next to the window near the corridor is a small living room of about eight square meters. There are two maroon single sofas in the middle. A square coffee table was installed, and a dining table was placed in the living room near the room.

The room is not big, but the windows are bright and clean, and it is very clean.

After moving to Xiaoyanglou for so long, Yunshang has never seen the children of Director Ren's family. Now after seeing the decorations of Director Ren's house, Yunshang noticed that there is no sign of the children living in Director Ren's house.

Even in the only two rooms, one is used as a bedroom and the other as a study.

Yun Chang looked around the room, pressed the question in her stomach, and focused on Yun Shuilian and Director Ren.

Here, Yun Shuilian told the news that the leadership team of the aluminum factory had been pulled together, and then continued:

"The province originally planned that the aluminum plant would be put into production in June. Calculated in this way, the recruitment will start in May. Now in April, there is only one month left before the aluminum plant recruits workers. Director Ren, do you think that by then Which position is more suitable for me to apply for?"

After Yun Shuilian finished speaking, she went through the various departments in the factory again. After much deliberation, she still felt that it would be more appropriate for her to go to the factory union.

He didn't even notice that there was a black line on Director Ren's head.

Yun Chang looked at Director Ren and took a deep breath, and asked Yun Shuilian with a dry smile. "Comrade Shui Lian, do you feel unhappy working in the Women's Federation and are anxious to leave the Women's Federation?"

Yun Shuilian was stunned, and watched Officer Ren wave her hands repeatedly, "No, no, Officer Ren, I am very happy working in the Women's Federation, and I think the work of the Women's Federation is particularly meaningful..."

"Then why do you always want to work in an aluminum factory instead of staying in the Women's Federation?"

Yun Shuilian: "...". Isn't that because the Women's Federation has no official organization?

Although she wants to make progress, she says she wants to serve the people, but if she doesn't solve the staffing problem, she can't fill her stomach. Where does she get the strength to serve the people?

Seeing that Yun Shuilian didn't speak, her face was wrinkled with worry, Director Ren held back his smile, and continued with a straight face:

"Comrade Shuilian, you are very right in saying something. The work of our Women's Federation is indeed very meaningful.

The Chairman said that women hold up half the sky, and the main task of our women's federation is to liberate the minds of women compatriots, so that women can become independent and strong from thought to life.

Comrade Shuilian, how many people are there in Half the Sky in Fenyang, and how many workers can there be in the aluminum factory? Think about it carefully, whether it makes sense to help Half the Sky in Fenyang become stronger, or to join the Aluminum Factory Association and help a group of workers solve problems. "

Yun Shuilian: "...". Whichever one can solve it for me is meaningful!

Yunshang: "...". As expected of an officer of the Women's Federation, look, this big hat is so big that Yun Shuilian can't even cry.

Joining the Aluminum Factory Association can only solve the difficulties for more than 10,000 workers in the aluminum factory. If you stay in the Women's Federation, you can help the women compatriots in Fenyang to solve the difficulties.

Which one is more meaningful and which post contributes more, the answer is obvious.

Chapter 274 Go to school

It was clearly agreed that she would first go to the Women's Federation to help out for a few months, and when the aluminum factory recruited workers, she would go to the aluminum factory for a formal job examination.

Why didn't you let her go in a blink of an eye?

She is still carrying a famine on her back, without a formal job, when will the famine be repaid?

Director Ren buttoned his hat, scaring Yun Shuilian enough, but Yun Shang kept laughing beside her.

Yun Shuilian is also concerned about chaos.

Director Ren is not the kind of rigid and unreasonable person, and besides, the two families get along very happily, if there is no legitimate reason, how can she prevent Yun Shuilian from changing from a temporary worker to a regular worker.

The reason why Yun Shuilian was not allowed to leave the Women's Federation was naturally to be able to solve the problem of Yun Shuilian's establishment in the Women's Federation.

Yun Chang squinted her eyes, drinking sugar water very unkindly, while watching the big show with relish.

Director Ren's big hat added slogans for a long time, and seeing that Yun Shuilian finally came to his senses, he changed the subject and gave her an accurate sentence:

"Don't worry, I mentioned it to the above. Your staffing problem will be resolved in May at the latest. If you can't solve it, it won't affect your admission to the aluminum factory as a formal worker."

Yun Shuilian was both surprised and happy, her eye circles turned red, she quickly got up and thanked Director Ren repeatedly.

The purpose of her entering the aluminum factory is to become a regular worker in the city. If she can have the official establishment of the Women's Federation, she will naturally want to stay in the Women's Federation.

The environment of the Women's Federation is good, the work content is simple, there are not many staff members, and there is no mutual interest involved, everyone gets along fairly well.

But the aluminum factory is different. If such a large-scale factory is to be put into production directly, a large number of skilled workers must be transferred from other places. In addition, the factory also needs to recruit workers in the Fenyang area. It will definitely need a running-in process .

During this process, the workers will definitely stick together to survive, and there will inevitably be friction between them.

Including the factory committee and other major departments in the factory, it will definitely take a period of turbulence to stabilize.

After all, it is a new factory and a new environment. Everyone is on the same starting line, but if you compete with each other, who is willing to give up the right to speak?

Yun Shuilian has self-knowledge, knows that she is not expected to be a leader, and can't compete with others. Instead of entering the aluminum factory and slowly taking root, it is better to stay in the Women's Federation that she is already familiar with, and follow the director to liberate Fenyang's "half the sky" thinking. .

Coming out of Director Ren's house, Yun Chang dragged Yun Shuilian, who had rolled her eyes with a smile, back home, pushed her to sit on the sofa, and found the high school textbooks dumped at the purchasing station from the room, and put them on the coffee table.

Yun Shuilian's face froze when she saw the high school textbook, her mouth trembled a few times, and she asked Yun Shang, "...Shang, Nan, what are you doing? Is this the book you want to learn in those years?"

As soon as he finished speaking, Gu Shinian came out of the room and answered with a smile, "Aunt Yun, this book is prepared for you by A-Shang."

"I, I have already graduated from high school, why are you still reading?" Yun Shuilian subconsciously sat back.

Seeing that Yun Shuilian was completely dumbfounded, Gu Shinian continued, "Aunt Yun, Aunt Lin is going to night school every day, preparing to take the Linyang University exam. You just graduated from high school not long ago, why don't you take the exam too? "

If you don't get gilded in college and get a college diploma, in case you can't go further because of your academic qualifications in the future, shouldn't Yun Shang be the one to worry about?

