Chapter 80 Fat Sheep

Gu Shinian was still pondering over Liu Gong'an's suggestion, Yun Chang first replied with a smile:

"Uncle Liu, our county government's commendation is definitely not as powerful as the provincial capital. When the case is over, Uncle Liu will ask the government to mail a certificate of merit to my second brother. We can all save trouble!"

Liu Gong'an did not expect that Yunshang would propose the operation of mailing the certificate, and he was stunned for a while before he came back to his senses:

"Children, you don't have to worry about this. Even if you go home, the province will definitely give your second brother a certificate of honor. It's just that your local government will deliver the certificate to the door instead of the province. Besides the certificate, the government will also give you a certificate. Give you some other rewards... If you do what you just said, mail the certificate back, except that the road is not safe and easy to lose, there will be no other rewards. "

Liu Gong'an is really making plans for Gu Shinian. He is a half-year-old child who is still in school and has not yet participated in the work. This kind of certificate of honor, which is famous but does not bring any benefits for the time being, is far worse than a mouthful for him. What you eat is important.

Now many villages below live by gnawing on tree bark and grass roots. Looking at the letter of introduction, these two children also came out of the village, and the family's rations should not be rich.

This time, Gu Shinian has made such a big contribution in the provincial capital, which can be regarded as an honor for the local government.

At that time, the province will issue a commendation, and the local government will come to the door as the executor, which will definitely increase the material rewards for the two.

This kind of reward would bring immediate benefits to Gu Shinian and Yunshang, and Liu Gong'an didn't want them to be pushed out in a confused way, so he made it clear.

After listening to Liu Gong'an's explanation, Yun Chang realized that she had made a big joke. She covered her face with her two little claws, got into Gu Shinian's arms and never came out again.

Gu Shinian patted Yunshang's head amusingly, and asked Liu Gong'an the address of Xinglin Village after the commendation should come down the year.

However, he also briefly mentioned the issue of his identity. He only said that his household registration was in the county seat, but he would stay at a relative's house in Xinglin Village during the past year.

Liu Gong'an looked at the letters of introduction from the two of them, but didn't say much.

If a half-year-old child like Gu Shinian goes out, if an adult leads him, it makes sense without a letter of introduction. Since the village has given him a letter of introduction, it proves that his identity has been verified and recognized by the village cadres. In addition, this child is still a major contributor to catching the enemy, so there is really no need for him to seize this innocuous little matter. make a fuss.

Liu Gong'an asked the names and addresses of the two and left quickly. Gu Shinian also said hello to his aunt and went upstairs with Yunshang in his arms.

After closing the door, the two entered the space for the first time.

First take out the small dagger, the bronze handle is engraved with precise fine lines, the blade is snow-white, flashing with an icy dim light.

Yun Chang's eyes suddenly lit up, even if she is a layman, she can know that this is a rare good dagger just by the wind.

"Second brother Gu, this dagger is for you!" Yun Chang handed the dagger to Gu Shinian as if offering a treasure, and said regretfully, "It's a pity that there is no scabbard."

"It will be fine to have a suitable scabbard when there is a chance in the future."

Gu Shinian took the dagger, glanced at it, put it aside, lowered his head and continued to count the money and bills Yunshang took out from the scarred-faced padded jacket.

Seeing Gu Shinian pulling out three small yellow croakers from the rolled up coins, Yun Chang's eyes suddenly widened, "How can there be such a thing on this scarred face? Gu Erge, this person will not want to escape. Linyang, right?"

"It should be, these are estimated to be the entire net worth of Scarface, 1,300 yuan in cash, three small yellow croakers, and 350 national food stamps... Ah Chang, you slaughtered another fat sheep..."

For the luck of the two of them, Gu Shinian didn't know what to say in the end.

To say that luck is good, but they came to the provincial capital at the wrong time,

Encountered with the enemy's special sabotage, fortunately, he hid in the room next to them with the explosives in his arms. To say that luck is bad, Yunshang just took the sheep to the enemy's cotton jacket, and as a result, the secret pocket contained the entire net worth of the enemy's special, which made Yunshang another windfall.

Yun Chang was so happy that her mouth couldn't close, but it was a fat sheep. Not to mention the 1,300 yuan in cash, the 350 catties of national food stamps alone were worth the rations of the city cadres for a year.

"Don't be silly, put away all these money tickets, and the pistol, and don't move around."

Yun Chang nodded, put the pistol and dagger in the office on the eighth floor, and put the money ticket in the wooden box that Widow Wang had put the money in, "Second brother Gu, I will keep the money first, and I will give half of it when I go back. you."

Gu Shinian was stunned for a moment, then smiled, "Let's put it all there, I'll ask you to get it when I need the money."

After sharing the spoils head-to-head, the two of them were content to take a good rest in the space.

At the other end of the city, Han Chen looked at his uncle Han Weiguo with a look of surprise, "Uncle, why is my dad coming to Yang suddenly?"

Han Weiguo rubbed his eyebrows slightly tiredly, "It should be a temporary assignment. You called me before leaving get off work at night and asked you not to go back to your hometown for the time being, and wait for him to come back."

Han Chen's mouth moved, and after a while, he said, "My dad's return this time should be related to the coal mine explosion. He must have come back to help Uncle Bai."

"Help Bai Yancheng?" Han Weiguo paused while rubbing his eyebrows, and then said to Han Chen with a solemn face, "Han Chen, you can know these things in your heart, don't talk nonsense outside, so as not to cause trouble to your father. "

Han Chen was stunned for a moment, then nodded obediently, "Uncle, I haven't said these things outside."

"That's good." Han Weiguo stretched out his hand and patted Han Chen's shoulder, "Your dad should be arriving in Linyang by now. When he is done, let Han Yang also come back to his hometown with you for a few days."

The corners of Han Chen's tightly pursed lips curled up. Seeing that Han Weiguo was still frowning, he rarely opened his mouth and said, "Uncle, haven't you found the person you're looking for? If you can't find it in the hospital, you can go to the hospital. Check out the hostel."

Han Weiguo did not prevent Han Chen from saying this, so he smiled and said, "No need to look for it, your grandfather called and said that the two children sent a telegram to go back and settled in an acquaintance's house..."

The uncle and nephew were chatting here, and a jeep with a military license plate outside Linyang City rushed into the city like a gust of wind, and quickly galloped towards the provincial military area.

Fortunately, several main streets are under martial law, and cars are not worried about hitting pedestrians.

After the car stopped at the entrance of the military district, Han Weijun didn't wait for the driver to remind him, immediately opened his closed eyes, straightened his military uniform, and turned around to get out of the car.
