Chapter 381 shame (a)

Everyone originally thought that Zhang Chunni would leave the military area to fight in the courtyard in disgrace, and everyone would never see each other again in this life.

But no one thought that after decades, Zhang Chunni would appear again, standing in front of her former acquaintances neither humble nor overbearing, not hiding the fact that she had a bad life these years.

But I have to admit that Zhang Chunni like this makes people dare not look down upon her, nor can she easily ignore the past.

Some military wives who didn't know Zhang Chunni saw a group of people walking with Yunshang and kept saying hello to other military wives in the compound, so they couldn't help being curious about Zhang Chunni's identity.

Before Yunshang returned to Bai's house with a few people, the news of Zhang Chunni's appearance in the courtyard had spread throughout the family courtyard.

So the military wives came out of the house in twos and threes, and tacitly moved towards the Gu family.

As for asking why everyone went to Gu's house?

Of course it was to watch the excitement!

The clay figurines are still hot! Zhang Chunni didn't make trouble when her high-ranking man was taken away by Zhou Mingjuan, and her eldest son didn't make trouble when Zhou Mingjuan took her away, but Zhou Mingjuan even threw Zhang Chunni's son to the Southwest Military Region and was about to throw it to the front line. What a bastard tortoise.

If you can't even protect your own son, why are you still alive?

A group of people followed Yun Shang into the gate of Bai's house, but they did not see Bai Yancheng and Lin Wenlan.

Zhang Chunni held the cold white tea that Aunt Wu handed over, took a sip, and said in a calm voice:

"Director Ren, since Commander Bai has left the army, he won't be back until evening, why don't we go to Gu's house first? If we can do the work of Comrade Zhou Mingjuan and get her to agree with Political Commissar Gu to compensate my three children's support, we There is no need to trouble the leaders of the military region to solve this matter."

Director Ren is acquainted with Lin Dani, and Zhang Chunni was brought by Lin Dani to ask for help from the Women's Federation, and the target of the lawsuit is the political commissar of the provincial military region. This makes Director Ren very stressed and full of motivation.

Although the military and government are not separated, there is indeed no precedent for mutual interference in internal affairs. The Women's Federation is a unit in the province, so naturally it cannot cross the ranks of the army and interfere with the family affairs of the head of the military region.

But since Zhang Chunni chose to seek help from the Provincial Women's Federation instead of the leaders of the military region, the Provincial Women's Federation has no reason to let it go.

The most important point is that if she can help Zhang Chunni solve the problem and make the bosses of the military region bow their heads, then her position as the director of the Women's Federation will be completely secured.

The leaders of the province are counted one by one, who dares to pat their chests and force the bosses of the military region?

These thoughts flashed through Director Ren's mind, she quickly came back to her senses, and echoed Zhang Chunni's words with a smile:

"That's the reason. According to the normal procedure, we have to come to the door to do the ideological work of Comrade Gu and Comrade Zhou Mingjuan. If those two don't cooperate with our work, we will discuss with other leaders of the military region. After passing the political and engineering department, the two sides will sit down. Negotiate to resolve issues.

Besides, we cannot stop our work just because the leaders of the military region are not around. "

The little officer behind him nodded in agreement, "The director is right. Since Commander Bai is not at home or in the military area, let's talk to Comrade Zhou Mingjuan about it. They are all women. I believe Comrade Zhou Mingjuan will understand Zhang Big sister's suffering."

It could be seen that this young officer's sense of Zhou Mingjuan was extremely poor, and the last sentence was a bit like gnashing of teeth.

After discussing the next move, the group left Bai's house and walked towards Gu's house.

Yun Chang's eyes lit up with excitement, she ran upstairs, hugged Qiuqiu who was sleeping soundly, and urged Aunt Wu to pour her a pot of sugar water, and Sa Yazhi chased her out.

When Yunshang ran to the gate of Gu's family, Zhang Chunni had already exchanged greetings with acquaintances at the door, and said without hesitation that she came to Gu's family to ask for support for her three children.

After enough people gathered around, Zhang Chunni pushed open the door of the Gu family and walked into this familiar yet unfamiliar small western-style building.

Seeing that the yard gate and the house gate were deliberately opened by Zhang Chunni,

The spectators couldn't help but followed in, ready to watch the confrontation between Zhang Chunni and Zhou Mingjuan.

Relying on her small stature, Yun Shang also squeezed in front of the crowd, only to see Zhang Chunni straightened her back, with a sarcasm on her face, and said in a calm voice:

"... They are all the children of the Gu family. Gu Huaqing is a man and a father, so he can't just give birth and not raise them. My request is very simple. I ask Gu Huaqing to make up for the child support owed to the children for more than ten years. child until the age of eighteen."

Zhou Mingjuan's face was so dark that water dripped out.

She could see that Zhang Chunni's request for child support was false, and she was deliberately looking for trouble to embarrass the Gu family.

Otherwise, how to explain that she opened two doors and deliberately let people in to watch the lively behavior?

But being watched by so many people, no matter how reluctant Zhou Mingjuan was, she had to grit her teeth and agree.

After all, what Zhang Chunni said was reasonable, even if the matter was beyond the horizon, Gu Huaiqing couldn't say that he had no responsibility to raise children.

Seeing Zhou Mingjuan agreeing to pay the child support with an aggrieved face, Zhang Chunni smiled and said again, "Well, since Comrade Zhou Mingjuan also thinks that the child support should be paid to me, then I can count it as Political Commissar Gu and should give it to the third child." How much child support is paid?"

"When Shi Nian was born, the family had no money or food, and there was nothing I could do, so I went out to work to support a few children during my confinement.

Without confinement, there would be no milk. Gu Huaiqing is a father, so he should prepare milk powder for Shi Nian. I don't count too much, two packs of milk powder a month, feed to ten months, a total of twenty packs of milk powder, you can convert it into a ticket and give it to me..."

"Don't overdo it!" Zhou Mingjuan interrupted Zhang Chunni with a livid face, "How many families can afford milk powder now? Which family's children need to eat two packs of milk powder a month..."

"The children of Political Commissar Gu can afford milk powder!"

Zhang Chunni spoke slowly and blocked Zhou Mingjuan back, "I don't know if others can afford it, but I know that the children of Political Commissar Gu can afford it. Didn't Gu Mingzhu grow up on milk powder?"

"Yes, I remember this! When my old Chen went to the capital on a business trip, political commissar Gu even asked my old Chen to buy milk powder from the capital. There were several packs of it."

"I also asked our grandson to bring it. I remember it was true. I brought five bags."

"I also remember that at that time, Political Commissar Gu often went to the city to buy milk powder. In our compound, who didn't say that Comrade Zhou was blessed and gave birth to a daughter, and Political Commissar Gu was so pampered."

Chapter 382 shame (b)

How happy Zhou Mingjuan was when she gave birth to Gu Mingzhu, and how pitiful Zhang Chunni was.

The more Gu Huaiqing pampered Zhou Mingjuan, the more ruthless he seemed to Zhang Chunni.

When Zhang Chunni left the compound of the military region without saying a word, no one knew how she got here all these years, but now when they heard Zhang Chunni and Zhou Mingjuan's first calculation, everyone clearly realized that Gu Huaiqing had treated her well back then. Zhang Chunni and her three children are desperate.

Zhou Mingjuan finally came to her senses at this moment.

Zhang Chunni settled accounts with her in this way, she was slapping Gu Huaiqing's face silently.

She wanted to make Gu Huaiqing's reputation so bad that he would fall into the latrine and not be able to get out.

How could she, how dare she do this!

Zhou Mingjuan was so angry that her lips trembled, and she finally realized the unspeakable bitterness.