Therefore, it is better to read books and take the university entrance exam honestly.

Yun Shuilian looked at the textbook on the coffee table, then looked at Gu Shinian's serious face, and finally met Shang Yunshang's hopeful gaze, her heart trembled, she nodded in agreement:

"...Then let me give it a try? But when I was studying, my grades were not very good. If I don't pass the exam..."

"Gu, don't worry, Second Brother Gu and I will send you to night school every day!"

Yun Shuilian: "..."! ! !

Seeing Yun Shang's firm expression of determination, Yun Shuilian was helpless, picked up the textbook on the coffee table, and said with a tragic face, "Shangnan, you must read the book carefully,

No shame on you. "

Regardless of whether she can pass the exam or not, she must correct her attitude first, and she cannot be sorry for her niece's kindness.

Seeing that Yun Shuilian was about to cry, Yun Chang blinked, and changed the subject and asked, "Gun, why haven't I seen the child of Director Ren's family? Is her child studying abroad?"

"Well, Director Ren and Director Lin are both from the provincial capital, and her children go to school in the provincial capital, so they didn't come to Fenyang."

Yun Chang said, "Does the officer and Lin usually go back to the provincial capital? Will they be transferred back to the provincial capital in the future?"

"It's not that easy." Yun Shuilian shook her head, "I heard from Officer Ren that Officer Lin's father works in the Linyang City Government, if Officer Lin stays in the provincial capital...the chance of promotion is not great."

In principle, the organization does not allow people who are related to work in the same place, especially officials in important positions.

Even though Director Lin is just an inconspicuous officer in the Propaganda Department, if he wants to be promoted, he can only go to other cities to earn qualifications. Otherwise, before his father retires, he can only stay as a small officer in an idle department in the city.

Director Ren knew this, and Director Lin knew better, that's why the couple left their children in the provincial capital, and went to Fenyang to earn their qualifications to fight for their future.

Knowing the origin of Director Ren, Yunshang finally realized the weight of the words "I mentioned it to the above" she said.

Director Ren is using his contacts to solve the staffing problem for Yun Shuilian!

After thinking about this, Yun Chang was speechless. I really admire Yunshuilian's good luck.

As soon as she arrived at Xiaoyanglou, she fell into the eyes of the director, and gave her a job as a temporary worker of the Women's Federation. In the unit, she taught her carefully, vigorously supported her, and even secretly helped her solve the problem of the establishment. Treat it as the younger generation you are optimistic about.

"Gu, you have to treat Director Ren better in the future, and you must help Director Ren more in the unit." Otherwise, I will be sorry for Director Ren's painstaking efforts towards you.

Yun Shuilian knew what Yun Shang meant, she nodded, and raised her hand to fiddle with Yun Shang's braid a few times:

"Shangnan, don't worry, my aunt knows it well. You are a child, and you can just eat and have fun in the future. Your second uncle and I will worry about family affairs."

Yunshang: "... I hope you two will worry about it, and I guess it will be sold for money!

Yun Shuilian went upstairs with her textbook in her arms, Yun Chang turned her head, looked at Gu Shinian's straight and handsome face, suddenly glanced at her mouth, covered her face with her hands and said aggrievedly:

"Second Brother, Auntie messed up my pigtail, it's not pretty..."

Gu Shinian was a little confused, and raised his hand to straighten Yunshang's braid, "Okay, it looks better now."

Yun Chang didn't look up, but her braids shook, "Second brother, you hooked my hair, it hurts..."

"...Second brother apologizes to you."

Chapter 275: Smug

"Second brother apologizes to you."

"Apologizing doesn't stop the pain."

"Buy you delicious food"

"I give you all the delicious food."

"Then make you new clothes"

Yun Chang's head moved, "A few pieces"

Gu Shinian suppressed a smile, "One piece"

"Yeah, my head hurts so much, you cut off my hair"

"two pieces"

Yun Chang turned her head sideways, revealing one eye to look at Shinian, "Three pieces"

Gu Shinian finally couldn't help laughing, and picked up Yunshang, "Okay, I'll make you three new clothes."

Yun Chang suddenly giggled, showing her small face, her big eyes were moist and shiny, with a confident air, "Second brother, I want two new skirts and a new set of pants."

After speaking, his eyes slanted, his mouth curled up, and he looked like a villain, "Comrade Gu Shinian, in one night, you must complete the difficult task assigned to you by the organization as scheduled."

Gu Shinian raised his hand to pinch Yun Chang's face and gently pulled it, and said indulgently again without a bottom line, "Okay, I promise you, I will definitely let you wear new clothes tomorrow morning."

It's rare for my little girl to be pampered once, so of course she has to pamper her.

Gu Shinian entered the space to make new clothes for Yunshang, white shirts and army green pants, which fit the characteristics of this era very well.

Yun Shang stuffed the soft apricots into her mouth, looked at the leftover fabric that Gu Shinian had dug out from the hole on the left and the hole on the right, then picked up the scissors, clicked, cut into smaller pieces of cloth, ready to take Go out and ask the old lady to make clothes for Shuanzi and the doll in Li Hongmei's stomach.

The remaining rags are also going to be given to the old lady for patching and making shoe soles.

In this era, people in the city are short of cloth, and people in the country are even short of cloth.

I have seen that the old lady has to choose left and right when patching, and compares the holes for a long time. I am afraid that the patch cloth will be wasted if the patch is too big.

When she got up in the morning, Yun Chang put on the new clothes that Gu Shinian rushed to make and ironed overnight, and looked in the mirror for a long time.

The snow-white shirt, the straight military green pants that can be used as a ruler, and Bai Xue's pull-back sneakers on the feet are really energetic and beautiful.

Even though the clothes and pants are very common styles, Yunshang thinks that the clothes look better than the big-name clothes in the mall.

No, she is wearing the biggest brand of clothes in the world

After being stinky and beautiful for a long time, Yun Chang raised her hands and tied her braids, then put on a light yellow cardigan sweater over the shirt, took the packed leftover fabric, and went to the old lady next door to show off.

"Look quickly, do I look good?"

"It looks good," the old lady said firmly before raising her head.

Yun Chang puffed her face, "You haven't looked at me yet."

