Chapter 68 Suspected Acquaintance

The lights in the hotel are not bright, the boy's eyebrows and eyes are stretched, his eyes are bright and energetic, and his whole body exudes a kind atmosphere.

Gu Shinian looked up at the two of them, and saw that the boy who greeted them was wearing a brand-new light gray smock with a thick padded jacket under his feet, a pair of fitted military boots, and a pair of military boots on the chair beside him. An 80% new military coat.

The half-eldest child sitting across from him was about twelve or thirteen years old. He was wearing a neat and straight military uniform that had been changed to fit him perfectly. He was sitting there with a straight waist, like a little adult.

Most of these two people are the children of the courtyard!

Gu Shinian quickly came to a conclusion in his heart, got up immediately, picked up the newly bought kettle with one hand, and walked over with Yun Chang with the other.

Having been dependent on each other for many years, Yun Chang knew too well that Gu Shinian was unwilling to owe others favors. When he got up, he consciously entered the store, packed a piece of spicy fried chicken in the lunch box, and put it in the space to cool for a while. Quietly turned into the military bag.

After the four of them were seated again, Gu Shinian said politely to the two of them, turned around and touched Yunshang's head, and said to Yunshang in a negotiating tone:

"A-shang, these two comrades invited us to eat meat, so take out the vegetables in our bag and let's try it, okay?"

Yunshang nodded, took the aluminum lunch box out of the bag and placed it in the middle of the dining table.

Gu Shinian opened the lunch box under the curious eyes of the two of them, and the aroma of the spicy fried chicken instantly overflowed, making the guests at the next table eating braised cabbage swallow their saliva.

"Little brother! This is... this is fried chicken nuggets? Where did you get it?"

The eyes of the young man who invited the two over instantly lit up, and he couldn't see it from lying on the table, and he didn't forget to inquire about the origin of the spicy fried chicken.

Now that people are hungry, there are even fewer people who raise chickens. In the city, chicken is far more difficult to find than pork.

Gu Shinian smiled, "Someone in the family was sick and was hospitalized. He asked someone to buy a chicken, and asked the chef from the hospital to help stew half of it and fry half of it."

"This chef's craftsmanship must be good, and it smells delicious!"

The young man praised, sat up straight again, looked at Gu Shinian and said:

"Little brother, my name is Han Yang. This is the child of my second father's family. My name is Han Chen. What's your name?"

"Gu Shinian." Gu Shinian pointed at Yunshang beside him, "This is my sister Yunshang."

Han Yang's temperament is the same as his name. He is sunny and lively. The reason why he invited the two to come over to join the table is to see Yunshang angrily at the waiter. He thinks this little girl is interesting and suits his appetite. .

Knowing Yunshang's name now, and seeing her take out such a big box of rare fried chicken nuggets, she was unwilling to take advantage of the two of them, and immediately took out a great man badge from her pocket and stuffed it into Yunshang's hand. Carefully said:

"Sister, take it! This is what I asked Han Chen to bring from the capital as a gift for you!"

Yun Chang looked at Gu Shinian, saw him nodding, thanked Han Yang with a smile, and put away the badge.

"Table number three! The dishes are ready, come and serve them!"

The waiter sat at the counter, slammed on the table, and shouted to this side. Seeing Yunshang looking up, he rolled his eyes and snorted heavily.

Han Yang got up to serve the dishes, and Gu Shinian also quickly got up and went to help, but Han Chen was still sitting on the chair and didn't move, as if waiting for someone to wait on him.

Yunshang looked at Han Chen quietly and saw that he clearly wanted to move to speak, but he deliberately put on an old-fashioned face and pretended to be an adult. .

Han Chen didn't miss Yun Chang's pouting action, frowned, thought for a moment, and took out an empty cartridge case from his pocket and placed it in front of Yun Chang, seeing Yun Chang raised his head in surprise, he said quite uncomfortably. One sentence:

"...Meet and greet."

Yun Chang: "... Why is this child so awkward?

Han Yang and Gu Shinian came back after serving the food, and they were stunned when they saw the empty bullet casings on the table.

Han Chen thought for a while, then took out an empty cartridge case from his pocket, put it in Gu Shinian's hand, and said woodenly:

"Comrade Gu, meet and greet!"

Gu Shinian glanced at Han Chen, put the egg drop soup and fried shredded potatoes in his hands on the table, put away the empty cartridge case generously, and thanked Han Chen.

"My younger brother is more afraid of strangers, so I'll talk a lot when I get used to it."

Han Yang didn't ignore the awkward look in his younger brother's eyes. He put the salad shredded radish and the diced pork on the table, and hummed for Han Chen, and then pressed Gu Shinian on the seat. Pick up some chilled spicy fried chicken on the table and walk towards the counter:

"I asked the master to heat up the fried chicken nuggets, you can eat them first!"

Gu Shinian first scooped up a bowl of soup for Yun Chang and put it in front of her, then turned around and asked Han Chen:

"Han Chen, you and Brother Han Yang should be from the provincial capital, why don't you eat at home?"

Han Chen nodded, shook his head again, and said in the puzzled eyes of the two, "My eldest brother is from the provincial capital, I am not."

"Then where are you from?" Yun Chang asked.

"I grew up in the capital, and my hometown is Qinghe County." Worried that the two of them didn't know where Qinghe County was, Han Chen added, "It's Qinghe County below Fennan."

Gu Shinian and Yun Chang looked at each other, and a thought popped into their minds at the same time: Could these two have something to do with the Han Shan family?

Thinking of the situation of Han Shan's family, the eldest son's family is in the provincial capital, and there are still people in the family who work in the capital army.

Han Yang's son jumped out, and he couldn't see the origin, but this Han Chen, although not very old, whether it was dressing up, showing his gestures, or giving the two of them a meeting ceremony, he all behaved like a big yard boy. group.

If these two people are really Han Shan's grandsons, then the Han family serving in the capital army should be Han Shan's second son.

Thinking of this, Gu Shinian and Yun Chang immediately stopped talking and stopped interrogating each other's origins, lest they go deeper and deeper, and finally expose their own identities.

They came to the provincial capital this time for serious business, so they couldn't reveal their identities in advance, so that Han Yang, the ecstatic warmhearted, would be brought to the Han family.

Seemingly thinking that he hadn't finished answering his question, Han Chen added, "I just got off the train today, and my uncle's house is empty, so he took me out for dinner."

Gu Shinian scooped up a bowl of soup for Han Chen, put it in front of him, and changed the subject, "How long is the train from the capital?"

"It's not far, it'll be there in six or seven hours."

"What are you talking about, it's so lively?"

Han Yang held a hot and spicy fried chicken nugget in one hand, with a dark-colored wheat noodle steamed bun on it, and a plate of dumplings in the other, and strode over to ask.