Zhang Chunni, on the other hand, seemed much calmer. She sat there upright and looked at Zhou Mingjuan's face turning blue with anger. The act of her reputation.

What is the difference between Zhou Mingjuan now and her then?

Facing the unscrupulous and prying eyes of everyone, Zhou Mingjuan held back her embarrassment and said, "Zhang Chunni, if you want child support, you need child support. What do you want to do with all this stuff?"

The expression on Zhang Chunni's face didn't change a bit, she still spoke in a calm and unhurried manner, "Of course I have to make it clear. In order to avoid arguing in the future, I must have a legitimate reason for every child support I ask Gu Huaqing for a few children. Talking nonsense, you will have to pay for any word you say casually."

Yun Chang almost laughed out loud.

According to what Zhang Chunni meant, she wanted to calculate a child support fee, so she had to pick Gu Huaqing and Zhou Mingjuan.

When the two of them figured out how much child support should be paid, Zhang Chunni reckoned that Zhang Chunni would be able to strip this pair of scumbags down to the bottom.

Damn, why didn't I see before that Zhang Chunni's fighting power is so strong!

Zhou Mingjuan saw that things couldn't be better today, so she took a deep breath, restrained her anger and said, "The milk powder ticket you just said is not worth it, we can't get twenty milk powder tickets."

If it was ten years ago, there was no need for a receipt to buy things, Gu Huaqing spent more money and asked more people, and he could almost scrape together twenty packs of milk powder for Zhang Chunni.

But now is the most difficult time, and milk powder has long been the most elusive nutritional product. Even if she is the director of the hospital and Gu Huaqing is the political commissar of the military region, she can't afford twenty milk powder tickets at once.

Zhang Chunni didn't ask them for child support, but deliberately made a difficult problem to embarrass Gu Huaiqing.

Seeing that the matter was about to freeze, Director Ren spoke at the right time and acted as a peacemaker for the two, "Comrade Zhang, since Comrade Zhou Mingjuan and Political Commissar Gu can't come up with twenty milk powder tickets, you might as well give in and let Political Commissar Gu take another step." It's better to use other things as milk powder."

"Okay, Director Ren has spoken. I'm not an unreasonable person. If I don't have a milk powder ticket, then pay it with fine grain at the market price."

Seeing that Zhou Mingjuan was about to speak again, Zhang Chunni asked again with a sarcasm, "Comrade Zhou Mingjuan, don't tell me you don't have fine grains at home. As far as I know, Political Commissar Gu has fifteen catties of fine grains for special supply every month."

Zhou Mingjuan almost spat out a mouthful of old blood.

Zhang Chunni even found out about this!

She obviously came prepared.

Zhou Mingjuan looked at Zhang Chunni, the sparks in her eyes almost splashed on Zhang Chunni, she grinded her back molars and said, "Okay, the milk powder ticket will be converted into fine grain for you."

"Then let's count down." Zhang Chunni said in a voice that everyone could hear, "When I left the provincial capital, Guangzong was six years old, and Pangui was only four years old. It was winter, and the two children couldn't stand the cold. I didn't get from the provincial capital to Qinghe County, and I got burnt out. When I was sent to the hospital, Pangui almost didn't come back..."

Zhang Chunni's voice choked up at the right moment, she wiped away the moisture from the corners of her eyes with her fingers, and continued, "The two children stayed in the hospital together for twenty days.

It cost a total of one hundred and eighty-four yuan. Gu Huaiqing should bear the money, right? "

"It's up to you!" A military wife who couldn't see clearly said in the crowd, "If Commissar Gu hadn't kicked Chunni and the two children out before dawn, the two children wouldn't have gotten sick!"

Obviously, the one who spoke was the military wife who knew the inside story.

Immediately afterwards, the crowd who watched the excitement started talking again:

"My mother! We adults can't bear it in the winter morning, how can the two children bear it?"

"It's not a big deal! It's said that the poison of a tiger doesn't eat its children, but Political Commissar Gu... is too ruthless."

"It is said that where there is a stepmother, there is a stepfather. There is nothing wrong with that. Poor baby."

"I still remember Pangu's appearance. When I was a child, I was very clever, and I especially protected my sister-in-law Chunni..."

Amidst the discussion among the crowd, Zhou Mingjuan's face turned black, red, green, and white, as if she had opened a sauce shop.

Of course she knew about Zhang Chunni's mother and son being kicked out.

In fact, if she hadn't threatened Gu Huaqing with the baby in her stomach the night before, saying that if Gu Huaqing didn't drive Zhang Chunni away before dawn, she would go to a bowl of medicine and marry someone else, Gu Huaqing would not be so Anxiously drove away Zhang Chunni, mother and son.

It's just that she never expected that Zhang Chunni's two children would get sick and stay in the hospital for so long.

"...The child is sick and needs to see a doctor. I agreed with Lao Gu about the money for the doctor's treatment."

Zhang Chunni nodded and continued to count, "Guangzong and I were only six years old when we left the Gu family. I have been raising them for eleven years, until I was seventeen. Seeing that Guangzong has grown up, he can give our family a door, you He ran to Qinghe County again, urged Guangzong to sever the mother-child relationship with me, and snatched Guangzong back...

Of course, I don't blame you. I didn't educate Guangzong well and let Guangzong separate from my mother and son. This is because I, a mother, didn't do well enough. I admit it.

However, although Guangzong has nothing to do with me now, it is a fact that I have raised him for eleven years. During this period, you should give me the child support, right? "

Zhou Mingjuan was stunned.

How dare Zhang Chunni speak out about this?

Gu Guangzong severed the mother-child relationship with her. Shouldn't she feel ashamed and embarrassed? Why did she take the initiative to tell this matter and confirm those rumors?

Isn't she afraid of being laughed at? ! !

Facing Zhang Chunni's rock-steady calm and cold gaze, Zhou Mingjuan felt chills running down his back, and subconsciously shuddered, "...Guangzong's, we will pay the child support."

"Well, let me tell you about Guangzong's expenses in the past eleven years.

Throughout the year, two sets of inside and outside clothes per season are the minimum.

In addition, Guangzong's school expenses, monthly rations, and I give Guangzong three pocket money every month, you should give me these. After all, Guangzong is now a child of your family and has nothing to do with me. "

Chapter 384 shame (four)

When did her pearl wear a new dress on the left and a new dress on the right?

Didn't she just think that Mingzhu is a big girl, and she made two more new clothes in summer, why don't these people see her well!

Besides, Gu Mingzhu is the only daughter of her and Gu Huaqing, the couple earn four hundred dollars a month, and the family has no other expenses, so why not dress the daughter up better!

Hearing everyone's discussion, Zhang Chunni continued to speak without changing her expression, "They are all Gu Huaqing's children. It doesn't make sense that Gu Mingzhu has them, but it's my three children. So, eight sets of clothes a year, one You can't miss any of them." If I dare to miss one, I will cause Gu Huaqing to lose his position as political commissar!

Zhang Chunni didn't say the last sentence clearly, but Zhou Mingjuan understood what she meant.

With a dark face, he was aggrieved for a long time and dared not say a word of no.

Zhang Chunni is obviously crazy.

She was hoping that she would refuse, and then take the opportunity to make trouble, so as to slap her and Gu Huaqing in the face.

This woman cannot be allowed to succeed!

Zhou Mingjuan stopped talking, and Zhang Chunni continued, "I'll do the math with you again.

The reason why I need ten catties of food a month. I don't know how many catties a month's food supply is for a child in the provincial capital, but in Qinghe County, half-grown kids only have sixteen catties of food a month.