"Yeah, I'm wearing new clothes again." The old lady widened her eyes, pulled Yunshang aside and looked at it carefully for a long time, and then said with affirmation, "It's good to see that my good girl is very energetic in this dress, she is the most handsome in the small foreign building." little girl"

Yunshang was satisfied, and gave the old lady the fabric in her hand, "Here is a lot of fabric, which can be used to make clothes for Shuanzi, and clothes for the little brothers in the village." But the fabric is too small, so don't rush to make clothes for Shuanzi. Wear it, and it can only be used as a patch cloth in the future.

The old lady took the fabric and looked at it, and her distressed face began to shake, "Oh, this cloth is so small that it can't even make a small coat, but it can be used to make clothes for Shuanzi, but the fabric is also compact, waiting for Shuanzi I won't be able to wear it if I grow taller next year."

Yun Chang suppressed the smile on her lips, and persuaded the old lady, "Well, then hurry up and make it for Shuanzi. Put it away after wearing it this year, and you can wear it for the younger brother in the village in the future."

"Succeed, I will make new clothes for Shuanzi today." The old lady found out the talc, and while drawing lines on the cloth, she rambled

"Your aunt made a new dress last month. She said it was called a double-breasted double-breasted dress. It looks smart, but it costs a lot of money. Your aunt said that you gave the fabric, and you can't do this in the future. Your aunt After earning wages, she can support herself, and you will keep those fabrics and wear them slowly in the future."

The old lady's nagging hides her love for Yunshang,

There is still some feeling of grievance and injustice for Yunshang.

The old lady felt that since Yunshang took the initiative to find Lao Yun's family, she had been unilaterally paying for Lao Yun's family, and Lao Yun's family had never done anything for Yunshang.

In this day and age, every family pays attention to having more children and more blessings. They think that if they have more sons, they will be able to straighten their waists and be tough when they go out to talk.

Compared with other families in the village, Lao Yun's family is really poorly populated.

There are only two sons and a daughter in the family.

But the eldest son who was able to support the family would be gone, leaving only an orphan girl who was not related by blood, and a mother-in-law who couldn't keep him.

Yun Erchuan is also a fool, with a simple mind and a soft temper, he doesn't seem to be able to support his family.

Yunshuilianzi looks soft, but deep down it is full of spirit, and when it comes to critical moments, it can be more reliable than Yun Erchuan.

But no matter what, a girl is a girl, and when she gets married, she belongs to someone else's family, so she can't stay at home to support the family.

As a result, Lao Yun's family naturally became weaker in the village. This is also the main reason why the old man has been speaking softly in the village after Yun Dachuan was gone.

Later, Yunshang resumed contact with Lao Yun's family. First, he searched for food for the village, and asked the old man to straighten his back in front of the villagers.

After Widow Wang went crazy, she went to the provincial capital to see a doctor for Widow Wang. When she came back, she brought a lot of good things to Lao Yun's family. Just for the big iron pot, there are countless eyes in the village.

Li Hongmei played tricks all day long, if Yunshang hadn't taken Lin Dani to the town to complain, it wouldn't be so easy for Lao Li's family to spare Lao Yun's family.

Also, Shuilian's marriage was regretted by Zhang Shouyi, but it was Gu Shinian who came up with the idea to stabilize the situation and not let Yun Shuilian's reputation rot to the end.

Although it was Gu Shinian who did the work, he was still able to help Lao Yun's family because of Yunshang.

Worried that Yun Shuilian would stay in the village and listen to people's gossip, the two children immediately tried to buy Yun Shuilian a house in Fenyang, and also got Yun Erchuan's household registration out.

Behind Yun Shuilian's back, she returned the five hundred yuan to Zhang Shouyi, so that Yun Shuilian would not feel that she owed Zhang Shouyi.

Including the family's rations and the clothes that the big guys wear, they were all brought back by Yunshang bit by bit.

The old lady kept all these incidents in her heart, so she felt particularly wronged for Yunshang.

She felt that Lao Yun's family was Yun Shang's burden. The family had been relying on Yun Shang to support them, but they had never done anything for Yun Shang.

Chapter 276 Playmate

Without a sewing machine, the old lady was busy for several days before making a whole set of clothes for Shuanzi.

Shuanzi was overjoyed, touched the brand new white shirt and army green pants, held Yunshang's hand, and insisted that she also wear the same clothes as him.

Unable to resist Shuanzi, Yunshang put on a freshly washed shirt and trousers, and let him drag her downstairs to show off.

The old lady chased out of the house with a pair of scissors, stood in the corridor and stomped her feet, "Shuan Zi's clothes have not been trimmed yet."

Shuanzi dragged Yunshang to run downstairs without looking back, the thread ends would not affect the look of the new clothes, and it would not be too late to cut them after showing them off

Several neighbors lined up in front of the faucet to wash their clothes. They couldn't help laughing when they heard the old lady yelling, and seeing Shuan Zi's eyes shining brightly and his face jumping down excitedly.

Old Yun's family has good genes. Shuanzi's looks follow Yun Erchuan's. He has thick eyebrows, big eyes, red lips and white teeth. In addition, his nutrition has improved recently, and his face has grown. His big eyes flicker and flicker. When he smiles with his lips pursed, his eyes can bend into one Round crescent moon, delicate like a little girl.

Several laundry neighbors saw Shuan Zi squinting and smiling, and immediately raised their voices to tease him.

"Hey, which handsome guy is this? Look, the little white shirt is really energetic when you wear it."

"The two children dress exactly the same, and they are siblings at first glance."

"Shuanzi, the threads on your clothes are messy, what can you do if you don't have good-looking clothes like Changnan's?"

"Everyone knows that new clothes look good at such a small size"

Shuanzi was very funny, and when everyone teased him, he couldn't even close his mouth when he laughed.

Let go of Yunshang's hand, hold the little boobs, and wander around in front of the faucet several times, until everyone saw the new clothes he put on, and then dragged Yunshang to the children's pile contentedly.

"Sister Yunshang, come here quickly, let's play a game of fighting devils together." The child king, who is the second son of Nurse Li's family, brought people to greet him.

Yun Shang glanced at the children who had been playing wildly outside for a long time, and saw that everyone was covered with dust, and beads of sweat rolled off their heads, leaving black stains on their faces.

Then he looked at the snow-white shirts on himself and Shuanzi, his expression changed immediately, he quickly shook his head and said, "Brother Erdaner, let's play something else."

