Chapter 30 Teaching

Yun Chang didn't say "can't you give me stupid words?", in the village about to run out of food, everyone's face was yellow and skinny, and she was about to starve to death, but she was a little girl who was raised to be white, fat and tender, with a small mouth to eat. Oily, doesn't this make it clear that the villagers who are hungry and mad are waiting to grab it?

It was impossible for Gu Shinian to stay in Xinglin Village to protect her all the time. When he returned home, she would have to take the crazy Widow Wang, relying on Lao Yun's house, and live under the eyes of the villagers.

Given her conditions as an orphan and a widowed mother, her life couldn't be too outrageous.

At the very least, when the villagers are out of food, she can't show that she is not short of food.

Only when everyone in Xinglin Village can make do with it, can she live her little life in a stable and low-key manner.

"The source of the food is easy to explain. You can tell the village chief that my family has relatives who work in the transportation company and can help bring some private goods from other provinces. In terms of price... it should be set similar to the black market, so as not to cause suspicion. Now Just how to transport the grain, you have to find an adult to collect the grain payment. Another thing is how many households in Xinglin Village can afford black market grain. If most of them can't, they have to Think of another way."

Gu Shinian won't hide from Yunshang what he does now, and every time he does something, he will tell her the process and the reasons for doing so carefully.

Yun Chang also knew that Gu Shinian was teaching himself hand-in-hand, and he didn't dare to be distracted, so he firmly remembered what Gu Shinian said.

"Second brother Gu, where can we find big trucks and reliable grain collectors? And the road from Xinglin Village to the county seat is too narrow, so big trucks shouldn't be able to enter the village."

"The transportation company is on the edge of the county town. At night, the cars will be parked in the large courtyard. There is only one security guard at the gate, and the guards are not strict. We can borrow a truck at night and return it before dawn."

Gu Shinian came up with the idea of smuggling trucks through space. At night, he sneaked into the transportation company with Yunshang to load a truck, and then put the truck at the designated location and filled it with food. After the people from Xinglin Village transported the food away. , The two of them put the truck back without knowing it.

When the villagers saw the transport company's car, they would naturally not doubt the origin of the food...

Yunshang's eyes lit up immediately, going to steal a car in the middle of the night?

It's exciting to think about!

"Second brother Gu, we have a car ourselves, can we use it in the future?"

There are two sample cars in the mall, and the fuel tanks are full. Unfortunately, gasoline is not easy to find in this era, and these two tanks of gasoline are gone when they are used up.

"It's not a last resort for those two cars, it's better not to move, the tire pattern is not easy to cover up."

In this era, most areas are dirt roads, and the traces left by the car are too obvious.

Gu Shinian could imagine how the government would be on guard like an enemy if there were never-before-seen tire tread marks on the road, and the entire city might be under martial law for a period of time.

Yun Chang nodded regretfully.

"Okay, let's eat first. I'll talk about the food when I ask the village chief. I'm not in a hurry right now."

The weather is getting worse and worse now, the north wind is blowing, and the gray sky is getting lower and lower, as if it is about to be crushed.

The snow that fell sporadically in the morning turned into small snowflakes, slowly falling from the sky, and soon turned into water and immersed in the ground.

Gu Shinian went out to close the courtyard door, heated hot water to wash his hands, set up the kang table, and sat on the head of the kang to eat.

Yunshang took out two bowls of rice from the shopping mall, a bowl of braised pork, a bowl of fried vegetables with mushrooms, a bowl of duck soup with sour bamboo shoots, a steamed fish, and was about to get prawns when he was stopped by Gu Shinian.

"Okay, that's enough."

Gu Shinian first scooped a bowl of duck soup for Yunshang, and then put the meat from the fish's stomach into Yunshang's bowl.

Then he continued helplessly:

"A-Shang, you can't always eat what's in the mall in the future, and you have to learn to cook by yourself. If there is someone at home in the future, if you don't cook by yourself, will you still be hungry?"

"I can cook, and this body used to cook." Yun Chang looked dissatisfied.

"It's going to be burnt and slapped, what else would you do?"

People in the village used to eat in the big canteen, so they didn't need to cook their own meals. After the big canteen was disbanded, every household would have little leftover food and no pots, so everyone could only cook a meal, or shoot a few wofutou, other than that. Besides, there is nothing else to eat.

Even if the original body of Yunshang could cook, it was only learned after the disbandment of the cafeteria, and what she could only be able to do was to burn and pat the nest.

Even if he didn't ask, Gu Shinian knew it clearly.

Seeing Yun Chang pouting and looking unhappy, Gu Shinian couldn't help but ask with a smile:

"You've never been in the kitchen before, and you don't even know green vegetables. Why, now you can learn without a teacher in a different world?"

"..."

Yun Chang didn't speak anymore, and slammed a chopstick into the braised pork. In Gu Shinian's surprised eyes, he put it into his mouth and chewed a few mouthfuls.

In her last life, she was very cunning in eating, not eating fat meat, not eating animal heads or internal organs, not eating meat from hairless reptiles, and eating only fish stomach meat, even if it tasted weird or strong. She doesn't eat vegetarian food either.

Gu Shinian put a lot of effort into correcting her picky eater.

Unexpectedly, in a different world, she took the initiative to stretch her chopsticks towards the braised pork with fat.

Yun Chang didn't expect that she would suddenly become greedy for the oily, fat and thin braised pork, and when she ate it, she didn't feel the greasy and disgusting feeling before, but felt that the braised pork was very fragrant.

After thinking about it for a long time, Yun Chang felt that this body was extremely oily, and that was why she was greedy for fat.

Gu Shinian watched both happy and sad, and quickly picked up the braised pork and put it in the bowl of Yunshang, hoping that she would eat more, so that she could grow some meat on her body quickly.

"Second brother Gu, do you think the old Wang family will send things over tomorrow? When the village chief asked for something for me today, I saw that Xu Dalan and Mrs. Wang were so distressed that they twitched."

Thinking of being able to take things out of the hands of old lady Wang, who has always been in and out, and who loves to take advantage of things, Yun Chang felt a lot of joy in her heart.

Not to mention the two feet and the sole of the shoe, just that one pound of cotton is enough for the old Wang family to feel distressed for a long time.

At this time, a pound of cotton was worth a lot of money, and it had to be bought with a cotton ticket.

No wonder Mrs. Wang's hands were shaking at that time, and she looked at Xu Dalan as if she wanted to eat people.

"They don't dare not give it away. With the lessons of the Wang family, no one will dare to bully you in the village in the future." This way, I feel relieved.