You don't have a son, and you don't know if you haven't raised a half-grown boy, but you can ask other military wives in the compound, ask everyone, whether the half-grown boy has enough rations of 16 catties a month.

Let me ask everyone again, if Gu Huaiqing subsidizes Guangzong's 10 catties of rations every month, can there be a surplus of 26 catties of rations per month..."

What Zhang Chunni said later, Zhou Mingjuan didn't listen to a single word, Zhang Chunni's words 'You didn't have a son' echoed in her mind.

These words were like a knife, piercing the most painful point in her heart, making her strong from deceiving people for many years, tearing it up in front of others, revealing the softest and bloodiest wound.

Over the years, I don't know how many people have laughed at her behind her back for not being able to give birth to a son, saying that she has done all the bad things and suffered retribution.

She didn't say anything, but pretended not to care on the surface, and often comforted herself by deceiving herself, saying that she was a promising man and loved her, that her daughter was good-looking, smart and lovable, that her work was going well, and her life was going well. I don't know how comfortable it is.

For those military wives with sons in the compound, how many days did she live better and happily?

But every time she sees those cheerful and galloping boys in the courtyard, she can't help chasing after them with envious eyes. Only at this time, does she really realize that deep down in her heart, she wants a The son wanted to go crazy.

Seeing Zhou Mingjuan's pale face and deeply shocked appearance, Yun Shang almost applauded Zhang Chunni.

To deal with someone like Zhou Mingjuan, you should poke wherever it hurts!

Zhang Chunni should have done this long ago.

As if she didn't realize that she had poked Zhou Mingjuan's sore spot, Zhang Chunni looked around the room and landed on the wife of the deputy political commissar.

"Sister-in-law Sun, Comrade Zhou Mingjuan doesn't know much about the appetite of half-grown boys. There are three boys in your family, can you tell Comrade Zhou Mingjuan about the appetite of the three boys in your family."

Deputy political commissar Sun of the military region has the same qualifications as Gu Huaiqing, and they both had the possibility of becoming political commissars of the military region back then.

But at that time Gu Huaiqing was standing behind Gu's family in the capital, and Deputy Political Commissar Sun was a bare-bones commander. In addition, Gu Huaiqing didn't have a career, so in the end he was still subservient to Gu Huaiqing.

I remember that Vice Political Commissar Sun didn't like Gu Huaiqing back then. After so many years, Gu Huaiqing has more and more disgusting things.

Although Sister-in-law Sun was born in the countryside, she was not an idiot, so she could see Zhang Chunni's purpose immediately.

Although Zhang Chunni wanted to use her to embarrass Zhou Mingjuan, sister-in-law Sun didn't feel angry. Instead, she was very happy that Zhang Chunni gave her the opportunity to satirize Zhou Mingjuan.

"Gu family, Sister Chunni really didn't coax you. My three brats, ouch, my grandson is afraid of eating so much. My boss is as old as your Guangzong, and he eats twice as much as my grandson. Dun, the third child is only nine years old this year, but he can make five or six steamed buns in one meal, which is more than my appetite.

Chun, your sister really didn't ask you how much you want. If you give Guangzong twenty-six catties of grain for a month, you can eat seventy percent full.

Although this male baby does not need to be pampered like a female baby, but he eats a lot of food, which is a waste of food. Counting it down, it takes more effort to raise a boy than to raise a girl. "

"Sister-in-law Sun is right. My boy is not as big as my niece, but he eats two more corned buns per meal than my niece. It's really worrying me to death."

"It's the same with my family. It's only eleven, and it eats as much as his father. The family doesn't have enough food every month."

"It's all the same. Why don't people say that half-sized children eat poor old people? Isn't it that small children can eat them?"

Sister-in-law Sun and several clear-headed military wives made complaints, so that those who thought Zhang Chunni was talking to the lion could not speak other gossip.

More than a thousand catties of grain sounds like a lot, but after apportioning it, Gu Guangzong only has a ration of twenty-six catties of grain every month, which is really not much for a boy and a half.

Thinking about how Zhang Chunni never came to ask Gu Huaiqing for child support in these years, she just worked in the factory by herself and brought up three children by herself, including two half-children who could feed the poor.

This cognition really hit the little hearts of these military wives.

In terms of enduring hardships and standing hard work, being strong and independent, all the military wives in the compound are no match for Zhang Chunni.

Many soft-hearted military wives couldn't help wiping their tears when they saw Zhang Chunni's rough hands on their legs, and then imagined the picture of Zhang Chunni doing hard work.

It is really not easy for a woman to raise three children with her own hands.

Zhou Mingjuan also listened to everyone's discussion, and sat there with a dark face, not saying a word for a long time.

What the hell did she do?

It's just that he likes someone, so why did he end up in such an embarrassing situation?

For so many years, she has never stopped Gu Huaqing from helping Zhang Chunni. It is because Gu Huaqing himself does not want to mention Zhang Chunni. Why is everyone blaming her?

Throwing Gu Guangzong to the Southwest Military Region, asking Gu Guangzong to call Zhang Chunni, these are all Gu Huaqing's ideas, why is it all her fault...

Zhang Chunni didn't know what Zhou Mingjuan was thinking. At this time, she frowned and asked with an ugly expression, "Zhou Mingjuan, Guangzong has lived in your house for several months. Logically speaking, you should understand Guangzong's appetite. Why? Do you still think that Guangzong's monthly food supply is enough? Can I suspect that Guangzong has never had enough food during the past few months in your house?"

Chapter 385 shame (five)

Zhang Chunni didn't know what Zhou Mingjuan was thinking. At this time, she frowned and asked with an ugly expression, "Zhou Mingjuan, Guangzong has lived in your house for several months. Logically speaking, you should understand Guangzong's appetite. Why? Do you still think that Guangzong's monthly food supply is enough? Can I suspect that Guangzong has never had enough food during the past few months in your house?"

Gu Guangzong has been in the Gu family for several months, but he has never had enough to eat! ! !

The military wives at the scene exploded again.

This Zhou Mingjuan is really vicious.

He tried to snatch Gu Guangzong away from Zhang Chunni, but he didn't say he should treat Gu Guangzong better, and tried to torture Gu Guangzong all day long.

In the provincial capital for a few months, it's okay to never buy new clothes for Gu Guangzong, but now he doesn't even feed Gu Guangzong.

How could there be such a vicious woman in the world?

Since Gu Guangzong is not pleasing to the eye, why take Gu Guangzong away from Zhang Chunni?

Taking away Zhang Chunni's son and not treating the child as a human being, isn't this just relying on Gu Huaiqing to love her and use the child to manipulate Zhang Chunni?

In the sight of everyone's contempt and resentment, Zhou Mingjuan blushed and subconsciously opened her mouth to defend:

"I don't have it! Brother Qing has a lot of rations every month, and there is no shortage of food at home. As for me withholding Guangzong's rations, will Brother Qing be unhappy!"

In a hurry, Zhou Mingjuan even called out Gu Huaiqing's nickname in private.

A few military wives couldn't help but sneered, feeling that Zhou Mingjuan was so insincere.

A man in his teens still calls himself a man like a little girl calls her lover.

Especially that man is still the political commissar of the military region.

If it spreads out, Gu Huaiqing's old face will be completely lost.

Hearing the faint laughter around her, Zhou Mingjuan wished to find a crack in the ground to sneak in, and stared at Zhang Chunni angrily, wishing to tear her alive.

Damn this woman!

Zhang Chunni didn't take Zhou Mingjuan's cannibalism into her eyes at all, followed the question just now, and continued to press her:

"If Guangzong eats every meal, you don't understand Guangzong's appetite. Even if you do a rough calculation with your toes, you can know how much rations Guangzong needs every month. Why do you still think that I ask you for a thousand? Do you want more food for a catty?"