Erdan'er blushed, and wiped the beads of sweat from his head, "Sister Yunshang, can you not call me Erdaner, my name is Huang Haiqing, you have to call me Brother Haiqing"

Yun Shang nodded indiscriminately, "Brother Haiqing, why don't we play hide and seek, you hide, and Shuanzi and I will look for it."

She is a clean little girl, how could she be like a dirt monkey, rolling around in the mud all day long.

How good it is to hide and seek, she has the blessing of spiritual power, so she doesn't need to dig into the coal pile, she can find one right away.

If playing the game of fighting devils, the white shirt can be worn into a yellow mud shirt in a while, so she doesn't want to play it.

Yun Chang didn't feel like she was bullying the children at all, and she was very shameless preparing to cheat.

Er Dan'er agreed as soon as he heard it, turned around, and said to the group of furry children behind him, "Let's hide and hide, let sister Yunshang find it."

After speaking, he waved his hand imposingly, and ran away with the children.

Shuanzi was also anxious when he saw it, and his calf was bouncing around, and he wanted to run out with him. Yun Shang hurriedly grabbed Shuanzi's arm to keep him from moving.

"Shuanzi, let's go play with Erdaner and the others later."

"Shuan Zi Chang Nan" someone in the distance suddenly called their names, and ran over.

Before Yun Chang could react, Shuan Zi ran out from the side in a flash, shouting as he ran, "Dad, you are back, look quickly, I have new clothes."

Yun Erchuan caught Shuanzi's boy, threw it up, and then caught it with a big laugh.

After that, he put the embolism on his left shoulder, stepped over in a few steps, picked up Yunshang, and put it on his right shoulder, just like carrying his ancestors, he carried them up the stairs one by one.

"Shangnan, what are you doing at home, your aunt, are you busy with work recently? My son is about to get out of school, right? My second uncle doesn't have to go to work on the construction site tomorrow. Our family will go back to the village to see your father, and then see your second look." Look at the doll in Li Hongmei's stomach"

"Second Uncle,

Can you stay for a few days when you come back?" Yun Shang interrupted Yun Erchuan's chattering question.

"Just one day tomorrow, and I have to go back to work on the construction site before noon the day after tomorrow. By the way," Yun Erchuan raised his voice, put down Yunshang, patted his right pocket, and asked with a proud face, "Shangnan, guess two What's in your pocket?"

Yunshang took a look at Yun Erchuan, and said with certainty, "rich" and not young or old

The movements of Yun Erchuan's hands froze, and he smiled mischievously, "Yes, Second Uncle got his salary a few days ago."

It's just how did Changnan know that his pockets were filled with wages?

Back home, the corner of the old lady's mouth was curled up, but she deliberately made an angry expression on her face, which gave Yun Erchuan a long time to flirt.

It wasn't until Yun Erchuan took out the wages in his pocket and handed over the fawning things to the old lady that the old lady's face softened a bit.

"Mother, I will keep all my wages for you in the future. When the repayment is over, I will be in a famine with a hundred yuan. Let's save money to buy a house and get Shuanzi's account as soon as possible."

The old lady carefully counted Yun Erchuan's salary twice, stuffed it into the cage, and sighed again, "You just have to know it in your heart. You are different from Shuilian. Shuilian is a girl with no burden, and she has a house under her name." A foothold, even a little famine is not afraid.

There is an embolism under you, and Li Hongmei still has one in her stomach. Except for the urban household registration, you have nothing to ask for, and the pressure will be great in the future. If you haven't worked hard these few years and saved up some money, how will you support the whole family in the future?"

After the old lady finished speaking, she was worried about Yun Erchuan.

If you want a house but no house, if you want money but no money, if you want a job but no job, if you want a wife but no wife, there are only two parents with rural hukou and two children with rural hukou waiting to be raised.

Just thinking about this condition makes Yun Erchuan feel exhausted.

Yun Erchuan has a good temper and is an optimist. He doesn't take it for granted that the old lady doesn't give him a good face, and he doesn't feel that he has a heavy burden on his shoulders. He is still busy helping the old lady with her work in a cheerful manner.

When the old lady turned on the stove and was about to cook dinner, Yunshang suddenly jumped off the chair, slapped her forehead and ran outside.

Ruined

She even forgot that she was playing peek-a-boo with the kids in the building

It's almost an hour, those kids don't just hide and don't know to come out.

Erdan'er was scratching his head and wandering downstairs, when he saw Yunshang running down in a hurry, he immediately rushed over with a few steps and scolded Yunshang.

Yun Shang was not annoyed, and looked at Erdan'er with a smile, until he couldn't go on talking, so he took out a handful of candy and asked him to share it with everyone, as an apology.

Chapter 277: Back to the Village

After dinner, Yun Chang was busy packing her things as soon as she returned to her room.

I pulled out a large bamboo basket, filled it with a strip of bacon, two bundles of fresh vegetables, and a small bag of flour and rice. Finally, I took a pair of brand new Jiefang shoes from the supermarket, wrapped them in a bundle and stuffed them into the basket.

Glancing at Gu Shinian who was reading a book under the desk lamp, Yunshang dawdled over and said, "Second brother Gu, I want to go back to the village tomorrow too."

Gu Shinian didn't agree, nor refused, but talked about Widow Wang's matter, "Ah Chang, I think Widow Wang's mental state is much better, and she knows that she will pay for herself today, do you want to take her to the hospital tomorrow? "

Yunshang blinked, and shook Gu Shinian's arm, "Second Brother Gu, I'll just go back for a day, and I'll be back the next morning. I promise, after I go back, I will stay in the village and not go anywhere. Crazy contact."

Gu Shinian still didn't answer Yun Shang's words, "A Chang, Widow Wang's condition is improving, why don't I take you out tomorrow to find a suitable small courtyard for Widow Wang?"

Yun Shang: "... " So, after all, you just won't let me go back to the village!

Seeing Yun Shang pouted with an unhappy face, Gu Shinian put down the book, pulled Yun Shang over, and softened his voice to coax her:

"A Chang, I just talked to Uncle Zhang today. Uncle Zhang said that Shen Yuegui brought Gao Qingmin home a few days ago, and the two of them used the opportunity to help Shen Laohan with work on the road, and they had contact with Crazy Wu..."

Yun Shang's attention was immediately attracted. Seeing Gu Shinian paused, he couldn't help asking, "And then? Uncle Zhang, did they find anything?"

