

Thrive 55

Chapter 55 huge sums of money

"Well." Gu Shinian replied, holding her face and continuing to ask, "Ah Chang, tell second brother, are you relieved?"

Yun Chang looked at Gu Shinian's eyes and felt wronged in her heart. She couldn't help but pursed her lips, with tears in her eyes, "Second brother Gu, I'm still a little angry."

"Then fight again! You choose now, which leg will he break this time?"

Afraid of scaring Yun Chang, Gu Shinian has been trying his best to control his rage to the brink. After saying this, he turned around and chose the tool to break his leg.

Yun Chang quickly grabbed Gu Shinian, "Second brother Gu, wait! What will happen after the broken leg? What will this person do?"

She had been mad before, thinking about breaking Sun Datou's three legs to seek justice for the original owner, but forgot to consider how this matter would end after seeking justice.

Sun Datou is not Wang's widow. He has a family, a family and a job. She can't blatantly control Sun Datou under her nose like she controls Wang's widow. It will be Sun Datou's crazy revenge.

It was because she was too impulsive. She should endure it for a while, and then find a chance to beat Sun Datou's sap and secretly abolish his third leg.

Now that things have gotten to this point, Sun Datou has become a copper pea that smashed into her hand, and she can't kill it or let it go.

These things Yun Chang can think of, how can Gu Shinian not think of it, turning his head to look at Sun Datou on the ground, his eyes are stern, "A Chang, this Sun Datou can't be kept."

Ever since he guessed the dirty things Sun Datou did, Gu Shinian never thought of letting him go.

This kind of beast is not worthy of living as a human!

"Second Brother Gu!" Yun Chang was startled, slipped down from the chair, and hurriedly grabbed Gu Shinian's hand, "You want to kill him?"

"A-shang, don't worry, it'll be alright."

Gu Shinian didn't deny it, he turned his head and continued to rummage through the pile of weapons to find the axe.

Yun Chang's eyes were red with anxiety, she sat on the pile of weapons, stopped Gu Shinian and said, "Second brother, shall we lock him in the space? Let him do the work for me... He doesn't want to follow Widow Wang broke her shoes, then let him serve Widow Wang. Second brother, you can't kill him, it's not worth it for such a person, and he's not worthy of letting you get a dirty life on your hands!"

There was a smile on the corner of Gu Shinian's mouth, and he patted Yun Chang's head, and continued to pull his weapon under her, "A Chang, if such a person is raised in space, they will respond to you."

"Then don't support him, first cut his tongue and cut off his limbs, then we will go to the provincial capital, and then we will find a way to throw him out, so that I won't be able to respond..."

The more Yun Chang thought about it, the more he felt that this method was reliable.

A beast like Sun Datou doesn't deserve to let Gu Shinian live like a dog to atone for his sins because his hands are dirty.

Gu Shinian thought for a while, and then praised Yunshang, "Yes, it's smarter than the previous method. But it's still too close to the provincial capital. It's better to find a way to throw it farther away."

"Second brother Gu agrees?"

"agreed."

Gu Shinian responded, got up and found Widow Wang's face towel, covered Sun Datou's eyes, and asked Yunshang to put the two in the space first, and then cleaned up the messy things on the ground, and let Yunshang put them away together. stand up.

In the end, Gu Shinian picked up the black leather bag that he had thrown on the ground as soon as he entered the door, and went up to the kang with Yunshang in his arms.

"Ah Chang, here is a letter of introduction, it should be from Sun Datou."

Opening the purse, Gu Shinian first pulled out a letter of introduction. Yunshang leaned over to take a look. The name on the letter of introduction was Sun Ronghua. The unit was the Xiangyang Town Branch of Qinghe County Supply and Marketing Cooperative. Linyang City, the reason is to study, and the departure date is tomorrow.

When Yunshang was reading the letter of introduction, Gu Shinian pulled out a small cloth bag from the leather bag. There was a stack of great unity, a stack of bills, and a shopping list at the bottom.

There is also a gold ring.

The two put the gold rings aside and counted the great unity, a total of one hundred pieces, a total of one thousand yuan. Those bills included thirty or so food stamps, twenty industrial stamps, ten or so cloth stamps, and the rarest bicycle pass.

I opened the shopping list again, and it was written that there are three sets of the latest women's clothing in the provincial capital department store, a plum blossom brand ladies watch, three boxes of Pechoin face oil, a pair of leather shoes, a belt, and two scarves...

Yun Chang licked his tongue when he saw it, no wonder Sun Datou had to bring so much money and bills, and he didn't know whether these things that needed to be purchased were brought for others, or if he bought them himself.

Gu Shinian sorted out the money and bills, let Yunshang put them in the space, and took out a pen and a half-new men's watch in the bag.

Yun Chang pouted and felt that this big head of Sun was too cowardly and disgusting. When I came to see Widow Wang for a private meeting, I didn't even dare to wear a watch on my wrist, obviously because I was afraid that Widow Wang would see it and ask him for it.

Thinking of Sun Datou's move over the wall just now, Yun Chang felt that this person was too scum.

The reason why Sun Datou didn't knock on the door and chose to turn in from the wall was because he was worried that the knocking on the door would disturb the neighbors on the left and right and expose his affair with Widow Wang. But he never thought about how much criticism he would bring to Widow Wang after he turned in from the wall and the traces left by the corner roots were discovered.

Thinking of this, Yun Chang couldn't help but scolded Sun Datou:

Pooh! Scum dog!

Gu Shinian put the pen, watch, letter of introduction, and shopping list into a leather bag, and handed it to Yun Chang, "Ah Chang, put these things away, and don't take them out again."

Yunshang put away the leather bag, remembered the small wooden box that the original owner saw when he was locked in the kang cabinet, and quickly crawled over to open the kang cabinet and took it out.

"Second brother Gu, Widow Wang's money and tickets are all in it. Let's count how much they have."

The box was only the size of a brick and was unpainted. It was a very ordinary paulownia wood box with an old-fashioned copper lock hanging on it.

Yun Chang held the copper lock and shook it a few times, frowned for a while, then climbed off the kang, and found a thin copper key with the length of the index finger in the gap between the bellows and the stove.

Neither of them had ever opened such an old-fashioned copper lock. They sat under the covers and fiddled with their heads for a long time before they opened the lock.

There are also a lot of money tickets in the box. The Great Unity and the small pieces of money together have more than 600 yuan. Food coupons are the most numerous, with more than 30 catties, half a catty of sugar coupons, seven industrial coupons, and no cloth coupons. However, there are many new fabrics in the widow Wang's kang cabinet.

Gu Shinian looked at the coins in the box, and frowned, "Ah Chang, Widow Wang has too many coins, think about it again, besides Sun Datou, who else does Widow Wang get along with? Most likely to give money to Widow Wang."