Yun Chang's eyes lit up, holding up the ball, she quietly gave Zhang Chunni a thumbs up.

This general is really awesome!

Now Zhou Mingjuan has only two options, one is to tear her face apart, disregarding public opinion and Gu Huaqing's future, admitting that the Gu family has never given Gu Guangzong enough to eat, and insisting on not giving Zhang Chunni more than a thousand catties of food.

The other way is to firmly deny that the Gu family has treated Gu Guangzong badly, and return more than a thousand catties of grain to Zhang Chunni according to the normal appetite of Guangzong, in order to save Gu Huaqing's face.

Zhou Mingjuan was not stupid, so she could naturally hear the deep meaning in Zhang Chunni's words, as well as the deep malice towards her and Gu Huaqing in her heart.

Without thinking too much, Zhou Mingjuan nodded again and agreed to supply food to Zhang Chunni.

In fact, even if Zhou Mingjuan was not happy, the food had to be supplied to Zhang Chunni.

People from the Women's Federation were present, and the daughter-in-law of the compound testified that even if Zhou Mingjuan wanted to forfeit the thousand catties of rations, the troops would order Gu Huaqing to supply Zhang Chunni with food.

The food will have to be given sooner or later, so it's better to promise it from the beginning, at least the posture will be better, and Huaqing's face can be rounded up a little.

Zhang Chunni nodded, and began to calculate Gu Guangzong's tuition and expenses over the years. Zhang Chunni gave Gu Guangzong three pocket money every month, and the annual tuition and miscellaneous fees cost about ten yuan. In total, it was almost five hundred yuan.

Facing Zhang Chunni's threatening eyes, Zhou Mingjuan nodded in agreement with a stiff face.

"Okay, after calculating Guangzong's food and clothing expenses, I will calculate the food and clothing expenses of Pangui and Shinian for you.

Pangui is a girl, and if she wants to get married in the future, Gu Huaqing has to prepare a dowry for Pangui, the money in the bottom of the box.

My requirements are not high. In the future, Gu Huaqing will give Gu Mingzhu as much dowry as he will give to Pangui, not a penny less.

As for Pangui's expenses for food and clothing over the years, he must follow the same standards as Mingzhu. I know that Gu Mingzhu has never eaten coarse grains since she was so old, and all the grains used to subsidize Pangui must be fine grains! "

Seeing that Zhou Mingjuan didn't respond with a sullen face, Zhang Chunni lowered her eyes and continued to stab Zhou Mingjuan in the heart:

"My family was also a boy, and now I am half a boy, and the monthly ration supply is not enough.

I don't ask you how much you want, you just supply Guangzong's rations, ten catties of grain per month, including two catties of fine grains.

Gu Huaqing hadn't looked at it since it was born that year, and hadn't raised it for a day. You have to subsidize the rations for eighteen years at a time, and it's like raising the child from birth to adulthood.

Also, although boys don't need a dowry, boys have to marry a daughter-in-law, and Gu Huaqing has to buy a house for Shi Nian to marry a wife in the future.

Among the children, Gu Huaqing is most sorry for Shi Nian, this is what he owes Shi Nian, he must give it, there is no negotiation..."

In the end, Zhou Mingjuan couldn't sit still on the chair, staggered, and almost fell off her head.

Just hearing the conditions mentioned by Zhang Chunni, she didn't have the courage to figure out how much child support she should pay Zhang Chunni.

This is definitely a huge sum of money!

And it was a huge sum of money that even if Gu Huaiqing's bone marrow was sold!

Zhang Chunni is too vicious.

She wants their family to live on the streets!

When things got to this point, Zhou Mingjuan didn't dare to talk to Zhang Chunni any more. With a pale face, she said in an extremely aggrieved way:

"Zhang Chunni, what you said...I have to discuss it with Huai Qing, I can't promise you without permission."

"When and how long will we discuss it?" Zhang Chunni asked.

Zhou Mingjuan thought for a while, and then said, "Huaiqing has left the army, and he won't be back until a few days later. I'll discuss it with Huaiqing when he comes back."

"Resigned from the army?" Zhang Chunni repeated, and asked in surprise, "Didn't Gu Huaiqing be temporarily suspended from work? Why did you resign from the army?"

She has personally come forward to report Gu Huaiqing as a scumbag, why does he still want to sit on the political commissar's seat and play awe-inspiring?

Go dreaming!

And Zhou Mingjuan, the wife of the political commissar is so aggrieved that she didn't realize that she was very courageous to follow the military wife who came to watch the fun today?

If you say hate her, you will hate her, without hesitation at all.

If Gu Huaiqing hadn't been suspended from work, how would these military wives have the courage to confront the political commissar's wife face to face.

Zhou Mingjuan really didn't know about Gu Huaqing's suspension from work. Hearing what Zhang Chunni said, she was dumbfounded.

Facing Zhang Chunni's sarcastic eyes, Zhou Mingjuan raged, "What are you talking nonsense? Brother Qing is fine! You just left the army two days ago, when did you stop working? You are a senior officer who slanders and spreads rumors, intending to meddle in the affairs of the military region, organize God will not let you go!"

Chapter 386 Threat

"I'm telling the truth." Zhang Chunni spoke again, looking at Zhou Mingjuan with a sneer on her face, "You haven't been out these few days, have you? Everyone in the family knows that Gu Huaqing was reported to have a problem with his life style. The organization is involved in the investigation, and Gu Huaqing was temporarily suspended from work.

As one of the subjects under investigation, you should also be temporarily suspended from work.

However, looking at you like this, it should be that Gu Huaqing made an excuse to let you stay at home, and didn't let you go out to be pointed at by others. "

At the end, Zhang Chunni's voice was a little weird, and it was hard to tell whether it was smiling or crying.

It's just that when she looked at Zhou Mingjuan, for the first time, she clearly revealed an unconcealable hatred.

Gu Huaqing was indeed too unfeeling towards Zhang Chunni and his three children, but he really loved Zhou Mingjuan.

This deep friendship should have been praised and moved, but the tragic experience of Zhang Chunni, mother and child was mixed in the relationship between the two of them, which made this friendship too despicable and too selfish.

Zhou Mingjuan subconsciously looked at the military wives around her. Seeing that no one came forward to refute Zhang Chunni's words, she realized in her heart that what Zhang Chunni said was very likely to be true.

No wonder Gu Huaiqing asked her to take a few days off to rest at home!

No wonder the nanny always looked at her hesitantly when she came back from grocery shopping these days.

It turned out that everyone knew that Gu Huaiqing had been suspended from work and was under investigation, but she was the only one kept in the dark.

Gu Huaiqing was reported to have a problematic lifestyle... Wait! There is a problem with the style of life! ?

Zhou Mingjuan looked at Zhang Chunni suddenly, rushed over in a few steps, and raised her hand without thinking.

Zhang Chunni grasped Zhou Mingjuan's hand quickly, and pushed Zhou Mingjuan down on the sofa, "Why are you crazy?"

"It was you, right! You did it! You reported Huaiqing, right!?"

Zhou Mingjuan was angry and scared, her mouth trembled when she spoke.

Gu Huaiqing has been investigated, what if the organization really suspends Gu Huaiqing?

At that time, she will no longer be the high-ranking wife of the political commissar, and she will not be able to live in such a beautiful small mansion, and she will lose her job in the hospital. No one will look at her enviously, and no one will flatter her anymore.

Those who were looked down upon by her before could even mock her and laugh at her.