"It should have been found, but Uncle Zhang didn't elaborate on how many things were found." Gu Shinian picked up the cup on the table, fed Yun Shang a sip of hot water before continuing, "Uncle Zhang means, let The two of us don't want to go back to Qinghe County recently, and we usually pay more attention to the strangers around us."

Yun Shang had suffered a lot from being self-willed. Now that Gu Shinian understood what he said, he was very sensible and didn't bring up the matter of the village again.

After walking around the big basket twice, he added two cans of beef sauce and two cans of moldy tofu to the old man, and then asked Gu Shinian to move the basket to the old lady next door, and asked Yun Erchuan to take it back to the old man tomorrow.

When Gu Shinian came back, Yunshang leaned over to ask him about Widow Wang, "Second Brother Gu, what did you mean when you asked me to go out and find a small courtyard for Widow Wang? Will she return to normal soon? ?"

"Don't worry, it will take at least half a year for Widow Wang to fully recover. However, you can slowly find a suitable small courtyard and buy it now, so that Widow Wang will not return to normal and cannot find a suitable house temporarily."

Gu Shinian knew that Yun Shang was in a difficult situation, and he didn't want her to meet the sober Widow Wang, so he had the idea of sending Widow Wang away in advance.

No matter how many difficulties Widow Wang has, how involuntary she is, how wronged and angry she is, these are not the reasons for her to abuse Yun Shang.

In the whole incident, Yun Dachuan was an innocent victim involved, but Yun Shang was also a victim.

From a high-ranking high-ranking official's daughter to a small village girl in Xinglin Village, and a hostage arranged in advance by the enemy agents, how much better can her experience be than Yun Dachuan's?

Even if Widow Wang wanted revenge, she should go to the enemy agent instead of venting her hatred on the equally weak Yun Shang.

Yunshang felt that she owed Lao Yun's family a son, and owed Widow Wang a husband. She wanted to be more kind to Lao Yun's family, and she wanted to arrange the rest of Widow Wang's life well. anyone's.

Even if it is owed, the original owner will pay it off with one life.

What's more, it was Crazy Wu and his gang who should make amends, not Yunshang, and there was absolutely no need for her to shoulder responsibilities that did not belong to her.

However, Gu Shinian respected Yun Shang's decision.

If it is good for Lao Yun's family and Yun Shang can feel at ease by arranging the rest of Widow Wang's life, then he is willing to put in more effort to help her properly arrange Lao Yun's family and Widow Wang.

When Yun Erchuan and Yun Shuilian stood up on their own,

With her own life and being able to take good care of the old couple, Yun Shang will not worry about Lao Yun's family all the time when she returns to her home.

Yun Shang didn't know Gu Shinian's plan, seeing that he agreed to buy a small courtyard for Widow Wang now, she immediately took out the money ticket with great interest, and figured out where to buy a suitable house for Widow Wang.

Early the next morning, the old lady and Yun Erchuan took Shuanzi back to the village. After Yun Shuilian went to work, Gu Shinian rolled out his bicycle and drove Yunshang around the streets and alleys.

Yunshang sat on the horizontal bar, waving her arms all the way to direct:

"Second Brother Gu, turn left at the next intersection!"

"This side is too far, turn around and go back."

"Comrade Gu Shinian, two hundred meters ahead, go at full speed!"

...

Yun Shang is a little road-crazy, she doesn't remember the way she walked, and often directs Gu Shinian to go back and forth two or three times along the way.

Gu Shinian was not too annoying, and played around with Yun Shang in a very good-tempered manner.

Worried that she was thin-skinned and embarrassed, when Yun Shang questioned whether she had gone this way, she firmly denied it.

The two of them ran all over Fenyang City for a day, and they finally settled on a piece of land near the suburbs in the south of the city.

Although it is not as prosperous as the downtown of Fenyang, there is a large chemical plant there, and there is no shortage of supply and marketing cooperatives, grain and oil stores, and non-staple food stores around there. Living there, you can live well without going to the downtown.

The most important thing is that the south side of the city is far away from the city center. Widow Wang lives there, so it is basically difficult to meet people from Lao Yun's family.

When the old lady and Yun Erchuan returned to the village, it was time for work to end.

When the villagers saw Yun Erchuan entering the village with the old lady by his arm, they immediately rushed over with their farm tools on their shoulders.

The young man who helped Yun Erchuan move before shouted from a long distance, "Erchuan, Aunt Yun, you are back? Erchuan, tell everyone quickly, how is Fenyang City?"

Yun Erchuan grinned and said, "Okay! Of course! It's bigger than our county, and the buildings are even taller than our county!"

"Erchuan, last time you said that the aluminum factory was going to recruit workers, when did you start recruiting workers? Why can people in the village work as workers in the aluminum factory?"

When it came to business, Yun Erchuan's face became serious, "The aluminum plant is about to be built. A few days ago, the leaders of the aluminum plant went to inspect the construction site and said that they will be able to recruit workers in May. I will inquire after I go back. If I can To recruit a rural household registration, I will send a telegram to the village head uncle."

"Success, if a few more people from the village can enter the city, Erchuan, you will be the number one hero!"

"Erchuan, did you come back this time to pick up your father into the city?" Someone next to him interrupted and asked.

"Yes, Uncle Yun has had a tough month. He has to go to work during the day, and he has to cook by himself when he returns..."

Chapter 278: Becoming a Demon

"Where is it? In addition to cooking your own food, you also have to deliver food to Li Hongmei. Erchuan, you have to tell Li Hongmei that you are divorced, how can you eat your food with shamelessness? You don't go anywhere. This reason!"

"Yes, I think Uncle Yun is reluctant to eat it himself. If there is anything delicious, I will fill it up for Li Hongmei."

"Aunt Yun, you can stay for a few more days when you come back this time, and make up for Uncle Yun. Uncle Yun has been exhausted recently."

On the other side, Mr. Yun was carrying farm tools and followed people down the slope. He saw a group of people from afar, and heard someone calling Erchuan's name. Why did I hear someone call me Erchuan, did I hear it wrong?"

"I didn't hear that, I heard your name Erchuan Li too." Someone reminded me later.

The rake in the old man's hand almost fell to the ground, he walked quickly a few steps, pushed through the crowd and squeezed through.

"Father!" Yun Erchuan hurriedly took the rake from the old man's hand, and was about to say something, but saw the old man go straight past him and take the package from the old lady's hand, with several creases on his face.