If the situation were a little more serious, maybe she and Gu Huaiqing would be beaten as bad elements, sent to an unknown corner to do farm work, and become mud legs for the rest of their lives.

And her pearl, who will never live a good life again.

The good life she had worked so hard to live was about to be ruined by Zhang Chunni now!

This damned woman, she should have been more cruel in the first place, and killed her directly!

Standing in front of Zhou Mingjuan, Zhang Chunni had a pair of eyes that were astonishingly bright on her skinny and old cheeks. The pupils exuded a strange brilliance, and her back that was originally slightly hunched was now quite straight.

She stood condescendingly in front of Zhou Mingjuan, with a slight sarcasm on her face, a calm expression, and a clear and cold voice:

"That's right, it's me. It's Gu Huaqing who I reported!"

"Zhang Chunni!" Zhou Mingjuan's eyes almost burst into flames, "If something happens to my family, Gu Huaqing, I won't let you go!"

If the Gu family is really gone, I'll hold you back even if I die!

Zhang Chunni raised her eyebrows slightly, and a smile appeared on the corner of her mouth. Under the curious eyes of everyone, she squatted down and approached Zhou Mingjuan, her lips moved slightly:

"Now, I give you two choices. One is to deny the support of my three children. Then I will ask the military commanders to make decisions about the support and ask Gu Huaqing for an explanation. In this way, Gu Huaqing's situation will only worsen. Political commissar Don't try to keep your seat.

The second is to give me the support Gu Huaqing owes me for the three children before the organization asks me to check the situation.

When I get the child support, I will speak for Gu Huaqing during the organization investigation,

Try to keep his political commissar position.

However, you have to be nice to my Guangzong in the future, if my Guangzong loses a hair, I can go to the army to make trouble at any time.

Moreover, if I make a fuss, I will report Gu Huaqing for other reasons, for example: Political Commissar Gu's wife stole the private seal of the political commissar, or for example, the last time Political Commissar Gu went to Qinghe County, he lost important things he carried with him..."

At the end, Zhou Mingjuan's pupils shrank suddenly, cold sweat broke out on his forehead, and he looked at Zhang Chunni as if he had seen a ghost.

How did she know! ! !

Gu Huaqing lost his gun. So far, only she and Gu Huaqing know about it. How did Zhang Chunni know about it! ?

Could it be that the gun is in Zhang Chunni's hands?

Zhou Mingjuan's eyes were flickering, murderous intent loomed in her eyes, and she pondered the possibility of killing without words.

Zhang Chunni was not afraid at all, and even had a meaningful smile on her face.

She thinks that Zhou Mingjuan is really ridiculous, stupid and vicious, he has ambitions in vain, but he doesn't have the IQ to support his ambitions, and he only plays clever tricks on weekdays.

When it comes to major events, a person like Zhou Mingjuan is a good example of not doing enough but not doing enough.

She didn't even think about it, if she didn't have a back trick, would she dare to reveal the fact that she knew that Gu Huaqing had lost his gun?

If Zhou Mingjuan listened to her and took out the child support for the three children as soon as possible, and the two families settled the matter amicably, Gu Huaqing would be able to continue to hold the position of political commissar.

If Zhou Mingjuan dared to attack her in private, not only would Gu Huaqing not be able to hide the fact that he had lost his gun, but Gu Huaqing would even become a complete animal in the eyes of everyone because of Zhou Mingjuan's foolish behavior.

Because he was unwilling to pay child support for his three children, he arranged for someone to kill his ex-wife.

For this crime, Gu Huaqing has to bear it, and he has to bear it if he doesn't.

Zhou Mingjuan also gradually calmed down at this moment, seeing Zhang Chunni's half-smile look, she shivered suddenly.

Chapter 387: Bleeding

"When Shi Nian is studying in the provincial capital, he won't look back at home, and he won't recognize Gu Huaqing. You tell Gu Huaqing not to push Guangzong to make life difficult for time..." Otherwise, I can't help but kill both of you Hole!

Zhang Chunni looked straight at Zhou Mingjuan, with murderous look in her eyes, Zhou Mingjuan's heart constricted suddenly, and she didn't even dare to move.

After beating Zhou Mingjuan, Zhang Chunni turned her head and thanked the Women's Federation staff with a grateful face. Thank you for accompanying her to the compound, and thank you for sitting in the living room of Gu's family, silently sweeping the battle for her and helping her. Shocked Zhou Mingjuan.

Director Ren waved his hands again and again, and said in a hearty voice, "The Women's Federation is a unit that solves problems for women compatriots. When encountering difficulties and grievances, you should seek help from the Women's Federation. You can't just let others bully you without making a sound. Otherwise, what's the point of the existence of the Women's Federation? How can it serve the people in the future?"

The two small officers next to him also said one after another: "That's right, Comrade Zhang, if you come to the Women's Federation to respond to the problem, it is to support the work of our Women's Federation, but you must not have the idea of causing trouble for others."

"Sister Zhang, you must not be polite to us. If the political commissar Gu and his wife cheat and don't give you the maintenance fee, you can come to the Women's Federation. Next time we will take you directly to the army leader to solve the problem. The maintenance fee must be a lot." I want it back for you!"

It's a pity that today Zhou Mingjuan directly agreed to give Sister Zhang three children's support. If she didn't agree, people from their women's federation might take Zhang Chunni to find the army leaders and the staff of the political and engineering department right now. He can pull off Political Commissar Gu's face that looks like a dog.

Such a person still wants to be the political commissar of the military region?

I bother! If such people are really allowed to stay in the army, that is the real misfortune of the army.

Director Ren pulled Zhang Chunni aside and said in a low voice, "Comrade Zhang, you have completely fallen out with Commissar Gu's family now, and even reported Commissar Gu, so you have to be more careful in the future. Especially...you are very fast There is a large amount of food and money, this matter cannot be hidden from others, you must guard your door in the future."

These words are blatantly pointing out that Zhang Chunni is very likely to be retaliated by Gu Huaqing in the future, or will be targeted by blind people, suggesting that she should make plans early.

A person who can drive his pregnant daughter-in-law and two children out of the house in the winter because of Xiaosan and leave his ex-wife and children to fend for themselves for decades. Director Ren would not be surprised by such an inhumane thing.

She will not forgive Gu Huaqing because he is a soldier, and even hate and despise Gu Huaqing even more because of his status as a soldier.

Director Ren felt that Gu Huaqing was like rat feces in a cauldron, a stain in the People's Liberation Army, and the people's revolutionary ranks had to be removed.

Zhang Chunni is not a person who doesn't know good and bad. Faced with Director Ren's kindness, Gong Jin solemnly agreed.

After leaving the wide alleyway in front of Gu's house, several military wives who I knew before asked Zhang Chunni to visit her home, but Zhang Chunni refused them one by one with a smile.

It's not nice to be pitied, pitied, or secretly laughed at.

Zhang Chunni was forced to show her pain and dissatisfaction for so many years in front of others. The military wives she knew in the past judged her and pitied her. She had exhausted all her pride and strength.

Now that the matter is over, she no longer has the interest and courage to tell others about her suffering for so many years.

Back then when she left the compound of the military region with her child in embarrassment, her life circle had no intersection with this family compound. Now there is no need to squeeze into a circle that does not belong to her and show her wounds to others.

When Zhang Chunni sent Director Ren and his party away, Yun Shang immediately ran over on short legs, and followed Zhang Chunni to Gu Shinian's small courtyard.

As soon as she entered the door, before Zhang Chunni could speak, Yun Shang yelled and rushed into the room:

"Second Brother! Second Brother! Second Brother Gu,

Didn't you see that Aunt Zhang is amazing today! I asked you a handful of child support from Zhou Mingjuan! "

"A handful of child support?"