"I've been on the road all morning, and I'm still hungry. Why don't you go home after talking endlessly? Let's go, hurry home, and talk about it after dinner."

The old couple squeezed out of the crowd one after the other, and slowly entered the village. Yun Erchuan also hurriedly said goodbye to the big guy, squeezed out of the crowd with the plug in his arms, and followed the old man to the house.

I haven't seen him for a month, the old man has lost a lot of weight, and there are a few holes in his clothes, but no one has repaired them.

The old lady couldn't help but shed tears before she got home, "His father, Chang Nan left you a lot of food, did you make it up for Li Hongmei?"

The old man quickly shook his head, "No, no, that's the rations Chang Nan gave me, no matter what I do, I can't fill it all up for Li Hongmei." Then Li Hongmei has never given Chang Nan a good face, how can I fill her up?

Even if it is filled, there are countless, and it is the mouth of the baby in Li Hongmei's stomach that is filled.

The old lady's tears fell more urgently, "Then why are you so skinny? Do you just work and don't eat?"

Thinking of Yun Erchuan working in an aluminum factory for a month, but returning home with fat on his body, the old lady gave Yun Erchuan a disgusted look: "You can eat fat even when you go out to do hard work, so it can be seen that you are lazy on purpose!"

Yun Erchuan, who was inexplicably lying on the gun, felt his scalp numb, and quickly slowed down to give the old couple room to talk.

As soon as the old man saw the old lady crying, he didn't move, and hurriedly said in a good voice, "I'll eat. If I don't eat, I won't have the strength to go to work."

But the old lady was so easy to fool, she didn't answer the old man's words, walked a few steps into the door, and went straight to the big man who put the grain at home.

Lifting the lid of the old man, and seeing that there was still half a bag of cornmeal inside, the old lady became angry immediately, wiping her tears while pointing at the old man's nose and cursing:

"You poor old man! You work all day long and don't know what to eat? A bag of cornmeal, besides filling Li Hongmei's mouth, is still more than half of it left! You want to torture yourself and get sick, and let me serve you Are you burdening the children?"

When the old man was scolded, not only did he not get angry, but he laughed even more happily.

When the old woman scolded people, she was very angry, which shows that her spirit is really good. There was also flesh on his face, and it was a little whiter. It seemed that he had a good time in Fenyang, so he felt relieved.

The two came out of the house, and the old lady took out the leeks prepared by Yunshang from the basket, ready to pick them up, and made white flour dumplings for the old man to eat.

The old man moved a small bench and sat next to the old lady, holding Shuan Zi in his arms, teasing Shuan Zi, and asking the old lady about the family's situation in Fenyang.

"...So, Shui Lian will be able to become a regular in May?"

"Yes, Director Ren has been of great help this time. Go back and pick up some acacia flowers, and then go to the town to see if there is any game. Let's get Director Ren some game to try."

"Okay, let Erchuan go after dinner." The old man weighed the embolism, and then asked, "I think the embolism is heavy, it seems to be taller,

What about Changnan, has she grown up? Why didn't you bring Changnan back this time? "

"Back then, the baby didn't let me come back. She said that she took Changnan out to play with the boys today... By the way, how is Li Hongmei now, has she been acting like a demon recently?"

The old man was silent for a moment before replying, "Why is she acting like a monster with my ex-father-in-law? Besides, she is now responsible for sweeping the village land. If she is such a light job, if she becomes a monster again, she will have to follow the bad guys to pick up dung." Road repaired."

The old lady breathed a sigh of relief, "It's fine if you don't act like a monster. Just now, Sanwazi's daughter-in-law said that Li Hongmei is always relying on your rations, so I'm afraid you won't be able to lose face..."

"Mom~! You've come back, woo~ If you don't come back, I won't be able to survive this day~!"

Before the old lady finished speaking, there was a mournful cry from the door, and then, Li Hongmei came in with one hand on her waist and the other wiping her tears.

Yun Erchuan was in the yard wiping the agricultural tools that the old man would use for work in the afternoon, when he saw Li Hongmei coming in, he hurriedly hid in the house with his peg in his arms.

Li Hongmei stared at Yun Erchuan eagerly, and continued walking towards the old lady until she could no longer see anyone, "Mother..."

"Stop!" The old lady said with a dark face, "I can't afford to be your mother, just call me Aunt Yun."

Li Hongmei: "..."

Li Hongmei was stunned. The old lady is such a kind person, she doesn't want to see her now, and she still doesn't let her call her mother. Is this really a relationship with her?

Seeing Li Hongmei standing there dumbfounded, the old lady said angrily, "You are also in your mid-twenties, why don't you understand etiquette at all, why do you force yourself to cry when you enter someone's house? , you have to be thrown out with a big stick. Tell me, what are you doing here?"

Probably because of her pregnancy, Li Hongmei has gained some weight recently, and her complexion is rosier than before.

The old lady looked at Li Hongmei's swollen cheeks, and remembered what the villagers said when they were at the entrance of the village, and felt uncomfortable all of a sudden.

Li Hongmei is really heartless, she is no longer from Lao Yun's family, and she still thinks that Lao Yun's family should fill her up, and she is full of food, so don't look at how tired her ex-father-in-law is. ?

Li Hongmei moved her not-so-big belly to the old lady's side, sucked her nose twice, "Mother..."

As soon as she opened her mouth, she saw the old lady stare. Li Hongmei was so frightened that she quickly changed her words, "Yun, Yun... Auntie."

"Tell me, what's the matter?"

"I, the baby in my stomach is too noisy... I can't sleep all night, and I vomit as soon as I eat coarse grains, mother... Yun, Aunt Yun, I, I want to borrow some fine grains from you."

Chapter 279 Heartless

The leek in the old lady's hand hit the ground with a 'slap', her face was gloomy and scary, "Do you think I look like fine grain? How about taking apart my old bones and giving you fine grain?"

Li Hongmei was startled, she leaned back, and said, "Mom, I didn't mean that, I just... it's hard work to carry a baby..."

"Who doesn't have to work hard to conceive a baby? You go around the village to inquire, see who still has fine grains to eat, how about I go out of my old face and kowtow to borrow it for you?" The old lady interrupted Li Hongmei The words continued. bookmark our website

Where can I raise stinky bugs!

Other people's daughters-in-law eat coarse grains and still give birth to strong babies. Why can't Li Hongmei eat coarse grains?

Pooh! In April, she had to eat fine grains, so why didn't she say that she wanted to eat a full feast?

The old man was also answering, "Hongmei, it's only April, and the new grain hasn't arrived yet. Where do you want us to find fine grain for you?"

Li Hongmei: "... Didnt you give me cornmeal pancakes two days ago? Why is there no fine grain?

The old man also thought of the cornmeal pancakes he gave Li Hongmei a few days ago, coughed uncomfortably, and continued, "I bought those cornmeal pancakes from outside..."

As soon as the words fell, the old lady's face became even darker. She glanced at the old man and said to Li Hongmei, "Last year's harvest was not good. The wheat and corn planted in our village were not enough to pay the public grain. Which of the eight production teams in the village do you see?" Did the production team keep fine grains?

Some time ago, the family could have some fine grains to eat, and it was because the child tried to fill up Changnan's mouth. You see that Tian'er doesn't give Changnan a good face, and now you are not a member of our old Yun's family. Where did you get the face to grab Changnan? food?

You are pregnant with Erchuan's child and you can't eat fine grains, so just blame Erchuan for being worthless, but don't think that our Laoyun family owes you, let alone that Changnan, who has been separated from Laoyun's family for a long time, owes you too. "

The old lady said these words quickly and urgently, Li Hongmei's face was flushed with embarrassment, but she didn't know how to refute.

She blamed Yun Erchuan for being worthless, but Yun Erchuan divorced her because of this incident. If she dared to say that Yun Erchuan was worthless now, maybe Yun Erchuan would be cruel enough to let her fall into her stomach baby.

At that time, how could she use her heavy body as an excuse to do the lightest work.

As she is supervised by the village and is a bad person, maybe she has to do the work of building roads and carrying water to irrigate the crops.

Besides, Yun Erchuan has already entered the city, and he is about to be successful. If she behaves better, for the sake of the two children, maybe Yun Erchuan can let her go back to Lao Yun's house.

You can't make Lao Yun's family unhappy at this juncture.

Thinking of the people in the village seeing Tian'er pointing and gossiping about her, making fun of her for ruining her good life, Li Hongmei felt very regretful in her heart.

He looked up at the old lady, suppressed the shame, anger and grievance in his heart, pursed his lips, and said in a low voice, "Mother, that's what I said, it's not that I have to eat fine grains, I, I just find an excuse to come and see Let's see how you are..."

The old couple: "... " Oh my god, this Li Hongmei must have hit a ghost, right?

Such a big change, it's so scary that people can get goosebumps all over the floor.

The old lady didn't even want to look at Li Hongmei anymore.

If Li Hongmei said she wanted to see Shuanzi, she would be able to fool people, but after Li Hongmei entered the door, she didn't even mention Shuanzi, but first came over to ask for fine grains. .

Even Shuanzi couldn't be fooled by such flattering nonsense, and I don't know why Li Hongmei had the nerve to say it.

The old man couldn't help turning dark at the moment, and asked Li Hongmei, "Don't you want to see how Shuanzi is doing? Since you entered the door, you haven't asked Shuanzi a word. Are you a mother like this?"

No wonder Er Chuan wants to divorce Li Hongmei. Li Hongmei is so heartless, pouring dirty water on a man's head, not even thinking about his son, and only thinking about his good wife, a man can't stand it.

Li Hongmei probably didn't expect that the always good-tempered old man would say coldly that she,

She froze there for a while, until the old man snorted coldly and entered the room carrying a bench, Li Hongmei hurriedly asked the old lady:

"Mother, how is Shuanzi? Have you grown up recently? How is the food in Fenyang..."

"Li Hongmei, you should call me Aunt Yun." The old lady corrected Li Hongmei's address again, "Don't worry, Shuanzi is not cared about by his mother, and his father, his grandpa and grandma are protecting us. We can't lose Shuanzi."

Li Hongmei wanted to say something else, but the old man walked out of the house and threw a small cloth bag into Li Hongmei's arms, "Okay, this is two catties of white flour mixed with cornmeal, it's the ration that Changnan gave to Shuanzi, take it quickly Let's go, don't come here if you have nothing to do in the future."

The old lady gave the old man a dissatisfied look, then looked back at Li Hongmei's stomach, suppressed the dissatisfaction in her heart, and said:

"Shangnan has a quota of one catty of fine grains per month. This is the ration of fine grains for the two of Changnan Kenian and his son for a month. Now I give it to you. After eating it, I think about my Changnan's goodness. Think about it Should you eat the rations!"

But in front of outsiders, the old lady still maintained the old man's face very much. She didn't stop the old man's actions, nor scolded the old man. Instead, she followed the old man's wishes and beat Li Hongmei.

Li Hongmei's face was flushed, and she was holding the grain bag, wondering whether she should put it in her arms or not.

Seeing that the old lady was also moving the bench into the door, Li Hongmei quickly followed and said, "Mother... Yun, Aunt Yun, I, I want to see Shuanzi."

"Wait here." The old lady put the bench next to Li Hongmei, went into the room and touched Shuanzi's head. Seeing Yun Erchuan's face was so dark that she sighed, "Is it my mother after all? Still holding your child, let's go out with Shuanzi to have a look."

Yun Erchuan saw and listened to Li Hongmei's words and deeds after entering the door, and his heart was already on fire. Hearing the old lady's words now, he felt even more aggrieved and couldn't bear it:

"Mother, where did she miss Shuanzi? It's better not to have such a mother! Our Shuanzi has no shortage of people to love..."

Before he finished speaking, the old lady's face turned cold, Yun Erchuan quickly got up, and went out with Shuanzi in his arms.

Seeing Li Hongmei, Shuanzi shrank subconsciously into Yun Erchuan's arms. After Li Hongmei hugged Shuanzi wiping her tears, Shuanzi stretched out her small arms and wrapped them around Li Hongmei's neck.

The old lady sighed as she watched in the house. She couldn't even pick the leeks in her hand. She poured half a bowl of cold water in one go and asked the old man, "Old man, how is the village doing recently? Have you planted all the cotton and corn?"

Chapter 280 Changnan is not Dachuan's daughter

Not trying to divert her attention, the old lady was afraid that she could not help but slap Li Hongmei twice.

Obviously he never cared about his son, but he wiped his tears in front of Shuanzi like a demon, pretending to be wronged, as if Lao Yun's family deliberately treated her harshly and prevented her from seeing Shuanzi.