Gu Shinian was stunned for a moment, he didn't understand what Yun Shang meant. Seeing this, Yun Shang threw the ball on the bed, opened his hands and made a circular gesture:

"A handful means more than many, my little brother says that every day."

more than many?

In other words, Gu Huaiqing and his wife really bleed a lot this time.

At this moment, Zhang Chunni also entered the room, drank half a jar of cold water in one gulp, wiped the corners of her mouth, smiled and said to Gu Shinian:

"Second brother, it's over. I beat Zhou Mingjuan as you said, and Zhou Mingjuan was really scared. In a maximum of two days, Zhou Mingjuan will be able to send the money over."

As she said that, a gloating smile appeared in Zhang Chunni's eyes, "Gu Huaiqing's position under her buttocks is not stable now, Zhou Mingjuan wants to keep Gu Huaiqing's position as political commissar, so she has to give the money, or not, there is no room for bargaining." No."

Yun Shang nodded repeatedly when she heard it, and gave a thumbs up to Zhang Chunni, "Aunt Zhang, you were so powerful today, and Zhou Mingjuan's legs were so scared in the end! Aunt Zhang, why did you scare Zhou Mingjuan?"

That Zhou Mingjuan was like a mouse seeing a cat, her hands and feet trembling with fright.

Zhang Chunni looked at Gu Shinian, saw Gu Shinian nodding, and said with a smile, "Gu Huaiking lost something in Qinghe County last time. If people in the army find out, Gu Huaiking will be sentenced."

Yun Shang: "... So, are you using your backhand in advance?

Gu Shinian pulled away the puzzled Yun Shang and asked Zhang Chunni, "Have you settled with Zhou Mingjuan today that she should pay Du Shao child support?"

"It's clear. Zhou Mingjuan can't afford so much cloth and food, so all of them have been converted into money.

Guangzong's food and clothing expenses for eleven years were converted into money, and the calculation was 3,900 yuan. You and Pangui need more, you add twenty milk powder tickets, plus the rent of a small courtyard, and eighteen years of food, clothing, and school expenses, the total is 7,500 piece. Pangui doesn't have a small courtyard, but he has a dowry, totaling 5,800 yuan..."

Yun Chang was stunned.

Zhang Chunni directly took away more than 17,000 yuan from Gu Huaiking, which was like stealing a kidney from Zhou Mingjuan.

According to Gu Huaiking's level, he has a salary of about 270 yuan per month. After eleven years, the total salary is only a little over 35,000 yuan.

In addition to the family's daily expenses and human relations, Zhou Mingjuan and Gu Mingzhu, the most dazzling jewels in the compound, are also supported on weekdays. In addition, they help comrades and Zhou's family who are in trouble from time to time. Save one hundred and twenty three.

Chapter 388 Continue to Fuck Him

After so many years, Gu Huaiking himself had at most 17,800 savings, but in the end, Zhang Chunni took away the money.

More than 17,000 yuan!

One can imagine how distressed Zhou Mingjuan was.

Gu Huaiqing's political commissar for more than ten years was working for Zhang Chunni.

The money he had worked so hard to save for more than ten years was taken away by his ex-wife. In the end, because of his ex-wife's revenge, he couldn't even hold the position of political commissar under his buttocks.

If Gu Huaiqing fell down like this, he, who has no money and no power, would really obey the sentence: come naked, go naked.

Yun Shang wiped the cold sweat from her forehead, and looked at Zhang Chunni with admiration, "Aunt Zhang, when Zhou Mingjuan brings the money, will you speak well of Gu Huaiqing and let the organization punish him lightly?"

Gu Shinian also looked over curiously, waiting for Zhang Chunni's answer.

"No." Seeing that Gu Shinian's expression remained unchanged, Zhang Chunni breathed a sigh of relief, "In Shi Nian, Gu Huaiqing was too narrow-minded. It's gone, and in addition to taking away his savings for so many years, and he still has something to do with him, he won't let me go so easily.

On the other side of Guangzong, if Gu Huaiqing continued to sit in the position of political commissar, Zhou Mingjuan would easily mess with Guangzong.

Guangzong is now a soldier, he should compete with the enemy upright on the battlefield, even if he is injured, he must be injured by the enemy's guns, not by Zhou Mingjuan's calculations..."

Gu Shinian nodded, and expressed his attitude to Zhang Chunni, "I support you in doing this. If Gu Huaiqing is not a political commissar, he can transfer to another unit and still survive. Without Gu Huaiqing's backing, Zhou Mingjuan's hands are long. I can't even explore the southwest."

Once Gu Huaiqing is a professional and loses the aura of the political commissar of the military region, it will not be so easy to plan against Zhang Chunni.

The most important thing is that Zhou Mingjuan must not be able to bear the gap in her own identity before and after, plus Gu Huaqing has no money and no power

Well, Zhou Mingjuan had to make trouble for a while.

At that time, it was too late for Gu Huaqing to coax Zhou Mingjuan, and he did not have so much energy to trouble Zhang Chunni and him.

Seeing that Gu Shinian understood her and supported her actions, the stone in Zhang Chunni's heart finally fell to the ground. She took another sip of tea and talked about her next plan.

"Second brother, what do you think of me moving back to the provincial capital? I've been thinking about it for a few days. There are only three of us in our family, so it's not a problem to be separated all the time.

In the past two years, many factories in the county have been sluggish, and Pangui is getting bigger and bigger every year, so he can't find a decent job in the county. I just thought, use the money Gu Huaqing gave to buy a better job index for Pangui in the provincial capital, and then buy her a suite, so that Pangui can also find a husband's family with better conditions in the future.

You have your own small courtyard now, and you can keep up with your studies, basically I don't need to worry about it. The child support that Gu Huaqing gave you, I will save it for you first, and then I will give it to you after you get married, how about it? "

Gu Shinian was stunned, and finally, under Zhang Chunni's questioning gaze, he nodded slowly, "I have no objection, you just look at the arrangement.

If you want to buy a house for Pangui, you might as well buy this nearby one. Opposite is the family courtyard of the military region, and you can see sentries standing guard when you go out of the alley. Living here is safer than living in other places. "

The most important thing is that Zhang Chunni has made up her mind to mess with Gu Huaqing. Gu Huaqing and his wife will soon leave the family courtyard with their burdens on their backs, and they will never appear here again.

If you live with your family, you don't have to worry about bumping into people who are in the way.

"Okay, then you can search here to see if there is anyone selling a house. If there is a suitable house, buy it first, and Pangui and I will move here as soon as possible."

After Zhang Chunni finished speaking, she hesitated for a moment, and then continued, "Second child, I plan to remit the money that Gu Huaiqing gave Guangzong to Guangzong... I can be worthy of him by giving birth to him."

When she gave birth to a child, she never thought of giving her child to be raised by others.

Although this money is Gu Huaiqing's support for her eldest son for so many years,

But she hasn't degraded to the point where she treats children as goods and relies on raising children to make money.

Since the money is Gu Guangzong's child support, then she gave the money to Gu Guangzong, which can be regarded as the love between mother and child for so many years.

Gu Shinian had no interest in Gu Guangzong's affairs at all, and nodded dispensably, "Since it's Gu Guangzong's child support, you can give it to him. If you need money, just use my money."

I just hope that Gu Guangzong is smart enough to keep the money with Gu Huaiqing and Zhou Mingjuan around him.

After finishing their business, Zhang Chunni and Gu Shinian fell silent for a long time, while Yunshang sat aside, feeling embarrassed by the silent atmosphere between the mother and son.