Seeing that the old lady was angry, the old man quickly followed her words to divert her attention:

"The village has been scrambling to plant these two days. It's only April, and the weather is so hot that if we don't plant corn and cotton, there will be no autumn grain to eat."

The old lady also looked up at the sky outside, frowned and said, "This year's weather is really weird. It's hot to wear clothes in April, so how hot will it be in July and August? After the beginning of spring, there will be no heat." I've seen rain, and I don't think the weather is right."

Thinking of last year's bad year and a large-scale reduction in grain production, the old lady felt a little heavier.

Last year, with the help of Yunshang and Gu Shinian, Xinglin Village managed to survive the lean February and March months. If there is another severe drought this year, how will the thousands of people in the village survive?

We can't just open our mouths wide and wait for relief food and resale food like the surrounding villages.

Besides, there are many starving places in the whole province. Even if there is relief food, it is estimated that the remote Xiangyang Town will not be taken care of.

The old man also put down the dry tobacco bag, and said frowningly, "The old uncle asked the village head and several production team leaders, and said that this year is another drought year. It's just entered April, and the water level in the river has dropped. I guess The water level of the Houtan River has also dropped, so the village chief hastened to apply for drilling wells and make preparations earlier."

The old uncle is eighty-six this year, and he has been planting crops all his life. He can see the weather for sure, and he is also senior, so he can speak better than anyone else in the village.

The old lady couldn't help but nodded after hearing this.

The old man knocked the dry tobacco bag on the edge of the kang, and continued, "The village chief and the captains listened to the old uncle's words, and their mouths were bubbling all night. I watched the village chief take people to It's in the town, it's probably because of drilling wells."

I heard that the year is not good this year, and the old lady's mood is even worse.

Seeing that Li Hongmei came out of the yard with a grain bag in her arms, she didn't bother making dumplings anymore, so she cheered up and made hand-rolled noodles for the family, fried two dishes, and after dinner, sent Yun Erchuan to help the old man in the field After working, I went out with the old man to hunt for wild game.

The two of them went around the town first, found a hare from an acquaintance, and then went back to the village, carrying a basket to find a lot of wild vegetables outside.

Just as she was about to go home to make dinner, Aunt Li hurried up from behind with a shovel in her hand, "Ms. Yun! Mrs. Yun! Wait a minute, I have something to do with you."

"Hey, Wenying, what's the matter with you?" Seeing that Aunt Li was panting, the old lady quickly gave her a hug.

"It's a big deal! It's a big deal about your family!"

Upon hearing this, the old lady stopped in cooperation.

Aunt Li likes to watch the excitement and spread gossip, but she is also a person who knows what to say and what not to say.

Aunt Li and Widow Wang live next door, and they are very discerning, so Widow Wang has no scruples about recruiting men into the house, so how can she hide it from Aunt Li's eyes.

But for such a long time, when Aunt Li talked about Widow Wang, apart from gritting her teeth and scolding her for treating Yun Shang harshly, it was nothing.

Otherwise, with Aunt Li's personal certificate, how could Widow Wang have been able to live happily for so long, and she would have been dragged out to wear a high hat and paraded through the streets long ago.

Based on this, the old lady has a really good impression of Aunt Li.

No matter what, if Aunt Li didn't talk about Widow Wang's recruiting a man, she indirectly saved Yunshang's reputation.

Otherwise, with the reputation of a 'broken shoe daughter', Yunshang will never be able to marry into a good family in this life.

Aunt Li wiped the sweat off her head, pulled the old lady to the side of the road, and asked in a low voice, "Ms. Yun, I went back to my parents' house yesterday and heard a letter saying that Brother Erchuan,

There is also Chang girl..."

"What?" The old lady was startled, and she couldn't let go of Aunt Li's hand, "Wenying, tell me quickly, who is spreading gossip? What did you say?"

"It's Shen Yuegui's nonsense. It didn't say anything about the Erchuan brothers. It just said that Erchuan entered the city without a formal job and no place to live. It's been a month, and he's crammed into Datongpu on the construction site.

She also said that our family's life was too hard, and the whole family couldn't have enough to eat. She looked down on Erchuan's lack of progress and prospects, so she found a formal job and married..."

"Fuck her mother!" The old lady turned blue with anger.

This shameless!

It was Shen Yuegui who got caught making broken shoes with someone in the hospital, that man had no choice but to marry Shen Yuegui, why did she say that Yun Erchuan was not motivated, she didn't like Lao Yun's family, so she married a Cheng Have you officially worked here?

Besides, why isn't her family Yun Erchuan motivated?

There is fine grain to eat at home, and there is a comfortable big bed to sleep in. Erchuan didn't stay at home, so he went to the aluminum factory to do hard work to earn money. He went there for a month, so why didn't he make progress?

Shen Yuegui can play like that, why can't she go to heaven!

"Auntie, don't get angry, Erchuan is nothing serious, who in the village doesn't know that Shen Yuegui is bragging. People's police have brought the matter to the town, and Shen Yuegui flirted with men in Fenyang Hospital Let the police give criticism and education!"

Aunt Li looked around as she spoke, then lowered her voice again and said, "I'm here to tell you about Changnan, but Shen Yuegui didn't know why, she insisted that your Changnan is not Dachuan's daughter, but On the other side of the river is a girl named Gao Qingshan's family..."

"She's talking nonsense!"

The basket in the old lady's hand fell to the ground with a 'slap', her mind was blank, her hands and feet were cold, and she subconsciously opened her mouth to refute.

Chang Nan is Da Chuan's precious egg, so why isn't she her own daughter?

Fearing that Wang Guihua would not care about Changnan and make her be bullied, Da Chuan would tie her to her chest even when carrying stones up the mountain, loving her daughter more than those of her own. Called a pro-daughter?

When Wang Guihua went down the river to bring Changnan back, she was cold and impatient, and her fetus became gassy as soon as she entered the door, and then she gave birth to a stillborn baby. The couple directly raised Changnan as their own daughter, and Changnan grew up eating Wang Guihua's milk. , What's the difference between this and your own?

Besides, the little girl the size of a palm was an abandoned baby when she entered the gate of Lao Yun's house, and when she went out again, she became the daughter of Wang Guihua's own daughter. , how did Shen Yuegui know?

Could it be that Li Hongmei said it?

It's also impossible, Li Hongmei didn't think about it anymore, and she wouldn't take the initiative to reveal this matter.