Gu Shinian didn't seem to feel Zhang Chunni's discomfort, turned his head indifferently, and called Yun Shang: "A Shang."

"Ang?" Yun Shang quickly ran to Gu Shinian, as if begging for support, "Second Brother, why are you calling me?"

"Hold Qiuqiu, Second Brother will take you out for a walk."

Yun Chang ran over, gave Zhang Chunni a big hug, picked up Qiuqiu, who was sleeping soundly on the bed, and obediently followed Gu Shinian out of the yard.

Out of the alley, Gu Shinian pointed to a small western-style building not far away, and motioned Yunshang to look over, "Erya bought a house in that small western-style building, and I should have gone to Chen Cuiqiao's house yesterday, in the No. 2 family courtyard." She stood at the gate for a long time, but Chen Cuiqiao didn't let her in."

Yunshang raised her hand and knocked on her head, with annoyed expression on her face, "I said two days ago that I wanted to find out Erya's whereabouts, but I forgot when I was busy (watching the fun)! Second brother, how do you know Erya's whereabouts? live there?"

Gu Shinian put his hand on the braid on Yunshang's forehead, rubbed it subconsciously, and teased Yunshang with a suppressed smile, "Erya told me that."

Yun Shang: "..."

Erya, you stinky shameless!

It's like a fly again, pestering my second brother Gu, this tender and tender piece of tender meat!

Yun Chang's face suddenly darkened, staring at her round eyes, and angrily scolded Gu Shinian: "Second brother Gu, you promised me to ignore Erya! How can you say nothing!?"

She is flamboyant all day long, and has no sense of protecting her chastity at all!

Excuse me for being so busy defending your chastity all day long?

Are you sorry for my future sister-in-law?

You are interested in talking to Er Ya's ugly little black face, are you worthy of your own handsome face?

Gu Shinian was speechless for a long time, and said helplessly, "Where did you want to go? Erya came to the house yesterday, and I didn't let her in."

Yun Chang blinked her eyes, her mood suddenly improved, and she solemnly warned Gu Shinian, "Second brother, Er Ya is coveting your beauty, you must not let her succeed..." You must protect your chastity!

Chapter 389 There is a ghost!

"Erya lives nearby. Try not to go out alone recently. I will try to get Erya to move away as soon as possible." It really affects the mood to keep such a scourge by your side.

Yun Shang puffed her cheeks and shook her head, "Second brother, let me come this time! I will drive away Erya myself."

I have wanted to beat Er Ya for a long time, but this time I have to have a good time.

Gu Shinian originally wanted to refuse, but seeing Yun Shang gearing up and looking murderous, he nodded and agreed.

Forget it, let Ah Chang play by himself first, if Ah Chang can't handle it, he can do it later.

"Second brother, Aunt Zhang is going to move to the provincial capital. Do you want to sell our house in Fenyang? And my big sofa, we have to find a way to get it here. It's a pity to put it in Fenyang."

Thinking of Gu Shinian's meticulously furnished small bungalow, she was taken back to Bai's house before she had enough time to live in it, Yun Chang still feels regretful.

"Keep that room of yours for the time being. I can sell mine to Yun Erchuan. I'll call Yun Erchuan in a few days to see if he wants to buy a room for Shuanzi, so that Shuanzi's household registration can also be moved." To Fenyang."

Yun Chang nodded, before he could speak, Gu Shinian had already changed the subject and talked about something else.

"A Chang, go back tonight and tell Uncle Bai that I will take you to Linyang University for a tour."

"Are you taking me to see Aunt Lin?" After Yunshang finished speaking, she immediately asked with her eyes wide open, "Second brother, do you want to buy Aunt Lin's work quota for Gu Pangui!?"

Otherwise, why would you go to Linyang University to find Lin Dani at this juncture?

Gu Shinian did not expect that Yun Shang's mind would be so fast, and he could see through his purpose immediately.

"A-shang, just ask Aunt Lin. With the Lin family around, she might join the army after Dacheng. Aunt Lin is a college student now, so she doesn't necessarily have to go back to the shoe factory. She is working in the shoe factory now, either Someone else would take her place at work, or sell her job.

I think it's good for Gu Pan to go back to work in the shoe factory. I'll go over there tomorrow and ask Aunt Lin what she means. If she doesn't want to sell it, I can ask her to find out if there is anyone else in the shoe factory who sells job indicators. "

Yun Shang responded, put the ball on her shoulder, pulled Gu Shinian's arm, and let him drag her away like a fool.

"Tired?" Gu Shinian turned his head and lifted Yunshang up from the ground like he was carrying a ball, "How long have you been watching today?"

"From the beginning to the end." Yun Chang deliberately shook her vacated calf, pouted and said, "After standing for several hours, my long legs have become thinner."

Gu Shinian: "... " Where did you get those long legs?

In her previous life, when she was seventeen years old, she was only 1.62 meters tall. She has good-looking legs, but it's a pity that she really doesn't have long legs.

Strictly speaking, you have never grown into long legs in your two lifetimes.

Facing Gu Shinian's scrutinizing gaze, Yun Chang endured and endured, and finally, couldn't help but scratched at him:

"I will definitely have long legs in the future!"

After being slapped, Gu Shinian didn't dare to tease Yunshang anymore, and held back a smile to fool her, "Yes, my A-shang will definitely have long legs in the future."

The two entered the alleyway chatting and laughing, chatting and laughing. In the long alleyway, the afterglow of the setting sun pulled the tall and short figures into the long alleyway...

The night was getting thicker and darker, and the whole land fell into a deep sleep. Except for the rustling sound of the curtains being gently lifted by the breeze, there was no sound in the whole house.

Yun Chang closed the door of the room, stood by the window, stepped into the space, and when she came out again, she was already standing outside the small foreign building of the Bai family.

The family courtyard was pitch black, except for the dim light from a few windows, there were only three or four street lamps on the tree-lined road in the middle.

Yun Chang quietly leaned against the wall of the family courtyard, found the spot she stepped on in advance, used the space, turned over and appeared outside the family courtyard.

Standing in a dark alley,

Yunshang let out a long sigh of relief, identified the direction, and quickly ran towards the small western building where Er Ya was.

All the way under the cover of the night, Yun Chang smoothly turned to the back of the small western building, and stood directly under Erya's room.

On the second floor, room five.

Yun Chang stretched out her mental strength, and poked into Erya's room bit by bit. After confirming that she had found the right place, she dodged into the space again, and entered Erya's room smoothly.

Looking at Erya who was sleeping soundly on the bed, Yun Chang subconsciously grinded her back molars, put on a black robe, put on the magic weapon she found from the supermarket - a Halloween ghost mask on her face, stepped on two small benches, and dodged out of space.

"Ho Ho Ho!" A strange voice sounded in the silent space, and a white bone claw stretched out from under the black robe, lightly touching Erya who was sleeping soundly on the bed.

Er Ya opened her eyes in a daze, and through the dim street light coming in through the window, she clearly saw a skeleton hand pinching her neck.

Feeling the creepy cold touch on her neck, Erya immediately constricted her pupils in fright, her whole body stood upside down, subconsciously covered her head with a thin blanket, and screamed with all her strength:

"Ah~ah~ah~!!! There are ghosts! Come on!"

Erya has lived one more life than others, so she naturally believes in these ghosts and legends more than others. When she sees something suddenly appearing in the room, she subconsciously believes that it is real.

Standing beside Erya's bed, Yunshang could clearly see the thin blanket shaking like chaff, and even hear Erya's teeth rattling non-stop.

Hearing movement in the corridor outside, Yunshang stepped into the space, nestled on the sofa in front of the building, and watched Erya show the story of the wolf to the neighbors happily.

In the room, Erya looked in horror at the neighbors who rushed into the door after hearing the sound, tightly wrapped in a small blanket, trembling badly.

"I... I, I, had a nightmare, dreamed, dreamed, scared myself..."

Er Ya really wanted to tell people that she had seen a ghost.

But now the four olds are being broken everywhere, and feudal superstition is not allowed. If she dared to say that she was frightened by ghosts, she would be labeled as playing ghosts and engaging in feudal superstition.

After living a new life, Erya knows better than anyone else that once she is labeled as a villain, she will wear this heavy hat for decades of heavy and gloomy years.

Hell is only for a while, but once you put on the hat of a bad element, it will be decades of torture.

Arya naturally knew how to choose.

The neighbors frightened themselves when they heard Erya say that she had a nightmare. Even though they were dissatisfied with her bluffing, they didn't say much because she just moved here and was a child. Everyone yawned and exited the already dark and silent room.

"Sister Zhang," Erya tried to call to stop the girl walking at the end, "You, can you sleep by my side at night?"

Chapter 390 Someone fell into the latrine

Yun Chang noticed that the girl surnamed Zhang frowned indiscernibly, looking at Erya's 1.5 meter canopy bed, a look of disgust flashed in her eyes.

"Sister Zhang, just, just for one night, my dreams are too scary, I dare not stay alone."

The girl surnamed Zhang thought about it, and reluctantly agreed, "...well, I'll go back and get the quilt."

When she has a nightmare, she asks someone she knows to sleep with her, regardless of whether others are willing or not, whether they are familiar with her or not.

It's hypocritical and disgusting.

When I first moved here, I held my head up all day long, walked alone and didn't get in touch with the people in the building, and went around saying that there were relatives living in the military compound at home, and I came to join relatives.

But it's been a few days, and I haven't seen any of her relatives come to see her. The ghost knows whether she is telling the truth or lying.

In fact, why bother, even if she doesn't have relatives living in the big courtyard, the people in the small mansion will not look down on her or bully her, but she doesn't get in touch with people like this, and she brags all day that she has relatives in the big courtyard, That face, on the contrary, made people look down on him even more.

Yun Shang was in the space, watching Er Ya get herself a companion, curled her lips in disdain:

Do you really think you'll be fine if you find a escort?

I'll mess with you later!

The girl surnamed Zhang quickly came over with a thin blanket, placed the pillow in her hand against the wall, turned over to face the wall, closed her eyes and fell asleep.

Erya didn't dare to turn off the light, and lay stiff on the bed, trying to speak, but heard the people around her deliberately snoring, so she had to open her eyes and look at the roof for a moment.

Yunshang slept in the space, and when the girl on the bed really fell asleep, and Erya on the bed was so sleepy that her eyelids were fighting, Yunshang turned over and sat up, ready to move again.

Taking out the hemp bag and wooden sticks that he had prepared earlier in the morning, he took the opportunity to use the burlap bag as a hood for Erya, and before she could scream, he even took the burlap bag into the space.

Glancing at the sleeping girl on the bed, Yunshang took advantage of the space to get out of the small western building and walked to the public toilet not far away.

At the entrance of the public toilet, Yun Chang entered the space again, swung a stick, and beat Er Ya through the sack.

After finally waiting for Yunshang to enjoy the beating, she used her mental strength to pour a sleeping pill into Erya's mouth, then threw Erya at the door of the public toilet, took back the sack, and waited until Erya was completely lethargic before dodging out of the space. Return to the compound of the military region by the same route.

It was just dawn, and some early risers walked towards the public toilets carrying urine cans and yawning.

It wasn't until he tripped over something soft under his feet and knocked the urine pot in his hand on the ground that the man opened his sleepy eyes and looked at the foreign object that tripped him.

The moment he lowered his head, the man's scalp exploded, his face turned pale, and he moved several meters back while kicking and crawling.

"Come on! Come on! Someone has fallen into the latrine! There are dead people in the latrine!"

Following the man's exclamation, the early-rising residents gathered around. Seeing a little girl lying on the door of the public toilet, and a broken piss jar beside her, everyone's heart sank.

There are really dead people!

And it was a little girl who died.

Wearing pajamas, pee all over her body, it stinks to the sky, and the exposed arms and legs are bruised and purple, one piece after another, it is not too miserable and pitiful.

All the people present were adults, and everyone knew what the blue and purple marks on Erya's body represented.

There were a few soft-hearted aunts who couldn't help wiping away their tears, and some scolded the criminals with inhumanity through gritted teeth.

The little girl Huo Huo is inhumane enough, how can she bully a perfect person, turn around and throw him into the latrine, this is too degrading.

Among the crowd, there were young people who, relying on their quick legs, turned around and ran in the direction of the police station, while others turned around and went to the street to find someone.

Among the crowd of onlookers, a courageous woman knelt down, stretched out her hand, and reached for Er Ya's nose and mouth.

Sensing Erya exhaling hot air from under her nose, the woman screamed in surprise:

"Yes, be brave! Come on, the man is not dead yet! He is still alive!"

As soon as everyone heard that the person was still alive, they all hurried over. Some shouted to rush to the hospital, some said to pinch the person first, and some asked everyone to come over and have a look, recognize the person, and find Erya's family first...

There was a commotion at the scene, and Erya's group was grabbed by an aunt with a strong hand. The severe pain caused Erya to open her eyes, and looked at the crowd watching her sleeping around with a dazed expression.

"Girl, we big guys will send you to the hospital right now." The aunt among the pinches held Er Ya's hand, with a look of resentment on her face: "Girl, don't be afraid, when the police come, you must tell the police Make it clear who bullied you, let that inhuman thing be shot!"

Erya: "... Who am I? where am i What happened?

"Girl, don't be afraid, tell aunt, do you recognize that bad guy? It's really bad! Do you still remember how you got here?"

That's right, isn't she at home, why did she run here so well?

wrong! and many more!

She is damned!

She later went to hell again!

There are really ghosts in this world!

Seeing the bruises on her body, Er Ya's face turned pale.

Faced with the aunt's constant concern, and the fact that she must remember the appearance of the gangster who is "Huo Huo her", Erya almost burst into tears.

Turned over and got up from the ground, almost yelling, "There are no bad guys! I went to the latrine in the middle of the night, accidentally fell, hit my head on the ground, and fell unconscious. I fell into the latrine, and I didn't touch it. To the bad guys!"

"Did you fall into the latrine?" The aunt looked skeptical, pointing to the bruises on Erya's body, "You really haven't met any bad guys? My girl, this is a new society, no one will laugh at you, you can't take it lightly. Let the bad guys go..."

"I've said it all! There are no bad guys! There are no bad guys! I fell for it myself!"

Erya was so angry that she almost wanted to fight desperately with the overzealous aunt, if she really accepted her reputation of running into bad guys, she would be even more unworthy to stand by Gu Shinian's side in her life.

It was broad daylight now, and the traces of urine on Erya's body were more obvious. Thinking of the row of urine pots in the hut, some people believed that she accidentally dropped the hut.

In addition, Erya's pajamas were neat and tidy except for one spot of bruise and one spot of purple. There was nothing inappropriate about Erya's body, and she really didn't look like she was being harmed by someone.

"Oh, that's good, that's good, but I scared the aunt to death." The aunt let out a sigh of relief, caressed her chest exaggeratedly, and shouted loudly, "The big guys have heard it, and everyone can go to the latrine in the future." Be careful, you can't just fall into the hut and sleep all night like this girl. How scary!"
